Mr. Willis was rebuilding his home when he was stricken with polio in 1950 and has been partly paralyzed since and is unable to work. The family has been living on a small state allowance.

The Lions Club has taken over the rebuilding of the home and donations or furnishings are coming in for the unfortunate family of six. Any donations to help these people may be directed to Vernon Price, chairman of the project, 5390 Elizabeth-Lake Road, phone LE 2-0947.

Tickets for the supper may be purchased from Mr. Price or any of the Lions Club members or may be obtained at the door.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Terry of Clarkston and Mrs. John Parish of Bear Lake are the baby's great grandparents.

The Waterford Moms met last week at the home of Mrs. James Sutton with 13 members and 4 guests from Pontiac Lake present. Plans were made for an auction night to be held at the C. A. I. building on the evening of May 19. They are making an urgent appeal to anyone in the community who has any 'white elephants' and would like to dispose of them when they clean house. Any furniture, clothing, jewelry, dishes, vases, plants, or anything that could be sold would be appreciated. Notify any of the Moms or call Mrs. Sutton at OR 3-1434 and articles will be picked up. There will be other interesting features to round out the evening, and everyone is asked to keep this date, May 19th, in mind and plan to attend this evening of fun. More details will be announced later.

During the business meeting, which was conducted by James Wager, the group made plans for a 'bean supper' at the church on April 26th, for the congregation. A program of entertainment will follow the supper. The offering from the affair will help swell the "On to Boston" fund. ...has been shown lately. We have formed teams and hope to play some games.

March birthdays in our room: Patsy Maxon and Larry Petty.

First Grade - Mrs. Crawford

Several children are still absent with measles. We hope they are back with us soon.

We are making plans for a small garden in our room. We will learn about plants and how to care for them.

First Grade - Mrs. Draker

We have enjoyed decorating our room for Easter. We made an Easter egg tree, decorated our windows with colored cellophane paper and we have a large Peter Cotton Tall on our bulletin board.

Second Grade - Mrs. Houlding

The children made kites. With the study of kites, they learned about the kite which B. Franklin flew and the reason for it.

The children have made clocks for their arithmetic class.

Richard Kleinsteuer has returned home from the hospital.

Fourth Grade - Mrs. Rowley

The seeds we planted are now coming up but do not seem to be as hardy as they should be.

On Monday morning we found that a little mouse had helped himself to some of our corn. We will forgive him as he probably was hungry.

We are looking forward anxiously for our Easter egg hunt and then for our two extra days vacation.

We are working on a project on our national forests. Scrapbooks, maps and movies will help us learn more about our great forest resources.

Marble games and skipping ropes are in full vogue. Many girls have joined the ranks of marble rollers and occasionally we find a boy brave enough to skip rope. Spring has really come at last!

Nancy Walker brought Peter Rabbit to school this last recess to show him to the third and fourth grades. We enjoyed watching his nose wiggle and also watching him eat a carrot.

We chose our king and queen for the Fair yesterday. Our queen is Susan Turek and our king is Russell Frick. Any votes you can direct our way will be greatly appreciated. Of course, we hope to win.

When we returned from our vacation we found our floors very nicely cleaned and waxed. We feel quite dressed up and thank those who were responsible for

...each a tin of... Mrs. Hedden

Fifth Grade - Mrs. Hedden

We are selling seeds in our room. They are recommended very highly by people who have used them. We will use the money that we make for our trip to Bob-Lo.

Gay Ann Parks and Douglas St. Clair were selected as our contestants for the king and queen of the Spring Festival.

MUSIC NEWS

On March 27th the third and fourth grade chorus, Mrs. Wepfur's sixth grade and the instrumental music students presented an assembly. The chorus opened the program with a group of American folk songs. They also sang a Mexican and an Italian song.

Mrs. Wepfur's sixth grade also gave a demonstration of the instruments which they have made. They first demonstrated their percussion instruments which include drums, shakers and cymbals. Donny Campbell played a solo on his "one-stringed" fiddle. The entire group sang "Sweet Betsy from Pike" and the string instruments played an accompaniment.

