Our Little World

Our little world is but a phase of life. Beset with obstacles and bitter strife, Where man works out his plan of destiny, By choice, and meeting earth's necessities.

Our little world important though it seems, Is but a tiny fragment of our dreams, A classroom where we children come to learn, We take unto ourselves but what we earn.

Our world is but a shadow on a wall, Of life, whose mansion houses one and all, A spot where silhouettes fight for renown, Where strength comes up to force the weaker down.

To gain the top in things about our world, Man struggles on, with fingers bruised and knurled, That he might best his neighbor down the way, By feverish work and planning night and day.

Our world has furnished man down thru the years, A testing place where he sheds bitter tears, While learning of the power found in love, And looking for his guidance from above.

Our little world reflects the astral plane, Receiving from it all its worth-while gain, Unmindful though we recognize it not, And feel that we alone have shaped our lot.

Rotary Club News

Monday was the day the Goodwill Industries collected discarded household items and old clothes in Clarkston. In the evening the speaker at the Rotary Club was Mr. William Weddell who showed pictures of what is done with the collected material and who does the work of reclaiming the good out of the material.

The project reclaims almost everything and sells the repaired, repainted and in some cases, such as millinery, even new creations in ladies hats. This stock is sold in its three stores.

As to who does the work — everyone is handicapped. It was explained that of eight men repairing shoes eight men had seven legs (all had lost one leg and one must have been without legs). In sending eighteen trucks to collect the work for the project very seldom are there more than two arms between the two men who operate the truck.

In spite of what seems like a hopeless cause, the Goodwill Industries of Detroit paid out a half million dollars in wages last year to keep these handicapped people self-supporting and to maintain the motto: "Not Charity but a Chance".

The speaker had brought with him several of the Goodwill paper bags used by the homes in saving for the collection and the response to the talk was such that all bags were taken home by the members. Monday's collection filled the truck sent to Clarkston. It might be explained that the industry is stepping the collection up from two collections a year to a collection every two months.

The dinner was served by Mrs. C. H. Lippincott assisted by Mrs. Floyd Lawrence, Mrs. Glenn Howland, Mrs. W. H. Stamp, Stuelen O'Dell and Patience Thayer.

Localite Named Assoc. Officer

Kathryn Zeunen of Clarion Farms on Walters Lake was unanimously elected secretary-treasurer of the Justin Morgan Horse Association, with headquarters at 4750 Clarkston Road, Clarkston, on April 18. The other officers are: president, Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven of Ann Arbor; vice-president, Walter Kane of South Lyon; board of directors: Bart Zeunen of Clarkston, Milo Grant Dugan of Northville, John H. Brant of Pontiac, David Staehler of Ann Arbor and Herman Hicks of Detroit.

This is the association whose object is to promote the best interests of the Morgan horse by the encouragement of inter-club activities intended to advance and protect its members and the public as to the proper method of showing and judging Morgan horses at horse shows and fairs; also by affiliating with clubs sponsoring other breeds of horses for the advancement of the horse in general. The horse is coming more and more into his own. He is the aristocrat of the horse world and the position to which his nobility of character justly entitles him.

Extension Club Makes Gloves

On Tuesday of last week the Clarkston Home Extension Club met at the Township Community Center at 10:00 A. M. and started a very interesting lesson on the making of gloves. Mrs. George Perry was the leader and she was assisted by Mrs. O. C. Adams and Mrs. Glenn Boner. At noon the women enjoyed a sack lunch.

There were 24 pairs of gloves started. Some of the women made very good headway and completed one glove. They were all quite satisfied with their work and many decided that they would make gloves for all of their spring and summer outfits. It was really a worthwhile lesson.

The next meeting of the group will be on Tuesday, May 12th, at the Community Center when the lesson will be on "Living Together in the Family". The leader will be Mrs. Keith Lowrie assisted by Mrs. Glenn Kerton.

By The Way...

