CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, JANUARY 6, 1955

NUMBER 19

NEW SCHOOL ADDITIONS NEARING COMPLETION

The Clarkston high school addition, the last of four additions constructed this past year, is nearing completion. The cafeteria and principal's office were put in operation January 4, and the remainder should be completed within 30 days. The total project consisted of 4 rooms, Andersonville, 4 at S. ... 7 at Clarkston, and the high school addition consists of a shop, boiler room, band room, cafeteria, study hall, home economics (2 rooms), 7 class rooms, and principal's office.

The high school is a rectangular structure with an open court in the center to provide maximum natural light into the corridors and class rooms.

The construction is of brick faced cinder block, flat steel roof deck with tar and gravel built up roof. Penetration is of factory type clear glass sash supplemented by plastic roof bubbles. The floors are concrete covered with asphalt tile. Artificial lighting is of an incandescent ring type fixture with the exception of the offices and cafeteria which are lighted by fluorescent globes.

The total high school is now heated from the new boiler room by gas fired boilers. The new wing utilizes unit ventilators for radiation while the original building still utilizes steam radiators.

The cost of these buildings is slightly less than $17,000 per room, which is considerably less than most school buildings today. Some schools are costing as high as $40,000 per class room.

An open house will be held at a later date when all of the equipment has been installed. In the meantime all people that are interested are cordially invited to visit at their convenience.

Resolved

Resolved, that I'm but one in God's great plan of life; That in the plan I'll bear my portion of world strife; That I will face the rigors common to us all; And as I meet the challenge will I rise or fall.

Resolved, the tools of life are lying at my feet; The days in which to use the tools are short and fleet; Of material things I feel I'll have my share; But I must cut and shape the pieces with great care.

Resolved, I must respect each man for what he does; That I must turn aside my thoughts of what he was; That I must help each soul in every way I can; To fill the place that God has fashioned in his plan.

Resolved, as one, that other souls will never know What motivates the force within that makes me go; That though intentions I may have shall all be good, I must expect my deeds will be misunderstood.

Resolved, that I'll be tolerant of all man's ways, Respecting him in work and fun, and when he prays; That he and I are only cogs in life's machine, And if he falls apart, he'll shatter all my dreams.

Resolved, that if I fail, I shall not fail alone; That man's responsibilities are not to just his own; That symphonies are made when all is smooth accord; And man will live in peace when conscious of the Lord.

March of Dimes Started Monday

Freeing patients from iron lungs and releasing them from total reliance on braces and crutches are objectives of the 1955 March of Dimes scheduled to open this week. Carl W. Donelson, chairman of the Oakland County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis declared today.

Even if the Salk vaccine eventually banishes the fear of polio, we must make sure there are no forgotten victims among those stricken before there was any polio vaccine to protect them, he added.

Emphasizing the keynote of this year's campaign "It's a Bigger Job Now!" Mr. Donelson announced campaign leaders for various communities as follows:

Milford - Mrs. Norwood Caswell; Ortonville - Mrs. LaVerne Borst; Clarkston - Mrs. Everett Dennis Holly-Davisburg - Jerry Shearer and the Junior Chamber of Commerce; White Lake - Mr. Marion Cooper and Mrs. Arthur See, cochairmen with Miss Dorothy Pell leading Mothers' March. Mr. William H. VanderVen is campaign secretary and Ralph Bergsman is treasurer.

In Oakland County this past year, contributions have paid patient care bills amounting to over $100,000 for 274 polio victims of 1954 and previous years. March of Dimes donations paid many hospital and doctor bills, provided necessary iron lungs, hot pack machines, wheel chairs, braces and crutches.

A total of 17,138 Oakland County children participated in the field tests of the Salk Polio vaccine. Results still are being evaluated with early reports most encouraging. If tests prove the trial vaccine can protect a single child from paralysis it is planned to make 9,000,000 vaccinations available this year. To do this will cost a lot of money, however these services will be bought with the dimes and dollars given to the March of Dimes from Jan. 3 - 31.

