Mrs. Edith Comstock Dies Suddenly

Although Mrs. Benjamin Comstock had been ailing for several months her death on Monday came as a shock to her many friends in this vicinity. She died suddenly at her home in Luzerne, Michigan.

Mrs. Comstock was born Edith Mahoney on June 28, 1900, in Des Moines, Iowa. She was married to Benjamin Comstock on March 25, 1919 in Detroit. They had made their home in Clarkston for the past number of years. She was a member of the Clarkston Methodist Church; the Joseph C. Bird Chapter, O. E. S.; the Ladies' Auxiliary to the American Legion, the W. S. C. S.; of the Methodist Church and the Ella Van Meer Camp of Royal Neighbors.

During World War II Mrs. Comstock was employed in the office of the Ration Board and following the war she was made manager of Federal Housing in Pontiac. She was known throughout the area for her efficiency in all of her undertakings.

She is survived by her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Bettie Ann Speegle of Ajo, Arizona; three grandchildren; four sisters, Mrs. Blanche Usrey and Mrs. Beulah Chisholm of San Antonio, Texas; Mrs. Mabel Schultz of Lansing and Mrs. Leah Collins of Detroit and one brother, Charles Mahoney of Albuquerque, N. M.

On Wednesday evening the Legion Auxiliary held a prayer service at the funeral home.

The funeral service will be held this afternoon at two o'clock at the Sharpe Funeral Home with the Reverend George Halk officiating. The grave service will be in charge of the Joseph C. Bird Chapter, O. E. S. Interment will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Michigan Tourists Are Cautioned

Vacationists and tourists visiting Michigan resorts this summer are advised by the Michigan Association of Master Plumbers (MAAMP) to select places which exhibit the "Sanitation Approved" signs issued by the Michigan State Department of Health. Lloyd S. Thornton, Pontiac, MAAMP president, stated that vacationists can be assured that places bearing this sign are thoroughly safe from the standpoint of pure drinking water and the proper disposal of wastes.

Thornton asserted that the majority of resort owners in the state are vitally interested in guarding the health of their customers and have installed modern water and sewage treatment facilities.

However, whenever a traveler is unable to secure accommodations where the sign of approval is displayed, Thornton pointed out that the prospective customer, with a little caution, can select a good, clean resort by making certain that the drinking water has no unusual odor, cloudiness or bad flavor, or, if still in doubt, by taking final precautions of asking that the water be boiled. A sparkling glass of water, Thornton said, is no indication of proof that the water is safe for drinking. He urged also, that vacationists make certain that wastes are not being discharged upon the ground and that septic tank drainage and sewage are not discharged into streams, open ditches, or near bathing beaches.

1951 Wheat Price Support Announced

Wheat price support at a national average of $2.18 a bushel to farmers for the 1951 crop was announced June 29, 1951 by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Last year's average was $1.99 a bushel.

Loans and purchase agreements covering the 1951 crop will be available through the Commodity Credit Corporation in accordance with the general program provisions announced by the Department August 21, 1950. The Oklahoma County Price Support Rate on 1951 Crop Wheat, grading No. 1, is $2.26.

The 1951 average price support rate per bushel for U. S. Grade No. 1 Heavy of the class Hard Red Spring and U. S. Grade No. 1 of the classes Durum, Hard Red Winter, Soft Red Winter and White wheat is $2.19.

The price support for the 1951 crop, in accordance with applicable legislative provisions, is 90 percent of parity at the beginning of the marketing year, July 1. July 1 parity is $2.42 a bushel. For the same date last year the wheat price parity was $2.21 a bushel.

Only wheat grading No. 3 or better, or No. 4 or No. 5 because of test weight or because it contains wheat of the classes Durum and/or Red Durum, will be eligible for loan or purchase. The loans will be available through January, 1952, and will mature April 30, 1952 or earlier on demand.

Producers are cautioned that approval of loans is contingent upon wheat being in good farm storage or stored in warehouses approved by the Commodity Credit Corporation. Farm Storage Facility Loans are still available to producers desiring to increase their present storage. Details may be obtained from Walter R. Cook, Chairman of the Oakland County FMA Committee.

