CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1953

Farmers Fete Rotary Club

On Monday of this week the farmers of the community entertained the Clarkston Rotary Club at the Independence Township Community Center, at what turned out to be one of the best meetings Rotary has had in some time.

The invocation was given by Reverend Robert M. Atkins. Following this the W. S. C. S., of the Seymour Lake Church served a very fine dinner from fruit cocktail to ice cream and cake, on tables tastefully decorated with spring flowers.

Robert L. Jones led community singing, accompanied by Mrs. Clark Miller at the piano.

After a very short Rotary announcements the members stood and thanked their hosts for the evening. Herbert Baynes was introduced and after expressing the pleasure of the rural group in holding the meeting, turned the program over to Ed. Alchin, County Agricultural Agent, who in turn introduced George Parsons of the Michigan State College.

Mr. Parsons had visited the American Zone of Occupation in Germany doing special work under the Marshall Plan and told of conditions in Germany following the World War II. His report of the grim conditions existing in that country as they affected the economic conditions, the morale of the people and the actual devastation of the farms and cities, vividly drove home to his listeners the real results of having had a war in the homeland. Relieved as far as was possible with humor, the talk was still a very serious one and the manner in which the facts were related tended to instruct the attendance without being too depressing.

Following his talk Mr. Parsons showed some colored slides showing the bombed buildings, actual pictures of horses teamed up with cows to plow and cultivate the farms, cattle bred to not only furnish milk and beef but also to serve as draft animals. On the lighter side were the beautiful flower gardens, found in unexpected places to make life more enjoyable.

Everyone expressed pleasure at having attended the meeting and felt that the talk was more than worth-while, and that the farmers had been grand hosts.

The Rotary meeting next week will be held at the Clarkston High School with a member of the State Police present to give examples of marksmanship.

Sunsets

I can lose myself in the rays of the sun,
As they sink in the west when the day is done
And cast their reflections from pole unto pole.
They are seen by my eyes, but felt by my soul.

I feel there are fairies who gleefully play
On clouds in the west at the end of the day.
Spreading colors so rare, that man's never seen Except while adrift in a heavenly dream.

Each moment new colors spread out through the sky
Reminding the greatness of God's ever night,
That one need not travel to countries afar
For God and his fairies are right where we are.

For souls who are searching the earth for a thrill,
Look west at the sun slipping back of a hill
And drink with your soul this nectar of splendor.
Diffused by the these rays so gorgeous and slender.

There's cheer in my soul as these wonders I see
And feel how exalted all mankind should be
In knowing that God is just saying goodnight
With beauty supreme, with the last rays of light.

Now Is The Time To Buy Your Poppy

Today and tomorrow the bright red, paper poppies will be sold in Clarkston and vicinity. Be sure to buy one and wear it in honor of those who have given their lives for America in the two World Wars and the Korean conflict.

These memorial poppies are made by disabled veterans. They are crepe paper replicas of the famous poppies of Flanders Fields which took root and bloomed in the raw earth of the battle graves in Europe, providing nature's floral tribute to the heroic dead. Ever since World War I they have been worn annually throughout the English-speaking world as a symbol of remembrance, and to raise funds for the aid of disabled veterans and children of veterans.

Remember all this when you buy your poppy and be as generous as possible.

St. Andrews Church Tells Of Activities

Whitsunday or Pentecost—the observance of the "birthday of the Christian Church, through the visitation of the Holy Spirit which came to the Apostles gathered together in that Upper Room in Jerusalem so many years ago,—will be observed with special feeling by parishioners of St. Andrews Episcopal Church this year.

At 8 A. M. Sunday, May 24th an additional service of Holy Communion will be inaugurated. This 35 minute service of Holy Eucharist without sermon or singing of hymns will be held at the Church every Sunday thereafter.

The 10:30 A. M. service will be devoted to a Chapel Corporate Communion, and to Holy Baptism. Because of combining the two sacraments in the same service, there will not be the sermon on this Sunday.

A Junior Choir composed of young members of St. Andrews congregation will make their first official appearance in their new red choir robes at this service. The choir is composed of boys and girls beginning from the fourth grade up. They are under the tutelage of Rev. W. R. Hunt. They meet on Wednesdays, early evening and are learning some of the elements of music, as well as the singing of well known hymns and a number of "fun songs" which they can use around the campfire or for the entertainment of their friends. Any young person interested in joining this group is encouraged to visit one of the rehearsals Wednesday nights from 6:45 to 7:30 P. M.

