Rotary Hears Customs Man

Presenting the less sensational side of customs activities, Paul Richman of the U. S. Customs Department, a branch of the U. S. Treasury, gave a very interesting talk before the Clarkston Rotary Club on Monday evening.

Customs is the second highest revenue earning branch of the government, being topped only by the income tax revenue.

An interesting sidelight was the fact that in the speaker's estimation one reason for juvenile delinquency was the fact that the parents flaunted the law by trying to smuggle items through the border. As a result, he stated, youngsters try to emulate the older generation who used to smuggle liquor, by going to Canada to buy fireworks where the sale is legal. They try to bring them back, taped around their bodies to escape detection.

It was interesting to note that a number equal to nearly three-quarters of the entire population of Canada, over twelve million people, crossed through the Detroit area in a year.

The dinner was served by Mrs. Norton.

William Perry of Oxford has returned to his home after undergoing surgery in Pontiac General Hospital on Friday.

Baptist Ladies Met Last Week

Mrs. William Clement entertained at a luncheon on August 18th, for the Clarkston Baptist Ladies Auxiliary. Fifteen members and one guest were present.

A short business meeting was conducted by the Vice-President, Mrs. Raymond Ruggles.

The Reverend George Halk gave some suggestions to the group concerning Mission publications and other material which could be used to give a better understanding of missionary work throughout the world.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Brooks on Sashabaw Road. An effort is being made to have 100 per cent attendance. The annual election of officers will be one of the activities of this meeting.

An evening of real interest to every member is being planned by the President, Mrs. John Stageman.

Torch Lake

The fairest jewel in nature's crown,
The clearest water anywhere,
The greatest spectacle I've found,
New life vibrating in the air.

The grandest spot in which to bathe
The outer self and inner soul;
There's life anew in every wave
That takes our troubles in its foal.

The greenest trees upon its bank
Providing shade through year on year
Where man and beast came down
And drank,
A perfect haven for the deer.

The hills that flank its emerald shore
Give shelter from the weather's rage,
A thing of beauty evermore
As taken from an artist's page.

A golden mirror come the dawn,
Reflecting rays of morning sun,
All hopelessness and shadows gone
Where'er another day's begun.

A masterpiece of blues and greens,
With constant changes thru the day;
Like heaven neath the full moon beams,
Where fairies dance, and spirits play.

On Wednesday afternoon of last week about 45 women met at the Community Center to discuss organizing a Civic Club in Clarkston. Mrs. A. L. A nominating committee was chosen and is composed of: Mrs. Paul Eliason, Mrs. Paul Frechette, Mrs. Russell Colton, Mrs. Howard Kieft and Mrs. Richard Carlson.

Mr. Francis lived in Clarkston for a number of years and at one time operated the "Dixie Tea Room", in the building next to where the Clarkston Post Office now is. After a couple of years in Bentley he came back to Clarkston to make his home with his daughter, Mrs. John Stageman, while Dr. Stageman was overseas.

School Construction Has Been Idled

Problems at the Steel Prefabrication Plant have caused the Elementary School construction to be idled for the past four weeks. The Steel Company has promised delivery of the roof deck this week. If the deck is delivered there is a possibility that the new additions can still be made available by the opening of school. If the schools are not available it will necessitate half-day sessions for some of the children for a few days until the buildings can be completed. It would not be advisable to open the rural schools because some of the children would still be on half-days and they would have to be re-grouped when they were transferred to the new building. Further, it would be too expensive to open the rural schools for just a few days usage. It is believed that because of the large number of homes constructed in the school district this summer that the enrollment will be greater than previously anticipated. The increased enrollment, the question of whether the schools will be completed or not, and the rezoning of the areas attending each school will cause some confusion. We hope that the last minute adjustments will not inconvenience you and that you will bear with us until the school and transportation schedules are completed and school is well under way.

