Rotary Club Elects Officers

Ted Huerth a representative of the S. Lowenstein & Son Packing Company was present at the Clarkston Rotary Club on Monday to explain the different grades of beef. The talk was interesting in that it gave one a better idea of what he was buying. He defined the grades from the highest down in this order: prime, choice, good, commercial and utility and explained that this was the reason for the various prices asked for meat.

An election of officers resulted as follows: president, Charles Rockwell; treasurer, Allan Hawke; permanent secretary, Charles Robinson; board members, Garnet Poulton, Ronald A. Walter, C. H. Lippincott, Ira Snader, Frank Ronk, and Rudy Schwarze.

On Monday, February 15, most of the members will attend the hockey game in Detroit. The bus will leave from in front of O'Dell's Drug Store as soon as possible after five p. m. There will be no meeting at the Community Center.

The dinner this week was served by the Seymour Lake Crusaders who are working to secure an electric organ for their church.

When the Brownie Troop 200 met at the home of Mrs. Whitmer on Jan. 27th we made valentines. It was Patty Carey's and Martha Torr's birthday. We had cupcakes for our snack.

Martha Torr, Scribe

Brownie Troop No. 194 met with their leader, Mrs. Kieft, last Wednesday afternoon with 16 present. We made valentines and practiced songs for the P. T. A. meeting. Pamela Lovejoy furnished the treat.

How Did He Know?

A feeder hung in an old pear tree
And swung about most lazily.
From time to time sparrows flew
By
And gave the empty box an eye.
No other birds were ever known
To check the feeder on their own.

One day we filled it full of seeds
And other grain a cold bird needs
To get him through 'til days of spring,
Then hung some suet on a string
In hopes that we might help some
To keep the hunger pangs away.

O course, the sparrow soon was there
To sample of our bill-of-fare.
We weren't surprised that his Whole clan,
In minutes few, were all on hand
To stuff their little jackets tight
Before the coming of the night.

We don't know how it came about,
But jays soon knew the food was out.
Did other birds drop in to lunch
By invitation or by hunch?
Do sparrows go from bird to bird
And carelessly divulge the word?

Travel - Adventure in Waterford

Have you ever watched the Detroit World Adventure Series on television on Sunday afternoons, or attended any of these programs in Detroit?

Did you know—the Waterford Township Recreation Board brings this very same talent, in PERSON, to the residents of Waterford Township and near vicinity? Some of these famous world adventurers you have viewed on your television screen or have driven to Detroit to see, have made appearances at the Waterford Township High School showing their full-length color film on journeys to the east, west, north and south, both within the United States and abroad.

Without having to drive outside your own area you can go to these programs designed for both the young and old, where adventurers not only show beautiful color films but narrate their own particular experiences so vividly that you feel as if you made the Safari to the far-away places too.

This marks the third annual Travel-Adventure Series held in Waterford Township. Each year a fine group of outstanding men and women have signed contracts with the recreation board to present their travelogues, a different program each month for 6 months, starting in November, ending in April.

There are two more programs remaining in this current 1953-54 series. They are: "Hawaiian Islands" by James Erwin and "European Playgrounds" by George Perkins.

As this is a recreation board sponsored program the admission fee is nominal. Watch for the dates and plan to attend the next two programs.

Special Program At Sashabaw P. T. A.

The Sashabaw P. T. A., held its Founder's Day meeting at 8:00 P. M. on Monday evening. Miss Halvorsen, school nurse, showed a film "The Killer Germ", stressing the importance of inoculation, and a film dealing with the blood cells. They were both interesting and educational.

Mr. Barrie, the school principal, ran a film showing the school children at the annual picnic, the parents and teachers baseball game and the Christmas program. This film was colorful and was really worth seeing.

Mrs. H. Staley read a history of Sashabaw P. T. A. Mrs. Drake's first grade room won the $3.00 parent attendance award.

Refreshments were served with past presidents, Mrs. B. Clements and Mrs. H. Staley serving.

By The Way ...

