Rotary Club News

Most everyone has heard of guided missiles without knowing much more about the matter than the name. On Monday Captain Alexander and Sergeant Griffin from the Missile Station at Commerce, Michigan, were present at the Rotary Club meeting to explain and show pictures of this defensive weapon. It was explained that these stations were located near strategic points and could defend these points in case of threatened disaster by any enemy. Most members left the meeting believing that the value of such defense was worth the cost.

On Monday, June 24, at 7:00 P. M. The Rotary Club will hold a Ladies' Night at the Elk's Temple in Pontiac. All members and their wives are expected to attend. A special program is planned.

BIBLE SCHOOL AT DIXIE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Dixie Baptist Church has completed a most successful week of Bible School. The theme of study was "The Second Coming of Christ."

The enthusiasm on the part of pupils and teachers alike was most unusual and gratifying. The children learned Bible verses which tell of Christ's coming again and as a result of this study there were thirty children who accepted Christ as their personal Savior.

The attendance started with 125 and built gradually until Friday there were 167 present.

At the Bible School program on Friday night, the pupils demonstrated what they had learned through questions and answers, memory verses, and songs. The beginners also had a rhythm band. There were 222 in attendance in spite of the extremely hot weather.

The Bible School was well worth the efforts put forth.

Methodist Pastor Starts Second Year

This coming Sunday, June 23, Reverend William J. Richards, Pastor of First Methodist Church, Clarkston, will begin his second year as minister of the church, having been reappointed to First Church by Resident Bishop Marshall R. Reed, at the recent Detroit Annual Conference of the Methodist Church. Over one hundred new members were received into the church during the past year which saw many remarkable improvements made through the generosity of the membership of the church.

Highlighting the church's program was a gift of a new building site of 6.8 acres by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huttenlocher as a memorial to Mrs. Huttenlocher's parents. The church is now awaiting the arrival of the architect to help formulate plans for the new building. Also last fall the late Ada E. Mills left her home to First Methodist Church to be used in acquiring a new residence for the pastor of the church. The house and land was sold for $11,000 which will be used in the construction of a new parsonage this summer. These gracious gifts will add much to the increased program of the church.

Under the pastorate of the Rev. Mr. Richards, a second service was added to the Sunday Morning Worship in order to care for the overflow attendance. A third Sunday morning worship is contemplated for this fall. Average attendance at the Sunday Morning Worship Services this past year has been between four and five hundred.

As he begins his second year Rev. Richards has made over 1400 calls in the township, performed 19 weddings, over 70 baptisms and has counseled 77 who have come to him for ministerial assistance. He has also brought the reassurance of God's love to 21 bereaved families. He has preached 161 sermons and addressed nearly 40 different groups during the past year.

The Church School program of First Methodist Church has shown an increased enrollment of over 400 children under the leadership of Mr. Stanley White. The Music Department of the church now counts over 100 voices in its four choirs under the leadership of Mr. William Mansfield, Mr. Daniel Addis, Miss Beverly Bell and Mrs. Mansfield, and the organist Mrs. Adele Thomas.

Over 2,000 people used the facilities of the church this past year in the varied activities of its program.

Increased activity is expected this coming year with the new organization of an Intermediate Youth Fellowship, a Sunday Evening Club of Older Youth, and a Young Adult Class.

One of the most important phases of the church program will be a Building Fund Drive in September under the chairmanship of Phil Smith and David Stewart. As he begins his second year in the ministry of First Church Rev. Richards relates that, "The loyalty and devotion through prayer and an abiding Christian faith has made our church a compassionate Christian home for our people. I am constantly inspired by their warm-hearted friendship and love toward each other. Truly God is present here, and it makes me feel very humble to be his minister."

Mrs. Grant Beardslee and granddaughter, Kathleen Penfold, went to Detroit on Wednesday to see "The Seven Wonders of the World".

Flower Show Outstanding Event

The Flower Show staged in the cafeteria of the Clarkston High School last Friday afternoon and evening by the Clarkston Farm and Garden Club could really be termed a spectacle. From the entrance to the building, all along the corridor to the show room, beauty predominated—plants and flowers and a lovely lawn setting in the court made the show visitors anxious to see what was in the room ahead. They were not in the least disappointed. The members of the Garden Club are to be complimented for one of the outstanding events of the year.

