Noted Sportscaster Heard At Banquet

On Monday evening the Clarkston Rotary Club sponsored the eleventh annual athletic banquet. We all want the best educational at the school.

A large crowd enjoyed the delicious dinner which was in charge of Mrs. Wallace Ridgley assisted by other members of the P. T. A. A group of high school girls did the serving and they gave excellent service. The tables were attractive with the colors gold ship. and blue being predominant. The speakers' table was centered with pretity arrangement of snap-

One of the highlights of the evening was the speaker Van Patrick who was introduced by sportscaster, told about his work at the broadcasting stations and just how he managed when he sat in WJR studio and told about a game, play by play, that was held in the home of Merri Ann Sermon topic: "Christianity and six hits. Oxford did not make game, play by play, that was being played in some distant city. It was interesting to hear how he broadcasted a football game with a helper on each side of him so that not a detail would be omitted. He advised the athletes to PROPHETIC MESSAGES for after all "when you get out into the business world no one cares very much how many baseball games or football games you won they are interested in how much and what you know."

Mr. Patrick then had to hurry back to Detroit for a late WJR sports broadcast. A very fine evening was brought to a close with the benediction

by the Reverend R. M. Atkins.

CLARKSTON WINS * SEASON'S OPENER

Clarkston got off to a good start in the baseball season's opener last Thursday, by defeating Waterford by a score of 5-0.

Waterford opened and after one was out Rose singled. Kratt singled but Rose was caught napping at second. Parmenter was safe on an error. Wyckoff struck out. Hagyard was walked in the first and was the only one to get on. In the second Waterford loaded the bases but Rouse struck out Rose to end the inning. Clarkston was again rather feeble with the bat. Vincent reached first on a Kratt led off for Waterford in the third and was safe on an error. For the past two weeks the Parmenter singled. Wyckoff study. They made a book and put In Clarkston's half Sharrock error. Younger singled, scoring Sharrock with the first run of the game. Younger moved to third when the shortstop made an error. From third Younger scored on the catcher's error.

After the third Waterford did not threaten again. In the fifth Rouse struck out all three batters, although one hit was allowed. Clarkston scored two more runs in the fourth. Vincent walked and stole second. Dubats was safe after. striking out, but the catcher dropped the ball. Vincent scored. Dubats went to second and scored on Sharrock's single.

In the fifth Clarkston scored one run. Lamberton singled, as did Vincent. Dubats and Jewell both walked, forcing Lamberton in. This ended the scoring. Final score was Clarkston 5, Waterford 0.

Rouse was in fine form. He struck out 12 batters in seven innings while walking 2. Savas was the only batter that Rouse did not strike out. Wyckoff was charged with the loss. Friggle took up the pitching duties in fourth for Waterford. Tuesday Clarkston plays at Ox-

TO MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CUSTOMERS:

Notice of Application to the Michigan Public Service Commission by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company For Authority to Make Effective Certain Schedules of Rates, Rentals, and Charges

Higher costs inevitably mean higher prices, and the cost of furnishing your telephone service keeps on going up. As the result of wage increases for our employees last November, greater taxes, and the higher costs of services and materials, the rates authorized by the Commission last June are now insufficient to cover our needs. For that reason we shall apply to the Michigan Public Service Commission on May 14, 1951 for authority to apply the proposed rates shown below, and ask the Commission to set a date for a hearing on our request.

EXCHANGE RATES (Excluding Federal Tax)

For rate purposes, exchanges are divided into groups according to the total number of telephones that can be reached without a toll charge. The present grouping is based on the number of telephones in service in each exchange or zone on September 30, 1948. The proposed rates are based on the number of telephones on December 31, 1950.

You save time when you call by number TELEPHONE

You'll save yourself time, these busy days, by keeping a list of the numbers of the outof-town telephones you call most often.

When you call by number, the Long Distance operator doesn't have to take the time to get the number from Information so your call goes through faster.

That means better service for you-and better service for all America, right now when telephone lines are carrying urgent industrial and military calls.

P. S. When you don't know the out-of-town number, why not jot it down when the operator gets it for you. That way you'll have it handy the next time you call.