Last year March of Dimes contributions in Oakland County totalled $135,667.31. A breakdown of this figure follows: Milford, $2,055.53; Holly, $1,101.80; Clarkston, $348.50; White Lake Township, $1,487.50.

Royal Neighbors Meet Wednesday

The Clarkston Royal Neighbors will meet on Wednesday, Jan. 12, at the home of Mrs. Arthur Purdy, 4489 Louella St., Drayton Plains. A pot-luck luncheon will be served at 12:30 and in the afternoon the regular business meeting and installation of officers will be held.

Mrs. Pearl Kline of Pontiac will be the installing officer. All members are urged to attend.

Clarkston Locals

Everyone will be happy to know that Merle Bennett is able to be about the house again after suffering a fall and being confined to his bed for several days.

Mr. W. H. Truba of S. Holcomb Street, who slipped on the ice the Thursday before Christmas and suffered a broken hip, is convalescing in the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit.

Pvt. J. Walter Jones spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Jones. He finally got a plane after a two-day wait and then was stranded with many more servicemen in Chicago. His address is: Pvt. John W. Jones, US 55501431, Battery B-61, AAA-AW Bn., Res. Comd., 6th Armored Div., Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri.

Seymour Lake News

Mrs. Claude Woods of 5030 Grange Road was taken to the Goodrich Hospital on Sunday morning with a fractured hip, caused by stepping on a piece of ice.

During the past week, especially on Monday, drivers of motor vehicles found side roads rather hazardous. The Oxford school bus did some sliding on Tam Lake Road on Monday morning and the only one reported hurt was Joice Woods, 8 years old.

Ground Observers Reactivated

For some time there has been a feeling that Clarkston should have a Ground Observer Group to watch for possible enemy planes which might try to enter this area. It seems that while the country is very well provided with radar screens that these do not pick up anything lower than five hundred feet from the ground leaving a portion of our lands wide open for attack.

Some time ago such a group existed and a small observer's hut was built on Holcomb Road. However, the federal group was unable to coordinate and the group was gradually disbanded. Now the government has decided that this is a necessary point for such a post and a group in charge of Ted Hennig is being formed.

The organization meeting will be held in room 7 of the Clarkston High School on Wednesday, January 12th, at 7:30 P. M.

This should be of vital interest to everyone in this vicinity. You are urged to attend this meeting to help plan this important work.

No One Hurt In School Bus Accident

School bus No. 15 driven by Mrs. Alice Cole tipped over on its left side Monday, January 3, 1955. Fortunately there was only fourteen passengers on the bus at the time and no one was injured.

The bus was headed north descending a grade on Pine Knob Road immediately south of the Clarkston-Orion Road. At the bottom of the grade is a narrow sharp curve and it was covered with a glare of ice. Although the bus was traveling at a very slow pace it still slid to the outside edge and as it was brought to a stop it rocked over to its side. There were no windows broken and the only damage to the vehicle was a dent in the top where the bus tipped against a tree.

W. S. C. S. Circles Meet Today

The Mary Circle of the Methodist W. S. C. S., will meet today at one o'clock at the home of Mrs. Robert Phillips, 55 Orion Road for a dessert luncheon. Each guest is asked to bring a sandwich.

The Dorcas Circle will meet for a cooperative luncheon at 12:30 on Thursday, Jan. 6, at the home of Mrs. Robert L. Jones, 57 Robertson Ct.

Clarkston Locals

Ivan Rouse, Jr., who is studying at the Chicago Conservatory of Music, spent the holiday vacation with his parents in Clarkston.

The friends of Glen Ellis of Dixie Highway will be glad to learn that he is getting along nicely following a car accident on the Dixie near his home on Monday. Mr. Ellis was taken to Pontiac General Hospital suffering a slight concussion and a sore neck. According to a report just before going to press if his condition continued to improve and nothing further developed he expected to return to his home on Wednesday. The rear of Mr. Ellis' car was badly damaged.

Goodwill Truck Here Monday

A stockpile of clothing from the recent Boy Scout Drive, combined with regular pickups of discards, should insure Goodwill's handicapped employees steady work over the winter months it was announced today by Mrs. Alfred Lee, local Goodwill representative.

