Holiday Blue For The Kids—It's New!

Say "Christmas" to your youngsters and see the big smiles, the vision of dreams-come-true in their eyes! Say "Let's decorate for Christmas" and see how they'll love you for letting them realize one dream so quickly—a chance to show their abilities, a chance to participate in an important family project. Give them a bowlful of lovely blue suds made from head-bluing and your young fry will be all set to make the house gay with a merry-blue that blends with ANY other color.

Here two young artists are putting the finishing touches on a picture of window. Sister is painting the "welwel" candle with tiny bouquets of holly and little brother is fingering the version of Santa and the reminder so that passers-by on the street will enjoy the gay silhouette.

The formula for the easy to use, easy to remove blue suds they're using is simple, the ingredients readily available: Just take a cup of bluing beads and mix with a quarter cup water to a soft foamy suds. Use a paint brush and lightly touch the tips of any Christmas-greens for a bright, jeweled effect. Decorate colored or white candles to suit your holiday theme. Touch up old tree ornaments, dip strings of popped corn... you'll think of dozens of ways to use this versatile blue!

For a special sparkle, sprinkle on bright silver or gold dust from the dime store while the "paint" is still wet.

Bluing mixture left over? Give it a chance to do the work for which it was originally intended—add it to the hot wash water next wash day. Once you have made this a habit, you will be as happy about the whiteness and brightness of your clothes, as all the family will be over the beauty of these same bluing beads in making novel Christmas decorations!

WATCH FOOD BUYING TO CUT FOOD COSTS

Holiday food costs may go zooming up in your family if you don't check your food buying habits carefully, warns Fayé Kinder of the Michigan State College foods and nutrition department.

For instance, do you use reconstituted dry milk solids for some or all of the milk consumption in your family? If not, you are missing an opportunity to save money while providing your family with inexpensive milk. Do you take care to buy inexpensive fats such as lard for cooking?

When you are pondering in front of the meat counter, do a little mental calculation and figure how many servings a pound or piece of meat will make. Figure up mentally how much the meat or fish will cost per person.

Miss Kinder points out that buying in-season foods is wise. When fresh oranges are in abundant supply, buy them fresh and when not, buy canned or frozen orange juice. Following this suggestion will mean keeping track of plentiful and less expensive foods in your markets at all times of the year.

Be cautious about buying "ready-made" foods. The price paid for them includes a lot of service and packaging which lifts the price all out of proportion to the cost of the food itself.

Finally, be alert to save even a few cents, stresses Miss Kinder. A few cents each time you go to market will amount to a pretty big sum by the end of the year.

HOUSE DUST OFTEN CAUSE OF ASTHMA U-M DOCTOR SAYS

Wheezing and coughing during the winter time are usually due to an allergic illness similar to hay fever, but caused by house dust instead of pollen, according to a University of Michigan allergy specialist.

Most hay fever and asthma sufferers experience their discomfort during the pollen seasons of spring, summer and fall. Dr. Robert G. Lovell, instructor in internal medicine and assistant in the University Health Service allergy clinic, says:

But he explains that there is still another batch of "wheezers" who pick up where the pollen "sneezers" leave off.

It is easy to understand why there is plenty of dust in the home during the late fall and winter, he explains. Furnaces are on, windows generally closed, blankets and quilts are added to bedding, and household pets usually remain indoors longer periods of time during cold weather.

Dr. Lovell asserts that often these dust-sensitive persons are unaware that it's this allergy to house dust that's causing their trouble.

Fortunately, the modern physician suspects asthma when he hears a case history such as this, he says. The doctor usually is able to establish the diagnosis with some simple skin tests and to recommend measures which often bring complete relief.

People with winter asthma, in many cases, develop additional sensitivities, making the diagnosis and treatment of their condition much more difficult, Dr. Lovell adds.

All persons with shortness of breath should be attended by a competent physician, he advises.

MAKE PLANS NOW FOR CHRISTMAS

Make your good resolutions of years past stick this time. Start RIGHT NOW making your plans for Christmas, urges Dorothy Grey of the Michigan State College home management department.

As a prescription against ending up on Christmas Day nervous and frazzled, Miss Grey makes some concrete suggestions.

Hold a conference with yourself now. Write down the persons on your Christmas-gift list and possible suggestions for each one. Estimate costs. Make sure you know color preferences and sizes. Miss Grey tells of one family in which mothers each year exchange detailed lists including size and color data for all family members. That eliminates the after-Christmas-return blues.

After the line of attack is decided, start to do the shopping. Or, if the prices have soared way out of reason for your list, start to make gifts. But remember, Miss Grey stressed, that busy homemakers should not try to do too much themselves in the relatively short time until Christmas.

Shop on week days and avoid crowds. Spend a day downtown just looking and doing some comparative shopping. Don't try to do it all at once. And don't be worried about having to get home to prepare dinner. Have something ready to pop into the oven.

Miss Grey suggests getting your Christmas cards out early. Address a few each day.

Following these suggestions will mean you will have more time to enjoy the Christmas season.

TRIPS TO MOON OLD STUFF SAYS U-M PUBLICATION

All this modern talk about trips to the moon actually is old stuff.

For, according to the current issue of the Classical Courier, published by the University of Michigan Department of Classical Studies, one of the first recorded flights to the moon was made centuries ago.

The publication reminds its readers that they may get more information on the flight by consulting Lucian's "True History", a piece of Greek science-fiction written in the 2nd century but no less inventive than today's science-fiction stories.

