Mrs. Fred Steiner Has Book Published

About a month ago the book, "Lydia, Seller of Purple" by Eleanor B. Steiner of Clarkston, was ready to be placed on sale wherever Christian literature is sold.

The book was written by Mrs. Steiner to be used for devotions in women's meetings. It is dedicated to the Reverend Mr. Walter C. Ballagh, a former Clarkston pastor and to the dear friends whose encouragement and faithful prayers made possible the writing of it.

This 64 page book contains 18 chapters. Many of the chapters are suitable devotions for special occasions during the year, such as Mother's Day, Children's Day, July 4th, Thanksgiving, harvest time, etc.

The title of the book emblazons the name of one, Lydia, who is mentioned very briefly in the 16th chapter of the Book of Acts; one who once sold silks and velvets to nobility and then after learning about Jesus became a representative of The King of Kings.

This book, written by (Mrs.) Eleanor B. Steiner of Clarkston and published by The Moody Press of Chicago, sells for only 65 cents. It may be purchased from Mrs. Steiner or from any Christian Literature salesroom.

Mrs. Steiner has always been a capable leader in religious meetings. She has studied the scriptures and through the years she came to realize the need for a program of devotions for women's meetings. She spent about a year writing and compiling the book which she hopes will be used near and far wherever Christian groups gather.

Polio Patient To Be Remembered

Every small community has a heart, just like each individual. When sorrow strikes a home, the whole community is saddened; and when joy comes then everyone is gladdened.

In the hospital at Ann Arbor is one of Clarkston's young mothers who was stricken with polio and will likely be confined to the hospital for quite some time. Most everyone in the area knows Mrs. Ardie (Connie) Grubaugh. She was a member of the choir at the Clarkston Methodist Church and has been very active in the Dixie Saddle Club.

For a while Connie was in St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital in Pontiac and during her stay there she received several hundred cards which she greatly appreciated. Now, a new idea has been created. A thoughtful resident has donated a large basket and the idea is to fill the basket with small gifts to be delivered to Connie at Ann Arbor. These gifts are to be wrapped with the giver's name enclosed. Small packages, just something to help brighten the days and to let Connie know that Clarkston is still thinking about her. The basket will be in O'Dell's Drug Store. Take your gift there. Let's fill the basket so that there will be a gift or two to open every day for a while.

Red Cross News

The newly-organized blood committee of Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross has named a smaller "bloodmobile committee" to handle all mobile visits.

The larger blood committee, headed by Dr. Ernest W. Bauer of Hazel Park, met with the chapter's executive committee on November 18 for a special session. Some 20 blood committeemen, who hail from towns and townships across the county met at Fox and Hounds.

Dr. Bauer pointed out that since the blood program was started in 1951, Oakland County people have turned out to donate 21,532 pints of blood in 180 mobile visits.

"This is a particularly good turnout," he said, "since not until this September did we have a big industrial visit. In September, the mobile unit set up shop at Pontiac Motor Division for several weeks."

Dr. Bauer said local people in civilian hospitals used 6,300 pints of Red Cross blood since 1951.

This county, part of the five-county region, operating out of the Detroit Regional Blood Center, paid 17,800 last year as its share of supplies and salaries for the professional workers who staff mobile units.

Commenting on the large new blood committee, Dr. Bauer said it will give industry, business, labor, and city and rural folk a voice in the chapter's blood program.

Couple To Celebrate Golden Wedding

What more appropriate day could be chosen to celebrate a Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary than Thanksgiving Day, a day to be thankful for health and happiness together for quite a long period of time. This Thanksgiving Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Dates of Ortonville Road whose fiftieth anniversary occurs on November 25th, will go to the home of their son, Donn, in Farmington and enjoy a family dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Dates have lived in Clarkston for two and a half years, coming here from Detroit. They have lived in the Detroit area all of their lives. They were married by a Methodist minister in Windsor, Ontario, fifty years ago.

DEER HUNTER TRAFFIC SETS RECORD

Deer hunter traffic northbound across the Straits of Mackinac this year set a record for the five days prior to the opening of the hunting season, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler reports.

