FRESHMEN GRADES AT U-M DISPROVE FAILURE RUMORS

Statistics again have proved more reliable than rumors on the University of Michigan campus.

The grade reports prepared by the office of Registrar Ira M. Smith show that the freshmen who entered the University last September maintained better than a C average as a class during the Fall Semester.

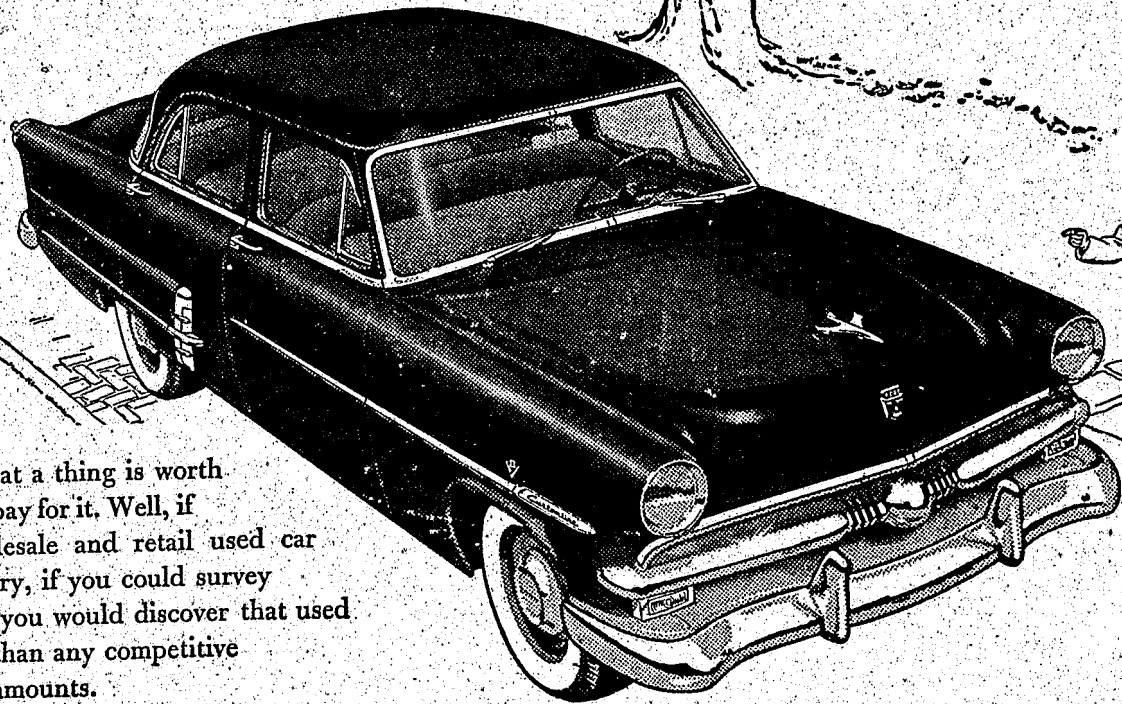

Contrary to some rumors that failing grades were highly prevalent among the newcomers to the campus, the report shows that out of 10,876 grades recorded for freshmen only 42 per cent were F's, which is the failing mark. To more than balance these failing grades, the freshmen piled up 10.9 per cent of A's and 29.7 per cent of B's.

NEWS LINERS BRING RESULTS

Worth more... and why

There's an old saying that a thing is worth what someone is willing to pay for it. Well, if you could tour the wholesale and retail used car auctions around the country, if you could survey hundreds of used car lots you would discover that used Fords bring higher prices than any competitive make—and by substantial amounts.

THAT'S WHY we feel our '53 cars should not be compared with cars in the same price range. Not because our competitors don't do a good job—obviously they do—but because we feel Ford cars have more in common with the highest priced automobiles. The similarities are far greater than the differences.

For example: Today, the most expensive cars in this country have V-type, 8-cylinder engines. Ford cars have had this exact same type of engine for over 20 years.

What's more astounding, the current Strato-Star V-8 sells for hundreds of dollars less than several other makers charge for a six-cylinder car. Now there's nothing wrong with a six but they do cost less to make. Ford makes a six—the most modern overhead valve six in the industry. And if it's a six-cylinder car you want, Ford has it and for less money than the V-8, which is as it should be.

