Children Crowd To See Santa

Cold, crisp air, plenty of snow, a beautifully lighted tree and recorded music helped to set the stage for the community Christmas tree sponsored by the Clarkston Rotarians on Christmas Eve.

Dearborn Motors Farm tractors had been used to clear the snow from the lot around the tree. A large chair on a small platform was in readiness for Santa and promptly at 7:00 o'clock he drove into town being drawn by a tractor. The children were delighted and just as soon as he took his place on the platform the little tots eagerly awaited their turn to mount the platform and tell Santa what they wanted him to leave at their homes later that night. Each child received a gift of candy, and were quite satisfied to go home to bed and to sleep in order to give Santa a chance to quietly come down the chimney and leave toys and goodies for their Christmas treat.

New Year's Eve Dance At Oxbow

On Monday night starting at 9 o'clock you are invited to join your friends at Oxbow Lake Pavilion where you will enjoy modern and old time dancing to Gidley's orchestra. There will be favors and noisemakers and everything to make a good time. Greet the New Year at Oxbow Lake Pavilion on Elizabeth Lake Rd.

Clarkston Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Perry have received word that their son, Cpl Joseph J. Perry is in Korea.

Corporal and Mrs. Harold Goyette have been spending the last several days and over Christmas with their parents in Clarkston and Pontiac. They left here today for Quantico, Va., where Cpl Goyette will return to duty.

Cpl Norman Johnson was home on Christmas leave from Camp Atterbury. Norman will return to camp today.

Pvt Raymond Day is home from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., for the holidays. He has to report at his station in Missouri on January 13th.

PFC James L. Waterbury who has been stationed at Camp Carson, Colo., arrived home for the holidays. He will leave here next Tuesday and weather permitting, he will return to Colorado by plane.

The Grist Mill

By Ed Alohin
County Agricultural Agent

We are again starting off a new year and we all have necessary jobs to be done at this time. One of the most important is making out income tax returns. We have forms and instructions available in our office if you have not already received yours. Drop us a card or phone us and we will send them to you as long as they last.

Beginning next week, we are going to try to start the new year out right in our "Grist Mill" with a series of articles on "Farm Management Problems To Be Done In The Winter". I know that the information we will have in these articles will be of value to most of you as a guide in getting the planning done for next year and perhaps on a long basis.

Christmas Dinner At Sashabaw School

On Thursday of last week the pupils at the Sashabaw School enjoyed a Christmas dinner. Everything was in readiness by 11:30 and it was surprising to see the number of children served, the cleaning-up completed and the children back in their classrooms inside of an hour.

The dinner was planned by Mrs. Garland Wells and was prepared by Mrs. Wells and her daughter, Mrs. Doyle Dortch. Mrs. David Knisley also helped in the kitchen. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Lawrence Wellman, Mrs. Byron Clements, Mrs. Merle DeNise, Mrs. John Bates, Mrs. Everett Dennis and Mrs. Mose Montreal.

During the noon hour the room mothers took over in the classrooms while the teachers enjoyed their meal.

The corridors were used as the dining room and it was really amazing to see how well trained the pupils are. They marched to a table just outside of the kitchen door where the food was served and back to their places at the table. As soon as the dinner was over the children cleared the tables in an orderly manner and saw that no paper cups or plates were left lying on the floor. There was no confusion and very little noise, considering that about 310 children were served. This number included the pupils from the small Sashabaw School which is just across the road from the new school. Including teachers and guests there were about 330 dinners served.

By The Way...

