The parade will start at 10:00 A. M. Parade Marshal is Bill Wilson and anybody that wants to get in the parade will please contact him.
The program includes the following events and chairman: Water Events, Everett MacDougal; Greased Pole, Fred Hemingway; Water Battle, John Ronk; Canoe Racing, Rex Fenstermaker; Tug-O-War, Kenneth Craft; the foot races are also in charge of Everett MacDougal and the Judges will be under the direction of Jim Hemingway. If anybody is interested in the above events please contact the chairman before or on the day of the races. The fireworks will be under the direction of Chief Beach with all the firemen assisting.

The work in this celebration is all done by the firefighters and money for the prizes and the fireworks is generously given by all the merchants in the area where the firemen have solicited during the past week. This is greatly appreciated by the Fire Department.

Sometime during the early part of the afternoon The Service Mothers would like to have the crowd go to the Independence Township Community Center on North Main Street where they will have a program to dedicate the Veterans Memorial.

The people that will come to the fireworks will be glad to hear that they can enjoy the display without having a mosquito touching them. The firemen will spray the field of The Hawk Tool and Engineering Company in hopes that this will get more people out to see the fireworks.

So come on father and mother get up in the morning, bring the kids into town and let them in on the races and so on. Then in the early evening when you have had a couple hours rest get some of your friends and also the children and bring them into town to watch the beautiful display of fireworks which the firemen have in store for you. They hope you can go home afterwards and not have a single mosquito bite and that you will be able to say that you had a wonderful time throughout the day.

Statements Made By Candidates

At the annual meeting of the Clarkston Schools on July 9th two school board members will be elected to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of Paul Henry and Ronald Weber.

There are three candidates for the school board: Ronald Weber, R. E. Spohn and Michael J. Hart. The following are statements received from the candidates:

"Having served on the school board for two years, one as a trustee and one as treasurer I am familiar with the problems of the board both at the present time and those of the future."

"Having two children of school age, I am interested in adequate school space, to properly house them and give them the curricula to better prepare them for either college, commercial college or shop work."

"I am old enough to understand the problems, but young enough to have an up-to-date picture of today's problems and would like to help complete some of the plans now under consideration by the present board."

"I am interested in being a candidate for the Board of Education for two reasons: they are Patricia and Michael, Jr., ages eleven and nine respectively. I want to see them get the best education possible, in modern buildings and with modern equipment; yet as a taxpayer, I want to see this done as economically as possible. Our family resides in Springfield district No. 1."

"Being a school teacher myself, and having taught at each level of education from elementary to university, I believe that I understand some of the internal problems facing education, yet as a parent I see many immediate problems that must be solved in this area."

"I have been a resident and home owner in Clarkston for 7 years and throughout that time have had a very keen interest in our school and its problems."

"Our two children, Ann, a junior in high school and Richard who is in the fourth grade, are two personal reasons for my interest."

"Also the fact that my father has been a professor of agriculture at Ohio State University for 35 years has made me school conscious."

"As owner and operator of my own business I hope that my experience as a business man will be of value to the school board."

By The Way . . .

If you saw a number of cars running around town in a procession on Tuesday; if you noticed the special luncheon table at the Clarkston Cafe where a number of business men got together; if you saw a number of Rotarians entering the Community Center by the front door, when they generally enter the back way; if you saw Roy Alger and Earl Terry in bathing suits, showing fancy exhibits of diving in the lake at the boy scout camp; if you saw the Boy Scouts dressed in uniforms, around noon, joining the procession of cars and the Girl Scouts and Brownies sweeping the steps of the Township Hall under the supervision of a couple of Rotarians; if you saw anything unusual on Tuesday and there was a cameraman near — this is the explanation. The Saturday Evening Post is preparing a story about 'Rotary at the grass roots' and the roots were perhaps a little greener in Clarkston or Clarkston's public relations man, District Governor-Elect "Slip" Megee, sold Clarkston, anyway the strange happenings were the Rotarians helping the photographer, Jack Manning, sent here from New York City by the Post. Incidentally Jack started using his camera at the Ladies' Night meeting in Birmingham, took a picture of a hurriedly prepared picnic dinner on Tuesday and completed the series at a special Rotary meeting held in the Club rooms, at which Pontiac Rotarian, Honorable George Hartrick, posed as the speaker of the evening. . . . You are invited to stay in Clarkston for the 4th but if you go away and drive, read the adv by Foley and Beardslee on page 5 and drive carefully.