It is spring of the year. The calendar says so. Most of us have the "Spring" fever. Sooner or later the weatherman will get the idea. To many this will be a spring to remember for the rest of their lives. To the parents, friends and to the men themselves the exchange of prisoners from the Communist prison camps is the most heartening thing this old world has seen in a long time. Should your favorite program on T-V be interrupted because of something wrong in transmission of the picture, your probably grumble. But our experience is that when the name of a released prisoner is shown (right in the midst of a program) you watch to see if you ever heard of the man. There is something unbelievable about the miracle even to the relatives of the man mentioned. Don't forget in many cases the men have been announced as "missing in action" and to many relatives it is like coming back from the great beyond. . . .

Did you notice the number of houses that are being constructed in and around Clarkston. And have you noticed the changing advertisements in the paper from former years? As this community becomes more thickly populated the garden ad ads are changing to furniture and paint ads not to mention lawnmowers which are activated by either gas engines or electricity. Of course to many who never bragged about "green" thumbs, a sign of good gardener, even the best "power lawnmower" or the fanciest of gadgets for painting do not appeal. Just mark these people down to the dreamer's class, and especially dreams without work. . . . Here is a fair story for spring: Employer, "When you go on this errand for me you'll pass a baseball field." Office boy, "Yes". Employer, "Well, just pass it."

Driver Class Gets New Car

The Edw. Whipple Sales and Service has supplied a new Pontiac car for use in the High School Driver Training class. The new 1953 model replaces the 1952 model which was furnished at the beginning of the school year. The students feel they are fortunate to have such fine new automobiles with which to practice.

Driver Training is becoming increasingly more important. Some insurance companies are not increasing their rates on the 16-25 year old group if the person has had driver training instruction. Also, at the present session of the legislature, the Senate has passed a bill making driver training compulsory before a person may obtain a drivers license.

The school is indeed grateful to Mr. Whipple for supplying the cars which make this course possible.

Random Thoughts

DOCTORS — It seems as if in modern times of all professional men the physician stands in highest regard. The scientist demands our respect, but in a rather abstract way. He is a figure, a representative, not a person. But a doctor combines the prestige of science and the affection for someone we know personally. He affects our life in a personal, sometimes intimate way. We do not hesitate to unburden ourselves to him; we confess our frailties and fears; we reveal our hidden, secret desires and longings; we are not ashamed to tell him of our physical shortcomings, bodily ailments or functional disorders.

And we listen to his advice as if he were an oracle; we believe in his wisdom, in his knowledge, in his astuteness; we swallow with confidence whatever medicine, or pills, or remedies he prescribes. We follow his directions zealously, and expect the desired results. And when we have recovered from whatever ailed us, we are grateful to the doctor, and our respect for him increases.

I remember so very well when our children were small, and one of them would suddenly get sick. What a relief to just see our doctor's car pull up in front of the house. And with his cheery conversation and the sure and definite way in which he conducted the examination and pronounced what was the trouble, he would lift a burden off my heart.

Health and life are so important that we willingly pay all we can — and sometimes more — to restore or keep them. We may bargain over the cost of groceries, lumber, clothes, kitchen utensils, or what have you, but we seldom shop around for a cheaper doctor. And as a rule we don't begrudge the doctor his high fees; we know that he has put in years and years of study at great expense, more years with hardly any pay at all, and now has to be ready to give help.

But if we do get overcharged, or not treated right by a doctor, we have no way of making a complaint stick. I heard of a case recently where a perfectly healthy woman was ordered to the hospital by her doctor two weeks before her baby was due to be born, and given injections to bring about labor, because the doctor wanted to start on his vacation. Not only did the injections fail to bring about the desired result, but the woman was worn out by the ordeal and was not very well suited to face the natural delivery several days later; the doctor did not postpone his vacation and left her in care of the hospital's medical staff; she had to pay for all the injections, the extra hospitalization, and the doctor's bill, of course. She had the moral right to sue the doctor for damages and costs, but not legally so.

