ROTARY ATHLETIC BANQUET MONDAY NIGHT

Budget Adopted By Clarkston

At a special meeting of the Clarkston Village Trustees held Monday night, May 17, a budget of $22,956.00 was adopted for the 1954-55 fiscal year.

Village President Russell Colton states this budget is approximately last year's. The new budget will not necessitate any increase in the local tax rate of 5.5 mills, as only $5,500.00 will be raised by local taxes, which is the same amount as has been raised each year for the past nine years.

The new budget makes provision for two new items, trimming and repairing trees, and replacing sidewalk. $3,500.00 was included for starting these programs.

The Village Council is desirous of eliminating the Box Elder trees in the village in order to rid the village of the Box Elder bug.

The removal of approximately 30 such trees located in the northeast part of the village was authorized at last night's meeting.

Maude Hagle Dies in Ann Arbor

Mrs. Ray C. Ainsley received word of the death of her cousin, Miss Maude Hagle at her home in Ann Arbor on Monday, May 17. Miss Hagle will be remembered by some in Clarkston as she was the daughter of Peter N. Hagle who at one time was the principal in the Clarkston School.

Miss Hagle was a teacher who served in Pontiac, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Alexander G. Ruthven of Dexter, Michigan.

The funeral service will be held in Ann Arbor at 11 o'clock Thursday morning with burial in Lakeview Cemetery, Clarkston. The Reverend R. M. Atkins will officiate at the graveside service.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wompole have arrived from California to spend a few weeks in this area visiting their many friends.

Justified

I never saw the air so clear,
I never saw the moon so bright;
I never felt God's force so near
As it has been this very night.

I sense the growth of living things;
I see new life just everywhere;
I feel the joy the season brings,
With fragrance drifting through the air.

I marvel at man's energy;
I see him take to rake and hoe;
I watch his movements fast and free;
Unlike himself a month ago.

I thrill to see a man's sense of pride;
I love to see his plans unfold;
Though he might fail, at least he tried
Improving on the life of old.

I'd like to know what comes with spring
To make a man increase his speed;
What makes the world wake up and sing,
Proclaiming every act and deed.

If I've been apt to disbelieve
In God, or any force supreme;
The thrill of spring that I receive,
Will justify my fondest dream.

Clarkston Local

On Monday evening Miss Ruth Sharpe entertained the following teachers at a dinner at her home: Miss Rose Marie Aber, Mrs. Ada Campbell, Mrs. Virgil Campbell, Miss Mary Ann Clauss, Mrs. James Connelly, Mr. Barton Conners, Mrs. Edward Forsyth, Mrs. Rod Grover, Mrs. Raymond Jarvis, Miss Anna Metzger, Miss Yvonne McKenny, Miss Joy Tosich and Mrs. Ron Zenke.

By The Way . . .

Because everyone has some interest in the coming generation and enjoys seeing what they have accomplished to date, everyone should be present at the annual Rotary Banquet honoring the athletes who have won letters in different sport programs at the Clarkston High School. This big affair will take place on Monday night, May 24th in the school gym. . . . Although the State and Federal levels of government figure that a car should be taxed as a luxury, just try leaving yours in the garage for a day or so. There are very few things you will miss so much. . . . People like to do just what they wish to do, whether they have any right to do so or not. Witness the low fence, so as not to be objectionable in appearance, but necessary to protect the beautiful lawn around the Hawk Tool and Engineering plant. This week we had a call for "no trespassing" signs—to keep trespassers off the beautiful grounds at the water's edge of the Mill Pond. Clarkston is a beautiful village with most of its citizens justly proud of it, so it must be visitors who drive out from the cities and because they see some water think they can hold a picnic on private land adjoining. . . . Friday and Saturday of this week Poppies will be offered for sale to the public by the Campbell-Richmond Post No. 63 of the American Legion. As all of you will remember, these people keep alive the memory of the veterans of World War I and now World War II and are the sole occupation of many veterans in our hospitals. Buy with a generous heart and wear with pride. . . . Financial item of the week: The Independence Township Building and Electrical Inspectors are trying to see that all the building and electrical work is of first class workmanship with good materials. In this way future buyers are better protected when buying their homes.

