Rotary Hears Special Speaker

Ted Larson, a former director of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, addressed the Clarkston Rotary Club on Monday at its weekly meeting in the Community Center. He was introduced by Fred Beckman.

Mr. Larson explained how the milk supply for metropolitan Detroit was taken care of by this large co-operative association consisting of over 12,000 dairy farmers who not only furnished the milk but maintained their own sales department to distribute the same.

It was instructive to learn how, when the supply was large and the demand small, the milk was put to use, such as butter to be stored, powdered milk, etc. A very interesting point was how to dispose of the milk when there was a drivers' strike, and the milk was shipped into other nearby states so that the milk would not be lost or spoiled with a resulting loss to the farmers.

The members supplied their own dinner.

The Glidden Tour Of 1954-55

Two hundred twenty antique cars. Some monster and some tiny. Their drivers dressed like men from Mars. And kept their brass works shiny.

Five hundred fifty pioneers. Of days in which we're living. With coats of fur and muffled ears. Their all for Glidden giving.

This group assembled at a place. Previously appointed. The elements of God to face; And thus, by rains, anointed.

At break of day their whistles blew. And motors wheezed and roared. These antiques thrilled at work to do, From Orient to Ford.

Few shields there were to break the wind; And tops were scarce and airy. It took some nerve to just begin, A jaunt so wild and scary.

These veteran cars of fifty years Took off mid claps of thunder. And raindrops mixed with wind-swept tears; On chugged our little wonder.

Five hundred miles o'er hill and dale With motion wild and jerky. Head on into an autumn gale; Our car was taxed, but perky.

We saw New England just the same As grandpaw did, I'm thinkin'. We joggled down these roads of fame, A-shiverin' and blinkin'.

At night, we found New England's arms Awaiting our arrival. We marveled at her friendly charms; Thanked God for our survival.

For one whole week, we sweat and froze, Enjoying every minute. We dressed each day in antique clothes, And loved each person in it.

We gained respect for antique cars, New England's land and places, The ladies and the men from Mars, With smiles on all their faces.

Localite Is Feature Writer

Although many of the patients at the Oakland County TB Sanatorium are confined to bed they try to keep their hands and their minds busy. It is surprising the hobbies that are started, the studying that is done and the writing that many do in order that the days, months, and sometimes years in the sanatorium will not be lost.

Yes, the institution even has their own paper published monthly by and for the patients. Mrs. Frank (Agnes) Jewell of Clarkston is one of the feature writers and many in this area will be interested in one of her articles:

PEACE DESCENDING

These are the first fine days of autumn; beautifully crisp days of bright sun and clear blue skies. From my window, I look out upon a wide expanse of velvety green lawn. A triangular shaped bed of flowers at the base of the silvery flagpole accentuates a panorama of beauty with a lush riot of color. The red, white and blue of Old Glory, symbol of a "taken-for-granted" heritage of material and spiritual freedom, waves proudly in the waning breeze.

There is in the air an ominous spell of calm and quietude, portents of an approaching storm. Instinctively we prepare for whatever nature has in store for us.

Symbolically one can compare the comings and the goings of the seasons to the changing elements of human nature. A shut-in's mind is a constant source of pain, pleasure or power in sleep as well as conscious hours. In the discovery of this duality of self, we finally acknowledge the existence of esoteric wisdom and intuitive powers.

It is up to the individual to develop his knowledge of self as he pleases, but to those who accept Divine Guidance will come the power to acquire mastery of life. There are none so blind as those who will not see. God alone can unveil and open the eyes of our understanding.

Having adopted this philosophy of living, I have encountered no difficulty in recovering from the abyssal depression in which I found myself upon entering the sanatorium.

Once more to me the immortal words of Robert Browning have a prophetic significance:
"Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be."

Girl Scout News

On October 18th we started our meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance and the singing of America. We would like some more 7th and 8th graders in our troop.

The treat was served by Janie Eisenlohr and Susan Johnson. We elected Janie Eisenlohr to collect our money when we forget our Book and our pin.

We planned our next four meetings. We decided it would be better to adjourn at 5 o'clock instead of at 4:45.