The store window of Kelley's Hardware, this week, displays the uniform and equipment of the Sea Explorer Boy Scouts and is well worth seeing. This is Boy Scout week and perhaps no more fitting display could be given. . . . Sunday is St. Valentine's Day and in many places is a day chosen to collect for the Heart Fund, an organization founded to carry on research in heart conditions that cause so many deaths each year, sometimes needlessly. . . . Small things have a habit, of acting like a snowball rolling down hill. What started as an attendance contest to keep up the attendance of the local Rotary Club, ended with the losers taking the winners to a hockey game in Detroit. What's a game without a dinner? So a dinner in Detroit was added. Who wanted to drive? No one. So Monday evening, in full production, a bus will arrive to take the members to a restaurant in Detroit, hence to the game, returning to the point of beginning in Clarkston. . . . In contacting Charles Martin of the Martin Bus Lines of Royal Oak, we checked to be sure he knew where Clarkston was and found that he used to work here, remembered parking his car in the Seeterlin Brother's garage, and going with a certain Clarkston girl. It happens so many times to Clarkston people that they, in talking to a stranger to them, find that the other person knows and likes this town and always has a good word for our community. . . . Franklin may be the little village "that time forgot" but Clarkston is one village that once you see it you never forget it. The writer has been called a one-man board of commerce but we still say that all this locality needs is a nice slogan to become famous. . . . It is said that a penny means nothing to the youngster of today. In line with this kind of thinking and trying to help our local car dealers raise our standard of living how's this: The family was objecting to their son's girl, insisting that he ought to be a little more particular about the company he kept. "I'm sorry, Dad," said the boy, "but that's the best girl I can get with the car we've got."

Color In The Home At Group Meeting

On Tuesday the Clarkston Home Extension group met at the Community Center for an all-day meeting. There was a splendid attendance. A sack lunch was enjoyed at noon.

The lesson on "Color in the Home" was presented by Mrs. Keith Lowrie and Mrs. Walter Barrows. The presentation was made in an effective and interesting manner and showed a good deal of thought and work on the part of the leaders.

In the afternoon Miss Elliott of Elliott Upholstering talked on new fabrics and showed samples that would fit in with the many different furniture and color schemes. Another interesting speaker was Mr. Gentry from the Drayton Furniture Store who spoke on "Trends in Furniture". Several guests attended the meeting in the afternoon to hear the speakers.

The April meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Frank Jewell.

Protect Your Child From Diphtheria

Once the most terrible of all infectious diseases that threaten children, diphtheria is the easiest to prevent. The recent immunization survey conducted by joint cooperation of the Oakland County Department of Health and local schools has statistically proved that many youngsters starting kindergarten are not adequately immunized. This protection should begin at three months of age.

Most physicians are combining diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus into one injection given in a series of 3 or 4 doses. This not only eliminates repeated injections, but surprisingly enough offers greater protection than when given singly.

Every child should be vaccinated for smallpox before he is a year old. The first vaccination should react and leave a scar. It was once believed that only one vaccination was necessary for a lifetime, but now we know that immunity runs out and that a revaccination every five years is necessary for continued protection.

It is important for parents to keep a record of what immunizations their children have received, not only for school entrance requirements and foreign travel, but for their own security in knowing their child is adequately protected against these dread diseases. It is also important that this information be preserved as many employing agencies require a record of past immunization.

Red Cross News

Local women with home nursing or nursing training are urgently needed to serve as home nursing instructors, Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, said today.

Harold B. Euler, chapter chairman, said he hopes "At least a half-dozen" women will sign up for a home nursing instructor training course in Detroit this month. Euler said the day-long sessions would run from 9:00 A. M. until 5:00 P. M. February 19-20 and 26 and 27 at the Detroit Red Cross Chapter, 153 E. Elizabeth. "We need about a half-dozen home nursing instructors" Euler said, "particularly in Oakland county's rural neighborhoods. The Red Cross Chapter may help pay costs of transportation to Detroit."

Anyone interested is invited to call Red Cross offices, Federal 4-3675.

and the good people in this area have helped to help themselves, could very easily be on charity rolls as tax consumers instead of tax payers. The great majority of them are unemployable before going to Goodwill where they have adjusted themselves, fitting their disabilities into specific jobs whereby their abilities make them self-supporting.

Discards from 128,000 contributors, most of them housewives, have made this program work. These discards of clothing, furniture, toys and small appliances are the raw material for the industry, and when a slow period comes the production naturally falls off and continued employment is impaired.