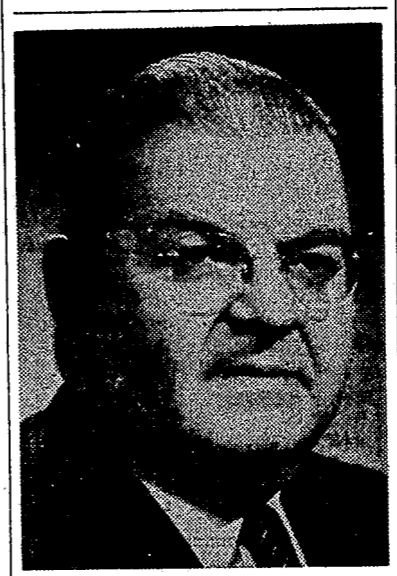

During the five-day period ending at midnight on November 14, a total of 22,886 vehicles and 50,431 passengers, almost entirely hunters, crossed the Straits from Mackinac City to St. Ignace, compared to 18,584 vehicles and 41,196 vehicles in the same period a year ago. This year's increase is 23 per cent over 1952, previous record year for deer hunter traffic.

The biggest day's business during the hunter rush this year was recorded on Friday, November 13, when 7,647 vehicles were carried across the Straits on the five State Ferry vessels, a new one-day record for northbound traffic and the hunting season. This increase is 13 per cent over the previous one-day hunting period record set on November 13 a year ago.

During the first three days of the hunting season, hunters returning from the Upper Peninsula to the Lower Peninsula brought 692 deer across the Straits of Mackinac on the State Ferries. This compares to 312 deer brought across the Straits from the Upper Peninsula in the first three days of the 1952 hunting season. This reflects the large increase in hunters in the Upper Peninsula this year.

Marshall Saunders will accept the gift in the name of the Methodist Church with the prayer that this organ may become undying music in the world as its notes of cheer, comfort, communion, and courage are modulated into human lives for daily task and noble service. All members and friends are cordially invited to share in this service.

They Plead For Your CARE

Asleep in their mother's arms on a Pusan street, two homeless youngsters typify the need for CARE packages to help Korean children.

Moved by the suffering of 1,000,000 destitute Korean children, a committee of nationally prominent women is asking every American to rally behind the slogan: "Send a CARE package to a Korean child."

With Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower as Honorary Chairman and Mrs. Myron M. Cowen as Chairman, the CARE-for-Korean-Children Campaign Committee has issued an appeal for contributions to provide the relief packages of food, textiles and other supplies for South Korean orphanages, hospitals, schools and impoverished families.

By The Way . . .

Thanksgiving, like Christmas, comes once each year; they are separate holidays, generally about a month apart. So much for the kindergarten statement. Why then do we skip over this great day of thankfulness for our many blessings to get on to Christmas. We do not wish to be profound but it seems that we are living so fast that we cannot live a day at a time but must live so far into the future that we don't get the pleasure out of each day as it is with us. Slow down and you will live longer. . . . A few years ago a man, then living in Clarkston, Robert C. Beattie, collected a number of his poems and published a volume of them that went into the second edition. Now a Clarkston woman, Eleanor B. Steiner (Mrs. Fred Steiner) has written a book "Lydia, Seller of Purple". Elsewhere in this issue is a book review of this literary work. We mention the accomplishment because one must admire a person who can write a work, have it accepted by a publisher, and know that it is on sale at stores selling christian literature throughout the world. And our library now contains autographed volumes by Mr. Beattie, Mrs. Steiner and a volume written by the late Orrin A. DeMass, who while not from Clarkston was well known in this territory and owned a country place between here and Lake Orion. . . . Before trying a case in Detroit last week it was necessary to visit the assignment clerk's office to see in which court we were to work. Imagine our surprise to find that the party serving us was Clara B. Walter, a daughter of Loan Walter, formerly of Clarkston and now living in Florida. Miss Walter stated that her father was 91 years of age and in good health. . . . The 3rd grade teacher carefully explained that a group of sheep is a flock and a group of quail a bevy. Then she asked for the names of other animals. When she came to caribou, a child timidly suggested, "a cartoon".

