G. S. Day Camp A Huge Success

A happy, eventful week of Day Camp is only a memory, but one never to be forgotten. Under the outstanding leadership of Mrs. Clark Lynn, Day Camp Director, the organization was flawless and well managed. Mrs. Lynn completed over one hundred hours of professional training before undertaking the huge responsibility. All of her efforts were rewarded.

Mrs. Duane Hursfall assisted Mrs. Lynn in directing. She instructed flag ceremonies and helped in every way to make our week safe and lots of fun.

During the 5 days there were 578 total attendance. The activities were varied such as—nursery papooses had pup tents, sand boxes, toys and games; the boys' unit of Counselors children, Apaches, made belts, sit-upons, Indian shields, and tents, peace pipes, headdresses, etc. They enjoyed out-of-door cooking, watermelon hunt, games and songs. The Girl Scout units did progressive cooking, and worked on second class rank and out-of-door badges. Brownies completed an Indian Village with dolls and belts.

Special consultants attended camp to instruct in singing, sketching and photography, Mrs. William Race, Mrs. Jerome Willard and Mrs. L. D. Riley, respectively.

The Bee Keeper opened the hives and revealed how the bees made honey for the children.

The Counselors gave excellent guidance, worked very hard, and were very enthusiastic. Day Camp would not have been a success without their cheerful and tireless patience.

The generosity of Dr. and Mrs. Kobrak in making the beautiful site available is deeply appreciated by all at the camp as well as the parents of the children who had the opportunity to attend the camp.

Mrs. Gerald Kenyon, our First Aid Attendant, gave instruction in how to use triangular bandages and in giving artificial respiration. Fortunately band-aids were only necessary to use at camp. Mrs. Kenyon was faithful in attending and helped in many other ways.

To the many others who helped make this first Day Camp such a tremendous success we are most grateful.

Clarkston Pioneers Keep Busy

One of the highlights of the month of June for some of the Clarkston Pioneers was the 10th Annual Conference on Aging held at the University of Michigan when they attended the program on "Senior Citizens Day". The theme for this special program was "The Healthy Use of Time". Doctors and other specialists told of ways to keep healthy and explained new, interesting and rewarding activities for the retirement years.

The Senior Citizens of America is the largest organization of its kind in the world, with members in every state and many other countries. It is a nonprofit educational, philanthropic, scientific organization incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia. It serves as a clearinghouse for all that concerns the second half of life. The Clarkston Pioneers who attended Senior Citizens Day were quite pleased with the program and all agreed that senior citizens should keep reasonably active physically, mentally and spiritually, and that unused talent among men and women in all walks of life who have been retired should be used for public good.

Among the Pioneers who attended the program were: Mrs. Louis Burkenstock, George Harris, Myrtle Skinner, Mrs. Blanche Jones, Mrs. Lola Mann, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hoyt and Mrs. Nellie King.

The Pioneers are looking forward to their July meeting which will be a box social on the lawn at the Arnold Mann home, 7400 Holcomb Road, on Thursday, July 25th. In case of rain the party will be held in the Community Center.

A special report will be given by Mrs. Frank Minnick and Mrs. Benjamin Mikkala who represented Michigan in Ceylon at the triennial conference of the Associated Country Women of the World.

Noted speakers include: Frank Teuton, agricultural research service with the U. S. Department of Agriculture who will discuss "Research on Parade"; and Paul A. Miller, director of the Michigan cooperative Extension Service who will give "The Human Side in Tomorrow's Blueprint".

Archery Booklet Coming In August

"Archery, The Family Sport", a 36-page booklet sponsored by The Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, will be released to the public in the Oakland County area early in August, it has been announced by Marshall Johnson, OCSC public relations director and editor of the booklet.

"Archery" will be disseminated to the public through cooperating archery dealers. It will be given free of charge to interested Oakland County residents through the courtesy of these dealers.

The booklet is designed to give the residents of Oakland County a better idea of this rapidly growing family sport. Archers of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club welcome beginners into the sport and hope the new booklet will answer basic questions on sportsmanship afield, archery instructions, safety, and types of equipment to use.

