Happy Birthday, U.S.A. . . . 180 of them in fact, ever since the 13 colonies had the moral fibre to declare their independence and freedom.

July 4th might be a good day to check up on your independence, the financial kind that brings freedom from worry and want. Here in the bank we will help you in every way that we can.

We will transact no business
Wednesday, July 4th. Independence Day.

Pat entertained in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary, which is June 27th. About 100 friends and relatives were there to greet them when they returned from a leisurely ride and they were completely surprised. The refreshment table was centered with a lovely silver anniversary wedding cake. This was served with slices of ice cream centered with a red wedding bell. Most of the guests were old-time township friends. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are spending the week at their cabin near South Branch and will be joined by their daughters for the weekend.

The Good Will Club was entertained last Friday at the home of Mrs. Willard Stephens in Lake Orion. During the afternoon the ladies enjoyed a launch ride around the lake. Mrs. Oscar Virgin will have the next meeting of the Club on July 20th at her summer home at Bald Eagle Lake.

The Cheery Chums had a picnic supper and meeting last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Marshall White on Lessing St. Mrs. Henri Buck, president of the group, named the committee for the September 7th meeting. Mrs. Tom Corbin is chairman.

The annual reunion of the Waterford Village School was held last Saturday with only a small number in attendance. A pot-luck dinner was followed by a program arranged by Mrs. Clara Day of Andersonville. Mrs. Clyde Nelsey gave a most interesting talk on their recent southern trip. Henry Mehlerberg was re-elected to serve as president for the year with Mrs. H. J. Corvillion of Detroit, vice-president. Corresponding secretary is Mrs. Bessie Owen and Mrs. Mehlerberg is secretary and treasurer.

This is the last week for the Daily Vacation Bible School at the Waterford Community Church and 211 were in attendance at the start of the week.

The school will end with a program at 7:30 with each department being represented. Miss Elizabeth Jencks, child worker, is in charge of the program.

SEVEN WONDERS OF THE WORLD COMES TO DETROIT MUSIC HALL

The third production in the medium that "puts the audience in the picture titled, "Seven Wonders of the World" will have its Midwest premier in Detroit at the Music Hall Theater on Tuesday, August 14. The opening performance will be ushered in with a ceremony complete with motion picture stars and personalities, giant searchlights, bands of music and all the Hollywood trimmings.

As "This Is Cinerama" was a picture about places and "Cinerama Holiday" a presentation about people, the third production will take the audience on a visit to seldom seen, far-away places with Lowell Thomas, the celebrated newscaster, leading the way, as they explore the wonders of the old and modern worlds.

As produced for the Stanley Warner Cinerama Corporation, Lowell Thomas, whose approach to film entertainment has proved almost as revolutionary as Cinerama itself, "Seven Wonders of the World" uses real people, real places and real situations to achieve its dramatic effect.

In the three and a half years that have passed since Cinerama was first introduced to the American public, the technique has undergone many modifications and improvements which will be introduced in "Seven Wonders of the World".

Among these are faster lenses, which permit greater flexibility in making exterior sequences, a perfected CineramaSound system that extends still further the phenomenal range and fidelity of the aural effects, and even closer synchronization of the three separate films that together provide Cinerama's single giant image on the screen.

The sense of audience participation, that has made Cinerama unique as a medium of entertainment, is accordingly intensified still further in the new production.

The current presentation Louis de Rochemont's "Cinerama Holiday" will have completed an epochal run of 80 weeks when it leaves the Music Hall, Sunday, August 12, to make way for Lowell Thomas' "Seven Wonders of the World".

FOURTH BLAZED GLORIOUSLY A CENTURY AGO

The Grand Old Fourth of July blazed as gloriously for teen-agers a century ago as it does now, according to an old diary in possession of The University of Michigan Historical Collections.

Elizabeth Gurney (Taylor), fourteen at the time, wrote an account of that holiday as it was celebrated in 1854 in the little town of Centerville in St Joseph County.

"Today the great Fourth of July has come once more with its pleasures and pains," she writes. "Father and I went to see them form a procession and march to the new Methodist meeting house. Mr. Upson delivered an oration. We went from there to the courthouse after some ice cream and refreshments."

Lizzie didn't have to wait too long for the excitement to start: "While there we were alarmed by the bell ringing and a cry of 'Fire'. We found out it was Mr. Powers' house. They finally succeeded in putting out the fire after tearing up the furniture. Her husband has gone off peddling lightning rods."