Buy Your Poppy Friday Or Saturday

Poppies will be sold in this area on Friday and Saturday of this week by the Campbell-Richmond Post of the American Legion. These little red flowers are a symbol of service. They are made by the disabled veterans who are confined to hospitals.

The money realized from the sale of the poppies is used to help make the veterans feel a little independent and for rehabilitation.

When you buy your poppy, be as generous as possible.

Cafeteria Supper At Davisburg

The Woman's Society of the Davisburg Methodist Church is sponsoring a cafeteria supper at the church on Friday evening, May 21st. Serving will begin at 6:30.

The menu will include roast beef and a kiddies' special. Come and bring the family. A free-will offering will be taken.

Golf Team Finds Regional Tough

Last Friday the Clarkston High School golf team traveled to Flint to engage in the State Regional golf meet. There were five teams in the C-D section. Owosso St. Paul was in first place with a score of 370. Frank Lovell of Detroit Country Day was low medal for the day. His score of 75 for the eighteen holes was the best for Class A, B, and C-D. Country Day had a score of 389. Other scores were Bloomfield Hills 399, Roscommon 409 and Clarkston 411.

CLARKSTON FINDS HOLLY MORE TO ITS LIKING

Monday afternoon Clarkston golfers defeated Holly for the second time this season. Final score was Clarkston 185 and Holly 205. Bill Shanks and Eddie Dubats were low scorers for the day with scores of 38 and 41 respectively for the nine holes.

Friday afternoon Clarkston will participate in the League meet at Brighton.

Schools Closed Monday, May 31

At the regular meeting of the Board of Education of the Clarkston Community Schools on May 10, action was taken that the schools would be closed on Monday, May 31, in observance of Memorial Day.

Tonight (May 20) at 6:30, the Men's Club of the Methodist Church will hold its dinner-meeting at the church. The members of the Martha Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will prepare and serve the dinner.

Rotary Club News

An interesting address on the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution of these United States of America was given to the Clarkston Rotary Club on Monday evening by Robert Parenti, an attorney and a member of the Oxford Rotary Club.

Mr. Parenti explained the rights of an American citizen and traced these rights from early British Common Law until incorporated in the Constitution. The fact that so many people, accused of being Communists and just out and out gangsters, have used the amendment as a screen to hide behind, thus making the real right of a citizen an obscure privilege, gave the topic a timely interest.

Keith Hallman was made a member and was invested with the badge, button and plaque bearing the Object of Rotary. The ladies of the Clarkston P. T. A., served the dinner.

Plan For More School Teachers

In an effort to prepare additional elementary school teachers to fill the current and anticipated shortages in Oakland County, Wayne University's College of Education is planning to continue its widely acclaimed Intensive Teacher Preparation Program this summer and fall, it was announced this week by L. F. Greene, Superintendent of Schools.

Last winter a group of 53 housewives and other adults interested in becoming elementary school teachers enrolled in pilot workshops which were set up in Pontiac, Roseville, Port Huron, and Dearborn. They will complete their work this summer and be eligible for full-time elementary school teaching this fall.

"In this off-campus work, Wayne is willing to send its faculty to out-of-town workshops to be established wherever the interested students may be in the metropolitan area", the Dean of the College said. "For that reason, we cannot announce the specific locations of our Intensive Teacher Preparation Workshops until we know how many are interested, where the men and women who can qualify for this training live, and where they prefer to have a center established."

More than fifty superintendents in Oakland, Macomb, Wayne and adjacent counties will be co-sponsors of this second series of off-campus workshops.

The plan offers Oakland County men and women with bachelor's degrees or at least 100 semester hours from an accredited college and a deep interest in entering the teaching profession an opportunity to complete the required courses, workshop, and in-school student teaching needed for teacher certificates.