According to a recent survey by the Athletic Institute, archery is the fastest growing sport, from participation standpoint, in America today. From 1946 to 1956 the total number of archers in the U. S. rose from 1,700,000 to 4,600,000, a jump of 170%.

Nationally-known archery experts are contributing to the OCSC sponsored booklet. Tracy L. Stalker of Flint, who is recognized as one of the foremost experts on archery tackle, has prepared an article on upkeep and repair of archery equipment.

President of the National Field Archery Association Karl E. Palmatier of Hickory Corners, Michigan, is another correspondent. He is writing an article on one of the most colorful of all sports, archery hunting in Michigan.

Oakland County archery dealers interested in participating in the program should phone OR 3-7441. Other conservation groups, sportsmen's organizations or dealers interested in the program should write Box 517, Waterford, Michigan.

STATE FAIR LOOKS FOR SEWING QUEEN

Further information and entry blanks may be obtained from the Home Arts Department, Michigan State Fair, Detroit 3, Michigan. All needlework entries must be submitted to the Home Arts Department by Friday, August 23.

Rotary Club Hears About Netherlands

A very interesting program was presented to the Clarkston Rotary Club at its regular meeting in the Community Center on Monday evening. President Byron Nolan presented Lloyd Megee who introduced W. K. von Weiler, the Netherlands consul in Detroit, the speaker for the evening.

Mr. von Weiler was the man who was responsible for the visit of the Queen of the Netherlands to Detroit in 1953. His description of the events leading up to this visit and the incidents of the visit itself, was interesting in that it showed the way even democratic countries prepare for royalty of foreign nations.

Mr. von Weiler's story about Rotary in the Netherlands contained the fact that there is no singing in meetings in his homeland. Singing in groups is considered out of order and undignified. He also mentioned that only the higher placed positions qualified for membership in Rotary inasmuch as they still keep the different layers of society and one class would not mingle with one in a lower class.

Civic Leader Dies Suddenly

George H. Kimball, Jr., 72, passed away suddenly on Thursday of last week in Pontiac General Hospital, after suffering a stroke. He was born in Cleveland, Ohio, November 30, 1884, the son of George H. and Emmeline Carpenter Kimball.

Mr. Kimball came from Cleveland to Detroit in 1902 and to Oakland County in 1906 to manage his father's farm at Eliebeth Lake. In 1911 he married Alice Maten in Detroit and in about 1916 they moved to 5875 Andersonville Road where he still lived at the time of his death.

Four of them will then be chosen to attend National 4-H Club camp in Washington, D. C. next June. William Middleton, 17, of Lake Orion was one of the winners. William S. Clark, 77, passed away in Bloomfield Hospital on Monday. He was born January 7, 1880, in England, but lived the most of his life in this community.

Mr. Clark was last employed by the Buick Division of General Motors in Flint.

HOW TO AVOID BECOMING A DROWNING VICTIM

SWIMMING

Know your physical capabilities; never try to swim farther or longer than you're able; don't enter the water when you're tired or hot.

After eating, wait an hour before going into the water, to avoid cramps.

Know your swimming site; watch for holes or undertow. Don't dive in until you're certain the water is deep enough for diving and also is free from stumps, rocks or other underwater obstacles.

Never swim alone. And if at all possible, swim where there's a lifeguard.

Keep a close watch over youngsters and non-swimmers.

Know how to apply one of the methods of giving artificial respiration. And remember that many persons have been revived and their lives saved because artificial respiration was continued after the victim was given up for dead.

BOATING

Be familiar with the performance limits of your boat; guard particularly against overloading and turning too sharply.

Stay off the water in stormy weather.

Never stand up in a small boat and don't attempt to change seats with another occupant.

If you can't swim, wear a life preserver.

If the boat upsets, your chances of surviving are much better if you cling to the overturned boat rather than attempting to swim to shore.

When operating a power boat, stay away from swimmers and from fishermen's boats.

$140,000 IN PRIZES OFFERED BY STATE FAIR

An all-time high of $140,000 for agriculture and livestock premiums will be offered at the 1957 Michigan State Fair, General Manager Donald L. Swanson has announced.

