Worthwhile Work By Legion Auxiliary

At the last regular meeting of the Clarkston American Legion Auxiliary the following funds were donated: American Legion bill, $10.00, which buys canned goods, linens, and some small luxuries for the children of veterans; American Legion Veterans Hospitals, $43.00; wheel chair fund, $20.00—this is a worthy fund and very much needed as the number of already disabled veterans is being increased by Korean veterans; Service Basket, $20.00—this basket is passed among veterans in hospitals and contains a few luxuries that they would be unable to have if the items were not supplied by all the units donating to this basket. Among these luxuries are stamps, razor blades, stationery, candy, etc.; cigarette fund, $3.00.

Besides these cash donations the Auxiliary has sent 25 gifts which along with gifts from other units are displayed at the hospitals for the veterans to choose gifts for their loved ones. These gifts are for men, women and children. These holiday gifts really make a shopping center for these veterans who otherwise would not be able to have the pleasure of Christmas giving. After the veteran makes his choice the gifts are boxed and wrapped.

The Auxiliary wishes you to know that you help with these donations by buying poppies each May. The Poppy Fund makes it possible for the local Auxiliary to donate to all of these worthy causes.

The women of the unit wish to say "thank you" to all of the merchants who advertised in their "Household Hint" book and you will each receive one very shortly.

Clarkston's Job's Daughters will sponsor a rummage sale in Pontiac at 22 1/2 Wayne St., on November 29th, starting at 8:30 A. M. This Saturday, Nov. 22nd, they will pick up the articles for the sale. Anybody having any rummage to donate please call MA 5-5541 and give your name and address and someone will pick up your donation on Saturday.

Something Ought To Be Done

How often the challenge in the ether is hurled, That someone should care for the ills of the world, That someone their time and their energy give, That all of the rest, in a paradise live?

A million corrections I think could be made To better life's standards and stimulate trade, And someone should do all this service for free, As long as they never ask favors of me.

The world is engulfed in corruption so vile, That man is incensed to the core all the while, And the weakness of others he wildly acclaims, By assailing their past and calling their names.

Now someone should make little angels of men And teach them to never go erring again, Of course, we expect they will do it for free, And I'll be content if they don't call on me.

Grim poverty hovers in homes in our land, And someone should lend a big helping hand, There's sickness and sorrow at large everywhere, So someone should give for their health and their care.

The work of correcting our ills is immense, And someone must carry the load of expense, The job that's before us is great, you can see, Do you think you can do it without help from me?

Random Thoughts

TIME—The more we try to think what time is, the more answers we seem to be getting. A definition such as "measurable duration" does not get us very far, except in a circle, since duration is hard to define without the concept of time, or at least existence in time.

We take time as an exact mathematical and universal concept for granted; in ordinary usage of the word we know exactly what an hour's or a year's time means and we depend on instruments to measure off those spans of duration. But psychologically it is a different matter.

How we parents smile when the children exclaim "I can't wait for Christmas to come"; we know that the time which has to elapse before that joyful day arrives, be it a week, or a day, or even a night, is too long for their eagerness. For them the hours stretch out as a straight highway which vanishes in the distance; the exciting event lies somewhere over the hills, a pinpoint in the perspective; almost unattainable through life's great distance which separates the "now" with the "then". To console the children we promise them that if they go to bed and sleep, to-morrow will be here before they know it. And indeed - when they wake up, it does seem to have happened just so: the ten hours sleep is but a moment of un-consciousness, a short interlude hardly interrupting the flow of the days.

Have you ever sat waiting and listening for the familiar footfall or the sound of the car coming into the driveway; we are tense and anxious because our loved one is late coming home; we become nervous and afraid; our imagination runs away with us and we would like to pierce the unknown of our mind, if only we could, in order to be reassured as to his safety. Something dreadful must have happened because it is simply ages ago that we expected him to be home! And we look at the clock, and don't believe what it says. Only a quarter of an hour has gone by since we last looked at it - it seems like a couple of hours.

And then, all of a sudden, our wait is over; there are the familiar sounds, so welcome. He has brought some friends along - that probably explains the delay. There is a confusion of greetings, recognition, exclamations, hustle and bustle, followed by an evening of animated talk. It has been several years since we saw our friends last, but when we start reminiscing, the years fell away as an outer garment dropped and forgotten. It does not seem possible that our shared experiences have taken place ten, no, fifteen years ago. How time flies! Children are grown up and married when our memory sees them yet as lanky teenagers; but our friends look hardly changed at all. Come to think of it, we don't feel so much different either although the years have certainly passed.