All persons interested must apply personally in Room 121 at Wayne University, Cass at Warren Avenues, during the week of May 24 to May 28, 1954. All candidates must have a complete and up-to-date transcript of their credits mailed to Dr. Frank Campbell, Room 121, Old Main, Michigan, by May 24 in order that they may be evaluated and be available in time for the personal interview.

"This program has been set up for prospective general elementary school teachers living in communities outside of Detroit in southeastern Michigan metropolitan area", the Dean pointed out. "Persons desiring to prepare for teaching special subjects in the elementary school or for teaching on the junior or senior high school level cannot join the Intensive Teacher Preparation Program but can enroll in comparable programs given on the Wayne University campus".

In announcing the program, College of Education officials pointed out the tremendous present and anticipated future shortage of teachers throughout the country and particularly in the vast semi-urban areas surrounding Detroit and in similar population concentration areas in Oakland County.

Age limits from 21 to 50 years of age have been set, and persons applying must show evidence of freedom from physical, emotional, speech, or other defects that would affect adversely teaching success.

Candidates possessing a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution of higher learning, and meeting the necessary major and minor requirements would be eligible for a state provisional teaching certificate, upon satisfactory completion of this program. Candidates admitted to this program but not meeting these requirements could qualify for a special certificate.

Application blanks can be secured from the Superintendent of Schools at Clarkston, or from Dr. Frank Campbell, Coordinator of Off-Campus Programs, Wayne University.

According to recent Lansing statistics, each year Michigan schools require about 4,500 new teachers to replace those who retire or leave the profession, plus about 2,000 more to take care of the additional school load caused by the increasing birth rate. This Wayne University program has

On Monday evening the Clarkston Rotary Club will be host to the Athletic Department of the Clarkston High School at the annual banquet in the school gymnasium. An excellent program is being arranged which will include the awarding of the letters.

When Michigan State College's Division of Education was expanded in 1952 into the School of Education Dr. Campbell became head of the department of educational administration.

He has served as visiting professor at the University of Florida, University of Texas and the University of Wisconsin. Recently he served as National President of the Professors of School Administration Organization.

Dr. Campbell was well received when he addressed the graduating class in the Clarkston High School in June, 1953 and many regretted not hearing him at that time. The Athletic Banquet on Monday night will give you the opportunity to hear this well-known speaker. Get your tickets now from Charles Robinson or Robert L. Jones at the Clarkston State Bank or from Keith Hallman at O'Dell's Drug Store.

and clothes on their backs and establish welfare inquiry and information centers.

"Meanwhile, if the disaster is too big to handle alone", he said, "word would go out to the Red Cross area office in St. Louis and to the nearest army facility—in our case, Selfridge Field. While the emergency is on, nobody who needs food or clothes or shelter will be turned away".

After the emergency is over—and the sick and injured are in hospitals, the homeless are fed and housed—comes the long work called "rehabilitation".

Families who have lost their homes or have heavy hospital bills and don't have enough insurance, or bank balance, or income to pay off these debts or get new living quarters can apply for aid. The Red Cross repairs or rebuilds homes, provides essential furniture, or the tools and equipment that may be vital to a man's making a living—but only if he can't pay for them himself. Need is the basis for giving.

"These aren't loans—they're gifts", Euler said. "We don't expect repayment—if the people were able to repay us we couldn't give them the money, anyway, or we'd have violated the trusts that the people place in us when they donate to our fund campaigns".

If a tornado should strike Oakland County tonight, the Red Cross would be working within 15 minutes, Harold B. Euler, Oakland County Chapter chairman, said this week.

Euler said the Chapter's duty to swing into action as soon as a disaster hits is part of its charter—and the National Red Cross' duty to get more help to the scene as soon as it can, if needed, is part of its policy.

