PARADE TO HIGHLIGHT LABOR DAY

Goodwill Trucks Here Wednesday

The opening of school means many things to many people. To the children it is an annual re-adjustment time, a shift from the carefree summer days to the routine of school. To mothers it means new clothes to replace those outgrown or worn out, in brief the fall cleaning out of closets. To the men it means the putting away of summer garden tools and outdoor equipment and a chance to inventory winter needs before the snow falls.

Goodwill Industries can help and be helped during this change over period. Over four hundred handicapped employees are ready to take your summer discards, work on them, cleaning and repairing them for sale in one of their six retail outlets.

These Goodwill stores sell at a price that will enable others, less fortunate in material things, to buy necessities for themselves and children.

Goodwill's local representative, Mrs. Alfred Lee of Clarkston says that the next Goodwill pickup will be here on Wednesday, September 7th, giving you plenty of time to set aside your discards and call her at MApple 5-3381. Mrs. Lee expects to be away over the Labor Day weekend, so in case you haven't called her before then she asks that you call Mrs. Fred Steiner at MApple 5-2011.

"Remember that you will help yourself, you will help the handicapped keep gainfully employed and you will help others buy necessary clothing at a price they can afford to pay," said Mrs. Lee.

It Could Have Been

I could have lived upon the earth A thousand years ago or more. Life could have been of greater worth, If I'd have lived it years before.

I might have had a life of ease; My worries might have been so few I could have lived the way I pleased, Without a thought of deeds to do.

It could have been no pain-filled days Could settle on my stricken frame. I might have never known God's ways, And life might not have been the same.

I could have lived a century hence, And dealt with powers yet unknown. When strife for life was so intense, That man forgot to love his own.

I might have never lived at all Upon this plane of tears and strife. I could have missed the Master's call, And been deprived of earthly life.

But God had a plan for me, And I complied as best I could. The goal He has is hard to see, But I am sure the plan is good.

Frank J. Jewell Gets Promotion

The promotion of Frank J. Jewell to the position of state manager of Michigan for Seagram-Distillers Company has been announced by Executive Vice-President Herbert W. Evenson.

Mr. Jewell succeeds Raymond T. Salmon who was recently promoted to the newly created post of regional director for the State of Michigan.

In his new position, Mr. Jewell will be responsible for the supervision of all Seagram manpower, marketing and merchandising operations in Michigan.

Prior to his promotion, Mr. Jewell was assistant state manager of Michigan, a post he had held since 1950. Mr. Jewell has been associated with Seagram since 1939 when he joined the company as a sales representative; he subsequently was promoted to the position of supervisor.

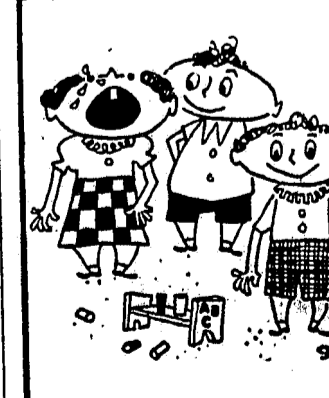

In announcing Mr. Jewell's promotion, Mr. Evenson said:

"Mr. Jewell has done an outstanding job in promoting the success of Seagram brands in the State of Michigan. The exceptional ability he has shown in supervising the men in his organization, and in furthering the growth of Seagram sales, has eminently qualified him to assume the greater responsibilities of his new position."

Mr. Jewell and his wife, Agnes, formerly resided at 856 Thendara. Their son, Patrick, 21, is a student at the Medical School of the University of Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mansfield and family spent last week at the Lake Huron Methodist Camp, about fourteen miles above Port Huron on the shore of Lake Huron. The Mansfields had a wonderful time. The children attended classes according to ages and Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield attended the class for adults. Part of the day was given over to recreation and rest. The accommodations were all that could be desired and the food was extra good. In fact, the Mansfields are ready to recommend this camp for a real vacation for any family.

More than three times as many babies were born in Oakland County in 1954 as were born in 1940, data of the Oakland County Planning Commission indicate.

