"About two years ago I leased a building for five years with option to buy, then gradually put in about $7,000 worth of improvements. I was waiting until the improvements were completed to take out insurance. It was a mistake... the building burned. I've located another building and raised the money to start in business again. Is there a flexible Tenant's Improvements and Betterments policy that can be added to as improvements are made?"

NEWLY-REVISED EDITION "FISHING IN MICHIGAN" HAS BEEN RELEASED

A newly-revised edition of "Fishing In Michigan" has just been released by the Michigan Tourist Council.

The colorful, 32-page guide outlines year-round fishing opportunities in this vacation state. Copies are available without charge from the Council's office, Lansing 26, Michigan.

Prepared cooperatively by the Council and the Michigan Conservation Department, the popular booklet includes sections on fishing sites, boats, accommodations, camping, fish preparation and cooking, deep water trolling, ice fishing and smelt dipping, in addition to illustrated descriptions of the state's various game fish.

Another feature of the publication is a two-page Michigan fishing map, showing general distribution of game fish species in the state. The publication also includes other valuable information on the fishing variety offered by Michigan's 40,000 square miles of inland lakes, streams and Great Lakes waters.

MAKE WATER SAFE FOR HUMAN USE

Water from lakes, streams and springs may be contaminated even in the heart of the deepest forest and shouldn't be used by humans without being boiled or treated.

The Michigan Department of Health said today that water can appear to be clear as a crystal and at the same time contain thousands of deadly germs so small they can be seen only with a microscope.

Even when there are no human sources of contamination, germs can get into water through wild animals and birds, the department said.

To make water safe for human use, the department recommended processing it in any one of the following three ways:

1. Add three drops of any standard laundry bleach to one gallon of clear water and let stand for 30 minutes.
2. Add three drops of tincture of iodine to one quart of clear water and let stand for 30 minutes.
3. Add chlorine or iodine tablets available at most drug stores or sporting goods stores. Follow directions on label.

4. Place water in clean container and boil vigorously for one minute.

Diseases that can be spread by water include typhoid fever, other intestinal diseases, tularemia and infectious hepatitis.

All surface and ground water should be boiled or treated before being used for drinking, cooking, brushing the teeth or washing dishes, the department said.

A bargain is where you find it reminds the Michigan State University Marketing Agent. The bargain you now find at the egg counter will not last too long. Folks who feed chickens say they can't afford to keep so many chickens, to lay so many eggs, to keep prices this low. By the end of August, egg prices will probably be about 10 cents per dozen higher than now.

CONSERVATION SCHOOLS HELD AT HIGGINS LAKE

It was "back to school" for 63 Michigan teachers when the first of four conservation scholarship schools began July 12. Each of the week-long sessions are held at the Conservation Department's Higgins Lake Training School. Approximately 220 teachers will attend the schools this summer. The training program is conducted by Department personnel assisted by resource and curriculum specialists from colleges and universities.

Field trips, lectures and group discussions are utilized in an effort to provide teachers with a thorough background for understanding state-wide conservation problems and integrating this information in their courses. Scholarships are provided by the Federated Garden Clubs, the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, Michigan United Conservation Clubs, Daughters of the American Revolution and other conservation-minded groups.

CIVIL DEFENSE DIRECTORS TO CONVENE JULY 24-25

Government officials and Civil Defense directors from five states will meet in Grand Rapids, July 24-25, at the Manger Hotel to hear the action phases of the current Civil Defense program.

The occasion is the fourth annual conference of the U. S. Council of Civil Defense Directors, Region IV, made up of Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Indiana, and Michigan. More than 300 persons actively concerned with Civil Defense problems in their communities are expected to attend.

In announcing the conference, Council President Walter Halstead of Minneapolis, said that Grand Rapids and the Michigan Office of Civil Defense, as hosts, will present the finest program in the history of the association.

One of the features will be a demonstration of the total use of the resources and personnel of a large metropolitan city under wartime conditions, presented by General Don E. Carleton, Civil Defense Director of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and his staff.

Medical care under times of extreme emergency will be discussed by Max Lichter, M. D., of Detroit, chairman of the Committee on National Defense of the Michigan State Medical Society.

Professor Carl Runge, Assistant Dean of the University of Wisconsin Law School will talk on the legal aspects of utilizing government personnel in Civil Defense before and after attack.

All Civil Defense directors in Michigan have been invited to attend.

HURON VALLEY ADDED TO M. E. A.

Huron Valley (Oakland County) has been added to the districts of the Michigan Education Association, according to Dr. E. Dale Kennedy, executive secretary.

President of the new district which joins Region 7 of the association is Richard M. Yeager, Huron Valley High School.

Addition of the new district brings the number to 157 on a state-wide basis.

