Annual Rotary Labor Day Parade To Feature Floats

Start right now to plan your costume for the big Labor Day Parade and Costume Parade sponsored by the Clarkston Rotary Club. Last year the parade was bigger and better than ever before and this year hopes are very high that even last year's success will be far surpassed.

Everyone is urged to attend this affair, young folks and you old folks too. Remember that when everyone joins in the fun it is bound to be a great success and more fun for all.

It seems that Labor Day, September 4th, this year, is the last day of the season for that warm weather fling. The opening of school and the cooler weather tends to make everyone stay closer to their firesides. So, let's make the last big day of the summer one to be remembered. So that the children have their pets all groomed and ready for the show. And see to it that everyone in your family has a costume ready because there will be prizes for everyone wearing a genuine costume no matter what the type.

This year the parade will be featured by many floats. Already many of our local clubs and organizations are busy finishing their plans and assembling their materials to build the floats.

The Drum and Bugle Corps of the American Legion will lead the parade which will assemble at 10:00 A. M. on Miller road.

This year's chairman for this event is George Lang. If you wish any additional information about the parade you are invited to call Mr. Lang.

Get yourself ready for the big parade. Let's all get behind this event. If we all do our part, we will really have a successful day and everyone will have a grand time.

Enter Now For Golf Tournament

The Clarkston Merchants are sponsoring a kickers handicap golf tournament which will be held September 6th at 2:00 P. M. at the Davidsburg golf course. Dinner will be served and the prizes will be donated by the Clarkston merchants.

Tickets and entry blanks may be obtained at O'Dell's Drug Store. This will be a kickers handicap tournament where the golfer picks his own handicap. There is a chance for you to win no matter whether you are in the 60's or the 100's.

Edw. D. Whipple Receives Honor

Latest dealership to be admitted to Pontiac Motor Division's "Hall of Fame" is Edw. D. Whipple Pontiac Sales of Clarkston, which was today named a "Better Dealer" by Pontiac factory executives.

Whipple Pontiac Sales has represented the Silver Streak Line here since 1934. The firm is headed by its founder, Mr. E. D. Whipple.

With the honor, Mr. Whipple was presented a reproduction of the famous painting of Pontiac, Chief of the Ottawas, the great tribal leader for whom the car was named. The presentation was made by Mr. G. J. Schulte, manager of Pontiac's Zone Office.

In his presentation address, Mr. Schulte cited Mr. Whipple for the firm's constant efforts to improve its dealership operation and widen its services to the community.

"Our Better Dealer program was instituted with the aim of making Pontiac dealers pre-eminent in the automotive field," Mr. Schulte said. "It is not enough that Pontiac dealers be as good as their competitors. They must be better. They must be better than they themselves were a year ago. They must be better than they were six months ago, and they must be better than they were yesterday to maintain this honor and keep possession of this symbolic picture."

Under the terms of the Better Dealer program, each Pontiac dealer is graded on the improvement of his physical property; the number and quality of trained personnel; service facilities and equipment; parts inventory, used car lot and local advertising program. Of paramount importance is the dealership's services to the local community.

"Our dealers and their employees are Pontiac's only direct contact with the public," Mr. Schulte said, "and much of the goodwill which Pontiac enjoys among the American people is due to these fine dealers who are honoring throughout the country with these presentations."

Also present for the awarding were Mr. G. A. Walter, President of the Clarkston State Bank, and is also the oldest customer of the dealer; Mr. R. L. Jones, Vice-President of the Clarkston State Bank, Mr. C. Robinson, President of the Clarkston Rotary Club and William H. Stamp of the Clarkston News.

The presentation was made by Mr. G. J. Schulte, Pontiac Zone Manager who was accompanied to Clarkston by Mr. R. M. Downey, Pontiac District Manager.

A Prayer

Re-printed by request. This prayer was given recently at the American Legion meeting by Stuart Capron of Oxford, Michigan, 17th District Service Officer of the American Legion.