Snow that blanketed Michigan and the mid-west over the weekend and again Monday night and Tuesday stopped many from going away for Christmas. Many who would have had turkey and all of the trimmings were content to "hole in" and be satisfied with "what have you". Early in the morning while the snow was falling fast could be heard the roar of motors and the whining of wheels as Christmas celebrants tried to get out of their driveways and be on their way. Many who had plane reservations or bus reservations found that this transportation was practically stopped and hurrying to the railroad depots were disappointed when they were told that no more passengers could be cared for. This was bad where a long distance trip had been planned. However most took it good naturedly because the weatherman was to blame for it all. Those who had planned to toboggan or bob-sled had to be content with some other amusement for in most places the snow was too deep for the usual winter fun. Many remarked "this is an old fashioned Christmas". Fine weather for sleigh bells and a horse-drawn sleigh filled with young people laughing and singing as they glide over the country roads. Evidently the Kenneth G. Hempsteads got away ahead of the storm because on Wednesday morning came a card from Chattanooga, Tenn., postmarked Dec. 24th. The old saying "A friend in need, is a friend indeed" proved true this past week in Clarkston when the main street was so clogged with snow that shoppers could not park their cars near the curb. Along came the good neighbors, Dearborn Motors Farm, and with some volunteer help used tractors with scrapers and loaders to clear the street and make way for Christmas shoppers. Not only did the Dearborn Farm do a good deed for the village but here and there throughout the village, especially on S. Main St., were seen the tractors clearing out driveways after the highway plow had filled the driveway entrances with piles of snow four or five feet deep. Those who were helped so generously, especially on Christmas Day are deeply grateful to the Dearborn Motors Farm. Another crew who worked especially hard this Christmas season was the staff at the local Post Office. They claim this year the Christmas mail was heavier than ever. The postmaster, carriers and clerks wasted no time in trying to oblige everyone. They worked many long hours and the bottom of the pile had not been reached on Wednesday morning. Perhaps another year more mailing will be done earlier.

Notice

A pair of men's new leather gloves were found on S. Main St., in Clarkston. The owner may claim same by identifying them at the Gaseick Shoe Repair on S. Main St.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Looking back over the past year, it has been a good year for farm families. Weather was good, crop yield was excellent. Livestock numbers are up, and generally, the farmer is in good shape. What the future holds, we will have to wait and see. We do know, however, that regardless of what comes, farmers will be ready to do their part in 1952 to keep America strong and ready for any emergencies that may arise.

Major and Mrs. Wilbur Walton and three children came from Ohio to spend Christmas with her parents and other relatives here.

Clarkston Locals

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Vliet, Mr. and Mrs. John Graham and Mrs. L. I. Coon enjoyed Christmas dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Chase in Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sharpe and daughter, Ruth, enjoyed a Christmas dinner on Sunday at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Linman in Fowlerville. On Christmas Day they all went to a family gathering at the home of Mrs. Sharpe's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jensen, near Williamston.

Clarkston Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Atkins spent Christmas in Toronto, Ontario, with his sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Bishop and family had Christmas dinner in Detroit with her mother.

Cpl Harold Horn arrived home Saturday night from Ft. Riley, Kansas, to spend the holidays with his wife and daughter and other relatives. He has a ten day leave.

Clarkston Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tondou, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Minton had decorated the brightly lighted Christmas tree which stood in one corner. It now became the center of interest with that pile of presents under its branches. Some of the boys, Lee Perry, Douglas McDonald, Dearel Blackett and Gary Stallard, took upon them the task of calling off numbers and delivering the presents to the holders. It is surprising how many nice, useful, or amusing gifts can be had for the small sum of 50c which was set as the limit. Everybody had a happy smile on his face.

Special Program At Waterford Church

The Waterford Community Church Choir will present the annual Christmas Season Cantata on Sunday night, December 30, at 7:30 P. M. Entitled "His Name Shall Be Called Jesus", by Ellen Jane Lorenz. It will present the various aspects of Christ, as Emmanuel, Messiah, Savior, Gift of Love, Light, Comforter, The Lowly One, The Morning Star, and the Exalted One. In this arrangement, the Scripture texts of the Christmas story are combined with special versions of familiar Carols. The choir is under the direction of Charles Jehle, accompanied by Mrs. C. Coventry.

Other meetings at the close of the holiday season will be the Men's Beacon Club on Saturday evening, beginning at 6:30 with fellowship supper, and featuring on the program pictures of leper work in Africa presented by Mr. Lyle Legg recently returned missionary. All men are invited to attend.