Frank Vargo played the auto-harp which was also used to accompany this song.

To conclude the program the instrumental students played "Billy Boy" and the "College Song". Those playing were: Danny Campbell, Fred Turek, and Gerry White, cornet and Bonnie Peters, clarinet.

We have some new story records which we enjoy very much. Among them are: Alice in Wonderland; Peter Pan; and Peter and the Wolf. These are a gift from our home room mothers.

In the primary grades we are learning some new singing games.

LINCOLN'S FUNERAL TRAIN CLEARED WAY FOR PULLMANS

The assassination of President Abraham Lincoln 88 years ago - April 14, 1865 - was a major factor in the general acceptance of the railroad sleeping car.

Lincoln's death gave George M. Pullman an indirect but outstanding opportunity to prove the worth of his novel sleeping car, according to the Railroad Enthusiasts. Early in 1865 he had finished building a sleeper called the Pioneer, a new departure in railroading that took every dollar he could raise.

He'd had little success putting his sleeper into service until a ...accident was made that the Pioneer be attached to the Lincoln funeral train at Chicago for the family's use on the last leg of the trip to the President's home town of Springfield. Soon after, Pullman was building more and more sleepers.

The Pioneer was the most expensive railroad car built to that time, having cost $20,000. It was not Pullman's first sleeper but it was his gaudiest. It had hinged upper berths hand-carved panels and seats, mirrors, plush carpeting and luxurious drapes. A Pullman car costs $150,000 and up today.

The Pioneer caused much trouble and expense for the Chicago and Alton Railroad, over whose tracks the funeral train moved from Chicago to Springfield.

The car was a foot wider and two and a half feet higher than any other railroad car then in use and therefore couldn't move

...one line of the day. The Chicago and Alton, the first railroad to give Pullman encouragement and aid in building a sleeping car immediately put men to work narrowing station platforms and widening the sides of bridges along the route.

Other railroads had to do similar work as Pullman cars came into more widespread usage in the following years.

Thirteen eastern railroads participated in the honor of moving the President's body from Washington to Springfield. In general, the funeral train's route retraced Lincoln's path of four years before when he came to Washington to take the oath of office.

BREAK UP CLAY IN MAKING LAYN, U-M MAN SAYS

Is heavy clay posing a lawn-making problem for you? Clay soil is not fertile, but it is so stiff that it slows down root penetration and cracks and dries out badly in dry weather.

To break up clay, about two or three times as much sand as clay are needed. If the lawn is to be of blue grass, the clay can be broken up with sifted coal ashes. However other grasses do not like the lime in that mixture. Most grasses will prefer slightly acid or neutral soils.

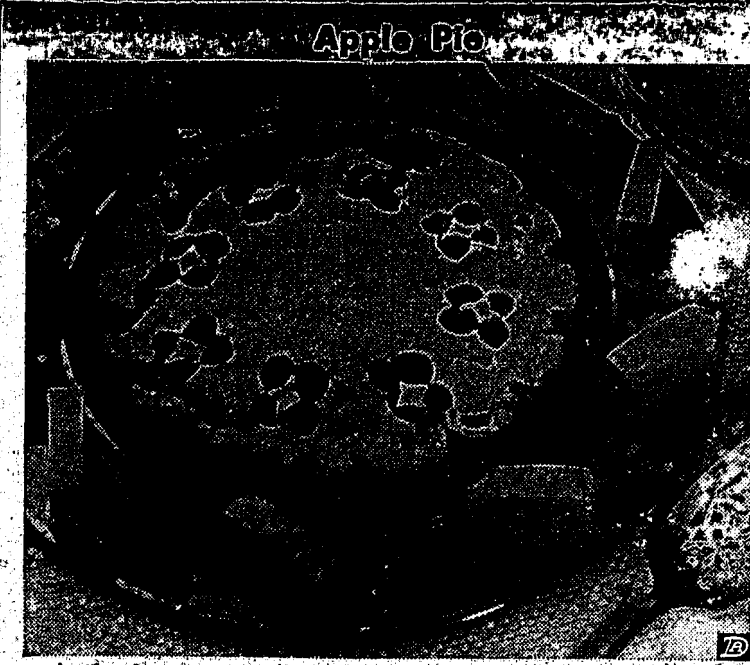

Best results are obtained in Michigan by bringing in black swamp muck, which is the decomposed or carbonized surface of peat bogs. This carbonized muck has a remarkable effect upon clays.