Dear Father, Supreme Commander of all things, As we gather tonight we acknowledge our weaknesses and humbly pray for knowledge and ability away beyond our normal limits. We realize that our nation, along with every other freedom-loving country, faces mankind's greatest crisis, a crisis that involves and imperils every individual, not just us, but every life in the world. Never before have we had greater need for Thy divine guidance. We are in the midst of an extremely serious situation. We have problems of armaments, of atomic and of H. Power. We have the more intimate problem of attaining a proper balance between personal liberty and the good of the nation, between security and initiative. We have problems of education. We have the problem of hunger and want amidst great plenty. We have need of moral law, of christian ethics or whatever it may be called. I call it the law of conduct that transcends, materialism, and puts humane interests in first place.

Dear Father, we need this spiritual aid. We pray for this aid in our personal lives and in our country's relations with other countries. We need to get closer to Thee. You are our only ally. Help us to understand others. Help us to keep the beacons of liberty shining so all can see and appreciate. May everything be for the good of our country. May we successfully counteract the pressure and acts of those who would forget or belittle our sick and our maimed. May everyone realize more and more the extreme seriousness of the present situation. May they realize the vast importance of individual decisions and future action. Help us, we pray, to prevent ultimate catastrophe. All this we ask in His Name.

The Campbell-Richmond Post No. 63 Drum and Bugle Corps has been invited to participate in the annual Labor Day parade in Pontiac this year, but as the time of the parade in Pontiac coincides with the time Clarkston will hold its gala affair, we had to decline the invitation.

The next regular meeting of the Post will be held Tuesday, September 5, 1950 at a time and place yet to be decided. Notices will be sent out.

Lakeview Cemetery Now Has "Babyland"

The Clarkston Lakeview Cemetery is beautiful at any time of the year, but now in late summer it is especially pretty. Wide, sweeping green lawns rolls over banks and down to the shores of Cemetery lake. It is a beautifully landscaped scene. Blue spruce, white pines, maple and oak trees dot the grounds and the whole area presents a picture of perfect peace and serenity.

Lakeview Cemetery was originally known as Clarkston Union Cemetery. It was founded on August 12, 1850, when George Van-Syckle presented three acres of ground to Independence Township for a burial ground.

In 1892 the name was changed to Clarkston Lakeview Cemetery and a board of control was organized and became known as the Lakeview Cemetery Association.

This association operated the cemetery until May 17, 1944, when the board resigned and the Township of Independence became the sole owners of the cemetery.

In January, 1948 Carl Anthony Jr., of Pontiac, took complete charge of the project as superintendent. Mr. Anthony is the superintendent of all the cemeteries in Independence Township.

As the space in the old part of the cemetery became limited, additional land was added to the original site and lots were laid out and surveyed. A modern underground sprinkling system was installed and the trees and shrubs and equipment were purchased to enable the superintendent and his staff to take care of the cemeteries in Independence Township and landscape and beautify them to the satisfaction of every resident.

It can be said now that this job has been done. Mr. Anthony said that it takes conservatively 10 years to fully develop a cemetery to its full potential beauty. That he and his staff are ahead of schedule is easy to see.

A section of land has been set aside for a veterans plot and special Memorial Day Services are held there each year.

Now, Mr. Anthony has added a section which is called "Babyland". Special equipment will be purchased within the year for infant burials. Mr. Anthony believes that infant death is a terrible tragedy to the young family and that "Babyland" and other considerations will help somewhat to ease the pain of such terrible misfortune. The sections set aside for "Babyland" are situated on a hill overlooking Cemetery lake and are especially quiet and pretty. Mr. Anthony expects landscaping to be completed in these sections either this fall or next spring.

Clarkston Locals

The Robert C. Beatties are enjoying this week at their cottage at Torch lake.

By the Way . . .