CLEAN CLOSETS DISCOURAGE CLOTHES MOTHS

Good housekeeping is the best way to beat the moths, says Bernetta Kahabka, clothing specialist at Michigan State University. This means storing clean clothes in a clean place.

Let the vacuum cleaner help you dust closets, shelves, chests and even boxes in which clothes will be stored. The vacuum does a better job of removing lint and dirt-food for moth larvae than does a dust mop. It also removes any deposits of insects and eggs that might be hidden under the baseboards.

After this thorough cleaning, Miss Kahabka suggests you burn the contents of the vacuum bag.

Next, spray storage areas with a 3 to 5 per cent D. D. T. solution, following directions on the package. Cover all cracks and openings in the walls and baseboards, and use enough spray to create a cloud or fog in the area.

Good housekeeping also suggests eliminating other breeding places for moths. These pests like to invade old clothes and feather hats stored in the attic. They like to find old wool rugs piled in the basement. Once moths get started, it's just a short trip to the good clothes in your bedroom closet.

Fragile raspberries are fast appearing in the stores and farmers' markets reports the Michigan State University Marketing Agent. Choose only those raspberries you plan to use in one day . . . they crush easily and lose their delicate flavor quickly.

LET'S BAG SOMETHING BIG

In our town's efforts to build prosperity for its citizens, what is the biggest thing we can bag?

It is a good name - a good name for our town as a good place for industry to succeed and a good place for people to live.

As industry looks for places to locate plants and payrolls, its eye is out for towns that have such assets as:

Strong community spirit and leadership . . . fine schools . . . outstanding public services . . . pleasant residential areas and attractive business districts . . . sound planning and zoning . . . a good chamber of commerce . . . developed industrial sites . . . adequate plant financing . . . appreciation of present industry . . . productivity everywhere around.

Industry not only has its eye out but has its ear cocked. A good name travels far and a town with a good name goes far.

Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

This ad is one of a series published as a public service by this newspaper in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

MICHIGAN BELL

WE HEARD ABOUT A WOMAN who was trapped on the second floor of her house recently by a burglar. She pecked down the stairs and saw him ransacking the house but couldn't call police because the only phone was on the first floor. So she kept very quiet upstairs until the burglar left with all her valuables. Our subscriber was poorer but wiser for her experience. She bought an upstairs extension telephone the very next day. A telephone in your bedroom is not only a convenience. It's a security measure as well.

OUTDOOR TELEPHONE BOOTHS are really handy to have around—so much so, in fact, that a vacationer was found living in one in the resort town of Carolina Beach, N. C. He had set up housekeeping with an old broom, a small oil stove, a frying pan, cooking oil, eggs and cheese. There seems to be no limit to the convenience of these outdoor booths. But at the request of those who were waiting to make a call, our friend was encouraged to do his homesteading elsewhere. Folks in Michigan, incidentally, are never far from a public telephone. Michigan Bell has over 4,000 outdoor booths conveniently located along the state's highways and byways.

SONG WRITERS have been inspired by the telephone ever since 1877, just a year after its invention by Bell. That's when two marches, a polka and a solemn piece called "The Wondrous Telephone" were published. More than 70 song titles have appeared since then, many of them using the rhyme of "alone" and "phone" or "telephone." Now a new Columbia record album with songs by Polly Bergen is available. It carries the over-all title of Irving Berlin's 1924 hit, "All Alone by the Telephone"—something you needn't be any more with friends and family just a quick call away.

"Captured" In A Cookie!

The exotic flavor of the South Seas is captured in these "help yourself" squares. Flaked coconut and crushed pineapple combine to make these excellent tea time refreshments.

Coconut Pineapple Squares 1/2 cup soft butter 1/2 cup sugar 1/4 cup sugar 1 egg, well beaten 1 1/4 cups sifted flour 1 tablespoon butter, melted 1 cup well-drained canned crushed pineapple 1 1/2 cups flaked coconut

Mix 1/2 cup butter and 1/4 cup sugar with pastry blender or fork. Add flour and mix until crumbs are formed. Then mix thoroughly with hands until soft dough is formed. Press evenly into bottom of 9x9 1/2-inch pan, with about 1/2 inch extending up the sides. Prick bottom with fork. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 15 minutes, or until crust begins to brown. Remove from oven. Spread pineapple evenly over crust. Add 1/2 cup sugar to well-beaten egg; beat until blended. Fold in 1 tablespoon melted butter and the coconut. Spread mixture evenly over the pineapple. Return to oven and bake 20 minutes longer. Cut into 36 squares. Make 3 dozen squares.

Up a steep mud-choked wash—Positraction pays off!

Through a mountain stream—deep in Avintaquin Canyon.

NO MOUNTAIN CAT, MISTER...

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where piñon won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction* rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing! Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped 1/2-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of. *Optional at extra cost

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!
