The Waterford Community Library Book Review Group will hold its Christmas meeting Monday, Dec. 20th, at the home of Mrs. George Dean, 4439 Windgate Dr., at one o'clock. Mrs. Francis Jennings will be co-hostess. A review of a three-act play "Family Portrait" by Lenore Coffee and William J. Cornen will be given by Mrs. Leland Bunyan. There will also be Christmas music by flute player Nancy Oliver from the High School. All interested women are invited to attend the meeting.

The Cheery Chum Christmas Party will be held this Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Giddings beginning with a pot-luck supper at 6:30. During the early part of the evening baskets will be packed and then delivered to shut-ins in the village. Those attending are asked to bring an article of food for these baskets, along with their own table service, a passing dish and a Cheery Chum gift.

The ladies of the Good Will Club met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Henry Mehlerberg with ten members and three guests for the 12:30 luncheon. Each one brought gifts to be sent to the teenagers at the Oakland County Children's Home and the ladies also had an exchange of gifts among themselves. Mrs. Percy King will entertain the group in January.

Carole Ann Beedle, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Beedle, was baptized Sunday at Christ Lutheran Church. Her sponsors were Jack McCaffrey and Mrs. Joseph Helman.

Seventeen members and guests of the Waterford Moms met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Louis Doman. A planned pot-luck luncheon at 12:30 was followed by a short business meeting and Christmas party with an exchange of gifts. Plans were completed for taking their Christmas gifts to the TB Hospital and they were to be packed on the 14th and delivered on the 15th. Mrs. Robert VanMarter, Mrs. Fred Toles and Mrs. Dorman were on the committee with Mrs. Lawrence Giddings as chairman of the hospital committee, took the gifts to the hospital. The January 12th meeting will be at the Giddings home.

The Choir Christmas Service at the Waterford Community Church was held last Sunday evening. Robert Granger, choir musical director, accompanied by Mrs. Granger at the piano, and director Charles Jehle with Mrs. Helen Coventry at the organ, had charge of the music during the evening. Carl Milward, with a tape recorder, recorded the entire program and this will be sent to Patricia Maxwell in Japan. An informal program finished up the record with Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell and about twenty friends of Pat sending her a message.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fair (Corrine Suites) are the parents of an 8 lb 4 oz son born Sunday, Dec. 12th, at Pontiac General Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. James Stites of Waterford and Mrs. Joseph Fair of Sturgis are the grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mitchell left last Wednesday for Florida where they will spend the winter. Enroute they stopped at Stratford, N. J. to spend a week with the Emerson Mitchells and will leave from there for Lakeland.

Mrs. Emma Olson and her son, Allan, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Allan, are leaving Saturday morning for a month in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert VanMarter are leaving Sunday night for Anaheim, California, where they will spend the holidays with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. Wilkins and two daughters.

Plans were made for several projects at the meeting Wednesday evening of Iraq Caldron No. 70 Daughters of Mokanna, at their hall. Committees were named for a rummage sale which was held on December 11th. Mrs. Russell Cutler announced plans for several dinners and luncheons to be served this month. After the meeting a Christmas party was held and gifts were exchanged. A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Glenn Jolly, Mrs. William Anderson and Mrs. Wayne Scott.

School News

TO ALL PARENTS

Many parents of the Clarkston area are worried about the juvenile delinquency problem. Parents are not the only ones who are worried. The students at Clarkston High School are also worried. Some of the opinions of the students are stated below.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Tom Whalen

Juvenile delinquency is perhaps far more dangerous to our nation than all the foreign atom bombs combined. Such a high rate of delinquency among teenagers is an indication that there is something wrong somewhere. Our country is the richest in the world and yet there are many young men and women of the teenage group who think they must steal, mug, assault and terrorize communities. There must be a reason for this problem. Since there must be a reason, there must be a solution. This writer does not profess to know all the facts on juvenile delinquency or if the suggested measures contained in this report are sure-fire ways to stamp out the menace. However, I will proceed to give my views and suggested measures.

report to crime, either to show someone they are as good as he or to get a few luxuries. If a kid is too rich he may get bored too easily and go on a spree "just for kicks".