There is an old expression that the more you give the more you get in return. Be this as it may, it has always been interesting to notice that sometimes the men who hold the most lucrative jobs or have the most interesting honors cast upon them are those men who have given of their time and money unselfishly. Such a man would be the District Governor of the District embracing Clarkston. He was very frank in stating that he admired the manner in which Slop Megee withdrew from the nomination for Governor in his favor and thanked him before the Club for so doing.

This in itself was giving with no thought of return. But to carry on with the first idea. He served in the Marines in World War I and again in World War II. He was first discharged as a corporal. Discharge from World War II carried with it the position of Major. He has served his community as Mayor. Another, Harry Kelly who is a candidate for the nomination for Governor, lost a leg in World War I, although it is not so well known and is never mentioned by him in his campaigning. . . . Vacation must be nearly over for the students of the Clarkston and Rural School districts. Registration for high school will take place Monday, August 28th for the 9th and 10th grades and on Thursday, August 31st for the 11th and 12th grades. Thus time marches on — although some will dispute this and claim that time races on. . . . This week the News carries over a page of advertisements from the Dixie in the neighborhood of M-15. One merchant suggested that we also include one or two ads using the space to mention some business that could be needed to make this a well rounded community shopping center. . . . For contractors — the item of the State Highway Department on page 6 of this issue should be very interesting. The State is asking for a bid to do certain work on the highways that a local firm might be interested in.

When darkness fell out on the lake A man and boy alone, Upon a rubber raft, were lost, A half mile from home. The shoreline seemed completely strange, Like lands they'd never known. They paddled past the lights on shore, But none looked like their own. They tried the very best they could figure, To figure how to go, But when Man's lost upon a lake His mind's confused and slow. Then finally as night wore on, Their minds were plagued with fright, They knew that they must get to shore So headed for our light. They found refuge within our doors And guidance to their home. They were relieved to find their way And not just drift alone. So many men just drift about In darkness all the time. They hesitate to pull to shore. Although they see lights shine. They feel too proud to ask the way. Though they're lost in the night, They'd rather drift to unknown shores Than row toward the light.

 The breakfast was opened with an invocation by Mrs. Naugle which was followed with the salute to the flag.
 About sixty ladies heard Mrs. K. D. Foust, National President of the MOMS, give a very interesting talk. Mrs. Foust stressed the point that many more MOMS are needed for the work, and asked that each MOM write to some mother who have had boys in service now or who have had boys in service to interest them in the MOMS. She said there seems to be a lack of interest, and many boys in hospitals need serving. Mrs. Foust, herself a Gold Star Mother, having lost 2 boys in World War II, is a very active MOM. She also told of the work being done by the MOMS at the Dearborn Hospital, where the MOMS helped furnish a chapel where boys of all faiths might worship.

Vine ripened melon means flavor at its best. You will recognize these melons by a smooth slightly sunken stem end. The netting will be coarse, corky and grayish in color standing out in bold relief over the entire surface.

Encores in Order
 You will have calls for a repeat performance if you serve a thick peeled crosswise slice of cantaloupe or crisp lettuce. Fill the center with fresh grapefruit sections, diced pineapple and celery. Garnish the plate with juicy Bing cherries. Honey dressing with celery seed is ideal with this combination.

Honey Dressing with Celery Seed
 1/2 cup honey
 1/2 cup vinegar
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
 1 teaspoon paprika

Bring above ingredients to boiling. Cool. Add 1 cup salad oil beating constantly. Soak 1 teaspoon celery seed in 2 tablespoons water overnight if possible. Drain and add to dressing.

Appetizers or Desserts
 Watermelon and cantaloupe balls sprinkled with lemon juice and powdered sugar are good served in chilled grape juice or gingerale.
 Pink, yellow and pale green melon cubes—watermelon, cantaloupe and honeydew—are colorful and delicious sprinkled with lime juice and served in frosty-cold sherbet glasses.

Dessert, Only
 Ice cream sprinkled generously with shredded coconut served in the center of a crosswise slice of cantaloupe makes an unbeatable dessert.

