BLOODMOBILE IN CLARKSTON JANUARY 25

JANUARY 25 IS D. DAY IN CLARKSTON

January 25 is Blood Donor Day in Clarkston at the Community Center from 2:00 to 8:00 P. M. Blood is desperately needed every day. There is no substitute for human blood. Scientists cannot make blood, it must be donated by you.

Your donated blood is given to sick and injured who need it. Any blood not used for transfusions is processed into blood derivatives which are used in treatment for certain diseases and to counteract shock.

Persons between the ages of 21 and 59 are eligible to give blood. Persons between the ages of 18 and 21 are accepted as donors with written consent of parents or legal guardian.

The donor must weigh at least 110 pounds and have a systolic blood pressure within the range of 100 to 200.

Persons having donated blood in the past eight weeks are not acceptable. If you have received penicillin, sulfa drugs, aureomycin, within a period of 30 days you are not qualified.

It is advisable to eat before donating blood but not food containing fats, meat, rich soups, gravies, or cream, four hours prior to donation.

Benefits given to donors are great.

If you donate blood to the Blood Bank, you automatically become a member of the Clarkston Community Blood Bank. The membership entitles you or your family to receive blood free when necessary.

D. Day is Donor Day in Clarkston. Call Mrs. John Stageman, MAple 5-7231 for an appointment on January 25, between 2 and 8 P. M. Do your part, for the blood you give helps someone to live—That someone may be you!

Fairyland

With the first ray of light of the morning
We could see on the boughs of the trees,
The snow that had come without warning,
And it knew not to thaw or to freeze.

Each tree and each bush were in
in ermine;
Each bough was an artist's delight,
What power was there to determine,

The work of the fairies at night?
The limbs of the hemlock were drooping
With weight of the new fallen snow,
The alders like old men were stooping

With heads that were bended and low.

The tracks of a car on the highway
Were all that had broken the spell,
No motion was seen on the by-way,
No story of struggle to tell.

The filth of the earth had been covered,
And heaven now seemed close at hand,
The world and all life had been mothered,
By forces that nature had planned.

A silence hung over the river
As it wound its way to the sea;
And we knew that God was the giver
Of beauty, to shrub and to tree.

March of Dimes Fights Polio Here

Although March of Dimes dollars retained by the Oakland County Chapter of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis are intended for the care of local polio patients, residents of this county also are helping to lick polio nationally by actually preventing it before it strikes.

This declaration was made by Mrs. Everett Dennis, Chairman for Clarkston.

Fifty per cent of March of Dimes contributions stay right here to help mend the lives of Oakland County polio patients, she said. The other 50 per cent goes to National headquarters to support the vast programs of polio attack.

It is estimated that out of this 50 per cent $2,700,000 will be used on scientific research in 1955; $2,900,000 on professional education, including fellowships and scholarships to train professional people to fight polio more effectively both in laboratory and in the hospital. But the biggest chunk, Mrs. Dennis declared, is the $9,000,000 already committed to the purchase of enough Salk vaccine to give 9,000,000 people 3 injections each. This represents a calculated financial risk based, it is true, upon sheer optimism—optimism that the vaccine will be declared effective by the Polio-vaccines Evaluation Center in Michigan. But one dollar per person seems a mighty small gamble to take when the stakes are actual polio immunity for 9,000,000 children.

These millions represent but a fraction of the estimated 58,000,000 young people in the United States under 20 years of age who are most susceptible to polio and who account for the bulk of those who will be protected if the vaccine works.

This is how the citizens of Clarkston, by giving to the March of Dimes, are helping lick polio before it strikes, she declared.

So send your contributions to our Oakland County Chapter, 75 W. Huron, Pontiac, Mich.

The course will cover recent social changes affecting family and its role in modern society. Contemporary problems and programs associated with family life also will be discussed.

The instructor will be Dr. Orden Smucker, associate professor in the Social Science and Sociology Department.

The organizational meeting was held last Monday evening at the Clarkston High School. Interested residents may phone the school for further information about the day and time for future class sessions.

The friends of Mrs. H. W. Huttenlocher will be glad to learn that she is resting more comfortably now, but still is not allowed any visitors. Mrs. Huttenlocher is a patient in St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital where she was taken on Wednesday morning of last week.