Possible deterrents for juvenile delinquency might be the oft mentioned recreation centers that we never seem to get. School activities also might be of assistance. These solutions have been mentioned many times. Perhaps they are good. However, no matter how many school activities occur the rate of juvenile delinquency goes up. Naturally I have a few suggestions to offer or I would not be writing this paper.

My first suggestion would be to have closer relations among the family. Perhaps if the family would all stay home one night a week, turn off the television set and plan something together it would help. It wouldn't have to be anything elaborate, just popping pop-corn and playing Monopoly or Rook. This would keep the younger set off the streets and help the family discover that they can have as much fun together as they can have separately. Another thing concerning the family tieup might be for the parents to take an interest in the affairs of their teenage son or daughter. Not like telling them what is best but rather discussing it with them as friends and working with them for a satisfactory solution or another thing might be for the teenager to get a part-time job. Even a paper route or helping in a grocery store for the boys and baby sitting for the girls. This gives a guy the feeling that he is helping out by earning his own spending money. It also gives him something to do when otherwise he might start looking for something to do and run into a gang. Then he goes along thinking he is just going to see what they are going to do. He ends up joining them and feeling guilty if he is not caught and darned sorry if he is. Something else that might help is a counselor guidance program in school.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Guess It's Called a Safety "Drive"

Whitey Fisher, from the State Motor Vehicle Department, dropped by to discuss some of our local traffic problems.

"Up at Center Junction," Whitey says, "they've got a new sign that really slows down the traffic going through town."

"The sign says, 'At 25 miles an hour, you can drive through Center Junction in 2½ minutes!' It slows people down too—some just take it easy to check on that 2½ minutes, I guess. Hasn't even been a dented fender since that sign went up."

From where I sit, it wasn't what the sign said, but the way it was said. People are usually pretty understanding if they understand what you mean. It's the same way with differences of opinion. Perhaps your neighbor prefers a temperate glass of beer, and you would choose buttermilk. What I'd like to see is for all of us to "slow down," talk it out, and be respectful of our neighbor's rights.

SANTA SHOULD BRING TOT'S CREATIVE TOYS

Children's Christmas gifts should reflect their parent's love not just their pocketbooks. Dr. Elmer Knowles of the home management and child development department at MSC, says a common attitude for many parents is "We have given our children everything—toys, money, entertainment—why, what else is there to give?"

Unless their parents have given freely of themselves, Dr. Knowles says, the child is lacking what he needs most of all—unconditional love.

Dorothy W. Baruch, authority in parent education, believes children need and want four emotional foods: 1. unconditional love, that is acceptance of the child as he is; 2. a sense of belonging in the family group; 3. a feeling of being able to stand on his own feet as an achieving person, and 4. a need for recognition.

Toys and play are a serious business for a child. Dr. Knowles thinks parents should allow their children to explore as far as he can safely do so, but they should learn that some things are forbidden. Store bought toys should be preceded and supplemented by contact with ordinary objects and experiences.

A good rule to guide you when buying a Christmas toy is this: Can Johnny invent lots of things to do with it? Is it suitable for his age? Is the toy sturdy enough so he can be as rough as he chooses with it?

According to Dr. Benjamin Spock, famous child specialist, children love simple toys best, not because children are simple, but because they have so much imagination.

Appreciation

My sincere thanks are extended to our friends for their many kindnesses to me and to my family during my stay in the hospital and since coming home. The gifts, flowers, cards and calls certainly helped to keep my spirits high.

Want a novel Christmas decoration for your front door? Here's an idea from Michigan State home economists. Tie a little toy drum and drumsticks together with a big saucy bow and sprigs of greenery. Hang it on the door and loosely tuck the stick into the greens so your friends can "beat" their arrival. Add that Christmas look to the inside doors by hanging streamers of green and red felt. On these glue your favorite cards. Tie a few pine cones to the top and some bright balls below.