A presentation and dedication of gifts which have been made to the Church by various guilds and individuals will be conducted also at this service. This list includes: two dozen Church school chairs, given by St. Catherine's Guild; tables given by St. Martha's Guild and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Snavelly; new dishes and tableware given by The Woman's Auxiliary (the combined guilds given from money raised at the previous Smorgasbord.) The one to be held Saturday night, May 23rd at the C. A. I. Building will result in still additional kitchen equipment it is hoped.

Other individual presentations will include special gifts for special phases of the construction work. The main presentation will be, it is hoped, the completion of the first main phase of the alteration and conversion program which has been going on so ardently since January under the direction of John Sterling, chairman of the building committee; Harry Warden, chapel warden, and the men of this active congregation. While not by any means complete, the vast amount of work which has been done in leveling the old floor; constructing heat circulation ducts; building a chancel; sanctuary; and more recently a hall-

Paper Drive Saturday, May 23

You are reminded of the waste paper pick-up in this district on Saturday, May 23. This is being sponsored by the Clarkston Cub Scouts and they are hoping for your full cooperation.

Have bundles of paper at the curb early so that the trucks will not have to make extra trips. A bundle from every home in this community would help the Cubs get some money in their treasury for some needed equipment.

Clarkston Student Gets Honor Award

Regents-Alumni Honor Awards at the University of Michigan have been awarded to 736 graduating seniors in Michigan high schools. It was announced today by Erich A. Walter, dean of students and chairman of the Committee on University Scholarships.

This is the second year that the Regents-Alumni Honor Awards have been made. They are in the form of certificates, designed to recognize outstanding high school seniors throughout the state who have been accepted for admission to the University of Michigan. Honor awards have no monetary value.

Eligibility for an award is based upon the following factors: (1) the record made in high school; (2) information provided by University alumni and other citizens of the community; (3) recommendations of the high school principal and teachers; and (4) results of the special aptitude test taken by the candidate.

Regents-Alumni Scholarships have been awarded since 1945. They carry a stipend equivalent to semester fees and are renewable for the student's undergraduate program at the University, provided that the record made by the holder warrants a continuation of the privilege.

The University has notified each scholarship winner individually by mail and is not identifying the scholarship winners among the honor award recipients. Award winners were selected from 1248 applicants representing 309 high schools.

Work of high school officials and University of Michigan alumni club throughout the state in helping to select award winners was of invaluable assistance to the committee, Dean Walter declared.

The award winner from Clarkston High School is Hubert M. Allen of 8250 Overlook Drive. He intends to enroll at the University in the College of Literature, Science and the Arts.

Clarkston Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Orlo J. Willoughby and family spent the past weekend with friends in Lima, Ohio.

Garald O'Dell is a patient in University Hospital in Ann Arbor where he will undergo surgery on Friday.

The friends of Charles W. Robinson will be pleased to learn that he is getting along nicely following surgery at the Ford Hospital in Detroit on Monday morning.

On June 21st the marriage of Miss Sally Stormer, daughter of Mrs. Patrick Bourke of Mt. Pleasant, and David Leak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Leak of Clarkston, will take place in Mt. Pleasant.

Way and partition extending from Hoob's to ceiling separating the Church quarters from the Church School and Activities Room, has been the marvel of all who have seen it.

Use of cedar panelling around the back of the sanctuary and on the partition; and creation of a fine sanctuary to house the altar, together with use of the excellent pews which were obtained from the Methodist Church in Birmingham, have combined to bring forth a surprisingly church-like atmosphere.

With the completion of the first great unit of work, the organized work parties will be discontinued for the summer, and the congregation will take a "breather" by turning to other phases of churchwork during the summer months, preparatory to the big task of putting in the kitchen, and the second floor rooms and exterior, to be carried on next fall.

All members of this year's Confirmation Class and parents and godparents of children baptized during the year are receiving special invitations to attend next Sunday services. All newcomers during the past year will be especially welcomed.