Women To Hear John L. Carey

John L. Carey, a prominent resident of Clarkston, will speak on "Subversive Activities in America before McCarthy" at the meeting of the Clarkston Community Women's Club. The meeting is to be held in the Community Center on Wednesday, January 19, at 1:00 P. M.

Mr. Carey, besides being a noted lecturer, is a former mayor of Dearborn and is now president of the Gun Collectors' Association of Michigan. He was also on the Board of Education in Dearborn and the Wayne County Board of Superiors.

Preceding the talk by Mr. Carey there will be a discussion concerning the progress of the club's project, the Independence Township Library. This is under the supervision of Mrs. Don Stackable.

All women in the Clarkston area are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

A nursery in the Methodist Church will be available to mothers with pre-school children.

Money Management Subject of Talk

The Waterford Township Business and Professional Women's Club met on Tuesday evening at the Decker Cafeteria in Drayton Plains for the regular monthly dinner meeting. The Education and Vocations Committee, with Mrs. Oliver P. Dunstan chairman, was in charge of the arrangements and the program for the evening. The invocation was given by Mrs. Dunstan.

Mrs. Raymond Swaney, first vice-president, called upon Mrs. Chester J. Arnold who introduced the guest speaker, D. H. Pritt of the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company. Mr. Pritt talked on Personal Money Management and included in this the necessity for insurance as well as social security. He gave a short history of insurance from the time the first policy was written and stressed the benefits derived from the different kinds of policies. At the conclusion of his talk he answered questions and cleared up many points on insurance and social security that had been rather vague in the minds of many of the women.

Following the regular business when the members were urged to attend the District meeting at 12 noon at Devon Gables on January 23rd, Mrs. Swaney introduced Mrs. Helen McNamara, Chairman of District No. 1, of Highland Park. Mrs. McNamara talked briefly on the importance of the members attending the district meetings as well as the regular club meetings. She thanked the club for its cooperation and wished it the very best for 1955.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the short inimitary ceremony and the welcoming in to the club of Mrs. F. M. LeRoy. This work was done by Mrs. Harry Mitchell and Mrs. Florence Schlosser. Mrs. LeRoy was presented with a club pin.

Another guest at the meeting was Mrs. Virginia Lynch of the Highland Park Business and Professional Women's Club.

The next meeting will be "Program Night" on Tuesday, Jan. 25th, at the Dunstan Flower Shop on West Huron Street at 8 P. M.

Laura Ruggles Named Good Citizen

General Richardson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, recently observed its 55th anniversary with a luncheon at Devon Gables. Among the guests was Mrs. Ralph Newland, state regent, of St. Joseph. Others were Mrs. Roy V. Barnes, state recording secretary, of Royal Oak; Mrs. Richard Largess, state registrar, of Detroit; Mrs. Dale Miller, regent at Birmingham ar. Mrs. Harry Deyo, regent at Plymouth.

The U-shaped table was decorated with red, white and blue flowers and small United States flags. Mrs. Frank B. Geris, regent, presided and introduced Mrs. Newland who spoke about D. A. R. projects and accomplishments. Mrs. Newland told of the newly decorated Michigan room, a colonial library in the D. A. R. national museum in Washington, D. C. This museum was established in 1915 and houses lovely exhibits covering the period from 1607 to 1830. Michigan Room is one of several furnished replicas of colonial rooms. In this library is a beautiful cherry, grandfather clock, presented to the museum by the late Mary Scott, a member of General Richardson Chapter, which is a highlight, blending with the colonial yellow decor.

The state regent also told of the Indian project in Michigan. Twelve Indian girls have been enabled to receive nurse training through scholarships furnished by Michigan D. A. R. This year the project has been expanded to include assisting Indian girls who need help to finish high school in preparation for training as a nurse. In Washington, D. C., three negro girls are being assisted through a scholarship fund administered by the national D. A. R. society. These girls are also learning to become nurses.

The chairman of the "Good Citizen" committee announces the names of seven high school girls in this area who have been chosen by the seniors and faculty as outstanding citizens.

Clarkston High has selected Laura Ruggles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ruggles of Reese Road. Laura was selected because of dependability, which is truthfulness, loyalty and punctuality; Service which includes co-operation, courtesy and consideration of others; Leadership which covers thorough personality, self control and ability to assume responsibility; Patriotism, covering unselfish interest in family, school, community and nation.

Other girls were chosen from Oxford, Waterford, Pontiac, Rochester, Avondale and Keego Harbor High Schools. They will be entertained by General Richardson Chapter and the Michigan D. A. R., later.