Equipment Added At Fire Hall

Any person in Independence Township who is in need of a hospital bed for a short period of time may borrow the same from the local American Legion Post. The bed was given to the Post for sponsoring the sale, locally, of the Michigan Farmer magazine. The bed will be kept at the Fire Hall. It is a regulation hospital bed with adjustable head and foot.

Also if you need a wheel chair or crutches call on the Firemen or the Legion Post. They have the equipment at the Fire Hall.

Any of this equipment will be loaned, free of charge, to any person in the township.

To make the Fire Department more efficient the Village and Township are purchasing a Home-life 3" pump which will pump 15,000 gallons of water an hour. It weighs only 95 lbs. and has its own motor built into it. This pump will be used where it is impossible to get to water with the fire engine.

Andersonville Hears Safety Talk

The Andersonville P. T. A., had a large crowd at its regular meeting on Monday, November 16th. Mr. Peterson from the Safety Department of the Oakland County Council presented many good ideas for the driver as well as the pedestrian to observe. He said: "At All times be alert; do not rush a green light; and do not jay walk—all these help to teach our youth safety."

Mr. Peterson stressed the importance of the driver training course. He made the parents feel that each individual is responsible for the high percentage of accidents.

Mr. Mac's sixth grade won the award for the largest percentage of parents present.

Refreshments were served by the sixth grade room mothers, Mrs. Joe Steele, Mrs. G. W. Wallits, Mrs. Edw. McIntyre and Mrs. Fred Gritzinger.

Christmas plans were completed by the Waterford Women's Club when they met at the C. A. I. on Thursday evening. Mrs. L. H. McFarland and Mrs. William Schultz have charge of making up and distributing baskets to needy families in the community. The Club's Christmas meeting will be December 17th starting with a planned, pot-luck dinner at 6:30. Mrs. Richard Hawke, Mrs. Ralph Frazer and Mrs. McFarland are on the committee for the evening.

This coming Monday, November 30th, at one o'clock, the ladies of the Waterford Community Church will meet at the church and pack cookies to be sent to the Meland Home in Kentucky and to the Charles Shocks in Tennessee. Each lady who took a child to do for for the year will have toys for Christmas, ready to go also. The truck from the Meland Home will be here around that date and things will be sent then. Anyone having anything to contribute may contact Mrs. Henry Mehlerberg or Mrs. William Granger.

The Ladies Auxiliary and the Adult Bible Class of the Waterford Community Church will combine for their Christmas party to be held on Thursday, December 3rd, at the church. A pot-luck dinner will begin at 6:30. Each person is to bring his own table service and a gift. The ladies will each bring a baby shower gift to be sent to Mrs. Douglas Meland and the men will bring one for Mr. Meland. Mrs. William Granger, Mrs. Ella Shook, Mrs. James Saylor, Mrs. Henry Mehlerberg and Mrs. Lawrence Giddings are on the committee for the party.

The Good Will Club will meet on December 4th at the home of Mrs. Henry Mehlerberg. This will be in the form of a Christmas party with an exchange of gifts. Mrs. Victor Lindquist and Mrs. Lyman Girst will assist.

There will be a Thanksgiving Day breakfast and service beginning at 8:00 A. M. at the Community Church.

Table-Top Christmas Tree

Newest decoration trick for the holidays is this little table-top tree. It's actually trimmed with pink rose corsages. Each rose has its own tiny vase concealed in the branches of the tree. Flowers can be replaced as they fade, or even worn home by your guests when the Christmas party is over. Allyn Wayne, official stylist of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, created this design as a master arrangement for the 18,000 florists who will soon be wiring Christmas flowers all over the world.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

The Annual Thanksgiving Day Service at Christ Lutheran Church will be held at 10:00 A. M. This is a service for all in the community. The sermon by the pastor, the Reverend Arvid E. Anderson, will be on the theme: "A Thousand Thanks". All Boy and Girl Scouts who attend in uniform, are invited to march in the procession, which will be led by the flag-bearers.