The stockpile will be used as stand-by material to be used on days when pickups are slow because of weather.

The daily pickups are what keep Goodwill at full employment and furnish the discards that give jobs.

Furniture, toys and small appliances are particularly in need now, in addition to clothing.

Pickup trucks will be in Clarkston on January 10th. For a Goodwill pickup call Mrs. Alfred Lee, 26 Orion Road, at Maple 5-3381. She will be glad to arrange for a truck to stop at your home. Call today.

Merry Mixers Sponsor Class

The Merry Mixer Square Dance Club is sponsoring a second "Novelty" or "Couple Dance" class, due to the many requests from those who attended the class just completed and from others who did not know about this class until too late to register.

These classes will be held each Tuesday night from 8 to 10 o'clock in the "Merry Mixer" room at the C. A. I. building on Williams Lake road, and the series will run for six weeks, beginning January 11, with Mrs. Hal Brown, instructor.

The basic steps of the foxtrot, waltz, schottische, polka, gavotte, two-step etc. will be reviewed and dances being used in this territory will be taught, so that any couple, whether a beginner or more experienced dancer will feel at ease on the dance floor.

Registration may be made at the C. A. I. before 8 o'clock the night of the first class, January 11. For further information or registration, contact Mrs. George McManahan at Clarkston, phone Maple 5-5483.

Birthdays recognized in the Methodist Sunday School last Sunday morning were those of Fred Warrick, 11 and Betsy Osgood, 12.

By The Way . . .

We take our hat off to Ted Hennig for his public spirit in taking over the responsibility of heading the local Ground Observers Group. It is probably a thankless job and one that its importance will not be recognized unless an enemy plane does try to enter our country bent on damage—then will bring praise aplenty. We are confident that he will have no trouble in securing the necessary help in manning the post. It would be a worthwhile evening to attend the first organizational meeting and see just where you can help. . . . If it is true that as General Motors goes, so goes this community, then the financial note of the week should certainly be that General Motors is doing fine and sees nothing but success in the future. . . . Collecting old photographs of a locality is a very interesting hobby. One of the finest collections is the Burton collection in Detroit—now owned by the City of Detroit Public Library. The Burton Company issues abstracts so the hobby fitted in very nicely. On a par with this is the fact that an architect should start such a hobby, as Leo Heenan is now doing in the City of Pontiac.

It is to be hoped that he will leave his collection to the Pontiac Public Library where it can become a part of the public property. . . . Accidents have a manner of happening when least expected. Having enjoyed a cup of coffee a few days ago with Glen Ellis it was somewhat of a shock to hear that he has since been involved in an accident. Driving today is becoming more and more a defensive measure. . . . A faithful husband is never worried when reminded that he talked in his sleep the night before.

Many New Books In School Library

The amazing way in which the elementary school library is replenished each year is extremely satisfying to the parents as well as the children. At the present time approximately 70 new books are being added. These were made available by the P. T. A. last year. Several other donations have been made by the following pupils:

Three Boys and a Mine, author Nan Agle and Ellen Wilson, donated by John Paul Jones; Three Silly Kittens, author Margot Austin, donated by John Lynn; My Goldfish, author Miss Frances Horwich, donated by John Lynn; Happy Easter, author Kurt Wiese, donated by John Lynn; Strawberry Girl, author Lois Lenski, donated by Gaye Lynn; Twinkle, the Baby Colt, author Lawrence Barrett, donated by King Robinson; Christmas Bunny, author Will and Nicholas, donated by Thomas Payne; Good Luck Colt, author Genevieve T. Eames, donated by Tom Kreger; Chee and his Pony, author Florence Hayes, donated by Jim Kreger; The Horse called Pete, author Elisa Bialk, donated by Vicki Burley; Who Gave Us?, author Madeleine Gikier, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huttenlocher.