When the clay is dry and broken into a powder, lay about two inches of black muck over it and harrow to a depth of four inches into the clay. The muck will expand the clay to make about seven inches of top soil. This mixture, if coupled with a reasonable amount of chemical fertilizer, will assure an unusually fine velvety lawn. It may not be necessary to lay a one-inch loamy seed bed, but it is usually advisable to do so.

Warning: Never use black swamp muck as a seed bed on top soil by itself, because it will dry up and blow into the house.

In all lawns under preparation, rake out and throw away all chunks of clay and other debris before the seed bed is laid.

Best chemical fertilizer to use is probably 10-6-4, or ten parts nitrate, six parts phosphate and four parts potash. Quantity to be used varies in accordance with the richness of the soil. One to two pounds of chemical fertilizer for every 100 square feet should be enough for a start.

Apple pie—serve generous wedges of this perennial U. S. dessert with a hunk of Cheddar-type cheese.

Perhaps the all-time, all-American favorite dessert is apple pie. Surely it ranks among the top ten. And it's no wonder, this should be so in a country with the heritage of Johnny Apples.

Summer is a slim season for fresh apples so treat your family now before the dearth sets in. To create a memorable dessert to nurse, escort the pie with Cheddar cheese and cups of steaming, fragrant coffee.

This particular pie makes the most of good apple flavor. There's an accent of lemon juice and a hint of cinnamon to enhance the "appleness." With the envelope of flaky, tender pastry it's a casserole suitable for a simple family meal or for your most favored guests.

Remember to use enriched flour when you're baking. The extra B-vitamins and iron food it supplies are there at no extra cost. If your time just won't stretch far enough to let you bake an apple pie, don't despair. Your neighborhood baker or grocer can supply you with one. Put the pie into the oven for a few minutes before serving.

This pie makes a hearty and satisfying conclusion to a meal; so why not use it to round out a luncheon menu or a dinner that's on the light side.

APPLE PIE
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Divide dough in half and let stand while preparing apple filling. Roll out half of pastry to circle 1/4 inch thick and line pie pan with it. Fill with Apple Filling.

Apple Filling
1 1/2 quarts apples
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Pare and slice apples. Mix lightly with butter or margarine and lemon juice. Combine sugar, flour

FRUIT AND GARDEN NOTES
by Willard E. Bosserman
Assistant County Agr'l Agent

PRUNING YOUR TREES
This is the time of year that many fruit growers are setting out new apple trees. If these apple trees are to grow into strong, productive trees, it is important that they be trained right, starting immediately after setting out the trees.

When the tree comes from the nursery, some of the roots are cut off accidentally and others are cut off because they are injured. The top of the tree usually has several branches, some of these have sharp-angled crotches, which if left on, will make a weak branch that will break off with a moderate load of fruit. It is necessary to cut off some of the branches so that the top will be in balance with the roots.

A common method now used in training trees is the modified leader type, that is, one central leader is picked, and one or two branches that have wide-angled crotches are selected this spring for scaffold branches. All of the other larger branches are cut off entirely. Some of the smaller branches which will not compete with the leader or scaffolds may be left on. The leader is cut back to about 6 inches above the scaffold so that new branches will form at the top. Next spring one of these new branches will be selected for another scaffold branch and another selected for the continuation of the leader.

For further information, write for our bulletin on "Pruning Young Fruit Trees," or pay me a visit at the office.