On entering the show room, one feature that drew instant attention was the very fine staging that had been engineered by Mrs. R. E. Spohn and her committee. Every little detail seemed to have been considered to make the exhibit look its best.

The mantel and table arrangements drew a good deal of attention and the individual specimens, vase arrangements and potted plants were breath taking.

Many blue ribbons were won by Juniors, local and out-of-town entrants.

Some of the special projects included: Girl Scouts - camping display; Mrs. Ira Snader - painted china; Mrs. Fred Steiner - ceramics; Mrs. Robbins - Blue Pfitzers and Juniper plants, 4 years old, started from 1 year plants; Community Library - Gardening books and magazines; Conservation - loan exhibit from Cranbrook Institute of Science and color film on Wildlife.

The screening for the show was done by Mrs. J. C. Roberts of Birmingham and the judges were Mrs. Frank D. Webb, Mrs. Lindsey Gay and Mrs. George Chesley, all of Birmingham, Mrs. Clarence McBryde and Mrs. George Coulton of Detroit, Mrs. Frederick Schumann of Grosse Pointe Park, Mrs. Glenn Leland of Farmington and Mrs. James Cox of Royal Oak.

Preceding the Show a brunch for the judges was given at the home of Mrs. John DeLind. Assisting Mrs. DeLind, as co-hostess, was Mrs. Frank Lambert. Also attending were Mrs. Thomas Wilson, President of the Garden Club and Mrs. Ronald Walter, General Chairman of the Flower Show.

The Farm and Garden Club is indeed grateful to the following who cooperated to make the Show a success: Miller & Beardslee Lumber Co., Kelley's Hardware, McNeil's Nursery, Dixie Floral, Moon Valley Furniture and The First Methodist Church.

SEMI-MARKED PATROL CARS TRIED BY POLICE

An experiment in the use of semi-marked State Police patrol cars on a limited basis has been begun in the Flint area.

If successful, several will be placed in service in sections having a high nighttime accident rate. In addition to Flint, the first of these areas will include Lansing, Flat Rock and Pontiac.

The cars will be shifted to other areas where there is need intended for both day and night operation, the cars will supplement, but not replace, unmarked and marked patrol cars. Unmarked cars are used only during the day and not at night to avoid alarming drivers stopped for violations by a car not easily identified as a police vehicle. They are, however, driven by uniformed officers as will be the semi-marked car.

The semi-marked car has the State Police shield on both door panels and the stop light on the hood, but there are no other exterior markings and the siren is concealed. It is equipped with a portable oscillating red light with a magnetic base to place on the top when stopped for an accident or other emergency.

The cars will be of various colors and will carry regular license plates.

Half of the fatal accidents at night occur on rural highways. Although traffic volume drops the percentage of speed law violations is considerably higher and there are many more run-off-roadway single car accidents.

Use of unmarked cars has received public approval and has been very successful in checking the wilful type of violator who observes the law only when a marked patrol car is in sight. It is hoped to accomplish similar results with the semi-marked car.

Fishing Fun for Everyone

This Michigan fisherman, like thousands of others, finds recreational opportunity at one of the state's numerous public fishing sites. Since 1940, more than 660 of these sites have been acquainted by night when children can sleep in the back seat of the car. And, of course, a station wagon can easily be converted into a sleeping or play area.

Success of your trip with tiny ones will depend on how well you have planned the little things. They include food, clothing, games, first aid equipment and sleeping and play arrangements. Here's a check list: Snacks—these may include crackers, sandwiches, dried fruits and lemonade. Try dried fruits instead of candy; they are high in nutritional value. Clothes, choose comfortable and cool garments to wear. Carry along wet washcloths in an insulated bag for cooling off. Also a box of cleansing tissue comes in handy; some of the newer tissues come with a mild cleansing agent right in the tissue.

First Aid—carry medical kits in the car for minor accidents. Games—singing as a group and making up "round-robin" stories are fun for all.

Toys—pack a suitcase of these. Pre-school children might enjoy tinker toys, small building blocks and little cars. All children like puzzles and story books. Or, you might take along some modeling clay or homemade clay.

If you pack your needed trip essentials where they can be reached easily and quickly, you pack most of your worries away with them.