Letter Tells Of Disaster In Waco

The following interesting letter was received by Mrs. Byron T. Beardlee from her granddaughter, Mrs. T. V. Hoyer (Inez Miller) who with her husband, Dr. Hoyer, is living in Waco, Texas, while he is serving with the medical group of the James Connally Air Force Base. Excerpts from the letter give us some idea of the fear that filled the hearts of people when disaster struck:

"This is our 'Tornado Special' for the week! To begin with we are both safe and well and so thankful to have been spared any discomfort or injury. No doubt you have read by now various accounts of our disaster here in Waco. To say the least, it was a surprise to everyone, in fact, there was even a legend here to the effect that the Indians had originally settled in this area because the geographical characteristics were such that there would never be any fonades. The papers now say that the Indians were either misquoted or mistaken.

"We first heard about it from an hour to two hours before the 'big event', but of course didn't give it any serious thought.

"Tom was coming home from work having left the Base at 4:00 p. m., and I was at the Dance Studio. The sky had been overcast with an angry gray most of the day and began to darken suddenly about 3:00 p. m. At 4:00 it started to rain slowly but rapidly picking up in amount and wind velocity. There was some hail, sizes reported from moth ball size to golf ball size, in fact Tom even heard one man say that there was a hailstone the size of a baseball. The hail was intermittent and only an occasional stone would hit the car. Tom stopped at the Studio to pick up the car, wanting to get it under cover. By this time the water was at curb level and coming down in sheets. Tom jumped into our car, parked at the curb, and talked to me through the rain and wind, where I was standing in the doorway of the Studio, saying that he was going on home and would pick me up at 6:00. He says that while he was sitting in the car trying to start the motor that the car was suddenly rocked from side to side by big gusts of wind, although it didn't actually move from its position at the curb. We have it figured out now that that must have been 4:45 when the down-town section was hit. Neither one of us realized at the time nor indeed until much later that anything had happened. The winds died down somewhat right afterwords and Tom went on. He came for me at 6:00 and we drove home still not realizing the extent of the disaster. By 6:00 we had both heard rumors, which we thought were exaggerated, about what had happened. All the stop lights were off and there were no policemen directing traffic, so we assumed that there was some damage down town to keep them occupied. Tom didn't know whether to investigate to see if he could be of help or to sit tight and wait. We couldn't telephone out but we could receive calls, so we knew that if he were needed he would be contacted. We couldn't get anything but Dallas, Fort Worth, and static on the radio, mostly static! The sound of sirens in the air was incessant. We both worked in the kitchen and prepared a cold dinner, with consommé. Tom was on his way down from a standing position to a sitting position when one of the doctors from the Base drove into the yard and honked his horn. I am not sure yet if Tom got to the chair or not, if he gulped his consommé, and was off carrying a hastily-put-together ham sandwich. I thought he was going to the down-town area, but later when he called, it developed he had gone directly to the Base hospital where they were expecting the over-flow from the other hospitals. He was there all night, all day Tuesday and Tuesday night.

"As far as the damage in the city, we won't go into the gruesome details inasmuch as they will probably have news reports and perhaps even a newsreel later on regarding same. The damage was estimated at over $25 million dollars. Hundreds were injured and many killed. Although we had torrential rains yesterday and we hear thunder today, there is no wind and no further danger of a repeat performance. Rescue operations are still in effect in the downtown area where they are just now getting to the basement of a 6-story building which was completely demolished.

"The pattern of our living will resume its normal pace as of right now. Actually the damaged area is relatively small and, as of now, neither of us have been even close

Rev. A. F. Scorza, a visiting missionary, gave the latest news of the missionary situation in Italy, on Wednesday night at the mid-week family Bible and Prayer Hour at the Community Church.

This is a special note concerning the Men's Bescon Club of the Community Church. The regular meeting has been put ahead one week due to Memorial Day. It will be Saturday, May 23rd, at 9:30 P. M., at the church.

The Ladies Guild of St. Andrews Episcopal Church is serving a smorgasbord dinner this Saturday at the Community Activities building from 5:30 until 7:30 P. M. Tickets may be obtained at the door or by calling any Guild member. Proceeds will be used to help buy kitchen equipment for their new church. The public is invited.

placed by careful engineering survey, they are in accordance with the law, and it is not only dangerous, but unlawful, to cross the yellow line.

As a further warning to motorists, the State Highway Department has erected 150 safety poster boards at strategic places along the highway system. These boards carry the campaign slogan.

