Township Almost Reaches Red Cross Quota

Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross has extended its fund-raising campaign until April 15 to raise $11,000, a money for tornado victims in Arkansas, Missouri, Mississippi and Tennessee. Gar A. Sweezy, county chapter chairman announced today that volunteers will work two weeks longer to raise $11,000 added to the county quota in mid-campaign. The county chapter is now seeking $126,000 in its drive, formerly scheduled to end March 31. Some has been raised to date. Milford, Addison, Waterford, and Independence Townships are among those units which have almost met or exceeded their goals. Mr. Lloyd C. Megee is campaign chairman in the Independence area.

"These tornadoes have killed and injured hundreds, torn homes and families apart and left thousands of men, women and children cold, hungry and homeless," Dr. Robert W. Kelso, chapter chairman, said. "The Red Cross has already allocated $1,000,000 to help those in distress. The total cost will be more than $5,000,000." Dr. Kelso pointed out that thousands of Red Cross volunteers have been on duty since the storms struck. The Red Cross has fed, clothed and housed thousands for almost two weeks. Trained doctors, nurses and other workers have been sent to stricken areas; whole blood and plasma have been flown to the scene; and cots, blankets, power generators and water purifiers are among supplies delivered there.

"Our chapter is asking only a moderate amount as our share of the cost," he said. "These people have nowhere to turn except to the Red Cross." "Will you give a little more for these destitute victims of disaster?"

According to the last figures received in this office, Independence Township needs a little over $100 to make the goal. This will be easily obtained if everyone gives a little. Take your contribution to Robert L. Jones in The Clarkston State Bank today.

What It Takes For Civil Defense Kit

Salt, soda, soap and castor oil. Razor blades, safety pins, paper cups and measuring spoons. A bottle of water purification tablets, a flashlight, some bath towels and bandages. A few broken shingles, an antiseptic solution, and some aromatic spirits of ammonia.

That's what it takes to make up your Civil Defense First-Aid Kit, the Michigan Office of Civil Defense said today. Most of these items you have around the house; you can buy the rest for less than a dollar.

If you haven't prepared an emergency home first-aid kit, call your local Civil Defense Director and ask him to send you the pamphlet "First-Aid Kit" which gives complete instructions, State Civil Defense Officials advised.

Some member of every Michigan household should be trained in first aid, they said. Ask your county director to where you can enroll in a first aid course.

It won't cost you much to make a first-aid kit and take a first-aid course, they said, and it may cost you your life, if you don't.

NEW BAND UNIFORMS OKAYED FOR SPARTANS

Machinery has gone into action to put the Michigan State College band into sparkling new green and white uniforms, replacing the military khaki uniforms now in use.

Basically green in color, the uniforms will have white accessories, including cross belts, spats, white stripes on the trousers and convertible white and green hat. A green overcoat comes with the uniform.

Delivery of the uniforms is expected by June, at the latest, college officials said.

SO EASY TO HANDLE

Lovely TV actress Cindy Cameron illustrates the remarkable ease of steering in the 1952 Chrysler, by turning the wheel with only fingertip pressure. Any driver can do this, even with the car standing absolutely still, thanks to the new power steering innovation which lets hydraulic pressure do all the work. Power steering is only one of the unusual present-day automobile developments on display in the Coliseum and Agriculture Building, Michigan State Fair Grounds, March 29 through April 6, as part of the Detroit Motor Show.

More Blood Donors Needed Urgently

One hundred and forty more blood donors are needed for the Blood Mobile Unit. Only 60 appointments have been made so far.

The Red Cross Blood Mobile Unit will be at the Clarkston High School on April 7th from 3 to 9 P. M.

Any healthy individual between the ages of 21 and 59 is urged to make an appointment by dialing out the form that the school children have taken home or by calling the school. We ask that appointments be made to prevent long waits on your part and to make for the most efficient operation of the unit.

Whole blood is urgently needed in Korea. Whole blood can only be preserved for 21 days even when a special solution called ACD is added and it is refrigerated. To make sure that there is available a constant flow of blood we must all assume our responsibility of giving. We are appealing to all to do their part.

MAKE YOUR APPOINTMENT TODAY.

Duffy Daugherty At School Tonight

Duffy Daugherty will be heard at the Clarkston School tonight. He will be the guest speaker at the annual athletic banquet sponsored by the Clarkston Rotary Club.

Mr. Daugherty is the assistant coach to "Biggie" Munn at Michigan State College. Daugherty is mainly responsible for the great lives at MSC and has developed several All Americans.

