The imperative need for spiritual alertness as our defense from evil will be stressed in Christian Science services Sunday.

Bible readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will include the following from James (1:2, 3, 12):

"My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations; Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience. . . . Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him."

A correlative passage from

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy declares: "Christians must take up arms against error at home and abroad. They must grapple with sin in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare until they have finished their course. If they keep the faith, they will have the crown of rejoicing" (29:1).

NOTED SOPRANO
GUEST OF SYMPHONY

Maria Roumell, noted soprano, will be guest soloist with the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra at the second concert of the season at 8:30 P. M. Tuesday, Dec. 2. Miss Roumell, who sings for the musical theater as well as opera, will include some of both in her program.

"Romance" from the "Desert Song" by Romberg; "Italian Marietta" by Victor Herbert, "Skaters' Waltz" by Waldtuefel are all on the gay romantic side. Opera will be represented with three beautiful arias: "II est doux, II est bon" from "Herodiade" by Massenet; "Viis d'arte" from "Tosca" by Puccini and "Involami" from "Ernani" by Verdi.

The orchestra, conducted by Francesco di Blasi, will accompany Miss Roumell. In addition it will present the Overture from "Hansel and Gretel" by Humperdinck; Symphony No. 38 in D Major by Mozart; "Finlandia" by Sibelius, and "Hungarian (Rokoczy) March" from "The Damnation of Faust" by Berlioz.

The concert will be held in a new 1000-seat auditorium in Pontiac Northern High School, 1051 Arlene Ave., near the intersection of Madison and Perry Streets. The new auditorium offers fine acoustics, greater seating capacity and ample hard-surfaced, lighted parking. It is easily reached from newly widened Perry St., which intersects East Huron St., at downtown Pontiac.

Tickets may be obtained at O'Dell Drug Store, 10 S. Main Street, or from Charlotte Darling, 6621 Transparent Drive. They will also be available at the door the evening of the concert.

WILD RICE
SOWS ITSELF

Man may still sow wild oats, but wild rice sows itself.

This cereal grass, whose delicious product sells on the market for $4 a pound, has to be carefully harvested by hand methods only, according to George Hunt, assistant professor of wildlife management at The University of Michigan.

"The Indians who gather the abundant crop in northern Minnesota and Wisconsin are not allowed to use machine methods in harvesting the rice since mechanical harvesters don't leave enough seed for future growth. An annual plant, wild rice has to produce new plants for the following year from seed" he says.

"In accordance with a treaty with the U. S. government, most of the harvesting is done by Indians. There are certain areas in which only Indians can harvest the wild rice. The rice stands are so dense it is difficult to make an opening even with a canoe. It takes two men to do the job. As one man poles the boat, the other pulls the rice stalks over the edge of the boat, knocking the heads with a stick to loosen the rice seeds.

"Under these methods, efficient harvesters may gather as much as 200 pounds a day. The Indians get around $1.90 a pound for the top-quality rice as they bring it to the shore. It is then taken by brokers to the factories where it will be processed. Finally, it is sold for around $2.75 to $4 a pound, depending on quality", Hunt says.

"The plant, distinguished by delicate heads with soft yellow blooms generally grows to a height of three to nine feet and is found in water anywhere from six inches up to two or three feet."

Just about everybody agrees that wild rice is a fine dish—

Tiny Traveler

Meet Mr. Woodcock, that elusive little fellow who migrates through Michigan each year. Not often seen, except by naturalists and experienced hunters, the woodcock spends much of his time in lowlands where the moist earth produces an abundant supply of his favorite food, earthworms. Robert Harrington, Conservation Department photographer, made this remarkable shot of the little traveler.

especially when served with entrees such as wild game, turkey, chicken, fish or Cornish hens. Says Hunt with enthusiasm, "Guess they call it 'a rare delicacy' because it's so doggone delicious. And nutritionists say it's even better than some of our well known cereal grains." Records show that the Indians have used it for some 300 to 500 years, and it may well have been used before that. In the 18th and 19th Centuries the white trappers used it extensively. Some of the fur companies bought thousands of bushels, paying $1.50 a bushel. It was not put on the market until the 1890's when it appeared in local stores in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

In Michigan, wild rice grows on the western and southern sides of Houghton Lake, along the Tahquamenon River, along lakes and streams near Tawas, and in the Saginaw Bay area. The Waterloo recreation area near Ann Arbor has some wild rice, although not in abundance.