Cantaloupe in Refrigerator
 Just wrap the cantaloupe completely in aluminum foil or the new self-sealing wax paper. This keeps the flavor in the melon and out of the other foods.

bear silent witness to the kind of plants which grew here 250 million years ago.
 An exhibit of these fossils, now on display in the University of Michigan Museums, reveals that the plants of that ancient time were far different from those of the present. Dr. Chester A. Arnold, curator of paleobotany in the Museums, explains.
 "There were no oaks or maples or other broad-leaved trees," he explains. "There were no grasses or ragweeds or dandelions. Instead, there were tall trees with ribbon-like leaves an inch or two wide and two to three feet long. Many of these leaves are preserved as fossils in mines and quarries near Jackson, Grand Ledge, Saginaw, and other places in the lower peninsula."
 Dr. Arnold says that, at the time the coal beds were formed, much of southern Michigan was a large swamp that was gradually filling in with sand and silt washed down from bordering highlands. Leaves, seeds, and other parts of plants were buried in the swamp, and as the mud hardened into rock the trapped plants became fossilized.
 These ancient plants, so unlike those of today, disappeared because of the climate became colder and they could not survive. They were replaced by plants which had small, thick leaves and which could survive in cold, dry soil.

MSC to Build Alumni Memorial Chapel

Michigan State College will begin construction in October of a $170,000 all-faith memorial chapel, honoring approximately 500 Spartan alumni killed in all wars in which the U. S. has engaged. The structure, financed by contributions of MSC alumni all over the world, is expected to be completed in May of 1951. The chapel will be of Gothic construction and a modified Gothic style, according to Claud Erickson, Lansing, chairman of the MSC alumni building committee. To be located directly across the Red Cedar River from Shaw Hall, the building will seat more than 200 people. It will be open at all times for use by students, alumni, faculty and visitors and will be used extensively for weddings, memorial services and other sacred occasions.

AMERICAN ARTS
FEATURED AT FAIR

The humble unpretentious American pioneer home of the 1750's will be featured by the Edison Institute at the 1950 Michigan State Fair, James D. Freil, Fair manager, has announced.

Handicraft arts of a bygone era will be actually demonstrated by instructors from the Institute's Textile Department. The free exhibits will be housed in the area underneath the stands to the left of the main entrance to the Coliseum.

Visitors to the Fair will see the raw washed wool carded or combed and spun into yarn on a large early American spinning wheel. After spinning, the yarn will be woven into fabric on a manually operated four-harness Colonial loom.

It has been planned to furnish the home with articles which formerly graced dwellings during early pioneer days. A colorful red-checked table cloth will adorn the rude and sturdy kitchen table, while above the fireplace strings of dried herbs will represent the spice sets of yesteryear. Candle molds, copper ladies, bed warming pans and a wooden plunger-type churn are but a few of the colonial housewares on display.

A functional split-rail fence will border the area adjacent to the home. Displayed within this area will be agricultural implements and modes of transportation used by our forefathers. Exhibited among the agricultural implements will be a plow said to have been used by Daniel Webster to demonstrate to a young boy the art of handling a plow. The mole board of this particular plow is reinforced with pieces of an old wood saw. A large smokehouse constructed from a single sycamore log will illustrate one of the methods used to preserve foods in early times.

The display will be open to Fair visitors from 10 a. m. until 11 p. m. daily, September 1 through 10.

YEAR'S ENROLLMENT AT MICHIGAN STATE
SETS NEW RECORD

A grand total of 20,499 persons were enrolled in campus classes and extension courses offered by Michigan State College during the 1949-50 fiscal year, according to the annual report of Robert S. Linton, registrar.

Included in this total are 17,027 regular students, 783 additional persons who took short courses, and 548 enrolled in the college's extension courses throughout the state. This exceeds, by nearly 500, last year's cumulative total of 20,005, Linton said.

High point in enrollment was reached in the fall quarter, when a total of 16,243 students registered. This was enough to boost Michigan State to the number 11 position among the nation's colleges and universities in full-time enrollment.