Another look at the clock - What is wrong with that clock tonight? It couldn't be way past midnight in so short a time! And then we laugh at ourselves and our inconsistencies, and as modern people we know that we have to believe the instrument of time, and not our own sense of time.

Books Added To Elementary Library

Those who attended the 8th annual Library Silver Tea at the High School last Thursday afternoon were pleased to hear about the growth of the Elementary Schools Libraries. Mrs. C. J. Murton, chairman of the Elementary School Library Board welcomed the 75 guests and thanked all who helped to make this worthwhile project such a success. In introducing Mrs. Floyd Hammond she explained that Mrs. Hammond gives generously of her time and patience by seeing that all books are in good condition by keeping the binding and repair work done.

Mrs. Murton then presented Mrs. Mary Shanks, the originator of the school library project. Mrs. Shanks said that she felt quite flattered at being called the originator of this grand idea, but admitted that she had dreamed of it for quite some time before it was started and that she was so happy when Mrs. H. W. Huttenlocher agreed to help follow through. Before too long they had several others interested and after having paper drives for quite a period of time they were proud to have started the Elementary School Library which now has 1500 volumes of good reading available to the boys and girls.

Mrs. Shanks then introduced Mrs. Florence Selden who gave a splendid review of the book "Dear Dorothy Dix" by Harnett T. Kane. In an exceptionally pleasing manner Mrs. Selden told this charming story of the fabulous life of Dorothy Dix.

Tea was served at a beautifully appointed table, the centerpiece of which was an arrangement of yellow and bronze fugi mums, the gift of the Tea Chairman, Mrs. Jack Jyleen. Mrs. Jyleen was assisted by Mrs. Keith Lovrie and Mrs. Harold Bauer. Mrs. Leslie Greene and Mrs. Walter Barrows presided at the table.

A most interesting addition to the program was the display of old books arranged by Mrs. Walter Barrows and an exhibit of over two hundred children's books loaned by Mrs. Florence Boothby of The Old Farm Shop, and arranged by Mrs. Edward Thomson.

About fifty gift books were presented to the Elementary Library at the Tea which was most gratifying to those who have worked so hard to make the Tea a success.

Localite Tells Of European Trip

Perhaps of interest to Clarkston friends was a statement made by Mrs. David Newlands after her return from this last summer abroad.

That Europeans are beginning to believe "That the American way of life is the only logical way to live and have peace" was Mrs. Newlands' noteworthy observation. Mrs. Newlands, who resides here and in Delray Beach, Florida, sailed from New York early last summer for England on her first lap of her tour of Europe.

While in London she had the thrill of seeing the lovely Queen and her two fair-haired children at Buckingham Palace. Mrs. Newlands motored much of the countryside of England and enjoyed especially the tour of the Shakespeare country in the vicinity of Stratford-On-Avon. From London she crossed the North Sea to The Hook in Holland. An outstanding experience in this small country was a boat trip on the Zelder Zee, with a stop at Markim Island.

Belgium was next and then Cologne, from which badly bombed city, Mrs. Newlands made a trip up the Rhine, stopping at Frankfurt, Coblenz, and Heidelberg. A visit to Munich, with journey to Oberammergau, came next on this wonderful tour. The "Passion Play" was, of course, not showing, but the theatre and all of the costumes used were seen.

From Oberammergau, her party went to Innsbruck, in Austria, and a tour of the Austrian Alps. Then to Italy, where Mrs. Newlands enjoyed grand opera in Rome, and had the great honor of an audience with the Pope. In Florence, she was the guest of her old friends, Count and Countess Grossi. Countess Grossi is an American, a girlhood friend.

Other cities visited in Italy were Venice, Naples, Pisa, Perugia, Sorrento, and Genoa. At Naples, trips were made to the ruins of Pompeii, with Vesuvius standing in the background. Other delightful trips were to the Isle of Capri, and the world famous Amalfi Drive.

From Genoa, along the Italian and French Riviera, to Nice and Monte Carlo, was the next trek. Then to Switzerland - Lucerne, Interlaken, and Geneva, with the breath-taking climb of Yungfrau. It was on top of the Yungfrau that Mrs. Newlands spoke to a young American Army Chaplain, only to find that he came from Palm Beach, and was a friend of Dr. W. C. Williams and his family of Delray Beach.

