NUMBER 10

Special Guests At First Methodist

Next Sunday, November 10th, is Veterans Sunday and Laymens Day at First Methodist Church when Mr. Everett Butters, Lay Leader of the church and a member of The American Legion, will preach the sermon. Special guests at the services will be The Campbell-Richmond American Legion Post, No. 63 of Clarkston, with their Commander, Frank Ronk, who will lead the congregation in The Pledge of Allegiance and the singing of The National Anthem. Also in attendance will be the various Brownie, Girl Scouts, Cub Scout, and Boy Scout troops of the Clarkston area. They will congregate at 10:30 a. m. in the church parlors and will proceed to the 11:15 a. m. Sunday Worship Service.

Assisting Mr. Butters in the services are Mr. Jackson Byers, President of the Church Board, and Mr. Phillip Smith, Co-Chairman of the Building Crusade at 9:00 a. m. Mr. Thomas Peterson, Vice-President of the Church Board, and Mr. Stanley White, Church School Superintendent will conduct the service at 11:15 a. m. Mr. Butters subject is: "Who Art Thou Lord?" taken from Acts 9:1-22. The sounding of taps will close the service.

A Coffee Hour will follow the late service with members of the American Legion and Scouts as honored guests. This colorful service will be dedicated to boys from the Clarkston area who lost their lives in World War II. Residents of the community are invited to attend with their friends.

Give Now To United Fund

The official "Kick-Off" meeting to begin the 1957 United Fund Drive was held Monday evening at the Methodist Church. A very fine group of enthusiastic captains and solicitors attended. The meeting was highlighted by talks by the Reverend William J. Richards and Jerry Wilford.

Probably most important in this year's drive is the inclusion of the sum of $1,850 to support a recreation program for Independence Township. In the event that the drive is successful this entire sum will be returned to support this most worthy and desirable effort.

Solicitors immediately began the house to house canvass Tuesday. The success of the campaign will largely hinge on the response from the one to three dollar contributors, from families whose husbands give at their work.

The campaign chairman, Mr. Merle Bennett, is most optimistic for the "over the top" drive this year because of the fine work of the various chairmen: Mrs. N. E. Maytag, advance gifts; Fred P. Warrick, commercial group and as chairman of the most important and largest phase of the work, Mrs. DeVere Games of the geographic group.

Mrs. Games is happy over the work of her many captains who will supervise the actual door-to-door solicitation. The following is a list of the captains: Mrs. H. Wertz, Mrs. Willard Birchette, Mrs. Lawrence Wellman, Mrs. Douglas Brown, Mrs. Martin Wright, Mrs. Charles Zollner, Mrs. Arnold Getzan, Mrs. Emil Claeys, Mrs. Robert Hillstead, Mrs. Alfonse Garneau, Mrs. Thomas Jobe, Mrs. George Willis, Mrs. Ray Jewell, Mrs. James Jennings, Mrs. Don Russell, Mrs. A. L. Rose, Mrs. Farmer Davies, Mrs. William Lowe, Mrs. Dom Mauti, Mrs. Norman Auer, Mrs. Parker Bates, Mrs. S. F. Goedde, Mrs. Robert Klingman, Mrs. Henry Borst, Mrs. Jack Frost, Mrs. Bruce Hetherington, Mrs. Don Kranich, Mrs. Arnold Mann, Mrs. Forrest Jones, Mrs. Ralph Walton, Mrs. Mallory Stickney, Mrs. C. F. Hancock, Mrs. L. D. Stuart, Mrs. Ross Woodworth, Mrs. David Coulter, Mrs. Raymond Pine, Mrs. Elwood Johnson. Other workers will be listed next week.

UNICEF Hallowe'en Realizes $182.00

The citizens of Clarkston are proud of the efforts of the 192 UNICEF goblins to share their Hallowe'en with the children in other lands. A total of $182.00, pennies, nickels, and dimes, has already been sent to UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, to be converted by that agency into life-saving medicines and health-giving milk and vitamins. This money will go a long way toward improving the health and welfare of some of the world's 600 million underprivileged children.

