ADVICE TO VETERANS

Veterans may now make their checks or money orders for government life insurance premiums payable to "Veterans Administration", VA announced today.

Heretofore, checks and money orders had to be made payable to "The Treasurer of the United States". As a result, many premium payments were sent to the Treasury Department rather than to the VA District or Central Office handling the insurance account.

Veterans were advised by VA not to send cash through the mails but to use checks or postal money orders. Cancelled checks or money order stubs serve as "Few donors were available here in July and August," Mrs. John D. Monroe of Pontiac, the chapter's blood program chairman

"And yet," she continued. "over 229 pints of blood were released to people from Oakland County who are patients in civilian hospitals. That doesn't include the blood released for soldiers in Korea. So someone else, somewhere, has been meeting our obigations."

Mrs. Monroe commented that the American Red Cross has always been able to meet both civilian and military demands.

But she joined local blood recruitment chairmen in an appeal to donors to make up for the summer slump. According to poplation, the Independence Township quota this year is 119 pints of blood,

"For the rest of the year, mobile units will have to visit Oakland County 10 times a month, in stead of seven, to meet our quota, she said.

Mrs. Monroe said that county people donated 7,768 pints of blood in 70 mobile unit visits here from November 1, 1951 to September 1.

A total of 5,748 pints were released to the Armed Forces, and 2,020 to patients in civilian hos-

"The future of the blood program in Oakland County - for our soldiers and civilians alikewill be determined by the people's response in the next few months."

Labor Day Parade Draws Large Crowd Friday, Sept. 12

The parade in Clarkston on Monday morning drew the largest greatest crowd of on-lookers in the history of the Rotary Club's Labor Day Parades. The weather anxious to make the event really worthwhile.

Leading the line of march were the color bearers and the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps with Majorette Carolyn Yoder twirling the baton. Following along were six Rotarians marching abreast and wearing large letters spelling ROTARY.

It would be fine to name all of the young people who participated but space will not allow it, as there were more than fifty. The costumes worn by the children and youth were gay and amusing and in many instances helped portray a character. Some of the oldfashioned costumes were interesting and it was amazing to see how well they had been kept.

The adult participation helped to pep up the parade and make more fun for everybody. Some of the North Main Street residents, Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Willoughby of the school subdivision and the Rotarians and their wives who wore the Gay Ninety swim suits had the real parade spirit. They all donned costumes and had a good time making fun for those on the sidelines.

In line were a few dogs, and ducks. Most of these pets had to be transported because of the length of the line of march

There were more floats this year and each one indicated that some busy hands had worked hard before the hour for the parade 1:00 to 9:00 P. M. on Friday, Sept. to get underway. Floats were sponsored by the Cub Scouts, Job's Daughters, Sherwood Forest Motorists Should Archery Club, Clarkston Rotary Anns, Clarkston Farm and Garden Safeguard Children Club, Rudy's Market and the Rotary Club.

Adding to the interest in the parade were two new Pontiac cars from Edw Whipple Pontiac Sales and Service. Whoever was the make-up artist on the two little Indians that sat on the fenders of the Pontiac car is a professional without a doubt. These little fellows were very attractive. Also in line was the Don Pringle Chevrolet and Oldsmobile and a Clarkston school bus.

A highlight of the parade was the appearance of some old-time cars. One, a 1909 Ford roadster driven by Robert C. Beattie, of Beattie Motor Sales, with Mrs. Beattie and their boy, Willi, who is here from Germany, all dressed in 1909 outfits; another was a 1909, two cylinder Maxwell and a third was a 1920 model T Ford touring car. These old cars were in good condition and perked right along with the newer cars.

Another feature of the parade that the on-lookers watch for each year is the line-up of fine horses and they were not disappointed on Monday as the Dixie Saddle Club was well represented. Many remarked "What is a parade without horses?"

The parade was disbanded on W. Washington Street and the youngsters received balloons and a cooling drink of gingerale.

Many folks have already decided that they will have their costumes or floats ready 'come next Labor Day'.

Appreciation

In behalf of the Rotary Club of Clarkston I wish to express sincere appreciation to all organizations and to all adults and children who participated in the Labor Day Parade and made it real success.

This is the first issue of the 24th year of The Clarkston News the present publishers have owned the paper for over nineteen and a half years. In some ways either period is a long time but the pleasure of making friends in this area has made the time seem short and interesting. The newspaper has grown from a tabloid of four small pages to its present size of six or more pages with eight columns. In the future, as in the past, we will strive to make the paper more interesting and more worthwhile Everyone admires a beautiful horse and if the horse has bee trained to do some particular trick it is enjoyed more than ever. WHAT ABOUT THOSE SAVINGS?

In the face of statements issued by other government agencies to the effect that individual savings in the United States are rising. from day to day, the federal Bureau of Labor Statistics, recognized authority on the subject, has another story to tell.

According to the Bureau, the average city family income in 1950 was $4,300 annually, but the average family was forced to that savings are not increasing, spend $4,700 in order to live on and that those families which have the same scale as in previous avoided further inroads on their years. capital investments in manufacturing facilities have created a demand for this continuous forest production, and it can be maintained only if timber is grown for the purpose. Therefor, "timber mining will no longer suffice".

As a result, industry is "promoting forestry on its own and other lands because it pays. In a capitalistic economy this is a sound foundation on which to build".