Rotary Club News

After a fine dinner served by the ladies of the Seymour Lake Methodist Church, the Clarkston Rotary Club put on a work bee last Monday-evening. The members resurfaced the tops of the dining tables, first sanding them and then staining them.

The Rotarians who forgot what the program would be and came nicely dressed were called the Chiefs and the ones who were prepared to work earned the title of just plain Indians. However, all helped where they could and the job was finished in fast time. Carl Anthony was chairman of the project.

Pioneers To Have Unusual Program

A treat is in store for the Clarkston Pioneers when they meet on Thursday, January 27th at the Community Center. A lunch will be served at 12:30 and the following birthdays will be recognized: Mrs. Agnes Beardsley, Mrs. B. T. Beardslee, William Gassick, Charles Cross, Mrs. George Hills, Mrs. Winifred Porritt and Mrs. Denton.

In the afternoon the group will be entertained by Augustus A. Rapp of Colon, Mich. Mr. Rapp, although 85 years old, is quite active and still interested in magic. He has done a great deal of traveling, entertaining with his magic tricks. He was a personal friend and at one time a colleague of the great Houdini. Mr. Rapp keeps himself busy at the factory in Colon where all magician's supplies are manufactured. He takes great pride in the fact that all of the gadgets used by magicians are made by hand. Once a year magicians from all over the world meet in the town of Colon.

Mr. Rapp will also entertain the Pioneers with one of his special feats—playing on his musical glasses. He will also bring along a scrapbook which should be quite interesting.

The Pioneers, this week, sent $10 to the American Cancer Society in memory of their deceased member, Mrs. Bertha H. Clark.

Clarkston Local

Dr. and Mrs. Don Stackable and Debbie returned home last week after spending the holidays in California with Mrs. Stackable's folks.

By The Way . . .

We have heard of the "Do-it-yourself" idea. Not being able to saw to a straight line and being able to hit the fingers instead of the nail, we were not interested and had not noticed how the movement had taken hold. However, when the members of the Rotary Club had a work bee to resurface tables we had visions of acres of sand paper, scrapers and a lot of hard work. If you please, the hobby fans appeared with a number of electric sanders and even a commercial sanding machine was in use. One room was used for the sanding and the hallway of the Community Center was used for staining. It kept two men bringing in tables, two to take them away after sanding, and the manner in which rubber gloves appeared to assist the members in the messy work of staining was a sight to behold. The "do-it-yourself" idea is here and is growing. . . . Financial note of the week: We understand that one contractor has contracts to perform a service upon three hundred new homes to be built in and around Clarkston as soon as possible. In fact we hear that one company intends to finish a home a day on about one hundred homes. . . . When we mentioned in the fall that it was predicted that the moss on the trees was such that one party had the idea the snow this winter would be two ax handles deep, a friend suggested they would lay the handles flat on each other and not end to end as predicted. It would seem that the friend was right. Our weather does seem to be changing to a warmer and more temperate climate and this change is noticed by many. . . . Two Scotchmen were playing golf on a hot day. One suffered a stroke and his partner "counted it against him."

It's a BIGGER Job Now!

A mysterious lady will be a visitor at the Automobile Shows which will be held during this coming announcement season. She will be seen in New York, Chicago, Detroit and other centers where automotive displays are being held by car manufacturers and dealers.

Her identity is undisclosed but she is known as "LADY LEATHER." She is interested in this fascinating material from many standpoints and will have some pertinent observations to make on the wide employment genuine leather will have in the 1955 cars.

Just to be consistent she, herself, is clad in the latest fashions in leather garments. Although attractive and socially prominent she has chosen to remain anonymous and it is predicted that show visitors will be curious as to her identity.

Wayne U.'s TV Weatherman Tells How to Predict Michigan Weather

Dr. Everett R. Phelps, professor of physics and astronomy at Wayne University, waits for the cue to begin his television weather broadcast over WJBK-TV, Channel 2, Detroit.

The old adage about everyone talking about the weather and no one doing anything about it probably is just as true today with television on the daily scene. Weather experts have become as popular as many TV stars for their daily interpretations and predictions of local and national weather conditions through the medium of television.

Dr. Everett R. Phelps, professor of physics and astronomy at Wayne University, and TV weatherman for station WJBK-TV Channel 2, Detroit, says that the layman can predict fairly accurately the coming weather in Michigan.