Swimming Classes Start July 10th

As in the past the children in this area will have the opportunity of learning to swim under the direction of trained life savers. Each year the Red Cross sponsors these classes at several of the beaches in the county.

The class to be held at Deer Lake Beach will start on Tuesday, July 10th, from 1:00 to 3:00 P. M. There will be classes for all ages under the supervision of the Red Cross Life Savers. Ann Spohn, a junior life saver, of Clarkston will assist.

There is no charge for these lessons and all parents are urged to let their children take advantage of these instructions.

Those in charge would be pleased to have the mothers who are interested in supervising the little tots when they are on the shore be at the first meeting.

Girl Scouts Go To Camp

Thirty-three Girl Scouts and five leaders enjoyed three days of camping at Teepie Lake in the Highland Recreation area last week.

Even though it was their first year to stay in tents, it was a wonderful experience and proved very successful.

On Wednesday night a Court of Awards was held with several of the parents present.

The twenty-seven girls to receive second class badges were: Pat Hart, Nancy Curtis, Joan Springer, Ann Wright, Gall Weston, Barbara Rockwell, Mary Lynn Muma, Mary Lou Prevost, Sharon Norgrove, Ann Lowrie, Bonnie Abbott, Betty Brian, Frances Hancock, Nancy Knox, Rea Waterworth, Carol Ann Jantz, Sally Bauer, Zelma Shafer, Joan Norman, Rose Rader, Joan Carpenter, Betty Lou Carter, Lynne Terry, Sharlene Miller, Jackie Wright.

Those receiving Merit badges and five year pins were: Sue Ellen O'Dell, Janet Sue Willoughby, Nadene Gleason, Betty Lou Gardner, Pat Thayer, Sharon Glennie, Betty Laws, Kay Robinson, Laura Ruggles, Hazel Robinson, Valerie Hoyt, Irene Moore and Phyllis Ann Snover.

The five leaders attending were Mrs. Wallace Ridgley, Mrs. Ray Ruggles, Miss Ruth Sharpe, Barbara Rioux and Mrs. Richard Snover.

At the close of the ceremony Mrs. Wallace Ridgley was presented a birthday and going away gift by Charles Robinson in behalf of the Girl Scouts for the wonderful cooperation she has given the last few years. She will certainly be missed by all.

We wish to thank all of the people who made it possible for us to go to camp and those who so generously furnished transportation. Also the Boy Scout who helped us pitch our tents.

The Rotary Club and their wives and families enjoyed a picnic on the lawn at the rear of the Charles Robinson home on Robertson Court on Tuesday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm McCord who have been making their home in Dayton, Ohio, left on Wednesday for Denver, Colo., where Dr. McCord will be a "fellow" in the hospital association with the University of Colorado. Mrs. McCord is the former Janet Stickey of Clarkston.

THE FATAL FOURTH IS COMING UP AGAIN

Fourth of July holiday accidents took 86 lives last year, 50 lives in 1949 and 63 lives in 1948.

Traffic and drowning were the major cause of accidental deaths during the 1950 four-day holiday period. 43 died in motor traffic, 8 in swimming and boating accidents, 5 from falls, and 2 from fire. Two were killed when a tractor overturned, and a horse and wagon ran over a small child. Three babies suffocated in their cribs. One person accidentally took an overdose of barbiturates and another was killed in a non-traffic motor vehicle accident.

Crowd Attends Ladies Night

Last Monday night the Clarkston Rotary Club held a Ladies Night at the Birmingham Community House. Other guests besides the ladies from Clarkston were the Rotarians and their wives from Ortonville and Waterford-Drayton Clubs.

