Rotary Club News

Mrs. Mildred Bennett, Oakland County Chairman of the American Red Cross, was the speaker at the Rotary Club meeting on Monday evening. Her talk was an explanation of why the Red Cross would need more money this year. It seems it has been found that blood plasma, properly processed, can prevent, to some extent, the paralyzing effect of polio and the Red Cross has been asked to prepare huge quantities this year in preparation for a possible large number of polio patients this year.

A fine dinner was prepared and served by Mrs. Rolfe Smith, assisted by Mrs. L. I. Coon, Mrs. Merle Bennett, Mrs. George Perry, Mrs. Sam Miller, Mrs. Charles O. Lanning and Mrs. Ralph Thayer.

Mrs. Leslie Greene Hostess to Circle

The Martha Circle of the Methodist W. S. C. S. met on Thursday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. Leslie Greene on Holcomb Street. Mrs. George Perry was the co-hostess. A very lovely dessert was served at 12:30. The afternoon meeting was opened with devotions by Mrs. L. I. Coon. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Rolfe Smith.

The Marthas will meet with the other circles for the quarterly meeting at the church in March and the next regular meeting of the Circle will be at the home of Mrs. A. E. Butters on April 9th.

Clarkston Local

Mrs. Charles Torr and son, Chris, are spending a couple of weeks in Florida.

Brotherhood of Man

God in His kindness, for one to the other,
Created each man in the world as a brother.
Each spirit was formed by His Holy Hand
Before they were sent to inhabit our land.
The spirit of man, that most people don't see,
Is the real true expression of you and of me.
The flesh that we wear was created from earth,
And few paltry pennies would pay for its worth.
The value don't change by the color of skin
Or the kind of a house we're found living in.
These bodies of flesh from father and mother
Do not signify that man is your brother.
So let us all face the true facts as they are,
That brothers in spirit are scattered afar.
According to plans that our God has laid out,
And man in his world can do nothing about.
I'm sure that our love should flow from us like wine
To each spirit, God made and fondly entwined
Around them in trouble, our support to lend,
Recognizing each being as brother and friend.
The word has been given to man from above.
Our enemies need the impact of our love.
Let us do what we can in molding our fate
By sending out love to extinguish all hate.

Wolves Defeated In Overtime Play

By David Barber

The Clarkston Wolves minus their star center, Tom Bullen, lost to the Clarenceville Trojans Friday night in the first overtime game of the season. Ronald Schorber took scoring honors with 23 points, six of them being free throws.

The Trojans took the tip off from center and took a quick 5-0 lead in the first quarter. Ronald Schorber made the "Wolves" first 6 points four of them being free throws. Clarenceville then led 11 to 7, but the "Wolves" kept fighting back to take the lead at the end of the quarter 12-11.

Starting the second quarter, the Wolves picked up a free throw to lead 13-11 but two baskets by Killeen of the Trojans put them in the lead 15-13 as they went on to lead 28-24 at halftime.

In the third quarter baskets by Schebor, Ric Huttenlocher and Pete Thompson cut the lead to 2 points as Clarenceville led 42-40 at the end of the third quarter.

The last quarter was when the fireworks took place as the Wolves kept fighting and with the Trojans leading 57-55 with but 12 seconds left in the game there was a three shot technical against the Trojans. Ric Huttenlocher made his two free throws to tie the game at 57 apiece. Bill Dunston had a golden opportunity to win the game with his free throw but missed. The game then went into overtime.

The Trojans made the first basket but P. Thompson tied it with a basket at 59 apiece. Then a basket by Evans of the Trojans made it 61-59. Bill Dunston's free throw cut their lead to 1 point. Ric Huttenlocher fouled out against Killeen as he made both of his free throws to end the scoring at 63-60.

The Junior Wolves went on a scoring spurge as Bob Yahne collected 17 points to beat the Junior Trojans 50-35. It was their 9th win as against 2 losses.

Clarkston's next league game is away at Brighton this Friday, February 13th. The win would probably put us in a tie for first place along with Brighton, Northville and Milford.