Pretty Patty Aids March Of Dimes

Lieut. Governor Phillip A. Hart officially opened the 1955 March of Dimes today by making the first contribution to pretty Patty Tingle, two-year-old polio patient at the University Hospital Respirator Center at Ann Arbor. Patty, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lelton Tingle of Monroe, Mich. was stricken with the crippling disease in September, 1954 and was confined to an iron lung for six weeks. Although making a remarkable recovery, her back, arms and legs have been weakened by Polio. Lieut. Gov. Hart is himself the father of a polio patient. His seven-year-old daughter Ann has been confined to a hospital since stricken last summer. The Respiration Center at University Hospital is one of the several throughout the country supported by contributions to the March of Dimes.

Rotary Sees "Old" Pontiac

Leo J. Heenan, an architect of Pontiac, planning the latest in buildings has a hobby of collecting pictures of the Pontiac of olden days. On Monday evening he entertained at the Rotary Club meeting by displaying these pictures. He mentioned many of the newer buildings that had replaced the older ones, many of them private residences. History is generally interesting and to see what the nearby metropolis looked like at the turn of the century was worth while.

A fine dinner was served by the Martha Circle of the Methodist W. S. C. S.

Everyone will be pleased to know that Mrs. Ward Robbins is recovering nicely at her home on Holcomb Street after undergoing surgery recently.

"Pay the Costs Of Good Family Life"

You have to "pay the costs of good family life" claims Dr. Elmer Knowles of the home management and child development department at Michigan State College. Dr. Knowles teaches classes in family life at the college and shares the following information with us. He agrees with the ideas in a Public Affairs pamphlet called "Saving Your Marriage"—and presents some here.

He brings to our attention that some people regard marriage as a kind of prolonged house party where you do nothing but have a good time at someone else's expense—or as a kind of inheritance which does not need to be earned. Actually he says, marriages are more like the frontiersmen who built their own cabins; they got only what they built themselves.

Marriage means restrictions. The husband must hustle to make ends meet. While the children are small, the wife is usually tied down rather completely. Both partners are responsible for a number of unglamorous tasks. Here is a description of some of the unromantic costs of an ordinary marriage.

... Mary Jane's house-dress looks a little frayed and faded. She scrapes dispiritedly at the breakfast plates, slightly repulsive with congealed egg yolk and slimy, cold bacon grease. For the fourteenth time she exhorts Junior to stop dawdling and eat his cereal. She is not, at the moment, enjoying her marriage very much. Why should she? Washing dishes day in and day out is not the same thing as canoeing in the moonlight with your heart's beloved. . . . She is thinking rather wryly of how entrancing, how full of promise, this battered dishpan looked when it first emerged from the pink tissue paper. . . . thoughts about her husband become quite uncharitable. "If only he had the least understanding of the kind of life I have. . . ."

Yet there is another side to the picture. At 3 the sight of Junior tugging a large packing box about the yard suddenly makes (continued on page 6)

TO OAKLAND COUNTY PIONEERS

W. K. VanSyckle, father of L. V. VanSyckle, present resident of Waterford was the author of the following verse first published in Bill Poster in 1876, more than half a century ago. It was dedicated to the Pioneers of Oakland County.

Sashabaugh, thou lovely, fertile plain,
Where health and plenty cheers the swain,
Where blooms the sprightly, placid maid,
As the smiles of summer her charms delayed.
Lovely land of innocence and ease,
Scenes of my youth, when sports could please;
Off' have I climbed the northern hill,
Drank in thy beauty, till my mind was filled

With joy, that my early lot was cast
In this land of wealth, so easily amassed;
Off' have I surveyed thy every charm,
The lovely cot, the cultivated farm.
The cozy church that stands upon the plain.
Near which the early Pioneers are lain;
To rest beneath the beautiful and grassy sod,
Their souls have risen to their God,
'Tis now full forty years or more
Since they came from another shore,
And settled in these pleasant wilds,
Where love and health and beauty smile;
Their faces radiant with delight,
Their hearts were strong and full of might.
The ax they plied with vigorous stroke,
And soon they felled the mighty oak.
And there each cleared a little spot,
On which they raised their virgin crop.
To build a home, it was their pride,
And push their clearing on every side,
Until their waving fields of wheat
On every side your eye doth meet,
And plenty crowned their every toil.
To those brave tillers of the soil.
There was Joseph Abbott and Peter D.,
On the eastern side as you shall see,
They chose the heavy timberland,
They did not like the yellow sand.