The Rotarians are very fortunate to have been able to get Mr. Daugherty to come to Clarkston for the banquet. Mr. Tisyer is responsible.

In addition to hearing Mr. Daugherty you will see pictures of last fall's Michigan State-Ohio State football game.

The dinner will be at 8:30. Get your tickets at O'Dell's Drug Store.

Random Thoughts

INDIVIDUALITY — The more I associate with animals, the more sure I am that they should be treated as individuals, with due consideration for their personalities and traits. An animal is never a "living object", but a subject with desires, emotions, intelligence in various degrees, particular and individual characteristics, and capacities for love and affection.

One cow is not the same as another, nor is even one chicken the same as another! Every year when we get some young stock to fatten on the land, I watch them for a few weeks, and then give them names according to their behavior, their looks, or particular traits. One year we had a young Guernsey heifer with big beautiful brown eyes, and Susan was a natural for her, since she reminded me of the wild flower Black-eyed Susan with the golden petals and the bulging dark brown and "heart". Then there was Hilda, a clean looking Holstein with more white than black on her; she had a serene, cool face, and I practically could picture blonde braids laid over her smooth forehead.

Another Holstein, more rough-coated and stocky, with a tinge of red betraying some Durham blood in her, was so aggressive that I promptly named her Katy. And we had a young bull who strutted around with so much dignity that nothing short of the Greek name of Homer would do for him.

My housecat, Calico, is so shy by nature that I have to be careful not to offend her. I once accidentally stepped on her foot, and she fled in terror thinking that I had punished her for something. I had to coax her back into the house. After I picked her up, and petted her, rocking her in my arms as you would a frightened baby, I was taken back into her good graces again. But her daughter, that's a different story. She has such strange markings, a mixture of black and red, that we call her Patchy, and that only because we originally had dubbed her "Monkeyface" and I was afraid this name would stick. She has her domicile in the big barn together with a brother and sister, both beautiful cats. She is first at the dish when I feed them; she smuggles up to our dog as if he were her best pal, and will run or jump on anybody who invites this familiarity by sitting down or bending over. With Patchy I have to limit my carresses or she would forever tag along and make a nuisance of herself.

Of course there are great differences in personalities in horses. Big lumbering Oakties is as good-natured as can be, but he thinks of eating first and always. He is indignant when Tex gets the oats first, or Cindy gets an apple before he does; he'll lick the partition between the stalls to let them know. But you can't tell him up or down him in the field without any trouble, and docility he

Job's Daughters Hold Initiation

On Monday evening, March 24th, the Clarkston Bethel No. 25, International Order of Job's Daughters, held initiation at the Masonic Temple in Clarkston.

Mrs. Beth, Grand Guardian of the Order, was present for inspection.

Janet Stayle and Elberta Thornburg were initiated into the Bethel.

At the close of the evening dainty refreshments were served. The members of the Clarkston Bethel have been quite active lately. On Saturday, March 22, they held a sale of baked goods at Tamy's Market and on the same Saturday evening they served at a dinner to raise money to pay for a vacuum cleaner for the Temple.

The officers of the Clarkston Bethel participated in the installation of officers for the White Shrine in Pontiac on the evening of March 26th, when Mrs. Floyd Nelsy was installed as Worthy High Priestess. Mrs. Nelsy was the first Guardian of Clarkston Bethel.

Club To Hear Mrs. Geo. Boughton

The Clarkston Farm and Garden Club will meet on Monday April 7th, at 1:00 P. M. at the home of Mrs. A. E. Buttens. A dessert will be served. Mrs. Charles Robinson will be the assisting hostess.

The guest speaker will be Mrs. George Boughton who has been the director of the Detroit Garden Center at Belle Isle for many years. Mrs. Boughton is an enthusiastic gardener and an interesting speaker. Her subject will be "Gardening In The Shade". Slices will be shown.

To Harry Anderson for the use of his public address equipment.

The next dance will be Friday April 25th.

Safety Discussed At MSC Conference

A detailed blueprint of what needs to be done in Michigan to cut traffic death tolls has been outlined by the Michigan Highway Safety Seminar, which met recently at Michigan State College.

Highlights among adopted resolutions were proposals to: Raise the minimum age for licensing drivers to 18 years, and require special permits for those between 14 and 18; establish a single state agency to handle issuance of drivers' licenses; require license plates on both front and back of cars; require driver education courses in every Michigan high school; establish a state-wide motor vehicle inspection system; provide facilities for better training of traffic judges; and more effective methods of handling violators; and require doctors to report patients with afflictions which would affect driving ability.