February is the slowest month of the year for discards. It is, therefore, a time of the year that a special plea for them is in order. Goodwill urges that every housewife clean at least one closet during the month and send the leftovers to Goodwill. This will make spring cleaning easier.

Other figures released by Mv-kinnon today show that Detroit, through Goodwill Industries, is doing more to help the handicapped find jobs than any other city in the country. The weekly payroll is now well over 400, fluctuating with the season. Last year Goodwill rehabilitated more than 300 other persons and sent them on to private employment.

Grossing over a million dollars for the first time in its 33 year history, Goodwill Industries of Detroit paid over 3/4 of a million dollars in wages to handicapped workers, or a remarkable 77% of the total year's income.

The Contract Department which handles work on sub-contract with private enterprises increased its production from $105,000 to $178,000. Material sold as salvage brought in $184,525.

Sales of the discards after they were repaired, cleaned and renovated came to $662,536—an increase of nearly $90,000 over the previous year. The goods are sold in three Goodwill stores located at 4729 W. Warren, 356 E. Congress and 6522 Brush St. Every dollar taken in from these sales goes into wages.

Goodwill employs all types of handicapped, the December payroll showing 195 persons with orthopedic disabilities, 116 with organic or general disabilities including arrested TB persons, 18 deaf and hard of hearing, 31 blind or with defective vision, 27 emotional and neurotic persons, 9 socially handicapped persons and 24 non-handicapped persons including truck drivers.

ABOUT YOUR CHILD

The physical growth of the preschool child will be the discussion topic for the 3 p. m. telecast on Tuesday, Feb. 16, over "Today's Home", WKAR-TV, channel 60.
The program, second in the "Understanding the Young Child" series, will deal with physical growth, with particular regard to sequences of growth and variations in patterns of growth.

Adults sometimes fail to realize that each child follows his own natural growth "plan". Expectations for two children following different "plans" of growth cannot be the same, explains Mrs. Lennah Backus, extension family life specialist at Michigan State College. Mrs. Backus is presenting the televised child study series.

Special guest on this program will be Dr. Goldie Corneliuson, chief of the Maternal and Child Health section of the Michigan State Department of Health.

Mrs. Backus will also give WKAR-TV viewers a brief summary of what parents might expect of a 3-year-old.

On the following Tuesdays, Feb. 23 and March 2, the emotional and social growth of preschool children will be featured on the "Understanding the Young Child" series.

SILK—AN IMPORTANT SPRING FABRIC

Collections of silk fabrics for 1954 show a modern turn of styling, reports Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, home demonstration agent for Oakland County.

Women will find that some of the silks offer a new textural feeling achieved through being combined with other fibers. Either natural one or quality synthetics are used. The aim of these combinations—wider usability of easier upkeep.

Silk and wool blends are designed for use in tailored suits and dresses. Silk and one of the synthetics (nylon, orlon, dacron) are combined in other cases for fabrics especially favored for their wrinkle-resistance qualities and their ability to hold sharp pleating.

In all-silk fabrics, the two big trends indicated are linen-weave silks and prints.

The rustics are heavy and rich to the touch, and often styled in yarn-dyed cross-weaves or with contrasting stripes and checks.

Prints favor floral themes most of all, and these in all sizes. Textured and animal-skin effects are also prominent in the silk print collections.

Three of the Goodwill Industries 400 handicapped employees who shared in 3/4's of a million dollars in salaries during 1953.

These employees in turn paid $100,000 in social security and income taxes. They became tax payers instead of tax consumers.

GOODWILL INDUSTRIES APPRECIATES YOUR HELP

Over $100,000 in income and social security taxes were paid during 1953 by 707 handicapped workers employed by Goodwill Industries of Detroit, it was announced today by Harold H. Mckinnon, executive secretary.

CLARKSTON ELEMENTARY KINDERGARTEN Mrs. Zenke
We have been learning things about the post office. Last Wednesday we went to visit the post office to mail a letter. First we bought a purple stamp for three pennies. Then Mrs. Runk showed what she does with letters after we mail them.

Now we are building a post office in our room. We are each making our own mail box. We made some stamps and pennies. We are going to use them to mail our valentines.

THIRD GRADE Mrs. Connelly

to add with carrying. Beverly Denton treated us on her birthday. We drew names for valentines and will have a party on Friday.