U.S. ECONOMY TO REMAIN HIGH, MSC GROUP TOLD

Although the business boom is ending, the American economy will continue at a high level, and a sharp and disastrous decline is out of the question. That is the opinion of Raymond Rodgers, professor of banking in the Graduate School of Business Administration, New York University. Prof. Rodgers spoke to members of the Michigan Bankers' association in a session at Michigan State College. He said that most statistical indicators have been showing a downward trend since the early part of the year. This, he said, has occurred in spite of record-breaking sales, high levels of manufacturing activity, high rates of steel production, glowing earnings reports and large dividend payments.

As indications that the boom is ending, he pointed out that inventories are growing larger; farm prices are 12 to 14 per cent lower than last year; industrial activity is declining, and unemployment insurance are favorable factors.

He also cited the increase in home ownership as an element of strength. "The main reason why our economy will not go into a tailspin", he added, "is the dynamic character of the American economy."

By this he meant America's rising standard of living, the rapidly increasing population, the desire for new productive equipment, new and improved products brought about by research, and the free nature of the economy. He said he believed that military expenditures will continue large, especially with the official warnings of an atomic threat. The business pattern, he concluded, will be marked by competition, increased efficiency, strengthening of sales forces, and smaller profit margins.

"The readjustment, at best," he said, "will be of the order of 1948-49! at the worst, 1938; but in no event will it approach 1932."

A GOOD COOK KNOWS HER ONIONS

There's an old saying that a good cook knows her onions, and right now that knowledge can benefit both her feed budget and her family menus, reports Mrs. Frieda Bennett, assistant home demonstration agent for Oakland County.

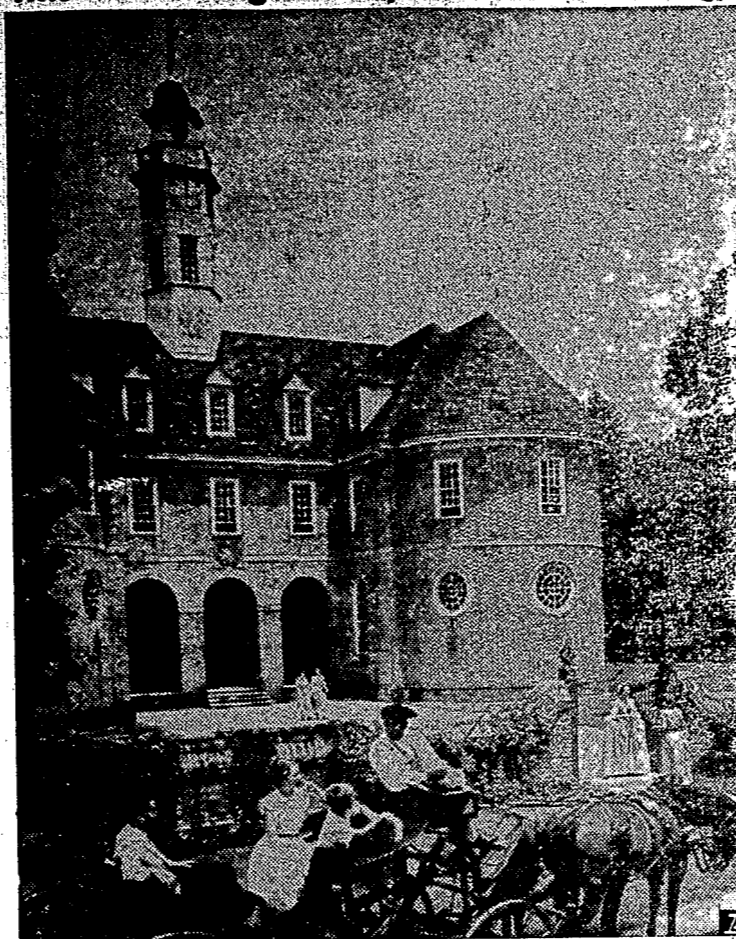

Onions are included along with beef and potatoes in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for November. The late onion crop is the second largest on record.