The dining tables were attractive with garden flowers artistically arranged by Mrs. L. C. Megee.

As each lady entered the dining room she was given a baby orchid.

Alfred Lee, the in-coming president of the Clarkston Rotary Club gave the invocation. Following the delicious dinner the program chairman presented the district governor-elect, Lloyd (Slip) Megee. He talked for a few minutes while Jack Manning, photographer for the Saturday Evening Post took pictures. The presidents and presidents-elect of the three clubs were introduced. Keith White, president of the Ortonville Club, gave the gavel and the gong to the in-coming president, "Mike" Boutel and also presented him with the president's pin. Mr. Megee then had the honor of presenting Mr. White with a diamond studded, past president's pin.

Rotary Anns Install Officers

On Tuesday the Clarkston Rotary Anns held their annual luncheon and installation of officers at Devon Gables. Mrs. R. M. Atkins gave the invocation.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Earl Terry, president, thanked the members for their cooperation during the past year and gave a short resume of what had been accomplished. Mrs. Wallace Ridgley then installed Mrs. William Sharpe, president; Mrs. Fred Groven, vice president; Mrs. Ronald Walter, recording secretary; Mrs. R. M. Atkins, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. E. Butters, treasurer; Mrs. Byron Nolan and Mrs. W. H. Stamp, directors.

Mrs. Sharpe appointed the housing chairman, sunshine chairman, Labor day parade committee and the historian.

Mrs. Wallace Ridgley was then presented with several pieces of crystal as a tangible token of good wishes as she leaves to make her home in Eaton Rapids. Mrs. Earl Terry made the presentation. Mrs. Charles Robinson then presented Mrs. Terry with a silver coffee pot in recognition of her good work as president during 1950-51.

Club Gets Donation For Vets Memorial

On Wednesday of last week Mrs. Joseph Hubbard was hostess to a joint meeting of the Mothers Service Club and the former Independent Dirt Gardeners Club.

The object of the meeting was to dispose of a bond which was purchased by the former Garden Club. At this meeting it was voted to donate the bond to the Service Mothers to be used for landscaping around the veterans memorial at the Community Center on N. Main Street. The group also decided to raise more money for this same project.

The women enjoyed playing games and visiting. At the close of the afternoon the hostess served delicious refreshments. Mrs. Glenn Boner and Mrs. Cameron Clark assisted Mrs. Hubbard.

1951 Graduates Visit Washington

By Evelyn Mae McCrum (continued from last week)

On seeing Mt. Vernon, Washington's home and place of burial, the visitor senses that the first President possessed human understanding as well as wisdom. One of the most popular American shrines, this Georgian home with its columned porch represents a way of life fashioned in loveliness. It testifies to the personal peace Washington enjoyed, but was willing to forego when his country called him to leave the Virginia countryside for public service.

The mansion house, built of wood, cut and painted to resemble stone — is a fine example of colonial architecture. Lying immediately to the rear are a number of outbuildings, the beautiful boxwood gardens and greenhouses. Spacious lawns slope from the front of the house in a long hill, and end in a deer preserve at the river's edge. The property is now owned by and under the care of the Mt. Vernon Ladies' Aid Association, an organization of patriotic women throughout the United States.

Through their efforts, this shrine has been preserved for future generations of Americans. To stand before the tomb that holds the ashes of Washington — to walk through the rooms once occupied by him and his bride — to see the furniture, the gifts and mementoes, each with a story of its own — is an experience which will long remain in our minds.

That evening found several of the youth enjoying the exciting entertainment of an amusement park.

The first visit the next day was to the Bureau of Printing and Engraving. This building houses the world's largest engraving plant. In it are designed, printed, and finished, all the paper currency, stamps and securities of the government. Extreme care is taken to prevent fraud and error in making the money. The plates from which the bills are printed are as carefully guarded as any treasure the government possesses.