They went to work with vigorous stroke,
And thus they felled the towering oak,
They piled them up and fired them all,
The tall, the short, both great and small.
There was J. W. Beardslee, and Adam Fisher,
Who both grew a great deal richer.
By settling in this pleasant valley,
Near the stream, which is Clifton's alley;
Their shanties stood on the western side,
And to entertain strangers was their pride.
Now Marcus Riker and Archibald Ayers,
Chased the wolves right into their lairs,
Their gaunt hounds yelled, their rifles flash,
The grim bear hushed its savage gnash,
The fleet deer ceased its lying bound,
And came down quickly to the ground.
Joseph VanSyckle and Henry Gulick
Caught wild pigeons—'twas their music—
They loved this sport so very dear,
And caught them almost all the year;
But not neglecting to clear the land
They had purchased of Uncle Sam.
Among the stumps they sowed the grain,
Which thrived in sunshine and in rain.
They always lent a helping hand
To the needy of the land.

Now Gamabiel Trusdiel and Peter Gulick,
When they arrived were rather muleish,
But soon they saw with honest pride,
They could not, their neighbors override,
And entered in with a right good will
Their common calling to fulfill,
And cheer them on with sweet consent,
Till life's poor transient days were spent.
There were William Stevens and Thomas Beardslee,
The last was never in a hurry,
But always honest, and over-clever
When the young folks there did gather,
And cheered them with a right good will,
Their innocent pleasures to fulfill.
But William was sometimes in a flurry—
And almost always in a hurry
He blustered about from morn till night,
And always thought he was in the right.
There were Peter Voorheis and John Demund—
John had some peculiar traits of life,
He loved his cousin, and made her his wife,
Peter was strong and full of might;
He hated the wrong and loved the right;
The cause of God, he did espouse
To love, and be governed by His laws;
And through all these many years,
He's had his ups and downs, and fears;

But through them all the Lord has brought,
Though he at times was in the fault—
Long may he live and die at rest,
And be gathered with the blest.
Eber L. Taylor and Charles Co-hoon,
I trow, they came a little too soon;
They never acted with propriety,
For the peace and good of society.
They sold out, moved away, and then
Their places were filled by better men.
J. C. H. Woodhull, and John Hop-ler,
From the first were quite popular;
But John, he never seemed to thrive,
Only by number in his hive,
The Deacon, he with filial fear,
Responded to the call both far and near;
And lifted his voice most every-where,
Calling to God in humble prayer.
He will no doubt with perfect love
Receive his reward in heaven a-bove.
William S. and Samuel Curl,
The Lord's bright banner did unfurl;
They were honest, good and true,
To God above, themselves and you.
The treasures of earth they did despise,
But laid them high up in the skies;
Where moth and rust can ne'er corrode,
In the sweet home of the blest abode.
Andrew Freeman and Richard Bray,

Carpenters and joiners snug were they;
They applied themselves to their trade,
Houses snug and barns made.
Very useful men were they,
They got one dollar each per day.
Joseph Tindall and Nicholas Hamler,
They were always very popular,
These men were honest, good and true,
None were like them, or very few;
They loved the Lord in this earthly sphere;
Secured His blessing year by year.
Though fortunes were adverse they were refined,

And were governed by the over-ruling mind.

What's the NEW news in the '55 cars?

Is it V-8 Power?
Ford has had it since 1932

Ford was first to offer a V-8 engine in a low-priced car. And since the original Ford V-8 was introduced in 1932 more than 14,000,000 Ford V-8's have been built. This is more V-8's than all other manufacturers have ever produced.

Is it Ball-Joint Suspension?
Ford had it in 1954

Ford introduced Ball-Joint Front Suspension to the low-price field in 1954. This superior type of suspension is the latest advance in chassis design in 20 years. And now, it's standard on all Ford cars.

Is it suspended pedals?
Ford introduced them in 1952

Introduced in the 1952 models, Ford was first in the low-price field with suspended pedals. This advanced type of pedals provides extra space for the driver's feet and eliminates dusty, drafty holes in the floorboard. Suspended pedals are extremely easy to use.