Consumption of onions hasn't varied much during the years. Since 1935, people in the United States have been eating an average of about 10 pounds apiece, regardless of supply and price variations.

Most homemakers use onions more for seasoning than as a separate vegetable in themselves. But this fall might be a good time to change the pattern and serve onions "as is"—boiled, creamed, stuffed, fried, or scalloped with nuts or apples.

A new U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletin, "Root Vegetables in Everyday Meals", is available for 5 cents through Washington, D. C. It includes recipes for using onions plus recipes for using beets, carrots, parsnips and turnips in a variety of ways.

This Was Michigan's Capitol—200 Years Ago

Bishops R. F. Emrich, Russell F. Hubbard, Herman R. Page and Dudley B. McNeil of Michigan are among those to attend a special session in the restored 18th century Capitol at Williamsburg, Virginia, during the assembly of the House of Bishops of the Episcopal Church at Williamsburg November 9 through 13. If the Bishops had lived 200 years ago this would have been their Capitol, for the Virginia colony included the territory which is now Michigan. Here Thomas Jefferson introduced his Bill for freedom of religion, Patrick Henry made his fiery "If-This-Be-Treason" speech and George Mason saw passed unanimously his Bill of Rights, parent of the Federal Bill of Rights.

Residents of the Great Lakes region have reason to be proud of the work which University of Michigan engineers have done in ship development, especially in ship design which minimizes rolling and pitching. Much of the research has been done in the University's 360-foot long naval tank, second largest in the nation.

The ninth largest institution of higher education in the United States is Michigan State College with an enrollment of 15,000.

Services provided by many Michigan stores and businesses are being changed and improved as a result of investigations of customer reactions carried on by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Michigan. The surveys are conducted by the U-M at the request of businessmen concerned.

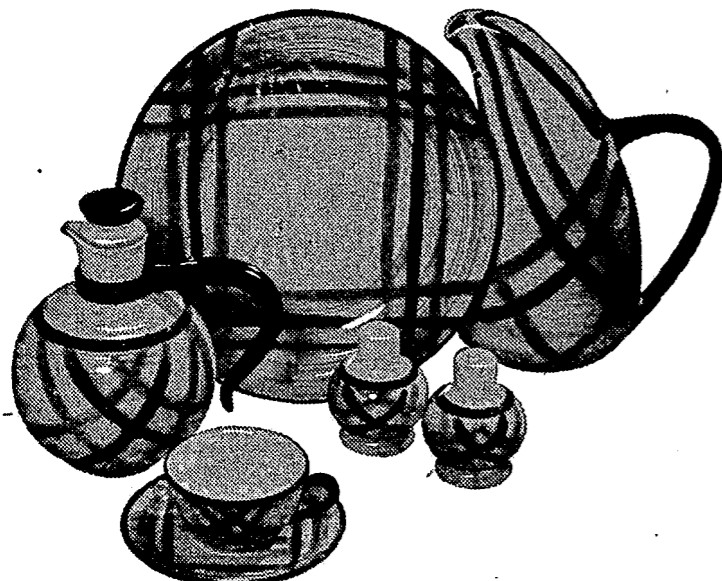

In 1955, Michigan State College will observe its Centennial year, commemorating 100 years of service to the state and nation.

COOPERATION GOOD, SAYS SOCIAL SECURITY OFFICE

Over 6,000 employers in the Oakland County area file quarterly tax returns under Social Security.

Mr. Rex A. C. Atwood, Manager of the Pontiac Social Security Office, says the successful administration of the law which pays benefits based on past earnings on which social security taxes are paid is due to a great extent to the cooperative attitude of employers in submitting tax returns which are complete as to the name of employee, his correct social security account number and the amount of wages paid to him.

