Rotary Club News

The Clarkston Rotary Club was honored at its meeting on Monday by the presence of Honorable Clark Adams, a member of the Supreme Court of Michigan, who gave a very interesting talk on the workings of that august body. Clark is Oakland County's member on this bench and one of eight justices in the court He is well known to most in this section, which fact perhaps made the discussion of what might have been a dull subject, a very ininteresting one indeed.

Justice Adams was introduced by Ronald A. Walter who was program chairman for the even-

Birthdays

The passing of a year means much To folk just starting life, Each anniversary has a touch Of conquest over strife.

Each birthday leads them closer The day when they'll be grown

When they'll find jobs they have And raise kids of their own

We understand why children's souls Possess the great desire To take the part in grown-up roles And place themselves for hire.

If souls live on through endless time In heaven or in earth,

The spirit seeks a chance to climb Beginning right at birth. But when we reach the rocky peak And scan the other side, We'd like to make life's time retreat And birthdays we would hide.

No one to date has had success In turning back the time, So I'll accept with graciousness The chalking up of mine.

The Weight of Public Opinion is Against the Excise Tax on Telephone Service

"Which Federal excise tax do you personally object to most?'

That question was asked recently in a public poll conducted by Opinion Research Corporation. They wanted to learn how people personally felt about Federal excise taxes. These were their findings: THE EXCISE TAX THAT IN-CURRED THE MOST RESENTMENT AND IRRITATION WAS THE TAX ON TELEPHONE SERVICE.

Of the people interviewed, 59% objected most to this tax. It was more objectionable than the Federal excise taxes on gasoline, automobiles, tires, railroad tickets, cigarettes, movie tickets, and many other things.

This high percentage of objection to telephone excise taxes is understandable. Each month they add 15% to your telephone bill for local service, and 25% to your bill for long distance calls costing 25 cents or more. For excise tax purposes, it's as though your telephone were a luxury, like jewelry or furs.

We recognize the Government's need for adequate income and for balancing the budget. But if Congress is to consider any excise tax reductions, we believe the excise taxes on telephone service should be among the first to get attention.

All the savings from a reduction or repeal of these taxes would go to telephone users-not to the telephone company.

HURRAH! SPRING DUE MARCH 20

Spring and its accompanying astronomical attractions will enliven the heavens during the month of March, according to Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan associate professor of astronomy.

Arriving at 10:54 P. M. Saturday, March 20, spring will make its appearance six hours later than last year, she points out. This is because the season arrives when the sun crosses the equator on its way north in its apparent yearly path, the event taking place at 365.2422 day intervals. The professor explains that the sun on this day "will rise and set exactly at the east and west points of the horizon, making day and night the same 12-hour length". In addition, the sun will shine more directly on the northern hemisphere after this date, warming up that half of the earth.

According to Miss Losh. "the time of the full moon this month, March 19, takes on special significance, because it helps to fix the date of Easter". This will be April 18, the first Sunday after the next full moon.

The first schoolhouse in the township was a small board shanty built on Section 26, in the spring of 1834. Herein, the following summer, Eliza Holden taught the neighboring families who had located on the "Plains". A log structure soon superceded the shanty on the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of the same section.

Golden brown Twists, warm and fragrant from the oven, add special elegance to any spring luncheon.

Hot breads add a touch of glamour to spring meals. Most of the time, you probably depend on the baker for freshly baked goods each day. He provides you with a tempting variety of breads. Occasionally, make hot yeast bread yourself. It is fun and rewarding. Especially is this true when you try your hand at shaping new and different rolls. These glamorous Twists have been formed from a basic sweet yeast dough. This is only one of the many rolls and coffee cakes that can be shaped from this yeast dough. HOUSEHOLDERS WARNED ABOUT SPRING CLEEANING

WARNING to householders planning their spring cleaning: home cleaning fluids can cost you voir life if they are improperly

The Michigan Department of Health reports that the spring cleaning season has already gotten off to a tragic beginning in the state. One householder died recently from over-exposure to the fumes of the carbon tetrachloride he was using to clean the furniture in his living room.