Represented in regular campus enrollment were 15,304 students (87 per cent) from every Michigan county but Keweenaw; 3,378 from 47 other states and five possessions; and 349 students from 49 foreign countries.

Total degrees awarded by Michigan State came to 4,074, more than 900 over the 1948-1949 total of 3,158.

COMMISSION CAMPAIGNS FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY

The State Highway Department is cooperating during the month of August with the Michigan State Safety Commission in a state-wide campaign calling attention of motorists to the hazards created by failure of motorists to obey traffic signs and signals.

Public attention is drawn to this safety program by the use of radio press, posters, leaflets, and direct mail. As a special contribution to this program the Highway Department has erected some 100 poster panels along the state trunklines where high speed routes penetrate into built up areas. These poster panels will display the official posters of the campaign. The one now posted reads

"Stay Alive — Obey Stop Sign. Michigan is the first state to use this method of appealing to motorists while they are in their cars.

SELF-HELP PARLEYS ORGANIZED BY U-M AID COMMUNITIES

During the past two years, over 249 communities have sent 1,520 carefully selected leaders to attend area conferences on "Organization for Community Self-Help" sponsored by the University of Michigan's School of Education and the University Extension Service.

These conferences were promoted by the University in response to the needs of many small Michigan communities facing such problems as: money raising for community projects, need for coordination of community effort, education to meet adult needs and interest, community recreation, loss of young people, juvenile delinquency, and rural-urban relations.

"The small town is a forgotten segment of the country in regard to social services," states Dr. Howard Y. McClusky, consultant in Community Adult Education, "rural areas get outside help but the towns and townships must rely on themselves."

Often faced with declining populations, loss of local industry, poor school and hospital facilities, and deteriorating road and drainage systems, many communities do not have the organization necessary to successfully cope with these problems, according to Dr. McClusky.

"We try to help people diagnose their own problems so they can best solve them with the resources they have at their own disposal," he states.

In general, Dr. McClusky's department assumes responsibility for starting these conferences when local leaders, who are capable of raising interest among their fellow citizens, request assistance. A preliminary meeting is then scheduled where plans are drawn up to hold the area conference at which problems, all suggested in advance by local residents, will be examined.

"The first step in defining the goal is to find out what people think the problem is about," says Dr. McClusky. "The next step is to find out what additional facts are needed to make the problem clear."

It is Dr. McClusky's opinion that a community problem cannot be really understood unless it is seen as a part of the total community in which it exists.

Five area conferences have been held this year. Ewart, East Jordan and Richmond were hosts last Fall, and Alma and Sterling were hosts this Spring. Plans are under way for the 20th Area Conference in the Allegan area early this Fall. As in previous conferences, community leaders from a 25-to-50-mile radius will get together for an afternoon and evening. Tree planter to be used in state. The conservation department's forestry division announces mechanized tree planting will begin for the first time late next month in upper peninsula forests and that several more special planting machines will be built at the Roscommon forest fire experiment station next winter. Before the regular fall planting

Daw reports a more expensive rotating fin unit has been temporarily discarded as the result of the recent tests. The whirling fins accomplish the objective of scooping out shallow planting holes but fail to do any better job than the curved blade unit.

Furrows made with plows and commercial-type machines leave the ground in such rough shape that these planting methods are objectionable to hunters, hikers and other land-users. These methods of ground preparation also increase the difficulty of eventually harvesting the forest products.

Mechanical tree planters are comparatively new having been manufactured only within the last decade. As in the case of special forest fire fighting equipment, few planting machines have been built because of the relatively small market.

GERMANS WILL VIEW STATE GOVERNMENT UNDER U-M PROGRAM

A practical view of Michigan city and state governments in operation will be given German administrators who will attend the University of Michigan Institute of Public Administration this fall.

Under a contract signed with the U. S. Department of State, the Institute will acquaint government officials from Germany with government administration in the United States. Three and one half months will be spent on campus in special courses and seminars. The visitors will then serve internships in federal and state agencies and with various city governments in Michigan for six weeks.

