Don Pringle Purchases Local Chevrolet Agency

Friday, April 21, purchased and took possession of the Seeterlin Bros., Inc., Chevrolet and Oldsmobile automobile agency, in Clarkston.

The new owner comes to Clarkston after having been with the Chevrolet Division of General Motors for 19 years in their service, parts and sales departments, and is well trained in keeping your car running in the way you desire.

Mr. Pringle was born in Red Oak, Iowa, and is a graduate of the Beloit College and the General Motors Technical Institute at Flint. He served 58 months in World War II, during two years of this time he was transportation officer of the Burma Road.

A bump and paint shop will be in operation shortly and a Sun Motor Analyzer is being installed for the benefit of his customers. Mr. Pringle is married and has two sons, Darian Lee, 3 years old and John Donald, 15 months old.

At present his home is at Dearborn but he desires to move to Clarks ton as soon as he can rent, buy or build a home.

In retiring from business Joe and Edward Sectorlin can look on a number of years of good business dealings in Clarkston, After purchasing the service station at the southeast corner of Church and Main Street in 1919, they started to build their garage and service building. They operated in the basement of the Garter Hardware building until 1920 when their building was completed. In 1922 they purchased the Chevrolet agency from Roy Gundry. In 1927 they sold their building to Reuben Beattie and operated from a location where the Morgan & Son station is now located. In 1929 they moved into the present fire hall on East Church Street and stayed there until the present building was built on the Dixie at M-15, in September of 1949. As Seeterlin Bros., turn this established business over to the

The Clarkston Women's Bowling League closed the season on Wednesday evening of last week with a banquet at The Old Mill Tavern.

The tables were made attractive with spring flowers and the places were marked with bowling score sheets, drawn by Beverly Covert of the Clarkston High School.

Everyone present received pretty corsage and many of the Fred Kennedy. teams received corsages from their sponsors. The invocation was given by Barbara Jarvis, After group singing Mrs. Raymond Jarvis, 1949-50 president, gave the welcome and introduced the toastmaster, Miss Ada Scrace, who in turn introduced each sponsor in a humorous way. Entertainment was furnished by each team contributing one number to the program. The teams found out that not only could they boast of some good bowlers but that they had in their membership some composers and some vocalists. One unusually interesting number was given by the Ainsley-Henry team when Mrs. Carl Bates played several old familiar tunes on a little, old roller organ ,one of her mother's treasures. This antique organ was the prize possession of Mrs. Carl Bates' grandfather, Butler Holcomb. He kept it in very fine shape and only played it on special occasions. Mrs. Jarvis then presented the following officers for 1950-51: president, Mrs. Lester Howe; vice president, Mrs. Stanwood Radoye; secretary, Mrs. Hugh Cheeseman; treasurer Mrs. Herbert Beach and the sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Elsie Smith. Mrs. Howe responded and asked for the cooperation of the teams in the coming year. Mrs. Russell Wilson in behalt of the league presented Mrs. Jarvis with a lovely gift. Last, but by no means least, the presentation of prizes was made by Mrs. Russell Wilson. The teams finished the season in the following order: Howe's Lanes with 78 points; Beach's Service Station, 69; Clarkston State Bank, 66; Virginia's Beauty Shop, 65: Huttenlocher Insurance, 65; Fay's Village, 63; Ainsley-Henry, 60; and Dixie Spot Drive-In, 47. Mrs. Basil Taylor won the trophy for the individual high for the season with 222 actual pins and also a trophy for the high series for the season with 594 pins. Mrs. Taylor was also presented with a Detroit will deliver the message small gold pin from the Pontiac Association.

Over three hundred people en-Jack Read, treasurer, presented joyed the Amateur-Variety Show evening, The village P. T. A. sponsored the show for the benefit of the school.

The program included two black-faced numbers by Steve Reyson; two accordian solos by Louis Rizzolo Jr.; piano solo by Mr. and Mrs. E. Wilkins and Charlene McCarthur; vocal solo by Barbara Hagerman; vocal duet Birmingham were Sunday visitors by Janice Brown and Anna Secan; piano solo by Deanne Mielke; Robert Van Marter of Waterford Acrobatic Tap number by Kay Myers who was accompanied by Louis Rizzolo Jr.; Piano solo by Patricia Fernald; and two vocal selections by Ronnie Kind. Those in the above numbers were from the village school with the exception of Louis Rizzolo who is a former student of this school now attending the high school. Mrs. Fred Tiffany, township music teacher, accompanied most of the numbers.

