CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, JUNE 17, 1954

NUMBER 42

Special Election Friday, July 2

On Friday, July 2nd, a Township Special Election will be held in Independence Township. Voters will be asked to approve a one mill increase for a period of five years. This will mean an increase of only $1.00 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation as equalized.

The resulting revenue would be used solely for the expansion of the Independence Township Fire Department. Additional fire protection is urgently needed to keep pace with the steady growth in the township's population.

The modernization of equipment and facilities in the present Fire Station No. 1 in the Village of Clarkston and the purchase of equipment for Fire Station No. 2 at the corner of Clarkston and Sashabaw Roads is planned.

Bible School Starts Monday

The Children's Bible School of the Clarkston Methodist Church will open on Monday, June 21st, for children up through ten years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Boyss have contributed $10.00 to the milk and cookie fund for children under school age.

The Paul Etters of Maybee Rd., have purchased the Orlo Willoughby home on E. Church St., and expect to occupy it by the end of this month.

New Men In Life

New men, most eager for the fray, Prepare themselves for problems of the day.

They've learned of arts and science of our land. The gift of speech comes forth at their command.

New thoughts to set the world afire; Consuming last year's planning in the pyre; Outmoding all that man has ever made, With skillful hands applied to every trade.

New brawn to lift a greater load, Transporting it much further down life's road; Accomplishing the task with greater ease, And doing it just when and where they please.

New feet to walk on pathways, new, That lead to greater heights in things to do. New feet to meet the challenge that lies ahead; Not bound to where the former trails have lead.

In humbleness to God, I pray New souls will hit upon a better way To run a world embroiled in bitter strife, And make for all a fuller peaceful life.

New love must enter in each heart To keep our world from being torn apart. Whatever else new men in life possess, True love will give them happiness.

Clarkston Teacher Speaks Vows

Last Saturday afternoon All Saints Episcopal Church in Pontiac was the scene of the wedding of Joyce Z. Tosich and Eugene D. McCurdy.

Joyce's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Tosich of Pontiac and Eugene is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert McCurdy of Flint. The bride's gown was of nylon net, taffeta and Alencon lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a pearl-trimmed helmet. She carried a prayerbook on which was a bouquet of white roses and a white orchid. She also carried a handkerchief trimmed with rose point lace from her mother's wedding gown.

The bride's sister, Mrs. William Loughran, Jr., of Oxford, as matron of honor, was in a ballerina length gown of azure blue silk organza. Her picture hat and shoes were of the same color and she carried a bouquet of shaded pink carnations and snapdragons centered with white roses.

The bridegroom's sister, Betty McCurdy of Flint, as bridesmaid, was in mauve pink with matching picture hat and shoes. Her bouquet was the same as the honor attendant's.

Walter Zellam of Detroit, was the best man and seating the guests were Steve Learmonth of Flint and William Loughran of Oxford.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Tosich chose a dotted beige silk dress with white accessories and a light lavender corsage pinned to her purse. Mrs. McCurdy wore blue with matching accessories and a purple corsage.

A reception in the Rose Kneale Room of Stevens Hall followed the ceremony.

For her trip to Florida the bride changed to a white linen dress embroidered in pink with a matching stole, white accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet. On their return they will reside in Clarkston.

The bride is a teacher in the Clarkston Community Schools system.

Good Fish Stories, Even In Clarkston

Good fish stories—tall tales—are always interesting. However, there are times when these stories are actual happenings. At least, this is true about a fish episode that took place not too far from Clarkston and had to do with two young homemakers, and fish enthusiasts at that.

On the shore of Deer Lake stood these two young mothers—don't know if the children were near—but suddenly folks in the neighborhood heard screaming and hollering. Had the children caught a fish?

Oh, no—just two brave women battling it out with a 3 foot gar pike. The fish had entered the children's swimming area and the mothers raced into the water, empty handed, to make the catch. What a chance for a good movie. The one mother grabbed the big fish, and believe it or not, held on for dear life, while the other mother beat the fish to death with a boat oar.