The Clarkston Committee for UNICEF wishes to express appreciation to everyone responsible for making the 4th UNICEF Hallowe'en in Clarkston such an outstanding success. The committee wants to thank the organizations and firms who contributed so generously to the program—the Detroit Creamery, Clarkston Rotary Anns, Clarkston Community Women's Club, Gertrude Atkins Circle, Clarkston Rotary Club and the Clarkston Elementary School.

Clarkston Local

The friends of Lewis (Spike) Masters will be happy to learn that he is now at his home at 1019 Fourth Street, Jackson, Michigan, and with the help of a cane he is able to get about the house a little. He is wearing a brace on his neck and is cared for by a nurse. Lewis had the misfortune to break his neck while diving in the lake last summer.

If you were lucky enough to see the television production of Mark Twain's 'THE PRINCE AND THE PAUPER' last week we are sure that it not only took you completely out of 1957 and into 16th century England, but that it also returned you to the utterly thrilling time in your life when you were reading everything in sight, and identifying yourself completely with every character you loved.

The show made us hungry for those years of uncritical reading for it had the same magical effect that walking into the library had for us then. To an adult the library represents many things, but to the child it is pure escapism, and is one of the perfect experiences of youth.

At this moment your library offers many new books for youngsters of all ages—books which will appeal to their imaginations now and forever. A delightful example of a book which will always be a favorite is 'MAGICAL MELONS' by Carol Rylie Brink. The sub-title is 'MORE STORIES ABOUT CADDIE LIE WOODLAWN' which is a clue to all of us who loved Mrs. Brink's earlier stories of a little pioneer heroine. To be the liveliest of six lively children living on the Wisconsin border in 1880, and to roam the woods and fields barefoot and tangle haired, finding mystery and fun everywhere. (continued on page 4)

You Are Invited To Dinner

Everybody is invited to the smorgasbord dinner to be served in the dining room at First Methodist Church, Clarkston, tomorrow evening, Friday, Nov. 8, from 5:00 to 7:30 o'clock.

The women of the church under the chairmanship of Mrs. Earl Terry and Mrs. Sam Miller have planned a varied menu to suit every taste and diet. Mrs. Rolfe Smith who is in charge of the smorgasbord table will have the food arranged to look like a picture in a book—attractive and so tempting. Mrs. Ira Snader will supervise the service in the dining room.

There is no set charge but a free-will offering will be collected for each dinner served. Treat the whole family on Friday evening by attending the smorgasbord dinner where you will enjoy visiting with your neighbors and friends.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH LOOKS FOR ROCKET

The First Baptist Church is looking for a rocket! Folks are beginning to wonder if Sputnik has thrown Rocket SS-5WP off its course! On October 27, the Sunday School departments met together after class sessions to watch and listen while Harold Elliott and Mrs. Ray Ruggles tried to contact the missing rocket. The lights on the control board flashed busily, and the "radar" screen showed some action. The rocket was reported sighted over Japan, England and Alaska, and then White Plains, New Mexico, reported that it was being held there for refueling—a delay of 24 hours. So they waited.

The following Sunday, Nov. 3, still no rocket! Mr. Elliott and Mrs. Ruggles reported that they had been trying to contact the SS-5WP for several hours without results. Weary, but determined, they tried again. Flashing lights and whirling screen preceded contact with a strange "little voice". After questioning, the little voice identified himself as "your next door neighbor, the one you work by, the boy near you in school, the little girl down the street . . . the one you didn't invite to Sunday School."

Then the "little voice", who said he wanted to be good, said he was going for a ride on a rocket, because his BIG VOICE made him do things he shouldn't. It was the SS-5WP, and that was the last they heard!

George Luenberger, chairman of the Rocket Project, and Wendell Bishop, Sunday School Superintendent, say that the one way to get that rocket back is for everyone who heard that little voice to ask all his friends to come to Sunday School this Sunday. The "little voice" will want to bring it back if his friends want to help him be good.

Anyone who wants to follow the course of this huge 30 foot rocket is welcome to attend Sunday School at 10:00 A. M. Mrs. Herbert Beach and Mrs. Mary Clement will be at the desk just inside the entrance to welcome and register all visitors.

