Crescent Hills Has Quarterly Meeting

The quarterly business meeting of the Crescent Hills Baptist Church was held Sunday afternoon on the lawn of the parsonage following a family cook-out dinner.

The business meeting was in charge of the pastor, Rev. Benjamin A. Bohn. Mrs. Norman Schumack, church clerk, recorded the minutes of the meeting. Purchase of a larger building site for the church on land south of the parsonage on Crescent Lake Road was completed and contracts were signed by the Board of Trustees for the purchase of the present parsonage from the Michigan Baptist Convention.

It was also voted to conduct a Capitol Funds Campaign for the erection of the church building. A substantial growth in membership, attendance and finances shows a marked progress in the church which is just three years old.

EXTENSION MEMBERS AT HUBBARD HOME

On Tuesday morning at 9:00 o'clock about twenty-five women gathered at the Joseph Hubbard home on Allen Road to sew slip covers to be used in the new home that the Hubbards have built across the road from their old location. The group of women included County Home Extension Agents, some of the Past County Home Extension officers and members of the Clarkston Day Extension Group.

At noon the women enjoyed a buffet luncheon in the recreation room of the new home. The buffet table was covered with a white cloth and was centered with blue and pink flowers in a small wooden pail flanked by blue candles in hand carved wooden candle holders from Italy. Mrs. Arnold Mann was responsible for the lovely table arrangement.

Just before the luncheon Mrs. Arthur Goss of Drayton Plains led in the singing of the Doxology. Following the luncheon Mrs. Charles Brucker of Oxford paid tribute to Mrs. Hubbard by reminiscing a little and telling her how much the members of the Home Extension Groups had appreciated her leadership and interest in the work, not only in the local club, but throughout the county. Mrs. Brucker closed her talk by reading several appropriate poems.

The women then returned to the old Hubbard home and continued with the sewing of the slip covers.

It will begin at 9:30 a.m. each day, and conclude promptly at noon. Mrs. Wilbert Fitzthomas, Director of the school, prepared the following statement for publication:

"The Kindergarten Department will meet in Wesley Hall; the theme of their study will be 'God and His World'. Under the direction of Mrs. Ivan Hovey, a very full two weeks have been planned for this group of children. The youngsters will become members of four little families. Mothers for these groups will be Ingrid Gustavson, Betty Hovey, Phyllis Masta and Shirley Thompson. The little ones will be guided to discover God as the Creator, through activities, music, games, stories and prayers, led by these very capable teachers. Carol Walter will play the piano and Donna Redwood will be on hand to teach new songs and lead musical games.

"The Earth is Full of His Riches" will be the theme of the Primary Department, which will meet in the Church. This department under the leadership of Elaine Sharrock, have completed plans, and are ready to go. The children will be discovering new facts about "the riches of the earth" such as light, soil and water. Many interesting and unusual activities have been planned by Denise Kraud, using these riches. A story will be told and illustrated each day by Shirley Lynch, Jean McKee and Louise Hutchins will be on hand to lend a helping hand whenever needed. The Worship Service will be led by Elaine Sharrock, with the talented Shirley Bauer at the piano.

Barbara Pike is directing the Junior Department. Assisting her with the theme, "Finding God Through Work and Worship" are Joy Norberg and Reverend Milan Stitt. Each child will receive a book to work with and take home at the end of the Bible School sessions. A visit to the Hawk Tool and Engineering Co. factory, a trip to see teacher dogs trained at Rochester, and many other interesting activities have been planned. With songs, worship, and choral readings, the Juniors should have a very full ten days.

The Bible School staff has raised, to date, $33.00 to help support the school. Kool-aid and cookies will be served to the children at mid-morning in the Kindergarten and Primary Departments. Joyce Galligan will serve as "gal Friday" to the director, Jean Fitzthomas, and help with registration and daily attendance records.

Thursday, August 20, there will be a family night. A short program with choral readings, songs, and other presentations will be given. Following the program, there will be open house in all departments, so that the children's work will be on display.

Michigan's Rich Resource -- Water

A fisherman enjoys one of water's many uses in Michigan. To the sportsman, homemaker, farmer and industrialist alike, Michigan's water is a vital resource. Among other things, it is a source of power for industry, an avenue for shipping products and a key to a booming tourist business. Besides serving many domestic needs in the home, it is used for irrigating crops and safeguarding public health. It supports fish and wildlife pop- ulations and gives life to our forests and wild plants. Truly, it would be hard to overestimate the value of state's water wealth.