SIXTH GRADE Mrs. Forsyth
A few people were assigned to make a sender and receiving set for science. They are: Tommy Swayne, Harold Lumm, Richard Mansfield, Robert Porritt, John Kieft, Gary Smith, Dick Spohn, and Eddie Glennie. They were all very good.

Paul Bennett made a practice buzzer different from the ones the other boys made. We are being divided up into two different groups in the afternoon. They are Science and Reading. Every afternoon we change. We are making a post office to receive valentines.

FIRST GRADE Mrs. McCune
We have fun on the playground. We slide on the ice. We make snowmen, forts and castles. David Benac's mother and father visited us one day. Linda Sayles danced for us. Many children have been ill. We are glad to have them back in school.

FIRST GRADE Mrs. Landon
OUR TOY FARM—we are making a toy farm like the one Dick, the little boy in our story, made. Our buildings are cardboard. We are making the horses, cows and pigs of clay. We gathered some twigs to use for trees and we will use toothpicks and string for the fences. We have fun making the farm.

FOURTH GRADE Mrs. VanNatta
We are all making valentines and getting ready for St. Valentine's Day. Miss Aber, our art teacher has shown our class how to make several different kinds and we work on them in our spare time.

In geography we have been studying about the Great Northern Forest of North America and the "Taiga" or forests of Europe and Asia. We made a bulletin board showing the trees and life in these great wooded parts of our world. The Indian trappers of Canada are very interesting people. The Canadian forest is a mining and lumbering center too.

We read a very interesting article about Wolverines in one of the current magazines. Our state is the Wolverine State and now we know more about this rather small but very ferocious animal after which Michigan is named. We had perfect attendance on Thursday, February 4th.

THE WABAHSAS

edited by the sixth grade Independence Township (cont'd)
The first purchase settled by the original owner was that of John W. Beardslee whose entry was of 1826 and who settled on Section 35, near Sashabaw Creek in the summer of 1831. Their son was the first white child born in Independence Township.

FIRST GRADE Mrs. Draker Mrs. Houlding Miss Scholtz

The children in Miss Scholtz's room are reading about the farm in their story books. They are cutting out pictures from magazines and making a farm book. Their room had a profitable popcorn sale last Friday.

David Wright and Richard Palladino are the new students in Mrs. Houlding's room. Emma Moore has a birthday this week. John Wilberg is in Florida. Mrs. Draker was sick Monday and Tuesday.

SECOND GRADE Mrs. Crowley Mrs. Tompkins

Mrs. Crowley's children wrote a new story about a show house that they made on the playground. Our new spelling game was great fun last Friday afternoon. We have learned so many new words. Alan Warner has been absent all week with a cold. We miss you Alan.

Mrs. Tompkins' room is decorating for St. Valentine's Day. They are having a cupcake sale February 18.

Mrs. Barrett is bringing a surprise for them. They don't know what it is. It is a gold fish which they will have received by the time this paper is out.

They are learning about the thermometer and are learning to write.

.. Hurrah! Hurrah! ..
The children are happy today! Yesterday we heard the results of the voting. The results were: Tax limitation: Yes, 433; No, 105; Void, 1. Bond issue: Yes, 418; No, 102; Void, 2.

We want to thank everyone who voted and made these buildings possible. So - "thanks" folks.

THIRD GRADE Mrs. Godfrey
Roger VanKleek and Louise Johnson have the whooping cough.

They are learning and practicing table manners. They have changed their desks together as a table. Each table has a host or hostess.

To keep their room looking nice and orderly, they have special duties such as dusting, arranging the books, watering the plants, (they look fine Mrs. Godfrey) and other duties.

HUNTER SCHOOL

Mrs. Howland
All aboard! We are off to Florida this week. Last week we assembled all our materials for a Florida exhibit. We have a large map of Florida on the wall behind our table and lots of pictures and scenic folders. One side of our table represents the blue Atlantic Ocean with shells of all shapes and sizes and some coral on the beach. We have made several palm and cocconut trees, sail boats, fishing equipment and some wigwams for the Indians along the Tamiami Trail in the Everglades. We, also, have oranges, tangerines, grapefruit and cocconuts on display. Our first stop will be "The Spring of the Mermaids" at Weekiwachee Spring on the Gulf of Mexico. There we shall see actors and actresses perform under water. Then we shall travel up a river in a glass bottom boat. We shall tell you more about our trip next week.