There should be some way to safeguard us against some practices, negligence, errors, or indifference of selfish doctors who regard their profession only as a means of making as much money as possible. If doctors limit the number of men and women admitted to their profession, as they do in exercising control over the number and kinds of students accepted by the medical colleges, it is also up to them to set a high professional standard, and see to it that it is kept. Maybe a board could be set up where laymen could send in their complaints; even without actual "proof" of the doctor's guilt (which would be hard to establish), a co-incident of many complaints against one doctor might be convincing enough, whether these were about negligence, or price gouging, or the practice of fee-splitting, or "milking" a patient without ever attempting a cure, or just plain ignorance.

I have several friends who are doctors, and they agree that it is up to the physicians themselves to keep their profession high. We, laymen, want to be as informed as is possible, about what ails us or our loved ones, and how a cure can be achieved. As intelligent adults we can cooperate best on that basis, and doctors need not fear unjust criticism, if they are honest and fair and do their utmost best. I am full of admiration for the physician who tirelessly works with human material, sees more of the sorrowful than of the sunny side of life, but has to preserve optimism himself, and who has to shoulder the responsibility that goes with his tremendously important profession.

In the 6 o'clock squad Lee Kelley of Clarkston came through with a score of 889 pins to take over the lead and win first place. Kenneth Craft of Clarkston and George Bishop of Drayton Plains tied for second place with scores of 885, just 4 pins out of first place.

TURKEY RAISER GETS NATIONAL ATTENTION

Del Smith of Oakland County has gained national attention for the way he streamlined his turkey chores.

He says water is his cheapest feed. He uses eight waterers lined up on the turkey range. On each side of this string, at a distance of 20 to 25 feet, he located self-feeders. He pulls both feeders and waterers to a new location every other day or so.

The waterers are ordinary hog-type and are filled once a day from a tank mounted on a wagon. Feeders are hooked together in "trains" of four.

Each feeder has three compartments. Corn is fed in one end, oats in the other and pellets in the middle. Construction of the feeder keeps feed evenly distributed and prevents wastage.

Smith's streamlined setup makes feeding 2,000 turkeys an easy operation. As Smith puts it, it's just part of the morning chores.

that very weedy pastures can be profitably plowed and reseeded. But for pastures which cannot be plowed, or where grass is worth saving, Grigsby has some suggestions.

Some weeds can be checked by mowing at the right time of the year. Wild carrot, dock and bull thistle should be mowed when in the bud or the first flower stage to prevent spreading of seed. Two or more seasons of mowing will be needed to control carrot, bull thistle and chicory, Grigsby says. Mowing will probably not check spotted knapweed, Canada thistle, hoary alyssum and orange hawkweed.

Weeds can also be controlled by applications of 2, 4-D. The spray, applied when plants are young and growing, will control most annual and some biennial weeds. Grigsby warns that spraying will cause some damage to legumes, but he adds that established white clover and alfalfa are seldom destroyed by properly timed spraying — when there is less than two inches of new growth.

"Early spring, while legumes are still dormant, or late fall, after the first killing frost, are the best times to apply 2, 4-D for the control of pasture weeds," he says. "Very weedy pasture may be harmed less by spray than by weed control specialist," suggests

Brush in pastures can be killed by: Foliage sprays, applied during the growing season when the brush is in full leaf; cut-stump treatment, spraying the stump after cutting it near the ground; and the basal-bark method, treating the lower 10 inches of the trunk with oil spray.

SLOGAN WANTED FOR LICENSE PLATES

Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary today announced that he is asking the people of Michigan to assist him in the selection of a slogan that might be placed on automobile license plates. "The slogan must not exceed one or two words of not over 10 letters each and should be descriptive of Michigan," he said. Slogans may be sent to the Secretary of State by letter or post card not later than April 28. The winner will be selected by a committee of Judges composed of: Representatives of the Tourist Council, the Automobile Manufacturers Association, the Farm Bureau, the Michigan State Police, the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Department of State.