What about ride? Here's another Ford similarity with high-priced cars... Riding Comfort. One of the misconceptions for many years has been that weight—sheer weight—is what it takes to make a car ride well. Ford has found that you can make a 3000-pound car ride softer and hold the road better by far than many cars that weigh a full 1000 pounds more. In the '53 Ford, for example, front end road shock has been reduced up to 80%. We say it compares most favorably with the heaviest cars sold today.

What about automatic transmissions? It would take the fingers of both hands to count the various kinds of automatic and semi-automatic transmissions on the market today. The one we offer is called Fordomatic. It is the most versatile on the market; it represents the most profound consideration of engine-to-wheel power transfer—and that it does the best job for our engines isn't even open to question. It "shifts" better than you could shift by hand.

What you can see is also important. Here again Ford cars lead not only in their price field but in the medium and upper brackets as well. Ford visibility is Full-Circle Visibility. This means huge, curved unobstructed glass area, front and rear, plus side windows that allow all passengers what the hotels call "room with a view."

Appearance? A higher price, of course, does not make a car more beautiful. Conversely, beauty in a Ford comes "for free." Ford has found that it costs no more to develop a beautiful car than one that is less pleasing in appearance. You can drive up to the most exclusive doorways in the world and feel perfectly at home in your Ford. Fords "belong" . . . in exactly the same social category as the finest, one-of-a-kind creations. After all, a Ford is a custom creation multiplied.

What about running costs? Here's one place that Ford's advantages are obvious. For oil and gas economy Ford has the big cars whipped. Ford parts cost less. Ford service charges are less. Ford tire mileage is thousands of miles greater. And, Ford depreciation is the lowest of any car on the market—bar none.

What are Fords made of? Some people have the idea that the costliest cars are made of "better stuff." It's true that some high-priced cars have costlier upholstery and fittings. What Ford has is so good, both in durability and appearance, that you probably could not tell the difference. You might even prefer it, because of its better design and more pleasing appearance.

Then there's the question of sheet metal. If you were to measure and analyze the sheet metal structure in the most expensive car, you most likely would find it identical in thickness to the corresponding panels in Ford.

After all, then, what is the difference between a Ford and the costliest cars?

In our opinion, the difference is largely a matter of dimensions, weight (and the power required to move it) plus the distinction of owning a car that not so many other people own. The desire for these things is understandable . . . and probably justified for people who are willing to pay the price to satisfy it.

As to comparing Ford with other cars in its price range, by all means do so if you wish. But, as we said before, you'll get a better picture of Ford value by comparing with cars that are most like Fords—those that are priced up to twice as much. In fact, we think you'll quickly begin comparing the other cars with Ford—because the 1953 Ford has really established the New Standard of the American Road.

UNIVERSITY LAB
TRACES STUDENTS
ROAD PLANT GROWING

A recent returned laboratory of the University of Michigan has been studying with practical experience in growing house plants under home conditions.

The instruction is provided in a course in applied botany taught by Miss Virginia Clover, associate professor of botany, and the work is made possible by a specially built laboratory designed to simulate ideal indoor conditions.

The laboratory, which was constructed last summer, is built like a modern home. The whole front of the structure is glass with a wide window shelf running the entire length of the building, so that every student can have a space for his work.

Prof. Kenneth Jones, botany department chairman, explains that the course aims to attract mostly students from the non-science departments who are simply interested in knowing how to grow plants.

HE SAYS THAT THE IDEA OF PLANTING
WORLD WAR III, WHEN MANY PERSONS WERE INTERESTED IN PLANTING

Located at the University Botanical Gardens, the building which accommodates 60 students working as a unit, is different from anything at other colleges and universities for plant work, Professor Jones states.

There are two good-sized potting sheds where many students at once can be potting plants or attending to seedlings. Practical work is done in these potting sheds, which are in the building itself. Students can either bring the plant materials into the main room and place them on a shelf in front of the window for growing or they may put them in the greenhouse.

The greenhouse itself, Professor Jones explains, is a large one adjoining the laboratory. In the spring semester each student will have a small plot of ground outdoors.

Another unique feature is a walk-in refrigerator—a small

New Vanilla Wafer Pie

With housecleaning and yard work already under way, you and your family need an attractive, light dessert to give the finishing sweet touch to an evening meal. Try this refrigerator pie, made bright with flavor with silver dollar size vanilla wafers. You'll find them in the yellow striped cellophane bag at your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department.

