They are designed to help workers explain the objectives of the Fund, and to answer the questions of contributors. The meetings will be addressed by Mr. Fred Warrick, 8565 Thendara Blvd., chairman of the business organization solicitation, who will tell why he believes the United Fund provides an important and necessary service to modern community living.

Directors of the Independence United Fund, in earlier meetings have visualized this year's drive as a yardstick of community spirit. Failing to meet this year's quota will just open the door for more and more drives. Reaching the one-drive quota of $8,329 will mean that this area is meeting its responsibilities to county and national agencies, as well as to the immediate community.