Swanson also announced that entries for the State Fair, August 30 through September 8, will close Friday, August 9, a day earlier than last year.

Premiums have been increased by $9,000 during the past two years.

Swanson urged farmers to make their entries as early as possible to avoid the last minute rush and to keep from being shut out of the State Fair because of lack of space. In recent years, practically all categories have been filled to capacity many long days before the deadline for entries.

The 1957 Premium book has been mailed to farmers including those exhibitors in last year's State Fair. Anyone not on the mailing list, or anyone desiring a free copy, should write to the Director of Agricultural Exhibits, Michigan State Fair, Detroit 3, Michigan.

Saving the Big Ones

Conservation Department fish workers revive a largemouth bass netted during chemical treatment of a southern Michigan lake. The chemical treatment is designed to improve fish populations in overcrowded lakes by killing off excess panfish, allowing survivors to attain normal growth rates. When these "stunted fish lakes" are treated, many bass and other large gamefish are revived for replanting in the lake.

A fan and cool thoughts generated through the reconditioning of sleds, skis and toboggans keeps 59-year-old Joseph E. McIntee, Goodwill Industries employee, cool during the hot days of the summer. Because of the nature of Goodwill's business many handicapped workers in the production departments work six months ahead of each season. Usable discards are put in top shape to be sold later in seven Goodwill stores. It is these sales that enables Goodwill Industries to be the largest organization employing handicapped people in the country. Summer goods that are contributed to Goodwill are refurbished and sold immediately, but winter discards are stored after reconditioning for sale during the later season.

Spring and summer rains create a problem in cleaning when mud splashes and stains clothing. Here are suggestions from the textile specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture on removing the mudstains from clothing. Brush off all loose dry mud first. Then rinse the mud-stained fabric several times in cold water to take out all particles of soil lodged in the yarns. Don't plunge mud-stained fabrics into hot soapsuds because some red and yellow clays make a stain like ironrust that may be set by hot soapsuds. When no more mud can be rinsed out in cool water, wash in warm soapsuds, using several washings if necessary.

Farewell To A Friend

Foreign students from far-off lands bid farewell to an American enroute to visit each of their homelands. Paul J. Langan, Field Service Counselor for the American Foundation for Overseas Blind, a world-wide agency serving the sightless, prepares to depart on a 26,000-mile tour through the Far East to further American aid to the blind in that area of the world. Seeing him off at the start of his journey are: John Wang, Formosa; Michiko Toi, Japan; ar Pho Lang Tai, Viet Nam; all of whom are currently studying in the U. S. to become workers for the blind when they return to their own countries. Mr. Langan will visit each of their countries and five other Far Eastern nations to confer with government and private agency officials on work for the blind. While in the Philippines, he will meet the Republic's new President, Carlos P. Garcia, and map plans for the opening of a Foundation field office to serve the entire Far East region. The Foundation, a non-profit agency sponsoring rehabilitation, medical and educational programs for the blind in 70 nations, maintains its world headquarters in New York City.

Moved by Jones, "That the meeting be adjourned." Seconded by Kelley. Motion carried. Ralph Thayer, Village Clerk

CARE FOR DOG ON MOTOR TRIP

For those planning to take the family dog on a motor trip this summer, the Southeastern Michigan Veterinary Medical Association offers the following suggestions:

Carsickness: Dogs or puppies subject to motion sickness can be conditioned by taking for short rides before meals, gradually increasing the length of rides. This will work in most cases. For severe cases, the veterinarian can supply anti-motion sickness pills which are 95 per cent effective in preventing nausea.

Immunization: Most states have rigidly enforced rabies vaccination laws. If crossing the Canadian border, a health certificate signed by the veterinarian is required as evidence the dog has received an anti-rabies vaccination within the preceding six months. This is one of the rabies control measures instituted in 1953 following a serious outbreak of the disease in Canada. In any case, it is advisable to immunize pets due to the reservoir of rabies found in wild animals—skunks, foxes, etc., the dog may encounter. Immunization against distemper and hepatitis is also advised. Older, previously immunized dogs may require distemper booster shots.

