A. M. to 7:00 P. M. Mr. Cook urges every eligible wheat grower in Oakland County to cast a vote. Any wheat producer who intends to have more than 15 acres of wheat for the 1955 crop is eligible to vote. Voting places in this area are as follows: 1. Independence, Brandon and Groveland townships in the Grange Hall at Ortonville.

2. Holly, Springfield, and Rose townships at the Farm and Garden Implements Co., in Holly. 3. Highland, Milford, and White Lake townships at the Highland Producers Elevator in Highland.

Two-thirds of those who vote must vote approval before quotas will be in effect in 1955. According to Mr. Cook, some of the things that farmers should think about before casting their vote are: If quotas are approved, there will be marketing penalties on any acreage in excess of the allotment to the farm, In addition the full level price support authorized for 1955 will be available only to those who comply with allotments. If marketing quotas are not approved by twothirds of those who vote then there will be no quotas or marketing penalties. However, the price support for those who stay within their allotments will be only 50% of parity if quotas are not in effect.

MANAGEMENT COURSE AT MSC TO OFFER MASTER'S DEGREE

Master's degree programs in hotel, restaurant and general institutional management will be offered at Michigan State College beginning this fall, college officials have announced.

It is believed that this will be the first time in the U.S. that graduate work has been offered

Applications for farm registration may be had by writing the Department at Lansing. TAKE CARE AT BEACHES

Planning on visiting the beach this weekend? If you do, the Health Depart ment advises to take it easy when swimming, boating or even when the children are wading. Summer vacationers often forget that water can be dangerous. Yet, records on file in the Michigan Department of Health show: There were 309 drownings in Michigan in 1953—of these, 84 were water craft accidents, the remaining 225 were other types of drownings-And the summer months of June, July and August accounted for 189, or 60 percent of the 309 drowning deaths.

But if you remember a few simple rules, it can do much to cut down swimming accidents. Don't go into the water:

If it is unfamiliar water, and especially if you like to dive. The water may be shallower than you think, and it may hide dangerous

If you can't swim well. Overestimating strength and skill is frequent and can be fatal;

If you are alone. Even good wimmers have cramps; If it is after dark. Not being able to see—or be seen—may mean disaster.

The 1953 drownings were widely scattered as to place. Eight occurred in the home, two on the farm, 13 in, mines and quarries, seven in parks and other types of playgrounds, six were not specified and 189 deaths couldn't be classified as to place. Looking at the statistics from he standpoint of age and sex, young men and boys should be especially careful because:

The majority drowned were males—the five to nine-year-olds recorded the most deaths followed by the ten to fourteen age group—there were 28 drownings recorded in the five years and under group.

Altogether, there were 41 accidents suffered in the five to nine age group and of those who drowned, 31 were males and 10 females. In the ten to fourteen age group, there were 40 drownings recorded of which 32 were males and eight females.

Also in the high accident groups were the fifteen to nineteen year olds with 35 drownings recorded for 1953, all males; and the twenty to twenty-four age group with 24 deaths recorded, 20 males and 4 females. Of the 28 drownings recorded in the five years and under age group, 20 were males and 8 females.

After twenty-four the drowning death rate begins to decline until it reaches the low of one death (male) in the seventy-five to seventy-nine age group, the last group for which any drowning deaths were recorded.

HOME EXTENSION NEWS FREEZER FACTS

When you calculate the cost of owning and operating a home freezer you find that the more you use it, the less it costs you.

It costs almost as much to hold food—or even the space—at zero degrees F. as to freeze food, reports Mrs. Frieda Bennett, home lemonstration agent. This emphasizes the necessity of using stored food not saving it. Food specialists at Michigan State College point out that the cost is twice as great if there is no cause, education and job trainurnover than it is with a 50 per ent turnover.

MICHIGAN AMERICAN LEGION BEGINS 36TH YEAR

This week in Grand Rapids, on July 22, the American Legion in Michigan will open its 36th annual state convention. Better than a third of a century is gone since a small group of 1,000 weary doughboys gave birth to The American Legion at the Paris Caucus of 1919.

They started with nothing that day, except faith in the need for an active group in America that would transcend all creeds and group interests (as doughboys did), and would forcefully implement (1) devotion to country, (2) remembrance of the fallen, (3) preservation of the principles for which they fell, (4) justice to war's victims, and (5) faith in our youth and our future.

They might have called their idea "A Union to Implement the Gettysburg Address". They called it The American Legion. They believed there was a need for such a union, and that if it were designed to carry its creed into action, it would have vitality.

Today there are 100,000 Michigan men and women in the Legion and its auxiliary.