And just for fun, adds Mary Hixon, Oakland County Home Demonstration Agent, tuck in a special game or a special-snack as a surprise for a rainy day.

HIGHEST SUN WILL BRING IN SUMMER

Summer comes to Michigan and other parts of the northern hemisphere officially at 11:21, June 21 (E. S. T.) as the sun reaches its farthest north position of the year.

The so-called summer solstice will bring the noon-day sun higher overhead in the United States and Canada than at any other time of the year—about 71 degrees above the southern horizon in southern Michigan, according to Dr. James Stokley of Michigan State University.

"It is mainly because the sun climbs so high that we have warmer weather", Dr. Stokley explains. "Since it is nearly overhead at noon, a yard-square beam of sunlight covers about a square yard of earth surface. In December, however, when the noon sun is only about 24 degrees above the horizon, the yard-square beam covers more than two square yards of ground. The heating effect is less than half."

The sun's higher summer arc gives it more time to heat the ground in June—about 15 hours and 20 minutes as compared to about nine hours in December, he pointed out.

In the southern hemisphere, Dr. Stokley adds, the seasons are the reverse of ours. The sun is low for nations south of the equator when it is high for us, so June 21 will mark the beginning of winter in such countries as Argentina, Union of South Africa and Australia. Their summer begins Dec. 21 as our winter begins officially.

Dr. Stokley, an associate professor in the M. S. U. school of journalism, teaches science writing. He formerly was director of the Fels Planetarium in Philadelphia and the Buhl Planetarium in Pittsburgh.

PLAN AHEAD FOR FAMILY VACATION

Wondering how to keep the kids happy and occupied on the family vacation?

Plan ahead and family traveling can be fun, says Mary Hixon, Oakland County Home Demonstration Agent.

Short trips are most fun for small children, so try to select a spot within one or two days of easy driving. Long journeys are usually wearing, but may be made easier by frequent rest stops to "get out and stretch"; by avoiding traveling during the heat of the day; or by traveling

BAD ENVIRONMENT PRINCIPAL CAUSE OF DELINQUENCY

"An important part of the pattern of growing up is learning how to discharge tension," says Associate Prof. Max L. Hutt of The University of Michigan Department of Psychology.

Professor Hutt made this observation in an interview with The Michigan Journalist, laboratory newspaper of the U-M Department of Journalism. He was interviewed by Robert Waldeck, Mayflower Pkwy., Westport, Conn.

"I disagree with the claim that such things as crime shown in comics and on television or that the current fad of 'rock and roll' contributes very much to delinquency. Rather, I believe that they're useful outlets for getting rid of tension and anxiety. Except for periods of rapid cultural change and stress, juvenile delinquency is likely to result from conflicts within the personality," the professor notes.

"There are various causes of delinquency, the most prominent of which is a bad environment," says Professor Hutt. "Gangs, parental troubles, poverty, and a lack of recreational facilities are all part of an unfavorable background situation."

"To counteract unfavorable social situations, treatment must be directed toward improving economic and living conditions, providing recreational facilities

Iron In Michigan's Blood

This shafthouse over one of Michigan's western upper peninsula iron mines is a standing symbol of an industry that for years has been the backbone of the state's mining industry. Each year, nearly 100,000,000 tons of ore come down the Great Lakes from the western Lake Superior region.

and roll them carefully from the box into a flat dish or pan. Pick any slightly decayed or softened berries. Cover with wax paper and place in the refrigerator. Use within two or three days.

Wash berries just before you use them. Remove caps after they are washed and drained Without milk, to get the adult requirement for calcium alone, a person might have to eat, besides the usual egg, meat, bread and butter and cereal, about 30 servings of vegetables and fruits a day.

divorced from control of the law church and school, and the maintenance of a protective organ, the police. Help for and re-education of parents is essential. Although the basic idea is to help delinquent youth, they must also be taught to respect authority.

"Where a person is seriously in conflict with himself", says the professor, "he may go either way; that is, become a delinquent or straighten himself out. In this type of situation, comics, television, and rock and roll could very easily have an adverse effect."

will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at Christian Science services Sunday.
Matthew's account of Christ Jesus' stilling of the storm at sea (8:23-27) is included in the selections to be read from the King James Version of the Bible.
Passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (182:32-4): "The law of Christ, or Truth, makes all things possible to Spirit; but the so-called laws of matter would render Spirit of no avail, and demand obedience to materialistic codes, thus departing from the basis of one God, one lawmaker."
The Golden Text is from John (1:1, 3): "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. . . . All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made."