MUSIC Miss McKenney

The second grades have new books, "Singing Our Way", by Ginn and Co. The children love the illustrations and enjoy seeing some of the songs they already knew, in the book.

The sixth grades are studying and learning excerpts from the opera, "Hansel and Gretel".

All of the grades from the fourth up are reading music with syllables or numbers. Mrs. Howland's third grade is beginning reading with syllables.

LOOK FOR US NEXT WEEK.

"MAPLE MOON"

Ceremonial dances in honor of the "Maple Moon" have declined with the Iroquois, but mid-February is still a time of celebration from Vermont to Wisconsin as sap begins to rise in the maple trees.

Maple sugaring is as North American as turkey, according to Dr. Marion T. Hall, botanist at Cranbrook Institute of Science at Bloomfield Hills.

During the flow season, which might last from nine to fifty days, the Iroquois slashed the maples, collected the "tree-water" in bark buckets, emptied it into crude receptacles, and boiled it by repeatedly dropping in hot stones.

Making a kind of "K-ration" was one of many uses to which the Indians put the syrup and sugar. They would combine syrup with an equal quantity of corn gruel, and form little cakes which were light and nourishing during long trips.

Gradually, as white men learned the Indian custom, sugar making became refined. Auger-holes came to be used instead of slashes. Metal spouts are now run from the holes to tin or iron buckets. A tractor or team pulls a one-hob sled carrying a metal tank into which the buckets are emptied.

Among sugar trees the maple (genus Acer) is the king. The best kinds for sugar production are the hard or sugar maple found from New England to Wisconsin, and the black maple extending from the southwestern area of Wisconsin to south-central Minnesota. The best stands of sugar maple are those of the Great Lakes Area, the St. Lawrence Valley and New England. In these regions, "sugaring" is particularly profitable.

"Sugaring" is confined almost exclusively to northern and northeastern America because here the flow season is prolonged by severe winters, deep freezing of the soil, heavy blankets of ice or snow, and extreme differences between day and night temperatures.

The time for sugar making varies with the climate. Sap can be converted into edible syrup beginning with the first spring thaw until the first leaf-buds open. But the best syrup is made from sap collected just after spring thaw, for then sap is sweetest.

Groves of maples, about 40 years old before ready for tapping, are called "the sugar bush" by farmers. The best sugar bushes are usually situated on steep, rocky slopes and have the trees widely spaced to permit the development of large sugar crowns. A sugar bush must be designed to include trees of all ages, and these must be so distributed that the younger trees replace old ones which have ceased to yield sap. The goal is 20 to 30 large-crowned trees to the acre.

As soon as conditions are right in the spring, there is a flow of sap lasting an average of about 30 days. The sap usually consists of about 95 per cent water, 2 to 6 per cent sucrose and a fractional per cent dissolved minerals. Sweetness of sap depends on the amount of sugar, starch and other carbohydrates photo-synthesized in the leaves during the growing season and stored in the wood and bark of roots, trunk and branches.

CLASSES TO BE HELD IN PUBLIC SPEAKING AND PARLIAMENTARY RULES

The Oakland County CIO Council and the Pontiac Board of Education are again sponsoring a series of classes in Public Speaking and Parliamentary Procedure. Several series have been held in the past few years and have been quite successful. The classes are held in the CIO Council Hall, 21 1/2 E. Lawrence Street, Pontiac, on Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 P. M.

The first of the spring series will be held February 17th and will continue for the next ten weeks. Al Hinckley from the Waterford Township High School will be the instructor. Classes are open to the public.

"But, dear—let me explain"

Explanations are in order, but not by hubby. He tried to call and say he would be late for dinner, but the party line was busy. His wife was talking to friends. Result: a cold supper. To avoid missing important calls and tying up your party line, space your calls and keep them reasonably short. That way you and your neighbors get the best use from your telephone and avoid misunderstandings. Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

Thomas Alva Edison

FEBRUARY 11, 1847

February 11th is the 107th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Edison, founder of the electrical industry as we know it.