Rotarians See Film Of Russia

Theodore Pratt who is building homes on Miller Road, presented the program at the Clarkston Rotary Club on Monday, at the Community Center.

The films were taken while on a tour by American builders who toured Russia to inspect the kind of building they were doing and their methods. He explained that about 35 per cent of the workmen were women, some of whom were brick layers, while many of them were actually mixing cement with shovels. The film showed something of what Russia lacks in some kind of buildings while forcing speed on their military work which the builders were not allowed to see. Pictures could be taken almost anywhere except from planes.

REPORT CARD BLUES? ? ?

by Lorraine Koneda

"Twas the day for report cards, and all through the school, Not a student was stirring, not one was a fool.

The report cards were stacked on the front desk with care, And on faces of students were looks of despair.

The students were nestled all snug with their dreads, While visions of big black Es danced in their heads.

And with teacher at his desk, and I in my chair, I had come to the conclusion report cards weren't fair.

Then up from my seat I jumped with aboom, And my moanings of woe were heard throughout the room.

The light up above gave a silvery glow, To the awed look on my face and my marks far below.

Then what to my wandering eyes should appear, But a little black E, which meant I was no dear.

It came from a teacher so lively and quick, That I knew in an instant I was in quite a fix.

Then suddenly the subjects I goofed in, before me came, And I moaned and I groaned as I called them by name.

Now Latin, now English, now Math, what a mix, And I knew that I wished I was out of that fix.

To the front of the room with my card I did dash, Surely my teacher's decision had been rash.

But teacher was right, I went back to my seat, For I was the victim of a terrible defeat.

Then again classes changed and worried I got, For a good mark in this class to me meant a lot.

As I drew in my breath and was turning around, From behind me my Journalism teacher came with a bound.

She was pretty and kind with lovely blond hair, And I knew that she'd mark my card fair and square.

She said not a word but went straight to her work, And marked my report card then turned with a jerk.

Then I picked up my card, I was being very brave, And when I saw that big A what a glad whoop I gave.

The bell rang again and I went homeward bound, With that A and the happiness of it I'd found.

Then I ran to the bus feeling 10 feet tall, So I guess report cards aren't so bad after all.

And I loudly exclaimed as we rode out of sight, "Happy report card day to all, and to all a good night."

YOUR ROVING REPORTER

by Lorraine Koneda

Dum-de-dum-dum! This is the High School. I work here. I'm a student.

It finally happened. Yes, the drastic thing we had been worriedly hoping wouldn't happen, finally did. On Wednesday, October 23rd I was called to the office at 8:15 A. M., and listened shockingly as I was given the earth-shaking news. That dangerous terror of all terrors, that person more terrible than fate itself, the one person who strikes fear into every red-blooded American student's heart was here. Yes, that old con, Joe Report Card was back in business and operating his gang right there in the High School. My mission—find out how his victims were taking the results of his terrible outbreak. Dum-de-dum-dum.

At 9:14 A. M. while looking for clues the silence was shattered by a piercing, blood-curdling scream that came from Sophomore Jim Lawless who had just seen the results of some of Joe's work. I was able to salvage only these words from his persistent moans and groans:

"Report cards are alright, it's just the marks and writing on them that's so terrible. I guess it's for the best though. As for Joe, I think he should be locked up and the key thrown away. He sure is capable of putting a scare into people—no."

Going through the halls again I came upon cute Freshman Jeanne Licatovich who seemed to be in quite a civil state of mind to discuss such a delicate subject. She commented: "I think they are something to look forward to or be dreaded. If the marks are good I can get around my father, if they are bad, he gets around me. As for Joe—no comment."

I then chanced to come upon that dignified Senior of all Seniors, that one boy in a million—Paul Powers, who said: "I think report cards are something that shouldn't be talked about too often. As for myself I don't let report cards bother me. It's just another thing that's got to be done and moaning and groaning about it isn't going to help it any."

And finally, popular Junior Toni Swartz said, "I don't think they are the neatest thing ever invented, but on the other hand they could be worse."

Well, that winds it up for this week and to my deep regret I must announce that Joe is still around and will be every six weeks with that gang of his—Dum-de-dum-dum.

