Teacher Resigns By Request

George Miller, a former social studies teacher in Clarkston for the past three years, and who is alledged to have admitted once being a card-carrying member of the Communist Party, resigned Friday upon request of the Clarkston School Board.

Miller is further alledged to have declared that he is now inactive and to have refused to name his associates.

The School Board is reported to have sought his resignation for four reasons: His quesionable Un-American activities: his own admission he had been a card-carrying communist; he showed no compunction when questioned; and he refused to cooperate with officers of Michigan State Police when questioned.

The State Police had hoped to avoid calling on the School Board but Miller reported to Superintendent Greene that he had been called upon by the police and the Board felt it necessary to take the action it did.

Miller, who was president of the Teachers' Club in the school. will be questioned further at a hearing in Detroit in January.

Vows Spoken In Methodist Church

On Thursday of last week at four o'clock in the afternoon at the Clarkston Methodist Church Elaine Porritt and Robert Sharrock spoke their nuptial vows to the Reverend Mr. Robert M. Atkins, in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee Porritt of Clarkston and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sharrock of Royal Oak.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was smart in a maroon colored, wool suit, with tiny black velvet hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of white roses and carnations.

The only attendants were the bride's sister, Mrs. John Curry, of Clarkston and Harold Jumisco of Ferndale.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at Devon Gables to the wedding party and the immediate families.

The young couple left for a few days honeymoon in Tennessee. The bride and groom are both graduates of the Clarkston High School in the class of '51.

On Tuesday evening of this week a reception was held for the newlyweds at the V. F. W. Hall on Walton Blvd. A three tiered wedding cake flanked by white andles in crystal holders graced the table. Joyce McMullen, Eileen Jones and Jean Porritt assisted with the serving. Fall flowers were used to decorate the hall.

On Thursday morning Mr. Sharrock left to start his army training. Mrs. Sharrock will remain in Clarkston until it is definite where her husband will be stationed.

Since this building has been converted from a theatre to a church many people have been nather curious about how it was being done. In visiting the bazaar you are invited to make a tour of the building. The interior is being remodeled into a modern church. The Reverend Mr. Humt has a permanent office in the building, all furnished, and within the last week or so Mrs. J. B. Walker donated a rug for the office floor. Where the theatre lobby has been transformed into a modern kitchen and State Senator and Mrs. George N. Higgins have donated the kitchen equipment such as a ten burner, two oven, gas stove; a 96 inch stainless steel sink; a refrigerator; a water heater; and all of the cupboards. Mrs. Higgins was a member of the Episcopal Church in Ferndale for several years, but she is now a

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Squier left on Tuesday for their winter home im Ft. Lauderdale, Florida.

The fact is that Clarkston State Bank was robbed on a Saturday evening, July 16, 1932 (from our private. files). The Clarkston streets were filled with citizens. down town to see what was happening and to hear the latest news. But that is only half of the story and we will now relate another half which comes to us on very good authority. Dr. Walter G. Bergman's name appeared in the city papers last Friday as being ated in a manner which will amaze same Mr. Bergman was a candidate last year on the Socialist ticket for President of these United States of America. On the evening first mentioned Dr. Bergman was to deliver a message, so the story goes, in Clarkston, on Socialism. He arrived in town to meet a huge crowd, as he thought to hear him speak. He proceeded to the hall where he was to deliver his address to find no one present. Disgusted, he departed Store or at the box office of the our community probably never knowing that the reason his appearance did not draw a crowd was that Bank robbers had stolen the show, earlier, by their appearance at the Bank.... To a certain extent the writer is able to look on the bright side of things. There is a lot of doubt in our mind that every teacher, preacher, or other person in the public eye is a Communist But because so many believe otherwise, the fact that a Clarkston school teacher resigned last week and is believed by many to be a Communist, added fuel to the fire of those who entertain this school of thought and as near as we can find out the Associated Press and other wire services had a field day distributing the news that a teacher had been fired for Communist sympathies. The only good advertising that Clarkston received was that at least the teacher is not now in the school system. . . , A little older, probably with gray hair, perhaps crippled, possibly a patient for 35 years in a veterans' hospital, veterans of World War I will celebratte Nov. 11 with the largest amount of their largest income tax to the Federal Government going to pay for war material as ise. a defense against a possible war, which many believe may happen

DARKNESS HIDES WALKERS.