"The chapter workers in the area where the disaster happens go into action right away", Euler said. "They get in touch with police, firemen, and other government people; help them, if they need it, to rescue and evacuate injured people. The Red Cross itself arranges to feed those people who are left homeless, to get a roof over their heads

YOUR VALUES AND GOALS GUIDE LIFE

Each of us in this world uses economic resources. In general, they are money, materials, time and energy. Dr. Irma Gross, head of the Michigan State College department of home management and child development, reminds you that the quality of your life is tied up closely with the way you use your own resources. After all, you do buy the quality of your life with your time, your energy and your money.

The field of home management does not offer you definite rules as to how to use your resources—but it does offer you guiding principles—among them, consideration of your values and your goals. What are your values? They represent what is important to you. Your goals are what you are definitely working toward.

Think about this term values for a moment. You may not even be conscious of your values—you do not discuss them often. Yet they have power! For example, your values help you decide what you buy when you go on a casual shopping trip with your neighbor.

She may be an impulse buyer—buys something she had not planned—a purple belt, for example. She knows it is not especially related to anything in her wardrobe. She may not even need a belt yet her underlying reason could be her unconscious pride in her slim waistline. Another friend joins you in a hardware store. Although she has several knives, she soon purchases a five-inch knife with a saw-tooth edge and a handle made of new material. Her goal is to have all necessary and modern tools. Her value of efficiency led her to buy the knife.

While the salesman wraps up the knife you go on to the next counter and look at games. You value highly family cooperation and harmony. One of your goals is to have things that the family can do together. So you find yourself buying a game.

Recognize the importance of your values. They have power over you, Dr. Gross emphasizes.

IT'S EASY TO GROW ORCHIDS IN HOME, SAYS U-M EXPERT

With just a little coaxing, orchids will prove themselves adaptable house plants and will bring you exotic hints of far-away lands.
 Some attention, however, must be given to such simple requirements as watering, humidity, fresh air, temperature changes and cleanliness.
 Perhaps the most rewarding plants to start with would be some of the cheaper varieties of Cattleyas and Laelias, according to Walter F. Kleinschmidt, superintendent of the University of Michigan Botanical Gardens.

Once you have the plants, put them by a fourth window, so that they can obtain full benefit of the sunlight. Cut down direct sunlight in middle and late afternoon. Venetian blinds are ideal for this.

It's advisable to keep the plants on a small table. Then you can move them away from the cold at night. Put trays filled with moist gravel on the table, and set the potted plants on slats or screens just above the gravel, which should be kept moist.

Evaporation from the gravel usually keeps the plant healthy. But if yours is a steam-heated house, it's wise to syringe them regularly. Be careful not to over-water. If the room lacks sufficient moisture, a small humidifier may be attached to the radiator.

Orchids need fresh air. You can open any window except the one near the plants. Let in just enough air to keep the room from being stuffy. Kleinschmidt warns, being sudden, drastic changes in temperature can be disastrous to orchids.

Cleanliness is important. Wipe the leaves once or twice a week with a soft, damp cloth. Occasionally add several drops of vegetable oil emulsion insecticide to a pint of lukewarm water, and sponge the foliage to remove dust and dirt from the stomata, or breathing pores.

Do not use DDT insecticide, as it will injure the plants. You can obtain a good orchid spray from any orchid grower. Your florist can refer you to the proper dealer.

PASS DAYS CUT TO BOOST POLICE HOLIDAY PATROL

Regular pass days of Michigan State Police officers have been canceled for three summer holiday weekends to bring the full strength of the department to bear in traffic law enforcement during these periods of exceptionally heavy travel. It is a part of a recently announced policy of strict enforcement to combat the rise in accidents.

Detectives as well as other officers on special assignments were included in an order issued by Commissioner Joseph A. Childs canceling the pass days and directing district and post commanders to use all personnel to augment highway patrol schedules. In many instances, detectives will relieve uniform officers at desk and radio duty so that the latter may go out on patrol.

First of the weekends covered in the order is the Memorial Day holiday. Pass days are canceled from noon Friday, May 28, to midnight, Monday, May 31.