Former Merchant Passes Away

Services were held at the Sharpe Funeral Home in Clarkston on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock for Byron T. Beardlee, 83, of 73 N. Holcomb St. Mr. Beardlee passed away on Friday evening of last week after a long illness. The Reverend Walter Ballagh of Lake Orion officiated and interment was in Lakeview cemetery.

Surviving besides his widow, Inez Mae, are three daughters, Mrs. Ruth A. Beckman of Lapeer, Mrs. Helen M. Beckman of Milford and Mrs. Harriet Miller of Los Angeles, California; one brother, John, of Milan, Mich.; eight grandchildren and twelve great grandchildren.

Byron T. Beardlee was born the son of Franklin and Amanda Beardlee at the Old Piney, 2 miles south and west of Oxford, Michigan, on August 4, 1869. This was back in the days when this section was all woods.

At the age of two his parents moved to the Owen Farm on the Saginaw Trail, now known as the Dixie Highway. At fourteen years of age he started to work for Inez Mae, in their general store in Clarkston. From here he went to Holly to work in the general store of Frank, Marks & Frank. In a year or two he went to Springport, Mich., to work for Mrs. Eddie Urch's uncle, Mr. Roberts and it was there in 1891 that he became a member of the Springport Lodge, No. 284, F. & A. M. In 1893 he was made a Master Mason.

In 1892 he returned to Clarkston and was married at The Violet House to Inez Mae Warner, who at the time was living with Mr. and Mrs. William Violet. The Violet House is now known as Green Acres. Following their marriage they settled in Pontiac and Mr. Beardlee worked for the C. W. Horton Drygoods Co. and later for Green & Magee and Church & Linabury, all drygoods and ready-to-wear stores. In 1902, with I. M. Beattie and Edwin Harron, he bought out the Green & Magee business and they formed the partnership of Beardlee, Harron & Beattie.

In 1908 Beardlee, Harron & Beattie sold the business and Mr. Beardlee with his family moved back to Clarkston. He opened a general store on the corner where the Jossman store had been and continued in this business until the time of World War I when he sold out.

In the meantime Mr. Beardlee had taken over the management of his father's Lumber, Fuel, Supplies Company and later bought it. For many years under the name of Miller & Beardlee he and his son-in-law operated the lumber yard on Holcomb Street.

Mr. Beardlee was a member and served as trustee of the Congregational Church in Pontiac. He lived by the Golden Rule and so made many warm friends who will always remember him as a good father, a kind friend and an honest business man.

By The Way . . .

Now and then in the rush of putting a newspaper "to bed" ye editor sets the presses to rolling, publishes a paper, then wakes up to realize that he has fallen by the wayside and missed an item of news that was exceptionally interesting. As an illustration: A week ago Monday the superintendent of schools, Leslie Greene, gave an enlightening talk on education from centuries ago to the present day. His remark that Socrates complained that the young students of his day could neither read, write nor spell sounded like the modern version of what the boys and girls with "snow in their hair" think of our modern students. He displayed a geographic published in 1844—a book about 5 by 7 inches and a half, inch thick—which gave all the facts about the known universe as of that time. He then compared that book with a volume 9 by 12 inches and an inch thick which concerned only two countries in South America, to show what the students of today had to study. The talk was so well presented that the members wondered if what they knew today had not been added to what they knew when they graduated making them better students than perhaps they were. Unfortunately the dinner committee was compelled on notes, now mislaid but one fact remains in our mind: Supervisor Floyd Andrews and Roy Conrad served the coffee, vice-president Rudy Schwarze acted as President in the absence of Ed Rummler. . . . Friday evening this community lost one of its older and better known former business men, one Byron T. Beardlee. Loved by all that knew him, "B. T." was known for his fair dealing, his love for his church and his consideration for his fellow man. He had been confined to his home recently by illness but many were interested enough in his welfare to ask about his condition.

Drayton Plains

Members of The Exchange Club of Drayton Plains, have signified their intention of attending in a body the 10:30 A. M. Service of Morning Prayer of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, meeting at the C. A. I. Bldg, 5640 Williams Lake Road, Sunday, February 15th. This action is taken in connection with the observance by the club of National Crime Prevention Week sponsored by Exchange Clubs throughout the nation.