Feeding: Avoid changes in diet. Take along an adequate supply of the dog's particular brand of food, which may not be obtainable in other areas. Feed in the evening after completing the day's drive. Provide water frequently in warm weather.

Restraint: A leash and tethering cord are necessary equipment. Many cities and most state parks have leash laws, with fines for violators. Avoid tethering the dog in the direct sun, or where he may be annoyed by small children.

When the dog is confined in a car, check for proper ventilation. Many pets become ill or die each year as the result of confinement in a car with windows tightly closed.

Parks: Check in advance to see if dogs are permitted in the state parks you plan to visit. This information is usually available from state tourist bureaus. Owners must obtain a license for their pet before entering a National Park in Canada. A license costs $1.00 and is good for 30 days in any National Park. Motels: Rover is welcome at some motels, not at others. Information on motels allowing dogs is available through the AAA. Some hotels now have facilities for canine guests. An advance inquiry at the time reservations are made is advisable.

BISHOP KENNEDY AT STATE FAIR SUNRISE SERVICE

One of the Nation's leading clergymen, Bishop Gerald Kennedy, resident Bishop of the Los Angeles Area of the Methodist Church, will be the speaker for the seventh annual Sunrise Service to be held Sunday, September 1, at 8 A. M. at the Michigan State Fair.

For the past six years, the Sunrise Service has been sponsored by the State Fair in cooperation with the Detroit Council of Churches. It has attracted approximately 10,000 early morning worshippers each year.

Bishop Kennedy is one of the youngest Methodist bishops. His spectacular rise to the episcopacy in 1948, at age 40, is unique in the denomination. Unique also is his cosmopolitan Los Angeles area to which he was assigned in 1952. He supervises churches that include Anglos, Latinos and Negroes. Also there are Chinese.

HOUSEHOLD POISONINGS—WHAT TO DO
 Charred toast is a highly effective antidote against common household poisonings, the Michigan Department of Health said today.
 Because of the increased use of chemical preparations in the home, accidental home poisonings are on the increase, the department said. Last year 87 Michigan persons died in acci-ental home poisonings. The department said each home should be equipped with emergency antidotes.

 The charred toast antidote can be prepared by burning a piece of toast, crumbling it into a juice glass or glass jar, and storing in the kitchen or bathroom. When needed, the charred crumbs can be mixed with water or milk.

 An antidote of this type could save a life or prevent serious injury by being administered while the doctor is being called. It also can be used when the exact nature of the poison swallowed is unknown.
 To reduce accidental poisonings in the home, the state health department recommended:

1. Keep all drugs, poisons and other household chemicals out of the reach of children and away from food. Lock up flavored aspirin and other preparations which children might mistake for candy.
2. Read all labels and follow the instructions carefully.
3. Don't contaminate food or food utensils when using insect sprays, aerosol mists, rat poisons, weed killers or cleaning agents.
4. Don't store poisonous substances in food or beverage containers.
5. Don't take or give medicines in the dark.
6. Date all drug supplies when you buy them and discard when outdated.

If you find life is empty, try putting something into it.

The low price tag makes the picture perfect

Ford is every inch the fine car of your dreams . . . at half the fine-car price! Inside, outside, in every last detail, Ford has that luxury look and feel that used to be the private property of only the most expensive cars. Now it's yours . . . at low Ford prices. It's new, through and through! From wheels to roof, the '57 Ford is loaded with new and improved features. That goes for the frame, the front and rear suspension, the body, the insulation, the differential . . . the works! It's Thunderbird V-8 powered! Here's power that melts the miles. Ford's not only the liveliest, it's the smoothest, too. Only Ford V-8's are electronically "mass-balanced" while running under their own power before they're put in your car. It's soundly built to be worth more when you buy it, and when you sell it, too! Compare the long list of Ford features with the competition, and you'll find that only cars way out of Ford's modest price range can match it. No wonder this fine car traditionally outvalues 'em all at trade-in time!