"Twenty-one states now have some sort of a slogan on their license plates and I believe Michigan might well use this medium of advertising herself," Cleary said. "Hundreds of thousands of Michigan licensed cars visit other states each year and the State's slogan message would be read by millions. In the past there has been some objection to the idea on the part of enforcement officers, but I am impressed by the statement of Commissioner Childs of the State Police that he sees no objection now that the idea seems to be spreading, and as long as the size of the letters and numerals is not changed. With this in mind we must therefore limit the number of letters in the slogan."

AGAWAM PREPARES FOR RECORD CAMPING SEASON

With opening date still two months away, more than 800 Boy Scouts have planned for a week's stay at Camp Agawam. The camp located on Tommy's Lake near Lake Orion, is owned and operated by Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Last year 595 Scouts attended camp. Anticipating an increase for this year facilities were added to care for another 30 Scouts per week. The Camping Committee of the Council originally believed that a six week season would be long enough but have found that a seventh week will be necessary to take care of the many Scouts who desire to attend camp. With this extension 900 Scouts will be cared for this summer setting an all time record in the camp history which dates back to 1922.

Some of this increase is due to the increase in the total number of Boy Scouts in the Council during the past year. But much credit must be given to the enthusiastic response on the part of Scouts and leaders to a new form of camp savings which was inaugurated in February. Each unit leader has been selling stamps to his Scouts each week. These stamps worth 25c each rapidly mount up the Scouts credit. He thereby saves for camp through previous months rather than having to supply the lump sum at camp time.

The Council Camp Committee that is guiding the present development is composed of: John Hunt of Farmington, Chairman; Bob Skellenger, Novi; Ralph Bennett, Mt. Clemens; Norton Graham, Pontiac; William Pascher, Pontiac; John Ostrander, Pontiac; Gilbert Pierce, Pontiac; William Barnum, Farmington and William DeGrace, Pontiac.

This committee has named Bob Bennett, District Executive of Macomb County, to be the acting Camp Director for the season. Bennett, newly located in Mt. Clemens, comes to this Council with five years experience directing camp at Green Bay, Wisconsin. He promises a program that will be full of Scouting activity and experience. Boys should come ready to make advancement in Scout skills. The waterfront staff will be prepared to teach boys to swim, life saving, canoeing, row boat handling, water safety. A nature program will be in session from early morning on, with bird hikes and learning the animals and trees that abound at Camp. There will be handicraft and camp craft, all under competent instructors. The cooks will be placing nourishing, tasty food in satisfying quantities on the table three times a day.

The camp is for all registered Boy Scouts who have passed their eleventh birthday. They may come to camp under their own leadership or may enter a provisional Troop under trained leaders who are hired by the camp. The camp is run on a six day week basis, opening at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon and closing right after lunch on Saturday. Scouts are welcome to stay more than a week. Cost is nominal, designed to cover food and leadership only. The fee also includes insurance to cover any medical expense due to an accident.

Camp officially opens June 28 and closes August 16. The resident staff will go to Camp a week before opening in order to prepare Camp and stay a week following to close up the facilities.

RABIES TIME IN MICHIGAN, MSC WARNS

Rabies is on the increase, especially among fur-bearing animals, and this is the time of year when the disease can be spread widely.

Dr. Glen W. Reed, extension animal pathologist at Michigan State College, says that this is the time of year predatory animals such as dogs, skunks and other wild animals tend to roam. If they are infected with rabies, the disease is spread widely.

Dr. Reed cited several cases of rabies in dogs this year in Michigan, Wayne, and Oakland counties. There were cases of rabies in cats in both Clark and Wayne counties and cows were infected in Oakland and Isabella counties.