Rev. W. R. Hunt, Vicar of St. Andrew's Chapel pointed out when notified of this decision by the club that it was a most appropriate Sunday. The Scriptures appointed to be read on the Sunday before Lent include the famous description of Love given in the 13th Chapter of St. Paul's First Epistle or Letter to the Corinthians. The Pre-Lenten Theme of Sermons has been— "Discipline of a Christian Soldier"—"Resources of a Christian Soldier" and Sunday February 15th—"Weapons of a Christian Soldier"—of which the chief one is that of the most needed and most affective weapon in crime prevention is CHRISTIAN LOVE.

There will be special music marking the theme of the Sunday. The general public is cordially invited.

Mr. Hunt pointed out further that the theme of Sermons during Sundays in Lent is to be "Factors of Personal Religion." Sunday Feb. 22nd, "Surrender to An Understanding Captain"; March 1st, "The Power of Penitence"; March 8th, "What Kind of Love Do I Want?"; March 15th, "What Jesus Taught About Prayer"; March 22nd, "That Invisible Hand On Our Shoulder"; March 29th, "What About Death?"; and April 5th, "Contemplation of New Life".

Clothing Crusade Opens Today

The local school children will go on a crusade—a full-fledged children's crusade. Instead of weapons they will carry bundles of clothing. Their goal: to help provide sturdy, warm, clean clothing for needy children in America and overseas.

The local drive is part of Save the Children Federation's Eleventh Annual Nation-wide "Children's Clothing Crusade," which is conducted in public schools throughout the United States under the auspices of the Federation's National Advisory Committee of School Superintendents.

The clothing collected will be used to aid children and families in Korea, six war-depleted countries of Europe, in Lebanon, and in disadvantaged rural areas of the United States, including the Navajo and Papago Indian Reservations.

"In Europe the children are still suffering from the ravages of war. The need in Korea is even more urgent. Five million victims of Communist aggression in Korea have been torn from their homes. They have only rags in which to clothe themselves."

Federation officials present these pointers for clothing givers who want to be sure their clothing will do the most good.

Most needed is warm clothing—heavy underwear, wool skirts, suits, sweaters and coats. Bundle Week clothing goes to people whose first need is warmth—not style. If the clothing is warm, even adult sizes can be cut down and gratefully used.

Children's shoes are next in importance. Even though scuffed, America's outgrown shoes still have miles of use left in them. Here again adult sizes can be used. However, high-heeled women's shoes are of no use either to mothers or children in areas served by the Federation, and should not be included.

Babies' clothing is in constant demand. Diapers, crib blankets, night shirts, warm sweaters and undershirts are especially needed.

It is important to have all clothing gifts clean and in as good repair as possible "because these gifts will be symbols of new hope to many needy children."

Save the Children Federation urges all local citizens to join in the clothing crusade, either by sending a bundle of used clothing to school or by contributing a dollar or two to help defray the cost of collecting, reconditioning and sorting the clothing for distribution. Cash contributions may be sent to National Headquarters, Save the Children Federation, 80 Eighth Avenue, New York City, has set its goal at $50.00.

The youth of the congregation will participate in the morning worship service by conducting the opening and closing liturgy; reading the scripture lessons, serving as ushers, and singing special music. The following members will have special parts in the service: Dennis Johnson, Gary Walt, Larry Grover, Jim Elliott, Jim Wager, Kathryn Crothers, and Suzanne Cline. Sandra Williams will be the youth organizer and the youth choir will sing the anthem, "Make me a Captive, Lord." Pastor Anderson will preach the sermon on the theme, "Which generation shall we worry about?"

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Peterson are counselors for the Luther League group.

At 7:30 P. M. a special program will be presented for the congregation and community. It is a fellowship service entitled, "Christ Makes men free." Several scenes depicting youth work will be included. Youth taking part are: Ty Holland, Jeannine McCaffrey, Larry Peck, Susan Harris, Jean Lilimatta, Mary Peterson, Judy Kolar, Gerald Adams, Helen Jepson, Dick Hirsheisen, Dave Latta, Dave Cox, Dave Carter, Allan Olson, Betty Brill, Nancy Lamber-ton and Sally Bahm.

Several members of the Board of Administration of the church will also participate.