Three instrumental numbers were given by pupils from the Drayton Plains school and were accompanied by the township instrumental instructor, James Vandersall. These three pupils wer Bob Durnbaugh on the trombone; Stanley Vandersall on the violin; and Freddie McCall on the cornet.

Another outstanding number on the program which couldn't be given justice because of the lack of room was a short demonstration on roller skates, by Gall Locke of the village school. Gail was given permission by the Roller Rink Association of America to appear on the program for the educational demonstration but was not able to compete for the prizes. She gave a very interesting talk on how she became interested in roller skating and displayed her many medals which she has already received in this art. She also encouraged the young folks to take lessons if at all interested.

Louis Rizzolo and Steve Reyson tied for first place and were each given four silver dollars. All other students on the program were given one silver dollar except Gail Locke.

Another high light on the program which delighted everyone was Roy Rew, the magician, and his small son Bobby Rew who is just five. The two were assisted by Mrs. Rew.

Refreshments were sold by nembers of the P. T. A.

ANNUAL ALL SCHOOL CARNIVAL — BIG SUCCESS

The school was crowded . . There were signs plastered all over the walls, such as "See the Fun House. Come to Country Store and Try the Cake Walk.". The reason? Why, the annual all school carnival, of course. There were various booths in the gym, such as the penny arcade, ball throwing, silhouettes and photos.

One big crowd-drawer was the Variety Show which was put on by the eighth grade. It featured many top performers such as the Mandrew Sisters and Stripsie Rose Ree. Because of the big demand, the show was staged twice.

All over the school could be heard the beating of a drum and an old-time sideshow barker call-"See the greatest show on earth! Come to the House of Wonders! See the Freak Show! This was the ninth grade's part for the carnival. If you could have heard the yells being emitted from the House of Horrors, you would know that it was a success.

The Penny Arcade drew many a marksman with its dart throwing, penny pitching and fishing

An established organization of the home is the L. P. A., the La-peer Parents Association, which is connected with a Detroit branch. They exchange experiences and views and raise money for equipment and improvements.

For those who are quite mentally adjusted there is one night each week when the boys are permitted to join with the girls for social evening of dancing, games, etc. Refreshments are planned, prepared and served by four of the girls who act as hostesses for the evening. During the tour through the

Such cases are usually of the moron or borderline level, sometimes of the imbecile level but rarely of the idiot level, B — Mongolism, This is recognized by a combination of several characteristic physical anomalies in association with imbecility or idiocy. C - Developmental Cranial Anomalies such as microcephy, the small pin head having an I. Q., of 20, hydrocephaly, water on the brain, and oxycephally, the box-shaped head. D - Congenital Cerebral Spartic Infantile Paraplegia, This is a condition characterized by a bilateral rigidity involving all voluntary musculature, usually a small skull and undevelopment. E - Due to infection which inpeople transformed the buildings clude those cases of mental deficiency in which an infectious process was a causative factor. SOME WILD GREENS MAKE GOOD VEGETABLES

Wild greens make good vegetables, the Michigan Department of Health said today.

Some of the small shoots of wild greens just coming up in Michigan back yards and along Michigan roadways are excellent eating and have just as many vitamins and minerals as the leafy green vegetables bought in stores or grown in home gardens, according to the Department.

Some of the commonest weeds which bother the Michigan gardener are considered excellent eating in other lands, Pursiey (pursley), for instance, when eaten raw or steamed is considered a great delicacy in some countries. Shoots of milkweed can be used like asparagus and their flavor compares favorably with that vegetable.

The average family picks dandelion green to cook or use in salads and takes water cress from county streams for use in salads or sandwiches but few housewives know other edible wild greens.

Young leaves of marsh marigold, chicory, wintercress, pigweed, mustard and sorrel are edible. Like all green leafy vegetables, wild greens belong to the group of "protective" foods, chiefly because they are so high in iron and vitamin B. They also contain considerable amounts of other minerals and vitamins such as Vitamins B1, A FISHING LICENSE? C and G and calcium, and they afford bulk or roughage.

In selecting wild green, take only the small tender leaves and shoots. Wash them several times in pans of warm water. Pick them off the top of the water each time so that the sand and grit go to the bottom. Do not allow them to stand in water. Cook them in just the water that clings to the leaves. Salt them when you put them over the fire. Turn with two forks during the first few seconds of cooking so the water goes to the bottom. Cook only five to eight minutes. Greens get bitter and mustardcolored if they are cooked too long. Use cooking water in gravies, soups or stews. These rules save food values and make greens more attractive and palatable.