Yes, even in Clarkston, good fish stories become actual happenings. Don't know whether these women will receive trophies or not.

Local Man Retires In East

Martin J. Alger, who headed the New York Central Railroad's traffic activities for nearly two decades, is retiring under the company's pension plan after 45 years of service—including the last 20 as vice-president.

Mr. Alger, who has served as vice-president-staff for the last year and one-half, has a wide and intimate acquaintance among business leaders throughout the east and mid-west.

As vice-president-traffic beginning in 1934, he directed the Central's sales and service organization, both passenger and freight, during a period when the railroads faced rapidly increasing competition from air and highway transportation. The Central's famed high-speed Pacemaker freight service, designed to recapture traffic from the highways, was instituted under his direction.

In addition to his duties as an official of the Central, Mr. Alger was president of the railroad's car-building subsidiary, Despatch Shops Inc., for 27 years until his recent election as chairman of that company's executive committee. He also has served as the chairman of that company's executive committee of the Central's two refrigerator car line subsidiaries, Merchants Despatch Transportation Corp. and Northern Refrigerator Lines, Inc., besides being an officer or director of numerous other Central-affiliated companies.

Mr. Alger's business career was an up-from-the-ranks story of the kind which American business frequently produces. Born in Marine City, Mich., in 1890, he attended Clarkston High School and Ferris Institute at Big Rapids. He began with the Central in 1909 as a clerk in the shop accountant's office at Gibson, Ind., where he soon attracted notice because of his ability and industry.

When A. H. Smith, Central vice-president who was later to become the railroad's president, was looking for a promising young man to serve as his traveling secretary, young Alger was recommended for the job. He became Mr. Smith's valued staff assistant and, after wartime service in 1918-19 with the U. S. Railroad Administration, was named executive assistant to the Central's president.

In this position Mr. Alger had a wide variety of important executive duties before being appointed vice-president-traffic at New York in 1934. He was named to his most recent position of vice-president-staff Jan. 1, 1953.

Mr. Alger lives at (Stoneleigh Court) Bronzville, N. Y.

Girl Scouts Have Cook-Out

The two tents were furnished by Stanley Furman, Boy Scout Leader, and Mrs. Isaac Johnson assisted Mrs. Steele.

On Friday evening the group had a good time around the camp fire and the whole neighborhood enjoyed the singing.

On Saturday the girls did a good job of cooking three meals over the camp fire. They really set out to earn their Backyard Campers Badges and they did just that in excellent fashion.

The girls who attended were Carolyn Benac, Kay Eichbrecht, Mary Lou Steele, Marlene Sprague, Sally Young and Sandra VanKuren.

In presenting this gift their church friends expressed their appreciation for all of the splendid contributions they had made to the church in the last number of years.

Following the graduation exercises at the Clarkston High School Hal Bennett and Don Colton were hosts to the Senior Class, the class sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thayer, the school superintendent and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie F. Greene and several of the teachers.

The class made this a real 'last fling'. They hired Paul Wilmot and his band for the occasion and they enjoyed dancing on the porch and in the large living room in which a Chinese theme was used for the decorations.

On the balcony they held a 'millionaire's party' and at the close of the evening Jack Hess was the millionaire.

Another highlight of the party was the showing of the slides of the Seniors' trip to Washington.

Refreshments were served, with the food being furnished by some of the mothers of the graduates. On the refreshment table were red and white candles (class colors) in candelabra.

The party lasted until the small hours of the morning as many of the Seniors felt that this might be their last get-together. A great many of them will be leaving Clarkston in the fall to enter schools of higher learning.

AGING MEN LIKE TO LIVE IN RURAL AREAS, SMALL TOWNS

Michigan's older men like to go and live in rural areas and small towns, while most older women seem to prefer urban regions.