Pioneers Have August Picnic

On Thursday afternoon of last week the Clarkston Pioneers held their August picnic on the grounds at the Jack Chisholm home on Miller Road. There was a large attendance and the Pioneers will remember this picnic as one of the big events of the year.

Picnic tables were set along the bank of the Mill Pond and the grounds were well shaded by the big trees. Besides honoring the birthdays of those mentioned in last week's paper John Beemer and Mrs. Arthur Davis were added to the honored list. Mrs. Josephine King, a Pioneer, made the large, beautifully decorated birthday cake.

During the afternoon the group played Bingo, with prizes being furnished by Mrs. Jack Chisholm.

The Pioneers were sorry that Mrs. Marguerite Miller was unable to be with them. Mrs. Miller is a patient in room 226 at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital.

The Service Committee missed one of its members, Mrs. Howard Lord, who is ill at her home on Robertson Court.

The Pioneers and the Service Committee are grateful to the following who helped furnish for the picnic: Doctors Harry Yoh, Rockwood Bullard and John Naz; Edw. Whipple, Dick Morgan, Mrs. Elsie Smith, Mrs. Lee Kelley, Mrs. Russell Wilson, Mrs. Malen Ellsworth, Joyce Lawson, Mrs. Richard Bullen, Mrs. Rowena O'Dell, Mrs. Clarence Drake, Mrs. Hawley Skarritt, Mrs. Stanwood Radoye, Mrs. Frank Ronk, Mrs. Ralph Thayer, Mrs. Charles Torr and Mrs. Chisholm.

Thanks go to Mrs. Clyde Becker, Mrs. Ben Powell, Mrs. Ted Hennig, Mrs. T. F. Boothby and Mrs. Chisholm for the use of their picnic tables.

Appreciation is extended to Mrs. Ben Powell for the birthday gifts—neckties to the men and handkerchiefs to the women.

The September meeting will be held at the Township Community Center.

WORLD FAMOUS AIR FORCE BAND AT STATE FAIR

The United States Air Force Band will be presented at the Michigan State Fair on Friday, September 2, through Monday, September 5, in afternoon and evening concerts. The 1955 Fair dates are September 2 through 11.

The USAF Band is considered the world's most versatile musical organization, according to Graham T. Overgard, State Fair director of music. In turn it is a 100-piece marching band, a 90-piece symphonic orchestra, an 85-piece symphonic band, a 25-piece glee club (The Singing Sergeants), 5 dance bands, and numerous instrumental groups and ensembles.

"We consider this one of the major attractions for the 1955 State Fair" commented Don L. Swanson, general manager. "It is a musical organization with an unsurpassed record of accomplishment, and one that has captured the fancy and the imagination of music lovers all over the world."

When the band was organized in 1942 over 1400 professional musicians were auditioned from a wide variety of organizations ranging from the Philadelphia Orchestra and Honolulu Symphony to the Tommy Dorsey Dance Band. The 100 members are experts in their field, capable of producing a program of music to satisfy every taste with selections ranging from opera to bebop.

Frequently referred to as a "Symphony In The Sky", this colorful aggregation has presented its acclaimed art in five international tours. It has the distinction of being the only American musical organization privileged to play for the Royal Garden Party at Buckingham Palace. In Berlin's Funkturm Gardens an audience of over 35,000 sat in a driving rain storm for two hours while an additional 6,000 were trying to break down the gates.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Safety

Harry D. Waggener, a member of the Clarkston Rotary Club, addressed the Club at its regular meeting at the Township Community Center on Monday. He gave a fine talk on safety.

Disregarding the suffering and cost an accident might bring to the one injured his remarks were directed more towards the suffering to those in the family circle who might be affected through no fault of their own.

The talk was based on the scripture "Thou shalt know the truth and the truth shall set you free". By knowing how to avoid injuries through using safety devices one could avoid accidents.

The speaker read a poem based on a supposed letter written to a deceased father who had died in an industrial accident and in which the son told of the hardships suffered by his mother and himself; the loss of the home, his mother having to go to work and finally the son having to forego an education to help support the home.