"Generally," Dr. Phelps said, "weather conditions move across the country from west to east. Since the high pressure areas called 'highs' and the low pressure areas called 'lows,' and the weather fronts move eastward at about 20 m.p.h., Michigan normally gets the weather that was experienced in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, and northern Illinois the previous day."

"Therefore, by looking at the conditions in these areas on the TV or newspaper weather maps, a pretty good estimate of the Michigan weather can be made for the following day."

Storms are usually associated with low pressure areas and with the passage of cold or warm "fronts." A weather front is the dividing line between two masses of air at different temperatures. If the beginning of a new program, "Exercise for Health". This class is designed to meet the request and need for proper exercise for the ladies of Waterford Township and vicinity.

Classes will be conducted every Thursday from 7 to 8 at the Community Activities Center. Piano music will accompany all exercising.

Registrations may be made by phoning ORlando 3-9152 or at the door on Thursday evening.

PROGRESS BEING MADE ON EIGHT MILE-WOODWARD

Construction of the Eight Mile and Woodward avenue overpass is proceeding on schedule, and traffic delays will be kept at a minimum, the Michigan State Highway Department has informed the Oakland Citizens League.

Construction project, which has extended back several miles during rush hours, prompted the citizens group to inquire what the State Highway Department was doing about it.

Project construction reports, the Highway Department informed the League, indicate that more than 15 per cent of work has already been completed. Construction started on Sept. 2, 1954 and is due to be completed Dec. 15, 1955.

"Because adequate streets for re-routing traffic around this project are not available, the work is necessarily being performed in a number of stages during each of which traffic is to be carried on temporary roads which cannot remain in one place, but must be shifted as the work progresses," the League was informed.

The first major aim is to complete the portion of the work which will carry Woodward avenue through traffic over Eight Mile Road. When this portion is completed, all Woodward avenue traffic will pass over the elevated structure, and the work of "depressing" Eight Mile Road can commence. The progress calls for this portion of the work to be completed by June 15, according to the Highway Department.

"While work has been progressing nicely to date, progress has perhaps appeared somewhat slow because much of the work has been below ground. The relocation of a 54 inch water main and a 72 inch sewer in Eight Mile road, plus other sewers and water mains, had to be accomplished and we understand that securing delivery of the required materials has been a problem for the contractor," E. J. Hanna, administrative assistant to the State Highway Commissioner, said.

He reported that traffic counts taken in 1953 showed as many as 65,000 vehicles a day passing the site. Construction cost of the project is $3,386,000.

NEW INCOME TAX BULLETIN IS AVAILABLE

Farmers can get the latest information on changes in the income tax law from a new bulletin just off the press.

Put out by Michigan State College, "Farmers' 1954 Income Tax" can be picked up free at the county agricultural agent's office. Or it is available by writing the Bulletin Office at Michigan State College, East Lansing.

M. S. C.'s farm income tax specialist E. M. Elwood points out that farmers should especially remember these changes in the income tax law:

They have one month longer to prepare their final statement and they will have to pay about 10 per cent less tax this year. The deadline for the final return now is April 15 instead of March 15.

Children under 19 can earn more than $600 and still be claimed as dependents if their parents provide more than half their support. The same holds true if the children are 19 or over and fulltime students for at least five months of the year.

Medical and dental expenses over 3 per cent of the adjusted gross income can be deducted—if the expenses are listed. The previous figure was 3 per cent.

Income from livestock sold, exchanged or destroyed because of disease need not be listed for payment of tax—if the amount

Laugh at Food Fallacies, Enjoy Eating Says Wayne Home Economics Professor

Jaqueline Heath (left), Wayne University sophomore from Gerrausk, Michigan, watches Miss Marqueta Huyck of the University's home economics staff demonstrate differences in food values.

Everyone is familiar with the saying—some people live to eat while others eat to live. But do you know how many people today are still plagued with superstitious beliefs about food?

Too many, says Miss Marqueta Huyck, assistant professor of home economics at Wayne University. These food theories, commonly known as food fads or fallacies, can usually be traced to one of three causes, she says. They are the result of theoretical conclusions based on insufficient laboratory evidence, inaccurate conclusions based on personal experiences, or deliberate distortion of fact for personal exploitation.

Miss Huyck divides the most popular types of food fallacies into groups—those involving the so-called harmful or helpful combinations; foods with "special properties," such as blood purifiers and brain foods; those carrying undue emphasis, such as spinach and raisins; and foods concerned with dieting.