Chairman, Walter Cook stresses that the PMA committee election is both an opportunity and a responsibility. It is an opportunity to maintain one of the basic principles of democracy—having a voice in the selection of people who serve in official positions and being able to make that selection at the ballot box. But with this opportunity comes the responsibility to make that selection by voting."

Mr. Cook reminds farmers that farming in Oakland county has come a long way in the past 15 years and that the work of these committeemen and the programs they administer have played an important part in the program. He cites the soil and water conservation work that has been done under the Agricultural Conservation Program as an indication of the progress.

He adds, however, that "with population increasing at the rate of 7,400 a day, we can't let up on our conservation efforts. That's why community committeemen in 1953 will visit each farm in their communities to help farmers use the program most effectively to carry out the conservation practices most urgently needed on the individual farm."

As the chairman sees it, because the work of these committeemen means so much to farming in Oakland county and because the programs they administer are so essential to the welfare of all the people, no farmer who is eligible to vote should allow this election to pass without casting his ballot for the committeemen he thinks from becoming obsolete, wood has will do the best job.

This is a repeat, but important-September 16 is the beginning of the fly-free dates for planting wheat. Don't plant any wheat before this date.

SOIL TESTING

Now is the time to determine your fertilizer and lime needs for next year. I would advise any farmers who have not done so in the past two years, to get their soil tested. We would be glad to do the job for you at our office in Pontiac. We test for lime, phosphorus, and potash, which are the most needed elements for the soil.

You can save money by getting your tests run and fertilizer recommendations for your crop rotations for next spring, as well as this fall's wheat. Just recently we saved one farmer in the county over $200 in lime bills by testing his soil which showed it needed no lime, which he had planned to put on. Also, a soil test will give farmers an opportunity to order early fertilizer supplies for needed next year so that they will be sure to have the proper analysis at the right time.

If you plan on getting a soil test for wheat it should be in our office not later than September 10.

cent J. Wells, Deceased.

At a session of said court, held at the Probate Court in the City of Pontiac, in said County on the 26th day OF POTATOES Plans for harvesting and storing late potatoes should start right now. It often takes growers several weeks to get digging equapment ready and to provide good storage conditions. Late potato harvest won't begin until around September 20, but management practices used between now and then may make or break the potato farmer. Late. blight has already shown up in Michigan potato fields. It's a disease that can cause severe loss by destroying the vines and by rotting the potatoes. Growers should spray often every seven days—and if there are frequent showers the spray,ing should be done every four days. Bordeaux spray is recommended besause it sticks on the leaves the longest, especially during rainy spells. The vines must be completely covered to do o good job of late blight control.

GOOD RECORDS ARE MEANT TO BE BEATEN

* The infantile death rate in the United States is very low. From 1934 to 1936 we ranked seventh in the world, led only by New Zealand, Holland, Australia, Norway, Switzerland, and Sweden.

Yet 70,000 infants die annually in the first month of life, and 53,000 more from the second to the twelfth month. How many of these precious infants might have lived had their mothers had adequate prenatal care under the direction of a competent physician?

It is now up to the mothers to take advantage of the knowledge and skill of the physician during the trying months of pregnancy. We are ready to supply the needed dietary supplements and other medication ordered by your physician.

SEX AND YOUR MARRIAGE

The most intimate marital problems usually can be solved by a matter-of-fact talk with the family physician, says a noted psy-chiatrist. traw is better than long straw Shavings, sawdust, and corncobs are satisfactory. Litter should be stirred regularly and any crusted, matted material thrown out.

When the pullets are housed, feed should not be changed. If growing mash is being fed, continue it two to three weeks while pullets become familiar with new surroundings. If a shift to laying mash is planned, farmers can start the laying mash the last two weeks pullets are out on the Housed pullets shoud not be startled as they are wild and shy at sudden motion such as someone entering the pens. Get acquainted with the birds and they will settle down to work.

Plenty of fresh air in housing will prevent birds catching colds but it should be fresh air without drafts. At first, the pullets will need teaching to go on perches, and setting them on perches will help. Birds will have more fresh air and suffer less from crowding when they learn to perch.

Pullet egg-laying is directly benefited by longer days and poultrymen should start in September to use lights to gradually lengthen the pullets' "days" to 13 hours. This will maintain later high production.

Pullets are the profit-makers from now until January, when old hens go back on full production again, and deserve some pampering, according to Moore.

When fresh corn kernels ramble through the cakes, your family will comment that summer eating is mighty good. It's mighty nutritlous, too, since enriched flour brings protein, three B-vitamins and food iron to any dish. That's why corn Pancakes make such a good luncheon or supper dish, as well as breakfast starter.

Use a pancake mix or the recipe below to make the batter. It goes together quickly, so start the griddle warming slowly in the meantime.

And Iresn corn cut from the cob for that unbeatable flavor, or canned or frozen corn kernels if more convenient. Bake the Corn Pancakes on a lightly greased hot griddle and serve with a brown sugar sirup. Glaced apricot or peach halves make an attractive accompaniment.

Since corn cakes cost only about 2½ cents apiece, you can flip them happily for your family until they say "enough!"

FRESH CORN CAKES 1 cup sifted enriched flour 1 cup corn, cut from cob 2 teaspoons baking powder 2 tablespoons melted shortening 16 teaspoon salt mixture and mix well. Cook on lightly greased hot griddle.