Tricks or Treats For All Children

The custom of collecting candy and cookies on Halloween is changing in many communities where boys and girls collect money for the world's children instead of treats for themselves. This project gives children and their families an opportunity to share in the work of the United Nations and at the same time help the needy children of the world. UNICEF (The United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund), is at work in 72 countries.

One dollar given to UNICEF will buy enough powdered milk to give fifteen children a glass of milk a day for a week. One dollar given to UNICEF will buy enough rice to give nine children a serving a day for a month. One dollar given to UNICEF will buy enough vaccine to vaccinate 24 children against tuberculosis. One dollar given to UNICEF will buy enough DDT to protect 20 people against malaria. One dollar given to UNICEF will buy enough raw cotton to make a dress for a little girl or a suit for a boy.

This year some of the trick or treat spoons in Clarkston will be wearing a UNICEF arm band and will ask for treats of pennies for underprivileged children in the world instead of candy for themselves. This project is sponsored, locally, by the Sunday School of the First Methodist Church.

UNICEF is financed by voluntary contributions of governments and individuals. Children and parents in 80 countries all over the world know the meaning of UNICEF.

To some, it means health-giving milk and opportunity to learn the meaning of proper nutrition through demonstration projects; to others it means immunization from tuberculosis and malaria, treatment for trachoma, an infectious eye disease, and yaws, a crippling tropical skin disease;

To still others, it means modern mother-child clinics and hospitals, mobile medical units, and training of mid-wives in areas that have no access to trained doctors or nurses, no protection against everyday ills;

And to those who have suffered the disasters of flood, drought and earthquakes, it means prompt provision of organized relief.

FACTS

Every Voter should know about the Oakland County Court House Referendum

Nov. 2

HERE ARE THE ANSWERS TO YOUR COUNTY BUILDING QUESTIONS

- (1)

Q. What is the date of the election on which we will be permitted to vote on a referendum which would authorize the levying of a voted increase of 1/2 Mill on the County's valuation to finance repayment of $4,500,000 of General Obligation Bonds for the construction of a new county building?

A. At the General Election which will be held on Tuesday, November 2, 1954.
- (2)

Q. Will it be necessary to re-submit the referendum on the question of issuance of $4,500,000 General Obligation Bonds to finance the project?

A. No this question was approved by the property owners at the August 3rd election and will not be on the November 2nd ballot.
- (3)

Q. Who will be permitted to vote on the 1/2 Mill referendum on November 2nd?

A. All registered voters, taxpayers and non-taxpayers residing in the County of Oakland.
- (4)

Q. In reference to the 1/2 Mill increase, what does this mean in dollars and cents as reflected on my tax bill?

A. The figure 1/2 Mill represents 50c on each $1,000 of the County's valuation. This would amount to approximately $1.50 per year on the average home.
- (5)

Q. If the construction of new homes, industries and other facilities continues at the present rate for the next few years and the County's valuation is thereby greatly increased would the levy of 1/2 Mill be discontinued when the $4,500,000 bond issue and interest are fully paid even though the referendum permits a 20 year spread?

A. Yes. In fact it is expected the levy of 1/2 Mill will retire the entire obligation within the next 10 or 12 years if the County's valuation increases at the same rate as in the past few years.
- (6)

Q. What does the Board of Supervisors propose to do with the present Court House and other properties located in the downtown district of Pontiac if the 1/2 Mill question is approved on November 2nd for financing a new county building?

A. These properties would be offered for sale. Funds derived from such sales would be used to assist in financing the new building.
- (7)

Q. Is there any cloud on the title of the present Court House property which would prevent the county from giving marketable title in the event of a sale?

A. No. The Michigan Supreme Court rendered a decision reported in Volume No. 243 of Michigan Reports, pages 279 to 300 to the effect that the revisionary rights once held by Stephen Mack, Trustee for the Pontiac Company, were extinguished. Harry J. Merritt, County Corporation Counsel, has given an opinion that the County has marketable title and can successfully defend any attack thereon.
- (8)

Q. Suppose the 1/2 Mill referendum is defeated on November 2nd. Would all avenues of financing the new County Building be closed?

