1. Usable discards are reconditioned and sold in seven retail stores.
 2. Assembly, packaging, and light manufacturing work is contracted with private industry.
- "More jobs can be given to the physically handicapped in the area, if the public sends more usable discards to Goodwill, or if any industrial contracts are obtained", said Harold McKinnon, Executive Secretary of Goodwill Industries.
- "Expanded facilities make it possible to handle more discards efficiently and 25,000 sq. feet of modernized space is available for contracts with Industry", he said.

YOUR ROVING REPORTER

A couple of weeks ago the students of Clarkston High were blessed with a new arrival. The first edition of the High School paper came into the world Friday, September 27th, at 12:30 P. M.

Being that the paper is something relatively new we thought the students would give some good opinions on what they thought of it. So as our "Question of the Week" we're asking the students what they think of the student school newspaper and what improvements, if any, would they like to see made.

First of all we talked to Sophomore Jean Cunningham, who said: "I think the paper is a real good idea, and I know, I for one, really enjoy reading it. For a first try it came out exceptionally good and I find myself looking forward to it now. As for improvements I think it's just fine as it is."

Interviewed while coming home from school one of the new Freshmen, Jerry Lee commented: "As a first attempt the paper is really a success in my book. It gives all of us a better view of happenings and future happenings in the school. What I liked best was the interesting way the articles were worded. We couldn't ask for a better paper."

Caught in the middle of an assignment in Study Hall dignified Senior Garrett Marks added: "The paper has a lot of good ideas and keeps us informed with a more or less general view of what goes on around the school and current school news. About the only improvement I can think of would be to print a few more copies of it and correct the typing mistakes, because it seems to sell out so quickly."

And finally, Junior Pat Bullard remarked: "I thought the paper was excellent for a first edition. The ideas were expressed in a very interesting way. The only two improvements I'd like to see are more jokes and I think the gossip column should be better aware of some of the things they print!"

That concludes our question for this week. See you again next week with another in the series of "What's Your Opinion?" questions.

A MARTIAN EYE-VIEW OF C. H. S.

by Chuck Ferrand

This morning as I flew my flying saucer over the planet earth, I noticed several large and terribly slow moving, yellow vehicles weaving in and out of the vast network of roads in the area known to earthlings as Clarkston. From my position in the sky, they resembled yellow tubes, all moving slowly to one central location. I first observed the yellow contraptions at 0.73 martian time or about 7 A. M. earth time. At approximately 8:00 A. M. earth time, all the yellow tubes had assembled at a structure that looks somewhat like our space station with a hole in the middle. One at a time, they ejected several wild, scrambling, yelling, frantic humans of the adolescent type. The children (as they are called here on earth) all entered the strange looking building and by peering through skylights and windows, I was able to make many close observations that may aid our scientists.

It is very odd the way these humans act. At the sound of a gong, they all rush through the passageways and try to catch each other. Then when the gong is again sounded, all becomes comparatively quiet and everyone sits in a chair. One human of the adult class stands in front of the children and makes funny symbols on the front wall. On our planet our fully matured inhabitants have more intelligence than to write on the walls!

This continues every hour with regularity until about 12 noon when a gong is sounded and half the children leave the building to climb into earth vehicles and half go to a large room in the building where they stand in a long line and wait to be given a tray full of a very odd-looking substance, I believe this to be their way of obtaining nourishment. What a sharp contrast from the pills we only have to take semi-annually. At the end of an hour everyone crowds back into the school and the earlier procedure is continued for two hours at which time the children, even more wildly than before, dash out of the building and everyone tries to get on the yellow vehicles at once.

The whole human procedure is a mystery to me, as I am sure it will be to our scientists. Please forward this spacegram to the War Department at once. I will report to you again in the near future.

So far about 16 people have turned out for debate, but we expect more.

Pat Hart, President; Connie Blimka, Secretary; Paulette Etter, Treasurer; David Sanborn, Librarian; Perry Smith and Pat Hart are the only returning letter winners.

We are planning a Dance on December 13; a Banquet at Ann Arbor in the spring, and a Dinner honoring the letter winners for the 1957-58 season in March.

Plans for the Science Journal to be co-edited with Pontiac were discussed. An election was held for editors. Those voted in were: Editor, Mary Inman with her assistants Barbara Jackson, Lucy Oakley, Betsy Osgood, and Pat Fredericks.

Also discussed was the Blood Donor program to be held in Waterford. Anyone interested in this worthwhile project may contact our club for details.

Final plans have been made for the garden in the court. Most of the flowers and shrubbery will be put in by next spring.

