Crowd Enjoys Senior Play

The Seniors of the Clarkston High School presented "Time Out For Ginger" last Saturday night to an appreciative audience.

Miss Katherine Bayer, the director is to be commended for her choice of characters. The students were well poised and they seemed to enjoy their part just as much as did their audience.

MRS. CLAUDE CAMPBELL HOSTESS TO CIRCLE

The Lydia Circle of the First Baptist Church met November 12 at 7:30 P. M. at the home of Mrs. Claude Campbell on Orion Road. There were 11 present.

During the devotional period, Ada Powell spoke on the subject "Ways of Showing Our Thanks to God".

The December meeting which is to be a Christmas Party, will be December 17 at the home of Mrs. Wendell Bishop on Fleming Lake Road.

After the business meeting the group, under the supervision of Mrs. Walter Gibson, cut out and embroidered baby bibs which will be sent to our missionaries to use as gifts.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Clarkston Locals

Bird Cooley has been transferred from the hospital in Goodrich to St. Joseph's Hospital in Pontiac, where he underwent surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Haddrell of Pine Knob Road are expecting 8 guests from Detroit and Pontiac for a Thanksgiving dinner on Thursday.

The Junior class of Clarkston High School is sponsoring "Plymouth Rock", a dance to be held at the school on Wednesday evening from 8:00 to 11:30.

Miss Beverly Bell, singing teacher at the Clarkston Elementary School, is organizing a youth choir at the Methodist Church for high school students. The choir will meet on Sunday at 6:00 P. M.

Carol Fitch, daughter of the Harold Fitches of White Lake Road celebrated her 15th birthday Sunday. Several friends stopped by during the day to extend congratulations.

Miss Bonnie McNaughton, who is attending Michigan State University, is home and will spend the Thanksgiving holiday with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. McNaughton of Ortonville Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mickle of Whipple Lake are expecting his sister, Miss Mabel Mickle, and three friends, Miss Kennetha, and Donald and Hartley Schell of Detroit, for dinner on Thanksgiving Day.

The question has been asked: Do very many from Clarkston go north hunting? Well, a few years back The Clarkston News made an attempt to list the deer hunters from this section, but now the list has grown so that it would perhaps be easier to list those who stay at home. A few from here go to the upper peninsula; the majority stay this side of the Straits and a few hunt right in this area. Among those who tried to make the opening of the season were: R. L. Jones and son, Bob, Richard Bullen and son, Tom, John Ronk, Herb Beach, Ray Jarvis, Frank Ronk, Frank Richardson and J. D. Powell.

Advice To Hunters Near Clarkston

Hunters killing buck deer near Clarkston or elsewhere in southern Michigan are urged to phone the Rose Lake Wildlife Experiment Station near Lansing.

The Clarkston area hunter can call this Michigan Conservation Department office collect at Lansing, Federal 9-8638. A hunter should wait until the deer has already been taken to a frozen food locker for processing. The hunter will examine it there. Even if only the head remains, he can still obtain valuable information.

"We need to determine the age and weight of over 300 southern Michigan buck deer this fall," states Dr. C. T. Black, experiment station head. "Only by examining an adequate number of well-fed, fat deer can we fully appreciate the amount of deer winter food supply available in Michigan herds."

"Weights and antler measurements from southern deer will be compared with the much larger volume of data obtained from northern deer at roadside checking stations and in extensive locker plant checks," says the research biologist. "Annual inventories of this type will contribute much toward determining the effects of special deer seasons as are again authorized this fall."

Usually southern Michigan bucks are larger and develop better antlers than most northern deer of the same age. Southern deer normally develop six point racks and dress out at 130 pounds. Most northern bucks at a year and a half are spike-horns or three or four pointers and weigh about 100 pounds.

Miss Inez Sutton, of Martin's Ferry, Ohio, was the houseguest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Maybee. Miss Sutton is a Missionary to Egypt and is home on leave.

Sheldon Smith, attending his freshman year at the University of Michigan spent the weekend of the 10th at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Smith of Maybee Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Norgrove of Maude are having six guests for dinner on Thursday to celebrate Thanksgiving and also to honor their daughter, Sharon, on her sixteenth birthday.

Richard Thornburg of Maybee Road bagged his buck the first day of the season. He and his daughter, Alberta, will leave Tuesday for Indiana to join Mrs. Thornburg who has been visiting her sick mother.