This doesn't mean that all men 65 years of age and older are going to take up farming or set up country stores, nor does it mean that our largest cities are to be swamped by elderly women.

It does indicate that our growing number of older persons—they've increased over 280 per cent in Michigan since the turn of the century—most often have definite ideas on where they want to live.

Significance of this preference is that rural areas and small towns, especially those where health and community facilities are limited, should be taking these facts into consideration. What about housing, recreation and leisure activities, employment, for instance?

In almost all areas of this type little yet has been done, not so much because the community leaders don't see the problems, but because it's so hard to get ideas and information on what can and must be done.

The best place in the nation to get some of the answers will be at the University of Michigan June 28-30 when the seventh annual Conference on Aging will be held. To it will come experts on aging from throughout the country to discuss what they and others have done in their regions to meet the aging problems.

And for the first time at such a conference anywhere, the problems of towns and rural areas of 10,000 and less population will be highlighted.

Communities of other sizes will be treated, too, at this workshop conference in which everyone will have an opportunity to ask questions and contribute information. These annual meetings are known as the best of their kind in the nation and each year have produced definite results and achievements.

Sponsors are the University's Division of Gerontology, with the co-operation of the U-M Summer Session, Extension Service and Institute for Industrial Health, the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the U. S. Department of Labor.

MUSICAL PROGRAM AT WATERFORD CHURCH

An unusual Gospel musical program, demonstrating actual broadcast techniques, will be presented at the Waterford Community Church on Sunday, June 20, by Frederick H. Lindblad, formerly heard coast-to-coast with Hollywood's "Haven of Rest" radio quartet. The noted young Swedish tenor soloist and radio artist will appear in a special "family rally" at 7:30 P. M. A dynamic speaker and exceptional pianist and soloist, Mr. Lindblad tours the nation's major cities constantly and maintains his own schedule of "Quiet Hour" broadcasts in several states. At present he is engaged in an extensive schedule of "family rallies" across the country, under auspices of the Christian Home League, nationwide laymen's movement whose service in strengthening the homes of our country was recently publicly commended by J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI.

FREDERICK H. LINDBLAD

At the service here on Sunday, the guest speaker and musician will present his popular studio-style radio-cast, singing and playing in the inimitable manner of his regular broadcasts. He will also display a six-color reproduction of Fred Brunner's modern American painting "Christian Home", painted for the CHL on the initiative of a Normandy chaplain James Bryant following World War II. News highlights from the League's nationwide front will also be included in the full variety program.

The Reverend Mr. W. VanPlew, pastor of the Waterford Church, has arranged for Mr. Lindblad's appearance at this time. He stated today that the entire community is invited to share this unusual program. "Besides his rich experience in the field of radio, Mr. Lindblad holds degrees in music and education from Pasadena College in California, and is qualified in every way to make this an outstanding event", Rev. Mr. VanPlew said.

SCHOOL MEN FROWN ON PROPOSED AMENDMENT

On Wednesday, June 2nd, the Oakland County Association of School Superintendents, by unanimous vote, resolved "to view with disfavor the constitutional Amendment proposal of the Michigan Committee for Better Schools, which proposal is set forth on initiative petitions being circulated in the State of Michigan".

Opposition of the school men to the proposed Amendment developed because of three fundamental faults found in the proposition. First, it takes away from about one-half of the school districts of Oakland County money they now have coming to them from state sources. Second, it takes away from the legislature certain powers and prerogatives that the legislature now exercises over school appropriations. Thirdly, it assigns to a state authority arbitrary powers in the distribution of more state monies to some school districts than to other school districts.

In order to be placed on the November 2nd ballot, petitions must be circulated and filed prior to July 1. If the amendment is adopted by the people on November 2, 1954, it would go into effect July 1, 1955.

MICHIGAN BELL FILES FOR REHEARING ON RATE INCREASE

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company June 10 filed a petition with the State Public Service Commission in Lansing for a rehearing of its application for a rate increase that would average 3 cents per telephone per day.