Dinner was served by the ladies of the Sashabaw Presbyterian Church.

There will be no regular meeting of the Club on Monday, Labor Day, but all members are expected to be on hand to help with the annual parade.

Services Monday For William Gassick

The funeral for William Gassick of 49 South Main Street was held at the residence on Monday afternoon with the Reverend Mr. R. M. Atkins of the Clarkston Methodist Church officiating. Interment was in Lakeview cemetery.

Mr. Gassick passed away last Saturday in Pontiac General Hospital after being seriously ill for about two weeks. He was born in Yugo Slavia on February 14, 1887. He came to America when he was in his teens with the idea he was going to make his fortune. He had learned his trade as a cobbler in Europe and so he came to Caro, Michigan, and started his work. In about 1934 he came to Clarkston and purchased the Fisher Shoe Repair Shop. Over the past twenty years he did a good deal of remodeling and repairing to his shop and home.

Mr. Gassick was proud of the fact that he became a naturalized American citizen in 1924. He was a lover of nature. He was always sure that the birds were fed in the wintertime and in the summertime the grounds about his house were attractive with blooms of all kinds. Often when one would enter the shoe shop he would see Mr. Gassick's pet bird, a cockatiel, perched on his shoulder, pecking at his ear. He was very fond of this little Australian bird, Jo-Jo, and he was teaching it to talk.

Mr. Gassick is survived by his wife, Katie; a daughter, Mrs. Frank E. Cormia and three grandsons of Pelham Manor, N. Y.

"WATER WONDERLAND" MAY BE TAKEN FROM LICENSE PLATES

Possible elimination of the state's "Water Wonderland" slogan from 1957 auto license plates is being looked upon with disfavor by the Michigan Tourist Council.

Executive Secretary Robert J. Furlong said such action would be premature in light of what other states are doing. He also questioned the current reasoning behind the anticipated move.

"In 1947 when the Council first became interested in having the slogan put on Michigan license plates, only nine other states carried similar promotional material," said Furlong. "A few years before that there were only six. Now there are 22, including Michigan and the District of Columbia, which carry a slogan, picture or some other evidence of state pride."

The slogan question arose recently with the announcement that a committee of experts studying the operations of the Department of State would probably recommend elimination of the slogan from Michigan plates because they will be slightly smaller in the future. It has also been reported that the National Safety Council has urged all states to drop license plate slogans.

According to Furlong, however, a recent letter from General Manager George C. Stewart clearly states that the Safety Council has not made any recommendations on the question of slogans on automobile license plates. Furlong also said that Michigan law enforcement officials have assured him on several occasions that the slogan on present license plates does not hamper identification or other enforcement activities.

"It is extremely doubtful that adoption of a slightly smaller plate would alter this fact," he said.

Furlong emphasized that the Tourist Council's present stand against elimination of the slogan is not one of stubborn defiance.

He said: "All we ask is that no arbitrary decisions be made until it is realistically proven that elimination of the slogan is justified. Then legislation could be sponsored calling for deletion of such material from Michigan plates, with the law to take effect when two-thirds or three-fourths of the states of the union pass similar legislation."

Help Needed For Flood Area

American National Red Cross has made an initial appropriation of two million dollars for the preliminary phases of its relief operations in the East Coast flood area. However, E. Roland Harrison, chairman of American National Red Cross points out that the cost of adequately caring for these flood sufferers will run into many additional millions of dollars.

American Red Cross is making an appeal all over the country for funds from private citizens to aid in this cause. Because of the scope of the disaster and because many thousands of families are in dire stress, the organization is sending disaster teams from the entire country to assist local volunteers in meeting human needs.

Oakland County Chapter House, 118 Franklin Blvd., Pontiac, may be contacted for information on contributions to the fund. The chapter also offers to help determine the location and safety of persons in the flood area.

Soon after the floods started American Red Cross began operating 107 shelters, housing and feeding 12,000 homeless and providing clothing to everyone who needed it. These services are still being maintained, and the headquarters operate around the clock. More than 400 nurses and 150 physicians have volunteered for service.