Is it hood-high fenders?
Ford introduced them in 1952

The 1952 Ford brought a new look to the American car. The long, low look of the car. This styling innovation met the needs of the times.

The NEWS is Thunderbird Styling
It's not the look you saw in any of last year's cars. It's the new look inspired by the Thunderbird. And it set the styling for Ford's '55 lines.

The NEWS is Trigger-Torque Power
It's trigger-quick "GO" which can obey your commands in 7/100 of a second—four times faster than you can wink.

The NEWS is Angle-Poised Ride
An advanced form of Ball-Joint Suspension which swallows the big bumps... makes even smooth roads ride smoother.

LAW REQUIRING MUD GUARDS IS NOW IN EFFECT

Truck operators are reminded by State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs that the new law requiring mud guards or similar equipment on their vehicles went into effect January 1. The law, an amendment of the state motor vehicle code, was enacted at the last session of the legislature. It provides that every commercial vehicle and every combination of a commercial vehicle and trailer or of a truck tractor and semi-trailer when used on a highway shall be so constructed or equipped, or so operated, as to prevent water or other road surface substances from being thrown from the rear wheels at tangents exceeding 22½ degrees measured from the road surface. If a flap mud guard is used, the law prohibits having attached to it any type of lamp or reflective material or buttons. Neither can the device extend beyond the 96-inch maximum width of the vehicle.

EGG NUMBERS HIT JANUARY RECORD HIGH

What better month could be selected for "egg month" than January, 1955? January eggs are especially good. Home economists at Michigan State College say that the cold weather keeps them at their best condition on their way from farm to market. January is expected to have a record-high egg production—probably 5 per cent larger than last year's. This great production is due to increased numbers of layers in farm flocks and the increased rate of production per layer.

Since eggs should be kept cold, it is wise to buy from a dealer who keeps his egg supply under refrigeration and sells from a refrigerated sales case, say home economists. Eggs lose quality, too, if left in a warm kitchen. So when you put them in the refrigerator, place them in racks with the broad end up. For a new and different way to prepare egg sandwiches, Margaret McKeegan, M. S. C. extension home economics television editor suggests this zippy egg butter. Sieve three hard cooked eggs and cream them with ¼ cup butter, ¼ teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper, a dash of Worcestershire sauce and ¼ teaspoon of prepared mustard. If desired add ½ to 1 teaspoon vinegar and finely chopped olives. This amount will make four to six sandwiches, each using two slices of bread.

READ SYRUP LABELS
Pancakes and maple syrup are a traditional winter breakfast in Michigan and other northern states particularly when a pat of rich butter divides the cakes. But are you paying maple syrup prices for something to douse the pancakes that is an illegal substitute? Each year this question comes up in the Michigan Department of Agriculture's bureau of foods and standards. It bobbed up recently again when three men, now under arrest in Indiana, sold 174 gallons of substitute for $3.65 a gallon. The syrup was made of sugar and water with maple flavor added. Such a product when properly labelled as "table syrup" without any reference to "maple" usually sells for about $1.27 a gallon. But this bore no label at all, which is illegal. The law as explained by Miles A. Nelson, chief of the bureau of foods and standards, defines maple syrup as being made by the evaporation of maple sap or concentrate (maple sugar) and must contain not more than 35 per cent water. It also must weigh at least 11 pounds to the gallon. The label on the container must identify the product as maple syrup and must bear the name and address of the maker together with the amount of the net contents.

WORKING MODEL OF SOO LOCKS MADE AT U-M—Tiny Great Lakes freighters slowly wend their way through this working scale model of the Soo Locks at the University of Michigan as the U-M Audio-Visual Education Center nears completion of a motion picture which will mark the locks' 100th anniversary next year. While most of the film was shot at Sault Ste. Marie, the campus model was made to show in cross section how the locks work. When available, the film may be obtained from the U-M Center for showings.

"Why not examine the label carefully," asks Mr. Nelson, "when next buying syrup? Maybe you are paying maple syrup prices for sugar, water and artificial flavoring."