From built-in galleries on each floor, we were permitted to see how the money and postage stamps are printed. There are many interesting exhibits in this building showing the various kinds of securities that have been printed in the past. Among these are the series of old fractional currency — Shillings — and the largest gold note ever issued. Paid guides took us through the building and explained the operations used.

The next stop was at the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Here, a designated guide led us through the building and explained the operations and procedures used in combating criminology. Rooms enclosed in glass contain case records, laboratories, gun and other weapon displays, and other things taken from criminals. Before we left the building, we were taken into a room where a sharpshooter demonstrated the techniques and procedures used in shooting the criminals.

The next place of importance visited was the Washington Monument. The shaft of the Monument is the tallest work of masonry in the world, reaching a height of 555 feet, 5 and 1/8 inches. This white marble obelisk, tapering into a pyramid of solid aluminum, can be seen from every point of the compass. From its observation room, we viewed a wonderful panorama with all Washington spread out at our feet, and winding Potomac stretching far out into the far distance. The trip from the ground to the top can be made either by elevator or by a flight of 898 steps. Several in the local group walked both up and down, others rode the elevator, while others rode one way and walked the other.

Those who walked had the opportunity of seeing the blocks of marble sent by the various states, societies, and foreign countries. Among them are included one from the ruins of the Parthenon — a gift from Greece, and a stone from William Tell's chapel, contributed by Switzerland. The Washington Monument is something far more than a tall monument. It is truly a beautiful human creation. It is at once so great and so simple that it seems to be almost a work of nature.

At noon we returned to the hotel for dinner.

In the afternoon we drove to Annapolis, Maryland, where we (continued on page 5)

Bankers Give Scholarship Award

Six of Oakland County's young farm men and women have been awarded a $100.00 Bankers' Short Scholarship for training at Michigan State College beginning this fall. They are: Geraldine Lang and Joice Carter of Clarkston, awarded by the Clarkston State Bank; Al Shotwell of Lake Orion, awarded by the Orion State Bank; Donald F. Derby of Oxford, awarded by the Oxford Savings Bank; Neil Lahrung of Holly, awarded by the First State Savings Bank of Holly; and James Newbound of Highland, awarded by the Oakland County State Bank of Milford.

The Oakland County Bankers' Association, the High Schools and the Oakland County Extension Service assisted in the selection of these students. Those selected will attend Michigan State College eight-weeks' short course, either in the fall or winter months. The General Agriculture Short Course at Michigan State College offers practical training in all phases of farming in addition to opportunities for leadership development. The girls receive a very practical training in Home Economics. These courses begin October 22 for the fall term and January 7th for the winter term.

Localite Chosen To Attend Conference

The Bloomfield Hills Farm and Garden Club is sponsoring Mrs. Joseph Hubbard of Clarkston at the Homemakers' Conference at Michigan State College, July 10 through the 13th. This is in recognition of Mrs. Hubbard's many years of Home Extension work.

Mrs. Hubbard organized the Home Extension work in Oakland County 31 years ago. She was the first county chairman and has been district chairman. Mrs. Hubbard has kept up her interest in this work through the years and has watched the progress made in each area until now there are 76 clubs in the county.

The program at this conference in July will be divided into classes, sections and lectures. The class Mrs. Hubbard has chosen is "Recreation for your Home" with her second choice being "Developing a Healthy Personality". In the sections she hopes to study "Home Furnishings" or "Exploring the Bible".

Bricking Starts On New Building

The Methodist Sunday School is pleased with the progress made in bricking the new school room. The members of the school have been responsible for the brick fund and up to two weeks ago they had raised $120. This past week they received a check for $25 and two checks of $5 each from adults and with their own contribution they now have $165 in the fund. With the bricking of the one side of the building they feel that they have accomplished one third of the project.

Citizens Committee Makes Statement

During the past few months an effort has been made by the Board of Education of the Clarkston Public Schools to inform the people of this district of its need for a school building program.

To assist the Board in this problem, a Citizens or Building Committee was appointed about two months ago to make a study of the building program and advise the Board of Education of its findings.