ANNOUNCING YOUTH VARIETY ACTIVITIES

The newly formed Y. V. A. of Clarkston High School is having its first dance this Saturday night from 8:00 until 11:30 P. M. Pizza and other refreshments will be ordered during the evening and served cafe style. Membership cards at a nominal cost can be bought at the door. Without a membership card there will be a general admission charge. Age limit is 15 years and up. Other programs will be planned for the rest of the summer.

Berries, in season, are usually served with sweet cream. For a different taste treat, try strawberries or blueberries with sour cream and sugar.

PLAN DESSERT PARTY FOR YOUR FRIENDS

Looking for a different way to entertain your friends? Faye Kinder of M. S. U.'s College of Home Economics suggests a dessert party.

Plan it to precede an afternoon bridge game or as an early evening get-together. You can simplify serving by offering the desserts from a buffet to be eaten at tables or from trays or plates held in the hand.

Your choices of what to serve are almost without limit. You may want to plan one main dessert with beverage and sweet "nibble foods". Or, for your diet-conscious friends, you may add a low-calorie specialty to your menu.

One such dessert you might like to try is this strawberry bavarian with only 89 calories per serving.

Tall, Dark And Handsome Iced Coffee Is A Real Refresher

What's tall, dark and handsome and genuinely refreshing? Why, iced coffee, of course! There's a summertime cooler that's as pleasing to look at as it is to taste. Just think of a tall, frosty pitcher of that zesty beverage—then see how simple it is to make, and all your hot-weather worries are over!

Here are several ways that you can make a perfect glass of iced coffee. Choose the one that best suits your summer-day schedule—for they'll all satisfy your family's thirst. The first method is quick and it's different.

Iced Coffee with Coffee Ice Cubes
Brew extra breakfast coffee and cool it. Freeze into coffee ice cubes, turning temperature control to coldest point for rapid freezing. Then make iced coffee anytime by pouring regular-strength hot coffee over the cubes. For each serving of regular-strength coffee, you will need three-quarters of a measuring cup of water and one standard measure (or two level measuring table-spoons) of coffee.

Here is an interesting new way to serve iced coffee. Make your coffee somewhat stronger than usual and pour it into large old-fashioned glasses filled to the brim with crushed ice. This is called Coffee Mist and it is usually served with twists of lemon peel. Since it contains scarcely a single calorie, it is a popular idea with calorie counters.

Here are several other delicious ways to make iced coffee:

Quick Extra Strength Iced Coffee
Make coffee extra strength by using half a measuring cup of coffee. Pour hot over ice cubes in tall glasses. The extra coffee allows for dilution caused by the ice.

Pre-Cooled Iced Coffee
Make regular-strength coffee and cool in non-metallic container in refrigerator, not more than three hours. Pour over ice in tall glasses.

Instant Iced Coffee
Mix twice the usual amount of instant coffee with a little water (hot or cold according to brand) in each glass. Add ice cubes, cold water and stir thoroughly.

If you prefer your coffee with a touch of sweetening, you will find that one of the best ways to sweeten it is with simple sugar syrup. The syrup goes into solution immediately and sweetens the coffee thoroughly.

1 package strawberry flavored gelatin
1/4 cup sugar
1 package frozen strawberries, thawed and drained
1/2 cup ice water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup nonfat dry milk

Combine gelatin and sugar. Make gelatin according to label directions, using 1 cup hot water. Add 1/2 cup berry syrup. Cool. Add berries; chill until slightly thickened. Combine ice water and lemon juice; sprinkle nonfat dry milk over top. Beat until stiff, 8 to 10 minutes. Fold into thickened gelatin mixture. Turn into 1-quart mold and chill until firm. This will give eight servings. Garnish it with fresh whole berries with the green caps on.

To make a tasty topping for an angel food cake, pour 1/2 cup warm honey over sections of six oranges. Chill and sprinkle with chopped toasted almonds. Serve over the cake.