A. No. Either of the following two possible procedures could be used:

  1. Another election date could be set by the Board of Supervisors and the 1/2 Mill question re-submitted.
  2. The Board of Supervisors could consider the creation of a Building Authority as provided by Act 31 of Michigan Public Acts of 1948 and finance the construction by the sale of revenue bonds.
- (9)

Q. If the Board of Supervisors is empowered to create a Building Authority and finance the project by the sale of revenue bonds, why submit the 1/2 Mill question to the voters on November 2nd?

A. According to figures submitted by Mathew Carey, Municipal Finance Consultant, an estimated savings ranging from $1,415,434 to $1,850,579 could be realized by financing the project by General Obligation Bonds. A favorable vote on the 1/2 Mill question would permit financing by General Obligation Bonds bearing an estimated interest rate of 2.19% and callable at any time when funds were available. Estimated retirement period from 10 to 12 years. Revenue Bonds would bear an estimated interest rate of 2.89% and the bond issue would require an approximate retirement period of 30 years and so issued that the Authority cannot possibly retire them in less than 25 years.
- (10)

Q. If the 1/2 Mill question is approved on November 2nd, when will the voted increase be reflected on my tax bill?

A. The first Levy would be spread on the December Tax Roll of year 1955.

DEBUNKING THE WEATHER PROPHETS

Weather prophet season is here again.

Nature mystics are measuring the woolly caterpillar, listening to cricket music, sighting the eight of hornet nests, and fingering animal fur—all to determine how severe the coming winter will be.

Among the many puzzles of nature that have long interested Walter P. Nickell, naturalist of Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills, one of the most mysterious to him is the human mind that considers itself inferior to a woolly caterpillar.

The woolly caterpillar is mostly black, with a brownish stripe circling its center. According to the prophets, this creature anticipates weather conditions several months in advance and narrows the stripe to denote a severe season ahead. It seldom predicts mild winters.

Hornets are supposed to build nests extra high to avoid deep snows. Since queen hornets select nest sites early in the spring, their forecasting is necessarily long-range. Actually, Mr. Nickell points out, hornet nests in any given area or season vary from six inches off the ground to sixty feet in a treetop, even in the snowless south.

Crickets, or other music-making insects, are supposed to indicate an extreme winter ahead by ceasing their noise early in the fall. These insects actually vary their song according to immediate temperature and light conditions. During cool nights they may not perform at all, but quickly resume as warmth returns, until they are finally killed by the first frosts.

Some prophets watch the ground-hog go to bed, just as they herald his emergence in the early spring. The theory is that if a hibernating animal retires early, he's getting ready for hard months ahead. Mr. Nickell observes, however, that hibernators often hit the hay early after a summer of good feeding. And many of them wake up and go to sleep again several times during late Autumn.

Unusual thickness of animal fur in early fall is favorite sign of coming blizzard weather. Fur research has shown, however, that weather has much less to do with thick, healthy hair than the animal's recent diet. After a drought-seared summer when feeding is poor, many animals must go through winter with scraggly coats, no matter how low the temperature.

The popularity of superstitious predictions is, according to Mr. Nickell, based on two factors: 1. misunderstanding of the nature of animal instincts, and 2. non-scientific records of the outcome of animal-prophet forecasts.

An animal's reactions may result from his own experience as an individual, or from the behavior patterns he has inherited from his ancestors. In other words, instincts are formed by past happenings. There is no scientific evidence that instinctive behavior is influenced by an event that has not yet taken place, such as a severe winter ahead.

For example, a squirrel hoards nuts because his ancestors have survived through countless generations by hoarding nuts, not because he has any advance information on the coming winter.

Bird instincts are among the most sensitive in nature. Mr. Nickell notes, yet there are frequent reports that large flocks migrating into snow storms that kill them outright or starve them by covering food.

Although he does not keep records of animal forecasts, he remembers that last year's mild winter was supposed to be particularly severe according to the woolly caterpillar. And he thinks the worm has gone out on the wrong limb again this year "by forecasting another freezer."

While refusing to make predictions, Mr. Nickell expects a generally mild winter in Michigan because the state's vast water areas tend to store warmth from the summer sun, and there were about twice as many hot, sunny days this summer than usual. But, he hastens to add, this circumstance does not prevent Arctic air masses from moving in. And that's why he's less confident than the woolly caterpillar.