It's a rather special date in Michigan since it was here his family lived for many years; here that young Tom's inventive genius first began to emerge.

It's a rather special date at Detroit Edison, too, for our people believe in serving—and service was Thomas Edison's guiding principle. So strong were his feelings on the matter, so confident was he that widespread use of electricity could benefit mankind, that he began by selling lamp bulbs for 40c each—far below their manufacturing cost of $1.25! He could not be content until he made this strange, new force—electricity—available to those of both high and low station.

Today, electric service goes far beyond keeping rates low and extending lines to new customers. Our meaning of service is to make electricity uniformly dependable, and to provide those extra services which enable a customer to use electricity to his best advantage.

The Detroit Edison Company strives constantly to strengthen its service tradition. And this is a fitting time to re-dedicate ourselves to it; to resolve to serve our customers and our nation to the best of our ability.

New style... New power... New economy... and yet

Lowest-priced line in its field!

That's why people are calling the new 1954 Chevrolet the outstanding motor car value of this new year!

Men and women everywhere are deciding that Chevrolet for 1954 gives more for the money than any other car in its price range.

Here are the reasons why...
New style—more beauty of line, contour and color—with stunning new Bodies by Fisher and luxurious new modern-mode interiors.
New power—more pickup, more passing ability, more smoothness and quietness of operation with either of Chevrolet's two advanced 1954 engines—the thoroughly proved "Blue-Flame 125" engine teamed with Powerglide (available on all models at extra cost) or the thoroughly proved "Blue-Flame 115" engine!

New economy—yes, even stronger gasoline savings—because both of these great high-compression engines are designed, engineered and built to wring more power from every charge of fuel.

Moreover, these new Chevrolets remain the lowest-priced line in their field, again this year.

Rocketing toward its target is NIKE, the Army's newest anti-aircraft weapon developed by the Bell System to defend America. Controlled electronically, the weapon can be "set" to speed toward a moving target, intercept it and destroy it. Its electronic brain responds to whatever commands given it somewhat like the dial equipment in a telephone central office.

NIKE (pronounced ny-kee) is a word skyrocketing to popularity with the speed of a missile it actually identifies.

Newest in electronically controlled anti-aircraft weapons, NIKE was developed in the scientific laboratories of the Bell System.

The new weapon has a "brain" more complicated than a telephone central office. Once the electronic computations on the position of an enemy aircraft have been transferred to NIKE, the missile goes out after it to blast it from the sky no matter how evasively the enemy flies his craft.

The first of this guided missile system to defend America will be installed at Fort Meade, Maryland. The Army announced recently it is considering another location near Detroit, Michigan, to defend that area.

NIKE will protect areas to a far greater degree than was possible with conventional anti-aircraft guns limited in speed and range. The Army says about NIKE that it will outmaneuver bombers, fighters and transport planes. It can operate in all types of weather. It is mobile. It can be transported by air. It is fired by remote control mechanisms.

First developments of NIKE started about 10 years ago in the Bell Telephone Laboratories. Western Electric, the Bell System's manufacturing and supply unit, is now mass-producing the "brain" of the weapon, and the missiles themselves are being produced by the Douglas Aircraft Company.

The reason for the Bell System having a large part in developing and making these weapons is that in important respects they are much like telephone systems.

When a telephone operator dials a number 3,000 miles away, she causes a nationwide system to behave in the particular way she commands. All across the country a great number and variety of devices go to work to ring that distant telephone. Some of these devices momentarily store up information while they are finding out what the situation is farther along the line. Seconds later, they operate in either one way or the other, depending on what they learn.

Similarly, NIKE, with its electrical brain, is at the command of those who tell it what to do.

Red Cross News

Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross will call together its committee leaders, city and county, township and civil defense officials for a three day "Disaster Preparedness Institute", February 23 through the 25th. Out of the series of sessions, the Red Cross hopes, will come a written detailed "disaster plan" telling exactly who does what, how and when", if storm or air raids hit the county.

Bradley Pruden, the Red Cross chapter's disaster chairman, will preside at general sessions. Key-note will be Arthur Jones of St. Louis, Missouri, the Red Cross assistant director of Midwestern Area disaster service.

"We hope everyone who can, will attend the 'kickoff' meeting Tuesday night, February 23", Pruden said. "During the next two days, Jones will meet with smaller groups for conferences. We hope to draft the detailed, overall plan on the last night, February 25.