Nothing quite so cheerful as a convention of barn owls! However, this trio of fuzzy-heads knows the best way to be a wise old owl is to first be a wide-awake young owl. Rev. Williams, well known throughout Australia, is the Methodist Church of Australia's delegate to the World Council of Churches. The minister of the Methodist Church in South Yarra, Melbourne, he is the secretary of the Victorian Committee of the World Council of Churches and a regular speaker over the Australian Broadcasting Commission. In 1953 he was one of the main speakers in the Evangelistic "Mission to the Nation".

Rev. Williams, now in the United States for the assembly of the World Council of Churches at Northwestern University later this month, will remain here to complete work on a Doctor of Philosophy degree at Drew University. Just before coming here he completed the special assignment of writing five booklets on the Christian faith, which will be used across Australia as the basic training material for the second phase of the "Mission to the Nation".

THE PROMISE AND THE THREAT

Despite the promise of a trial polio vaccine and increased supplies of the temporary polio preventive, gamma globulin, polio is still with us. This summer thousands of new polio patients are relying on the March of Dimes for life-saving equipment and help in paying hospital bills.

But as the needs mount, March of Dimes funds are exhausted.

Tragically enough, contributions to the January March of Dimes were not enough to pay for the vaccine trials and gamma globulin and at the same time provide funds for patient care. Today both polio prevention and patient aid programs are jeopardized by lack of funds.

Your help is urgently needed - NOW - to continue vital services for polio victims and to help realize the hope for an effective end to polio. Give generously to the Emergency March of Dimes, August 16 - 31.

RED CROSS WORKERS FOR OVERSEAS

Opportunities for immediate placement as recreation workers in the American Red Cross overseas program are now open for young women between the ages of 23 and 28, according to an announcement issued today by Leslie This, director of Personnel, Red Cross Midwestern Area Office.

The Red Cross, as part of its traditional responsibility of service to the armed forces, supplements the Army's Special Services program with a club and clubmobile program of its own to provide leisure-time activities for able-bodied service-men. Mr. This stated that young women are urgently needed at this time to replace recreation workers now returning from Korea. Ever present with the armed forces in the emergency of war, the Red Cross remains with American troops in peacetime, maintaining vital, morale-building recreation facilities for GIs where needed overseas. To be eligible, women must have college training or special aptitude in recreation, education, music, dramatics, speech and art. Physical fitness is essential. Those selected will receive two weeks orientation at Red Cross headquarters in Washington, D. C., and then go overseas.

Openings are also available for women college graduates up to 35 years of age for recreation positions in military hospitals. Because the American Red Cross program of Service in Military Hospitals is conducted both in this country and overseas, applicants must be available for overseas assignment after a tour of duty in this country. Training and experience with groups in recreation, teaching, camping, hospitals, and other allied fields is advantageous.

For both club and recreation workers assigned overseas, the Red Cross pays maintenance and travel as well as provides an initial uniform allowance. The salary scale will be determined according to background and experience.

Women interested in receiving further information on these openings should write to the Director of Personnel Service, Midwestern Area Office, American National Red Cross, 4050 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis 8, Mo.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY ON INCREASE IN STATE

Juvenile delinquency is increasing faster in Michigan than in the nation as a whole and a growing number of cases involve violence, a panel of authorities said at Michigan State College's Forum in State and Local Government.

But despite the black picture supplied by statistics, "We don't think our kids are going to the dogs, a vast number grow into good citizens and the majority of parents are doing a good job," said panel chairman Sam Rabinovitz, executive secretary of the Michigan Youth Commission.

One reason for the boost in juvenile cases is the fact that courts are now sending in more complete reports of juvenile cases, he said. Another reason is that more delinquents are coming to the attention of law enforcement agencies and other groups which are better equipped to deal with delinquents.