Genuine maple syrup is available. Michigan stands No. 6 in the nation in production of maple products with a sugar and syrup cash value last year of more than $6 million.

'Twas the day before Christmas

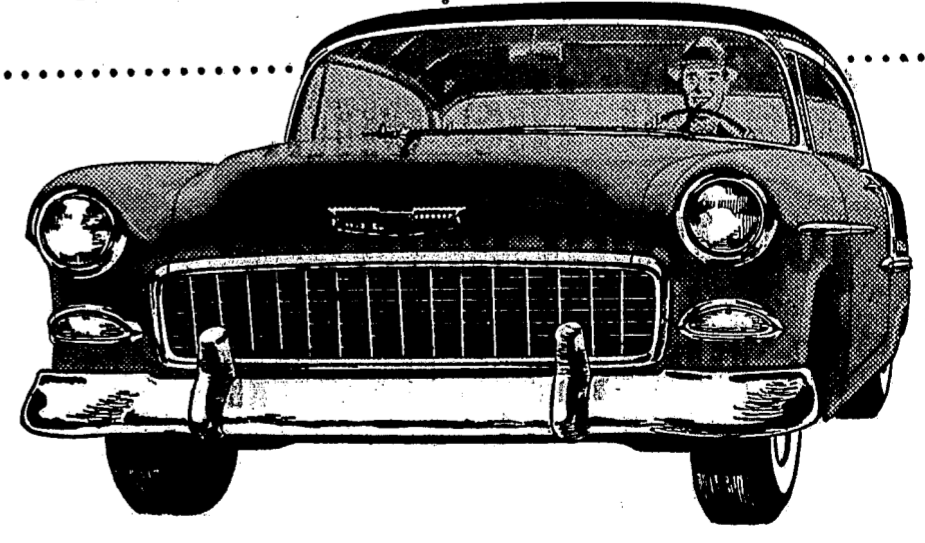

A deep snow had blanketed the streets of Ironwood. Indoors, families were making plans for the festive season. The telephone company, too, was making its preparations for the busiest night of the year. That was when Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. Thomas, whose home is pictured above, found their telephone was "dead." They called the telephone company from a neighbor's house. As Mr. Thomas later wrote: "In spite of the fact that this was the day before Christmas, with the added obstacle of a fresh, deep snow, a repairman* arrived in twenty minutes. Within one hour from the time the trouble was reported, he had new lines up and the telephone working. "If this earnest and sincere workman reflects the training policy of your company, then Michigan Bell Telephone Company certainly is doing a most remarkable job."

MICHIGAN HOMEMAKER TO BE SELECTED

Michigan's Homemaker of Tomorrow will be selected from 6,393 girls in 278 of the state's high schools.

That is the official number of participants who were enrolled in the national search for the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow when entries closed this month.

A total of 189,530 young women in 8,090 schools across the land will take part in the program which is open to senior girls in graduating classes of public, private and parochial high schools.

A Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named for each participating school, each state and the nation.

A 50-minute written examination which will test individual aptitude for homemaking will be the basis for naming the winners of the $75,000 in scholarships, travel opportunities and other educational prizes offered by General Mills, sponsor of this search designed to glorify homemaking as a career.

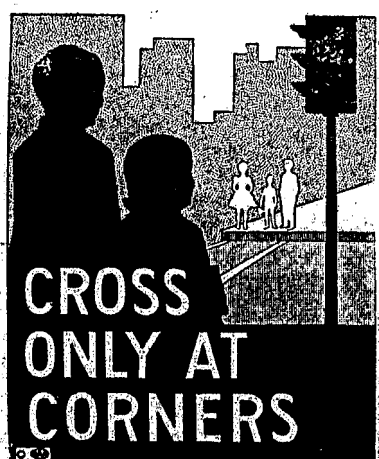

The examination prepared by Science Research Associates of Chicago will be given simultaneously in all schools January 12.

A chart which evaluates factors in home and family living has been sent to the schools for use in classroom discussions. A guide book which analyzes various phases of homemaking will also be distributed.