The last service of the year will be on New Year's Eve at 9 P. M. The annual time of devotion and fellowship will be marked by an unusual sound film, "Bible on the Table," a social time, and closing devotions, bringing the year to a fitting close with a backward look at God's blessings, and an upward look for guidance and strength in the coming year. This will be a family type meeting and all are invited to attend.

Dixie Saddle Club's Christmas Party

Business matters were mixed with pleasure at the last meeting of the Dixie Saddle Club on Wednesday night, December 19th. An early hour: 6:30 P. M., was set for the monthly meeting; about sixty members and guests sat down at long tables in the basement of the Independence Township Community Building for their dinner. Everybody had brought some dish to pass around, and two delicious baked hams were served by the club; the Mrs. Mann, McDonald and Perry played the role of hostesses. The tables looked gay with their various colored dishes, and the people looked just as gay as they proceeded to sample all of the specialties brought by the housewives: baked beans, escalloped potatoes, salads, pickles, pies and cakes.

The business meeting which followed was brief; it consisted mainly of reports by the secretaries, treasurer and flower chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tondou, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Minton had decorated the brightly lighted Christmas tree which stood in one corner. It now became the center of interest with that pile of presents under its branches. ## Random Thoughts PERSPECTIVE — We came from a city house to live in the country on a 200 acre farm. What fun I had that first summer, exploring all the fields, the hills and dunes, the woods, the ponds and the lake, always accompanied by our dog (whom we had acquired with the farm). He knew the easy paths through all those fields much better than I; he showed me the way, his white plume tail waving gaily in front of me. Then he would pause in wonderment because I would be just standing there, looking out from a high hill top over the lovely landscape.

My other steady companion was my camera; I took dozens of pictures, eager to hold fast the tranquility of a pond between the willows, the sparkle of thousands of wild white daisies massed in one field, the sweep of a long slope, the intimacy of the shadowy woods with sunflecks picking out the regal trilliums or wood lilies; the clarity of the wide blue sky over the lake.

When the people who used to live on our farm visited us the next fall, I brought forth my store of snapshots, curious to know whether they would recognize the special spots. The woman exclaimed: "I've lived there a long time, but I didn't know it was that beautiful."

Away from the place where she had brought up most of her children, and where she had worked hard all that time, she could now pause, look back, her attention focused on some special, chosen scenes, and realize, in perspective, the beauty of the place.

That's what we have to do in our lives too. We are busy, we live from day to day; we are face to face, close-up, with duties, with everyday happenings. What we need is a pause — and distance. The long view reveals other events as important than the short view; the small disappointments, the petty grievances, the not-too-important worries drop away; and the progress we have made on our road of life becomes apparent, the worthwhile achievements and the good things we have enjoyed are the ones that stand out; even the sorrows we have known lose some of their poignancy and become transfigured into events which have helped shape us into better human beings with more understanding and more tenderness towards others' misfortunes.

New Year's day is a symbolic stop sign in the road a good day to pause and get our perspective.

—Louise Helsing

MSC To Have Evening Program

Michigan State College will establish a formal evening college program in January.

College officials said that approximately 50 courses will be offered for credit during the first quarter of operation.

The new program will be known as the Michigan State Evening College. It is an expansion of previous efforts on the part of the college to meet demands for credit courses from Lansing area adults.

Courses will range all the way from social sciences to engineering and business management. Both undergraduate courses will be offered.

The program was planned in cooperation with M. S. C.'s Continuing Education Service.

Edgar L. Harden, CES director, said, "The college's purpose is to extend its services to people in the state who would like to earn degrees or to improve their qualifications for advancement."

Registration dates will be Jan. 2 to 5. Special evening registration periods will be set aside Jan. 3 and 5.

Course offerings will be available in accounting, economics, business, social science, education, mathematics, chemistry, horticulture, English, biological science, effective living, history, literature and fine arts, and mechanical, electrical, civil and sanitary engineering.