She continues, "In the evening we went to see the fireworks in the public square. They had fireballs, Roman candles, and rockets, some of them beautiful. After the fire I went to the courthouse with the market basket after our dishes. They were as busy as ever."

"Again we heard the fire alarm! It was Bennett's tin shop. It caught fire from a firecracker thrown on the roof. Mr. Powers' house is supposed to have taken fire by a firecracker on the door mat."

"We found out also that there had been fire enough to burn a large hole in the courthouse

Dead Sea Draws Visitors As World's Lowest Spot

The mysterious Dead Sea, lowest body of water in the world, is slowly coming to life again under the impact of travel. Located in Southern Jordan, one of the Bible Lands the Dead Sea has shrunk from pre-historic times to its present size of 47 miles by 10 miles. Its surface is 1,300 feet below the Mediterranean and its waters are fed from a single source, the River Jordan. The water flowing in has no outlet so evaporation carries it off in eerie, blue-white clouds that linger over the landscape.

Before tourists sampled the briny sea, there was no life about except for gulls plucking dead fish lying on the surface. Even fish, entering from the River Jordan, could not live in the high salt content of the sea. This content, between 23 and 25 per cent, is four times as high as other seas.

The only signs of life are dead fossils from a pre-historic age when the sea was much larger in area and actually topped the Mediterranean in height. But, in the memory of man, no life has stirred there. Greek writers started calling it, "The Dead Sea," but the Arabs were more graphic, calling the eerie place the "Stinking Sea" or "Sea of Overhelming."

But now there are searches underway probing the thousand-foot-depth minerals. And each year brings larger flocks of tourists to picnic on its shores and to wade into the water, the salt content of which buoys up swimmers so their shoulders are constantly above water. When they leave the Dead Sea stays with them as considerable effort is necessary to scrub off the brine.

stairs, making, in all, three fires in one day. I think that is doing pretty well for good old Centerville!" she concludes happily.

U-M CONFERENCE SET TO DISCUSS HEALTH OF AGED

Michigan doctors, social workers, public health personnel and others interested in "Health for the Aging" have been invited to participate in The University of Michigan's ninth annual Conference on Aging, July 9-11.

Directed by Wilma T. Donahue, chairman of the division of gerontology of the U-M Institute for Human Adjustment, this year's conference will be concerned with how to maintain health during the aging process, improve medical efforts to check chronic disease, and meet medical costs for persons over 65.

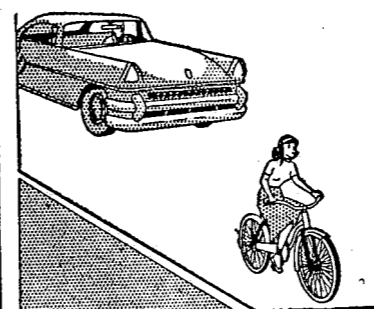

Further information and registration forms may be secured from the Division of Gerontology, 1610 Rackham Bldg., University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

An action-packed summer is in the offing for Michigan vacationers this year with more than 60 special events scheduled to be held throughout the state during July and August. Emphasis is on water sports, appropriately pointing up Michigan's abundant facilities for boating, water-skiing, fishing and swimming.

Included are water carnivals, boat races, fishing and flower festivals, showboats, shuffleboard, baseball, tennis and golf meets, summer stock theatres and a national music festival.

Most modern truck V8's ...and the pounds prove it!

Pound for pound, the most powerful truck V8's today are Chevrolets. That's one way you can tell they're the most modern V8's going!

Chevrolet's modern short-stroke V8 truck engines do more work for their weight than any other V8 in any truck today!

That means they carry around fewer pounds for power they develop. (They weigh up to 200 pounds less than other comparable engines!) It means, too, that less of the maximum truck G.V.W. consists of engine weight—and more is devoted to payload.

Stop by and let us give you the facts on Chevrolet's compact, super-efficient truck V8's.

Weigh the facts...
and you'll choose today's most modern trucks

Wasted weight is engineered out of Chevrolet truck V8's! The ultra short-stroke of Chevrolet's truck V8's makes possible a rugged yet compact cylinder block. Modern design cuts down engine weight and increases engine efficiency.

More power per pound means more power for your payload! Since less power is used in moving engine weight, a bigger proportion is available for moving your payloads. You get hour-saving performance on the job. And modern V8 power saves dollars, too!

There's a modern V8 for every Chevrolet Task-Force truck! There's a powerful, deep-breathing V8—either standard, or optional at extra cost—in every Chevrolet truck model. Horsepower ranges as high as 195 for fast, efficient high-tonnage hauling.