Leaving Switzerland, Paris was the next stop. After much interesting sightseeing, theatres, and shopping, Mrs. Newlands sailed from Le Havre on the "Mauretania" landing in New York in late August.

That everyone is building again and trying to blot out the scars of war, is Mrs. Newlands' opinion of the countries she visited. She was always surprised to see so many American soldiers, sailors and marines on the streets in many of the places where she stayed.

Of her trip, Mrs. Newlands says, "I noticed the hum of industry in all the countries I visited and, in many of the bombed cities the ruins are being leveled and new buildings are going up. Hard work

Wolves Tie For 2nd Place In League

The Clarkston Wolves ended their current football season with a well deserved victory over Clarenceville. Although the home team had several scoring opportunities in the first half, their sluggish attitude and blocking held them back. Clarenceville led 7-0 at half time.

The Clarkston team showed their football mettle the second half, however, Captain Tom Bullen bulled across Clarenceville's goal line twice in the third quarter. Pete Thompson scored one extra point and Don Colton kicked the other. With one minute gone in the last quarter, Harry DeVar bucked over from the three. Don Colton again converted.

Clarenceville finished the evening's scoring with 20 seconds left in the game. Final score, Clarkston 21 and Clarenceville 14.

The Wolves ended the season with nine Seniors in the line-up: Captain Tom Bullen, Ric Huttenlocher, Chuck Robertson, Claude Trimm, Terry Ficusus, Mel Farrar, Gene Younger, Dan Curry and Paul Wilnot. To them we say "Good Luck".

The victory over Clarenceville gave Clarkston a tie with Northville for the second place in the Wayne-Oakland League, and a 4 won, 2 lost, and 2 tied record for the season.

Nice going team. That's a job well done!

Secondary Deer Food

To prevent scenes like this—deer stripping reachable jack pine browse and then slowly losing out to starvation—is the conservation department objective in liberalizing the hunting of deer this fall. Either sex deer can be taken the last three days (Nov. 28-30) of the regular sex season (Nov. 15-30) in the northern lower peninsula. Whitetails prefer ground hemlock, white cedar, hard maple and yellow birch. With these species heavily browsed out, deer turn to jack pine and even less nutritional browse. Spruce, shown on right, is inedible.

Aid In Aging Deer

Deer hunters, planning on stopping at conservation department voluntary highway checking stations, should prop deer jaws open soon after kill is made. This may prevent possible freezing of jaw in closed position. Ralph MacMullan, Houghton Lake experiment station head, shows how jaws can be held open by straddling short, forked stick over the lower jaw with butt wedged against mouth roof. Accurate age is determined mainly by wear and number of teeth. Regular deer season runs November 15-30.

Waterford Township

The Waterford Township Recreation Board will hold a basketball managers' meeting tonight (Thursday), Nov. 20, at the Recreation office in the Community Activities building on Williams Lake Road. Games will be played on Mondays and teams will start practicing on Monday, Dec. 1st. Anyone interested in entering a team in the Men's Basketball League should attend this meeting.

The Waterford Township Recreation Board will start several activities in the next few weeks. Square dancing will be held every Monday from 8 to 10 P. M. in the Community Activities building. There are five lessons in the series. William Spalding will be the instructor and Mrs. Ralph Haan will be at the piano. Those interested in registering for this first class are asked to call the Recreation office OR 3-9152. Classes will start on Monday, Nov. 24.

Archery, a big program, started Nov. 18th in the gym from 7 to 8 P. M. There is a beginner's period with lessons and equipment available for rent. Team shooting competition period will be held from 8 to 10:30 P. M. There will be four persons on a team and each archer will have a handicap to equalize those with different degrees of ability. A team made up of a family with the wife and children shooting will have an equal opportunity against experienced archers. The actual team shooting will not begin until December. Teams are expected from all the archery clubs in this area. It is first come, first serve, on this program because only 20 teams can be accommodated and several are already registered. For information call OR 3-9152.

The newly-formed Young Men's Athletic Club which meets every Thursday evening in the Community Activities building has been given Wednesday evening also.

The men and boys have a strenuous program of weight lifting, tumbling, boxing, wrestling, and table tennis under the direction of Jack Hackett. The program has been very well attended which points out the need for this activity for young men. It is hoped that the extra evening exercise will give those boys who are going out for the golden gloves boxing tournament a better chance to get into condition. The boys are also planning a boxing show of their own to be presented to the public at a later date.