Notice

Everyone is asked to note that blood typing will take place at the Clarkston school on Monday, Jan. 7th. This program is being set up, not only for the school students but for everyone in the community. Keep the date in

The Christ Lutheran Church Sunday School Christmas program was held Sunday afternoon with all departments taking part. The Beginners and Primary department took part in the first half of the program. The Junior, Intermediate and Senior departments presented the Christmas pageant "The Kingdom of the Christ Child".

Leagues combined for a Christmas party Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Peterson, counsellors for the Senior League. Preceding the party, the groups met at the church and they went around singing Christmas carols.

★ In the play Green Pastures, the character Noah observed, "I ain't very much, but I see all I got." This is simple but eloquent reasoning.
The realization of responsibility to yourself and to others to be cheerful, sympathetic, and helpful is the basis of a sound personality. Ill and disgruntled people are a burden to all. Take good care of yourself! Do not forget that both your family physician and your pharmacist are on your side to help you stay well and happy. All you have to do is ask for their help. When ill, see your physician. We are fully equipped to fill your prescriptions and furnish the needed sickroom supplies.

IN THE STILL OF THE NIGHT A MAN DIED

He had worked late—he was tired—thoughtlessly he walked to the right along the darkened highway. Beyond the turn of the road were the lights of home.
Speeding through the early darkness, a driver urged his car along, hugging the edge of the road. A dim shape, a sudden sickening jolt—and the terrorized driver, his car careening, sped on—around the curve, past the lighted cottage beside the road. And in the still of the night, a man died.

These are the ingredients of accidents and death at night. Often the victim contributes to his own death by not walking to the left, facing traffic. But far too many pay with their lives for the reckless driving of the hit-and-run car coward. To him self-preservation is more urgent than the saving of a life.

To his kind let this be a warning. Of all highway and traffic violators, the hit-and-run driver fares worst. Sooner or later, his crime leads to prison and disgrace.

The highways shall be cleared of these auto highwaymen.

CHILDREN LEARN THROUGH QUESTIONS

Most parents aren't communists so there's no need for an "iron curtain" against children's questions. A curt "No" or "wait until you're older" gives youngsters the idea that you don't want to take time for their problems.

New Notes in Cooking

- Know how to avoid one form of frying pan frustration? Notice the strips of bacon with a knife or scissors before cooking to keep the strips from curling or "buckling."
- Smothered chicken, in Dutch oven or casserole, is something to rave about when the smothering is done with diluted condensed cream of mushroom soup. Brown the floured chicken pieces first; sprinkle on Ac'cent (pure monosodium glutamate) salt and pepper; transfer to baking dish; pour in soup; cover tightly and bake slowly.
- When making rolled sandwiches, it's a good idea to steam the slices of bread in a colander over boiling water for a minute or two. The slightly damp bread will roll easily without cracking.
- Ribs, cooked in broth in place of water, then seasoned to taste with Ac'cent and "pinked" prettily with sweet paprika, is "Rosy Rice" — that's for sure.
- Have you as much as a half-cup of thick smooth sour cream? Luck is with you if you're having soup for supper, hot or cold. float a spoonful of sour cream on each serving and dust lightly with paprika or chopped chives, according to the soup.

Josephine H. Lawyer, county home demonstration agent, says that if a child is old enough to ask a question, he's old enough to get an answer that satisfies him. She advises that you answer every question so that you can add something to it if the child wants to know more. In other words, keep the door open so he'll come to you with all his questions and problems.

"Keep the replies simple, and don't give him a two-hour lecture for one question. Try to see why the child asked the question and then answer from his point of view," Mrs. Lawyer suggests. An important point is to be truthful. She advises against telling an imaginary story in answer to a question. If you do, you'll have to eventually tear down the original story and start all over again. That is confusing to the child and he may not believe you after that.

Children cram in more learning between the time they learn to walk and the time they go to school than they possibly can in any amount of time later on, Josephine Lawyer points out. They learn with every bit of their bodies — mouth, ears, eyes, nose, feet, and hands.

You can help your child learn through new adventures, by answering his questions and encouraging him to ask about things he doesn't understand.