Some of the most "cherished" beliefs followed by Miss Huyck's comments are listed below.

Raw or very rare meat is more nourishing than thoroughly cooked meat.

False. Proteins in meat are not damaged by heat. Correct cooking makes the meat more palatable and easier to digest.

White eggs are more nutritious than brown eggs.

False. There is no difference, although some geographic locations have preferences.

Food may not be left in open cans in the refrigerator.

False. Open cans are as safe as other containers. Acid foods may change flavor, but will not spoil.

Fish is a brain food.

False. Unfortunately nobody has discovered a food that specifically aids brain activity. In fact there is no evidence that extra brainwork requires extra food energy.

Raw foods are better for you.

False. Giving up cooked foods an "going back to nature" would probably shorten the life span. Cooking widens the range of food that will be eaten and improves digestibility.

A raw steak draws the pain and discoloration from a black eye.

The cooling effect will slow down the blood flow but an ice pack would be much more effective.

As long as foods are good for you when eaten alone, they can be eaten together, Miss Huyck says. It's in the mind, not the stomach that they don't mix. Many ideas about food combinations started in days before refrigeration when foods spoiled easily.

As a final suggestion, Miss Huyck stresses it is much more important to take a well-balanced, varied diet than to worry about the food you eat. Learn to laugh at food fallacies, she adds, and your meals will taste better and do you more good.

and nurses to devote time to talking and playing with hospitalized children.

Discussing the subject, "Understanding Your Child", Dr. Watson declared that he thought no one understands the growing child completely. But, he added, there may be bits of information which can be used to put young parents at ease.

For one thing, small babies sneeze a lot, because their eyes and noses are sensitive to light and air. They may even scound as if they were choking on their own phlegm, but only because they haven't learned to clear their throats.

Up until the age of 5 to 7 months babies don't focus or see sharply. For that reason they don't seem to discriminate between either parent.

Babies lack control over their feet for the first six to 10 months. Still, said the U-M child specialist, their feet should not be bound tightly in booties or shoes. He added, "I for one believe that barefoot play is good for the child. But be certain the floor is clear of glass or nails."

As for jealousy, Dr. Watson believes that "it is useless for parents to hope to avoid it completely by telling the older child about the new baby before he comes and how much fun he is going to be." Parents should, however, guard against punishing the older child too harshly for his jealousy, for "he will then have more cause to feel that the new baby is undermining his security."

All in all, stated the U-M pediatrician, "The instincts of a loving mother provide a good guide for the proper care of her own infant."

METAL FINISH GIVES WARMTH TO GLOVES

Warmth without excess weight, that's the "buy-word" of coat lining fabrics sprayed with a metallic finish.

The latest use for this metallic finish is on gloves, says Esther Meacham, textiles and clothing instructor at M. S. C. When sprayed on the glove fabric it provides sleek, smooth-fitting gloves with adequate warmth.

Miss Meacham points out another recent use of metallic finishes is in drapery lining. In this way it helps insulate our homes against the heat of the sun and the cold of winter winds.

The finish is usually applied to taffetas and satins for coat and suit linings. It can also be applied to most other fabrics to be used in clothing and household materials.

The finish is identified by a silvery appearance, on the back side. Although this silver may partially disappear when dry cleaned, its ability to maintain warmth is not decreased. The finish is applied to the fabrics in the form of resin. Then the material is "cured" or "baked" and the finish becomes permanent.

Most common to consumers are the names, Milium and Temp-resisto, which are two metallic finishes that have been tested by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Applying the finish does not change the color, the "drape" or the surface appearance of the cloth. And it remains porous.

U-M TO PRESENT OLD SONGS OF GREAT LAKES SAILING DAYS

Sea chanteys of Great Lakes sailormen of old will be brought to Michigan school children beginning this month as the University of Michigan helps provide a musical introduction to the 1955 Soo Locks Centennial.

The "lake songs" will be included in the Festival of Songs series regularly aired by some 20 stations throughout the state through tapes supplied the stations by the U-M Broadcasting Service. Some 25,000 youngsters, mostly in rural schools hear the series as a standard part of their classroom work.

Miss Edythe-Mae Albert, U-M radio teacher, said the first song, to be heard the week of January 17, is "Haul on the Bowline". Known as a short drag chantey, the song was sung during the days of wooden sailing ships when a few strong pulls were needed on a rope or hawser.