A current project of the Luther League is raising money for an "On to Boston" fund which will enable some of the group to attend the International Lutheran Youth Convention in Boston in June.

The following members will have special parts in the service: Dennis Johnson, Gary Walt, Larry Grover, Jim Elliott, Jim Wager, Kathryn Crothers, and Suzanne Cline. Sandra Williams will be the youth organizer and the youth choir will sing the anthem, "Make me a Captive, Lord." Pastor Anderson will preach the sermon on the theme, "Which generation shall we worry about?"

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Peterson are counselors for the Luther League group.

At 7:30 P. M. a special program will be presented for the congregation and community. It is a fellowship service entitled, "Christ Makes men free." Several scenes depicting youth work will be included. Youth taking part are: Ty Holland, Jeannine McCaffrey, Larry Peck, Susan Harris, Jean Lilimatta, Mary Peterson, Judy Kolar, Gerald Adams, Helen Jepson, Dick Hirsheisen, Dave Latta, Dave Cox, Dave Carter, Allan Olson, Betty Brill, Nancy Lamber-ton and Sally Bahm.

Several members of the Board of Administration of the church will also participate.

Former Merchant Passes Away

Services were held at the Sharpe Funeral Home in Clarkston on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock for Byron T. Beardlee, 83, of 73 N. Holcomb St. Mr. Beardlee passed away on Friday evening of last week after a long illness. The Reverend Walter Ballagh of Lake Orion officiated and interment was in Lakeview cemetery.

Surviving besides his widow, Inez Mae, are three daughters, Mrs. Ruth A. Beckman of Lapeer, Mrs. Helen M. Beckman of Milford and Mrs. Harriet Miller of Los Angeles, California; one brother, John, of Milan, Mich.; eight grandchildren and twelve great grandchildren.

Byron T. Beardlee was born the son of Franklin and Amanda Beardlee at the Old Piney, 2 miles south and west of Oxford, Michigan, on August 4, 1869. This was back in the days when this section was all woods.

At the age of two his parents moved to the Owen Farm on the Saginaw Trail, now known as the Dixie Highway. At fourteen years of age he started to work for Inez Mae, in their general store in Clarkston. From here he went to Holly to work in the general store of Frank, Marks & Frank. In a year or two he went to Springport, Mich., to work for Mrs. Eddie Urch's uncle, Mr. Roberts and it was there in 1891 that he became a member of the Springport Lodge, No. 284, F. & A. M. In 1893 he was made a Master Mason.

In 1892 he returned to Clarkston and was married at The Violet House to Inez Mae Warner, who at the time was living with Mr. and Mrs. William Violet. The Violet House is now known as Green Acres. Following their marriage they settled in Pontiac and Mr. Beardlee worked for the C. W. Horton Drygoods Co. and later for Green & Magee and Church & Linabury, all drygoods and ready-to-wear stores. In 1902, with I. M. Beattie and Edwin Harron, he bought out the Green & Magee business and they formed the partnership of Beardlee, Harron & Beattie.

In 1908 Beardlee, Harron & Beattie sold the business and Mr. Beardlee with his family moved back to Clarkston. He opened a general store on the corner where the Jossman store had been and continued in this business until the time of World War I when he sold out.

In the meantime Mr. Beardlee had taken over the management of his father's Lumber, Fuel, Supplies Company and later bought it. For many years under the name of Miller & Beardlee he and his son-in-law operated the lumber yard on Holcomb Street.

Mr. Beardlee was a member and served as trustee of the Congregational Church in Pontiac. He lived by the Golden Rule and so made many warm friends who will always remember him as a good father, a kind friend and an honest business man.

Deer Repellent Tests

Hungry deer cause much damage to Michigan's fruit and grain crops each year and many attempts have been made to halt this loss. To date, none has been very effective. The conservation department, seeking an answer to this problem, is running deer feeding tests at the Houghton Lake wildlife experiment station. Penned deer are fed a normal diet, half of which is sprayed with various chemical repellents. An inexpensive repellent would mean much saving to Michigan's farmers and orchard owners. Here Ted Herman, aide at the station, offers a fawn a bushel of the feed.