Vanilla Wafer Pie

- 3/4 lb. vanilla wafers, crushed
- 1/2 cup melted margarine or butter
- 1/2 cup melted margarine or butter
- 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
- 1 egg, beaten
- 12 marshmallows, cut fine
- 1 small can crushed pineapple, drained
- 2 tablespoons chopped maraschino cherries
- 1/2 pint whipping cream

Crush wafers between waxed paper with rolling pin. Combine crushed wafers and the 1/2 cup butter, reserve 1/2 cup, and press remainder firmly into a 9-inch buttered pie pan. Cream the 1/2 cup butter and blend with sugar. Add beaten egg and beat well. Add marshmallows, drained pineapple and cherries. Fold in cream, whipped stiff, and pour into pie shell. Sprinkle the 1/2 cup crumbs on top and chill overnight in refrigerator. Pipe each serving with whipped cream, if desired.

room where cold treatment can be provided for plants. Here the students care for bulbous plants which need exposure to cold before they are taken out to normal temperatures to flower.

Within the laboratory is a streamlined hotbed known as a plant starter with controlled light, temperature and humidity, where the student can make seeds germinate in earth or can grow plants rapidly to be set out in early spring.

VEGETABLE VARIETIES

Many factors must be considered in selecting varieties of vegetable for commercial or home production. Below are some varieties of vegetables which are recommended by the department of horticulture of Michigan State College.

Beans (Snap Green): Some varieties which are resistant to mosaic are Top Crop, Rival, Wade and Ranger.

Beans (Snap Wax): Round pod Kidney Wax, Kinghorn Special, Puregold.

Cabbage: Yellow-resistant varieties should be grown if the Yellow disease occurs on the land. However, the susceptible varieties are higher yielding and are preferred if no yellows is present.

For an early variety of Yellow-susceptible is Golden Acre. Yellow-resistant varieties are Wisconsin Golden Acre and Resistant Detroit.

Second early susceptible varieties are Copenhagen, Ferry's Round Dutch. Resistant varieties are Marion Market and Racine Market. For late storage susceptible variety is Hollander. Resistant is Wisconsin Ballhead.

Sweet Corn: A real early variety would be North Star. Second early, Marcross and Carmelross. Midseason - Golden Cross, Ioana, Tendermost and Seneca Chief.

For additional information on recommended vegetable varieties, write us for leaflet entitled, "Vegetable Varieties for Michigan."

BEEKEEPERS' MEETING

The Annual Beekeepers' Meeting will be held Sunday evening, April 19, at the Pontiac Township Hall on Opdyke Road, at 8:00 P. M. Mr. Alex Bzenko of Rochester, president of the Oakland County Beekeepers' Association, announces that Professor E. C. Martin of the Entomology Department, who is an Extension specialist in apiculture, will be the main speaker for the evening. Mr. Martin will discuss management and care of apiaries. Anyone interested in beekeeping is invited to attend.

BOX ELDER BUG

Box Elder bug, the perennial pest, is back early this year. This bug is brownish-black with a pink "V" on its back. It is about the size of a grasshopper and is found in the grass and on the female Box Elder trees. The female Box Elder tree is identified as the one having seed pods each year. As to a solution to the problem of control—sprays are relatively ineffective against the Box Elder bug, especially the adults. The real solution to the problem lies in the removal of the female Box Elder trees in your neighborhood. The vacuum cleaner or hot water on the sides of the house or in the basement will do about as good a job as anything in keeping them in check.

SHOWER OF METEORS
DUE APRIL 21, U-M
ASTRONOMER STATES

Fourteen hours of daylight, Venus changing from evening to morning, changes and a shower of meteors all will be astronomical features of the month of April, a University of Michigan astronomer states.

Hazel M. Losh, U-M associate professor of astronomy, says that during April the Sun will continue its climb northward, thus increasing daylight hours from 12 to 14 by April 30.

Beginning the month as the "evening star," Venus will drop quickly toward the Sun, passing it on April 13 and emerging as the morning planet, according to Professor Losh.

Jupiter also will be visible, she explains, as will Saturn, rising in the east around dark. This latter will be located only five degrees northeast from the bright star Spica and will therefore be easily observable, the professor points out.

