WIFE-SAVING KITCHEN SET AT MSC FEB. 1
Homemakers attending Farmers' Week on the Michigan State College campus Feb. 1-5 will have an opportunity to inspect the mobile "Easy Does It" kitchen recently developed by the Consumers Power and Light Company of Jackson.
This demonstration kitchen was developed from research studies of engineers and home economists at Purdue University, Michigan State College, Wayne University, and Bellevue Center.
The kitchen was designed to help homemakers find more efficient, energy-saving ways to do their work. The kitchen's plan was not meant to be copied in detail, but rather to incorporate many ideas to stimulate each homemaker's thinking toward ways to make her own kitchen a pleasanter, easier room in which to work.
The "Easy Does It" kitchen has special interest for the physically handicapped, whose limitations were considered in the plans. However, homemakers with no physical disability find it just as interesting. This was evidenced when homemakers and husbands alike were enthusiastic viewers of the kitchen at a showing on the M. S. C. campus last fall.
Thousands of Michigan farm folks are expected at the 39th annual Farmers' Week—Michigan's biggest rural life event—at Michigan State College, Feb. 1-5. Many farm organizations will have their annual meetings in conjunction with Farmers' Week.

CLARKSTON ELEMENTARY

SECOND GRADE—Miss Metzger

We are studying about the foods we need to eat each day. We have talked about what we should eat for breakfast. A good breakfast helps us to grow strong and tall. We are planning a grocery store, and we will learn to make change.

FIFTH GRADE—Miss Tosich

With the holidays over and most of our room decorations down, we are now working on new projects for our bulletin boards. In as much as we are studying the United States in geography, we will make a large map of the United States on our bulletin board.

In division we are doing division by two-figure numbers and some work in story problems. In history we have studied the Revolutionary War, Declaration of Independence, Constitution of the United States, and the Louisiana Purchase.

The parts of a sentence are being studied in our English class. We have studied nouns and verbs and what they do in a sentence. We have studied helping verbs and how to use verbs correctly.

Ronald Jyteen came back to school last Wednesday after a very enjoyable trip to California with his parents. While Ronald was in California he went to the Rose Bowl game.

SIXTH GRADE—Mrs. Forsyth

We are very glad that Shanna Stewart is back from Florida. Jackie Powell's father has opened his store in town. She brought a coconut to school.

Our magic garden plant has one petunia on it. In spelling we are having a contest with the boys against the girls. In science we found out what gives objects their color. It was hard for some of us to believe.

hi! TIME TO LAUGH ha!

Schoolmarm: "What has twelve legs, a green body, pink eyes, and fuzz?"

Puzzled school boy: I don't know, teacher, what has?

Schoolmarm: I don't know either, but it certainly doesn't look nice on your neck.

THIRD GRADE—Mrs. Godfrey

The third grade began school with several absent with colds and other sicknesses. They are reviewing their reader, "Far Away Ports". They are also correcting notebooks.

In arithmetic they are learning their combinations in addition and subtraction. All the children are interested and are studying very hard. They hope to be able to answer all of the sums at a glance. They have learned the value of each number up to 4.

On Monday we received two new pupils, Dorothy Bolan from Alabama and J. W. Beasley from Arkansas.

HUNTER SCHOOL—Mrs. Howland

We were all glad to see each other again after vacation. We enjoyed telling what we got for Christmas.

We try to read as many good stories as we can at home. Then in language we tell the class the story. Sometimes we make up our own stories.

Sandy Powell has the mumps. We miss her a lot. We made some snowmen to decorate our room.

Such scenes as this will soon be commonplace in Michigan as the ice fishing season closes in on waters of the state. Each year, thousands of enthusiasts, an army that the conservation department reports has been growing with each season, take part in the finger-numbing sport.

TOOTHACHE IN SKY AIR AGE PROBLEM

At 30,000 feet, traveling some 300 mph, the least of an aviator's problems should be his teeth.

Yet, Dr. Floyd A. Peyton, professor of dentistry at the University of Michigan's School of Dentistry, indicates that the toothache in the sky is one of the serious problems dentists will have to face in the future.