CLARKSTON TIES FOR SECOND PLACE IN DEBATE LEAGUE

Last week the final two debate tournaments of the Wayne-Oakland League were held.

The first of these was held at Clarkston. Two debates were held before 6th hour classes. The senior orientation class heard one debate between Northville and Clarenceville, while the 6th hour world history class heard a debate between Holly's affirmative and Clarkston's negative team. Clarkston won this contest.

Three other debates were held after school. In this round Clarkston's affirmative team was victorious over Millford's negative team. Clarkston's affirmative team was Ginny Demski and Terry Brown. Our negative team was Pat Tisch and Carol Kuklaw.

The same four debaters represented Clarkston in the last debate tournament which was held Thursday at Northville. Our negative team was victorious over Clarenceville while our affirmative team lost to Northville. Thus the official debate season ended with Northville in first place followed by Clarkston and Clarenceville who were tied for second place. In order to determine which of these two teams would go on into the elimination tournament Clarkston had to meet Clarenceville in one extra debate. This contest was held at Clarenceville. Clarkston's negative team, Pat Tisch and Carol Kuklaw debated since their names were drawn from the hat. Clarkston lost on a 2-1 decision. Dr. George Bohman head of Wayne's Graduate Speech Department voted for Clarkston while Ken Gustafson, graduate student in speech at Wayne and William Drummond, former Wayne instructor, voted for Clarenceville.

LAKE ORION BEATS CLARKSTON

After playing an even term for the first three periods Clarkston lost to Lake Orion in the final period last Tuesday, 69 - 61. It was the highest score against the Wolves this year.

Ron Schebor led the Wolves with 13 points, while Tom Bullen chipped in with 12. Pokorney of Lake Orion took scoring honors with 25 points.

Lake Orion started off with a 5-0 lead within the first two minutes but Clarkston bounced back to lead 14 - 10 at the end of the first quarter. During the second period Lake Orion outshot the Wolves 19 - 15 and the score read 29 - 29 at half time.

In the third period the Wolves trailed by one point as Lake Orion led 48 - 47.

The fourth period was when the Wolves were too excited as they gave the Orion's 8 charity throws out of the first 12 points scored.

The Junior Wolves had better luck as they beat out Lake Orion's Junior team 47 - 37.

It was a close game during the first quarter as either team led with one or two points, but the Junior Wolves overcame this as they piled up a 14-point lead at halftime to lead 28 - 14.

Bob Zahnke and Vern Carman led in the scoring with 11 points each.

NATIONAL HEROES CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS

The two great national leaders whose birthdays we celebrate this month—Lincoln's on the 12th and Washington's on the 22nd—faced essentially the same problems during their careers, although they lived years apart.

Both were leaders of a country torn by internal strife and defended by troops weakened by hunger and disease, and both had difficult decisions on discipline and training to make, according to Colton Storm, assistant director of Clements Library at the University of Michigan.

A military man through and through, Washington was a strict, but fair disciplinarian who always demanded the facts behind the case. This is easily evident in a Clements Library letter in which the general mentions the court-martial of a John Derrick and requests that the case information be forwarded to him.

Washington was not content to have discipline solely in his hands, though, for in February, 1788, he welcomed to our shores Baron Frederick von Steuben, who arrived at Valley Forge with a mission to accomplish. His was to be the job of mending broken spirits, changing lethargy to military precision and developing amateurs into top-notch army men.

Led by officers who had tried to do what they could with learning gleaned from translation of continental military treatises and British books, the American troops up to then had been trained by theory and little practical experience, according to Storm.

But that situation did not exist long after von Steuben arrived. Teaching the finer points of military techniques, he gave the men the well-known Prussian training and drilling and whipped them into a strong and spirited army. True it was small, but so well trained that, with the coming of spring and its new recruits, there would be a hard core on which to base an increasing force of men. Von Steuben even drew up a Manual for Troops, used as the accepted training text for the United States Army until the founding of West Point in 1802. A copy of this manual is also on display at the Clements Library.

On the other hand, Abraham Lincoln took quite a different attitude toward discipline. Always fair and not one to shirk punishment when needed, Lincoln became known as a lenient disciplinarian who would rarely permit a man to be shot, preferring to discharge him from the army. It was an established belief that appeal to the President usually brought pardon from the death sentence.