The Commission on May 11 denied Michigan Bell's rate application in full.

The Company cited two general reasons for a rehearing:

1. Changes that have occurred in Michigan Bell's financial results since the year ending September 30, 1953, which the Commission used as a test period in reaching its decision.
  2. "Numerous errors" committed by the Commission in support of the order denying the company an increase.
- Clifton W. Phalen, president of the company, said he was hopeful that a rehearing would "bring about an up-to-date appraisal of our financial situation. All we want is a recognition that increased costs of doing business must be reflected in our rates in order that we may continue to provide the one thing that everybody wants—good telephone service".

Michigan Bell's petition for the rehearing followed its wage settlement with the Communications Workers of America-CIO on June 9. The new agreement calls for general wage increases ranging from $1 to $2.50 a week, upward re-classification of jobs and towns, and continuation of progression wage increases for employees as they gain experience.

CHEMICAL WILL KILL QUACKGRASS

A Michigan State College weed researcher has found an easy—but rather expensive way—to get rid of quackgrass for the season. It's using maleic hydrazide and plowing or spading under the treated grass. The treatment does the best job in the spring and doesn't harm most crop plants.

Here is the advice of the M. S. C. investigator, Dr. B. H. Grigsby, on the way to do the job:

Let the grass grow to four to eight inches tall.

Mix four pounds of actual maleic hydrazide in 20 to 40 gallons of water. That's 10 pounds of the commercial product containing 40 per cent maleic hydrazide. Spray on the solution to wet the grass leaves.

Wait four to eight days, then plow or spade the treated grass under to a depth of six to eight inches.

Then prepare your seedbed by

Each year at Casino wildlife experiment station in the central upper peninsula, spotted fawns in the mile-square study pen must be captured, tagged and inspected. Deer can range freely in the big pen, which provides several types of wild habitat, but they must be checked carefully for population changes. The work is generally done in late May or early June. Two workers here note down information about one of the spotted youngsters.

disking and/or a light harrowing. Plant the crop.

You'll have the spraying to do over again if there is a rain within 12 hours after treating the grass.

The chemicals won't injure humans or animals. But the catch is—it costs about $25 per acre to apply. Grigsby figures that growers of high-income-per-acre crops like potatoes and truck crops—or home gardens—may be interested in using the chemical.

Your county agricultural agent can tell you what dosage of the chemical to use.

The average farmer is well aware of the fact that the dairy cow does not rate economically high at the present time. I wonder if any of them have stopped to think that a cow in 1954 is going to have to be a 12,000 lb producer in order to make $1.00 for the labor, and even a 12,000 lb producer will pay 50c an hour less this year than she did last. If you give this careful consideration and then remember that this is the season for picnics involving hamburgers and hot dogs, one might well consider that boarder cows may be more profitable served at the picnic.

BUTTER USERS GET FLAVOR VITAMIN A

"Please pass the butter" is a familiar phrase around the family dining table.

Homemakers reach often for the butter when preparing meals, too. They add it to vegetables, to those baked Michigan potatoes, to the foods they saute or brown, and to the cakes, pies and cookies they bake.

Mom knows the butter she uses helps her family get their supply of Vitamin A, important for growth and vision and for helping to keep the skin in good condition.

Butter and butter mixes are tops as bread spreads, too. Mrs. Jennie Bruffy, extension foods specialist at Michigan State College, suggests these variations for sandwiches, for hot breads and hot cakes:

For honey butter, mix one-half cup butter (at room temperature) with one-half cup honey and whip until fluffy. Or you can substitute maple syrup or peanut butter for the honey. Store any unused butter mix in the refrigerator, Mrs. Bruffy advises.

Ever wish for help in planning those three meals a day? The 18-page Extension Bulletin 306, "Planning Everyday Meals", includes suggestions, short cuts and recipes to help homemakers. Single copies of this bulletin are available free upon request to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State State College, East Lansing, Mich.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Wise Stepmother

Have you heard about young Skeeter Roberts' unusual pet, the tame owl "Blinky"? He's had her about three years.