Ballet lessons for pre-school children, both boys and girls, 3 to 5 years of age, began Wednesday from 9:30 to 10:30 A. M. in the C. A. I. building. Mrs. Pat Wolfe is the instructor and Mrs. Haan is the pianist. These are the same type lessons that are given to 198 girls every Saturday morning. 15 pre-school youngsters have already registered at the Recreation Office.

Women's Gym Class also started Wednesday from 10 to 12 A. M. Mrs. William Terry is the instructor for this program. Approximately 50 ladies participated in this program last year. The ladies play volleyball, badminton, basketball, dodgeball, and other games to keep fit and have fun. Registration is not necessary for this program.

Recreation Director, William Terry, says "Let's everyone get behind your recreation program and come out and enjoy yourself, they say that nothing brings on old age quicker than the stay-at-home habit. Don't be a glued-to-a-TV armchair. Any occasion that brings people together can be made an exciting event. You meet old friends, and make new ones, and enjoy a fine program together. It's a community venture, let's support it!"

Test Drive it at your Ford Dealer's

For years the expensive cars always had the edge in style and advanced features. This year Ford changed all that with trend-setting innovations that have left the others years behind! It's true—the only cars that approach Ford's quality and design cost hundreds of dollars more. Take Ford's lower, wider body with its curved one-piece windshield and car-wide rear window. Take the bump-free, big-car ride you get with Ford's new Automatic Ride Control. Consider the go-packed high-compression power you find in Ford's 110-h.p. Strato-Star V-8 or 101-h.p. Mileage Maker Six. And, remember that only Ford in its field gives you so wide a choice of model, color and upholstery combinations. Test Drive this Ford and you'll never pay more.

Two-tone colors illustrated, white sidewall tires optional at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

CLARKSTON ELEMENTARY

1st Grade—Miss Rathbun
The first grade has been working on an Indian Unit. We have read stories about Indian children. We then drew pictures about the Indians that we read and talked about.

4th Grade—Miss Baehand
We have completed our work on Eskimos. Each person wrote several questions for a quiz show. Elaine Groven and Betty Sarvis were the captains of the teams.

The teams were well matched. Elaine's team won by only two points.

Some of the girls have dressed little dolls as Eskimos. Several children have carved harpoons and kayaks, Eskimo boats.

1st Grade

The third grade read the first graders the story of "The Golden Pears". Then the next day the first graders were ready to see the play "The Golden Pears" given by the third grade.

6th Grade - by Kay Vliet

In geography we are studying Central America. The class is divided into groups, each group represents a country.

In arithmetic we have been studying decimals.

We have been writing poetry.

Norman Powell wrote this poem:

"I am proud to be in a land that is free,
With God's beauty all around for me to see—
Birds, flowers, and trees,
And the noisy sound of the busy bee.
I can roam and wander as much as I like,
And enjoy a wonderful ride on my bike
To say 'hello' to my friend named Mike,
To wonder if the next president will be Stevenson or Ike."

4th Grade - Miss Baehand

We are sorry to learn that Gary Lumm is in the hospital. We each made a card for him and we hope he will soon be well.

In geography we are studying about Eskimos.

2nd Grade - Mrs. Landon

In our reading book "Friends and Neighbors" is a story "A Pie for Billy Goat". We liked it so well that we made a movie of it.

On Friday, we showed it for the third grade.

On one of our bulletin boards we have a large cornucopia. We are cutting fruits and vegetables to fill it.

From the story "The First Thanksgiving" we are working out an Indian project.

4th Grade - Mrs. Rowley

Some of us are having quite a time learning how to address a letter properly. However, we believe we have conquered it and our letters will look well when we drop them in the post office.

Thanksgiving is in our thoughts these days and we already have put up some decorations. We are reading about the Pilgrims and the First Thanksgiving.

FARM PONDS

These past few months I have visited a number of farms where the owner desired to know whether or not, he could successfully dig a farm pond. There are two principal qualifications for a farm pond—first, that you have a permanent water table supplied by some nearby lake. Second, if you depend on storage of surface water, that you have a clay sub-layer to give 3 feet of clay for the bottom to hold the water. Only one of these qualifications is necessary.