County Agricultural Agent

One of the problems in Extension work is to find time to get everything done that you feel should be done. Nowadays, even with more agents in the field it is still very tough to keep up with everything that is going on. One of the big problems is making farm contacts on individual farmers. For those folks who would desire a farm call, here are the agents in charge of this work:

Bill Bosserman, Assistant County Agricultural Agent, is in charge of fruit and vegetable work in the county and also works with the folks in the cities and towns on lawn and garden problems.

As for myself, I am responsible for the farm program in dairying, livestock, crops and soils, also radio and newspaper work.

If you have some special problems that require farm calls, don't hesitate to call on either Bill or myself and we will endeavor to make a farm contact as soon as possible. We are usually scheduled ahead two to three weeks for these calls, so we don't make too many calls without having a reason. We will be glad to help anyone that we can whenever they let us know.

With The Summer Bands

by William H. Janton

The Theory of Music as commonly taught today includes elementary studies in harmony, major and minor scales, keys and key signatures, meter signatures, and basic fundamentals of rhythm; and advanced studies of harmony which include simple and altered chords, counterpoint, form and analysis, and orchestration.

As is probably obvious it would be impossible to learn all there is to know about Theory in 8 one-hour sessions. However, we are studying the most important aspects of Theory which are necessary for us to know now. Later on, as each student progresses in his or her individual instrument, questions will arise about Theory and as they do we shall endeavor to answer them.

Of necessity we made two classes in Theory instead of one because most of the older students have studied piano or have played a number of years on their particular instruments. Each class has its own common problems and it is much easier and more beneficial to solve them because the members of each group have had a similar amount of training.

In the next two weeks I shall tell you about our Music Appreciation classes which include both classical and popular music.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR FLOAT PHOTOS IN DETROIT PARADE

Cash prizes of $500 are being offered by Chrysler Corporation to photographers taking the best pictures of any one of the company's four floats and the city's float, which the Corporation is co-sponsoring, in the Detroit 250th Birthday Festival Parade on July 28th.

The Chrysler-sponsored photo contest, which is open to amateur and professional cameramen alike with the exception of the judges and their families, will award three cash prizes for the best black and white pictures, and three for the best color print or color transparency. First prizes in each division will be $125; second prizes, $75; and third prizes, $50.

In contrast to the many floats in the 250th Birthday Parade depicting historical events, the Chrysler Corporation floats will represent Detroit as it stands today — the defender of world freedom, the supplier of goods to the world, the employer of workers of all nationalities, and one of the centers of the world's fine arts, music and science. The City float will carry giant scale models of Detroit's proposed Civic Center.

All photographs entered in the Chrysler Corporation float photo contest must be taken along the line of march on Woodward Avenue in Detroit on Saturday, July 28, and are to be mailed to the Public Relations Department, Chrysler Corporation, 341 Massachusetts Avenue, Detroit 31. All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight August 15, 1951. Those participants wishing to have pictures returned should enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope along with their entries. There are no restrictions on the

School Situation Perplexes Some

With the annexation of outlying districts to the Clarkston Community school system a certainty, it was felt that some might like an explanation of the Rural Agricultural district.

There is a distinct difference between a Rural Agricultural school and the Rural Agricultural school district.

The Rural Agricultural school employs certain teachers and has a specified school program such as the Agricultural Vocational course which includes: farm shop, animal husbandry, soil chemistry and kindred subjects. Also metal shop and machine shop for boys. There are varied and practical courses in homemaking to prepare the girls for farm life. These schools are usually located in predominantly agricultural districts.

On the other hand the Rural school district organized under the Rural Agricultural Act, of 1927, which provides a means or method of reorganization. It does not limit the area organized to township boundaries but may include several townships. It does not require a specified course of study.

Some of the advantages of the Rural Agricultural school district are: (1) Certain state funds are allocated to the district and average from $3,000 to $5,000 extra, per year. (2) Transportation is required to be provided by the Board of Education. (3) A unified transportation system which provides better service to the pupils. (4) Everyone in the new district pays the same tax rate which otherwise varies from .63 mills to 14.7 mills as allocated by the State Board. (5) New district will have large enough tax base to build necessary buildings. (6) Location of necessary buildings and their construction will be on the basis of population rather than district boundary lines. (7) With the Rural Agricultural system, smaller schools have a voice in the High School program — previously they had no say.