For seasoning, use salt, pepper and butter, or bits of crisp fried salt pork. Variety can be had by adding sliced hard boiled eggs, or slices of crisp bacon, or finely chopped pepper or onion.

Use only greens you can identify. Some wild greens are poisonous.

The Michigan Department of Health has printed a phamplet "Wild Greens are Good and Good for You," which helps to identify the edible wild greens and tells how to prepare them. A copy may be obtained from your local health department or from the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4,

Some teachers use the pamphlet as background for a field trip and "tasting" party.

LATIN MOST TAUGHT LANGUAGE IN STATE ACCORDING TO U-M

The classical languages of Greek and Latin are anything but dead, according to University of Michigan professors of these subjects.

It is true, they admit, that Greek and Latin are no longer the mainstay of the college curriculum, as they were fifty years ago, but they still receive attention from hundreds of University students each year. And Latin is taught today in more high schools of Michigan than any other single language.

James E. Dunlap, professor of Latin and Greek, points out that Michigan high schools currently employ about 700 teachers of Latin. Part of the works of the University's Department of Classical Studies is to prepare teachers of this subject, and there are three 'teachers' courses" in Latin. Special instruction for teahers of Latin has been offered at the University since 1879.

The classical languages have an interest for students of modern science and literature also, since both subjects have their roots in ancient civilizations. A class of about 100 students, for example is enrolled for a class in Greek and Latin scientific terminology-the scientific names used in the biological sciences are all Latin.

LO YOU NEED

With thousands fishing for percl and other spring run fish on streams close to Great Lakes outlets, the conservation department cautions that fishing licenses are needed.

To clarify the situation, the department advises that Michigan residents can fish license free in Great Lakes and connecting waters but not on streams that flow into those lakes and waters. Connecting waters are the Defroit, St. Clair and St. Marys rivers and Lake St.

For example, the Clinton river s a stream that empties into Lake St. Clair, a connecting water of he Great Lakes. If an angler chooses to fish the Clinton river, ne needs a license. Should he elec o fish in Lake St. Clair, no license s required.

Another southeastern Michigan example is the Belle river, stream which flows into the St. Clair river. The St. Clair river is one of the Great Lakes connecting waters. Angling in the Belle river calls for a license but fishing in the St. Clair river does not. Nonresidents may fish without a license in Michigan Great Lakes and connecting waters only for the following species: perch, carfish, bullheads, blue pike, sand pike, ciscoes and carp.

Seek Men who Inspire Trust and Esteem

* Four thousand years ago, practitioners of the healing arts were impelled to organize in order to shield the public from the impostures of quacks and charlatans. Similar organizations have been carried along the current of history to the present day. Today the great national associations of physicians, pharmacists, dentists, and nurses work separately and harmoniously to keep educational standards high, the impostors out: You cannot exercise too great care in securing the advice of those whose ethical concepts inspire trust and esteem. When ill, consult a registered Doctor of Medicine. If medication is needed, bring your prescription to us.

Accomplished by Working Together

The great benefits which result from whole-hearted cooperation probably are no better illustrated than by the accomplishments of the 15,000 dairy farmers who work together as members of the Michigan Milk Producers Association.

Some of the outstanding benefits obtained for themselves by these members are:

1. A GUARANTEED market for all of the milk they produce.

2. Guaranteed prompt payment in full. No credit risk. 3. Substantial payment for milk rejected from the market in event the member's family is quarantined. Check testing of the members milk for butterfat content by Association testers to insure proper payments.

5. Improving quality of product and cutting production costs through Association Quality Control Program.

6. Safeguarding the market against seasonal fluctuations in production by means of the Base and Excess Plan.

7. Efficient representation in legislative and regulatory measures at the local, state and national levels. 8. Constant and reliable source of information dairy farming, milk production and market situations. 9. A unified, intelligent program of advertising regarding important subjects relative to and sales promotion to increase the consumption of milk and dairy products. 10. A continuing program of research and dissemination of information setting forth the great value of milk as a food in cooperation with the Dairy Council and American Dairy Association. Michigan Milk Producers Association

YOUR HOME NEWSPAPER

All matters handled through the Probate Court require a certain amount of legal publication in one of the county papers. Foreclosing a mortgage entails publication of the foreclosure notice in a county paper.

Either the probate court officers or your attorney will have your legal publication carried in The Clarkston News if you request it.

We solicit the privilege of carrying such legal publications. This form of advertising is valuable to us. When you support us in this way we are able to give you a better paper each week.