Latest word assigns Oakland County Chapter a quota of $13,320.

First Aiders Needed This Week

Thirty-five First Aiders have signed up with Oakland County Chapter American Red Cross "Holiday Highway Safety Patrol" program for the Labor Day week end.

Mrs. Oren Brown, chairman for the current project says that the chapter is still in need of volunteers with first aid certificates to staff the cars.

Volunteers are needed mostly for Friday, Sept. 2, but service at any time during the four day holiday ending Sept. 5 will be welcomed. Hours are from 4 to 10 P. M., but service for any fraction of that time is needed.

Mr. Brown will coordinate the work of the amateur radio operators. The radio operators will have relay stations on Bald Mountain, and at the Municipal Airport, with the base of operations at the Red Cross Chapter House.

GOP CONFERENCE AT MACKINAC ISLAND

Chad M. Ritchie, Chairman of the Oakland County Republican Committee, has been named a member of the Reservations Committee for the GOP "Forward to '56" Conference at Mackinac Island September 17-18.

"Everyone interested is invited to attend the conference, which will feature nationally known speakers and workshops on political action and State governmental questions", Mr. Ritchie said.

The conference will begin Saturday morning with registration and a get-acquainted mixer. First formal meeting will be a luncheon on Saturday.

Object of the conference is to boost President Eisenhower's program and his reelection and to present a first-hand picture of how Republican action can promote peace and prosperity in Michigan.

"Everyone attending will have the opportunity to ask questions and express his own views," said John B. Martin, of Grand Rapids, Conference Chairman.

Reservation blanks may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Eunice Guentsche, Oakland County Republican Hdqts, Hotel Pontiac, Pontiac, Mich., at FEderal 2-3414 or Mr. Ritchie at FE 4-7298.

Guard Will Aid Traffic Patrol

More than 450 National Guards, ordered out by Governor G. Mennen Williams, will team up with State Police and sheriffs to patrol what is expected to be the heaviest traffic in history on Michigan's highways over the Labor Day weekend.

State Police will use 243 Guardsmen, of whom four will be pilots and 206 are being assigned to sheriffs. There also will be eight Guard supervisory officers.

Pass days of all State Police officers have been cancelled to further increase patrols and special attention will be given to high accident sections on state trunk lines. In addition, State Police will use 10 planes for aerial observation, including two which belong to the department, three from the department of aeronautics, one from the conservation department and four from the National Guard.

A special warning to drivers to be unusually alert and cautious was issued by State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

"Hundreds of thousands are going to take advantage of this last long weekend for their final trip of the summer," he said. "Depending on the way they drive, we will have a bad accident record or a good one. We can have a good one if drivers do what they should."

"The figures show we are heading for more than 2,000 traffic deaths in Michigan this year compared to 1,785 in 1954, but, conversely, our holiday weekend death toll has been less than on the average summer weekend with more than 20 and is under that of a year ago. There were 18 killed over Memorial day weekend and 19 over the Fourth of July. This indicates drivers can do better when they want to, and over this Labor Day weekend they should determine to do the very best they can."

"To be safe just use common sense and courtesy. And don't be in such a hurry. Slow down and live."

At last the great day is almost here, that is the day for the big parade sponsored by the Clarkston Rotary Club. On Labor Day morning, Monday, September 5, the crowd to be in the line-up will assemble at Miller Road and North Main Street at 9:30 and the parade will get underway at ten o'clock.

This is the one big event that closes the summer season. It is an annual event that is attracting more and more on-lookers from many surrounding areas. Each year the parade is bigger and better and the Rotarians are hoping that this year will beat them all.

Get yourself and your children into costumes—be a clown, a storybook character or a popular notable—just be in line on Monday morning and make fun for yourself and others in the community.

Get that float ready—ride a decorated bike, or a horse, or a car or piece of machinery—take part in the parade and be a real part of Clarkston and its holiday doings.