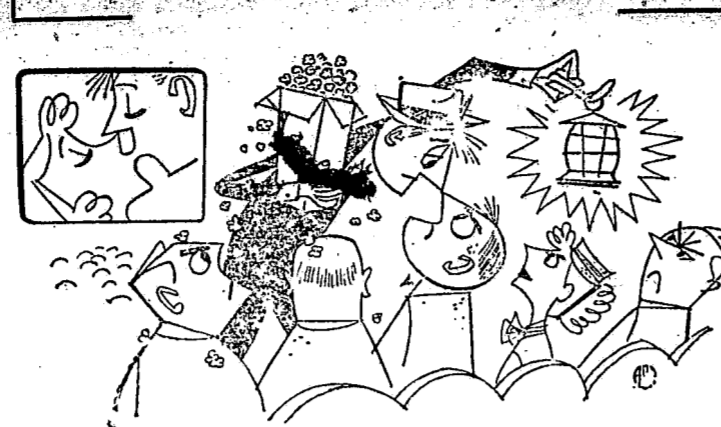

amounts of these benefits, it is very important that the account be correct.

An employee can help in assuring proper credit of his wages to his account by showing his social security card to his employer when accepting employment.

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

Need A Lantern?

No matter how you see it—vitamin A has eye appeal. It plays a role in keeping eyes and skin healthy. Lack of this vitamin produces night blindness.

The victim of night blindness is the motorist who in the twilight strains to see approaching traffic, or the theatre-goer who upon coming into the dimly lit movie from the bright foyer gropes blindly for his seat.

For an A plus diet, eat plenty of liver, milk, eggs and green and yellow vegetables. Table fats contribute vitamin A, too. The generously buttered slice of enriched bread offers a tasty way in which to get important parts of an adequate diet—needed vitamin A from the fat, B vitamins, minerals and protein from the bread, and energy from both.

Vitamin A, as such, does not occur in plants, but is present in the form of a brilliant yellow substance—carotene. Yes, this carotene paints the carrot orange, and carotene received its name from this vegetable. The body produces vitamin A from carotene. Vitamin A is a fat soluble vitamin and needs the help of a digestible fat for its absorption.

NEWS AND COMMENT CONGRESSMAN GEO. DONDERO FEDERAL PAYROLL REDUCED, AID TO PROSPERITY

Congressman George A. Dondero this week traced the effects of recent substantial cutbacks in federal government employment on productive activity in the United States, and drew the conclusion that productivity has been increased, with all Americans better off as a result.

"During the fiscal year which ended last June 30," said Congressman Dondero, "the cutback in federal employment totaled 159,000 persons, mostly because those who quit their jobs were not replaced. For September of this year alone, the cutback was 30,100, with a slightly lesser number in August, and more to come before the end of the year.

"Owing to the fact that over-all federal salaries average $4,400 annually, it follows that by next January 1 the payroll savings, in behalf of the taxpayers, made during the present calendar year may exceed $1 billion annually.

"But this does not mean that federal payrollers separated from their jobs join the ranks of the permanently unemployed," Congressman Dondero continued. "Instead they go back into private employment, and private employment means productive employment. Employees of private enterprise add to the wealth of the country, whereas federal employees produce nothing and subtract from the country's wealth.

"Proof that former federal employees have gone back into the productive labor force of the country is provided by the fact that unemployment in the United States today is little over 1,000,000 persons. And these unemployed are mostly workers in process of changing jobs, housewives whose husbands are earning more and who have returned to their households, and a few of working age who are unemployable by reason of physical or mental disabilities.

"The Department of Commerce reported that during October only 1,162,000 persons in the United States were unemployed—the lowest figure since the end of World War II. Income of wage and salary earners has reached an annual rate of $208 billion—up seven percent from last year. Employment in factories and other non-farm industries reached an all-time high of 49,600,000—an increase of 700,000 over September, 1952.

"From these figures," Congressman Dondero concluded, "it can be seen that ex-employees of the government have found productive jobs and doubtless are the happier for it, and taxpayers will have at least a billion less to pay in taxes over the years to come."

EDWARD J. FALLON Attorney, 806 Riker Building, Pontiac, Michigan.

STATE OF MICHIGAN — In the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland, in Chancery.