Case Closed.

STUDENT COUNCIL

TRIP TO ANN ARBOR

by Dixie Lee Parks

On Tuesday, October 27, Carol Fitch, Larry Saiz, Alice Lounsbury and Mrs. Wilkinson spent the day in Ann Arbor at a State Student Council Day. The purpose of this meeting was to improve each student council by discussing common problems. Such topics as "What power does the Student Council have?"; "How to Improve Cooperation Between Students and Faculty"; and "How to Improve School Morale", were discussed. Both students and sponsors felt they benefited much by this forum.

MASQUERADE HALLOWEEN DANCE

The Student Council's Masquerade Halloween Dance held

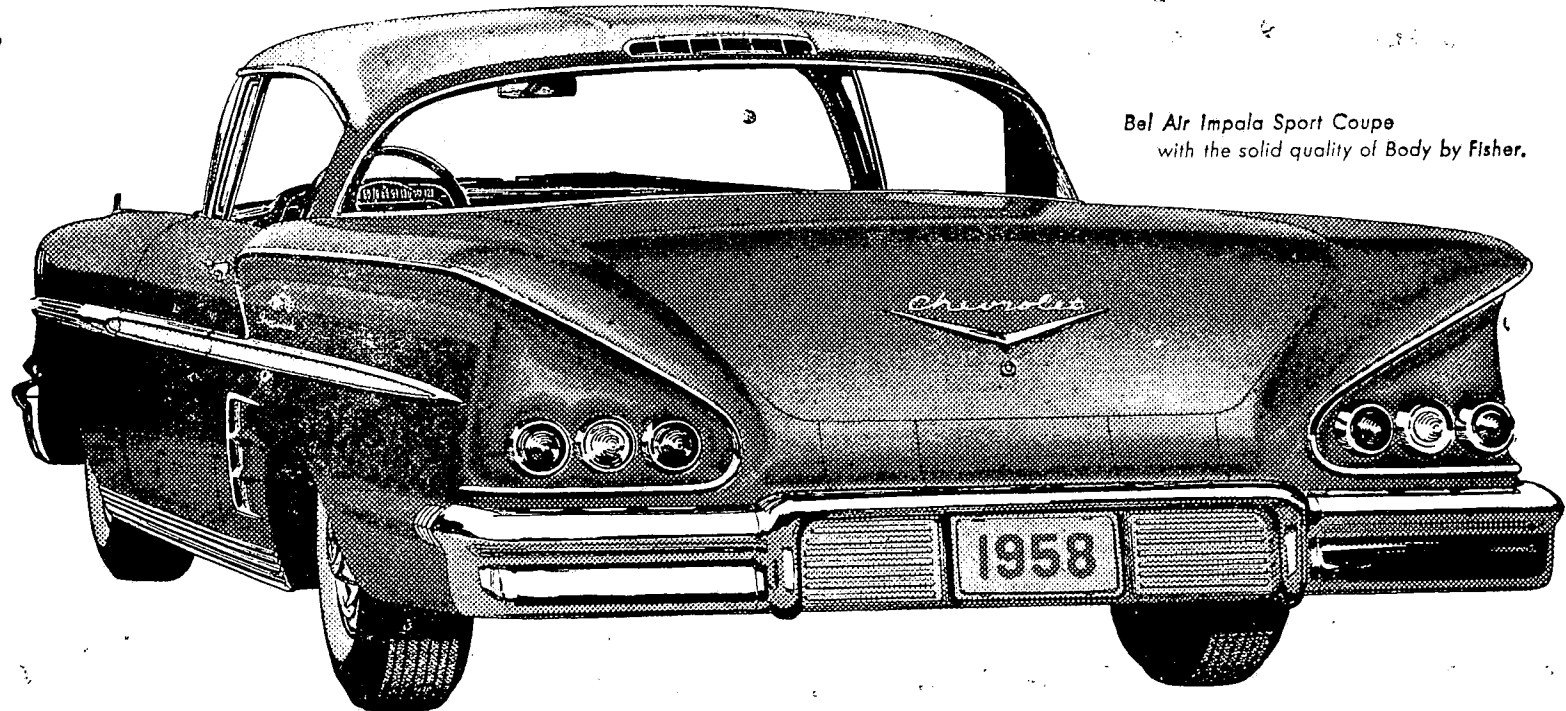

last Thursday, October 31, proved to be a huge success. The cafeteria was ingeniously decorated with small ghosts, pumpkins and witches hats hanging from the ceiling and scattered sparsely over the walls. Enormous replicas of ghosts also adorned the walls. The platform from which disc jockey, Ed Barriman, spinned the records was decorated with the well-known symbols of Halloween too. A large witch made by Lucy Oakley added the finishing touch.

The party began at 8:00. After an hour of dancing a grand march was formed consisting of all the students who were masked and costumed. The judges chose 5 finalists, and from these chose the winners. First prize for the best disguise went to Gail Weston who was cleverly dressed as an old lady. First this is the fate of every young one who reads MAGICAL MELONS, for in a beautifully written book such as this the reader is instantly caught up.

Another book of the same ilk is ROLLER SKATES by Ruth Sawyer, the tale of a New York tom-boy in 1890. GINNIE AND GENEVA by Catherine Woolley is another, and of course our old friend MADELINE by Ludwig Bemelmans, while very short and quite different is still one of the prettiest pieces of children's literature around.