A flyer may take off feeling great as far as his teeth are concerned. But, as he sails into the clouds the change in atmospheric pressure may produce an extremely painful toothache.

Also, a perfectly fitting set of dentures on the ground has been known to drop in the aviator's lap at high altitudes.

This has all led to a new word for the layman: "aerodontalgia", or, a toothache at high altitudes. That is why, facing the predictions of an air age, dentists have for some time been at work on an approach to dental problems which would be as effective in the upper strata as it is on the street level.

The education of dental students, too, includes serious considerations of problems which accompany the expansion of air travel.

Dr. Peyton refers to certain experimental findings in the field of air dentistry as the basis for a continuous program of study:

1. Air Force studies have revealed that a diseased tooth may decay faster at high altitudes. True, it will take more than a quick trip to New York via an airline to uncover a bad tooth. But repeated exposure to high altitudes, such as is experienced by the pilot himself, may create a variety of future dental difficulties.

2. The very condition of anxiety which some suffer while flying causes grinding of the teeth. This in itself suggests the need for dental work which will withstand "air jitters".

3. Dentures have been known to drop into the lap of airmen. Studies indicate that at 30,000 feet there is as much as a 50 per cent loss of retention of dental plates.

"The Air Force recognizes that it can hardly ground a man because he happens to have had a tooth filled," says Dr. Peyton.

"Yet that one tooth may conceal a hidden, otherwise painless air pocket which can cause a great deal of discomfort up in the clouds", he declares.

REMOVE DEAD TREES NOW, SAVE LAWNS

Winter is the best season for removing those dead, dying, severely decayed or crowded shade trees around the home or in the community.

William B. Love, extension specialist in municipal forestry at Michigan State College, explains the reason this way: When the ground is frozen or protected by snow, there is less danger of damaging lawns and flower beds with falling trees or the skidding or moving of logs. And many tree service concerns are not so busy this season of the year. Winter also is a safe time to dispose of brush and wood by burning.

Dead and dying trees, Love points out, are ideal breeding places for many harmful insects and tree diseases. It's essential he maintains, to remove and burn all dead elm wood throughout southeastern Michigan in areas where Dutch elm disease is found. Bark beetles carry this disease from diseased to healthy trees. The insects over-winter and multiply in dead and dying elm trees and in piles of elm wood.

Pruning out and burning all dead branches from healthy elm trees will improve the trees as well as reduce the bark beetle population. And, Love stresses, "a program of tree removal and pruning is long overdue in most communities throughout Michigan."

SHARP PLUNGE NOT EXPECTED IN FEBRUARY

February business slumps have become normal—but don't look for a drastic plunge in February prices, advises Arthur Mauch, Michigan State College agricultural economist.

Prices in central market strengthened on several crop and livestock products in recent weeks, notes Mauch, after the fall marketing period passed. The 1953 harvest was only a little below that in 1952, which was the second biggest on record.

Farmers sold 5 per cent more products the first 11 months of 1953 than in the same months of 1952, but prices averaged about 10 per cent lower. Overall receipts of $28 billion were 4 per cent under 1952, the M. S. C. farm economist explains.

February price breaks have been common in recent years. After people do their Christmas shopping, pay bills in January and pay federal income taxes and state and local taxes, they have less to spend. Winter also puts a crimp in industrial production and in road building and construction work.

What about this February? Businessmen are cutting down on inventories and there is some general slowing of the economy, advises Mauch. Sometimes the winter let-down does not wait until February, and weaknesses in some commodities show it may be on the way. But prices of most farm commodities have been readjusting downward for two years and Mauch considers it unlikely there will be a drastic drop in February.

Farmers can get information on how to file their income tax returns from a bulletin called "1953 Farmer's Income Tax". The publication has been approved by the Bureau of Internal Revenue and is available at the offices of county agricultural agents.

CLASSES FOR EXPECTANT PARENTS

Classes will again be held for expectant parents in Pontiac, Walled Lake and Waterford Township beginning the last week in January. These meetings offer an opportunity to share with other parents the knowledge and understanding which helps in increasing the enjoyment of this new experience together. More and more couples these days are recognizing the excitement and pleasure they can derive from the anticipation and care of their new baby. Classes are also open to young couples hoping to have a baby some day, grandparents-to-be and to couples who already have children.