LOVELY DOLLS IN GOODWILL IND. STORES

Are you looking for a dolly for your own little Susie, for your sister Kate or your grandchild? You will find the loveliest dolls in Detroit in the Goodwill Industries retail stores.

For the past six years Mrs. William Smith, long-time friend of Goodwill has planned, designed and created the clothes for many of these dolls.

Like their little "mamas", the dolls have distinct personalities.

In fact, Mrs. Smith has created the hair-dos and costumes of Dorothy Kilgallon, Arlene Frances, Shirley Temple, Marion Marlowe, Jane and Audrey Meadows, and Annie Oakley, and has named the dolly accordingly. They are a vision to behold!

You have never seen more beautiful dolls. Any little "mama" would love to receive one of these lovely creatures from Santa!

They're In The Mail This Week

Thousands of dollars have just gone out to members of our 1958 Christmas Club. We hope that you received some but if you didn't . . .

It's time to join our Christmas Club for 1959 and make sure that you have some extra cash for the holidays next year at this time. Stop in this week.

KEEP TRIM THANKSGIVING EVEN THOUGH YOU FEAST

It's possible to keep trim this Thanksgiving even though you feast on all the trimmings.

That's the comforting observation of Mrs. Alice Smith, chief nutritionist for the Michigan Department of Health.

"An occasional large meal won't hurt you", Mrs. Smith said, "if you go easy on food a day or two before and a day or two after the feast."

If feasters follow this plan they will feel much better and probably will even look better on Thanksgiving afternoon and evening, Mrs. Smith said. And they will also protect themselves from making overeating a habit.

"Another good thing to know is that the traditional Thanksgiving meal is high in food values", Mrs. Smith pointed out. "Turkey is rich in protein. Dressing also is very nourishing when made with such things as green celery and oysters. Even pumpkin pie is nutritious—after all, it's made from a yellow vegetable, eggs and milk."

But trim your appetite before you go too far, Mrs. Smith urged. The usual Thanksgiving dinner contains about 1600 calories. For most adults that's almost a full day's supply.

LET'S TALK TURKEY

This week more turkeys will be sold than at other times of the year.

How much turkey will you buy? If you choose a bird weighing less than 12 pounds, allow 3/4 to 1 pound of ready-to-stuff turkey for each person you intend to serve. If the turkey weighs over 12 lbs, allow 1/2 to 3/4 pound per person. The big turkey will cost less per pound and have the largest proportion of meat to bone, states the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

If your hunter bags a deer will you know how to cook it? If you need venison recipes, contact Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Marketing Information Agent, 1260 West Boulevard, Pontiac, for the free "Venison" bulletin published by Michigan State University.

Pumpkin pie is almost as much a part of Thanksgiving as the story of the Pilgrims. But it wasn't on the Pilgrim menu. According to research experts with The World Book Encyclopedia, the early colonists didn't know what to do with the strange vegetable.

SCHEDULING THANKSGIVING DINNER

When dinner is set for a definite hour, wise homemakers will start their Thanksgiving turkey 20 to 30 minutes ahead of schedule to avoid delay should the turkey take longer to cook than estimated.

This also allows time to make gravy, remove trussing cords, and arrange the bird attractively on the platter, point out extension home economists at Michigan State University.

How long to roast the turkey? Set temperature control at 325 degrees, then allow three hours for a 4-pound turkey, four hours for an 8-pounder, five hours for a 12-pounder, six hours for a 16-pounder, and 7½ hours for a 20-pound turkey.

Allow about 1 cup dressing for each pound of turkey ready to cook weight, advise home economics specialists at Michigan State University. Save time by preparing the dry ingredients the day before, then add liquid just before roasting.

If you take a tip from the Indians in early America, you will serve cranberries this month. The flavor goes with any meat you choose. When you buy cranberries, it is not the color or shape that makes the flavor difference reminds the Marketing Information Agent. Mrs. Josephine Lawrence, for the best flavor and keeping quality, choose cranberries that are bright, shiny, plump and dry.

For Future Fishing

Conservation Department workers recently netted lake trout from several northern Michigan lakes to recover spawn for hatcheries. The plan was to "strip" eggs from the mature fish, then release the parents. The eggs were to be used at state and federal hatcheries to develop young stocks of these fish for possible release in the Great Lakes—provided the sea lamprey can be controlled.