This Committee after careful consideration, concluded that a building program was urgent because of the growth or increase of school age children in this district; it also concluded and so advised the Board, that before a building program could be wisely entered into, the Board should determine its boundaries for the next several years.

The Board of Education has gone on record as favoring annexation of several adjoining school districts; Springfield, Andersonville, Sashabaw, Bailey Lake and Fair, all of which except one have held their elections and voted in favor of annexation to this district.

Clarkston School District will vote July 9th, on the question of annexing these districts. The Building or Citizens Committee favors annexation of these outlying districts because a larger district can offer more and better educational opportunities than a smaller district.

The Citizens Committee hopes for a large vote at the polls on this date.

Departing

For years we'd planned to take a trip. When kids had reached the ages where they could help to steer the ship. And thump through routing pages. For years we'd planned what we would take, How problems we'd unravel. The points of interest we would make, And routes that we would travel. For years we'd planned to travel light, Our wardrobes would be sparing; We'd vowed to plan the schedule right.

Just take what we'd be wearing. As time went by we bought some things. We thought that we'd be needing. They ranged from paint to fishing strings.

And books for night-time reading. We only have a little space. For this conglomeration — Blue jeans and shorts, and things with lace.

Of years' accumulation. The question now is what to leave, Not what we can be packing; For each piece left we're apt to grieve, When things we want are lacking.

GRASS SILAGE

Grass silage is gaining more and more favor in Oakland County every year. Throughout the past week I have been visiting folks over the county for the purpose of assisting with grass silage making. Some of the folks who are putting up grass silage on a big scale are: Carleton Crawford and Edison Morrow of Milford; Ellison Austin and Fred Beckman of Clarkston, and of course, many of the old standbys, Fred G. Beardsley of Oxford; Hodges' Farm of Rochester; Wabeek Farms of Pontiac, and many others. They are finding that hay silage is one of the best methods of feeding their stock.

FREE BULLETINS ON GRASS SILAGE

We have some bulletins here in our office, one is "Grass Silage Making". Why don't you drop us a card? But, better yet, visit and see the job being done and talk with someone in your area about grass silage. You will find the using helpful in making plans for using "canned hay" in your own operation in the future.

WHY NOT VISIT AND SEE?

I would suggest to many of you farmers in the county that one of the best sources of information on making and using grass silage is your neighbor or someone else in the area who might be doing the job. Why don't you learn more about the values of grass silage?

SUGGESTIONS GIVEN TO FISHERMEN

Fishing is good for you, and so are the fish.

But take it a little easy; there are some things which can make fishing a dangerous sport, the State Health Department told Michigan's would-be Izaak Waltsons today.

Lives of twice as many men and boys are lost in fishing accidents as in hunting accidents, according to a study reported by a national life insurance company in 1947.

Two-thirds of the fishing fatalities were drowning involving mishaps in small boats, the study found. Most of the other persons who lost their lives were drowned when they fell into water while fishing from a pier or bank.

Don't get so excited about your fishing that you take out a boat which may leak, that you overload your boat, go out when a storm is coming up, lean too far out of your boat, stand up in your small boat, or try to change places with other passengers.

Small boats cannot be handled safely in wind, storm or rough water including the swell of larger boats. A person who goes out in a small boat should be able to swim, or else take an old inner tube or life preserver with him.

If your boat should capsize, don't panic. Wait for it to come up. Get a hold on it and stay with it until help comes or until you drift ashore.

Watch your footing when fishing along banks, docks and piers. Watch out for deep holes and swift currents while wading.

A hat, long sleeves and long trousers will protect you from severe sunburn, sunstroke and mosquitoes. Take along a bottle of insect repellent.

If you are past the middle years, be careful not to overdo: Rowing and hauling in the big ones takes a strong heart.

Don't drink lake or river water. Carry your own safe, cool supply.

If you are bound to drink something stronger, drink it with your fish dinner, rather than enroute to your fishing spot or while fishing.

Take it easy — coming, going and fishing. Your life is worth more to you than fish, tackle or time.