Wild animals, says Dr. Reed, should be guarded against. Skunks, squirrels and foxes may wander into the lawn or pasture and bite livestock. Such livestock, he adds, should be watched carefully for rabies symptoms. If rabies is suspected, says Dr. Reed, remember these points:

1. Don't kill any animal you can catch. You can't be sure it's rabies until there is an examination of the brain in the laboratory. Have the veterinarian place the animal under observation.

2. Symptoms of rabies usually show up in the animal within two weeks after biting a person.

3. Don't be panicky after being bitten. The first thought is to capture the animal and place it under observation. The second is to wash the wound or scratch thoroughly with warm soapy water and get to a physician immediately.

4. There is always danger in treating humans for rabies. You should be sure that the animal which has bitten a person is declared rabid or is under observation before treatment.

Rabies, Dr. Reed says, is caused by a virus and often is fatal to humans. It can be prevented by vaccination of animals and he believes all pets, especially dogs and cats, should be vaccinated every year.

MAGNESIUM FOLIAR SPRAY AIDS CELERY

A perennial headache to Michigan's celery growers — magnesium deficiency in the plants — still hasn't been solved but research still is underway.

J. F. Davis and W. W. McCall of Michigan State College's soil science department, reporting in the current issue of the institution's Agricultural Experiment Station Quarterly Bulletin, say that symptoms of magnesium deficiency are in practically all of the main celery growing areas of the state.

The two soil scientists say that soil applications of magnesium sulfate were not effective treatments in one year of testing. Applying the magnesium sulfate as a foliar spray was the only treatment that prevented symptoms of the deficiency. There was about 98 per cent control.

So for a tentative recommendation, they suggest 10 pounds of magnesium sulfate per acre to be applied at 10-day intervals throughout the growing season.

Some varieties of celery are more susceptible to the disease than others, according to the soil scientists. At the M. S. C. Muck Experimental Farm, Utah 10-B was found to be the most susceptible variety. Utah Top Ten and Utah Ten Grand showed considerable leaf symptoms. Varieties such as Summer Pascal seemed to be much less susceptible and the Utah 15 variety showed no evidence of magnesium deficiency.

spruce and Scotch pine, often grow too rapidly, making them "leggy" and open.

"This condition can be remedied by the judicious use of the pruning shears at the proper time," Bell suggests.

Scotch and red pine should be pruned in the spring when the new growth is soft and succulent. Firs and spruces should be pruned in the dormant season from November to March. While pruning this spring, be on the lookout for sawfly eggs, adds Walter F. Morofsky, M. S. C. entomologist. He advises spraying for sawflies with three pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT in 100 gallons of water.

A Very Proud Car—At A Very Modest Price!

According to Webster, one of the important meanings of the word proud is this: "Worthy of admiration; deserving praise."
Obviously, that definition fits the 1953 Pontiac like a glove. Pontiac's distinctive Silver-Streak beauty is certainly worthy of admiration—and gets plenty of it everywhere. Pontiac's big-car roominess, its luxurious Body by Fisher, its smooth, easy-going ride—certainly these, too, are deserving of the praise they get.
And when you sit behind the wheel and feel the effortless surge from Pontiac's famous power plant you'll know that you're driving a mighty proud performer.

As a matter of fact, the only modest thing about a Pontiac is its price—for this wonderful car which gives you the engineering quality and the best features of the costliest cars is priced just above the very lowest!
And be sure to remember Pontiac's remarkable re-sale value—the true test of long-lasting quality.
Naturally, you want a new car of which you can be proud. And just as naturally, you want to get full value for every dollar you invest. It's that kind of sound thinking which leads thousands of new car buyers into our showrooms. Why not come in and see how easily you, too, can become the proud owner of a new Pontiac?

