America's Most Successful Homemaker

Ivy Baker Priest, Treasurer of the United States and one of the judges, presents the "Most Successful Homemaker of 1954" award to Mrs. Hubert G. Olson, Bloomington, Minnesota. Mr. Olson, who nominated her in the nation-wide contest conducted by community newspapers, has good reason for smiles.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Proclaimed America's Most Successful Homemaker of 1954, Mrs. Hubert G. Olson, 50, of Bloomington, Minnesota, received honor and a $2500 cash award before a throng of national leaders of women's and civic activities here recently. She was chosen from among thousands of entries by a panel of nationally known judges, and brought to Chicago for the presentation.

Quoting Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, keynote speaker at the Ceremonial luncheon:

"The homemakers of America will lead the way to peace and blessing for all the world. The American homemaker is the unsung heroine of the most important part of our way of life."

Numerous messages of recognition to homemakers were sent in. Bishop Fulton J. Sheen wired:

"Wishing you every blessing and assuring you of my prayers."

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI:

"It gives me great pleasure to extend my personal congratulations to the Most Successful Homemaker of 1954."

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Nicholas H. Wegner, Boys' Town, wrote:

"To this good woman I convey the heartfelt felicitation from 900 homeless boys. . . Without a good family life, no nation can long endure."

The atmosphere of sincerity and emotional depth which prevailed throughout the audience should inspire all homemakers throughout the land, and encourage them to recognize their vocation as the greatest of all professions.

MISSIONARY SUNDAY AT WATERFORD CHURCH

Missionary Sunday at Waterford Community Church will feature as guest speaker Rev. R. E. Thompson. With him will be a group of missionary candidates representing various mission fields. They will appear on the program of all services on Sunday, January 23, presenting missions from a world-wide viewpoint.

Mr. Thompson is missionary counsellor of the Far Eastern Gospel Crusade, and is widely known among evangelical churches for his knowledge of missions gained through almost thirty years of evangelistic and administrative missionary work in China. From his service in that land during the critical years when Communism was gaining its foot-hold, Mr. Thompson also speaks with authority on the development of Communism and its relation to the whole of the Far East, having spent some time in India, Japan and the Philippine Islands in recent years as well. He is well known for his ministry of counselling both among young missionaries on the field and missionary volunteers, as well as his extensive speaking in conference and Bible Schools throughout this country.

During the years of World War II, separated from his wife and family who were interned by the Japanese, Mr. Thompson traveled in every province in China but one, conducting conferences. In 1954 he was appointed by a group of evangelical missions to direct the evacuation of missionaries from China. To perform this important mission, he was stationed in Calcutta, India, for 8 months.

After coming to the United States in 1949 with his wife and three children and finding it impossible to return to China, he accepted the position of Personnel Secretary with the Far Eastern Gospel Crusade. From his early years in China one of his burdens had been that young people might be more fully aware of the problems they are called upon to face on the foreign field and better prepared spiritually to meet them. His contact with candidates upon return to the States convinced him of their need for further preparation after formal training, as well as the need for a deeper spiritual experience. A number of pastors expressed a willingness to receive accepted candidates into their churches for a period of six months as home missionaries under the supervision of the Personnel Secretary together with the local pastor, all of the candidates meeting together for one day each week in a time of spiritual retreat and discussion of missionary principles and problems.

Because other mission boards expressed the need for this type of training among their candidates, Mr. Thompson extended his service to other evangelical missions in what is now the "Inter-Mission Candidate Training Program". More than thirty candidates representing six mission boards are in a six months' training period which began in October, 1953, in the Detroit area. Sixteen churches have candidates serving with them in house-to-house visitation and in other ways assisting in the work of the church, while a committee of local pastors forms the Advisory Council. This type of program will be conducted for six months out of each year.

Miss Patricia Maxwell, missionary to Japan from the Waterford Church, received part of her training under the program headed by Mr. Thompson. Mr. Don Stoddard is now working with the church under his direction.

The public is cordially invited to the services.

Red Cross News

Mrs. Robert F. Kohr of Birmingham, who heads Oakland County's Jr. Red Cross program reports that to date, 870 gift boxes have been packed by school children.

These boxes are sent to the Red Cross warehouse in Washington, D. C., where they are stored until a sufficient supply is on hand to send to children overseas.

Students in approximately 700 American colleges and universities are active participants in junior programs also.

They are enthusiastic supporters of the blood program; they have joined first aid, water safety and home nursing classes in large numbers and have, in many cases, served as volunteer instructors of first aid and water safety.

Talented youths also lend their time to hospitals and other institutions as members of service groups.

