ATTENTION! HOME GARDENERS

Home gardeners were warned today by the state health department not to use insecticides containing parathion or tetraethyl pyrophosphate, now available in small packages, unless they are willing to use them with extreme care and exactly as prescribed by the manufacturer.

These insecticides, which can be fatal to humans if used carelessly, were formerly available only in large quantities for commercial growers and professional handlers who had the equipment and "know how" to use them safely.

Deaths have resulted from persons accidentally splashing the preparation on the skin and then neglecting to wash it off promptly; by breathing in the spray or dust; and by swallowing it.

For the protection of home gardeners, the Department lists the following precautions:

ALWAYS READ THE LABEL. If the insecticide contains parathion, wear special protective clothing — goggles; to prevent getting it in the eyes; a suitable mask to avoid breathing in the sprays; and rubber gloves, to prevent contact with the skin. Never handle parathion wettable powder or dusts with the bare hands. A light plastic raincoat and washable rubber or plastic rain hat gives good protection against spray drift or dust.

Never eat, smoke or chew when using the insecticides or until you have bathed with soap and water and changed clothes completely, including underclothing.

Check and double check against chances of wind-blown spray reaching unprotected people. Know the symptoms of poisoning and rush to a physician at the first sign.

Symptoms which may indicate poisoning are headache, excessive sweating, dizziness, blurred vision, weakness, nausea, cramps, diarrhoea or chest discomfort.

QUALITIES OF NEW FABRICS DISCUSSED BY MSC AUTHORITY

Acrilan! Dacron! Orlon! Magic words to add to your vocabulary. They are the newer man-made fabrics coming into stores now, and follow-ups to nylon that has been so quickly and completely utilized by American women.

Carolyn Middleton, of Michigan State College textiles and clothing department, outlines some of the special qualities of these new fabrics:

Acrilan is the newest-born of the chemical fiber family. Early uses have been in women's and men's suits, blouses and dresses. It is prominent for its great bulk-ing properties, that is, it has a pile and depth. Warm to the touch, acrilan is non-shrinking and has low moisture absorption making it easily and quickly washed and dried. It is especially suitable for blankets and heavy-coat linings, Miss Middleton said.

Dacron came on the market last summer as Fiber-V. It is a strong, durable fabric that is notable for crease and wrinkle resistance. It is now being used widely in men's socks, and trousers, women's blouses and underclothes. Dacron is a resilient fiber that holds a crease very well, the MSC specialist said.

Orlon has good shape-retaining qualities. It is dry and warm to the touch, Miss Middleton said, in commenting that a frequent criticism of nylon had been its cold feeling. Strong and light weight, Orlon has proved especially suitable for curtains since it does not shrink, holds shape

ACCIDENTS OCCUR ON ONE IN FOUR MICHIGAN FARMS

"One of every four farms in Michigan will be the scene of a disabling accident during the next 12 months," according to David Steinicke, farm safety specialist at Michigan State College.

He made the prediction today in announcing Farm Safety Week, July 20 to 26. "Although farmers throughout the nation will be eliminating hazards on their farms during that week, safety must be a 365-day-a-year job if we are to cut the toll of farm accidents in the state," he added.

Many people do not realize how big and serious the toll is, Steinicke said. The average cost of a farm accident involving a fall is nearly $50, for instance. And the average fall costs the farmer 24 days lost from farm work. Average farm machine accidents cost $60 in medical expenses and 20 days lost from farm work.

"Merely being aware that accidents do occur will help cut down their toll," Steinicke believes. "However, eliminating hazards and developing safety habits will cut the toll even more," he added.

APPEAL MADE TO CAR DRIVERS

An earnest appeal to the drivers of Michigan to pledge themselves to a sane and safe Fourth of July as far as driving habits are concerned to help reduce the expected accident toll, was made today by Highway Commission Charles M. Ziegler. The Commissioner called attention to the fact that 39 persons were killed a year ago during five days of the July 4th holiday. In 1950, the July Fourth holiday death toll on the highways was 38 persons.

There was a slightly brighter spot during the recent Memorial day weekend when the highway death toll in Michigan was 23 persons, slightly under advance predictions. This useless waste of life is a matter of grave concern, the Commissioner continued, pointing out that the nation's highway death list far exceeds that from the Korean battle front.

The National Safety council predicts a record death toll for the approaching Fourth of July period, but this prediction can be avoided if drivers of the nation will use extra caution to make sure their own driving is not marred by carelessness and at the same time be on guard against possible carelessness by the drivers they meet on the highways, the Commissioner added.

To help make the highways in Michigan as safe as possible over the Fourth of July holiday period, the State Highway Department will shut down all road construction projects that might interfere with traffic, from Thursday noon, July 3, till Monday morning, July 7. Only projects on new locations, which are not being used by traffic, or those within limits of established detours or emergency work will be carried on.