There will be similar schedules for the Fourth of July and Labor Day weekends. Pass days also were canceled during the Labor Day weekend last year.

State Police officers work a six-day week, receiving the seventh as a pass day. The order is the equivalent of a 20 percent increase in patrol strength for the holiday periods. The officers will be given equal time off later to make up for the days canceled.

"We are going to exert every effort to reduce the heavy accident tolls during these holiday periods", Childs said. "Traffic is at a peak and ordinarily is accompanied by a corresponding gain in accidents. Most of these accidents are due to careless or reckless driving and many involve innocent persons. It's these drivers we're trying to catch up with before the accidents occur."

SPECIALISTS WARN AGAINST BEATING RUGS

Never beat rugs, unless their care has been neglected or it isn't possible to use a vacuum cleaner, say home management specialists at Michigan State College. If you have to beat a rug to remove the heavy embedded dirt, turn the rug over on clean grass, with pile side down, and gently beat the back surface. You can then vacuum it thoroughly and brighten the surface by dry cleaning or shampooing.

A less damaging method is to turn the pile surface against the floor, and run a motor-driven, brush-type vacuum cleaner slowly over the back. Then roll up the rug, remove the dirt from the floor, replace rug right side up, and clean the pile with the vacuum.

Executive secretaries of five Michigan American Red Cross chapters will meet in Oakland County June 9 to learn the numbers of trained volunteers and equipment each can get from the others if disaster—like last spring's tornadoes—strikes this area.

New driver comfort!
New driving ease!

New Chevrolet Trucks... do more work per day... more work per dollar!

You save time in traffic. New truck Hydra-Matic transmission gets you off to smooth, time-saving starts without shifting or clutching. Imagine how easy this makes driving in traffic and on delivery routes! It's optional at extra cost on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton models.

You save time on the highway. New high-compression power gets you up to highway speeds from a standing start in less time, and saves you time on hills, too. You make trips faster—and the new Comfortmaster cab makes them seem shorter. It's got everything!

You save extra trips, too. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pickup bodies are deeper... new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower to the ground for easier loading.

You save on operating costs. High-compression power saves you money! The "Thrifmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235," and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost), deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep. New Chevrolet trucks are built stronger to last longer and save you money on maintenance. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models... bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models... stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay—and they never stop. Chevrolet, you know, is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. And it's also the truck that has a traditionally high trade-in value.

Come in and see how much you're ahead with America's number one truck. You'll like the way we're talking, business!

U-M ACQUIRES RARE SQUARE DANCE BOOK

The Clements Library at the University of Michigan has acquired the only known copy of a book which throws a sidelight on one of the very minor results of the American Revolution.

The title of the book explains itself: "Twenty-Four Country Dances As Danced by the British During the Winter Quarters at Philadelphia, New York, and Charleston. Collected by Mr. Cantelo, Musician at Bath, Where They Are Now Dancing for the First Time in Britain". Publication date was 1785 in London.

The British officers had learned the dances while mingling with Tories and introduced them in their own society when they returned home. The collector, Mr. Cantelo, had never been to America but thought he might make some money by publishing both the songs and the directions for the caller for the dances, which include square, reels and polkas.

YOUR WOOL BLANKETS WILL LIKE THIS!

The new non-stir method of laundering wool blankets in automatic washers is amazingly easy and effective. Soaking—not agitating—proved to be the solution to the shrinkage problem in tests by Elaine Knowles Weaver of the Ohio Experiment Station.

The non-stir or soak cleaning was tried out successfully on forty new and used blankets. New blankets, laundered this way, shrank only a trifle or not at all.

Here are the seven steps of the Ohio method:
Fill washer with lukewarm or hotter water, add a low sudsing detergent, and dissolve by running the machine a few seconds.

Submerge the blanket, let soak 15 to 20 minutes, turning over once or twice by hand.

Spin off wash water, run in rinse water of same temperature, submerge blanket, soak five minutes, remove water. Add fresh water for another rinse, turning blanket once as the second rinse comes in.