SOIL LABORATORY BUSY
The Oakland County Soil Testing Laboratory has been working to full capacity since the first of March. This indicates that farmers are indeed making a big step in the right direction in determining their fertilizer needs.

The laboratory has been running 100 samples a week for about six weeks at this time and we expect to continue at the same pace until after corn planting. The laboratory can inform farmers how much and what kind of fertilizers to apply, since we can test for phosphorus and potash and make recommendations as to the analysis of fertilizer best suited and how much to apply to keep the soil content up to normal level. We also test for lime.

Most tests indicate that generally Oakland County farms are low in phosphorus and medium in potash where the soil has a clay content. In the more sandy soils, it seems to be low in both phosphorus and potash; I believe it would really pay you to have your soil tested if you have not done so. One good method to use is to test those fields that you are going to put small grain on each year. Then in four or five years you will have tested every field on the farm.

COUNTY EXTENSION SERVICE

by Mrs. Josephine Lawyer
Home Demonstration Agent

Beef prices are almost making history now, comments Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, county home demonstration agent. For the first time in 15 years, beef is listed as plentiful and, therefore, relatively inexpensive food. She urges Oakland County homemakers who have home freezers or commercial lockers to take advantage of the low prices by buying beef in quantity.

Beef can be stored for six months to a year at zero temperature. Mrs. Lawyer recommends putting meat into cold storage in meal-size quantities. Make up enough meat for a single package to serve your family one meal, she suggests. Ground meat should not be stored more than 45 days, she adds.

But if you haven't freezer storage, you can still take advantage of low-cost beef by serving it now, in new and delicious forms.

For instance, treat the family to a stuffed flank steak. Here's how: Spread a flank steak of about 1 1/2 pounds with two cups of bread crumbs. Beginning at one side, roll the meat like a jelly roll. Tie securely in several places with clean string and brown the meat on all sides in fat in a heavy pan on top of the stove. Slip a rack under the meat. Cover the pan closely and put into a 350-degree oven for 1 1/2 hours. Start carving this stuffed steak at the end of the roll and cut across the grain; so that each serving is a round slice with stuffing in the center. Make gravy with the drippings and you'll have company dinner for six or eight.

Mrs. Josephine Lawyer gives some tips on broiling steaks. Before starting, preheat your broiler, grease the rack lightly and cut the fat at the edges of the meat to prevent curling. For well-done steak have the meat three inches from the heat; for rare steak it can be just two inches from the heat. Leave your oven door open while the broiling is going on, and when turning the steak remember to stick your fork into fat, not lean portions.

MAKING BUTTONHOLES ON THE MACHINE

The buttonhole attachment on sewing machines are a great boon to women who like to do their own sewing—but some women are reporting difficulties with certain kinds of fabrics. Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, home demonstration agent, reports that Michigan State College clothing specialists have a few pointers for your buttonhole-making this spring.

Try placing a single thickness of crinoline between the buttonhole attachment and the cloth. Because crinoline is a stiff, open fabric it gives sufficient body to the fabric for the attachment to make good buttonholes. After the buttonholes are finished this crinoline may be pulled back and cut from around the buttonholes. By cutting one side and the ends the crinoline may be pulled out.

If all the crinoline is not removed it will readily wash out or it can be pulled out. In making good buttonholes with sewing machine attachments it is important to keep the material smooth and to keep the buttonhole on the straight grain of the material.

PLAN NOW for ELECTRIC Crop Drying

Looking forward to big crops of hay, corn, beans or grain? Then now's the time to look into the benefits of electric drying equipment.

Farmers using it report a better quality finished product, fewer field losses, much less spoilage, and big savings in time and labor.

For information on recommended equipment and wiring, call or write your Edison Farm Service Advisor.

Fred Ott and his sons use a slotted A-frame system for drying corn on their Livingston County farm.

Robert and Harold Walton approve lateral duct hay drying system on Ferguson-Lea Farm in Lapeer County.

GMC TRUCKS

Why settle for less?