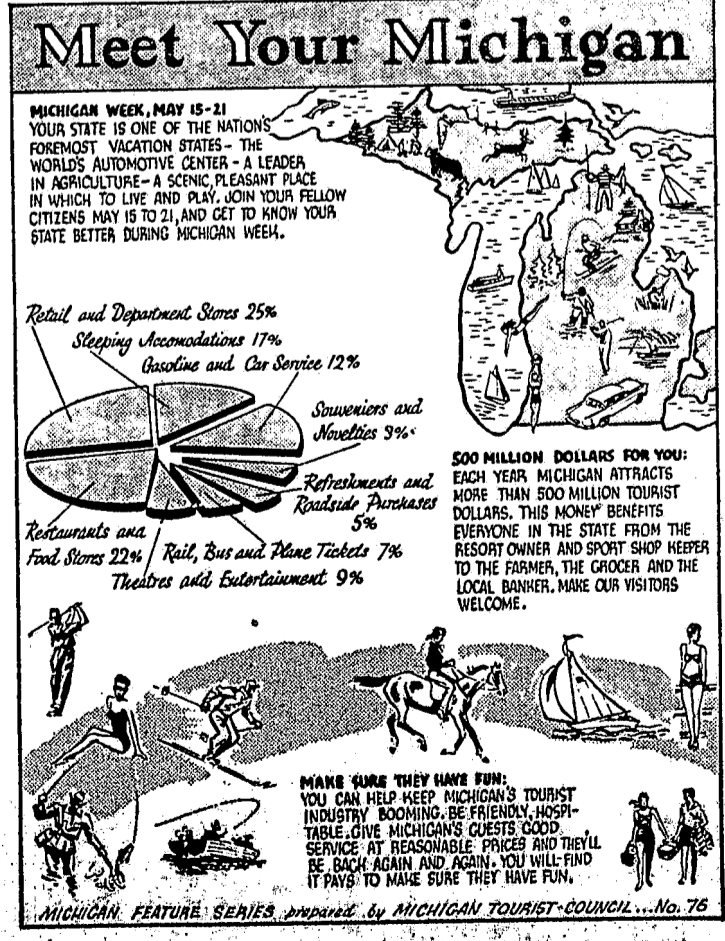

Mr. Leslie Greene is general chairman of the parade and he has an active and capable group working with him. They are arranging for re-routing traffic at parade time so that "safety" will be the watchword on Clarkston's Main Street.

By The Way . . .

The Clarkston News starts its 27th year of publication with this issue—under its present management for 22½ years. With everyone buying or building a new home it was decided that the paper was old enough to have a home of its own, so the new construction on the east side of M-15 near the Dixie will, we hope, materialize as a News building and the publication office will be located there. . . . The Clarkston Dairy Bar is closed for a short time to install new fixtures. . . . Even if he is a little weak, the pleasant greeting is still present as Guy A. Walter goes down to the Bank to inspect the new addition to The Clarkston State Bank and to meet his many friends. . . . We were privileged to be guests at the Hidden Valley Country Club, near Gaylord, this past week. As you know this club includes a golf course in summer. It has gained its fame, however, as the home of the Otego Ski Club, the skiing being done in the hidden valley in front of the Club House. With all due respect to Cinema Holiday and its picture of the Alps, the view from the lounge and from the dining room at this club is every bit as scenic and as beautiful. Mrs. Florence Doty of Probate Court informs the writer that this club was sold, through the Court, for $600,000. Truly, a fabulous building in a dream of a setting. . . . It was with a feeling of surprise that we sensed that residents of Mackinaw City were not too pleased about the new bridge. A little questioning, and we love to ask questions, brought out the fact that there is the thought that the town will just be a place to enter the bridge and get out of town, thereby relieving the village of most of its vacation and money spending traffic, the apparently financial support of the place. One hears that it is expected that a boat will be kept in operation for those who dread bridges, especially high ones, and certainly some will stay in town long enough to visit the famous island. However, the last hope also contains some thought that it might be just as near to go to the island from St. Ignace. . . . This issue records the passing of William Gassick, well known and well respected.

AUTUMN TO BEGIN ON SEPTEMBER 23, SAYS U-M PROF.