Maintenance and construction crews have been ordered to make sure that all detour routes are properly marked and that barricades, lights and warning signals are in proper working order and that any soft shoulders along newly completed projects have proper warning signs.

WHEN KILLING BUGS SPARE HONEY BEES

Various wild bees and the honey bee are among the legume seed grower's best friends. Fortunately most of the destructive insect pests affecting legumes can be killed by insecticides before the plants bloom.

E. C. Martin, Michigan State College entomologist, says this means that the job of controlling harmful insects should be completed before the bees come to the blossoms to gather nectar and pollen.

"Present recommendation for control of insects harmful to legumes-for-seed in Michigan is to apply DDT at the rate of one and a half pounds of actual DDT per acre," Martin said. This DDT should be applied as a spray or dust a short time before the plants come into bloom.

If properly applied it will kill the harmful insects but will not bother the bees when their turn comes to work on the blossoms. Putting DDT on before the blossoms bloom will "kill the bug but spare the honey bee," Martin explains.

EAT ON SCIENCE

"The American people are now eating on science. Since 1910 we have learned how to produce enough, with 9 million fewer people on farms, to feed an extra 60 million people," Arthur Mauch, Michigan State College agricultural economist, says.

He adds that the people in this nation are eating more and better foods. These facts show the value of agricultural research in experimental stations. Findings from research result in technological changes that very rapidly result in more, better and cheaper food for consumers.

Parsley contains chlorophyll and hence, serves as a deodorizer in your refrigerator.

FOR YOUR SAFETY

Every known facility for safe operation and control of an automobile is built into it. These safety features have been given gruelling tests, they have been proved and perfected by years of the finest engineering experience. But their maintenance and handling are up to you. Safe driving depends upon the efficient operation of these factors.

Watch your steering gear for excessive play—keep your brakes in trim, inspect tires for weaknesses that may result in blowouts. Be sure all lights are working, "one-eyed" cars are dangerous. Check your mirror for clear rear-vision. Be sure your horn works—but don't abuse its use. Do your windshield wipers wipe?

Remember, no matter how good the safety features of your car—they are only as good as your ability to control them. If you are overtired from driving strain—stop, rest, drink a cup of coffee. If you are mentally or nervously upset, let someone else drive. If you've been drinking, stay off the road.

Keep your car—and yourself—always in condition for safe motoring.

NITROGEN FERTILIZATION OF CORN
A great deal has been said and written about the use of nitrogen fertilizer for corn. Here in Oakland County nitrogen fertilizers on most soils for corn will pay. Additional nitrogen will have a beneficial effect on the health of the stand and yield where green manure crops or plenty of barnyard manure have not been plowed down. In a 75-bushel corn crop there is more than 100 pounds of nitrogen. Apply nitrogen fertilizer in the last cultivation as a side-dressing to the corn row. Apply at a rate of about 40 pounds of actual nitrogen to the acre and increase yields from 10 to 25 bushels of shelled corn per acre.

MERCURY ON VIEW IN WESTERN SKY DURING MID-JULY

Chances for a good look at Mercury and the Milky Way are about all the stargazers can expect from the July skies, according to Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan.

Mercury, which remains hidden in the glare of the sun most of the time, should be detected with comparative ease by the middle of the month, since it will reach its greatest angular distance from the sun on July 15.

For about an hour after sunset around that time, Mercury will be visible a few degrees above the horizon at almost the exact west point. It will be just to the right of the bright star, Regulus.

Another planet, Mars, will continue to be the bright object in the southern sky each night until it sets about midnight. But Mars will have competition for interest from the Milky Way - that giant pathway of stars that stretches from north to south across the eastern sky. Actually, this cloudy mass is made up of myriads of stars so close together that it requires field glasses or a small telescope to separate them.

The Milky Way's path across the skies offers assistance in detecting some of the most conspicuous star groups. At the northern end are Cassiopeia and Cepheus. In the Northern Cross or Cygnus, the Milky Way divides into two branches.

The lower left branch goes through Aquila, The Eagle, to Sagittarius, The Archer. The upper, or right branch, reaches down to the bright constellation Scorpius.

The Northern Cross is easy to identify, the astronomer points out. It rises sideways in the sky with its long bar extending across the Milky Way. Deneb, a bright star, marks the upper end or top of the cross.

Sagittarius, at the end of the left branch of the Milky Way, also can be likened to a giant teapot.

SUGGESTIONS MADE TO CONTROL POTATO INSECTS AND DISEASE

This year potato growers should protect their potatoes from the ravages of disease and insects, according to E. J. Wheeler, Michigan

State College farm crops authority. Late blight so common last year again is a threat this summer and fall. Much of the seed planted this spring contained the blight organisms. The cool, moist soil this spring has been favorable for the development of late blight.