Smitty's Not-So-Silent Partner

Dropped into Smitty's gas station last week and met his new partner who turned out to be a real talker.

"What'll it be?" asked Smitty. Before I had a chance to answer I heard a strange voice "Fill her up! Fill her up!" And there was Smitty's partner—one of those parakeets perched next to the gas pump. "Look me in' month," Smitty said, "but I finally taught him to say those magic words. It's sure paid off—He's had a good influence on my customers."

From where I sit, Smitty's bird may be good for business—and may get him a few laughs. But when people act like parakeets, they're not so funny. For instance, those who keep insisting over and over again that their neighbors shouldn't have a glass of temperate beer with their supper now and then. They're simply repeating their own ideas, without any regard for the rights of others.

NEW EDISON PLANT IN OPERATION TODAY

Detroit Edison's new St. Clair Power Plant will be dedicated and put in full operation today. The plant is the fifth and largest in the company's electrical system, which serves 3,700,000 people in southeastern Michigan—more than half the population of the state. John Edison Sloane, grandson of Thomas Alva Edison will unveil a dedicatory plaque at the site of the new generating station, located on the St. Clair River halfway between St. Clair and Marine City.

The dedication ceremony will be attended by about 400, including civic and local government groups, the press, electric industry representatives from here and abroad and Detroit Edison officials.

This new St. Clair plant is one of the most modern and efficient steam-electric generating stations in the world. With its capability of 625,000 kilowatts (more than 800,000 horsepower) this one plant could serve a city of a million people—San Francisco, for example.

The ceremony is taking place exactly 75 years from the day the famous Thomas Alva Edison demonstrated the first practical incandescent lamp.

A special feature of the dedication program will be the starting up of the final one of the plant's four 200,000-horsepower steam turbine-generators. The big machine will be set in operation by Colonel H. S. Bennion of New York, managing director of the Edison Electric Institute.

Today's ceremony is the first of a four-day schedule of events arranged in connection with the St. Clair dedication.

Tomorrow, Friday, October 22, seniors of the Thumb Area high schools and members of local service clubs will visit the plant. On Saturday, an open house will be held for Edison families and their friends, and for stockholders of the company.

A final event, closely connected but not exclusively a part of the St. Clair dedication program, is a nation-wide two-hour television show on all four TV networks. This show, scheduled for Sunday night, October 24, from 9 to 11 o'clock, is sponsored by the nation's electric industry in celebration of Light's Diamond Jubilee.

COUNTY HOMEMAKERS TO MAKE HOUSEWORK SIMPLER

Free classes in work-simplification techniques, to teach Oakland County homemakers to do their daily housework simpler and easier with less strain on their hearts, will be offered in Clarkston starting November 3. The series will be sponsored by the Michigan Heart Association in cooperation with the Oakland County Extension Service according to Donald Smith, M. D., Pontiac, member of the Board of Trustees.

The announcement is of special importance to all women who are incapacitated or disabled by heart disease.

"Most people can enjoy the luxury of extra time and energy that results from finding better and easier ways of doing things," Dr. Smith stated, "but for the homemaker with heart disease, the saving of time and energy is an absolute necessity."

The work-simplification classes, which are free community services of the Michigan Heart Association, are designed to fill the doctor's prescription of "take it easy" by showing the homemaker how to save as much as 75% of her walking, 75% of her movements and 60% of her reaching. This tremendous saving of time and energy means lessening the strain placed on the heart by reducing the physical effort expended by the homemaker.

Mrs. Ruth C. Kettunen of the Michigan State College Home Management Staff conducts the classes. She emphasized that the classes are designed to benefit any economic level and that it is not necessary to remodel a home in order to conserve the homemakers time and energy.

Any homemaker can learn to "take it easy" while doing her various household tasks," Mrs. Kettunen said, "by merely following the work-simplification techniques, principles, and ideas taught in the Cardiac Homemaker Classes."

The course is available to every woman in the county, although heart patients will be given first listing. Homemakers in this area may register for the free classes by writing Mrs. Frieda Bennett, Home Demonstration Agent, 1260 West Boulevard, Pontiac, or by calling FE 4-2564.