In 1948 in America, Rabinovitz said, there were 300,000 juvenile cases brought to the attention of

PRE-SCHOOL HEARING TEST GIVES CHILD BEST CHANCE

No sound . . . "I think I hear something" . . . "I DO hear!" . . . These three dramatic pictures should remind parents this is the time of year to have their children's hearing tested before school opens in September. There are about two million children in the U.S. who suffer undiscovered hearing impairments, according to the American Hearing Aid Association. The nonprofit organization urges parents to have their children's hearing tested by an ear doctor or reputable hearing aid specialist at the slightest sign of a hearing loss. It reminds parents to be especially alert since children often try to conceal hearing impairments because they want to be like other kids.

courts. This figure jumped 45 per cent in 1953 to a total of 435,000. In Michigan, the 1948 figure was 5,415, compared with 8,650 in 1953, an increase of 60 per cent.

Rabinovitz said the age of a juvenile delinquent is figured at 10 to 17. The largest number of juvenile cases involve stealing, breaking and entering, and driving away cars. But cases involving violence are increasing. Figures can be very misleading, said Oakland County probate judge Arthur E. Moore. He said increases in population, informal and formal cases, repeated offenses and other factors should be taken into account.

Assailing the system of handling divorces in Michigan, Moore said that divorce cases should be decided from the children's standpoint. "They are more important than the parents", he said.

READ LABEL WHEN BUYING RAINCOATS

Girls who are starting to collect a school wardrobe for fall probably have "raincoat" down on that shopping list.

Clothing specialists at Michigan State College offer these tips to help you select the kind of rainwear you want:

If the label says "waterproof", you'll know that the fabric has been treated to shed water completely. . . even in a driving rain. Plastic coats and "slickers" come in that class. But, remember. . . that treatment also closed the "pores" of the fabric so no air can penetrate. And some people find this type hot and uncomfortable.

"Water repellent" raincoats are comfortable because they maintain their porous quality. They have been chemically treated to make them resistant to wetting. They shed water satisfactorily except in a prolonged, hard rain.

The M. S. C. clothing specialists urge you to look for a close, firm weave if you buy a water repellent raincoat—whether made of cotton, rayon, silk, nylon or a blend of fibers. Look, too, for the tag that indicates whether the water repellent finish is durable or non-durable.

A non-durable water repellent finish would mean you must have the finish restored with each dry cleaning or laundering—an expensive process.

Take time to read the labels before you buy—your raincoat is a year-found investment.

by Mrs. Frieda Bennett Home Demonstration Agent

There's no need to just wish for a "different" salad dressing. It is easy to improvise a "tailor-made" dressing from the basic dressings already available. Mayonnaise is especially versatile. Frieda Bennett, Home Demonstration Agent, points out that you can add a little chili sauce and perhaps a bit of chopped sweet pickle to mayonnaise. . . and you've made a Russian dressing that's extra good to serve with lettuce hearts.

For vegetable salads, pep up mayonnaise by adding a few drops of lemon juice, a bit of parsley and some grated onion. To please the youngsters, add a bit of peanut butter to the mayonnaise you use on apple salad.

Simple variations of French dressing may be made by mixing it with a little chili sauce, horseradish or roquefort or blue

Young Eagle

This dour-looking creature is a bald eaglet, though obviously too young to be bald. He was found in a nest in the northern lower peninsula. Conservation department field workers scaled a 75-foot tree to band and photograph him. It will probably be another three years before the characteristic white head plumage appears on this youngster.

time would indicate that crops and livestock have not done well through 1954 as they have for the past few years. Although hay crops were much better than expected due to June rains, and wheat and oats came on well because of the same rains. The wheat crop has been a little better than average according to most farmers' reports. The setback has come as a result of drouth during July and into August, which has held corn on many farms to a standstill. Pastures have been negligible during this period with many farmers having to feed dry food to keep production up. This could easily have a bad effect on feed supply later in the year. Many farmers report difficulty in preparation of wheat ground for the fall seeding because of hard soil conditions. Potato growers with irrigation report good stands, but those without irrigation say the crop is below average. All in all 1954 growing season to date has been only average for the best part and below average generally. Maybe this is nature's way of helping to take care of farm surpluses.