After midnight on approximately April 21, the Lyrid meteors will be seen, she says. These become visible when they plunge into the Earth's atmosphere, where they are heated by the atmosphere and produce momentary streaks of light known as "shooting stars."

A group of these meteors causes a meteor shower, Dr. Losh states, and the bodies will move in parallel paths, leaving luminous trails, which seem to merge around the constellation Lyra in the northeastern sky. She estimates the rate of meteors in this shower as about ten per hour.

The orange star Arcturus, fourth in brightness in the whole northern sky and located in the constellation Bootes, also will be visible this month, the professor points out. Bootes is a kite-shaped figure, she explains, which represents "The Herdsman" or "The Giant Bear Driver." As the latter, it follows closely on the Big Dipper.

She points out that Arcturus is orange in color due to a temperature approximately two thousand degrees cooler than our Sun. It is one of the nearer stars, she says, its light taking only 30 years to reach us.

 What would mankind give if it could be assured that sin, disease, and death can be overcome through understanding prayer? This question is answered in the Lesson-Sermon which will be read on this subject in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, April 12.
 The Golden Text is from Proverbs (12:28): "In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death."

Among the Bible selections in this passage (Prov. 4:1): "Water not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men."
 Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Disease is always induced by a false sense mentally entertained, not destroyed. Disease is an image of thought externalized." (p. 411)

MSC EXPERT ADVISES HOW TO BEAT FATIGUE
 Have a tired, run-down feeling at the end of the day? Don't be too quick in blaming overwork for it. You probably will be wrong if you do, advises Michigan State College psychology professor S. Howard Bartley.
 Chances are that something unpleasant about your job—rather than a lack of energy or the amount of work you did—has given you a feeling of fatigue.
 Dr. Bartley says you can overcome fatigue by finding out what causes it and then doing something about it.
 A businessman's fatigue may be caused by attending a conference he doesn't want to attend, or by making an office report when he feels he could better be doing something else. The housewife or farmer may feel fatigued after a day of routine duties—duties that may not involve heavy physical work, but work that seems "drudgery". A feeling of futility or "Oh what's the use?" results.
 Once you have found the cause of your fatigue, Dr. Bartley suggests you ask yourself, "Am I right in looking at it that way? Am I being reasonable about it? Is it really as bad as I think it is?" After answering the questions truthfully, then act accordingly.
 As to what you should actually do, the psychologist has no pat answer. "People can steer you and get you started," he says, "but the rest is up to you. It is really yourself that will help you the most!"

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR YOU CAN'T BEAT A

Pontiac

A GENERAL MOTORS MASTERPIECE

Its Great Name Makes Its Price Remarkable!

Consider the respect in which the name Pontiac is held—then consider that this great car is priced only a few dollars above the lowest—and you can come to only one conclusion: that here, indeed, is the biggest value your automobile dollar can buy.

The reason is very simple: Pontiac is the one car deliberately engineered to give you features of the costliest cars at a price right next to the lowest.

You see proof of this in its distinctive

Dual-Streak styling, in its longer wheelbase and when you realize that under the hood there's more power than you'll ever likely need. And as the miles roll by, you get the most positive evidence of all in its amazingly low maintenance cost.

Why not take your first step toward Pontiac ownership by investigating Pontiac's modest cost? You'll quickly see that so low a price on so great a car represents a truly remarkable value. Come in at your first opportunity.

Food Sense — Not Nonsense
GO WITH IRON
Mention iron and one thinks of strength. Today's iron horse—the diesel electric train—thrills as it thunders past. Another power-packed carrier is a silent one at work in your body. It is a train of infinitesimal red corpuscles made-up in part of precious iron moving in the blood stream.
Like the iron in the diesel engine, the iron of the blood hemoglobin helps form a mechanism which works to give you energy and "go-power." The hemoglobin carries as its load, oxygen which is needed to "burn" the food eaten, changing it into strength and energy. Iron, besides having a full time job in the blood stream, is found in every tissue of the body.
"Little life could go on without this mineral. Only a tiny amount is needed daily for the human body—a speck no larger than the head of a pin—depends upon the food eaten for iron. Even though the amount of iron needed is small, it is one nutrient that is a little elusive because nature is stingy with it in food. Although all foods contribute this essential mineral in varying amounts, the best sources of food iron are meat, especially variety meats such as liver and heart. Leafy vegetables, particularly kale and spinach along with enriched flour, bread and cereals plus whole grain products are also excellent sources."
In this country 25 per cent of all food calories are supplied by white flour. Enrichment of flour and bread with iron—in addition to the three B-vitamins—niacin, thiamine, and riboflavin—is a big help in meeting the daily iron quota. Enrichment raises the value of products made from white flour to about that of whole wheat which has been advised. Today, the great majority who prefer white bread can get both their choice and the needed nutrients.
Scientists remind us that an iron-poor body is an anemic one. Nutritional anemia may be corrected by proper selection of foods and in two individuals whose iron requirements are abnormally high.