Each homemaker attends four (2-hour) lecture-demonstration classes which will be held November 3, 5, 10 and 12. The classes will be held in the Clarkston Methodist Church. The meetings will begin promptly at 9:30 A. M., to 11:30 A. M.

Cardiac homemakers are urged to obtain their application blanks this week from the Extension Office in order that they may attend the first class on Nov. 3. There is a brief section of the application blank, for housewives with heart disease, which must be completed by the attending Doctor of Medicine, indicating the physical restrictions recommended for the patient. This information is for the guidance of the work-simplification consultant only. No medical advice, diagnosis, treatment or examination is given in the Cardiac Homemaker Classes.

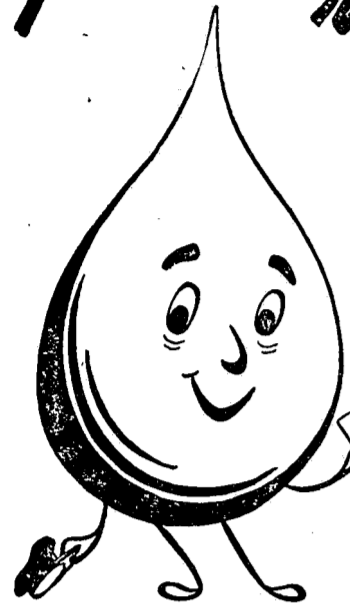

All application blanks must be returned to the Extension Office no later than October 27 in order for the homemaker to be enrolled in the first class.

"You're the coach—
Put in the whole team!"

Spirit, know-how and teamwork are what it takes to make a winning team; a team that knows its job, that carries the ball—and scores!

That's the kind of team you can field in Lansing and in Washington on November 2.

Top to bottom, you'll agree here's a lineup that will give Michigan the type of government to make you proud.

But—remember—you need the whole team. You need Donald S. Leonard as Governor to coordinate the effort, to provide the inspired leadership. You need the powerful voice of Senator Homer Ferguson in Washington to continue the fullest cooperation with President Eisenhower's Administration. And you need the full roster of capable, experienced, energetic Republican state officers working together to get things done for a greater Michigan.

Don Leonard has pledged his administration to action—on highway improvements—better school facilities—augmented retirement funds for teachers—broader agricultural representation at policy-making levels—a preventive mental health program—a strong youth guidance program—additional industry for Michigan to increase employment—care for the aged in their own communities—removal of politics from prison administration—sound, non-political conservation policies and increased promotion of Michigan's famed tourist attractions.

These are a few of the team's objectives. They cannot be had without teamwork. The team cannot function without leadership. For too long your needs have been thwarted by bickering and confusion in the Governor's office.

Now is the time for action! Give the team your "go ahead" on November 2—Vote Straight Republican . . . for progress . . . for a greater Michigan!

CLARKSTON vs CLARENCEVILLE

The rugged football game between Clarkston and Clarenceville got under way October 15, at 3:30 in the afternoon with Clarkston's Vern Carmean kicking to Clarenceville. After the Clarenceville team progressed down the field for about twenty yards they lost possession of the ball and the Clarkston Wolves took over. After driving their way down the field, with the help of George Lang's twenty yard run, Clarkston was forced to give the ball back to Clarenceville. After having control of the ball for a short time, Clarenceville was forced to kick it. It fell into the hands of Vern Carmean, on the run, who fumbled it through the air back into the hands of a Clarenceville player. Starting the second quarter, Clarkston drove Clarenceville back, forcing them to kick. But to the surprise of the Wolves they faked a kick and attempted to run the ball. The Wolves tripped up the play, getting the ball in their hands. Throughout the second quarter the ball changed hands many times because of the numerous fumbles made. The half ended with the ball in Clarenceville's possession. Clarenceville started off the second half by kicking to Clarkston. After trudging down the wet field, the Clarkston Wolves put George Lang over the goal line for the first touchdown of the game with Roger Johnson kicking the extra point to put Clarkston ahead 7-0. After Clarkston kicked, the let down, but still vigorous Clarenceville team, fumbled the ball into the hands of the Wolves' Lanny Leak. The Wolves again put George Lang into the end zone for his second touchdown. On the extra point try the ball failed to go between the goal posts. The ball changed hands once more before the third quarter ended. Shortly in the fourth quarter Clarkston was penalized fifteen yards, forcing them to kick the ball. After Clarenceville got possession of the pig skin, they forced their way down the field to go over the Wolves goal line for their first six points. The extra point was attempted by a run, but the attempt failed, putting the score at 13 to 6. Minutes after Clarenceville kicked to Clarkston, the Wolves attempted a pass, which was intercepted. The determined Clarenceville players went for their second touchdown. The extra point was again tried by a run but was not made. With two minutes left in the game, Clarenceville kicked to Clarkston. The Wolves were then forced to give the ball to Clarenceville. After a few plays the game ended at 13 to 12, with Clarkston winning their closest fought game of the season.