THESE ARE THE BENEFACTORS

* One of the greatest accomplishments of civilization has been the remarkable progress made in increasing the average life expectancy. In the Middle Ages the average life span was twenty years. In the seventeenth century it had advanced to twenty-five years. Through the years there has been a steady increase until, today, the life expectancy is sixty-three years for men and sixty-six for women. Authorities agree that the most productive years of life lie between the ages of forty and sixty. Medicine and the allied sciences have thus been indirectly responsible for all progress: Good minds that had sickened and died before reaching their zenith now live to apply the judgment and experience of maturity. As pharmacists, we are proud of our function in the distribution of lifesaving medical supplies.

Hand It To Sandy

Sandy Johnson's wife "Tiny" suddenly asks him at breakfast the other morning "Why don't you build me some bluebird houses?"

"What for?" asks Sandy. "Why for bluebirds, of course" says Tiny. "We always had 'em at home when I was a girl. May sound silly—but I sorta miss 'em.'

Well, I know how busy Sandy's been lately and the thought of taking time out to build birdhouses could have made a lot of men blow their top. But not Sandy. He says, "No, Tiny. It doesn't sound silly. I think it's a wonderful idea-we're going to have bluebirds—and I'm starting on some birdhouses tonight." From where I sit, we could do with more understanding people like Sandy-and Tiny, too. He respects her likings, and she respects his. He likes a temperate glass of beer now and then- and although Tiny sticks to coffee, whatever Sandy likes is O.K. with her. They live and let live-and that's why they live so happily.

What would YOU do about telephone rates if you were in our shoes?

Ouppose you were managing Michigan Bell. Suppose that your job was to continue supplying the kind of telephone service that Michigan and the nation can depend on in these critical times.

Immediately, you'd run up against these inescapable

- 1. To maintain the quality of service expected by the public, to provide improved service for many thousands of present users, and to meet the needs for new service in growing communities, your Company must continue to expand.
- 2. On top of that, the grim shadow of war demands that telephone service be ample for the giant job of national defense. New communication facilities must be added to handle the vital needs of military establishments, defense projects, and expanding production programs.
- 3. But the millions of dollars to finance this essential expansion and improvement of the telephone system must come from thousands of people who have savings to invest. They'll put their money in the telephone business only if they're assured that the Company's earnings will provide them a reasonable return.
- 4. You'd find that Michigan Bell's earnings-the money left over after expenses are met-are far below the earnings of other businesses. In the postwar period, Michigan Bell averaged only a little over 5 cents on each dollar invested compared with 12 to 16 cents for leading industrial concerns. The Telephone Company must compete with these other concerns in attracting money from investors. And the prospects for present telephone rates to produce adequate earnings from now on are mighty slim.
- 5. You'd realize that previous adjustments in telephone rates haven't caught up with the increases in the Company's cost of providing service. The last rate increase in June, 1950, substantially improved Michigan Bell's earnings. However, a lot has happened since then. Wage increases, made effective last November, have added 5 million dollars a year to operating costs. Taxes, too, have been increased and it seems certain that they will be going even higher. Costs of materials and supplies have hit new highs. And there's no getting away from the simple fact that higher costs mean higher prices.
- 6. As a public utility your rates are regulated by the Michigan Public Service Commission. So, it would be your responsibility to propose-and among the Commission's responsibilities to establish-rates adequate to (a) assure continuation of high-quality service; (b) pay fair wages to telephone employees; and (c) permit earnings that will protect the savings of telephone investors and attract the additional capital needed to do the job. .

Faced with those facts, what would you, do?

Sit back and do nothing . . . stop adding facilities ... get along as best you can with what you have and let it go at that?

Of course you wouldn't.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPA

Even though you'd rather not ask your customers to pay more for their service, plain horse sense would tell you that you should apply at once for increased rates to make your Company's earnings adequate for the job that has to be done.

And that is what Michigan Bell is planning to do

Telephone wdges versus telephone rates 1941-1950

Revenues from increased telephone rates have gone up 21% while the cost of living has gone up 84%.

Size of "telephone package" is larger—more telephones can be reached without a toll charge.

Average worker earns enough to pay telephone bill in one-third less time than it took in 1940.

For residence customers in this area, the increase needed is only about 3c to 5c a day.

would still be one of the cheapest things in the average family budg