There is a way that you can determine for yourself whether or not your location is suitable for a pond. Dig several holes 6 or 8 feet deep around the depression that you have chosen for the pond. If you cannot dig them with a shovel, use a post hole digger and observe the water levels in these holes during the dry season of the year. If the depression is dry, dig down through the profile to determine if you have sufficient clay to hold water.

After you have made these preliminary observations, I would be glad to help you with any further planning.

The cafeteria will be in operation Monday, Nov. 17.

The motion was made by Tom Bullen and seconded that the secretary write a letter of appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Brown and the Rotary Club. The motion was carried.

Respectfully submitted
Virginia Demski,
secretary

Sunday School 11:00 A. M. Sunday Service 11:00 A. M. Wednesday Evening Service 8:00 Reading Room at rear of Church, open Wednesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 P. M.

How everyone may have a healthful body is shown in the Lesson-Sermon to be read on Sunday, November 23, in all Christian Science churches, under the subject of "Soul and Body".

The Golden Text is from Psalms (84:2): "May soul lengthen, yea, fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my heart and flesh crieth for the living God".

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (1 John 3:2): "Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is".

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The material body and mind are temporal, but the real man is spiritual and eternal." (p.302)

AKLAND COUNTY EXTENSION SERVICE NEWS

by Mrs. Josephine Lawver Home Demonstration Agent

AUTOMATIC CLOTHES DRYER

The automatic clothes dryer gets a big hand as a time and labor saver from Elaine Knowles Weaver and Margaret Thomas. The Ohio Experiment Station reports their study of outdoor drying versus dryer-drying.

"Automatic clothes dryers, which first appeared on the market in 1946, have become the fastest selling major appliance in the household equipment industry," they state. "Today dryers are in more than a million and a half homes and are being manufactured under 17 or more brand names."

The reasons, they believe, are the labor-saving and convenience features of these appliances. They save time and effort of carrying heavy baskets of wet clothes and of reaching, stretching, bending and stooping at the clothes line. Furthermore, they allow clothes to be dried in any weather without being exposed to wind, freezing, soot, smoke, dust or other outdoor hazards. Napped items—like chenille bedspreads, corduroys or terry cloth robes—come out of the dryer ready to use or wear without ironing.

Manufacturers of late models of dryers have made arrangements for vents to carry out from the dryer the lint, heat and moisture which has been found objectionable in some homes.

The Ohio tests, aimed at answering housewives' questions about dryers, were made with loads of six representative household and clothing items. After washing and rinsing, they were dried outdoors in semi-shade, and in both gas and electric dryers.

The lint that appears in traps of dryers had led many women to believe dryers were hard on clothes. The specialists point out that in outdoor drying this lint from cotton and linen blows away in the air. Washing causes more wear on clothes than the dryer does. Sheets, broad cloth shirts, pillow slips, rayon and nylon slips, linen towels, and cotton dress goods lost less strength when dried in a dryer, but items with considerable nap such as terry cloth towels and diapers, lost more than those dried outdoors.

Sunshine, traditionally thought necessary for whitening clothes, was a frequent argument made. But the tests showed that white items dried in the dryer 50 times were as white as those dried outdoors. However, unless clothes are well washed, neither line or dryer-drying can perform miracles in getting them white, the specialists say.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to express our most grateful thanks and appreciation to all of our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness and thoughtfulness shown us at this time. To the Clarkston business men, the Royal Neighbors and the Methodist Church for the beautiful floral pieces our sincere thanks; also our grateful thanks to the ladies who served the lunch and to Father Delaney for his comforting sermon. We assure you these many kindnesses will never be forgotten.

Nora Leonard
Marjorie Borst
Frank Shaughnessy

As for holding color and preventing fading, here the dryer excels, the study showed. In drying, all colors—even those washed 50 times in hot detergent water—remained deep and clear except one unstable blue dye. But all items faded in the outdoor drying, even though they were in partial shade.

Shrinkage was the only factor where outdoor drying might be considered superior to dryer-drying, the report states.

Appreciation

My sincere thanks are extended to all those who remembered me with cards and good wishes while I was in the hospital.

Bella Boyens

Appreciation

Mr. and Mrs. William Parker, of East Washington St., parents of Paula Parker who has been a patient at Pontiac General Hospital for the past three weeks, wish to thank all of the organizations and friends for their many gestures of thoughtfulness.

Card Of Thanks

We extend our sincere appreciation to all of our friends for beautiful floral tributes and other expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement.