"Let Us Be Thankful"

A great idea born in the mind of one man under adverse circumstances, will often grow, flower, and change the whole world. Such an idea was born in the mind of John Robinson, pastor of the little Independent Church, Scrooby England. He was the spiritual shepherd to simple industrious villagers who, because of secret meetings, were arrested, thrown into prison, fined, and were continually harassed. This persecution arose from their refusal to conform to the repressive rule of King James and his authorities.

Sparked by the text from II Corinthians 3:17, "... where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty," John Robinson and his little congregation began to dream of a land possessed with the spirit of God, and rewards of liberty. The energetic pastor never let his people forget this inspiration as he preached sermon after sermon on this idea.

He was little satisfied with the "compromis society" which alone was possible to his people where they were "Will you be content," preached John Robinson, "to go down to your graves with your witness undelivered, and your bravest hopes unattempted? Or will you risk something, nay everything, to translate your theories of Christian freedom into a veritable free society?"

His dream of "a land of liberty and a home of the brave" began to fire the hearts and minds of his congregation. Preparation was made to establish a community of free people in Leyden, Holland. This failed. The dream was unfulfilled.

Returning to England, John Robinson's body had grown feeble with the rigors of persecution and age, but his spirit remained flamingly strong. Now his vision of a "liberty loving land" reached west across the Atlantic to a new and strange continent. The younger members of his people became imbued with the "hope" of this new country.

Like Moses who was refused permission to see the promised land, John Robinson was never to see Plymouth Colony. He was like so many who do not share in the realization of their dreams however, he was to see his fulfilled. "A considerable portion of the church, including the aged pastor, and all who were considered too feeble to cross the Atlantic remained behind."

One hundred and two set sail for America on September 6, 1620. As one historian has stated we can see John Robinson, old and feeble, denied what was the greatest in his life, standing on the shore, waving to his loved ones, with tears streaming down his cheeks. What he longed for was not to be shared by him—but what an impact his idea made on the world!

The events which occur in Plymouth Colony are well known to most Americans. The text which spurred John Robinson to preach and created his dream of a "liberty loving land," "... where the spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty," was reaching fulfillment.

The Pilgrims remind us that things we live for are more precious to life than the things we live on. Sometimes they are more valuable than life itself. The virtue and ideal of liberty had this meaning not only to the Plymouth Colony, but also to later colonists. Listen to Patrick Henry before the House of Burgesses in Virginia, 150 years later, when he cried out, "Give me Liberty or give me death!"

The Pilgrims were to share in both. At the close of that first winter half of the original number lay in a little burying ground. When reduced to shell fish and water for food, devout Elder Brewster still raised his voice and gave thanks cheerfully that they were "permitted to suck the abundance of the seas, and of the treasures hid in the sands." The new found liberty was more important than something to live on, and thankfulness thus rose out of a condition of severe hardship.

This is the spirit in which the tradition of "liberty" in America was born. It began as a dream in the mind of a little preacher in Scrooby, England. The dream became a vision in the minds of young men who translated the vision into a living experience in Plymouth Colony, and through the years, the United States of America.

Governor Bradford of Plymouth Colony sums their love of liberty up in this way, "Out of small beginnings great things have been produced; and as one small candle may light a thousand, so the light here kindled hath shone to many, yea, in some sort to our whole nation."

Let us be thankful for a nation still blessed with freedom. Let us be a nation "... where the Spirit of the Lord is, (for in it) there is Liberty."

Fred J. Beckman, who was a patient in Ford Hospital, is convalescing at his home and is feeling better each day.

Mr. Marion Becmer of Maybee Road, who has been in St. Joseph's Hospital for the past week, is showing his first signs of improvement.

Joseph C. Bird Chapter, 294, O. E. S., will hold officers' practice on Tuesday, Nov. 27, at 7:30. The next regular meeting will be December 3, and there will be no gift exchange.

This life-size tableau of the Nativity is one of the main attractions for both adults and children at the annual Christmas Fantasy in the Ford Rotunda, Dearborn, Mich. The Nativity scene this year will be in the Rotunda's center court, the front of which will be temporarily made over to resemble a cathedral. Other exhibits which annually attract more than 600,000 children and grown-ups include animated characters from fiction and fairy tale—Hansel and Gretel, Fuses-In-Boots, Robin Hood, Wee Willie Winkle and Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. There are also doll displays, a moving toy assembly line, a French pastry shop, electric trains and toy automobiles. The Christmas Fantasy this year will open on November 24 and continue through Christmas Eve.