We can't think of a better way to spend a November (ugh!) day than to hide in another country or another time with people other than those we see daily. A little escapism cures many a mopish boy, and while you're at it don't forget ALICE IN WONDERLAND, MARY POPPINS and WINNIE THE POOH. They're always waiting for you.

Read us next week and get some suggestions for your very young children, but in the meantime visit your library and get away from it all.

THE GARDEN GATE

NOVEMBER NOTES FOR GARDENS

A good month for pruning, trim hedges, trees, shrubs and other plants whose foliage hides the branches in summer. Be careful not to prune spring flowering specimens such as Forsythia, lilac and flowering crabs, for next spring's bloom has already begun its development on these.

BULB PLANTING:

Most commercial lily growers ship late in November, so to prevent difficulties of planting in frozen soil, holes for lily bulbs should be dug now and the soil stored where it will not freeze. The bulbs may be planted later, even though the ground is frozen—cover with the unfrozen soil and mulch well.

Plenty of time yet to plant spring bulbs (tulips, narcissus and crocus). Set bulbs one to two inches deeper than those planted earlier.

Consider potting spring bulbs now for forcing indoors. And for spectacular winter color accents, hybrid amaryllis are extremely satisfactory indoor plants for adding a bright splash of color to those dark winter days. These bulbs make a welcome gift to any indoor gardener, and will bloom in about eight weeks.

Don't neglect your newly planted trees. To prevent sun scald on the bark, wrap the trunks with burlap or special treated paper. Young fruit trees should be protected from gnawing of deer and rabbits with a wire mesh extending high enough to reach a foot or more above the deepest expected snow.