The sun will reach the autumnal equinox Friday, September 23, at 2:42 p. m., crossing the equator on its way south. This is the day autumn begins.

University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh points out, however, that the day when darkness and light are of equal length will not come until September 26. She explains this by saying that on the 23rd, although the sun will be above and below the horizon for equal lengths of time, it will appear to be above the horizon for about 10 minutes longer.

"Atmospheric refraction, the bending of the Sun's rays by the Earth's atmosphere, permits us to see the Sun before it actually comes up over the horizon and for the same reason delays its setting", she says.

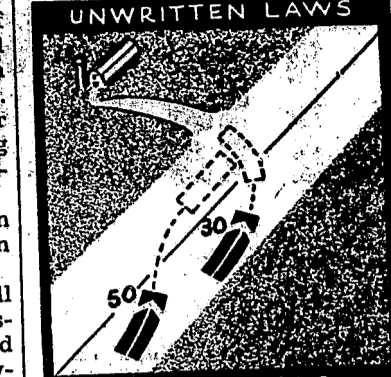

By the 26th the decrease in length of the Sun's hours above the horizon will balance this atmospheric effect and day and night will be equal. From then on the day will grow shorter.

Outstanding among the September constellations will be the Great Square of Pegasus, according to Professor Losh. It will rise almost directly in the east in the early evening.

And another point of interest will be the famous Andromeda nebula known since the tenth century. To the unaided eye it looks like a small luminous cloud or misty star but binoculars or telescope reveal it as an elliptical spot about two degrees in length, above the second star from the corner of the Pegasus square.

No. 72 WATCH PASSING OPPOSITE FARM DRIVE

Any vehicle moving slowly on a high speed highway should be an automatic danger signal to a driver approaching from the rear at regular highway cruising speed. Especially if a farm drive appears on the left hand side — into which the slow moving vehicle could turn.

To pass such a car at high speed when there is an available place for it to turn is to court disaster. A slow moving vehicle has something in common with a pedestrian. Either one can move sideways very quickly and sometimes with no warning at all.

Smart drivers pass slow drivers very slowly so that they can stop in time if an unexpected turn takes place. Remember the safety slogan, "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE".

large telescope does its true character appear — it's really made of billions of stars and bright and dark gasses. It's believed to be a universe or galaxy like ours about one and one-half millions of light years away", Professor Losh explains.

This is the most distant object the human eye can distinguish unaided, she adds.

M. S. U. ORIGINATES UNIVERSITY PROGRAM IN MOBILE HOMES

Michigan State University next fall will establish the nation's first four-year university program concerned with mobile homes.

The degree program was made possible by a $45,000 grant from the makers and sellers of trailer or mobile homes, members of Mobile Homes Manufacturers Association and of Mobile Homes Dealers National Association.

The curriculum will be designed to train personnel in manufacturing, distribution and park management phases of the mobile homes industry.

The grant also provides for short courses and workshops to be conducted for personnel now a part of the mobile homes industry. Dr. Alexis J. Panshin, head of the department of forest products in the College of Agriculture, will be in charge of the program.

DRIVER TRAINING IS PART OF LIFE ITSELF

"Driver training will continue to gain in popularity among high school youths and adults, too, because part of it is life itself."

Dan O'Shaughnessy, Lansing, chairman of the Michigan Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee, made that statement to 47 "graduates" at the end of the annual "Driver Education Workshop" at Michigan State University.

The class of 47 high school teachers and police officers, who will teach driver education this fall in Michigan communities, attended the three-week summer workshop.

Like French toast? Then you'll welcome this simple but interesting variation for a special break-

Dip bread slices into the egg mixture, lightly coating both sides. Brown on both sides in hot butter or margarine in a skillet. Serve at once with honey, sirup, or apple sauce. This amount is enough egg dip for six slices of bread.

HOT SUMMER DOESN'T MEAN COLD WINTER, SAYS U-M MAN

Old wives' tales to the contrary, you just can't predict a cold, cold winter coming up because of our hot-hot summer, says a University of Michigan meteorologist.