The Oakland County Soil Conservation District Directors in cooperation with the Michigan Flying Farmers have planned another Air Tour for this year. September 1st is the date (Sept. 2 in case of bad weather). Pontiac City Airport on M-59, five miles west of Pontiac is the place from which the flights will originate. Three areas of the county will be covered by various flights of planes piloted by Michigan Flying Farmers.

Ray Wheeler, Soil Conservation District Director and chairman of the Air Tour Committee, points out that the reason for this arrangement is that farmers can fly over their own area and see their own farms from the air. Tickets are necessarily reserved for a definite flight and a definite time.

Soil Conservation District Directors having tickets for sale are: Keith Middleton, Lake Orion; Harold Mitchell, Grand Blanc; Ray Wheeler, Davidsburg; Earl Voorhees, Davidsburg; and Earl Barrett, Milford. "By scheduling flights, farmers will not have to spend the entire day at the Pontiac City Airport waiting their turn, according to Ray Wheeler. However, they should arrive at the airport at least 30 minutes in advance of the flight time, so that they can see the colored pictures shown by Dick Drullinger, Soil Conservation District planner, for the purpose of knowing what to look for when they are in the air," according to Wheeler.

Reservations can be phoned in to the Oakland County Agricultural Agent's Office, Pontiac, Federal 4-2564, and flight times will be sent to the farmers. The farmers will then be informed of their flight time upon making this call.

Christ Jesus' mission to real divine healing which overcomes sin, sickness, and sorrow in every age, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" will include the account as given in Matthew of Jesus' response to the followers of John the Baptist who asked if he was the Messiah (11:4,5): "... Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see: The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them."

The following correlative passage will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (131:26-30):

"The mission of Jesus confirmed prophecy, and explained the so-called miracles of olden time as natural demonstrations of the divine power, demonstrations which were not understood. Jesus' works established his claim to the Messiahship."

The Golden Text is from John (1:17): "The law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ."

BROILER CARE IS IMPORTANT BEFORE, AFTER

Home economists at M. S. C. offer homemakers these suggestions for cleaning and caring for broilers:

Grease the rack of the broiler with salad oil or shortening before using it and it will be easier to clean.

After broiling, pour off all the drippings as soon as you have removed the food. Use paper towels to wipe off both the pan and the rack.

Then fill the pan immediately with very hot water, and add a soap powder or detergent. Let the pan and rack stand until you are ready to wash them. With fresh, hot suds, you'll find them easy to clean.

If you don't care to save the drippings, add enough trisodium phosphate to form a soap curd. Then it can be flushed down the drain.

If food sticks, you can use steel wool pads containing soap if your broiler is aluminum or stainless steel. Enamel broilers, however, require more gentle treatment.

The home economists suggest that you may want to remove the broiler when using your oven. This will prevent any possibility of cracking the enamel or warping of the metal pan.

ANOTHER BUSY YEAR FOR THE STORK

It looks like another busy year for the stork. The birth registration reached an all-time high of 181,518 births in Michigan last year Michigan Department of Health provisional figures indicate, but 1954 is well on the way towards passing even this record.

For the first 6 months of 1954, the State Health Department continues, 89,915 births have been registered, an increase of 6,012 over 1953.

This increase in births is running way ahead of 1953 figures compared with '52. The total yearly increase in 1953 over the previous year was only about 4,900.

The State Health Department says that the birth increase is part of a trend that started before World War II. And since 1940, when there were 99,106 live births registered, the number of births has nearly doubled, they add.

However, during that time the sex ratio has stayed approximately the same. Of the 1953 live births registered, 51.4 per cent were males and 48.6 per cent females.

Card Of Thanks

My sincere thanks are extended to the Clarkston Firefighters and to all of my friends for the lovely cards and thoughtful gifts while I was in the hospital and since coming home.