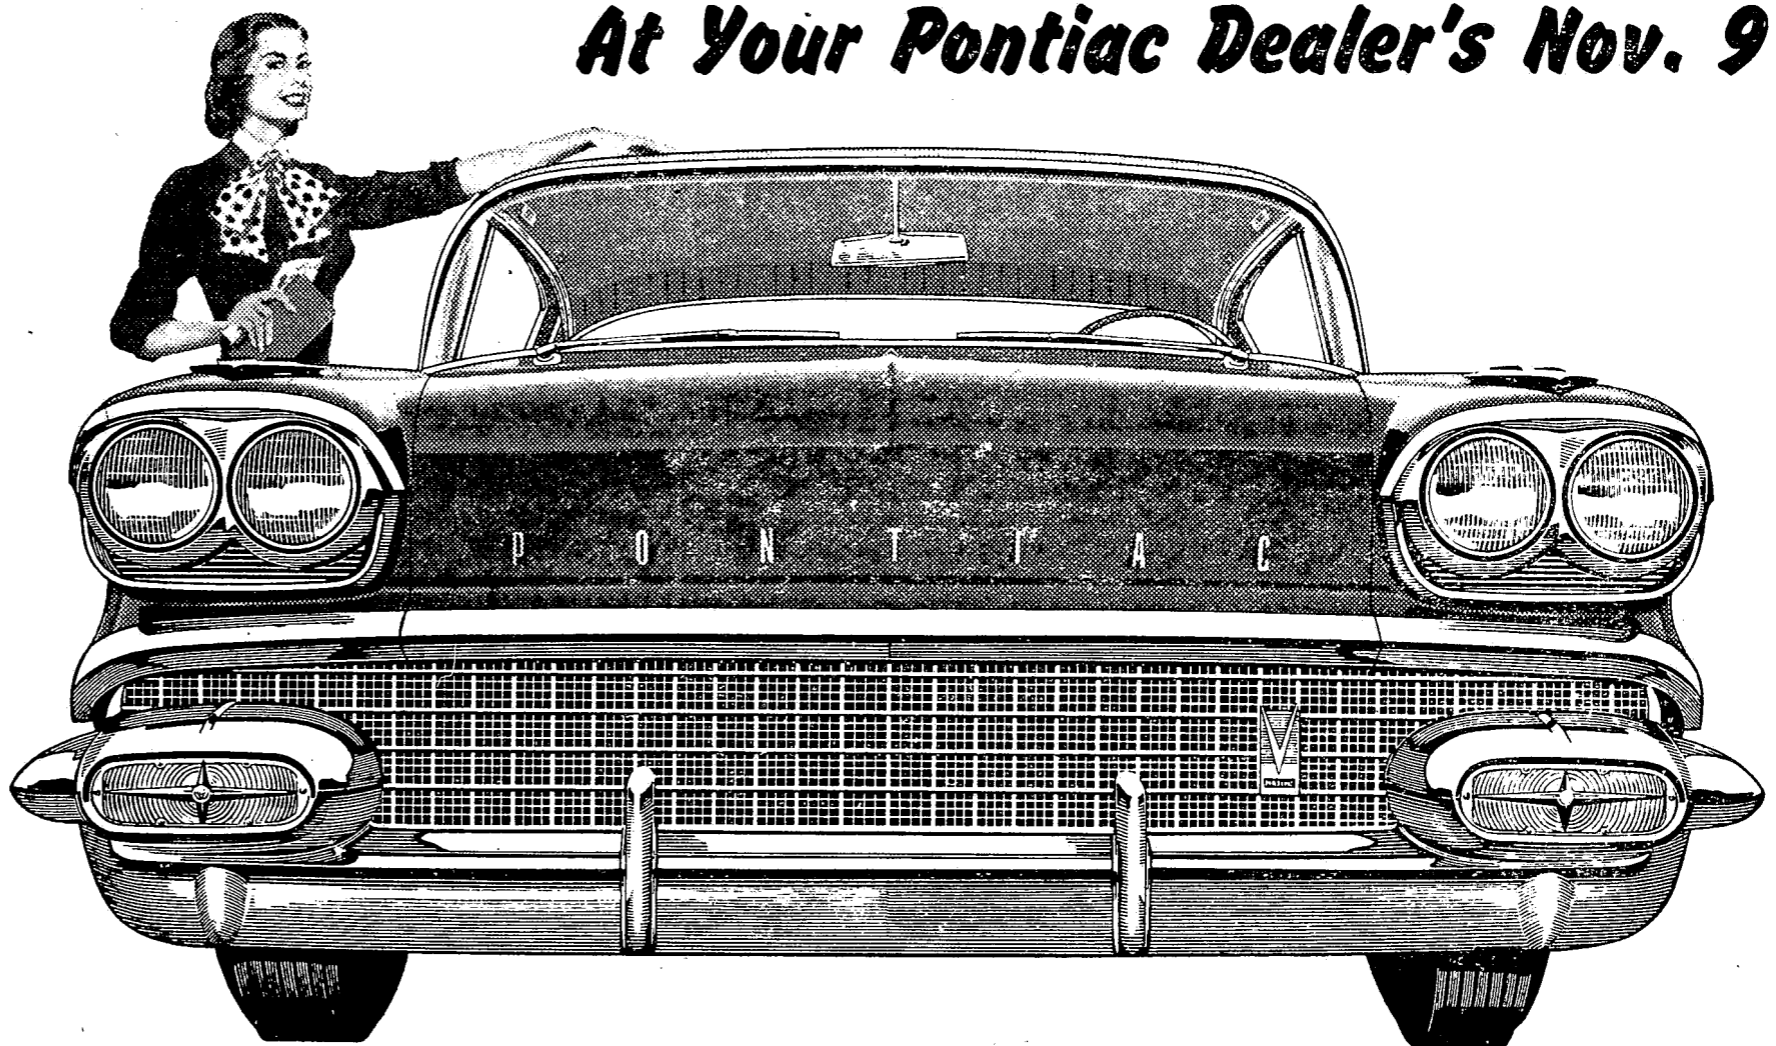

Wildlife Ups and Downs

Scientific studies by game biologists indicate small game populations move in cycles, varying from abundance to scarcity and back over a period of years. Ruffed grouse populations in Michigan, for example, moved from a low point in 1945 to a high in 1951, back to low in 1955 and are on the upswing now.

NORTHVILLE BEATS CLARKSTON, 28-13

by Ed. Eaglen

Clarkston couldn't seem to get started in the first half last Friday night. Northville scored 21 points in the first half.

Clarkston came back strong the second half and on Northville's 4th down punt Jim Jensen ran the ball back 65 yards for a TD. Russ Soffredine ran the extra point into the end zone, which made the score 21-7. Clarkston started another touchdown drive in the fourth quarter with Jim Jensen to LeRoy Parks, left end, into the end zone. The extra point was missed.

Clarkston had Northville down on Northville's own 5 yard line when Northville pulled an up-the-middle try and the back ran 95 yards for a T. D., but it was called back. So Northville took the ball again on their own 5 yard line and ran the very same play and the Northville speedster ran another 95 yards for pay dirt. Their try for extra point was good.

Clarkston plays Brighton next Friday night at Clarkston. It is also Clarkston's Homecoming so, GOOD LUCK BOYS.

Interested Clarkston students now have an opportunity to put their hobbies into good use. Each Wednesday under Mr. Karsboom's sponsorship the group meets to discuss and trade rare coins and stamps.

To anyone interested in this it would be well worth your time to join your fellow members and maybe you can find coins and stamps you've been wanting.

SENIOR HIGHLIGHTS

by Chuck Ferrand

It has been the policy of our school to have only one formal dance each year. However, the students have decided that we should have another annual formal dance. Moreover, this dance will be semi-formal instead of strictly formal, like the Senior Prom.