Mrs. Cameron Coventry and Mrs. Henry Mehlig were hostesses at miscellaneous shower honoring Lois Burt last Tuesday evening. Thirty-five guests attended the party which was held at the Waterford Community Church. Lois is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burt of Ortonville and former Waterford residents.

Bouquets of garden flowers served as decorations and the refreshment table was centered with a lovely bouquet of peonies and mixed flowers.

Many useful and lovely gifts were presented to the honoree whose marriage to Harvey Faram took place Friday evening.

Mrs. Louis Dorman Sr., will entertain the Cheery Chums at her home this Friday. A pot-luck supper will be held at 6:30. Each member is asked to bring her own table-service and a dish to pass. Mrs. Robert Bliss, Mrs. George Attwater, Mrs. Ashton Emery and Mrs. John Watchpocket are on the committee to help Mrs. Dorman.

The Ladies Auxiliary and the Adult Bible Class of the Waterford Village Church will combine for a joint meeting at the church on July 10th at 6:30. There will be no July 3rd or July 5th meeting for these groups.

weddings. Sights taken in here were the Hyson Monument, Mahan Hall, Bancroft Hall, Tecumseh Monument, Interior of the Army, and the beautiful chapel. Walking around town we saw many important and historic buildings and statues.

That evening we ate dinner in the Casino Royal — a Chinese restaurant located on Pennsylvania Avenue.
The visit the students found most interesting was the visit to the Smithsonian Institution the next morning. The administration building of the Smithsonian Institution is situated on the mall amid beautiful parklike grounds. It is built of red stone in the Romanesque style of architecture.

The institution plays a noble part in the promotion of scientific research. Through its correspondents, its scientific research and exchange of knowledge, it collects and spreads information of volume to the whole world. Its splendid library and exhibit of the graphic arts are the chief attractions to those who visit there. Out of the activities of the Smithsonian Institution have grown the National Museum, the National Gallery of Art, the National Zoological Gardens and other scientific bureaus. To the east of the institution and under its direction is the Arts and Industries Building of the National Museum. Many a fascinating hour can be spent in this old and somewhat odd looking building which contains several million exhibits covering a multitude of subjects. Prominent among the many interesting exhibits are the personal collections of uniforms, gifts, relics, etc., of Washington, Lincoln, Grant and other notables of bygone days. Other objects especially interesting were one of the first steam engines; the first Franklin printing press; first telegraph instrument, telephone, sewing machine, automobile, airplane; Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis"; and Orville Wright's even more famous "Kitty Hawk". The Natural History Building of the New National Museum was the third and last building we visited there. This spacious and beautiful building is directly north of the Smithsonian Institution. In it is housed the famous Roosevelt Animal Exhibit, as well as other exhibits of equal note. Here also, is shown the life of the American Indian before civilization influence of the white man was felt. The archaeological exhibit depicts early man and his habitats as he existed in various countries. Examples of the handiwork of the old world ancients — in stone, metal and glass are also shown. The geological and paleontological collections are a source of interest and the basis for scientific study. Dazzling gems and mysterious-looking meteorites from the sky vied with each other in holding our attention. In this building also are large and varied collections of fossil vertebrates including many species of reptiles and mammals of the Jurassic, Cretaceous and Tertiary periods. Before we knew it, our touring time was up and we were once again on our way to another tour. The next stop was at the Capitol.

That the spiritual meaning of the Bible is explained in Christian Science is brought out in the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 1st.
 The title of the Lesson-Sermon is "Christian Science".

The Golden Text is from Habakkuk
 (2:14): "The earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Rev. 1:1): "The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, to shew unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass; and he sent and signified it by his angel unto his servant John."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained." (P. 547).

Sure way to end your holiday!

Passing on hills or curves, dodging in and out of traffic, failing to use proper hand signals... all help swell the mass massacre on our streets and highways every holiday. When you plan your holiday trip this year, plan to take safety with you. More cars will be on the road, more inexperienced drivers will be behind the wheels than at any other time. Drive with extra care. Share your half of the road if necessary. Don't let insistence on the right of way end your holiday. Drive a little slower and live a lot longer.