Just one for the road—that's all. Just one little drink. The home team won, so why not have a little celebration? And sometimes you get away with it, but...

Sometimes You Don't!

This driver wasn't so lucky, and this might have been you. He won't be there for the kickoff next Saturday or any Saturday. So remember, when you drink—don't drive, because one out of every five fatal traffic accidents is caused by a drinking driver.

Don't rely on the other guy! Almost every driver makes a mistake once in a while. So don't take chances just because the "other driver" is in the wrong. Many drivers have been killed standing up for their rights.

Signs of life—heed them! Traffic signs are different shapes, to help you identify them quickly. Most shapes mean "caution." The octagonal shape means "stop." Learn what all signs mean—your life may depend on it!

Civil Defense Has Key Role in Peace

Natural disasters can strike anytime, anywhere. From pioneer days to the present, neighbors have always helped each other in times of distress. But often, the power of a great hurricane, flood or tornado completely outmatched the valiant but disorganized efforts of untrained volunteers.

TODAY THE UNITED STATES has a form of disaster insurance—civil defense. Like any other insurance, it doesn't guarantee that disaster won't occur.

But by executive order, the Federal Civil Defense Administration does have the responsibility for coordinating all disaster relief efforts of the Federal Government under Public Law 878. This guarantees that the resources of the entire nation can be marshaled against nature on the rampage as required. It's a job which requires the skills of many specialists, such as the Army Corps of Engineers, the National Guard and the American Red Cross. Trained civil defense workers in the general disaster area put their rescue, traffic control, first aid and other skills to practical use.

Demonstration Agent. She suggests other new methods besides sitting while ironing to make ironing more pleasant. Use both hands while ironing. Interchange the iron from one hand to the other, depending on the direction in which the iron is moving. Arrange, smooth, and fold the clothes with your other hand.

Avoid lifting the iron to an iron stand. Just rest it at the point where it is last used and don't return it to the right end of the board each time.

Use long, rhythmic strokes, ironing with the thread of the fabric. Iron each section perfectly dry before starting the next. Mrs. Bennett explains that you should let heat and moisture do the work; no pressure is needed.

Arrange clothes as little as possible. Bring the clothes to your iron, rather than the iron to the clothes. Move the ironed section away from you.

Mrs. Bennett tells that more tips on making ironing pleasant are in a new bulletin which is available at the county extension office in Pontiac. Just ask for Extension folder F-215, Ironing Made Easy.

Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God".

Gideons answer to the men of Israel who asked him to rule over them will be included in the readings from the King James Version of the Bible (Judges 8:23): "And Gideon said unto them, I will not rule over you, neither shall my son rule over you: the Lord shall rule over you."
 The basis of proper self-government will be emphasized in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (106:7): "God has endowed man with inalienable rights, among which are self-government, reason and conscience. Man is properly self-governed only when he is guided rightly and governed by his Maker, divine Truth and Love."

HEALTH DEPARTMENT CAUTIONS VACATIONERS

Department officials explain that the HDA is the green and gold "Health Department Approved" sign which nearly 2,000 Michigan resorts and motels now post as an emblem of high sanitation and safety standards. The HDA program, now four years old, is run mainly by local health department sanitarians, who check accommodations for everything from poison ivy along the footpath to microbes in the water. The department said that many approved resorts and motels now put miniature reproductions of the HDA in their advertisements and brochures and, in some areas, the HDA signs are even being used in restaurant sanitation programs. "Although you may not think particularly about health and safety as you start out on your vacation", the department said, "staying where sanitation standards are high may mean the difference between having a good vacation, or having one marred by sickness, injuries and disappointment. "If you want to have fun, and want to play— "Take your family to the HDA!"

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Junior Gets "Pinned" Down
Junior Baker and friends are all set for their circus. Look for their advertisements on neighborhood trees. The kids have had problems in staging the event. The biggest was the Admission fee. Junior wanted to charge five cents, Mrs. Baker thought it would be much nicer if they charged five pins. So Junior held a meeting with his Directors—then told his mother they'd taken her advice. The ads now read: Giant Circus in Baker's Backyard. ADMISSION FIVE PINS PLUS FIVE CENTS TAX.
From where I sit, that's a cute example of a mighty important point—if you want things to turn out your way, then you had better let the other fellow have his choice, too. For instance, if your taste should happen to run to, say, iced tea... then you owe it to yourself to see that those who prefer beer, buttermilk or what-have-you get to enjoy their favorite beverages, too. After all, turn about's fair play.