The Basic Idea
Behind the All-New 1955 PONTIAC

On Display October 29 and 30

ABOUT 30 years ago General Motors Corporation presented to America a new car called Pontiac. This new car was the direct result of a very specific idea.

The idea was this: to create a car which took its style, its engineering principles and its features from the very best and most expensive in America—and to build these into a car priced just above the very lowest!

Naturally, such an idea produced a wonderful and highly popular car—a car which millions of satisfied owners have driven with outstanding pride and pleasure.

Now, nearly three decades later, an entirely new Pontiac has been created for 1955—a car completely new from the ground up!

One thing, however, about the 1955 Pontiac remains unchanged—its basic idea—to offer the American public the very finest car that can possibly be built to sell at a price within easy reach of any new-car buyer.

When you see the new Pontiac on Friday or Saturday—Oct. 29 or 30—you will be immediately impressed by its remarkable new styling. No other car in the world looks like this new Pontiac!

When you drive it you will be astonished at its performance. For the 1955 Pontiac introduces the powerful new Strato-Streak V-8, an all-new engine that has already been proved in more than 3 million test miles!

When you price the new Pontiac you will come face to face with the basic Pontiac idea—you will be agreeably surprised that so much car, so much sparkling newness, so much luxury, so much downright goodness can be priced so near the very lowest.

We cordially invite you to come in on Friday or Saturday and see for yourself what a superb all-new General Motors masterpiece has been created to carry the wonderful name "Pontiac" for 1955.

FARM LAND VALUE UP IN STATE

The dollar value of farm land in Michigan took a slight upswing this past spring and summer. But the value in July of this year was still 3 per cent below that of July 1953.

That is shown in the current issue of the U. S. Department of Agriculture publication, "The Farm Real Estate Market". The publication notes:

"Asking prices (for land) have continued firm to slightly higher in southern Michigan because of the continuing demand for farms by young men who want to start farming and by factory workers. "With urban employment opportunities more limited, farming has again become an alternative for both young men on farms who previously found ready employment in industry, and for unemployed factory workers."

The publication says that many ed substantial savings in recent factory workers have accumulated and they are "effective bidders" for farms.

GOODWILL INDUSTRIES OF DETROIT

Goodwill Industries is a non-profit, self-supporting agency that operates for the training and employment of handicapped men and women. Many are being trained for jobs in private industry.

Goodwill industries trucks collect discarded household articles such as clothing, furniture, small appliances, shoes, hats, etc., and bring them to the Goodwill shops where they are renovated and repaired by handicapped workers.

The items are then placed on sale in one of the four Goodwill stores which are located at 356 E. Congress, 6522 Brush, 4729 W. Warren and 2250 Davison. Money from the sale of these articles goes into wages for the handicapped.

In recent years Goodwill Industries has added an industrial contract department where employment is given to additional handicapped persons through light manufacturing jobs performed for private industry.

FLYING SAUCERS ARE REAL!

They're space ships from another solar system, manned by super-intelligent beings!

This is the startling conclusion of Prof. Hermann Oberth, famous German authority on guided missiles and the conquest of space. Be sure to read his amazing revelations in The American Weekly, with SUNDAY'S CHICAGO AMERICAN.

Eggs will stay fresh longer if you will keep them in a cool place. A fresh egg has a thick white and an upstanding yolk that is well centered. When eggs become stale the yolk flattens and the white is thin and watery.
