Mich. Bell Extends Phone Service

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company furnished rural telephone service to more than 8,000 new customers during 1950.

With the placement of new facilities, which included the installation of more than 3,000 circuit-miles of "openwire," Michigan Bell was still unable to meet the unprecedented demand for service in rural areas. On the company's waiting list at the end of the year are some 4,500 potential users.

While demand for service overran the company's ability to erase entirely the rural telephone waiting list, Michigan Bell was able to pare nearly 1,000 from the "held order" figure which the company faced at the end of 1949.

"Although the company closed the year with a substantial increase in the number of users to whom service was furnished, the prospects for further expansion of rural facilities are not too certain in the face of the new national emergency," said Hans P. Anderson, Michigan Bell's farm telephone manager.

"During World War II, Michigan Bell furnished facilities to 79 military and 86 war-production establishments and is again making preparations to meet similar demands in the new emergency. Millions of dollars of new capital will be required to meet these needs and the continued demand by civilian users," Anderson said.

In urgent circumstances, some rural customers were furnished service by being placed on a party line which was already at best-service capacity but the "overloading" was mandatory. In these cases, even though they affected a small percentage of rural customers, the company "continued with every effort to reduce the figure."

Now don't forget we will be seeing you at the Home Talent Show which will be held February 21st at Clarkston High School.

Just one for the road—that's all. Just one little drink. The home team won, so why not have a little celebration? And sometimes you get away with it, but...

Sometimes You Don't!

This driver wasn't so lucky, and this might have been you. He won't be there for the kickoff next Saturday or any Saturday. So remember, when you drink—don't drive, because one out of every five fatal traffic accidents is caused by a drinking driver.

Don't rely on the other guy! Almost every driver makes a mistake once in a while. So don't take chances just because the "other driver" is in the wrong. Many drivers have been killed standing up for their rights. Signs of life—heed them! Traffic signs are different shapes, to help you identify them quickly. Most shapes mean "caution." Teenager Gets Appetite Back; Thanks Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Vitamins B, B₁₂, Niacin and Iron Which Her System Lacked.

According to Sara Loraine Beck, Box 253, Coker, Alabama, when a person is only 15 years old and feels terrible, can't eat or sleep the way they should, it's mighty bad. That is the way Loraine says she used to feel, but that was, of course, before she started taking HADACOL. Loraine found that taking HADACOL helped her system overcome deficiencies in Vitamins B, B₁₂, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Loraine Beck's own statement: "I was run-down, sick and skinny, and weighed only 90 pounds before I used HADACOL. I would not eat because I had no appetite. Now I weigh 123 pounds and have an appetite. I feel a lot better. I have been taking HADACOL 10 months and am still taking it. I am 15 years old. HADACOL has done me lots of good."

teresting and informative in the home economics program during the 1951 Farmers Week at Michigan State College. Programs are scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, January 30 and 31, and Thursday, February 1st.

Tuesday's morning program includes, "Mealtime Around the World," a discussion by five foreign students and "Keeping Mentally and Physically Fit," a talk by Fannie Brooks, formerly an extension health specialist. In the afternoon Mary Whitlock, MSC home economist, will discuss the practical topic, "Getting What You Want for Your Money."

On Wednesday morning Leonard Rall, MSC economist, will discuss what our dollars are worth today. Karen Fladoes, director of the Kelvinator Kitchen, Detroit, will discuss, "The Planned Workshop for the Home." In the afternoon session talks will be given by Eleanor Clauss, Faye Kinder and Jessie Marion, MSC home economists, concerning their recent visits to Europe.

The annual style show which always attracts so many visitors will again be presented on Thursday afternoon. The morning program features an attractive schedule with Pauline Paul, MSC frozen foods researcher, discussing, "What's New in Frozen Foods," and Kerstin Hardenberg, visiting Swedish professor at MSC, giving, "Glimpses of Sweden and Her People."

Tuesday's sessions will be held in the Little Theater, Home Economics Building, and the latter two days' programs will be presented in the College Auditorium.

Morning programs will begin at 10 and afternoon programs at 1:30. Afternoon sessions will close in time for the audiences to attend the daily general programs at 3 in the Auditorium.

GOOD NEWS COMES WITH NEW FASHIONS

If Christmas shopping drained your resources so much that you're looking at your winter-wear wardrobe hopelessly and speculating about spring fashions, there's good news for you.

Many of the fashion trends of the fall and winter of 1950 will carry over into the spring fashions of 1951, predicts Marjorie Eastman, extension clothing specialist at Michigan State College. This offers possibilities for adding variety to your wardrobe now with a garment that will still be fashionable in the spring.