HORSE DAY AT FARMERS' WEEK

Never in the history of Farmers Week have horsemen set up so attractive a program for Horse Day as will appear on this, the centennial year for the founding of Michigan State College. Horse Day has been moved ahead to Monday, February 7th.

The Little International, staged by Animal Husbandry students, and featured Horse Events will draw horsemen from many states and Canada. A feature of the day will be the exhibit of the internationally famous six-horse draft hitch of Belgians owned by the Meadowbrook Farms, Rochester, Michigan. Included in the day's program will be a heavyweight and a lightweight horse pulling contest. Teams competing in these contests are so outstanding that they are known to every horse pulling fan.

The National Heavyweight Champions for the past two years, owned by Fowler Bros., Reading, Michigan, will be on the defensive as they meet three great heavy teams. Pitted against the champions will be a mammoth pair of Chestnut geldings formerly owned by John Derry of Zanesville, Ohio, and now in the hands of Charles Roehl and Sons of Smiths Creek, Michigan. Both of these teams will weigh over 4800 and each have defeated the other during the past season. Another will be a roan pair owned by John Huizenga of Grandville, Michigan. This 4400 pound pair won more contests than any heavy pair in the State during the 1954 season and in the major contests defeated the Fowler pair. They were 2nd to the Fowler pair at the National. A Chestnut pair, weighing just over 4100, owned by R. F. Oakleaf, Tiffin, Ohio, will complete the field of heavy teams. This pair, in their first contest at the National placed among the top teams. They showed more improvement than any of the competing teams in later contests to qualify to meet this field of outstanding teams.

The Lightweight Contest will be just as interesting as teams with very fine records will be competing.

The Michigan Horse Breeders' Association will end the day's activities with a Horsemen's Banquet to be held at 6:00 P. M., in the Union Building. Veteran horseman, Andrew Quirie, who retires July 1st, will be honored at this banquet.

DON'T WORRY, PLAN CHANGES CAN BE GOOD

So you've changed your mind; this morning you find your work plans for the day are completely different from those you outlined in your mind last night.

This change of plans is not one to feel guilty about, points out Dr. Irma Gross, head of the home management department at Michigan State. Rather, the homemaker who can alter her plans "midstream" should realize that this is a sign of strength, not weakness.

Dr. Gross points out this example: Mrs. "Typical Homemaker", who is expecting a house full of weekend guests, has set aside a certain amount of time to get the house ship-shape. In the middle of her work, she finds she is getting tired. Rather than continue with her cleaning, she takes time out to rest and save her energy, so she will be more at ease with her guests and a better hostess.

In the managing of their homes homemakers go through three steps. First, they make their plan; this may be mental or actually put down on paper. Second, they control the carrying out of the plan. Third, they look back and evaluate their plan to see how it can be done better.

In this second step Dr. Gross advocates that a change of plan is not only acceptable but very desirable. She feels that while carrying out your plan, if you think of a better way of doing it, or realize that something else should be taking your time, you shouldn't be too hesitant to change your mind.

MORE AND MORE SEEK HIGHER EDUCATION

Ferris Institute continued to break its own enrollment records as the winter quarter registrations soared 41 per cent above the enrollment of a year ago.

1,108 students are presently enrolled, according to Harold E. Wisner, Registrar. Last year's total at this time was 785 students.

The 41 per cent increase exceeds the previous high point of a 39 per cent increase in the student body attained last September. The nation-wide average increase of college student bodies is 7.6 per cent as reported in the recent study of President Raymond Walters of the University of Cincinnati.

"The continued spectacular enrollment increase at Ferris further dramatizes our urgent need for increased facilities at the earliest possible moment," stated President Victor F. Spathelf. The Ferris Board of Control has presented a current request of $1,784,750 for immediate building construction to the Governor and Legislature. Further enrollments in several of the college's instructional programs have already been closed.

"While student demand for the traditional Ferris Institute practical vocational and technical training is now at an all-time peak," said President Spathelf, "we have not yet felt the full impact of an even greater demand for this type of college training."

NEW PROFIT IDEA

New ideas on wise spending for more profit and how farmers can do a better job of marketing will be among the highlight topics during Farmers' Week at Michigan State College, Feb. 7-11.

These topics will be part of the agricultural economics section of Farmers' Week on Tuesday.

A professional farm manager, a credit representative, a county agricultural agent and Michigan State specialists will be on hand to answer questions.

Here are some other topics college men will discuss: How much can you afford to spend or borrow for fertilizer on corn? How much for dairy cows? How much for a silo?

A farm manager and a credit man will also discuss those questions from their viewpoints.

In another session, farmers will learn how to use market information to get the most money for their livestock, eggs and poultry, and milk.