In fact, meteorologists aren't even sure yet that this will measure up statistically to be an exceptionally hot summer—the sweltering man in the street notwithstanding!

So says A. Nelson Dingle, research associate in the University of Michigan's Engineering Research Institute, who looks on summer and winter as separate entities significantly separated by the fall season during which anything can happen atmospherically, and usually does.

He explains this by pointing out that although there may be some continuity in weather pattern during the summer, a time of relatively few storms, changes in air temperature and other atmospheric gyrations make fall a turbulent period, disrupting what little order there might have been in the pattern.

Spring is the same kind of unpredictable season with a rapidly warming atmosphere making its weather changeable, he says.

"For some strange reason people expect the atmosphere to be a simple thing producing weather that follows logically day after day," Dingle states, "but it is actually, highly complex, huge, and influenced by many forces—some of which we don't even know about."

Weather prediction beyond a few days is a pretty risky business, he declares, since "weather persistence", as it is called, can't be counted on as a guide for longer than this period.

"The weather seems to remember what it was doing yesterday and be guided by this, but only for a couple of days", he states.

A popular topic for speculation when the mercury hits above 90 is the general warming trend evidenced all over the world in the past centuries. There are several possible reasons advanced for continuance of this, Dingle declares, and cites two theories.

One is based on the increasing amount of carbon dioxide in the air caused by man's burning of fossil fuels like oil and coal, and the other rests on the idea that as the glacial areas in the northern hemisphere decrease there is less of a source for cold air, and refrigerating capacities decrease.

But, he says, these are only theories and some meteorologists have already begun predicting a reversal of this trend.

Speaking of Michigan's weather and warming trend, Dingle says that if the pattern continues this area may find itself inclining toward the tropical. But, he concludes, there's no need for anyone around now to worry about it—it'll take years, hundreds of them.

actually, highly complex, huge, and influenced by many forces—some of which we don't even know about."

Sanitation, immunization and modern treatment methods are given credit for cornering the ails, "but no communicable disease can be counted completely out", the health department cautions.

Most of the diseases, the department goes on to say, may be merely marking time, waiting for the pressure to let up. Like measles, whooping cough and scarlet fever which caused few deaths last year, but piled up a combined total of 51,487 new cases in Michigan.

As the health department sees the situation now—with schools about to open—one of the worst hazards is complacency. The rugged days of Grandpa's youth may never return. But if the one-time communicable disease killers should slip back to power, they could make rough going for generations now in Michigan classrooms.

BRUCELLOSIS PROGRAM

Officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture who last week completed a test of Oakland County dairy herds report that positive tests were found for 21.7% of the herds in the county. A positive test indicates the likelihood of Brucellosis or Bang's Disease in the herd. This is a bout average for dairy areas in the southern part of the state according to Dr. Christopher Jewell, Romeo veterinarian who has charge of the work in this area. He stated that 746 herds with 12985 animals were contacted by the veterinarians taking the milk samples. A total of 502 herds had negative tests and 152 were positive. Blood samples will be taken from animals over a year of age in the herds having a positive test and in the beef herds. The blood test will definitely locate the diseased animals in the herd.

Information given at a series of three meetings held recently revealed that Oakland County dairymen have two choices of plans to rid their herds of brucellosis according to Lyle Abel, Oakland County Agricultural Agent.

One plan calls for immediate removal of reactors from the herd while the other allows the owner to sell reactors as vaccinated replacements become available. If reactors are found in the herd, the owner may choose to follow Plan A. W. L. Finley, animal husbandry extension specialist at Michigan State University, says the owner would then take these steps:

1. Sell all the reactors for slaughter and collect the indemnity.

2. Isolate all suspects and re-test them in 30 days.

If immediate removal of reactors for slaughter is too costly, the owner then might follow Plan B or this program:

1. Sell those reactors which are now unprofitable producers.

2. Continue rigid culling as vaccinated replacements become available.

3. Limit chances of exposing other cows by isolating them at freshening time and at heat periods if possible. If an abortion is suspected, isolate the animal immediately.