Methodist Youth Kept Busy

Thirty-eight young people from First Methodist Church, Clarkston, are enrolled as students in colleges and universities around the country.

Pat Thayer, president, and Ira Pence, Vice-President, of the High School Youth Fellowship will represent First Methodist Church at a United Nations Seminar in New York City and Washington, D. C., in February. They will have conferences with various world leaders and Congressmen. This is sponsored by the National Board of the Methodist Church.

Fifty high school youth attended the meeting last Sunday evening, and were led in worship by Perry Smith. A Youth Choir of twenty-five voices was formed under the direction of Miss Beverly Bell, Clarkston Grade School teacher.

Sunday Service 11:00 A. M.

The inability of evil to withstand spiritual understanding of the Christ, Truth, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Demounced" will include the following (Philippians 2:5, 13):

"Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus ... For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure."

From Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the material senses testify to truth and error as united in a mind both good and evil. Their false evidence will finally yield to Truth—to the recognition of Spirit and of the spiritual creation.

The Golden Text is from III John (1:11): "Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good."

Phone Company Asks Rate Increase

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company has filed a petition with the Public Service Commission for an intrastate rate increase calling for a 5 per cent rise in company revenues.

Ray H. Storm, District manager, said "the increase is needed to cover two upward wage adjustments for company employees and other increased costs." "The pay adjustments were necessary to keep wages of our employees in line with those paid by outside industry so that we can continue to attract and keep the type of employees required to furnish good service. The adjustments were based on wage surveys showing the general level of wages paid in communities served by the company."

Storm also emphasized "the company is taking the opportunity at this time to ask for a re-balancing of its rate schedules to reflect the growing value of the service in growing communities. Existing rates are based upon a telephone census of 1946. Since that time, the number of telephones in the Clarkston local calling area has increased from 34,937 to 52,861."

Under the proposed rate schedule the various types of service at Clarkston would be increased as follows:

Res. Service	Increase per month
Individual Line	$ .55
Two-Party Line	.50
Four-Party Line	.45
Business Service
PBX Trunk	$1.25
Individual Line	.75
Two-Party Line	.25

Installation and move charges, extra directory listings, and some other miscellaneous services would also be increased.

The increase for most services largely reflect the increased number of telephones in the local calling area.

The requested revenue increase would approximate $12,500,000 a year, 52 per cent of which would go to the Federal Government in taxes.

"Even with this proposed increase," Storm said, "the price of telephone service for most of our customers will have gone up less than half as much as most other things. And telephone service still will be one of the real bargains in our economy."

State Police Back Safety Council

Michigan State Police have swung behind the National Safety Council's program to "Back the Attack" on traffic accidents with a special campaign designed to prevent the type of accidents which usually spiral in the winter months, particularly in December.

Safety and traffic bureau officers from throughout the state discussed the drive at a meeting at East Lansing Headquarters, and, in turn, are outlining it to all personnel at post meetings. The campaign is aimed at strengthening the present selective enforcement program and excessive speed, drinking drivers, nighttime driving hazards, and pedestrian mistakes, which are characteristic of December accidents.

Also receiving preventive attention will be railroad crossing accidents. In 1955 there were 93 persons killed and 350 injured in 669 accidents involving collisions of motor vehicles with railroad trains. The first three months of the year accounted for 52 per cent of the deaths, 41 per cent of the injuries and 39 per cent of the accidents.

Michigan's net death toll is still below that of a year ago. For the first 10 months of the year and up through November 15, 1,469 persons had died compared with 1,708 in the same period in 1955. Although this shows a saving of 239 lives, the figure is expected to be reduced to about 200 when adjustments are made due to delayed reports.

The stepped-up safety effort are intended to prevent any reversal and wind up the year with a most substantial reduction in fatalities.

By The Way . . .

As the deer begin to be brought home from the north by hunters, attention is directed to an article in this issue of The News about hunting deer in this county. The State must, therefore, be coming interested in the size of the herds around us—to the extent that recommendations may be made next year about local hunting.