After extracting second rinse water, the blanket is stretched to original size and shape—by two people pulling from opposite ends.

Let blanket dry until just slightly damp, then stretch again, and dry.

Brush blanket on both sides with a stiff nylon brush or a "pet brush" to lift the nap to original softness.

Press bindings of blanket.

This method of washing is suitable for non-automatic washers or for agitator or pulsator type automatics, if they have flexible control dials which can be operated by hand. It may be used with tumble-type washers if the door can be opened after the machine is filled.

only Plymouth dares compare!

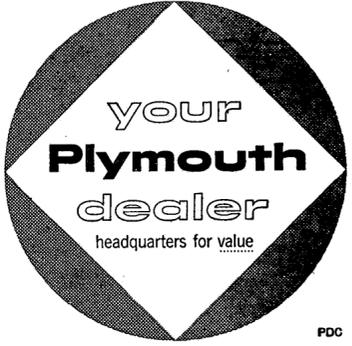

now... part-by-part proof that Plymouth is America's "best-buy" low-price car!

No other low-price car would dare make a comparison like this: Plymouth engineers actually dismantled the three best-known low-price cars and compared them, part by part! Their findings, a few of which we've listed below, prove conclusively that Plymouth is far-and-away your "best buy" in the lowest-price field.

Here's just some of the overwhelming proof that Plymouth is "best buy"!

- Comfort Level Seating
Both front and rear Plymouth seats are highest. Plymouth research found this more natural seating position gives greater posture protection and comfort.
- Front Wheel Brakes
Plymouth engineers provide two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel to ensure smooth, straight-line stops without "grabbing." The "other two" have only one brake cylinder in each front wheel.
- Spark Plugs
Because they last up to five times longer before re-setting is necessary, Plymouth uses resistor-type spark plugs. This type plug also produces smoother idling, better gas economy at low speeds.
- Oil Bath Air Cleaner
An oil bath air cleaner can reduce engine wear as much as 90%. This unit is standard equipment on all Plymouth models; it is available only at extra cost on the other two low-price cars.

And dozens of other part-by-part comparisons prove Plymouth is your "best buy"! See us today... and get the facts!

Ask us for the big illustrated booklet that shows how Plymouth leads in frame construction... engine design... performance... economy... comfort... safety.

Go for a drive in America's "best-buy" low-price car!

Fun for the whole family! Enjoy "That's My Boy" each week on CBS-TV. See TV page for time and station.

Many a water system in operation today is like a small boy trying to do a grown man's work. It was probably just right when the owner installed it. But now, because running water offers so many benefits, the system may be given more jobs than it was made to handle.

During May, check up on your system's capacity and pressure. If you want suggestions for increasing them, your Edison Farm-Service Advisor will be happy to oblige. Just phone, write or visit any Edison office. No obligation.

That spiritualization of thought and action is necessary for real progress will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body".

The following passage will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual,—they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite,—in order that sin and mortality may be put off" (265:5).

From the Bible will be read the following counsel given by the Apostle Paul to the Corinthians: "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God" (I Corinthians 2:12).

The Golden Text is from II Corinthians: "What agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God" (6:16).

Spring Dessert Tray

You can make a handsome dessert tray for springtime entertaining with one orange, one apple, some doughnuts and jelly rolls. And it will be handsome in color as well as taste.
To make the tray pictured, use a round tray about 15 inches in diameter. Peel a large orange, and loosen the segments to form a center flower. Cut an unpeeled apple crosswise into slices. Cut slices in half. Place an apple slice, skin side up, between each two orange segments. Garnish center of the orange with a maraschino cherry.
Cut cake-like, powdered sugar dipped doughnuts into thin crosswise slices. Cut the large jelly roll lengthwise into slices. Cut each lengthwise slice in half or into thirds to make jelly roll bars. Alternate jelly roll bars and doughnut slices around the edge of the tray.
Both doughnuts and jelly roll come from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department, and both are made with home-like flavor from cook book recipes.
