Seniors Returned Sunday From Washington Trip

The Seniors of the Clarkston Wood-Kreger Rites High School, 51 of them and their class sponsor, Mr. Edward Hintz Read Saturday and Mrs. Hintz left the Clarkston High School on Wednesday afternoon, May 25, by Greyhound bus to start the trip they had anticipated almost since they graduated from the eighth grade. When they left Mrs. Hintz was wearing an orchid that had been presented to her by Mr. and Mrs. R. L.

On arriving at the Michigan Central depot in Detroit the group boarded the Ambassador, B. & O. Line, and headed for Washington, D. C., arriving there at about 9:40 Thursday morning. No time was lost on arrival for waiting for them were two sightseeing busses which took them to Annapolis where they visited dles formed the setting for the the Naval Academy. On Thursday night the group dined at the Casino-Royal Chinese-American Restaurant where they enjoyed a good dinner and a fine floor

Friday morning they were ready to start touring and most of the interesting and historical places were visited. They saw the Washington Monument and the White House where they had pictures taken, and incidently at the White House Mr. Hintz accidently met his twin brother and they had a picture taken. Also on the agenda were the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, and the FBI. Friday evening they enjoyed a fine dinner and went to see "This Is Cinerama".

On Saturday their tripping took them to the Smithsonian Institute, the Tomb of the Unkown Soldier and Mt. Vernon. They boarded the train for Detroit at about 4:40 Saturday afternoon, arriving in Detroit Sunday morning at 8:00. They were back in Clarkston at 9:30, their senior trip over, but much to talk about and many happy mem-

Jack Emery Home From Europe

Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Emery and daughter, Marian, of Dixie Highway were delightfully surprised on Sunday when son, Jack, unexpectedly walked in. Jack has been in Germany for the past groom's cousin, Lloyd Hodgins of 17 months and although they were expecting him home soon, perhaps next week, they were content to wait for a phone call when he landed in New York. Mrs. Emery was about to celebrate her birthday and she says, "this surprise was the best birthday gift I ever received in all of my life".

Jack has served two years in the Medical Corps of the U.S. Army. He will go to Fort Sherid-School. A five-tiered wedding an, Illinois, for his release some time this weekend.

Evelyn M. McCrum, JOSN, USN, who is stationed in Washington, D. C. spent the holiday with her parents in Detroit and called on some of her Clarkston friends on Sunday.

The Long Weekend

The long weekend was all too short As we approached its end.

That time alone would mend. As one by one they drove away There was a lump inside.

I felt a twinge within my heart

The thoughts of joy we'd had all dav

My sadness tried to hide.

I thrill at having children come And friends to visit too.

I love the good in everyone. I find them kind and true.

I wish sometime within life's plan More days were made for rest:

More time for play was given man

To give life greater zest.

Perhaps man makes his rules too tough. God's plan's misunderstood.

Man doesn't laugh and play enough To know that life is good.

I thank Thee God for this short time

To spend with those we love: May grateful prayers that have been mine Be registered above.

With the approval of the Michigan High School Athletic Association, Orchard Lake St. Mary's Romeo, Utica, Roseville, Cran- Interesting Meeting brook, Clarkston and Troy have introduced a pilot project which, if successful, might lead to the development of an all-around Building on Wednesday evening competition among Michigan high of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Clarschools similar in nature to the Olympic decathalon program.

The eight events chosen include the high jump, broad jump, pole vault, shot put, 100 yard dash, high hurdles, 440 yard run, and the mile run. Performance standards based on existing national high school records have been given to the coaching staffs of the participating teams. Competitors in the program are regulated by existing rules of the MHSAA and do not actually meet in the course of the octathalon. Scores may be recorded either in the competition or in practice. A participant must post records in at least three of the eight events in order to quailfy for the competition.

It was agreed by the coaches that two reports would be made during the 1955 season. The first made in May finds Ernie Malzahn. Utica's state champion high hurdler, in front with a total of 2927 points scored in seven events. Clarkston's versatile Bob Yahnke is in second position with 2804 points with Orchard Lake's Gerry Leszczynski in third with Family Living". Mr. Trocke is 2765. With the final report from the participating schools not due until Oakland County area hope that the octathalon competition may 'catch on' with additional schools next season and that Michigan will one day produce as a result outstanding all-around track and field performers who will show the sort of promise for international competition which can be found in such versatile college athletes this year as Podoley of Central Michigan and Savoldi of

The members of the club would like to thank Mrs. Arthur Rose, Jr., for the magnificent job she has accomplished as president this past year and also Mrs. Paul Frechette, Mrs. Thomas Boothby, Mrs. Robert Krithers and all other officers and committee members.

There is a popular misconception, that whenever a group of women get together and form a club, it is a den of gossipmongers or reformers making much ado about nothing. An exception to this thought is the Clarkston Community Women's Club.

Mrs. Arthur Rose, Jr., had an idea to organize a group of women whose aim would be to work for the benefit of our community. In September, 1954, the idea became a reality. The difficult iob of drawing up a constitution was done by Mrs. Paul Eliason and Mrs. Russell Coltson; officers were elected and the name Clarkston Community Women's Club became official.

The Club was determined to sponsor a public library in Clarkston. With just a mere membership of twenty, it seemed almost impossible at the time. However, Mrs. Don Stackable appointed a library committee consisting of Mrs. Philip Smith, Mrs. Harold O'Neil and Mrs. Robert Phillips. and immediately the work to accomplish this goal began. A site for the library was found. A continual drive for books was on. The preparation of these books for public use, an almost insurmountable task, was done by this committee. Money for the purchase of books and library equipment was raised by a silver tea Mrs. Perry who has been in a card party given by Mrs. A. W. the library was opened and staffed by women of the club. Realizing how many aspects of community life needed their help. another project was begun. Mrs. Robert Osgood, Mrs. Walter Wilperg, Mrs. Fred Turek, Mrs. Keith Hallman and Mrs. Howard Kieft found that many of the youngsters in our area had no type of supervised entertainment outside of school. The first step in giving this to our youth was the Friday night dance. Here our children had dance instructions, refreshments, and good wholesome fun. This is just one of the many projects the Clarkston Community Women's Club is planning for the youth in this

We might list the story-telling hour at the library, a social calendar for the public's use, and. the presentation of interesting speakers to our community as small, but just as important projects.

The Community of Clarkston should extend a gracious "thank you" to these club members who have proven, "Never underestimate the power of a woman".