More than 100 experts in seven general areas involving traffic safety studied problems in their areas for three months before presenting their recommendations to the seminar.

Clarkston Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Clark of Detroit are the parents of an 8 lb. 6 oz. daughter, Jennifer Joan, born on Friday, March 28. There are two other daughters, Janice and Marjory. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin T. Winston of Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Lee M. Clark of Clarkston.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Perry and Lee returned home on Friday night from the annual sale of saddle horses at Lexington, Ky. There were horses there from most every state. Mr. Perry purchased a horse and so did Lee. They had them shipped by van to Clarkston. Others at the sale from Clarkston were Glenn Ellis and Ed Fallon.

A letter from Evelyn M. McCrum who is in training with the Waves at Bainbridge, Md., says that she is enjoying her work very much. They have reached that point now in their training where they are getting ready for graduation, after which Evelyn will come home on a short leave before going to some permanent station. She says the temperature there is wonderful. The day she wrote the letter the thermometer stood at 79 degrees. She expects her folks will go to Bainbridge for the graduation.

Notice

Easter breakfasts will be served at the Clarkston Methodist Church and at the Christ Lutheran Church by the young people at seven o'clock on Easter morning. Be sure to make your reservations early.

Songs

We've heard the first notes and before very long
The air of the spring will be bursting with song.
Each puddle and swamp with its marsh and its bog
Is alive with the songs of little green frogs.

The blackbird, returned with his bright scarlet wings
At home by the lake where he bursts forth and sings.
Each day a new voice sends its song from the sky
To bring lumps to the throat and tears to the eye.

We've longed for the day when our friends would appear
With skings of gladness and notes of good cheer.
We bid them most welcome and said that we too
Can sing in our hearts as we toll the day through.

Their songs are contagious and all are inspired
To shake off the shackles from limbs, winter tired.
With each mellow note that wafers down from above
We find there's less hate and a little more love.

So God we are thankful for birds and for frogs
That send us their songs from the skies and the bogs.
We are thankful for changes that come in the spring
And happy vibrations that make the world sing.

ADAMS - WATCHPOCKET A pretty wedding of much interested Waterford folks was solemnized on Saturday evening when Elizabeth Ann Adams and Ellsworth Watchpocket were united in marriage. Beth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Adams of Pontiac and Ellsworth's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Watchpocket of Waterford.

The double ring, candlelight services was performed by the Reverend Paul R. Havens of the First Methodist Church in Pontiac. The bride's gown of white nylon marquisette over taffeta featured a sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves with tiny buttons at the wrist. An orange blossom tiara held her finger-veil and her bridal bouquet was composed of white roses, gladioli and stephanotis and centered with a white orchid.

The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Roy Chismalk. Her floor-length dress was of light green organza marquisette over taffeta and she carried Cavalier roses and yellow gladioli. Robert Mehlberg, cousin of the groom, performed the duties of best man. David Mehlberg and Norman Legge served as ushers. Both mothers wore navy blue and they had corsages of pink roses. Mrs. Adams chose navy accessories and Mrs. Watchpocket's accessories were pink.

Immediately following the ceremony the young couple received their guests in the church parlors. A four-tiered wedding cake centered the bridal table with bouquets of snapdragons carrying out the pink and white color arrangement. White wedding bells and white candles and two large baskets of flowers from the altar added to the beauty of the room. For her honeymoon trip to Boston and New York the bride changed to a gray flannel suit with navy accessories with which she wore the white orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return home they will reside on Murphy Street.

Prior to her marriage the bride was honored at several parties and showers. Mrs. Roy Chismalk, Mrs. David Mehlberg, Mrs. Fred Tucker and Mrs. Edwin O. George of Detroit and office friends at General Motors all entertained in her honor. The 150 guests at the wedding were from Grand Rapids, Detroit, Pontiac, Covert, Rochester and Waterford. The bride is a graduate of the Pontiac High School and the groom graduated from Waterford Township High School. He is employed with the Detroit Edison Company in Pontiac.

The All Saints Chapel members will have a pot-luck supper on Monday, April 7th, at the C. A. I. building. An outstanding sound film "Barabbas the Robber" will be shown. Everyone is welcome to attend.

less a soil test shows that there is need for it. There are few laws that need lime, furthermore there is a danger of over liming because grass grows best, as do most other Michigan plants, on slightly acid soil.