Of the millions of drivers trying to get ahead of other motorists by passing them, thousands fail to get by successfully. The trouble is that so often a driver has to get on the wrong side of the pavement. Passing in the face of oncoming traffic is dangerous at best. Few situations make errors in judgment so disastrous.

Pontiac

When it comes to downright value in an automobile, look no further than the beautiful Pontiac—A General Motors Masterpiece!

Here is a brilliant performer with a high-compression eight-cylinder engine that's famous for delivering thousands upon thousands of wonderful miles. Coupled with Dual-Range Hydra-Matic Drive* it gives you automatic driving at its finest—loads of eager pep in traffic, unusual smoothness and economy on the open road.

And Pontiac is a striking beauty! No car in America, regardless of cost, is more distinctively styled than a Dual-Streak Pontiac.

And what a buy Pontiac is! For all its size, all its roominess, and its 122-inch wheelbase, Pontiac is priced just above the very lowest. Pontiac is not only the lowest-priced eight built by General Motors, but it is also offered with a wonderfully economical six-cylinder engine at even lower cost.

It all adds up to this: Whether you choose your Pontiac as an eight or as a six, you've made a wise decision because dollar for dollar you can't beat a Pontiac. Come in and see for yourself. *Optional at extra cost.

Your Water System TOO SMALL... TOO WEAK for Today's Needs?

Many a water system in operation today is like a small boy trying to do a grown man's work. It was probably just right when the owner installed it. But now, because running water offers so many benefits, the system may be given more jobs than it was made to handle.

During May, check up on your system's capacity and pressure. If you want suggestions for increasing them, your Edison Farm Service Advisor will be happy to oblige. Just phone, write or visit any Edison office. No obligation.

The true relationship of "Soul and Body" is explained in the Lesson-Sermon under this title to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, May 24.

The Golden Text is from II Corinthians (3:18): "We all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord."

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Isa. 43:10): "Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen:
that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me."
Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Spirit, God, has created all in and of Himself. Spirit never created matter." (p. 335)

RED CROSS TO MOVE

Volunteers and staff working in the Pontiac office of Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, will have plenty of "elbow room" in an eight-room home-purchased this week.

The residence at 118 Franklin Blvd., Pontiac, will become new chapter headquarters as soon as owners Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Jerome move to their new home in West Bloomfield Township on Dow Ridge.

The deal was closed for $22,000 by a special housing committee, including H. B. Euler of Pontiac, chairman; Mrs. J. C. Walker of Pontiac and Mrs. Sheldon R. Noble of Birmingham.

Euler termed the purchase an economy move, pointing out the 11-office suite in the Huron Building, occupied by the Red Cross for some six years, costs the chapter $330 a month in rentals and garage rent for the chapter station wagon.

Present plans for the two and a half story brick home include converting the basement to classrooms for training courses, workrooms for volunteers and storage. Reception rooms, home service offices and a meeting room will be located on the first floor, with other offices on the second.

Rear yard of the home will be used for parking for volunteers.

Housecleaning 'Home' 100 Miles Long

This housewife guides huge shampooing machine as it kicks up heavy suds in carpet-cleaning operation for "world's largest hotel on wheels."

If you are a woman who faces the drudgery of housecleaning each spring, think of the job that you would have moving furniture, scrubbing floors and washing windows in a home nearly 100 miles long.

And suppose your housecleaning chore was not confined to spring alone but had to be performed each day of the year?

Well, The Pullman Company is confronted with just such a job in the operation of 6,000 sleeping cars. If each of these units was hooked together, a housewife would have to dust, sweep and scrub for a distance of 97 miles before she was finished.

All cars get a thorough going over each trip. Windows, mirrors and woodwork are cleaned, carpeting and upholstery vacuumed, and floors and steps scrubbed. This, however, is only a part of the job. At regular intervals, each car gets a rigorous, nook-and-cranny cleaning.

Walls, ceilings, lockers and equipment are washed with soap and water. Carpeting is removed from car floors and placed on racks where it is blown with compressed air to remove all dirt particles. It is then vacuumed and shampooed before being reappplied to the same cars.