Wheeler says that insects are always present and this year is no exception. The first insects to cause damage to the plant are the tiny black flea beetles. They puncture small holes in the leaves. Next comes the leafhoppers and finally the aphids or plant lice make their appearance.

The control of insects and diseases is complete only when a spray containing both a fungicide and an insecticide is applied at intervals of a week, under most favorable weather conditions, to two-week intervals during unfavorable conditions.

The chemical materials used, if they are standard recommended products, are no more important than the time of application. The plants should be completely covered with spray from the time they are from four to six inches tall until they reach maturity. Wheeler advises.

TELEPHONE STOCK OFFERED TO EMPLOYEES

Michigan Bell Telephone Company employees who are buying American Telephone and Telegraph Company stock, under the latest of a series of employees' stock plans, will wind up their payments this month.

When they do, more than 13,000 Michigan Bell men and women will have paid $10-million for 80,000 shares of the stock, according to J. L. Shipman, manager here for Michigan Bell.

"These installment payments, in the form of payroll deductions, began in April, 1950," he explained. "Then, eligible employees were permitted to buy one share of stock for each $1,000 of their individual annual basic wage."

"Cancellations released additional shares which could be subscribed in March of 1951 and a year later."

Stockholders of AT & T approved a company-wide offering of stocks for the first time in 1946. A second offer in 1948 preceded the subscription authorized in 1950.

The Securities and Exchange Commission has approved a further offering of up to three-million shares of telephone stock to employees of the Bell System. The new offer will go before the employees next month.

SQUASH VINE BORER

Many squash growers or would-be squash growers are disappointed when the squash vine wilts and dies just as the squash have formed. The trouble lies in a little worm inside the vine. A moth lays its eggs on the vine from the ground surface out to about 18 inches. These eggs hatch in 7 to 10 days, the larva then begins to chew its way into the vine and works its way toward the tip. This kills the vine in a good many cases.

CONTROL

It is important to get an insecticide on when the eggs hatch. Begin spraying when the vines start to run. Use 3 lbs of 5% or 3 1/2 lbs of 4% rotenone per 100 gals. of water. If dust is used, use 3/4 of 1% dust.

DON'T HANDICAP YOUR CHILD WITH FEAR

Psychologist Marynia Farnham warns that separation of a child from his mother may cause long-lasting fears. In this coming Sunday's (July 6) issue of The NEW Color Gravure American Weekly, exclusively with The Detroit Sunday Times, she outlines rules mothers should follow when leaving their children for a prolonged time. Get Sunday's Detroit Times.

LEARN TO OPERATE BICYCLE SAFELY

Learning to operate a bicycle safely is good proving ground for operating an automobile. With that in mind, Lennah K. Backus, child development specialist at Michigan State College, urges parents to prepare their children for that exciting moment when they have their first two-wheeler. Is your youngster thoroughly grounded in traffic rules of his community? she asks. He must know that a bicycle rider is as responsible for the rules as the driver of any motor vehicle—and ignorance of the law is no excuse. He will need to learn to obey all traffic signs and signals and ride cautiously at all times to avoid sudden stops and turns.

Mrs. Backus recommends that parents and children both study up on local rules too. In some communities riding on sidewalks is prohibited and certain light specifications are required for night riding. Too, bicycle licenses must be purchased in many places. In addition to knowing the rules and riding cautiously, his bicycle should be checked at least once a year to keep it in safe riding condition. Check the brakes, the tires, lubricate all moving parts and keep the bell, horn and lights in good working order.

Perhaps the parent can encourage children to park their bikes away from driveways and off sidewalks where they might cause minor accidents. Mrs. Backus said.

 That it is important for us to have a clear understanding of God and of man's divine relationship to Him is brought out in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "God" to be read in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, July 6.
 The Golden Text is from Revelation (21:3): "Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God."
 Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Isa. 45:5 to 7): "I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God beside me." Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Not materially but spiritually we know Him as divine Mind, as Life, Truth and Love." (p. 140)

FARMERS INVITED TO MSC FIELD DAY

Farmers of this area have been invited to be on hand at the field crops experimental plots at Michigan State College, July 8, for a small grain field day.
 Kenneth Frey, MSC farm crops authority, says that there will be many interesting and worthwhile things to see at the program, which starts after lunch.
 Among experimental plots and research work to be explained are effects of different rates of planting oats, yield tests of a large number of winter and spring wheat varieties, 120 varieties and promising strains of oats from several states, and 50 varieties and strains of barley that are being tested for yield.

 A "disease garden" also will be shown, where farmers can see symptoms and evidences of various diseases of oats and barley. The field day is being held at this time so farmers can see the grain just before it is harvested.