Information on the conference is available at Red Cross offices, Federal 4-3575 or Lincoln 2-6700.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Wish I'd Said That

You know Miss Perkins. Well, she's been driving her own car around our town for a little more than 30 years.

The other day she had a bit of trouble parking down on Main Street. Didn't quite make it the first try, so she pulled out to start over when a fellow waiting to pass started tooting his horn impatiently.

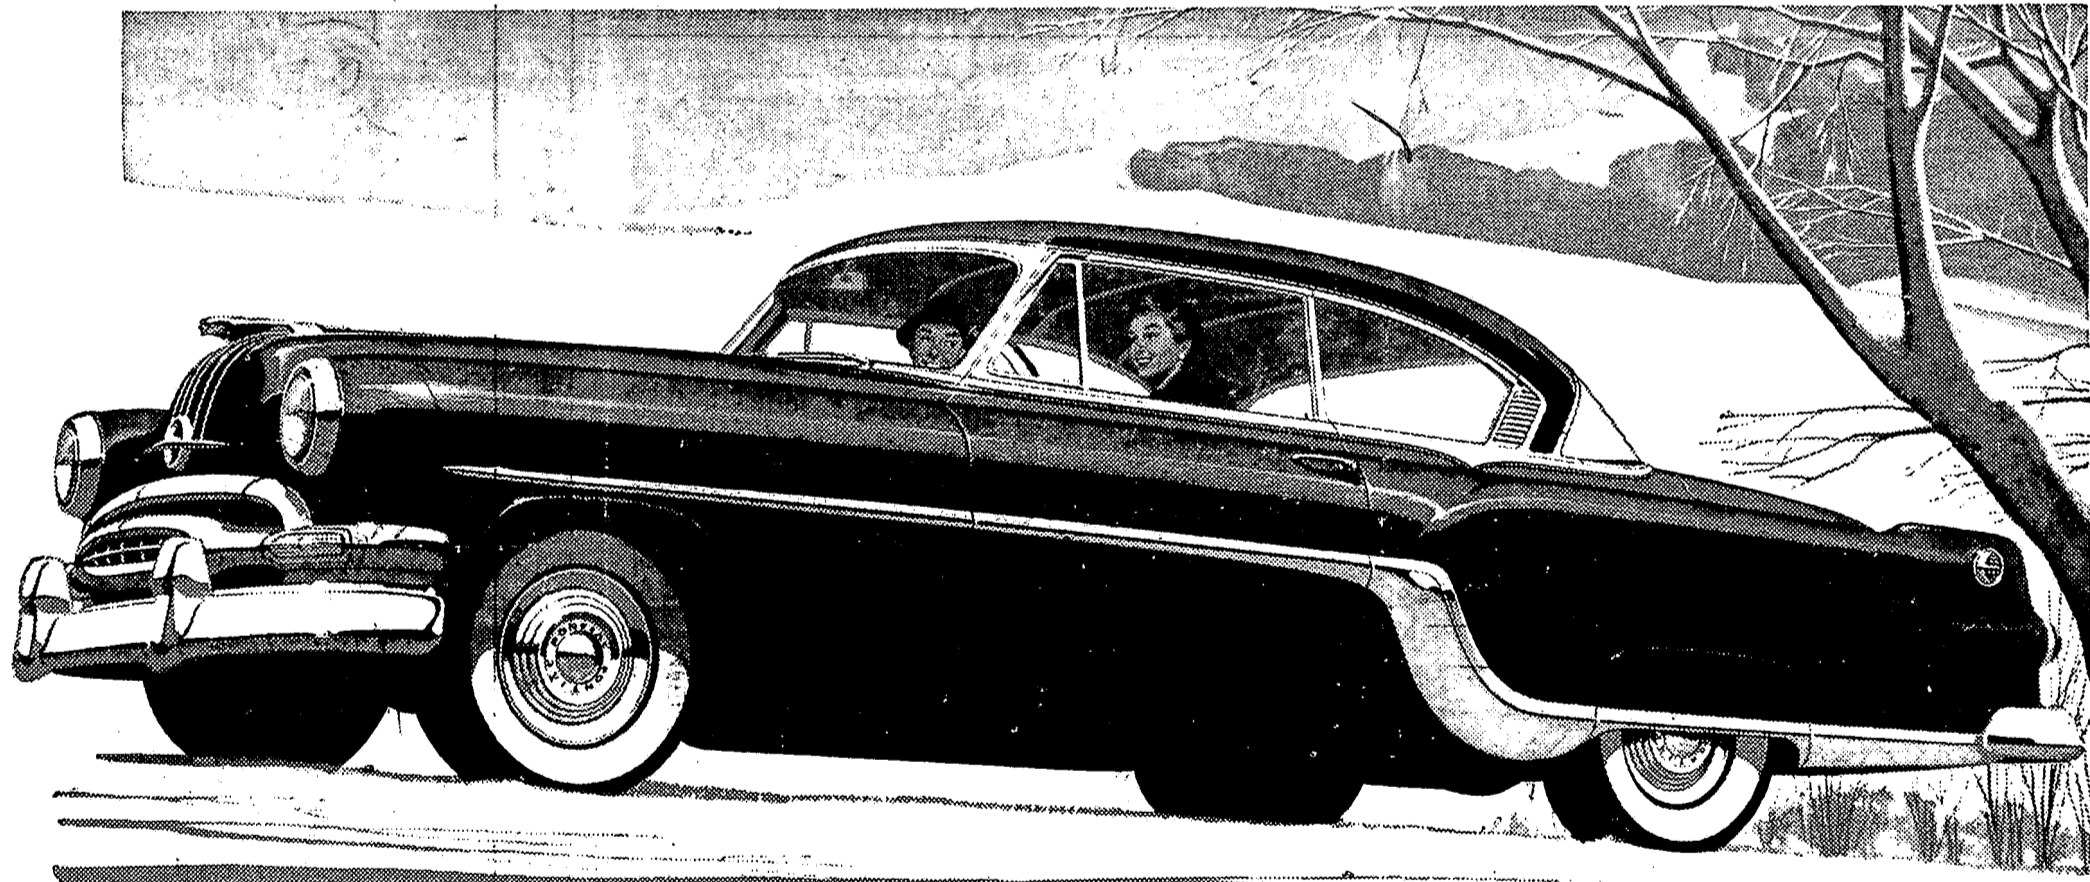

On the second try, she was still having a little difficulty and so this smart aleck hollered, "Lady, do you know how to drive?" "Yes, young man," Miss Perkins answered, "I do. But I don't have time to teach you now."

From where I sit, it's not always easy to have a good answer ready when you need it. But when somebody insists that I vote for his candidate, for instance, or choose tea instead of a temperate glass of beer with dinner, I know the answer. It's all a matter of personal preference... and none of us like "backseat driving" from anybody.

How spiritual understanding of God brings health and harmony into human experience will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul" which will be read at Christian Science services Sunday.

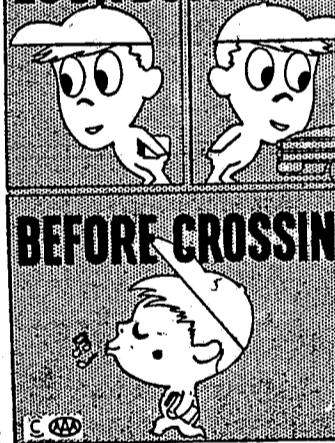

The Bible selections include this citation from Psalms: "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God" (42:11).

Among the passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy to be read will be the following: "We cannot deny that Life is self-sustained, and we should never deny the everlasting harmony of Soul, simply because, to the mortal senses, there is seeming discord. It is our ignorance of God, the divine Principle, which produces apparent discord, and the right understanding of Him restores harmony" (390:4-9).

The Responsive Reading includes the following verses from the Bible:

"God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; That thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations" (Psalms 67:1,2).

YOUR HOME NEWSPAPER

All matters handled through the Probate Court require a certain amount of legal publication in one of the county papers. Foreclosing a mortgage entails publication of the foreclosure notice in a county paper.

Either the probate court officers or your attorney will have your legal publication carried in The Clarkston News if you request it.

We solicit the privilege of carrying such legal publications. This form of advertising is valuable to us. When you support us in this way we are able to give you a better paper each week.