Coffee Alaska, a Baffling Dessert
With an Easy Answer

As a general rule, an air of mystery is hard to come by in the kitchen. It's best this, mix that, add something else. But sometimes you want to impress family and friends with your mastery of the culinary arts. That's the time to serve Coffee Alaska. It never fails to bring a mystified "how-is-it-done?" from the audience.
Coffee Alaska is a dessert that the average cook rarely undertakes because it looks so difficult. It's crisp, browned, meringue-coated cake, piping hot from the oven, reveals a frozen center—in this case frothy mocha cream. In spite of appearances, it is not hard to make. The secret is in a sufficiently thick meringue coating and scrupulously correct timing. With a little care, even an average cook can make this delectable dessert really well.

utes. Cool. Cut slice 1/2-inch thick from top of cake; save. Hollow out center of cake, leaving a shell about 1/2-inch thick. (Save crumbs.) Put top slice on cake; cover with waxed paper and chill while preparing filling. Soften gelatine in cold coffee; dissolve in hot coffee. Combine cocoa, sugar and corn syrup in top of double boiler; stir over direct heat until sugar dissolves; bring to boil; boil 2 minutes; add gelatine mixture and evaporated milk; mix well. Pour on well-beaten egg yolks; return to double-boiler; cook over hot water, stirring constantly about 3 minutes, or until thickened. Chill until mixture begins to set; fold in whipped cream. Spoon mixture into hollowed cake; replace top; chill several hours or overnight. Cover top and sides thickly with meringue. Bake in very hot oven, 500° F., 2 to 3 minutes or until lightly browned. Slice and serve at once. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Compare the quality of the food you buy to the quality of the food product you can prepare at home, advises Miss Morr. Sometimes you can be a better cook and manager than you credit yourself.

Look for — ask for — buy only iodized salt for all table and cooking purposes. Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, urged parents in marking the 29th anniversary of the state's fight against simple goiter, May 1.
"Michigan children need iodized salt as much now as they did when it was introduced in the state on May 1, 1924," the commissioner said. "Without iodized salt, the diets of most Michigan youngsters would not contain enough iodine for good health."

The salt was introduced in grocery stores in the state after a survey in four counties in 1924 had shown that 47 per cent of the school children had simple goiter.
A survey completed in the same four counties in 1951, after 27 years of voluntary use of iodized salt, showed only 1.4 per cent of the school children afflicted with simple goiter.
"While the gains have been truly remarkable, the condition that causes simple goiter — lack of natural iodine in home-grown food and drinking water — remains as it was, and keeping simple goiter under control calls for continued use of iodized salt to supply this needed food element," the commissioner said.
Iodized salt was introduced in the state through the cooperation of the Michigan Department of Health, Michigan State Medical Society, the salt manufacturers of the state and the wholesale and retail grocers.
Simple goiter is an enlargement of the thyroid gland. It does not commonly occur in areas where there is sufficient iodine in the soil and water, or in areas where unrefined salt is eaten. Michigan is a "goiter" area because there is not sufficient iodine in the soil to provide a protective amount in foods grown in the state.

The answer will be found in the Lesson-Sermon to be read on Sunday, April 26, under the subject "Probation After Death". The Golden Text is from I Corinthians (6:14): "God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power." Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Luke 20:38): "For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living; for all live unto him."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The universal belief in death is of no advantage. It cannot make Life or Truth apparent. Death will be found at length to be a mortal dream, which comes in darkness and disappears with the light. (p. 42)

INTERESTING FILM AT DRAYTON CHURCH
 "Hidden Treasures", latest religious-science film of Moody Institute of Science, delving into the wonders of creation as seen through telescope and microscope, will be shown at the First Baptist Church, 3714 Sashabaw Road, Drayton Plains, on May 5th, at 7:30 P. M.
 The MIS cameramen risked life and limb to capture some of the unusual scenes. Their adventures took them all the way from dungeon caves to an exploration aboard the Hancock Foundation's research ship.

The beauty and geometric pattern of snow crystals were captured by cameraman Lewis Humphrey for "Hidden Treasures", latest Moody Institute of Science film. Fifth in the "Sermons from Science" series, the film in its snow sequence reveals that every flake has a different design. This unusual natural color-sound documentary picture, revealing the wonders of the microscopic universe, will be shown.