The classes are given weekly and include discussion, slides, films and suggestions for reading materials. Topics which will be covered during the series include discussions on family adjustments to the pregnancy and the baby, the anatomy and physiology of reproduction, the development of the baby before birth, health habits during pregnancy, food for the family, labor and childbirth and the needs of the new baby. A baby bath demonstration is a highlight of the course. Tours of the maternity floors and nurseries are arranged as a part of the series in cooperation with Pontiac General and St. Joseph's Mercy hospitals.

Public Health Nurses from the Oakland County and Pontiac City Health Departments lead the classes which are under the joint sponsorship of the Oakland County Medical Society and the Adult Pontiac City, Walled Lake and Waterford Township Schools.

The class schedules are as follows: Pontiac High School - Thursdays - January 28 to March 18, 1954, 7:30 to 9:30 P. M. - Miss Sally Bridson; Waterford High School - Tuesdays - January 26 to March 16, 1954, 7:00 to 9:00 P. M. - Mrs. Loraine Black; Walled Lake High School - Mondays - January 25 to March 15, 1954, 7:30 to 9:00 P. M. - Miss Cynthia DeWolf.

The Lesson-Sermon, entitled "Life" includes the following account of counsel by Christ Jesus from the Bible:

"And, behold, one came and said unto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life? And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good?"

Game Laboratory

William Youatt, game division pathologist, here checks blood samples of a deer that conservation department workers found dead in northern Michigan recently. The animal was one of about 20 believed poisoned by certain plants that during fall months are sometimes actively toxic. Youatt works in the department's game lab at East Lansing.

there is none good but one, that is, God; but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments" (Matthew 19:16,17).

The following correlative passage will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We apprehend Life in divine Science only as we live above corporeal sense and correct it. Our proportionate admission of the claims of good or of evil determines the harmony of our existence, our health, our longevity, and our Christianity" (167:6).

TALK TO BE GIVEN ON PRE-SCHOOL CHILD

The Cornelian Corner of Detroit has asked Helen Ross to speak before their organization, Thursday, January 28, at McGregor Public Library, 12244 Woodward, Highland Park at 8:00 P. M.
 Miss Ross will talk on "The World of the Pre-School Child". Helen Ross is Administrative Director of the Institute for Psychoanalysis in Chicago, Illinois. She is a graduate of the University of Missouri; did graduate work at Bryn Mawr College and the University of London; she followed this with five years' study at the Institute of Psychoanalysis in Vienna.

Practically all her experience has been related to education. She started out as a high school teacher, then established a girls' camp which was under her direction for 39 years. To improve her handling of children's problems, she decided to study psychoanalysis. Most of her time in the last 20 years has been spent in psychoanalytic work with children, in consultation with social agencies and schools, in teaching and writing, and in the development of training for psychiatrists and others engaged in work with children. She has occasionally acted as consultant to business and advertising firms.

Alexander, M. D., are co-editors of a new book just off the press, entitled, "Dynamic Psychiatry: Twenty Years of Psychoanalysis". Everyone in this district is invited to this meeting.

DRUNK DRIVER CAMPAIGN GETS BEST RESPONSE

Cooperation in the December-January statewide traffic safety emphasis program at reducing accidents caused by drunk drivers has been greater this year than ever before, State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, reports. The campaign is sponsored by the State Safety Commission, Michigan Liquor Control Commission and the state associations of chiefs of police, sheriffs, judges and justices.

Reports are not complete enough to indicate the full impact of the program, Childs said, "but we do know we have had more enthusiasm and better cooperation than we have ever had." At the same time, the commissioner pointed out that although the special campaign will be concluded at the end of January, the problem exists throughout the year. "A State Police study of 17,000 rural accidents showed that drivers who had been drinking were guilty of a much higher percentage of speeding violations than non-drinking drivers," the commissioner said. "The drunk driver has the highest percentage of violations for driving on the wrong side of the road." "A study at Evanston, Ill., under the auspices of the Northwestern Traffic Safety Institute and the National Safety Council, showed that drivers who had been drinking were 55 times more likely to become involved in personal injury accidents. "The results of these studies make it evident that we must wage a continuous campaign against drunk drivers."