LAWNS NEED FERTILIZER Lawn fertilizers should contain a large proportion of nitrogen, the plant food element which stimulates the production of the green leafy portion of plants. The fertilizer which is recommended for all general turf growing has a 10-6-4 analysis. The first figure is per cent nitrogen, the second per cent available phosphoric acid and the third per cent water soluble potash. A general recommendation is to apply 10 lbs of 10-6-4 fertilizer per 1,000 square feet in early spring, which is, right now. A soil test may show that the soil is low in phosphorus, in that case 15 lbs of 6-10-4 is applied. About the same amount of nitrogen is applied but notice that almost 3 times as much phosphorus is applied. On a sunny lawn this treatment is repeated between May 15th and June 1st and again September 1st. On a shady lawn starting with the second application in May: apply 4 lbs per 1,000 square feet every two weeks until September 1st. Apply fertilizer when grass is dry and then water immediately into the soil. Fertilizer applied to wet grass will stick to it and burn. Have a beautiful lawn.

FRUIT AND GARDEN NOTES by Willard E. Bosserman Assistant County Agr'l Agent SPRING LAWN CARE Lime should not be applied unless a soil test shows that there is need for it. There are few laws that need lime, furthermore there is a danger of over liming because grass grows best, as do most other Michigan plants, on slightly acid soil.

LAWNS NEED FERTILIZER Lawn fertilizers should contain a large proportion of nitrogen, the plant food element which stimulates the production of the green leafy portion of plants. The fertilizer which is recommended for all general turf growing has a 10-6-4 analysis. The first figure is per cent nitrogen, the second per cent available phosphoric acid and the third per cent water soluble potash. A general recommendation is to apply 10 lbs of 10-6-4 fertilizer per 1,000 square feet in early spring, which is, right now. A TRIP TO THE SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF

Last Tuesday the ninth grade Civics class took a field trip to visit the Michigan School For The Deaf. On Wednesday, each of the students wrote an article describing what he had learned or had seen.

Larry Ruggles wrote: "The school is located on the north side of Flint. About four hundred persons attend this school, with ages ranging from 4 to 18. The older group of boys work in a factory on the school grounds, and they are taught to do different things for trades later in life. Instruction is given in printing, wood working, die tool cutting, and other things. The younger children are taught regular subjects, but are one to two years behind regular public schools. They are taught three principal arts for deaf people: lip reading, sign language and a finger alphabet.

"The students who live in Flint go home each night, and the other students can go home on Easter, Christmas, and other holidays. The school term lasts 9 1/2 months. Everything is paid for by the state except transportation and clothes. The spirit among the children is very high."

Phil Sutton's theme was a little different. He wrote: "Our ninth grade Civics class went to Flint on Tuesday, March 25, to visit the Michigan School for the Deaf. We went on one of the school buses. The driver was Mr. Kerton. When we arrived at the school we were introduced to our guide, Mrs. Schur. We first made a tour of one dormitory which was for the smaller children. In this new, modern building was a game room and many bedrooms and bathrooms. In the game room there were many tables and soft sofas and comfortable chairs. For entertainment there was a TV set, and in the center of all the study tables were checker boards. In the bedrooms there were about four beds and built-in dressers. The children's names were on the drawers. In the bedrooms were also knickknack shelves where the kids had pictures of their parents or friends. In each dormitory lived three house-parents.

"After that we went over to the building where there were classes in session. All of these classes were of lower grades. Here we split up into two different groups. Our group first went into a room where the teacher had a microphone and there were earphones on each desk. This class was for children with a little hearing. The children would listen and then answer questions given by the teacher. The second room we went into was a room where the children were totally deaf. They would watch the teacher's lips and then act out or write on the board, or even answer the teacher by speaking. Some of them we couldn't understand, but others were able to speak quite clearly. The third class we went into was a class of the first graders. All of these students were also totally deaf. These children could understand lip reading well, but were hardly able to speak at all. The teacher said she taught these students different things by showing objects, using mirrors, and by having the kids put their hand by her cheek while she spoke.

"The older children were able to learn rhythm by clapping their hands or feeling the vibrations of the music through wooden floors. We were not able to see higher classes because the older children were more self-conscious. We arrived back at school at 3:10 P. M. Our teacher is Miss Stites."

All of the students agreed that the trip had been a very interesting and educational one. Lorraine Rioux, Dick Johnston, and Dick Tebo summed it up by saying, "We didn't realize how lucky we were until we visited that school. They sure are doing wonderful things for the deaf students."