One of the oldest of the drags, the song reputedly can be traced back through sailor lore for 500 years, Miss Albert indicates. Though its exact origin may never be known, it probably came into being when ships plied the coast of Europe before Columbus explored the Atlantic.

How spiritual understanding of God as divine Life opens the door to healthier, happier living will be set forth in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Life" at Christian Science services Sunday.

Selections to be read from the King James Version of the Bible will include the following from Psalms (66:8,9): "O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selection will be among those read (487:27): "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality."

The Golden Text is from John (17:3): "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent."
 Did you know that Americans ate about five and one-half billion pints of ice cream, sherbet and other frozen dairy foods last year? That's the second highest amount ever recorded.

Simple Sudsing 'Saves' Curtains

Above: Crush the folds together to test the curtain for soil, which shows more clearly than when light filters through a single layer. Right: Dainty Orlon curtains can be re-hung when damp and pulled gently into a proper drape. Then, place the ironing board under the window to press the hems.

Clean curtains last longer, and in these days of easy-to-keep wonder fabrics, there's no need to let dingy curtains mar the brightness of your rooms. Those sheer beauties in nylon, Orlon, Dacron or Saran take little effort to refresh. First rule is to wash them at the first sign of soil.
 The various "miracle fibers" all require the same kind of washing — by machine or by hand in lukewarm soapsuds and rinses. But never twist, wring, or spin such curtains dry, so that creases will have no chance to "set" in the fabric.
 For machine washing, it's a good idea to put curtains into a mesh bag or pillowcase to prevent roping or twisting. Use short sudsing and rinsing cycles. If you use a dryer, set the temperature at "low" and remove the curtains while still damp.
 To wash curtains by hand, fold them loosely to a convenient size and dip in and out of soapsuds and rinses until clean. For a smooth, finished effect, "finger-press" hems, sides, and ruffles while still wet. Hang the curtains smoothly over a line or shower rod to drip dry, and they won't really need ironing. If you do prefer to press them, wait until they are dry and use a cool iron.

AN EXCITING NEW DIRECTION in motorcar styling begins with Chrysler for 1955... longer, and inches lower than other big cars, in the most striking new car design of recent years! Noteworthy is the new sweptback Super-Scenic Windshield that "wraps around" both top and bottom for greater (and safer) vision. All Chryslers are now V-8's, with engines up to 250 hp. The new Chrysler look of mobility and purposeful power is further translated into action by the most automatic transmission in any car... exclusive Chrysler Full-time Power Steering... and Power Brakes with a new, safer acting double-width brake pedal. By all odds, this is definitely the car to look at and drive first in 1955!

CHRYSLER'S 100-MILLION-DOLLAR LOOK! ... a forecast fashion for all cars to follow!

NEW AGENT HIRED

The Oakland County Agricultural Extension Service has hired John K. Trocke of Milford as the new Farm and Home Development Agent. Trocke is a graduate of Michigan State College and served as Oakland County 4-H Club Agent in 1949. He was also associated with the Michigan Agricultural Service, a farm management concern, serving the area; and managed the Wayne County Training School Farm at Northville. The Farm and Home Development Agent will offer a more personal approach to problems on individual farms. This new program was recommended by national farm organizations. Included in this group were Farm Bureau, National Grange, Farmers' Union, and National Association of Farm Cooperatives. Trocke is the father of two boys and a girl, and is a long time resident of Oakland County. He will continue his residence in Milford.

New Topping For Apple Pie

How can so much goodness be packed in one pie? The answer is two-fold... canned apple slices make a top quality filling, and the gingersnap crumbs add zestful flavor. Try the crumb topping on other fruit pies, too. On those made of canned sliced peaches and apricot halves, you'll find it especially enticing. And, a new version of pumpkin pie is one with the ginger crumb topping added during the last 15 minutes of baking.

Ginger Crumb Apple Pie

- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) sliced apples
- Pastry
- 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1/2 cup gingersnap crumbs
- 3 tablespoons butter, or margarine

Mix granulated sugar and cinnamon with apples and put in an unbaked 8-inch pastry lined pan. Combine brown sugar and crumbs, add butter, using a fork to blend until the mixture resembles cornmeal. Sprinkle over apples. Bake in a hot oven (425° F.) about 30 minutes. Makes one 8-inch pie.