"The work with officials here in the state will give the Germans a chance to see how policy is made and how government operates," Dr. John Lederle, director of the Institute, said. "Here at the Institute we will stress the American concept of public administration and service, with particular attention to the accountability of public servants."

The first group of about 12 will arrive in early September.

When it's a tie - you die!

Hundreds of motorists lose their lives every year in needless accidents like this. Thousands more are injured, many permanently. Frequently grade crossing accidents result when motorists are only "half-way" careful. Take a tip from bus drivers. They always come to a full stop, look both ways and listen. Remember, when it's a tie - you die.

All signs mean "Caution." Highway signs and symbols are there for your protection. Learn what they mean, do what they say... it may help prevent an accident today.

Driver fatigue is a factor in many non-collision rural accidents. Before you doze yourself into the ditch, pull off the road and take a nap or stop for coffee.

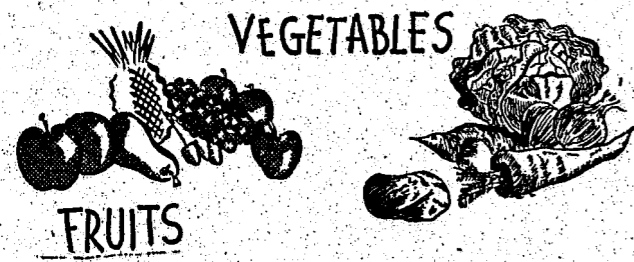

Be Careful - the life you save may be your own!

VALUE OF PASTURE SHOWN IN DOLLARS

Many farmers ask, "What is the value of pasture?" They may know that grassland farming aids conservation, but they are also interested in what kind of financial returns come from pasture.

Harry Wilt, research agricultural economist at Michigan State

College, has some figures that help to give the details of pasture value.

Last year, the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station conducted a study in Ionia county, in an attempt to arrive at a return for pasture. In dairying, a value was placed on the milk produced and then deductions were made for cost of feed, annual pasture and herd cost including labor on the herd, interest on investment, depreciation, and use of equipment. Current values for milk and feed were used.

The researchers came up with a figure which includes returns from pasture and management between different kinds of pasture. On 39 farms which were studied, the return was $31.90 per acre of pasture grazed. This varied from less than nothing on some of the poorer pastures to more than $100 per acre on the best.

Lowland, mainly Reed Canary grass, was valued at $35 an acre; rotation pastures, meadow and Sudan grass, at $28; and native upland pasture, mainly June grass, at $13 per acre.

Wilt points out that these returns indicate that good pasture is a very profitable crop and one to which farmers should give attention.

For high returns per acre, the economist advises that farmers concentrate on good stands, for good pasture management starts with preparation of the seed bed. Other items to watch are the proper amount of pasture for the livestock and efficient producing livestock to turn the pasture into cash.

WORRY AND INDIFFERENCE

★ Overanxiety, particularly about health, is a disease in itself. Physicians call it hypochondria. Those who "enjoy" ill health only make themselves and those about them miserable.

Opposed to chronic worry is complete indifference, to the point of disregard of common-sense health rules and contempt for medical care.

Between these two absurd extremes lies the sane middle road. Petty, transient discomforts need not cause grave concern and frequent trips to the doctor. When symptoms persist or recur with annoying frequency, it is then time to seek professional assistance. Indifference under these circumstances only invites more serious trouble.

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Isa. 52:7): "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!"

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following p. 16: "Our Master taught his disciples one brief prayer which we name after him the Lord's Prayer. Our Master said, "After this manner therefore pray ye," and then he gave that prayer which covers all human needs."

PHASANT SEASON TO BE LENGTHENED

Assured that pheasants are staging a comeback after several lean years, the conservation commission has approved a 22-day season in the lower peninsula, October 15th through November 5th.