Club Has Fun Square Dancing

Twenty couples of the Holly Square Dance Club gathered at Brown's hayloft last Saturday night and danced to the calling of Hal Brown and Ted Wrigglesworth. Haan's orchestra furnished the music and Mrs. Gasney and Mrs. Swartzwaller had charge of the refreshments.

A pretty redwood card from Mary Beattie who is vacationing in the west with her folks, was received on Wednesday. The Beatties are having a grand time visiting places of note along their way. A note from Mr. Beattie says that they visited relatives in Kent, Washington and on Wednesday left for Seattle, Wash., and then on to Vernoh, B. C.

A panel of five photographic experts will choose the winning photos.

Dixie Saddle Club On Trail Ride

The Dixie Saddle Club held its second trail ride of this summer last Sunday, July 15th.

Assembly was at 10:00 a. m. at George Perry's barn on White Lake Road. After some waiting for straggling late-comers the party set off in high spirits toward Clement Road where they met some members who had come from the opposite direction. It was a warm day and the horses were kept at a fairly slow gait so as not to get them too hot, too early. But the horses themselves caught the joyous spirit of the holiday outing, or maybe they enjoyed each other's company as much as the people did; at any rate, they started cantering up the hills. Their riders had fortified themselves with twigs and switched them around the horses' head to chase away the flies which were most bothersome under the trees.

The scenery is lovely along Foster and Farley Roads with rolling hills, cool dark woods, and still ponds on either side of the road. After a turn onto Big Lake Road some more members were picked up who joined the ride. A sharp turn to the right near Andersonville onto Bridge Lake Road, and then with a brisk pace toward Glen Ellis' Farm where the "pot luck" lunch was to be enjoyed.

First the horses were taken care of: saddles were removed, and the horses led around to cool off. Then all of the 20-odd horses found a place either in the shade or in Ellis' large barn, and the riders could begin to think of the meal that was awaiting them. All the good things which the farms provide in such abundance were set out on Mrs. Ellis' dining room table: thick cream, homemade butter; all kinds of salads and warm dishes; plenty of sandwiches and relishes to enjoy; luscious raspberry pies, delicate fluffy sponge cakes with fancy icings, and good solid chocolate cake square and, of course — coffee. Everywhere people sat enjoying themselves, the children as much as the grown-ups.

That is one of the nicest things about a "horse-riding-club", the ages of the members vary from four years to over sixty, and all can enjoy the rides and meetings on an equal footing. It is rather remarkable to see a tiny tot sitting on a horse behind her dad, holding on to his belt, or only a slightly bigger one perched atop a full grown horse all by herself and managing him expertly.

After the bountiful lunch the horses were saddled once more and the return trip to Perry's barn was undertaken.

There were eight members of the Huron Valley Club who had come from Milford with their horses to partake of the ride. With the saddle clubs close enough so that transportation of the horses does not become too great a problem, participation in the events each of these clubs puts on becomes a pleasant neighborly visit.

By The Way ...

The death, this week, of Mrs. Benjamin Comstock, brings back the memory of one who during World War II, while not in the armed service went far more than the line of duty in easing the way for those who remained at home.

Her services on the rationing board were performed sensibly, honestly and with a degree of fairness that made dealing with the rationing board much less a burden than expected. The wife of a veteran of World War I she had long been a member of the American Legion Auxiliary and World War II gave her an opportunity to serve as a soldier on the home front in an outstanding manner. Mrs. Benjamin Comstock, Edith to most everyone, will be sorrowfully missed. . . . It is our understanding that the world is all right, the way we live our lives is all wrong. In a motion picture to reduce alimony, on Monday, it was shown that the husband could not pay the alimony asked. The reason was that the man earned $310.00 a month and his installments were $320. In a day before installment buying was known Benjamin Franklin remarked that the way to keep from worry was to live within one's income. If one did not his life was full of woe. Maybe it's a good thing Ben is not alive to worry about our modern way of life. . . . The AAA service is now available in this area through the Beach Service Station. . . . Summer, if days with the heater turned on are counted, is here. . . . For some time we have wished to take cognizance of the fact that Detroit is celebrating its 250th birthday. It now appears that the 28th of July will be the day that the big parade, depicting the history of that city, will be held. We can well imagine that visitors will be present from even outside the state of Michigan. . . . Most small town fire departments maintain a reputation for saving the basements when a fire occurs. The Clarkston Firefighters raised this standing considerably early Tuesday morning when it responded to a call at the Blackett Lumber Yard on Dixie and extinguished the fire with a very small loss. We say the boys did a very good job. . . . Speaking about civic duties, our local police Jim Hemmingway and Frank Green are doing a good job in preventing double parking Fridays and Saturdays in Clarkston. With the heavy traffic going through the town everything possible must be done to prevent accidents and certainly this police service is helping. . . . Have you heard this one? Son: "How did you and Mom first get acquainted?" Dad: "None of your business — but it sure cured me of whistling."