 Among many strangely beautiful scenes, the camera reveals minute flowers, a hundred times smaller than the smallest rose; strange microscopic denizens of the sea; glassed-house plants called diatoms; iridescent cave crystals; paramecia, minute animals with oars; and the clownish amoebae, which look like animated ink blots forever changing shape.

Produced by Dr. Irwin A. Moon, director of Moody Institute of Science, "Hidden Treasures" represents eighteen months of tedious camera work in out-of-the-way places to find the small but perfect treasures of God's handiwork.
 With the 200-inch lens of the Mt. Palomar telescope—the world's largest—"Hidden Treasures" reveals some of the hundred million island universes around the billion light-year radius which have recently been opened by the fabulous instrument.

Some with as many as 13 foreign sound tracks, Moody Bible Institute's preceding films—"God of Creation", "God of the Atom", "Voice of the Deep", "Dust or Destiny" and "To Every Creature" have received widespread appeal throughout this land and 54 other countries.

CHEVROLET
 MORE CHEVROLET TRUCKS IN USE THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

Recently published official registration figures for the last full year show that truck users in every single State bought more Chevrolets than any other make!

It is difficult to imagine more convincing proof of Chevrolet's superiority, for such clear-cut and overwhelming preference can lead to but one conclusion: Chevrolet trucks must be better, must enjoy solid advantages over other trucks. Such preference must rest on a firm foundation of good, sound value. And, of course, it does—as owners of Chevrolet trucks can testify.

So before you buy any truck, see how much more Chevrolet trucks offer you. Stop in and see us soon. Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.

Legal Notice
DOG QUARANTINE INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP

The fact has been established that dogs affected with an infectious and communicable disease known as "Rabies" have recently been at large within the County Of Oakland, Michigan, and are known to have bitten persons and animals and may have come in contact with dogs as yet unknown in the Township Of Independence.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that any dog which is owned, kept, or harbored within the above named TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE shall be securely chained, confined, or secured under physical control of the owner or custodian of such dog to prevent the aforesaid dog from attacking or biting any other animal or any person. No such dog shall be allowed to run at large within the Quarantine Area during the period of this Quarantine. Dogs may not be removed from Independence Township unless accompanied by permit from the Oakland County Department of Health. Such permits may be secured from the Department of Health or its authorized agents on presenting evidence of vaccination against rabies within six months performed by a licensed veterinarian.

The attention of all owners or keepers of dogs in the above named territory is hereby called to the following sections of the Michigan State Laws.

Act 306 Public Acts of 1909 As Amended

Section 1. It is hereby made the duty of all township boards of health to whom cases of rabies among dogs are reported to immediately investigate the same by some members of the board; and should such investigation show a reasonable probability that a dog is affected with the disease known as rabies, the said board of health shall immediately establish such temporary quarantine as may be necessary to prevent the spread of the disease and to make immediate complaint thereof in the manner provided in Section 4 hereof.

Section 2. The order of the board of health to restrain, confine or muzzle dogs shall be operative when a copy of such order shall have been left at the usual place of residence of the owner or owners of dogs that are believed to have been exposed to the said disease, or when a copy of said order has been posted in 3 of the most public places in the township or part thereof to which said order applies.

Section 3. Any persons violating any of the provisions of this act, or of a quarantine or regulation or order to restrain, confine or muzzle dogs, duly established or issued by the board of health as provided in this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not less than 10 dollars nor more than 100 dollars, or to imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than 10 days nor more than 30 days, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Act 306 Public Acts of 1927 As Amended

Section 6. The county or district board of health or the health committee of the board of supervisors, shall have and exercise the same powers and perform the same duties of a board of health as conferred by law upon the boards of health of townships, villages and cities.

This Quarantine shall be in full force and effect from and during the period between April 10, 1953 and July 10, 1953, inclusive.

DATED: April 7, 1953.
Oakland County Department Of Health
John D. Monroe, M. D., Director