ADVICE TO HOME OWNERS
Before hiring someone to clean your septic tank, make sure he is authorized to operate in Michigan; the state health department advises home owners.
Septic tank cleaners are required by law to obtain a license each year from the state health commissioner, and to be bonded for the period covered by the license.
The license is issued only after investigation shows the applicant can conduct the business of cleaning and servicing septic tanks in a manner not detrimental to the public health. Purpose of the bond is to protect the property owner against damage or faulty workmanship.
Septic tank cleaners must also obtain a special license for each vehicle used for carrying wastes, and to display on both sides of each such vehicle "MDH Licensed Vehicle" and the number of the license.
The best safeguard for the home owner against property damage and unsanitary practices is to make sure he obtains the services of a licensed cleaner. If the cleaner is unable to produce a state health department license, get his name or the number of his regular license plate issued by the Secretary of State and report this information immediately to the local health department in the area or to the state health department in Lansing.
Licensed plumbers do not need a special license to service or clean septic tanks, but they are required to have the special licenses for vehicles used to transport wastes.

STATE ACCEPTS NEW 4-H ALUMNI RECOGNITION AWARDS PROGRAM FOR '53
For the first time in the history of 4-H Club work, former members whose accomplishments exemplify continued effective community leadership, will be honored in 1953 through the National 4-H Alumni Recognition Awards Program.
In announcing the new program, Guy L. Noble, director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, stated it will provide two award certificates for those selected for county recognition in all participating states. State recognitions will be Alumni plaques of honor. Four men and four women chosen for national honors will be given a 10-k key and an all-expense trip to the annual 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. The Mathieson Chemical Corp., of Baltimore, is donor of awards. The program is conducted under the direction

Candidates may be recommended to county extension agents by local leaders, 4-H members, or other interested individuals.
Mr. Noble pointed out that many leading citizens in all walks of life came up from the ranks of 4-H. They include, he said, agricultural leaders, public officials, businessmen, publishers, clergymen and others. More than 15 million adults in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, he cited, are 4-H Club alumni.
Complete information concerning the program may be obtained from the County Extension agent in this State.

SOIL PREPARATION IMPORTANT WHEN PLANTING NEW LAWN
Putting in a new lawn? Proper soil preparation will be your basic consideration.
Soils run all the way from sandy or gravelly to heavy clay types. Sandy or gravelly soil may be infertile and too well drained. If this condition prevails, it will be necessary for you to mix two inches of clay loam into the upper six inches of soil to give it body.
If possible, vegetable material of a fibrous or mossy type, such as peat moss, ground-up tree leaves, corn cobs, or woods' litter, should be plowed or harrowed along with the clay. If enough of this litter is used, the clay may not be needed.
In addition to the litter and the clay, it will be necessary to use a considerable amount of chemical or animal fertilizer if the clay is of a poor type. In this case, it will be wise to use woods' litter to hold the fertilizer in the top soil.

Best results are achieved by mixing the litter and the fertilizer before working them in. Forming the main body of the top soil, this compost is made up of alternate layers of litter, a thin layer of top soil, a full sprinkling of ground limestone and a generous dosage of fertilizer to a settled depth of about four inches, with a flat surface to water.
On top of this soil mixture spread about one inch of more of fine top soil from farm, garden land or meadow to serve as a seed bed for the grass seeds. The loamy soil between sand and clay, if it has been cultivated and used for farming or gardening for some years previously, may be ready to use. However, it might be advisable to add fertilizer and compost, since most garden soils are somewhat worn out.