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

During the past week the seventh graders have let their imaginations and creativeness reign. The students divided into small groups and wrote plays. These productions ranged from involved mysteries to the light comedies. Costuming, staging, and properties contributed to their success, and much dramatic talent was shown.

After re-studying a unit in Michigan History due to a general let-down in work, a second test was given last Wednesday. With only a few exceptions, the grades went up considerably.

Therefore, we are assured the 7th graders know how Michigan fared under the British Empire from 1763 to 1776.

DATE TO OBSERVE EASTER FIXED BY ANCIENT RULE

A rule which has been in effect since 325 A. D., determines the date for Easter each year.

The Council of Nicaea decided 1,627 years ago that Easter was to be celebrated on the Sunday following the first full moon after the beginning of Spring.

"The reason for choosing the full moon was probably to afford pilgrims safe passage on the roads as they travelled to the Holy City for the Easter festival," Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan says.

The light of the full moon enabled the pilgrims to travel in comparative safety by night as well as by day. This year the first full moon after spring's arrival comes on Thursday, April 10 this fixing Sunday, April 13, as Easter.

"The date for Easter can vary over a period of about 35 days from the time of the vernal equinox," Professor Losh points out. "April 25 is the latest date on which it can possibly occur. This was the date back in 1943 and such a late observance of the day will not happen again until 2,038 A. D."

Other than Easter, April will see the red planet Mars assume a prominence in the southeastern sky. At the start of the month, Mars will rise about three hours after the sunset but will continue to rise earlier and earlier, as well as increase in brightness, as the month progresses.

"By the end of the month, it will reach the mid-point in the sky at midnight and will become the brightest object in the whole sky, surpassing even Sirius, the Dog Star, in brilliance," Professor Losh says.

When it reaches the mid-point, Mars will be in its most favorable point for observation. Mars takes two years to circle the sun, the astronomer says, and this year will come within 52 million miles of the earth during April. Astronomers are already looking forward to 1956 when Mars will come within 35 million miles of our globe.

Two other bright stars deserve attention in the southeast sky each night during April, Professor Losh believes. Antares, also red in color and bright, but not as brilliant as Mars, will rise just below and to the left of Mars. Rising around sunset, and ahead of Mars, will be Saturn. This planet is only one-sixth as bright as Mars but reaches a higher altitude than the red planet and thus is easily picked out.

For positive identification, Professor Losh advises checking on the evening of April 9 when Saturn will be about seven degrees above the nearly full moon. Two nights later Mars will be in about the same position with respect to the moon.

Jupiter will disappear from the western sky on April 16.

STUDENTS STUDY JAPAN

Better understanding of Japan and the Japanese is part of the program of the University of Michigan's Center for Japanese Studies.

American students are trained on campus in many aspects of Japanese civilization. Then, for additional graduate study, they spend a year to eighteen months at the center's field station in Okayama, Honshu, main Japanese island.

Most of the expense of the station is covered by grants from the Carnegie Corp., and other private endowment foundations.

Red Cross News

Instructors of Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, won't be teaching water safety to youngsters at local beaches this summer.

But blood will keep pouring into the veins of wounded servicemen in Korea and ill or injured people lying in civilian hospitals. Dr. Robert W. Kelso, chapter chairman, announces the chapter's water safety program will be discontinued so that more essential services may be carried on.

"Our budget this fiscal year is about $98,000", Dr. Kelso said, "We anticipate next year's budget will be about $90,000. The need to economize is obvious. We have decided to cancel the water safety program, as there are various recreation programs which can meet the needs for youngsters".

SPECIAL EVENTS HERALD THE SPRING

Nineteen special events will be held in Michigan during April and May to herald the spring vacation season, according to Robert J. Funlong, Executive Secretary of the Michigan Tourist Council.

Fishing will draw crowds to seven of the events with flowers the principal attraction at four others. The remainder represents a variety of features from maple syrup to canoe races to mushroom hunts.

The two-month calendar opens with a Maple Syrup Festival at Carson City, April 5. This will be followed in April by a Smeat Jamboree at Escanaba, 11-12-13; Maple Syrup Festival at Vermontville, 19; Mushroom Hunts at Gaylord, April 20-May 15; opening of the general fruit season and bluegill season throughout the state, April 26; National Trout Festival at Kalkaska, 26-27; and the Upper Peninsula Band Festival at Escanaba, April 26.

The first of May marks the opening of the four-day Annual May Festival at Ann Arbor. For the anglers, a Trout Fishermen's Tournament will be held at Big Rapids on the first of the month.