The committees, under the direction of Rose Rader have already begun their preparations. The music for the dance will be provided by Fenton Weaver's Band, and the activity will take place in the school cafeteria.

The Christmas Ball, which will be sponsored by the Juniors and Seniors of Clarkston High, will be held on Saturday night, December 21st, and will be open to the public. It has been decided that corsages will definitely be excluded on this occasion.

LIBRARY IN HOT WATER

One of our villagers recently obtained an automatic hot water heater for the township library. It is a compact unit that can be installed under a sink or in any convenient out-of-the-way place. The little heater is only 17" high and yet provides nearly 200 gallons of steaming hot water every day. The ladies in charge of the library, it seems, are going to be constantly in hot water.

Porcupines are excellent climbers and spend a good part of their lives in trees.

The huge 552 foot towers of the Mackinac Straits bridge in Michigan are being painted in ivory. The balance of the great span will be in green. The color and design, engineers say, make it the most beautiful span in the world.

Million Dollar Industry

Michigan annually ranks among the leading producers of sand and gravel for construction work, industrial use and other purposes. In 1956, some 42,000,000 tons of sand and gravel were produced in the state—valued at more than $37,000,000. In this photo, sand and gravel are being washed down from the sides of a pit in southern Michigan.

When over-protected, the study and other activities involve millions of visits to the forest annually.

The bobcat is considered a predator in the upper peninsula and a bounty is paid for the animal. In the northern lower peninsula, bobcats are considered game animals and may be hunted only between December 15 and March 31.