Thus, different as they were in their execution of discipline, Washington and Lincoln were yet alike in their application of it.

NEWS AND COMMENT from CONGRESSMAN GEO. DONDERO PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Perhaps never before in American history has the statement of a new national administration's general policy and legislative program been greeted with a feeling of greater relief than was the Message on the State of the Union delivered last week by President Dwight D. Eisenhower before a Joint Session of Congress.

There have been other messages of the kind in times of great national stress. Other Presidents have uttered reassuring words in days of national peril. But never has the nation been in greater danger than it is today, and never, unless in the instances of Washington and Lincoln, has a President offered the people more concrete and specific proposals for solution of the problems of the day.

It has become evident, even in the first few days of the new Administration, that the President fully intends to carry out the promises which led the American people to give him the largest vote ever given to an American President. It is evident, too, that Congress is ready to give him wholehearted support in keeping those promises.

President Eisenhower's policies with respect to foreign affairs and the Korean War are too well known to bear repeating here. His economic policies and program may be less well understood. Here is a brief statement of that program:

1. To curb spending, reduce the deficits and then balance the federal budget.
2. To meet the cost of national defense.

3. To manage the debt properly, especially as a weapon against inflation.
4. To create conditions under which substantial tax reductions may be made at the earliest possible time.
5. To make constructive plans for the encouragement of private initiative, and to carry those plans out without delay.

What better program could be imagined for putting America back on its feet economically, and for establishing a prosperity based on peace instead of war? It seems to me this program embodies the policies, from which the government had departed, but which had served in earlier years - to make this nation the strongest, most powerful and happiest of all.

Rent controls, except in critical war production areas, are expected to die on June 30. In view of this fact, some people have expressed fears that those who rent their homes may be subjected to excessive and unreasonable rent increases.

As a matter of fact, however, the success of rent decontrol in communities that have returned to a free market has the following record:

Two months after rent control ended in Detroit, for example, the Detroit Free Press commented editorially to the effect that few if any complaints of excessive rent increases had been registered. The experience was similar in other representative cities, including Akron, Ohio; Los Angeles, California; Raleigh, North Carolina; and Huntington, West Virginia.

IMPORTANT IN THE LIFE OF A BOY

The two Grand Rapids telephone men demonstrating signaling here are typical of hundreds of telephone employees throughout Michigan Bell who give generously of their time, and their talents working with Boy Scouts.

Several of these telephone men, including three in Grand Rapids, have been honored with the national Boy Scouts' Silver Beaver Award for "distinguished service to boyhood." Fellow townsmen recommended the awards.

Telephone scouters work with boys in countless ways—on camp, committees, teaching first aid and artificial respiration, and on many community projects. Why do they do it? One man explained:

"A hundred years from now it will not matter what my bank account was, or what sort of house I lived in. But the world may be different because I was important in the life of a boy."

As good citizens and good neighbors, these telephone folks are trying to make their community a better place in which to live. This same spirit of service is reflected in the efficient, friendly and courteous telephone service they bring you every day.