For example, one fashion trend that will continue to be featured is the straight, slim silhouette. Suit skirts will remain narrow, with walking ease provided by slits, or pleats. Straight, sheath-like dresses will be found in abundance, though there will be an increased number of full skirts, especially in afternoon or evening dress.

Another continuing trend will be the "costume look"—the ensemble or entire outfit sold as one suit. The new spring version may be a suit and coat, a wool dress and coat, or a print dress combined with a print jacket, a wool jacket, or wool coat lined with the print.

Even if you are not in the market for a complete ensemble, you may want to keep the costume look in mind as you shop for single items. Perhaps you can find just the right coat or dress to ensemble with some of the clothes from last year or season.

Along with the popularity of costumes, there is a vogue for "separates" such as blouses, skirts and jackets purchased separately. These mixed or matched outfits are featured in street and dressy clothes as well as sportswear.

Marmalade-Topped Coffee Cake

Sweet-yet-tart marmalade flavors every bite of this light and luscious coffee cake, good for breakfast or luncheon bread.

There's nothing like a yeast coffee cake to fill the kitchen with tempting aromas. Marmalade-topped coffee cake is a very special version of enriched toast spread with marmalade. It provides the same good nourishment, since enriched flour is the basic ingredient in both breads.

Marmalade-topped coffee cake is made from a yeast batter which requires no kneading. Beat batter thoroughly for a light even texture in the baked bread. There is no shaping or molding—just spread batter in pan over the melted butter-and-marmalade topping. Let batter rise until light before baking.

Start the family off to a good day with an appetizing, nourishing breakfast—and how easy this is to do with yeast and quick coffee cakes! Everyone likes these sweet breads which so thriftily provide important B-vitamins and iron, as well as good taste.

MARMALADE-TOPPED COFFEE CAKE

- 1 package yeast, compressed or dry
- 1/2 cup lukewarm water
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup melted shortening
- 2 eggs
- 3/4 cups sifted enriched flour
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract (optional)
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
- marmalade
- 1/2 cup orange

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk. Add sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Add 1 cup flour and beat well. Add eggs. Beat well. Add softened yeast. Mix well. Add more flour to make a stiff batter. Add vanilla extract. Beat thoroughly until smooth. Cover and let rise until bubbly (about 1 hour). Prepare 2

8-inch square pans by spreading each with 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine and 1/2 cup orange marmalade. When batter is light, stir down. Spread over marmalade in pans. Let rise until light (about 20 minutes). Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 30 to 38 minutes. Turn out upside down. Makes 2 8-inch coffee cakes.

al fibers - wool and cotton - have increased a great deal more.

The average citizen can expect to pay about $3.50 to $10 more for suits next fall, she said.

Adding to the normal scarcity of wool will be the military requirements of all nations on the world's wool supply.

MICHIGAN LEADS AS HUNTING STATE

Michigan continues as the leading hunting state in the nation and in spite of her generally lower license fees was second in license revenue in the fiscal year ending June, 1950.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service credits the Michigan conservation department with distribution of 1,031,035 licenses, over 53,000 more, which produced $2,944,885 nearly $98,000 more than in the previous fiscal period. Pennsylvania again was second in number of licensed hunters with 834,091 close to 45,000 fewer than before, but topped Michigan in license revenue with $3,032,326 or about $185,000 increase. The Keystone state, among a number of others, has higher hunting fees than Michigan and also led in the fiscal period with the most outstate hunters. Pennsylvania had over 24,000 and Michigan over 12,000.

In order behind the two states in most licensed hunters were New York, Ohio, Illinois, California, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Washington and Indiana. Rhode Island issued the fewest licenses, 11,488.

YOUTH GROUPS FIRST AT SUMMER CAMPS

The conservation department's parks division says organized youth groups still can reserve summer group camps if they apply early.

Open dates exist for groups of 70-140 at the Island Lake recreation area near Brighton, the Ocqueoc camp in the Black Lake state forest near Onaway, and at Sleeper park near Caseville, one week only due to a cancellation.

For smaller groups up to 25, reservations can be made for the new camp at the Warren Dunes park near St. Joseph as well as the W. J. Hayes park south of Jackson, Waterloo area and the Bloomer No. 3 camp in the Ortonville area. Another new small camp with more conveniences is open for the first use February 1 at Pickeral Lake in the Highland area west of Pontiac.

Youth groups have priority until June 1. Thereafter applications from adult groups, which now are acceptable, will be acted upon.