Practically all preparations for home dry cleaning contain either pure tetrachloride or a large percentage of it mixed with other Poisoning from such preparations can occur from inhaling the vapors, absorbing the carbon tetrachloride into the blood stream through the skin or from swallowing some of the mixture.

Inhaling the vapors is the most common cause of such poisoning in the home. Poisoning may occur from a single brief exposure to a high concentration of vapor, or from prolonged or repeated exposure to a moderately high concentration, or from daily exposure to low concentrations.

John Soet, who heads the state health department's division of occupational health, said that in the average-sized living room, 13 ft x 20 ft, with an eight-foot ceiling, a rug cleaning job requiring a pint of cleaning fluid made at least 15 minutes. up largely of carbon tetrachloride vould cause death in a short time. A quart of the fluid in such room could produce unconsciousness in less than a minute. First rule for using home cleaning fluids safely is to do all home dry cleaning outdoors. Wait untif the weather is nice and take your rugs and furniture out on the lawn where it is difficult for the vapors to build up to toxic concentrations.

Even then, you should use a long-handled mop or brush so you can stay as far away from the fumes as possible while you work.

Be sure the rugs and furniture are thoroughly dried and aired before taking them back into the

Another safety rule is to avoid spilling any of the fluid on your

Regardless of how the chemical makes its entry into the bodyeither by absorption through the skin, inhalation of vapors, or if some is swallowed-the toxic symptoms are the same: headache, mental confusion, depression, fatigue, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, loss of coordination and sense of balance, and visual disturbances.

The onset of symptoms may occur immediately after over-exposure, or may be delayed for periods of two to eight days or

A person showing typical symptoms from inhalation if the vapor should be removed immediately to an area where the air is fresh. He should rest quietly and be kept warm. A physician should be notified at once. If breathing has stopped, artificial respiration should be used and the fire or police department inhalator squad should be called.

If some of the fluid is splashed into the eyes, they should be washed copiously with water for Checking the label on the container may give some clue as to whether or not the cleaning fluid contains carbon tetrachloride, even though the name of the chemical may not be shown. If a cleaning fluid is described as "non-inflammable" being "non-flammable", it invariably contains a solvent that is potentially toxic if misused.

Red Cross News

Oakland County's Red Cross disaster program hummed with life this week after a recent three-day "disaster institute" spurred committees into detailed planning of what to do in case a major storm, fire or enemy attack.

Bradlee Pruden of Birmingham, disaster committee chairman for Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, said subcommittees are drawing detailed will do if disaster strikes-where medical supplies, food, clothing can be found and nurses and doctors contacted.

The three-day "disaster institute" February 23-25 drew some 200 men and women to conferences conducted by Arthur J. Jones of St. Louis, deputy disaster director for Midwestern Area Red Cross.

Jones urged that all 10 disaster subcommittees get busy lining up vice-chairmen and volunteers in

MODERN PAY AND INCENTIVE PLAN RECOMMENDED FOR POSTAL ESTABLISHMENT

"Postmaster Mrs. Elizabeth Ronk of Clarkston today endorsed the postal pay increase and incentive plan recommended to the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee on February 16 by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

"This plan", Mrs. Ronk said, 'provides equal pay for equal work. It opens the door of opportunity to postal employees who merit promotions based on improved performance. It should help attract good people to the Postal Service. The public should benefit by better mail service. In my judgment, it is money well

"While fourth-class postmasters and rural carriers are not now included in this plan, their jobs, I understand, are to be studied

"The principal features of the proposed plan, according to Mrs. Ronk, are: "1. Clerks and carriers would be paid $210 more a year as a starting salary; and their maximum rates increased by $100 or about 5 cents an hour.

"2. The time needed by most employees to advance from the minimum to the maximum salary rate for their job would be reduced in most cases by two years.

"3. More adequate pay differentials are provided for employees with higher skills, supervisors and managerial personnel who, at present, have slight incentive to rise above routine