Agent Abel says these additional steps in controlling and eradicating brucellosis should be taken by farmers following either Plan A or Plan B:

Vaccinate calves at four through eight months of age; blood test the herd every 12 months or oftener; and make sure that replacements were vaccinated at four through eight months of age and are now disease-free.

Finally, Agent Abel recommends that herd owners practice good herd management and strict sanitation at all times.

Small fry never seem to tire of peanut butter sandwiches. To add noontime variety to this favorite, place thin slices of banana atop the peanut butter spread. Crisply fried bacon slices are popular additions, too.

Attention New Home Owners: Yours being an average American family, you will undoubtedly own a television set. Your used antenna or new one should therefore be properly installed by experts on your new home to necessitate a good installation that will add to the beauty of your new home. Custom installed antennas have a practical advantage as well as being neat appearing. We can install a COLOR-READY antenna of the highest quality, properly grounded, at a fair price, which we know will give the best service the year round. Another feature available of custom-installed antennas is that we can install two or more down leads in the walls of your home that are attached to plug-in outlets. This means hidden wire, unexposed to the eye, ice and snow, which in turn lessens the possibilities of broken leads, and makes T. V. and furniture rearranging a simple task without the need of technical help and loosely strewn wire behind the set. We have seven years' experience in the field of quality service and installations and can proudly boast of no fallen antennas, so have your antenna ready for use when you move in. Chances are that if you and your neighbors are not direct owners of our company, you share in our ownership through your investment in insurance policies. Insurance companies are heavy investors in the securities of this and other privately-owned, tax-paying gas companies.
What's the reason for this investment? To earn dividends — which, incidentally, form one of the smallest items in your gas company's operating dollar.
And what do you receive as a customer? You get top notch, around-the-clock gas service to make your living better. And with all this, gas service is one of the biggest bargains in your daily budget.

Here's why
A SECOND CAR is a NECESSITY

For getting children to school there's nothing like having a second car... especially when you have little ones or the school is not close by.

To enjoy your hobbies a second car is almost a must. With a second car, the men in the family can go fishing, hunting, golfing—and the girls can go about their activities—without leaving other members of the family stranded without transportation.

In case of an emergency a second car enables you to go wherever you must in a hurry. And it's always a comfort to know your second car is there—just in case.

For grocery shopping, and all other shopping too, how can you manage without a car? A second car lets Mother suit her shopping to her own schedule and convenience.

So the young folks can go, too. Young people have their own friends and interests—which are usually not the same as Mother's and Dad's. With two cars in the family, both youngsters and oldsters can come and go as they wish.

Card Of Thanks
 Our sincere thanks are extended to all who were so kind during our recent bereavement. The beautiful floral tributes, thoughtful acts and other expressions of sympathy were greatly appreciated. Special thanks go to the Reverend Mr. Robert M. Atkins for his comforting words and to the Sharpe Funeral Home for its many courtesies.

LABOR DAY SAFETY ASSURES POST-LABOR DAY LABOR
 If you expect to drive in the heavy traffic expected during the coming Labor Day weekend, it may pay you to look over the "Big Ten" safety rules outlined by Danny Eames, noted chief test driver for Dodge Division, Chrysler Corporation:
 1. Traffic regulations are for your protection. Observe them.
 2. Keep a safe distance between yourself and the car ahead, particularly at higher speeds.

3. Stay in your own lane on hills, curves, and in "no-passing" zones.
 4. If driving at night, dim your lights to oncoming traffic.
 5. The right of way may rightfully belong to you, but if a pedestrian comes along, give it to him. (And that doesn't mean "Let him have it!")
 6. Always be on the alert for children!
 7. Know the proper hand or direction signals and be sure to use them!

8. Watch where you're going, and where the cars behind, ahead, and on both sides are going.
 9. Give the other fellow more than his share of the road and watch him!
 10. Regulate speed to road conditions, rather than posted speed limits.
 You can't think of ten things at once, but try to keep Danny Eames' "Big Ten" tips in the back of your mind when you drive this weekend. If you do, you'll be sure to get back to your labors on Tuesday, Sept. 6.