No. D-31,801 SHELBY GLENN WOOLDRIDGE, Plaintiff vs JESSIE WOOLDRIDGE, Defendant.

Timely Tips

An old tooth brush makes a wonderfully handy tool for cleaning jewelry, combs or other hard-to-get-at places. Put a little household ammonia in soap suds, and you can whisk them clean in no time.

When things are too wet to iron, hang them up and let an electric fan blow on them. They'll be ready for ironing a lot sooner, and have a pleasant freshness about them.

Garden tools will winter well if they are scrubbed clean and all metal surfaces coated with oil before they are put away.

Try office desk blotters on your shelves under glassware and china. They're colorful, and will absorb any moisture that may collect.

That nasty onion odor can be completely obliterated from your hands. Just wash them in vinegar.

To keep floors from being marred when moving furniture, slip old, heavy woolen socks over the legs.

A folded damp cloth placed under a mixing bowl will keep it from slipping while you are mixing.

When starch sticks and burns on the bottom of your iron, don't use an abrasive to clean it. Sprinkle a little baking soda on a damp cloth and rub the iron until clean. The soda won't scratch the ironing surface.

Is hypnotism a true remedial agent? This important question is explained in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, November 29, under the title: "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced".
The Golden Text is from III John (1:11): "Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God; but he that doeth evil hath not seen God."
Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Ps. 62:11): "God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God."
Correlative passages from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Evil is a negation, because it is the absence of truth. It is nothing, because it is the absence of something. It is unreal, because it presupposes the absence of God, the omnipotent and omnipresent. Every mortal must learn that there is neither power nor reality in evil." (p. 186)

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

The Missus Keeps Posted

Ever since our electricity was cut off last year on account of me forgetting to mail in the payment, the Missus has been sort of leery about giving me letters to mail.

At first she'd ask if I mailed them, then double-check my coat pocket at night. She stopped that, and I figured she was convinced I'd learned my lesson.

Then yesterday, I got a postcard at the office in a familiar handwriting. I turned it over and by golly it was from the Missus herself! It read: "Thanks, Joe, for mailing my letters." Well!

Looks like she figured I still needed some checking-up and slipped that postcard in the last batch of letters.

From where I sit, an occasional check-up is a good thing. Check-ups on just how tolerant we are of other people's preferences and tastes, for example. I like a glass of beer with supper, you may prefer cider—but if I ever try to switch you to my choice, simply "address" me with a reminder of your rights.

SIZE OF ANTLERS INFLUENCED BY DEER'S FOOD
Looking for a large rack of deer antlers to hang over your fireplace?
Hunters seeking such a prize had best stay clear of the "old bucks", according to a University of Michigan professor.

Prof. Warren W. Chase, chairman of the U-M wildlife management department, points out that bucks boast the largest antlers between the ages of three and six years. After that age, he says, the antlers become smaller due to lack of vigor, which prevents development.

The young deer will have smaller antlers, usually spikes, at about one and a half years, the professor continues. Nutrition plays a large role in antler development, and the larger deer can reach foot unavailability to the young buck fawns.

Professor Chase explains that hunters who want large racks of antlers are most likely to get them in areas of rich land with plenty of food, where the buck law has not been in effect continuously.
The buck law has been in effect in most areas of Michigan since 1921, and hunters have been allowed to take one male deer with antlers at least three inches long.

Speaking of deer longevity, Professor Chase states that deer can live "quite long" but seldom are given the opportunity. He points out that wild deer are seldom more than seven or eight years old, and if they are being hunted heavily, the average is usually two to three years.

Dr. Chase explains that there usually is a high proportion of young in the annual hunters' take, especially since the yearly deer population is approximately one third young and since, under the buck law, only the younger bucks are left.
This take in 1952 was 162,630 deer for 417,680 gun hunters and 1,840 deer for 28,530 archers, according to figures released by the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Among deer kept in captivity, Professor Chase explains, the average age is 15 years. He points out that one Michigan doe, recorded as being 17 years old, gave birth to a fawn.