Ageless
There's evidence on every hand of timeless age within our land. There's onyx mountains of great heights, And stalagmites and stalactites That took some million years to form, And gorges that a stream has worn; Great canyons where a river winds Through rocks and woods of desert pines, And in the sun their colors blend To tell of years that have no end. There's mountains high with jagged peaks, With rocks disheveled and in heaps. We peer as far as eye can scan, Then feel the weakness born of man. Man, who stays a few short years, Concerns himself with what he hears, And feels the earth would fade away. If he was from it for a day, Important though a race may be, They play their part in destiny; Then time rolls on and ages fade, And hide from view the gains they've made. So God alone holds in His hand The right to change earth in its plan.

KELLOGG CENTER NEARS COMPLETION AT MSC

Michigan State College is putting the finishing touches on its giant Kellogg Center for Continuing Education. Financed largely through a grant from the Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, the modern seven-story structure is scheduled for completion in September.

Believed to be the number one building of its type in the U. S., the Kellogg Center will contain extensive facilities for the college's broad program of adult education and for a working laboratory for hotel and restaurant students. It contains 193 double hotel-type rooms, dining facilities for 1,000 persons, auditorium, ballroom and numerous conference and exhibit rooms.

The Kellogg Center is designed specifically to accommodate the thousands of Michigan residents who come to the campus annually for special courses and conferences of benefit to them in their professions and everyday living. These programs are developed by the Continuing Education Service for educators, bankers, farmers, engineers, industrial personnel, florists, homemakers, radio broadcasters and any other groups desiring such services. College officials estimate that about 80,000 people will participate in these programs during the 1951-52 year.

Hotel and restaurant management students at Michigan State will gain valuable practical experience by working with all phases of the building's operation. The accommodations of the Kellogg Center approximate those of an average sized hotel, officials point out, and should provide on-the-job training not matched by any other U. S. college or university.

LEARN TO COMPARE FOOD COSTS

By Mrs. Josephine Lawyer Home Demonstration Agent
Stretching the food dollar is possible and efficiency in purchasing vegetables is one of the best ways to accomplish it, advises Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, home demonstration agent for Oakland County.
Here is what she means when she says "efficient buying". Canned peas, No. 303 size, give about four average servings of a half cup each. If a good brand sells for 24 cents a can, that would mean 6 cents a serving. Frozen peas usually come in 12-ounce packages making three to four servings. If a package should cost 27 cents that would mean 7 to 9 cents a serving. Fresh peas in the pod are about 50% waste, so the homemaker must figure the cost of each serving when comparing costs with frozen or canned peas. Naturally, there is a difference and the efficient homemaker must decide if canned peas will suit her purpose as well as fresh peas at a higher price per serving. The home demonstration agent says such comparisons are possible in many foods and the homemaker must determine the best buys if she is to stretch the food dollar.

WATROUS COOKING SUITS TO A TEE

Watrous has the range - it's ELECTRIC!

"I wouldn't take anything in the world for my electric range," says charming Mrs. Al Watrous. "Many of my friends feel the same way about theirs, too."

"And can she cook with it!" adds Al. "Everything tastes better and she spends about half as much time in the kitchen."

"That's because I'm not forever pot-watching," explains Mrs. Watrous. "Electric cooking gives you a chance to relax. You just set the controls and after a while, there's your meal... piping hot and cooked to perfection. And electric cooking is so much cleaner, too... but, honestly, there's just no end to the advantages of an electric range!"

You'll echo the words of this attractive housewife and her famous husband the moment you try this modern, efficient way of cooking. So don't delay. Visit your dealer and select your electric range—tomorrow!