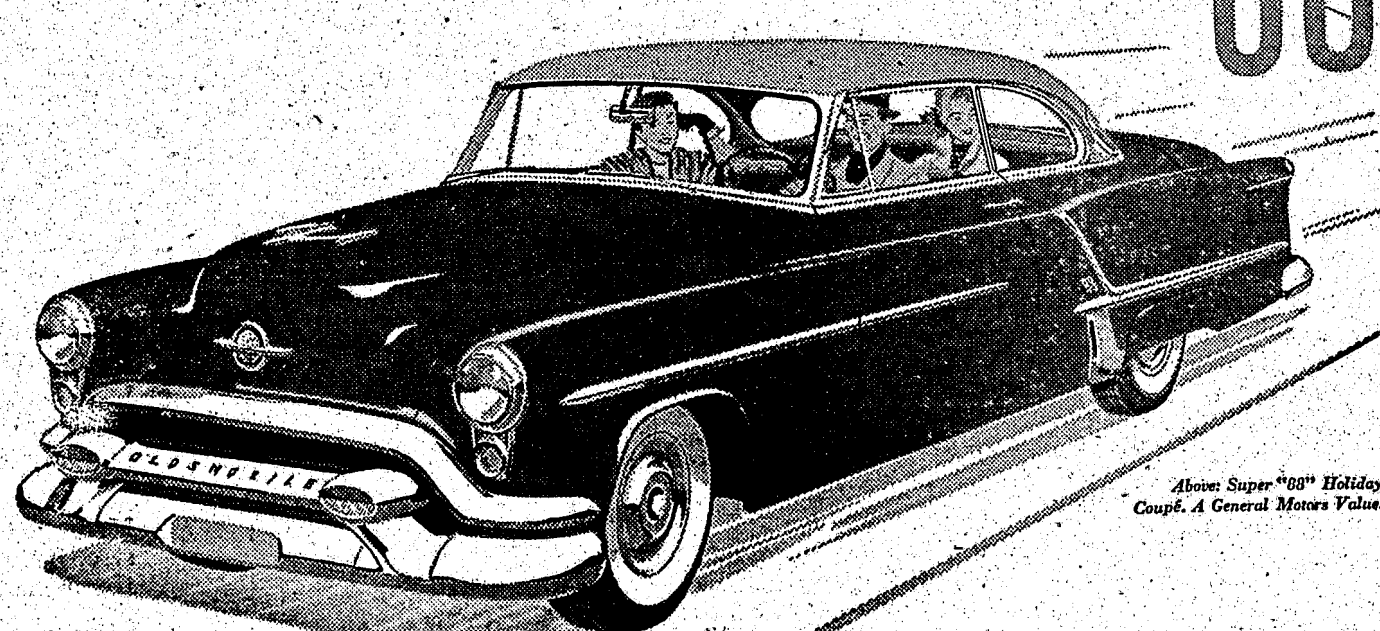

It's people who make telephone service good

Sleepy Skunk
 This beady-eyed fellow was unhappy at being waked from his favorite winter pastime of sleeping, just for the sake of a picture. However, the "woods pussy" simply yawned, licked his chops, and noted he is happy to have survived the hunting season, which ended January 31. The conservation department points out that skunks are valuable friends of the farmer, eating mice and enormous quantities of beetles, grasshoppers and the like. During the winter, skunks live in hollow logs, burrows in the ground or hollow stumps, making only occasional forays for food. In the spring, four to 10 tame and playful kittens will be born. Humans, however, will avoid the whole brood with caution, leaving the skunk family to its own pursuits — for obvious reasons.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Surprise Ending!

That raffle for our Volunteer Fire Department went over fine. We're going to have money to get a new engine—and then some.

Our local merchants really donated some wonderful prizes. Like Buzz Ellis, the radio-TV dealer, giving that big television set... and the Superior Motors putting up a brand-new car.

There was a humorous note, too. The prize of a year's supply of coal—donated by Baker Coal Yard—was won by Mrs. Thayer, whose husband is the biggest fuel-oil dealer in the county! What did

Mrs. Thayer do with the coal? She gave it to a church she's not even a member of. (Her Church uses her husband's fuel oil.)

From where I sit, that's real generosity! But then, Mrs. Thayer never did believe in dividing people into groups. She's "for" everybody — whatever church they go to, whether they like TV or radio, people who enjoy temperate beer, people who don't. A really warm-hearted person.

The realization that Soul is immortal, destroys the fear of death. The Lesson-Sermon under this subject will be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, February 15.
The Golden Text is from Psalms (130:8): "My soul waiteth for the Lord more than they that watch for the morning."
Among the Bible citations is this passage. (Isa. 55:6): "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found call ye upon him while he is near."

Correlative passages from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy include: "When the understanding changes the standpoints of life and intelligence from a material to a spiritual basis, we shall gain the reality of Life, the control of Soul over sense, and we shall perceive Christianity, or Truth, in its divine Principle." (P. 322)

Orlon is little affected by sunlight, weather and mildew, making it especially suitable for window curtains, awnings and other outdoor uses, say Michigan State College home economists.

Another suggestion from MSC is to make the hues in your bedroom reflect a personality. Bedroom color schemes can provide great individuality for the occupant.