Young men interested in starting to farm will have their questions answered in still another session. Topics include: How to get the know-how needed. Where to get the necessary capital. Is now the time to start?

Roland Russell, a Lenawee county farmer, will present, "How I Became Established In Farming."

At another agricultural economics meeting on Wednesday, specialists at the college and Social Security administration men will answer questions on the new social security act which was amended last year to make retirement benefits available to farmers.

Why should I buy an automatic clothes dryer?

An automatic dryer saves tons of lifting, miles of walking, cuts sprinkling time to zero and ironing time in half.

Why do so many folks that own an electric range also buy an electric dryer?

Personal experience with an electric range has proved to them that the electric way is the cleanest way!

Does it cost much to operate a clothes dryer?

An all-electric clothes dryer operates for just pennies a day . . . saves hours of work.

Which electric clothes dryer is the BEST?

See your dealer or stop in at Detroit Edison for comparative data and descriptive literature that will help you make a choice.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

A Pretty "Snappy" Menu

Cuff Taylor had a near riot in his hen yard last week. Seems the hens were scratching around the cold ground when they found a piece of rubber band frozen in the ice.

"One hen pecked at it," says Cuff, "and it snapped right back. She backed off clucking while another hen tried it, and another. And the 'worm' kept right on snapping back. They all got their feathers ruffled. You never heard such a ruckus!"

"I finally had to break up the ice with an ax before those hens would get back to business and start laying eggs again."

From where I sit, some people raise a pretty big fuss over nothing, too. Take the fellow who would deny me a temperate glass of beer with my game of checkers. Maybe he'd rather have coffee! Well, that's all right. He has a right to his own preference. But so do I. And there's no point in his "snapping" at me just because his choice isn't the same as mine.

Styling that's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

It costs no more to form a sheet of steel into a graceful shape than it does an awkward one—so price has nothing to do with styling. Only the talent of its designers determines whether a car is a delight to the eye or it isn't.

You couldn't find more pointed proof of this than the 1955 Chevrolet—for here is a low-priced car that has snatched the styling spotlight, overshadowing even the highest-priced creations with its subtle sweep of line, the bold rake of its deep-curved windshield.

New V8 and two new 6's

But the Motoramic Chevrolet has advances in engineering that even surpass its styling. There are three ultra-efficient new engines—the 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" and two "Blue-Flame" 6's. There is a whole new chassis design, with spherical-joint front suspension that spurns bumps like a swallow skimming a lake, and Anti-Dive braking control to check that sharp "nosing down" of the front end.

There are three new drives—sturdier Synchro-Mesh and, optional at extra cost, a silkier Power-glide automatic transmission or the flexibility of Touch-Down Overdrive . . . plus all the power helpers you could wish. Try a 1955 Chevrolet—now—and find out why it is stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars.

MORE THAN A NEW CAR . . . A NEW CONCEPT OF LOW-COST MOTORING

The 54" H-Door Sedan. You'll find your favorite model among Chevrolet's complete line of Fisher Body Beauties.

It's a perfect gem to look at!

And it's powered to run rings around the rest!

Here's A Quick Bread That Brings Compliments

The woman who serves a home-baked loaf of bread always draws compliments from her family or guests. And it's so easy to be on the receiving end of those kind words with a quick loaf that's as easily mixed and wonderful to eat as this Caramel Nut Bread.
Here is a recipe for an ever-popular nut bread with an extra mellow flavor because cereal flakes are used as well as chopped nuts. Take your choice of bran flakes, corn flakes or whole wheat flakes from your breakfast cereal array. They not only add to the flavor, but also give a more interesting texture to the bread—a wonderful partner for the delicate caramel flavor.
And here's a trick that will give you a glistening top to the loaf. While it's on the cooling rack, brush the top with maple flavored syrup. You can slice the bread as soon as it's cool, then serve it perfectly plain or spread with butter or cream cheese. Wonderful with a generous cup of hot coffee.
Caramel Nut Bread
2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
3½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon ginger
1 egg, beaten
1½ cups milk
½ cup fat, melted
½ cup chopped nuts
1 cup bran flakes, whole wheat flakes or 2 cups corn flakes (slightly crushed after measuring)
Topping—optional
2 tablespoons maple-flavored syrup
Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and ginger. Combine beaten egg, milk and slightly cooled fat. Add to dry ingredients, stirring only enough to dampen flour. Fold in nuts and cereal flakes, being careful not to overmix. Pour into well-greased loaf pan, 8½ x 4½ x 2½ inches, and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 50 minutes. Cool on rack. Brush top of loaf with maple-flavored syrup if desired.
Yield: 1 loaf