Because of the large number of Rotarians from the Clarkston Club who are hunting, it is planned as this is written, to hold the weekly dinner in the Community Center for those who stayed at home; then adjourn to the home of Howard M. Kleff where colored television viewing will take the place of the regular program . . . The News is early this week so that you can see where to buy the makings of your Thanksgiving dinner. Then comes the big day when we give thanks for our good harvest—and then it is Christmas time everywhere. In fact, before the big dinner, many will watch the parade ushering into this area the arrival of Santa Claus. . . . As we turn our thoughts to the exchange of Christmas gifts, it is well to remember that nearly everything one could wish can be purchased in our own community, just as reasonable and with the avoidance of large crowds.

ADVICE TO DEER HUNTERS

With the deer hunting season here, the Michigan Heart Association issued its annual warning to deer hunters advising them against violent and sudden exercise which might strain their hearts.

E. A. Irvin, M. D., of Dearborn, President of the Michigan Heart Association, said conditions present in deer hunting are ideal for bringing on a fatal attack to persons with coronary disease. These are general exertion, varying in degree and depending on the seriousness of the heart condition, exertion after a meal, cold weather and the excitement of the hunt. Every hunter experiences these to some degree, and a man with a heart condition stands a good chance of suffering an attack if he extends himself, Dr. Irvin stated. Anyone with a history of coronary (heart) disease should consult his physician before starting on a deer hunting trip. He said, especially if he feels any "chest pains".

"Tramping two or three miles through woods or a swamp, or helping to dig a deer puts quite a strain on the heart of a man who usually walks only from his house to his car and from the elevator to his office," Dr. Irvin said. "Take it easy and enjoy yourself. You might better never get a deer than to put yourself in bed for six months or not get home at all from your hunting trip."

The Michigan Heart Association, a Michigan United Fund agency, makes these suggestions to deer hunters to help protect their hearts: 1. Avoid over-exertion; 2. Get plenty of rest; 3. Keep warm and avoid infections; 4. Avoid self-diagnosis; 5. Don't worry—worrying cures or prevents nothing, but it can place a load on an already damaged heart. Instead, find out the facts about your heart and do all that you can to protect it by following your physician's advice.

A STUDENT'S OPINION OF C. H. S.

by Alice Lounsbury

As I visit the seven other students in our league and talk with students from schools throughout the state, I am rapidly coming to the conclusion that our own Clarkston High is one of the best schools existing today.

We have an excellent staff of teachers who are always available to give help or lend a sympathetic ear. Our teachers are wonderful, down-to-earth people, and never in the four years in which I have attended Clarkston High, have I ever had a teacher refuse help to me.

We have a beautiful school which is kept that way by the cooperation of students and by a staff of custodians who do their utmost to keep the school neat and attractive at all times. Our school buildings are kept in good repair; in fact, a lot of the building is almost new. If you will take time to notice, our school has no dirty, scribbled walls; it has no paper stuffed into corners and not cleaned out.

The rules which we have are not many, nor are they unreasonable. We have a few necessary ones like no skipping school, no smoking on school grounds. Of course, we have our problems too. Recently some vandalism has occurred which nearly took away the many privileges we have. If the students who are responsible for this behavior could only realize how much they are hurting, not only themselves but every student at Clarkston High.

Just to point out how lucky we are, let me compare our school with a few others.

There are some schools that have very little noon hour dancing and no chicken whatsoever. Clarkston has dancing at least two days a week. Most schools outlaw levis as well as require that collars must be down and shirts buttoned. In most city schools, students are not allowed to leave the property until school is dismissed in the afternoon. Another school is not allowed to take busses to games. Clarkston has one or two busses at every away game. Some high schools' student council has charge of all social functions except the prom and the Junior-Senior banquet. In Clarkston, every class may have charge of dances after games and special dances. Most schools have pep assemblies before home games only. This year Clarkston has had a pep assembly before every game.

Considering all these facts, I think you must agree with me that our Clarkston High School is one of the best schools there is, so why don't we all work toward that common goal: to keep it this good and make it better.

"Thank God For America—Our New Home!"