MSC WINTER TERM ENROLLMENT IS 13,791

Michigan State College's official nose count for the winter term revealed a student enrollment of 13,791.

Although representing a drop of 1,202 from the fall term college officials were well pleased. Early predictions said the college would have a "substantial decrease in enrollments" as students enlisted in the armed forces or took industrial jobs.

The winter term was attributed to the enlistment of many high school graduates in the armed forces by Registrar Robert S. Linton.

FISHING SHANTY MUST BE MARKED

That fishing shanty must be properly marked with owner's name and address, the conservation department cautions winter anglers.

Writing must be on an outside wall of the shack and in letters of insoluble material not less than two inches high.

The fish hut must be removed at any time during the ice fishing season when unsafe conditions exist. Otherwise, the department stresses, the law specifies the department may remove and store or destroy the structure. Cost of same can be assessed against the owner in addition to a violation fine.

WOOL PRODUCTION VITAL TO NATION

Recent price advances and the unsettled international situation have made wool both a valuable farm product and a raw material vitally needed in our defense program.

Michigan State College sheep specialist Graydon Blank says that farmers who keep sheep will want to make every effort to produce quality wool. This means keeping it free from chaff and other objectionable foreign material so the wool will bring the top price and be of most use for military requirements.

Hay and other roughage should be fed from a rack with sides which will not let chaff get into the wool. Another method is to feed hay and other roughage on the ground, some distance from the barn. This helps to keep chaff from the wool and also helps the flock to get needed exercise. Under no circumstances should hay be carried over the backs of the sheep. Blank cautions.

Sheep should be housed only in well ventilated sheds. When housed too close or under poorly ventilated conditions, the tips of the fleeces are stained and the sale value reduced.

Plans for a hay rack which will help to keep chaff out of wool, along with other sheep management suggestions, are contained in the recently revised extension bulletin 242, "Selection and Care of the Farm Sheep Flock."

A copy of this bulletin may be obtained at the county agricultural agent's office or by writing to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Right Under Our Nose!

Sometime back, we got word from the Governor, asking if we wanted to use the State Fire Inspection Team—a group of experts they send around to communities to inspect public buildings.

We sent a letter saying: "Okay! Give us the once-over!" They came down, all right—last week.

After the inspection, we got their report. Came out pretty well, all told. Town Hall and the School were O.K. Post Office just needed more sandbuckets. In fact, everything got a clean bill of health, except—the Fire Station!

From where I sit, we volunteer firemen had just been too blamed busy keeping everyone else on the ball—and not realizing our own firehouse was not up to snuff. Like the man who worries so much about his neighbors—about whether they work hard enough, about whether they can really afford their new car, about their enjoying a temperate glass of beer—that he forgets to take a good critical look at himself now and then.

MICHIGAN STATE PREPARES FOR FARMERS' WEEK

Farmers' Week — the mid-winter educational event for Michigan's rural citizens — is being readied to serve as many as 40,000 people at Michigan State College, East Lansing. The event opens Monday, January 29.

One of the greatest lists of talent from the state and nation, along with the Minister of Agriculture from Canada, will provide top speaking personnel. These, added to research authorities, teaching personnel and extension specialists at Michigan State College, will offer rural people more than a hundred different meetings on as many subjects.

"We've never had finer facilities for our exhibits," said Ralph Tenny, director of short courses and program arranger. For the first time the concourse in Mackin Field Stadium is being used for exhibits and those in charge feel the area will please the visitors. In addition to the Stadium area, exhibits will be housed as usual in the Agricultural Engineering Building, Livestock Judging Pavilion, Olds Hall of Engineering and Electrical Building.

Another new feature will be the pen barn exhibit, to be housed in a tent between the Agricultural Engineering Building and the Livestock Judging Pavilion on South Campus.

Headline speakers for general programs will include: William Laurence, New York Times science writer and atomic authority, on Tuesday; James G. Gardiner, Canada's Minister of Agriculture, on Wednesday, and Herschel D. Newsom, new Master of the National Grange, on Thursday. Oris V. Wells, chief of the bureau of agricultural economics

Make a figure 8 with a slender strip of sweet yeast dough and you'll create an interesting new roll which can be highlighted with fruit or preserves.

Figure 8 rolls made from a basic sweet yeast dough are good companions to breakfast bacon and eggs. You'll find them an interesting bread to dress up a simple supper of cold meats or cheese and garden salad.