SLOW DOWN Frank G. Green, Chief of Police in Clarkston today announced a series of 10 safe driving lessons dealing with pedestrian safety. These are being run in this news-, paper as a public service to assist in saving the lives of local residents while they are on foot in traffic. "All motorists and pedestrians are urged to study the illustrations which will be shown in the series because they represent the most common types of difficulty which result from mixing the man on foot with the man on wheels in the traffic stream" the Chief said. "In traffic it's what you don't know and don't understand, and therefore not prepared for, that gets you into trouble", he added. According to Chief Green any motorist or pedestrian who learns these 10 lessons will be much less apt to become involved in a pedestrian accident than a person who has not thought out these practical driving and walking situations. This is the season of the year when several dangerous conditions 'gang up" on motorists and pedestrians. If it is twice as hard to drive safely at night then it must be three times as hard to drive equally safe when it's dark and raining. And it's probably four times as hard to drive equally safe when it's dark and snowing and the pavement is icy. The smart motorist takes these into account and looks harder, tries narder, and cuts his speed when conditions are against him. In calling upon all motorists to protection program the Chief said, cooperate with the pedestrian Just remember, there's an awful difference between hanging up a fender and hitting a pedestrian.

ship are eligible.

Providing a year-round supply of natural food will transform your yard into a thriving bird sanctuary, according to Harry Hann, assistant professor of zoology at the University of Michigan.

Such food may include a wise selection of plants and shrubs for both summer and winter months and the fruits, like berries and seeds, which hang on trees and shrubs during colder times. In the spring and summer, birds preferring a different diet will eat insects attracted by the plants.

Trees and shrubs, desirable for home landscaping because of their blossoms and foliage, also will delight the birds. Some of these are dogwood, flowering crab, shadbush and red cedar.

Among the plants especially attractive to birds are blueberries, raspberries, blackberries, cat brier, honeysuckle, Virginia creeper, sumac, sassafras, and wild cherry Red mulberry is particularly liked by robins, jays, thrashers, catbirds and thrushes. And it will attract the birds away from that cherry tree and those cherries you want for a pie!

Plant the shrubbery in clumps or masses, preferably next to a fence or wall. You might use Japanese honeysuckle and cat briers to cover the back porch and the walls while hedges of barberry or privet make a good substitute

Evergreens planted fairly close together afford good summer nesting places. Shrubs massed in thickets and providing shade to a height of 10 to 15 feet offer the best opportunities for nesting birds. Hemlocks and cedars provide shelter from wind, sleet and

Do not use every inch of the garden, but plant things in clusters leaving open spaces for lawn-loving birds like robins and song

Don't worry if your area doesn't look like a model garden. A few dead branches and twigs allowed to remain on otherwise healthy plants will make the birds feel at home. Thickets of briers and vines should be developed, but not allowed to get out of hand.

Hummingbirds are attracted by bright flowers. You may make a garden cafeteria for them by planting a few larkspurs and

Company will talk about your canapes—and it will be good talk -if you serve tasty snacks like these: Squares of toast spread with real mayonnaise to which a little grated onion has been added, and topped with a whole cooked shrimp: crackers spread with a mixture of 2 cups grated American cheese. 2 teaspoons mustard-withhorseradish and salt and pepper Arrange around a pretty dish of radish roses, carrot curls, celery sticks and olives, embedded on crushed ice.

Fashion experts advise about the wisdom of the simple. basic dark dress and rightly so, since there are so many ways to dress it up. How about a little rounded collar in pastel velvet or gay plaid? You can make it yourself out of a smidgin of material—and if you're using a solid color, place a tiny scatter pin at one corner.

In buying percale sheets, those with 180 or 200 threads to the square inch are the best investment since their high resistance to strain and laundering offsets the higher price asked. In the lower-priced muslin group, sheets that have a count of 140 threads a square inch are a good buy.

PRINCIPAL-FRESHMAN CONFERENCE HELD

The 25th annual Principal-Freshman and Junior College Conference is being held this week at the University of Michigan. Sponsored by the U-M Regis-college students.

Some 350 representatives vere expected from 176 high schools and nine junior colleges which have students new to the University this year. The deans, counselors and principals will interview each of their former students to hear them evaluate their preparation for the University.

Informal round table discussions and question and answer periods are being held by the high school representatives and members of the University staff to further the understanding and cooperation between the two levels of educa-

HEAVENS TO HAVE RARE EVENT NOVEMBER 14

Stargazers will witness a rare astronomical spectacle the morning of November 14, when the planet Mercury passes directly between the earth and the sun, according to Dr. Hazel M. Losh. University of Michigan associate professor of astronomy.