This thankful Hungarian family of fourteen offered a prayer of thanksgiving as they sat down together recently for their first dinner in their new home in Chicago. One of the largest family groups to immigrate to the United States under the provisions of the Refugee Relief Act of 1953, the father's visa represented the 30,000th person to come to this country under auspices of Catholic Relief Services-National Catholic Welfare Conference. It brought the overall total of homeless refugees resettled by the agency in free countries throughout the world since 1945 to 200,000, marking the greatest effort of any voluntary agency.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Bela Roman with twelve of their fifteen children ranging in age from 3 years to 26. Three daughters remained in France—two of them nuns and one married. With the assistance of the Hungarian Catholic League a home and job assurance have been provided for the family. Roman, who is 58, and his 48-year-old wife, Elisabeth, fled with their eleven children to Germany from their native Hungary in 1944, when Russian troops entered the country. Their flight was prompted by the father's fear of communist reprisals. As a young man, in the Hungarian Royal Army in which he served 23 years, he had taken an active part in the 1919 uprising against the communist regime of Bela Kun. Their nomadic existence finally took them to Vosges, France, from which place they immigrated.

Here they will begin a new life eagerly awaiting the day they can become American citizens. Mrs. Roman stated, "It was only the grace of God that let us rear our family through these years."

INTERVIEWS WITH SENIORS by Sally Bauer

The senior girl in the spotlight this week is Joyce Shuler. She is a 5 foot 1 1/2 inch, brown-eyed brunette. When asked her favorite sport Joyce replied, "I like to watch and play basketball." Joyce likes to say, "doesn't that grind ya!" In her spare time she listens to records, preferably "Since I Met You Baby". Joyce's favorite food is Italian spaghetti. Her post-graduate plans are indefinite.

The senior boy being featured is John Reynolds. He is 5 feet 8 inches tall; has brown eyes and brown hair. John says swimming is his favorite sport. When asked his pastime he replied "Just getting into dutch". He likes to say, "Oh Yes!" John likes to listen to "Money Honey" while eating chicken and French fries. After receiving his diploma he plans to join the Navy.

U-M SPONSORS HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE MEET

Debate teams in 202 Michigan high schools will open the first preliminary rounds of debates this week in the annual Michigan High School Forensic Association competition.

Organized under the auspices of The University of Michigan the Forensic Association competition offers the state's top debaters a total of $2,800 in scholarship awards donated by The Detroit Free Press. Finalists will meet in Ann Arbor next spring, following four preliminary rounds and a series of elimination meets.

Topic for the 1956-57 debates will be: "Resolved, That the Federal Government Should Sustain the Prices of Major Agricultural Products at Not Less Than 90 Per Cent of Parity."

This year's enrollment of schools in the Forensic Association program is a 27-year high, according to Alfred W. Storey, association manager. The all-time record was set in 1929.

Lower Peninsula schools participating in the program follow either the general state schedule for debates or local league schedules. All teams will complete the equivalent of two home and two away debates before the start of regional elimination tournaments in February.

Listed in the participating schools is Clarkston with D. Healy as coach and Waterford with Patty Looman as coach.

SAFETY PROGRAM FOR P. T. A. COUNCIL

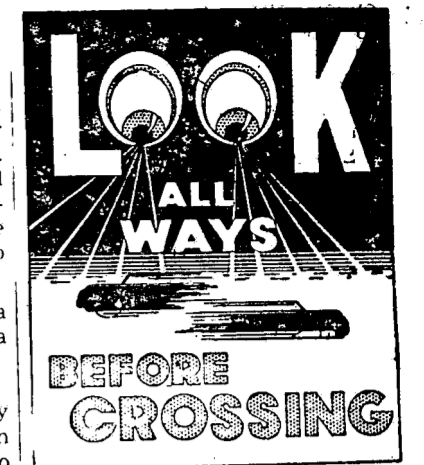

A stimulating evening is planned for all Oakland County Delegates who attend the November twentieth meeting of the Oakland County Council, which will be held at the Donelson School, Tuesday, Nov. 20th. The business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Alan Armstrong will precede the program.

Mr. Clyde R. Haskill of the Pontiac Safety Council has planned for an exceedingly interesting safety program. He will be accompanied by a police officer from the Oakland County Sheriff's department, a member of the Road Commission, and an officer from the Waterford Police Force. This group will help to demonstrate several types of safety programs that are available and suitable for presentation by local P. T. A.'s. These demonstrations will deal with various school safety problems. There should be one which should be beneficial to each and every P. T. A.

Following this, there will be a Round Table discussion and a question and answer period.

The first step in storing away those summer clothes is to clean them thoroughly. It pays off to put them away clean, because the longer spots and stains remain on the fabric, the more likely they are to become set and hard to remove. These spots are hard to use around those summer white shoes to protect them and the things with which they are stored.