Such thoroughness in housecleaning is essential in the operation of the "world's largest hotel on wheels." Pullman believes that its 50,000 customers each night of the year are entitled to the same comforts they enjoy at home. Accordingly, clean accommodations head the list of services that are offered to the traveling public.

A solution of three quarts of dinitro, 20 gallons of fuel oil or some light oil and 80 gallons of water is used. The solution is applied when the weeds are young. It is best to use it on a warm day, at least 70 degrees.

One acre can be covered with 60 gallons of this mixture. The chemical should not be used in vineyards that are less than a year old. Tender leaves will be burned by the chemical.

A word of caution should be given against using 2,4-D in grapes. Grapes are one of the most susceptible crops to this weed killer.

Work at Michigan State College with chemical weed control in grapes has been going on for about four years. Robert F. Carlson, weed control specialist at M. S. C. reports that a nozzle arrangement on the spray should be used so that both sides of one row can be sprayed at a time.

Nozzles should be aimed at the weeds, trying to avoid getting chemical on grape leaves.

rates for most farm jobs are listed direct from reports from farmers and those doing custom work throughout the whole State.

In general, it looks as though the custom rates for 1953 will be about what they were in 1952. This bulletin can be obtained by dropping a card or calling at the Oakland County Agricultural Extension Office at 1260 West Boulevard in Pontiac.

PUT PULLETS ON THE RANGE

With the coming of warm weather, poultry raisers will do well to consider putting their pullets on range. This is an excellent practice to reduce feed bills and helps to keep the young pullets from getting disease by separating them from the older birds.

SUMMER FARM HELP

Oakland County farmers will be looking for young men to help with the summer work on farms in practically all areas of the county. This is a good opportunity for students to earn some money and also to obtain some very fine experience in rural living. There is no greater satisfaction than working with nature. Farm wages will be good for a willing worker and a man who will stay with the job.

Appreciation

My heartfelt thanks are extended to all those who remembered me while I was in the hospital and since I have been convalescing at home. The cards, flowers, tasty dishes of food including delicious desserts and the visits and telephone calls emphasize the real meaning of friendship. Special thanks to those who have provided transportation.

USE CHEESE FOR SAVING GOOD HEALTH

Cheese usually plays a supporting role in menu planning, but it deserves a starring role, points out a Michigan State College nutritionist. Not only is cheese a concentrated, valuable food, it is also in abundant supply now and relatively inexpensive.

Mrs. Lucile Decker of the M. S. C., School of Home Economics reminds homemakers that one pound of cheese contains the equivalent of four quarts of milk fat and the equivalent of three quarts of milk in protein, calcium and phosphorus. Cheese is rich in vitamin A and riboflavin. Compared with other common protein-rich foods, cheese rates high in fat, protein, ash and calories.

Mrs. Decker wants to correct the mistaken notion that cheese is indigestible. Nutritional research has proved that cheese is one of the most completely digestible foods.

There are two general kinds of cheeses, process and natural. Spreads and other cheese products which have added ingredients such as cream milk, skim milk or cheese when in addition to natural cheese are called process cheeses. Mrs. Decker points out that process cheeses are somewhat diluted and contain less of the natural cheese nutrients. However, the handy sizes and convenience of process cheeses make it attractive to many homemakers.

FRUIT AND GARDEN NOTES

by Willard E. Bosserman Assistant County Agr'l Agent

Chemical control of weeds in vineyards is practical and effective. Use of a dinitro solution has been shown to be a good way to keep weeds down in rows. The chemical is not recommended for use between rows because of its cost.

Most growers like to cultivate between rows anyway.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh PTA Gets Stung by a "Bee" The local PTA is feeling sheepish today. Seems they complained the youngsters weren't learning enough. Said they couldn't even spell. So the kids challenged them to a spelling bee. "I was captain of the PTA's," "Doc" Brown told me. "Both teams made the first round just fine. But on the second round Speedy Taylor went down on 'efficiency.' Then his boy Chip, who happened to be next on the school team, rattled it right off. From then on it was murder!" So now "Doc" says that the whole PTA is thinking of signing up for night school! From where I sit, it always pays to look and think before you leap to conclusions. Take those folks who would deny me a temperate glass of beer without a moment's thought. They wouldn't want me to interfere with their personal preferences for, say, buttermilk. It's a good idea to think twice before you "spell out" rules for your neighbor. Joe Marsh