BEER
AMERICA'S BEVERAGE OF MODERATION

The American Way

In Michigan, farming is a Number 1 activity especially during this time of the year. And to ease that tired feeling after a hard day in the fields "The American Way" is to enjoy a glass of cool, refreshing, Michigan brewed beer.
For beer is the kind of beverage Americans like. It belongs... to pleasant living, to good fellowship, to sensible moderation. And our right to enjoy it, this too, belongs... to our own American heritage of personal freedom. Beer Belongs... Enjoy It

AN IMPRESSIVE RECORD

★ Although tuberculosis is one of the oldest known diseases, its cause was first conclusively proved when Robert Koch isolated the tubercle bacillus a little over fifty years ago. The success resulting from vigorous public health measures, particularly in the last quarter century, is impressive. At the beginning of the century, tuberculosis led the list of diseases as the most frequent cause of death. Today it has dropped to seventh place. There is no reason why it should not drop completely from the list of important causes of death. This splendid record has resulted from the combined efforts of many agencies. An enlightened public opinion with respect to the value of the physician's services has contributed immeasurably. Have that long-delayed physical examination today. We are prescription specialists.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Might Say
The Birds Got "Nettled"

Had dinner with Tik Bradley
the other day, and over a frosty bottle of beer I found out about his job with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

"Now just exactly what do you do?" I asked him. "Shoot birds with a cannon" he calmly replies.

Seems they actually do use a cannon—to shoot out a net over a flock of birds feeding on the ground. The birds start to take off at the sound of the shot, but the netting net brings them back to earth. Then they're banded around the leg so more can be learned about their migratory habits. Afterwards, they're let loose—and everyone's happy.

From where I sit, it was a good example of how when you learn the real facts they're often not as bad as they may sound at first.
Like with people. Get to really know your neighbor and chances are you'll be more tolerant of his preferences—even though they're not your own. Take a good look, before you jump to conclusions.

FRUIT AND GARDEN NOTES

by Willard E. Bogerman
Assistant County Agr'l Agent
CORN EAR-WORM

Silks are coming out on some of the sweet corn, in fact, I guess there is sweet corn on the market. But for your later corn you can start treatments now with DDT to control ear worm. Apply treatment when silks are two and four days old, with a third treatment when silks are eight days old. Use — 3 lbs. of 50% wettable DDT, plus 1/3 lbs. of wetting agent per 100 gallons of water, or 3 tablespoons of DDT and 1/3 tablespoon of wetting agent for one gallon of water. If 50% wettable DDT is not available, use 2 lbs. of 75% wettable DDT. If you are treating for European corn borer, the corn borer can be controlled with the same treatments.

PRECAUTIONS FOR PIONICKERS

If you can't keep your picnic foods cold, or you can't keep them hot, then don't keep them long! Food poisoning from improperly prepared and improperly refrigerated picnic foods makes scores of Michigan people seriously ill each summer. Dr. Max Decker, food handling consultant, Division of Engineering, Michigan Department of Health, said today in issuing the above warning. Food poisoning is caused by the growth of germs in food. The germs get into the food from unclean hands, towels, sandwich or meat boards, dishes, meat grinders, or can openers; from flies, mice or roaches; or from coughs or sneezes in the kitchen. These germs multiply so fast at room temperature that an unrefrigerated dish of potato salad, sandwich spread or a slice of meat may become deadly in one hour's time, without any change in odor, taste or appearance. Once the food has been contaminated, heating it or refrigerating it will not make it safe. Picnic foods which are particularly dangerous when not refrigerated are soft foods made with milk or eggs; any foods made with mayonnaise or salad dressing, gravies, cream filled pies or pastry and all meats, including fried chicken.

Cleanliness of hands, utensils and containers; care in preparation and coldness (below 50 degrees) from the time any part of the picnic food is prepared until all of it is eaten will prevent most food poisoning. You can make your own picnic box. You can thoroughly chill fried chicken, sandwich spreads, cold meats, baked beans or potato salad in your refrigerator. This may take several hours. Then pack them in sterilized quart or two-quart cans, seal them and set them in a tub of cracked ice, insulated with newspapers. If you don't want to bother with the refrigeration, take tinned foods and open them when they are to be eaten. Serve picnic foods in covered containers to avoid insect and dust contamination. Once picnic food has been set on the table and become warm, don't try to save it for another meal or nibble on it later. Food poisoning is extremely unpleasant and it may be violent or fatal.