FLU AT CLARKSTON HIGH SCHOOL

The attendance at Clarkston High School dropped to 80% on Monday of this past week. This is undoubtedly partly due to the flu bug which has hit many schools in the area.

The average daily absence at the high school is between 5 to 8%. During the week of Sept 30 to Oct. 4, the absence rate was 10%. On Monday, Oct. 7, there were 230 students absent which is about 23% of the total enrollment, and 14 to 15% above normal absence. All members of the faculty reported for work at the high school on Monday. School officials have indicated that school will not be closed unless the County Health Department recommends that it be closed. The contagion has been spread and all students are exposed at the present time. Those who have become ill have recovered in two or three days.

At the time of writing this article there was no indication that the football team has been seriously hit by the flu.

AWARD ASSEMBLY FOR JUNIOR CITIZENS

On October 1st an award assembly was held at the Whittier School, Pontiac, with General Richardson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution and mothers as guests. The chapter regent, Mrs. Lloyd Porter, and Doris Haynes have organized six Junior American Citizen clubs at the Whittier and badges and pins were awarded by Mrs. Porter to the outstanding citizen in each club. The good citizens were chosen by their fellow club members for service to their school, community and home. J. A. C. clubs are organized by D. A. R., to teach the fundamental principles of good citizenship through educational, recreational and character building projects. An attempt is made to reach children of any race or creed. Justice, Americanism and Character is their motto. The clubs furnished a program of songs and the history of the United States flag, with Ivan Brown as master of ceremonies.

Invited to take part in the program were Mr. William Donaldson, mayor of Pontiac and the Reverend Lenworth Miner pastor of the Macedonia Baptist Church of Pontiac. Mr. Donaldson spoke on the subject "What it means to me to be an American", and the Reverend Mr. Miner offered prayer.

Margaret Steward, representing the D. A. R., presented the school with a platform flag. It was accepted by Thomas Mayer, representing the school.

A similar program will be given October 10th, at the Bagley School, Pontiac, honoring the J. A. C. clubs and presenting the school with a flag.

The November meeting will be at the Pontiac home of Mrs. Allan Monroe, with Mrs. Earl C. Beck of Mt. Pleasant, state D. A. R., chairman of the American Indians committee, speaking. This will be an evening meeting and members are asked to bring beads for the Indians to use in their hand work.

view of the Northern Cross and the appearance of winter constellations, according to Hazel M. Losh, U-M professor of astronomy.

October's full moon, called the Hunter's moon, will prevail the whole night through, as was true last month, when observers will recall an unusual number of moonlit nights.

Two meteor showers, the Draconids around Oct. 9 and the Orionids about Oct. 22, are likely to be scanty showers, with a small number of meteors visible.

The Northern Cross appears almost straight overhead with the Milky Way branching into its two divisions. This misty path across the sky should be easily seen during the latter half of the month, when the full moonlight will not blot it out.

Another striking effect is the noticeable decrease in the length of day, dropping from a little less than 12 hours at the beginning of the month to only about ten and a half hours at the end.

The antlers shed by deer each year are seldom found. Mice, porcupines and other rodents gnaw them for the minerals they contain.

During a 70-day season in 1956-57, Michigan waterfowl hunters bagged more than 492,000 ducks.

TELEPHONE lines

LIKE PULLING TEETH, isn't it, to get a letter out of that boy or girl away at college? It's always been like that and we guess it always will be. So why fight it? The easiest, surest way to keep in touch is by telephone. Rates are especially low after 6 p.m.

and on Sunday. Why not arrange a special time, maybe once a week, for your youngsters to call you? Have them reverse the charges if you like. You'll enjoy the chance to talk as much as they will.

ENTERTAINMENT for your group or club is no problem with one of Michigan Bell's free movies or lecture programs. You can choose from quite a list. They vary from 10 to 60 minutes long. For example, the recent Bell Telephone TV films, "Our Mr. Sun" and "Hemo the Magnificent," are available. One of the most popular lecture-demonstrations, "Color Comes Calling," shows how to blend, contrast and harmonize colors for skillfully decorating your home. If you need a movie projector to show a Michigan Bell film, arrangements can usually be made for that, too, at no charge. For details, just call our business office.

HELPING YOU is her business. She's a typical Service Representative in the telephone company's business office—one of the girls you'll talk with when you call up or drop in to discuss your telephone service. You've noticed how courteously and quickly she handles your business. That's because she enjoys helping others, and because she had special training before she ever talked with a customer. That training continues to keep her posted on practically everything the customer might want to know about his telephone service. She's one of the people who make your telephone service good.