The action restores the maximum season allowed by law. Seasons were cut back to 12 days in 1947 and 1948. Last year, a 16-day season was ordered.

Allowable daily take is two birds, four in possession, eight in the season. Hunters must wait until 10:00 a. m., Eastern Standard Time to unlimber their guns in the lower peninsula on opening day; thereafter opening hour will be 7:00 a. m. Last year a 10:00 a. m. opening hour was declared for the entire season. Closing hour each day in Zone 3 will be 6:00 p. m.

The Commission also reopened Alcona, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Iosco, Leelanau and Wexford counties to pheasant hunting. They had been closed for several years. Menominee county south of highway US 2 again is opened in pheasant hunting during a shorter season, October 1-10, with daily limit of one bird, two in possession, three in season.

Conservation department game men believe that the pheasant kill in Michigan in the 1950 season again may exceed one million birds as was the case in former years of pheasant abundance. A slump that was nationwide dropped the kill in 1947 to a record low of 453,000. It has been climbing since, to 633,000 in 1948, to 664,000 in 1949.

Checks of pheasant populations in recent months indicate increases. News Ads bring results.

Christ Jesus will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 27th.

The Golden Text (Jeremiah 23: 5, 6) is: "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgement and justice in the earth. . . And this is his name whereby he shall be called: THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS."

Cinnamon Coffee Cake

Those who like cinnamon toast will enjoy this quick coffee cake with spicy cinnamon mixture spread generously between layers and over the top.

Easy does it when you make a quick coffee cake for luncheon or tea. It needs only mixing and spreading the batter in the pan, with no rising or kneading. For this cinnamon-filled coffee cake, first spread half the batter in the pan. Sprinkle half of the crumbly spicy cinnamon-sugar and shortening mixture over it. Then cover the sugary filling with the remainder of the batter and bake. The flavorful cinnamon filling also serves as topping, so there's no icing to make.

Coffee cakes made with enriched flour step up the food value of any meal, for they are thrifty sources of B-vitamins, iron, and food energy.

Time this coffee cake to be ready at the same time as the rest of the meal, for it is best when served warm. The quick coffee cake base can be adapted to other fillings and toppings. Try a crusty orange mixture. Combine one tablespoon melted butter or margarine, three tablespoons sugar, and two tablespoons grated orange rind; then add one-half cup chopped nuts and mix well.

CINNAMON COFFEE CAKE

Filling and Topping Mixture

- 1/4 cup sugar
3 teaspoons cinnamon
2 tablespoons enriched flour
2 tablespoons melted shortening

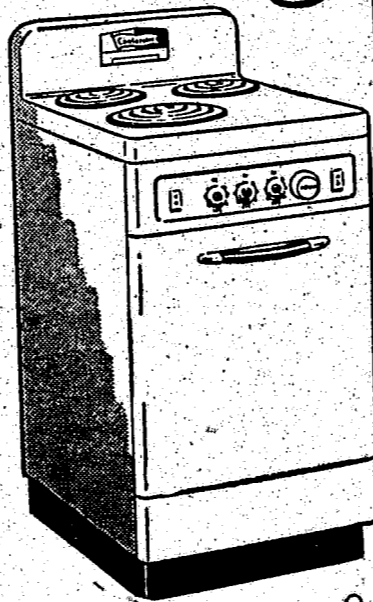

Batter

- 1/4 cup sugar
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup shortening

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg. Mix well. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with milk. Spread half the batter in greased 7 by 11-inch pan. Sprinkle half the filling and topping mixture over the batter. Cover with remaining batter and sprinkle with rest of topping. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Makes one coffee cake.

This mammoth float, inviting Michigan citizens to attend the 101st annual Michigan Agricultural State Fair and Exposition in Detroit, is scheduled to appear in this area sometime before the Fair, Sept. 1 through 10. It is travelling all over Michigan. The recorded voice over the sound system on the float is that of well-known Farm Editor, Marshall Wells, who tells about the many Fair features after every musical number.