The girl receiving the highest test score in each school will be entered in state competition where the winner will receive a $1,500 scholarship and a trip with her school advisor to Washington, D. C., Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Philadelphia. Her school will receive a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The state winner who is named the Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow in Philadelphia April 21 will receive a $5,000 scholarship. Aiding in making this choice will be a committee of 13 nationally known educators.

The skins that clothed them once clothed a deer That roamed through the forest all the year. Their savory flesh supplied their table, From early fall until in April, With sweetest bits of savory food, Upon my word, 'twas very good.

They made the wilderness to bloom With fields of wheat, and clover loom. Peace to their ashes in the tomb; They passed away, too soon, too soon— Their spirits have gone to safer shores, Where no fierce winds shall ever roar,

How purification of thought brings freedom from fear, sickness, and sin will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Sacrament" is the Golden Text from John (4:23): "The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following passage will be read (242:1-3,8): "Through repentance, spiritual baptism, and regeneration, mortals put off their material beliefs and false individuality. Denial of the claims of matter is a great step towards the joy of Spirit, towards human freedom and the final triumph over the body."

Scriptural selections include this Beatitude from the Sermon on the Mount (Matthew 5:8): "Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God."

POPULATION SURVEY NEXT WEEK

Special questions, designed to provide information on the annual work experience of the Nation's population, will be asked in the January Current Population Survey, according to Supervisor Robert Gillespie of the U. S. Census Bureau's district office at Detroit.

The work experience questions will provide information on how people were regular full-time workers throughout 1954, how many were seasonal workers, and how many worked the greater part of the year but only at part-time jobs.

The special questions in the January Current Population Survey are in addition to the regular questions on employment and unemployment. The Current Population Survey will be conducted in the local area and in 229 other sections of the country during the week of January 10.

MANY FACTORS GOVERN ADMISSIONS TO U-M HOSPITAL

When is the best time to go to a hospital? When you are sick, of course.

However, efficiency studies conducted by members of the University of Michigan Hospital administrative staff indicate that factors other than illness determine hospital admissions. Such influences as weather, holidays, distance from Ann Arbor, and family plans often determine when a patient is admitted.

Dr. Sabih K. Djazzar, an administrative intern from Syria, has tabulated occupancy factors, and he reports that his findings agree with conditions which exist at hospitals other than University Hospital. He found that:

- 1. Three days, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday show the greatest number of patients in the hospital;
2. The lowest occupancy day is New Year's Day;
3. The lowest occupancy period is between Christmas and New Years, and the next lowest is July 4th to July 5th;
4. The lowest month of occupancy is July, the highest is October;

Dr. Djazzar also reports that the average length of stay of a patient at the University Hospital is 12.64 days. This compares with 13.6 days, a figure for hospitals with 500 or more beds.

Since there are more discharges on Saturday and more admissions on Sunday, Dr. Djazzar assumes that hospital occupancy practices are determined largely by the free time which families have on week-ends.

This is one of a series of efficiency studies presently being carried on by the Administrative staff of the hospital. Other studies on how long a patient has to wait to see a doctor, how long it takes to have a prescription filled, and a complete review of hospital costs are currently under way.

LOCKERS ARE FOR CITY
FOLKS TOO!

YOU don't have to raise your own meat, fruits, vegetables, and poultry to live better for less the locker way.

We'll be glad to sell you wholesale cuts of meat on money-saving wholesale prices. And you can buy frozen fruits and vegetables from us in bulk lots at budget-stretching prices the year round.

Come in and select the beef, pork, and other meat you need for the next several months. Let us cut it to your family size, package it scientifically, freeze it at a b-r-r-r temperature, and put it in your locker.

Most families save up to $5 a week by living the locker way. Drop in soon—and let's talk it over.

YOUR HOME NEWSPAPER

All matters handled through the Probate Court require a certain amount of legal publication in one of the county papers. Foreclosing a mortgage entails publication of the foreclosure notice in a county paper.

Either the probate court officers or your attorney will have your legal publication carried in The Clarkston News if you request it.

We solicit the privilege of carrying such legal publications. This form of advertising is valuable to us. When you support us in this way we are able to give you a better paper each week.