I say "her" because up to a couple of weeks ago nobody was quite sure. But now "Blinky's" a mother—of two chicks!

Seems "Blinky" had been acting kind of strange—so on a hunch, Skeeter put a couple of hen's eggs in her nest. Darn if "Blinky" didn't set on them for 5 days! Last Friday they hatched, and now "Blinky's" as proud as a mother hen! (So's Skeeter.)

From where I sit, there's a lesson for all of us. Guess you'd call it "tolerance." Birds and animals often seem to do better in that respect than humans. If I like a glass of temperate beer with super and you'd rather have cider—it should be okay with both of us. Neither of us should give a "hoot" what the other fellow likes, says, or does, as long as he follows the law of the land. Right?

Secretary Benson will present the main address at a meeting commemorating the 10th anniversary of the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative. Extension Dairyman A. C. Baltzer, who Baltzer said he is inviting all farm organizations to be represented at the session which will be held at the MABC headquarters south of the M. S. C. campus. Families attending were urged to bring their own sandwiches. The dairy organization will furnish milk and ice cream.

The subject of Secretary Benson's talk was not disclosed.

Drainage from frozen whipped cream is very slight and there seems to be no quality deterioration, says Dr. Aldrich. Frozen unwhipped cream should be completely defrosted (but still cold) for whipping.

You won't want to leave unwhipped cream in the bottle to freeze it, however. Put it in a container which allows for some expansion during freezing.

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read at Christian Science services Sunday.
Man's dominion over all materiality is stressed in the readings from the King James Version of the Bible as well as those from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. The Scriptural selections include the account as given in Matthew (14:22-32) of how Christ Jesus and Peter walked on the sea.
Readings from Science and Health include the following:
"In proportion as matter loses to human sense all entity as man, in that proportion does man become its master. He enters into a diviner sense of the facts, and comprehends the theology of Jesus as demonstrated in healing the sick, raising the dead, and walking over the wave. All these deeds manifested Jesus' control over the belief that matter is substance, that it can be the arbiter of life or the constructor of any form of existence" (369:5).
The Golden Text is from Psalms: "God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God" (62:11).

Beginning next Sunday and continuing during the summer season (June 20-Sept. 5) there will be a Summer School Story, Worship and Activities Group maintained for all children aged 2½ through 7 years, at the same time as Church Service.
Children aged 8 years and up are urged most heartily to take part with the "grown-ups" in the Summer Church Services.
At the 8:00 A. M. Service of Holy Communion there will be a special children's prayer each Sunday and those not confirmed will be welcomed at the Altar Rail (hands clasped) for an Altar Blessing.
At the 10:30 A. M. One Hour Service the children will find that some items of the service have been adapted especially for them.
The Vicar's sermon series on "Great Hymns of the Church" should be of value to the young folks as well as the grown-ups.

Why GMC's make other trucks out of date

Be careful—drive safely

The GMC light-duty truck does more because it has, as standard equipment, a full 125-horsepower engine—the most powerful 6 in its class.

The GMC light-duty truck saves more because its Truck Hydra-Matic Drive™ ends repairs caused by shock-loading strains—ends all clutch costs—uses less gas—saves the tires.

The Hydra-Matic GMC light-duty truck performs better because it always is in the correct gear for the need—regardless.

The Hydra-Matic GMC light-duty truck handles easier because you never have to shove a clutch or shift a gear.

The GMC light-duty commands respect with its dashing smartness—its look of quality—its spacious luxury cab, that make you and your wife proud to take it anywhere.

The GMC light-duty truck costs less to own—less to run—than old-style trucks. Come in and we'll demonstrate it!

Already, thousands of visitors are using state parks, but the busy days are yet to come. Last year, more than 13 million persons visited the state's parks and recreation areas; this year, parks workers expect to exceed that total.