Ancient thrill-writer, Lucian, the U-M publication states, made a totally unplanned voyage, for his ship was suddenly caught in a whirlwind and carried into the air. A gentle breeze filled the sails of the vessel and in seven days he found himself on the moon.

Lucian's account claimed that "the moon folk are marsupials, carrying their young about in pouches like kangaroos. Their ears are of wood or of the leaves of trees. They have eyes which they can remove or insert at will.

"Complete social justice, it seems, has not been attained, because the rich own more such eyes than the poor, and they wear soft robes of glass, while the poor go about clothed in woven bronze. All drink a dew-like beverage made by squeezing air into a cup, and for more solid nourishment they roast flying frogs and inhale the smoke.

"On the moon", Lucian goes on to say, "there is a shallow well covered with a mirror. If you step down into the well you can hear everything that is being said on earth, while by looking into the mirror you can see all of its cities and peoples."

Lucian concludes this description with the words, "Whoever doubts that these are the facts will find, if he goes there himself, that I am telling the truth."

GOOD CROP ROTATION PAYS OFF

Alfred Jenkins, Route 2, Milford, has shown that a five year soil building rotation of corn, oats, (alfalfa 3 years) is paying off in greater yields. Jenkins began a sound plan of crop rotation a few years ago with the assistance of Farmers Home Administration and Soil Conservation Service and has produced a corn yield of 73.3 bushels of shelled corn per acre. This yield was checked and verified by O. W. Moore, Farmers Home Administration Supervisor and Robert Coons, Soil Conservation Service Technician. The Oakland County 10 year average for corn is approximately 35 bushels per acre.

Farmers Home Administration aids farmer cooperators with farm management and financial assistance and Soil Conservation Service provides technical assistance with soil management, drainage, and other problems of land use.

Farmers Home Administration is located at 318 Hubbard Building, Pontiac, and Soil Conservation Service is at 1260 West Blvd.

If you're a honey fancier you'll love this delectable topping for apple cobbler or hot gingerbread. First, cream 1/2 cup vitaminized margarine with 1 cup sifted confectioners sugar. Then add 2 tablespoons honey and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Chill before serving.

Don't forget to close snap fasteners and zippers before putting garments containing them into the tub or washing machine. Protects them from being bent during the washing and wringing process.

TRIPS FOR 4-H YOUTH

Instruction and experience in conserving Michigan's natural resources will come to 150 4-H boys and girls through a new conservation program announced today at Michigan State College by A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H Club leader.

Boys and girls who have completed at least a year-long program in the 4-H conservation project will be eligible to participate in local competition and earn a trip to a state conservation camp, Kettunen said. Previously only boys could attend such a camp.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company and Michigan Independent Telephone Association are sponsoring the camp, including transportation to and from, and living expenses while there. In addition, medals will be presented to conservation project winners in each county and a boy and girl in the state will earn an expense-paid trip to the national 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

The new program will be entirely supervised by the state 4-H Club office, Kettunen said. Michigan Bell plans to spend more than $3,000 annually on the program.

Definite plans have not been set for the annual conservation camp. At present about 75 boys attend a week of conservation camp at Chatham in Upper Peninsula. An equal number of girls may earn a trip to the camp when the new program gets under way in 1953.

"State 4-H Club officials believe the conservation project to be one of the most important," Kettunen said. "The program brings economic benefits to the entire state."

HEAVY WHEAT OVER WINTER WITH MANURE
 Lack of soil moisture until mid-November is sending a lot of late-planted wheat into winter in poor condition. Heavy winter injury may develop from freezing and heaving, warns E. D. Longnecker, extension soils scientist at Michigan State College.

 Some farmers have taken steps to protect the scanty top growth and root development by covering the thinner spots in wheat fields with stable manure while ground was dry. This light blanket of manure cuts freezing and heaving damage, explains Longnecker, as well as providing extra plant food, particularly nitrogen—which may be needed. It improves soil moisture conditions by lessening evaporation and increasing water intake during heavy rains.
 Farmers still can reduce winter harm. If soil is dry enough to hold the spreader—or if not now, when ground freezes—they should start top-dressing their wheat fields with stable manure. If manure is not available by early winter, nitrogen next spring should help offset part of winter's damage.

A week for everything! Now a tuna week—which prompts me to give you a delicious tuna paté recipe. Grind a 7-oz. can of tuna fish with 6 slices of crisp bacon. Stir in 6 tablespoons real mayonnaise, 2 tsp. lemon juice, a few drops of Tabasco and 1/4 tsp. salt. Mold and chill thoroughly. Serve with crackers.

 Choose perfume to reflect the real you. Are you feminine as lace and chiffon, or the tweedy type, or pert and spicy, or sophisticated? There are perfumes for every type, so sniff them carefully before purchasing.

 Roll out pastry dough between two pieces of heavy waxed paper. Saves flouring a board and rolling pin, also washing up afterward.

 This French toast variation is scrumptious for luncheon or supper. Beat 1 cup milk, 3 eggs, 1/4 tsp. salt and 1/4 c. vitaminized margarine together. Dip slices of bread in mixture and on a greased cookie sheet broil on one side. Turn and top with slices of cheese and broil till cheese bubbles. Serve with a selection of jams and jellies.

 For holiday feasts you naturally want to set your table prettily as well as bountifully. A colored table cloth gives a touch of glamour. To get just the right shade for your china, you can quickly and easily and economically tint an old, but spotless, white cloth with all-purpose dye in the washing machine.

Now is a good time to take stock of the spate in your home freezer. With poultry prices reasonable at this time of year it may be a good time to add a few birds to your freezer supply.