Such transits, when the planet appears as a tiny black dot on the sun's bright surface, occur on the average of about 13 times century. Few of them are easily observable, however. Professor Losh likens the event to a solar eclipse, when the moon passes between the earth and the sun. Mercury's transit differs in that it cannot be observed without a telescope. This is due to the planet's great distance from the earth, which does not permit it to block out much of the sun's

This year's crossing will take place near the northern limb of the ain, and will continue from 10:37 a. m. to 1:12 p. in. The planet's last transit took place November 11, 1940, and seven more are scheduled for the 20th century.

Professor Losh explains that "the first authentically observed transit of this planet was made by the astronomer Gassendi on November 7, 1631, in Paris".

The astronomer points out that these transits are of scientific value, since they offer a means of determining accurately the position and motions of these plan-

Among other astronomical events will be the appearance of Jupiter around 8 p. m. in the northeastern portion of the sky. Days will be continually shorter in November, Professor Losh points out, due to "the sun's rapid siuthern movement, which consequently shortens daylight hours. "By the end of the month, the day will have decreased to, about nine hours and 20 minutes, with only about 15 minutes to go to the shortest day", she states.

BASEMENT PLANNING IMPORTANT

Planning a new home? Remodeling your present one? In either ase, don't neglect to plan the sement as well as the areas of the floors above, cautions Olevia Meyer, home management specialist with the Michigan States College Extension service.

Advance planning of your base, ment "on paper" will save you costly mistakes. And, later when the budget permits, you'll have a well planned area for pleasant family pastimes—hobby workshop and a game room—or for a spare guest room, another bath room or the storage space that is lways welcome.

Plan on paper so misplaced space heaters, pipes and other obstructions won't happen in all the vrong places.

One of the most common errors in basement planning is for stairways, Miss Meyer finds in her work with housing.

Space allowed for the stairway often too skimpy resulting in a hard climb up and a dangerous passage down steps that are too high and too narrow. And don't neglect to plan for adequate head room over the steps.

Good 'dimensions for tainway mean easier, safer climbing up and down-and less argument in the family about who makes the up and down trips for daily chores.

The stair riser, from one step up to the next, should be 712 to 8 inches. The treads—the part you step on-should be from 9 to 10 inches deep.

Here is a good rule Miss Meyer gives for planning your stairway proportions: The height of two risers plus the depth of one tread should equal 25 inches.

With Soups: Serve always-fresh pretzels with all your soups. They give just the right touch of salty crispness that brings out the true flavor of your favorite soup. Heap pretzels in two or three bowls placed conveniently around the table.

With Fish and Mouts: Fish and oysters, shrimp and lobsters, naturally take to the salty crunchiness of pretzels. Serve the pretzels on your bread and butter plates. (They are good, too, when crushed and used in the stuffing of roast duck, chicken and turkey.)

Spots on rugs should be remov immediately, advise home management specialists at Michigan State College. A safe, non-infliammable cleaner can be used to remove grease. Give spots due to ink and other liquids immediate attention. Spread blotting paper torn in bits-or cornmeal, cornstarch or talcum powder-over the stain while still wet to absorb it. Never try to rub a spilled liquid from a rug or carpet; rubbing tends to drive it into the flabric.

Here's a Different Way With a Lunch Box

WHEN you have a lunch box to them all at the fill every day, keeping its con-tents varied and interesting betents varied and interesting becomes a major problem. Your task isnt made any easier, either, by knowing that after a few months of daily sandwiches monotony sets in, no matter how much you try to your. no matter how much you try to vary

However, there is more than one way to fill a lunch box, and one of the best methods is to keep the next day in mind when preparing the evening meal. Suppose, for example, that your dinner menu is corned beef and cabbage, with apple pie for dessert. Put a small piece of the raw cabbage back into the refrigerator. Then pass a single serving of the meat through a grinder and fashion it into a Corned Beef Hash Muffin.

When you come to the apple pie, allow for slightly more pastry and fruit than you will need and make in addition a little five inch double crust pie. Roll out the leftover plastic container of cole slaw made from the raw cabbage you saved All you need to complete a real repast is an ample vacuum bottle filled with fresh hot coffee. It's necessary to provide plenty, since almost everybody is allowed a coffee break these days. There should be enough coffee for lunch and the mid morning coffee-break as well. And by the way, that's what the pastry strips are for — a little something-to-nibble at coffee-break time.

Corned Beef Hash "Muffin" 1 tablespoon ketchup or chili sauce 1 teaspoon grated Combine all ingredients; pack into greased custard cup. Bake in moderate oven, 350° F. 25 minutes, scraps into strips, sprinkle them moderate oven, 350° F. 25 minutes, with cinnamon and sugar. Bake or until firm. Chill. Makes 1 serving.