So Easy . . . So Good Meal

Have you discovered the magic of casserole cooking? This tantalizing flavor-blend of canned corn, condensed cream of chicken, or mushroom soup, with a juicy pork chop for each member of the family is an excellent example. It's the modern, easy-way to get a meal and what is more it's a penny saver. Check the ingredients needed to make flavorful sauces for baked casserole dishes, and see the saving when condensed soups are used for the sauce.

Family Favorite Meal
 Spiced Tomato Juice
 Pork Chop Corn Bake Baked Potatoes
 Hearts of Lettuce Toasted Rolls
 Apple or Cherry Pie
 Coffee or Milk

Pork Chop Corn Bake
 1 can condensed cream of chicken, 4 pork chops (1/2 inch thick) or mushroom soup Salt and pepper
 2 12-oz. cans whole kernel corn 2 bay leaves, or onion slices
 Combine soup and corn in a baking dish. Sprinkle pork chops with salt and pepper. Arrange on top of the soup-corn mixture, placing a half bay leaf under each chop. Bake covered in a slow oven (325° F.) about 1 hour. Uncover and continue to bake about 15 minutes until chops are brown. Four servings.
 TRY using drained canned peas, mixed vegetables, or green or wax beans instead of corn.

THE MARCH OF DIMES
 How Much Is A Dime?
 They say you can't buy anything for a dime any more.
 Time was when John D. Rockefeller's favorite coin started many a kid's savings account. That was in the old days.
 Yet even today the 10 cent piece represents a potent force. A handful of them 16 years ago created something that today is becoming a multi-million dollar vial of vaccine. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis through its March of Dimes has embarked on a new polio prevention front in addition to its program of scientific research, patient aid and professional education.
 It we actually can stamp out polio with millions of dimes, what glory for those 10 cent pieces. But there have been other rewards as well.
 The March of Dimes has trained thousands of physical therapists who are helping people recover from diseases other than polio. It has helped educate many doctors. It has lent tremendous impetus to new public health programs. It has given the public an awareness of its responsibility in fighting all diseases. It has helped open the doors of hundreds of hospitals to thousands of patients.
 The purchasing power of the individual dime admittedly has decreased. But millions of them invested in the March of Dimes may purchase for all of us a new dimension in the fight against disease—of which the imminent conquest of polio is only the forerunner.

POTATOES BETTER BUY THAN USUAL
 While the potato is always an excellent budget item, it is even a better buy than usual right now. Probably no other vegetable can top the potato's versatility. A homemaker can build a whole meal around potatoes by combining them with other foods.
 Potato casserole dishes are a good way to use up left-over meats. Hot potato salad might make a hit with the family another time. And on a blustery, cold night, generous servings of potato soup or potato and fish chowder are other menu possibilities.

NOTED PASTOR KEY SPEAKER FOR FARMERS
 Ex-amateur boxing champion and ex-war correspondent, the Rev. W. H. (Bill) Alexander will be headline speaker for the first general session of the 39th annual Farmers' Week at Michigan State College.
 The dynamic 38-year-old 215-pound pastor of First Christian Church of Oklahoma City—which insured his life for $100,000—will present "Life's Quiz Program" at 3:15 P. M. Tuesday, February 2, in the college auditorium.
 Described by Time magazine with "... what Florenz Ziegfeld brought to Broadway and tabasco sauce to the raw oyster, the Rev. William H. Alexander brought to religion in Oklahoma City", he is one of the nation's most sought-after speakers. Sandwiched in between his Wednesday and Sunday sermons in his home church, he talked to about 1,000 groups from coast-to-coast in five years.
 Durward B. Varner, director of M. S. C.'s Cooperative Extension Service, will be program chairman. He will introduce outstanding guests, including George S. McIntyre, new director of Michigan Department of Agriculture; Gerald E. Eddy, director of Michigan Department of Conservation; G. Elwood Bonine, state director for Farmers Home Administration; Everett C. Sackrider, state conservationist, U. S.