OLDER FOLKS' FOOD

"It's commonplace nowadays to have a long life. But many men and women who have had 60 birthdays, or 70, or more, aren't as healthy and happy as they might be if they would make a strong ally of food, letting it help in every way possible."

So says a new bulletin, "Food Guide for Older Folks", by the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

All through life, says the bulletin, you need food that contains protein and minerals — nutrients needed for upkeep of body tissues and bone. Some repairs may be shoddy.

Warning against food fads and so-called wonder diets, which overemphasize some foods and ignore others that are important, the bulletin points out: "Since food has so much work to do all life long, you can never retire from responsibility for eating the kinds and amounts you need."

Features of the new publication include a daily food guide-list for selecting a balanced diet, and a sample market list and menus. Suggestions are given for the older person who cooks for one or two, or who hasn't much cooking equipment, or must have food easy to chew, or has a need to watch weight.

"Food Guide for Older Folks" may be obtained free from the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

PROPER CARE OF MUDDY LANES

Boggy lanes and muddy driveways caused by spring thaws can be kept usable if proper steps are taken, says a University of Michigan man.

William S. House, professor of civil engineering, explains side ditches should be kept cleaned out and deep enough to siphon water from the roadbed.

He also advises that ruts and holes be filled with crushed stone on gravel — not more mud, as the mud merely will hold the water in the roadbed.

Much that mortal man regards as true is found to be untrue in the absolute spiritual sense, when examined in the light which Christian Science throws on the scriptures. This is brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Unreality" which will be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, April 6.

The Golden Text is from Ecclesiastes (5:7): "In the multitude of dreams and many words there are also divers vanities; but fear thou God."

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Isa. 29:15): "Woe unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the Lord, and their works are in the dark, and they say, Who seeth us? and who knoweth us?"

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Evil calls itself something, when it is nothing. It saith, 'I am man, but I am not the image and likeness of God'; whereas the Scriptures declare that man was made in God's likeness." (p. 287)

STOP! THINK - BEFORE STARTING GRASS FIRE

Michigan had 17 forest fires by this time last year, but conservation department firemen have yet to go into action so far this season.

With the spring high hazard period due to start any time, the department cites the burning permit law to those who insist on starting brush and grass fires which frequently turn into something bigger. Soil experts have repeatedly pointed out that spring burning destroys... not improves soil fertility.

"Starting a brush, grass or other open fire for other than domestic purposes when the ground is not covered with snow, without a permit, can result in a maximum fine of $100 and/or 90 days in jail.

Besides the burner is liable for extra department suppression expenses, and he could be sued for damages should the fire spread to another person's property.

Burning permits are issued at the discretion of the local conservation officer who considers the prevailing area conditions.

Some local township and county fire departments also have permits.

FISHERMEN TO HAVE LONGER TROUT SEASON

Trout enthusiasts are going to have a lot more fishing time this year, beginning April 12 with a 14-day special rainbow season on 55 lakes and streams in 22 counties. Great Lakes and connecting waters are included, according to the conservation department.

Regular brook, brown and rainbow season will start April 26, two days earlier than in 1951, and end September 14, five days later than before. The extra fall rainbow season will have a longer list of legal waters this year, 400.

With one exception, the 55 lakes and streams and Great Lakes waters will be open for early spring rainbow fishing for the first time. Black river, Mackinac county, had a special early April opening in 1951. Purpose is to permit harvesting of a greater share of the annual spawning migrants previously returning to Great Lakes waters before the regular trout season started.

Rent A Locker And Save Money

We have not changed our locker rent charges for several years and then that was downward. Door lockers rent for $12.00 and drawer lockers rent for $14.00 a year — a little over 3c or 4c per day — with a constant zero temperature. There is a 50c key deposit.

When you rent a locker we give you a key to go and come whenever you want during hours, which are from 8:30 to 6:00 p. m., except Sundays and Holidays.

We will be glad to show you through our plant and tell you of the various ways you can save money — more than enough to pay your locker rent and have better food for less.

Locker Packaging Materials

We carry a large variety of frozen food packaging materials priced as low as possible. We do not carry any inferior quality wrapping materials so that you can depend on them when bought here. Also a large assortment of Cartons, bags, marking pencils, etc.

Appreciation

I wish to thank all of my neighbors and friends for the lovely letters, cards, plants and bouquets sent to me during my stay in the Pontiac General Hospital. Especial thanks go to Dr. Yon, the staff of nurses, the Reverend R. M. Atkins for his visits and to the Clarkston Methodist Church for the pot of tulips. To all I am deeply grateful.