The safer your car—the safer you are! Have a reliable mechanic inspect your brakes, lights, battery and tires regularly. Accident statistics are loaded, with ex-motorists who didn't.

Careful drivers carry the most insurance. And because they anticipate danger, they usually have fewer accidents. Look out for the motorist who is sure he'll never have an accident—he's headed for one!

Be Careful—
 the life you save may be your own!

THE FATAL FOURTH

 were pedestrians.
 Of those who drowned, three were occupants of small boats. Only one was swimming at a public beach, or area actually set aside for swimming.
 During the three-day Independence Day holiday in 1949, 11 were killed in traffic and 20 in swimming or boating accidents; in 1948, 24 were killed in traffic and 23 were drowned.
 Excessive heat and sun and over-exertion took additional lives each year.
 You may save your life this holiday if you drive with care when you must drive, if you swim at a public beach, remain seated aboard small boats, watch where you are walking and take it easy if the weather is hot, the Department said.
 Let's keep Michigan free — from accident.

SUMMER PRECAUTIONS

Send your children to the public beach or pool for their swimming.
 Both you and your children are many times safer swimming at the public beach or private guarded beach or pool, the Michigan Department of Health said today.
 Of the 159 Michigan people who drowned last year, only 7 were swimming at a place set aside or designed for swimming.
 Rivers, streams, quarries, gravel pits and lake areas not set aside for swimming took the lives of 122. Of this number, 108 were men and boys.
 Two-thirds of all drownings occurred during June, July and August, the "swimming" months.
 Teach your child to swim, but teach him to swim safely — at a guarded beach, during daylight hours, with one or more companions.
 Cool off and rest after a rough game, hard work, or a long trip before entering the water. Wait about an hour after eating. Go in to the water slowly. Leave the water when chilled or tired.
 Be a responsible swimmer. Know the waters in which you swim or dive. Keep in mind that horseplay, showing off, racing, trying to swim too far, and rocking or overloading a boat are dangerous for you as well as your companions.

 The only good swimmer is the safe swimmer.

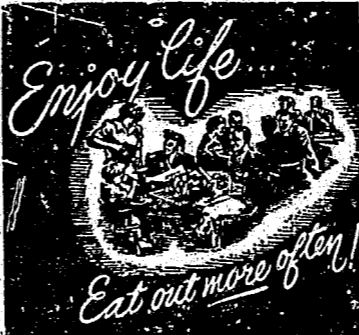

How Forest Fires Start

Evidence that a small spring clean-up blaze can quickly turn into a forest fire—and in extreme southern Michigan as well as in northern regions—is caught by the camera in a conservation department forest fire patrol plane. Farm woodlot fires such as this recent one southeast of Allegan do more than destroy timber and make lesser-damaged trees more susceptible to fungus diseases. Fire also reduces soil fertility, causes faster run-off of rainfall, and invites soil erosion.

ATTENTION! DISABLED VETS

Disabled veterans of World War II who may be entitled to government financial aid in acquiring an automobile or other conveyance were reminded by Veterans Administration today that the deadline for applications under existing law is June 30, 1951.
 The law provides that VA shall pay up to $1,600.00 toward the purchase of a car, truck, tractor or other automotive conveyance for a World War II veteran who lost, or lost the use of one or both legs at or above the ankle due to service.

VA said every effort would be made to adjudicate prior to expiration of the law all claims re: "Protect yourself and family! Read 'Abuse of Sunshine' in The American Weekly, the great color magazine, distributed with The Chicago Herald-American, an authoritative report about how the overexposure to sunlight over a period of years is believed to be a contributing cause of skin cancer. Don't miss this informative report, Sunday in The Chicago Herald-American's great color magazine!"

ceived on or before June 30th but advised eligible veterans to get their applications in as early as possible to be on the safe side. Applications should be directed to the nearest VA Regional Office. Michigan veterans should write or visit the VA Regional Office, 310 E. Jefferson, Detroit 32, Michigan.