CLARKSTON PLAY READERS MET LAST WEEK

Robert Frost's poem "The Death of the Hired Hand" in the form of a one-act play, "The Death of the Hired Hand," was read by the Clarkston Play Readers. Wednesday, October 30th. The group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Urban at 2188 Briggs, Drayton Place. The play was read and acted and a good deal of criticism was generated for future plans of a similar nature.

Tentative plans for the "reading night" every week Wednesday. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Everett, 38 Canby Street, Clarkston, at 6:00 P. M. on November 13th. A dramatic version of Shirley Jackson's noteworthy short story, "The Lottery," will be read. Copies will be available. All interested are invited to come. For further information call Mrs. Richard Urban at OR 3-8187.

Suppose I was involved in a damage suit from an auto accident . . . and won the suit. There'd still be defense costs and court costs. Would my auto liability insurance pay for these if I won the case . . . as well as damages if I lost?

ber 11. State Commander, Giles Reeve of Ecorse has re-emphasized the conviction of National Commander, John S. Gleason of Chicago, that "there is a great need to remind the entire world . . . friend, enemy and neutral . . . that the citizens of the United States have always and will always stand together in the face of common danger."

Gleason, who has just returned from a brief Crusade for Freedom trip to Europe, is of the opinion that neutral and friendly nations of the world are being blackmailed by Kremlin exploitation of Sputnik. "The American Legion," he says, "can serve as a rallying point for a great new national unity demonstration."

Both Reeve and Gleason predict that a display of the American flag over every home and building on Veterans Day would be a massive reaffirmation of our love of country.

The state's 510 American Legion posts, representing some 75,000 Legionnaires, have been requested by Commander Reeve to contact the clergy in their communities in order to effect a mass ringing of church bells at 11 A. M. on that day. All citizens are also urged to offer silent prayer at that time for world peace and unity.

HEART ASSOCIATION CAUTIONS HUNTERS

It's better to come back "deer- less", than to undermine your health or possibly not come back at all, is the advice of the Michigan Heart Association in its annual warning to Michigan deer hunters. M. S. Chambers, M. D., Flint, President of the Association, says that more than deer will be in danger during the coming deer-hunting season.

Men who never exercise more than to walk from their house to their automobile or bus should not suddenly don heavy shoes and clothes and tramp long distances through underbrush and snow.

Each year during the deer season there is a rise in the deaths from heart attacks precipitated by unaccustomed exertion, and, according to the Michigan Heart Association, there is no way of knowing the additional number of heart attacks which occurred but did not cause immediate death. Undoubtedly, some heart deaths occurring during the coming winter may be due to heart damage aggravated while deer hunting.

Here are six life-saving rules for hunters prepared by the Michigan Heart Association, a member of the Michigan United Fund.

1. If you have any doubts about your heart, see your family physician and have a complete physical examination before going hunting.
2. Get your proper rest before hunting—don't depend on "catnaps" in the automobile on the way.
3. Exhaustion is not a good thing for the body in general and the heart in particular—so rest often.
4. Don't use stimulants to give you strength—getting tired is nature's way of warning you to take it easy.
5. Eat and drink moderately—act your age—you'll live longer and like it.
6. Finally, know when to give up. Getting that deer isn't worth losing your health.

SIMPLE ACTIVITIES FOR SICK CHILDREN

It's often a problem to keep children in bed who are "under the weather" but don't really feel sick. It'll help if you get them interested in some simple activities they can do in bed, says Bernice Borgman, of child development at Michigan State University.

Books to read or look at are just the thing for some children. But if you have a child that wants activity you may need some other ideas.

They'll need some sort of lap board or bed table to work on. A bread board or piece of plywood laid across the lap works fine. You may want to put a pillow or blanket roll under the ends to keep it from tilting. Or you can cut the sides out of a cardboard box and use the bottom for a table. The ends act as legs to hold it steady.

With a flat surface to play on they can work on puzzles or with crayons. Plain paper encourages children to draw their own pictures rather than coloring in color books.

Some of their small toys work fine on the lap board, too. Try the small trucks, cars and animal figures. They may also like to use small blocks to build things.