Pinch small portions from a light yeast dough to make the twists. Any leftover dough can be used to make your favorite coffee cake. Roll the small pieces of dough under palms of hands into long slender pieces fourteen inches long. Twist into the loops of a figure 8, then insert plumped apricots or prunes into the loops of the 8. Brush rolls with milk and give them an attractive glaze. Let rise until doubled and then bake. Choose figure 8 rolls as a menu bread for their fruity taste, novel appeal, and nutritional value. Made with enriched flour, they bring essential B-vitamins and iron to the menu.

- 2 packages yeast, compressed or dry
- 1/2 cup lukewarm water
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 2 cups sifted enriched flour (about)
- Milk for glaze
- 3 dozen cooked pitted prunes or apricots

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk. Add shortening, sugar, and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add two cups flour. Mix well. Add softened yeast and eggs. Beat well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until satiny. Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise until doubled. Punch down. Divide into 18 equal portions. Cover and let rest 10 minutes. Roll dough under palms of hands to form long slender pieces one-half inch thick and 14 inches long. Twist each piece into a figure eight on a greased baking sheet. Place apricot or prune in each "hole." Brush twists with milk and let rise until doubled. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes about 18 rolls.

good intentions. A few more deer hunters have mailed in their reports, 38,000 as compared to 30,600 last year at this time, but small game hunters have forwarded only 4,900 reports stubs against 7,300 before. And Michigan, leading the nation, has over a million licensed hunters. Deadline for turning in the stub attached to the hunting license is February 15. The department reminds hunters that the stub is wanted whether game was shot or not.

world on Sunday, January 28th. The Golden Text (Psalms 108:3, 4) is: "I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people . . . for thy mercy is great above the heavens; and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds."

Among the Bible citations in this passage, (Ps. 86:11): "Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 380): "God is what the Scriptures declare Him to be, Life, Truth, Love."

was made at the Mayflower hotel here by Mrs. Hiram Cole Houghton, president of the General Federation, and Joseph B. Hall, president of the Kroger company.

Mrs. Houghton said that recent events have shown us the need for strengthening democracy by developing citizens able to plan and think independently, yet work with others for the common good.

Mr. Hall stressed that giving the young people of each community definite responsibilities in carrying out community projects would teach them the value of self-help and cooperative effort.

Three national cash prizes of $10,000, $3,000, and $2,000 will be awarded. In addition, a $200 prize will go to the club judged best in each state, Alaska and the District of Columbia in which five or more clubs compete. Prize money is to be used for projects which will serve the youth of the community.

Club projects are to be determined by local need, but an announcement booklet, to be distributed to each federated woman's club lists these broad classifications: Health, Welfare, Education and Culture, Beautification and Natural Resources, Government and Citizenship, Recreation and Employment.

Each club is to work with the youth of the community in both selecting and completing projects.

The program, to be called "Build Freedom with Youth," is the second contest to be sponsored jointly by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Kroger Company. A program known as "Build a Better Community" was sponsored during 1949 and was responsible for many improvements in communities throughout the United States. Winner of the $10,000 first prize in that contest was the Twentieth Century Club of Iuka, Mississippi.

The contest closes March 1, 1952.

AMERICAN RED CROSS OAKLAND COUNTY CHAPTER

Mrs. T. W. Eustis of Birmingham, chairman of Red Cross Home Service in Oakland County, and Mrs. Mildred E. Bennett, Executive of Oakland County Chapter have returned from attending a home service meeting in St. Louis, January 16 and 17.

Marie Youngberg of Washington D. C. national director of Red Cross home service addressed the delegates representing the home service departments of the mid-west area.

Emphasis was on the greater economy which must be effected by the American Red Cross Chapters. Speakers urged that local chapters must use more volunteers in home service due to the greatly increased number of active servicemen and their dependents who are served.

Mrs. Eustis reports that 15 trained social welfare aides are now working in Oakland County under the chairmanship of Mrs. Hugh McLeese of Birmingham. Anyone interested in working with the active servicemen and their families may contact Mrs. McLeese or the chapter offices in Pontiac or Royal Oak.

Volunteers who worked in home service during World War II are requested to contact Mrs. McLeese also.

40,000 Families Affected By Disasters in 16 States, 6-Month Survey Shows - Floods, Tornadoes Cause Greatest Loss

Floods, tornadoes, storms, fires, and other disasters this year have struck an estimated 40,000 families in 15 of the 16 states comprising the American Red Cross Midwestern Area, shown by the above map. Red Cross officials in charge of aiding disaster victims in the area report a number of disaster operations continuing into the second half of 1950. Largest continuing operations are in the North Dakota-Western Minnesota flood area, where Red Cross has provided continuous assistance since the end of March, with operations complicated by recurring floods and blizzards.