HONORS COLLEGE FOR M. S. U. STUDENTS

An Honors College for superior students at Michigan State University is expected to begin operation in the fall of 1957. The new college will offer opportunities for special study to students who show promise of high achievement in any field. It is believed to be the first such college in an American public university.

Students who achieve a "B plus" average in their first year at Michigan State will be relieved of all normal graduation requirements other than the total number of credits. Each student then will have a program individually planned for him by an advisor in his field of interest.

Dr. Hamilton said the Honors program may allow the attaining of credit in some courses by examination, independent study under faculty supervision, and the waiving of prerequisites for some advanced courses to allow undergraduate students to enroll in graduate work.

"Any public university has an

The new 1957 Plymouths are low, wide, ground-hugging and powerful. They have a revolutionary new Torsion-Aire ride, said to be the most important advancement in automotive design since the introduction of independent front suspensions. The parking-turn signal light is positioned parallel to the headlight to give a dual headlight effect.

obligation to provide the best possible education for students of a wide range of abilities," Dr. Hamilton said. "We still will devote every effort to provide a program of high quality for the average student."

TO VISIT FROSH AT MICHIGAN STATE

Michigan high school and junior college administrators will confer with more than 3,000 of their former students at Michigan State University, November 27-28.

The occasion will be the 20th annual High School and Junior College Follow-Up Conference, sponsored by the M. S. U. office of High School Cooperation.

More than 375 principals and counselors from Michigan high schools and deans and presidents from State junior colleges will have an opportunity to evaluate the progress being made by their former students now attending M. S. U.

"This conference will provide the means to study subject-matter articulation between the secondary schools, junior colleges and Michigan State University," said Dr. Guy Hill, director of the M. S. U. Office of High School Cooperation.

"The event will also enable the school officials to take back valuable information to help make their high school and junior college programs more effective."

Notices have been sent to the students inviting them to meet their former principals and deans on Saturday morning in the M. S. U. auditorium. Dr. Hill estimates that administrators and students from 225 schools will participate.

APPLE CIDER OR APPLE JUICE

Apple juice or cider is good for you as well as good tasting declares Mrs. Frieda Bennett, Oakland County Home Demonstration Agent. One cup has about 120 calories, some vitamin A and small amounts of calcium, phosphorus, iron and vitamin B.

When you shop for cider, you should find some valuable information on the label including the ingredients, net weight, and the name and address of processor or distributor. Mrs. Bennett explains that if benzoate of soda has been added to preserve the sweet cider to prevent it from becoming "hard", it will be indicated on the label.

Fresh untreated cider MUST be refrigerated to retain its fresh flavor for a week or ten days. But, all cider should be refrigerated to maintain quality and full flavor. Cider can be frozen either in its original container or in regular freezing containers if you leave at least 10 percent head space. The head space is necessary in order to prevent breakage of the container as the cider expands from freezing. Cider should be served either hot or cold. Have you tried mulled cider? Mrs. Bennett suggests this recipe: Put three one-inch sticks of cinnamon, two whole allspice, and two whole cloves, in a cheese cloth bag. Boil with one quart of cider for five minutes. Remove the spice bag and add 3/8 cup of brown sugar and stir until dissolved. Serve the mulled cider hot. This recipe should make six servings.

WHICH MAN PASSED THE N.P. TEST?

The poised, smartly-dressed man at the left of course. You can tell at a glance... and that's why the Ninety-Percent Test is so important. People judge you by what they see (sometimes that's all they have to go on) and ninety percent of what they see of you is what you wear. The fresh finish of drycleaned clothes is more than an extra touch... like a flower in the buttonhole. It's an integral part of good grooming. The state of your clothes tells volumes about the kind of person you are. In fact, your clothes never stop talking about you.

You buy your clothes to make a good impression. As you wear them, have them drycleaned often. A smart man takes care to keep that impression fresh.

"Now, Mrs. VanSnide, what we want to do is recondition you completely, like an OK Used Car!"

Every OK Used Car has to "pass its physical" before it's warranted in writing by your Chevy dealer. Thoroughly inspected and reconditioned, it's ready for thousands of miles of running. Volume trading makes OK Used Cars healthy values, too. You'll shop from the biggest selection of trade-ins at extra savings.

Only franchised Chevrolet dealers display this famous trademark.