Unmatched power!*
Unrivalled high compression!
Dual-Range Truck Hydra-Matic!

...in all 19 GMC models blanketing the lightweight field!

105 H. P. ENGINE — MIGHTIEST SIX IN ITS FIELD. With these GMC's, you put to work up to 19% more power than comparable sizes can deliver. That means plenty when you're hauling heavy loads up tough grades. From cylinder block to piston pins, engine stamina is multiplied by tougher steels and alloys—sturdier design—more heft. Extra years of service are built in.

RECORD 8 TO 1 COMPRESSION.—There's never been a gasoline truck engine that pays the high-compression dividends these GMC's offer. More power puts its shoulder to the drive wheels. Response is brisker when you toe the accelerator. What's more, you get a better run from each tankful of regular fuel.

PERFORMANCE-PROVED FULLY AUTOMATIC SHIFT.—Proved Truck Hydra-Matic—with 3 speeds for traffic, 4 for the open road—automatically gears these GMC's for top performance over any road. Unique Hydra-Matic construction eliminates slippage—saves power. And there never have been any trucks as easy to drive as these GMC's!

Motoring Accessories Style Novel Millinery

In the spring millady's fancy turns to thoughts of hats. But the hatters, judging from these pictures, start thinking of automobiles. If you want to be a real wheel, advise one milliner, try a hub cap off the family car. A little satin lining, says he, and you've got Hubba Cappa Hatta, what? Another designer found the Chevrolet hood ornaments an inspiration for the job at the right. Could he be giving us the bird.

NEWS AND COMMENT

from
CONGRESSMAN GEO. DONDERO

LUNCH WITH THE PRESIDENT

Friday, the thirteenth of February, was not an unlucky day for me. In fact, on that day one of the rarest experiences in my twenty years of service in the Congress took place when I was the guest of the President at a luncheon in the White House.

This was not my first invitation to dine with President Eisenhower. Because of illness, I had been unable to accept an invitation to attend the luncheon tendered by the President to the nineteen Chairmen of the House of Representatives the week before. The President, burdened with the problems of the world, found time to send me a thoughtful and encouraging note which read as follows:

"Dear Mr. Chairman: News has just come to me of your illness, and I am certainly sorry to hear about it. I earnestly hope you will have a swift recovery and that you will be able to join us in our meeting of Committee chairmen to take place on Thursday of this week. Sincerely, Dwight D. Eisenhower."

The luncheon was held in the State Dining Room of the White House. We were served soup, salad, a broiled fish, browned potatoes, ice cream and coffee. The little coconut-covered cakes served with our ice cream were still warm from the White House ovens. The china, marked in gold with the President's seal, and the silverware came under close scrutiny. I noticed that all silverware was marked "The President's House". That alone would discourage the souvenir hunter.

first floor of the White House — the Red Room, Blue Room, Green Room, and the East Room. He pointed out along the way some of the characteristics shown in the portraits of former Presidents whose pictures are hanging in the White House. Incidentally, the only portrait on the walls of the State Dining Room is that of Abraham Lincoln.

The President sent upstairs for the portrait of Bobby Jones which he had just completed and which he has since presented to the famous golfer in a ceremony in Atlanta, Georgia. Most of us were surprised at the talent exhibited in his work.

I shall always remember the thrill of this experience and I shall never forget the President as a genial, friendly, and unassuming host.

Sitting opposite the President, I reminded him that the last time we broke bread together was at his headquarters in the Administration Building of the I. G. Farben Chemical Company in Frankfurt, Germany, over seven years ago. He remembered the occasion and reminded me that it was in 1945.

The luncheon consisted of simple fare, nothing elaborate. It was a memorable occasion for each one of us. Few Members have ever lunched in that historic place — the White House.

In groups of about twenty members, the President is having the entire Congress down to take lunch or breakfast with him. Never before has a President of the United States attempted to entertain the whole Congress.

After the luncheon, the President conducted us personally through the historic rooms on the