Park Lifeguards Aim for Water Safety

A state park lifeguard heaves a life-saver at his simulated target—a drowning swimmer—during a recent lifesaving session conducted by the American Red Cross at Muskegon park. Twenty-five lifeguards went through their paces, demonstrating artificial respiration, first aid and other lifesaving techniques during the one-day school. Another 14 were tested earlier last month at Pontiac Lake's recreation area. The testing, required by the state for the first time this year, is aimed at curbing water accidents at the more heavily-used beaches in parks and recreation areas of southeastern Michigan and the northern lower peninsula.

MICHIGAN'S PARKS MAY BE IMPROVED

A new source of revenue is in sight for Michigan's parks system following the legislature's approval last week of the parks permit bill.

If confirmed by Governor G. ennen Williams, the bill would become effective 90 days after the legislature adjourns.

It would provide a $5,000,000 bond issue for park improvements to be retired from annual and daily parks permit fees. An annual $2.00 or daily 50-cent permit would be required on all motor vehicles entering state parks and recreation areas.

Conservation Department officials anticipate these fees would bring in upwards of 1,000,000 annually.

All funds would be used solely for park improvements; land purchases do not fall into this category. Furthermore, all improvement projects would require approval by the Conservation Commission and legislature before they could be started.

Basically, the sticker system would work much as fishing and hunting licenses do. Responsibility for obtaining stickers would rest with park users.

Similarly, where hunting and fishing license revenue is used for purchasing and developing lands at state game areas and public fishing sites, sticker monies would promote park improvements for people who use and pay for them.

Parks officials have already drawn up improvement plans calling for some $2,500,000.

"We are pointing improvements toward more toilet and campground facilities to reduce the number of people turned away each year", said Harold C. MacSwain, assistant chief of the Department's parks division.

A lack of camping facilities has forced Department parks men to turn away more than 14,000 camping groups in Michigan already this year.

MICHIGAN'S BEAR NOW BIG GAME ANIMAL

Legislation this year has enhanced and protected the status of Michigan's bear as a big game animal.

An amendment to the state's game law requires that those hunting bears on small game licenses must have a special $2.00 bear stamp. A metal seal will be issued with each stamp, similar to the one used for deer.

Bears may still be hunted during deer seasons on a deer license. No stamp or seal will be required.

Purpose of the stamp is to eliminate indiscriminate killing of bears. The burly animals have long been regarded by many hunters as valuable big game species in Michigan.

One complication will occur in the upper peninsula. Since the "early fall" bear season—September 1-15—precedes the 1959 small game season there, bear hunters must attach the stamp to their 1958 small game licenses. When the regular bear season opens October 1, the 1958 license must be carried along with the 1959 license.

Bear stamps and seals are available through mail or personal application at the Conservation Department's Lansing office. They may be obtained at all Department district headquarters and the Highway Department's information office at Mackinaw City after August 10.

SHOOTING STARS HIGHLIGHT MONTH FOR ASTRONOMERS

August will be the month of "shooting stars", since the time is rapidly nearing for the annual Perseid display.

This outstanding show appears with almost perfect regularity each August and is considered the most dependable of the scheduled showers. Meteors may be seen flitting across the sky in larger numbers than at any other time of the year, with the maximum coming around August 11 or 12.

A shower of meteors can occur only when the orbit of the earth crosses the orbit of the meteor swarm. The time of the earth's crossing determines the date of the shower. Apparently, in the case of this swarm, the meteors gradually have spread out along the entire orbit, for every year when the earth crosses the path, a shower of moderate intensity and about the same frequency is observed.

As many as 50 shooting stars or more may be observed each hour. Fortunately, the first quarter moon of Aug. 11 will not seriously interfere with observations this season.

Shooting stars are pieces of iron and stone that become visible when they enter and encounter the earth's atmosphere. Coming in at very high speeds—always several miles per second—their motions are checked and retarded and the resulting friction sets them burning, with most of them consumed in the plunge.

The temperature resulting from the meteor's violent rush through the air is enormous and produces the brilliant flash that looks like a star.

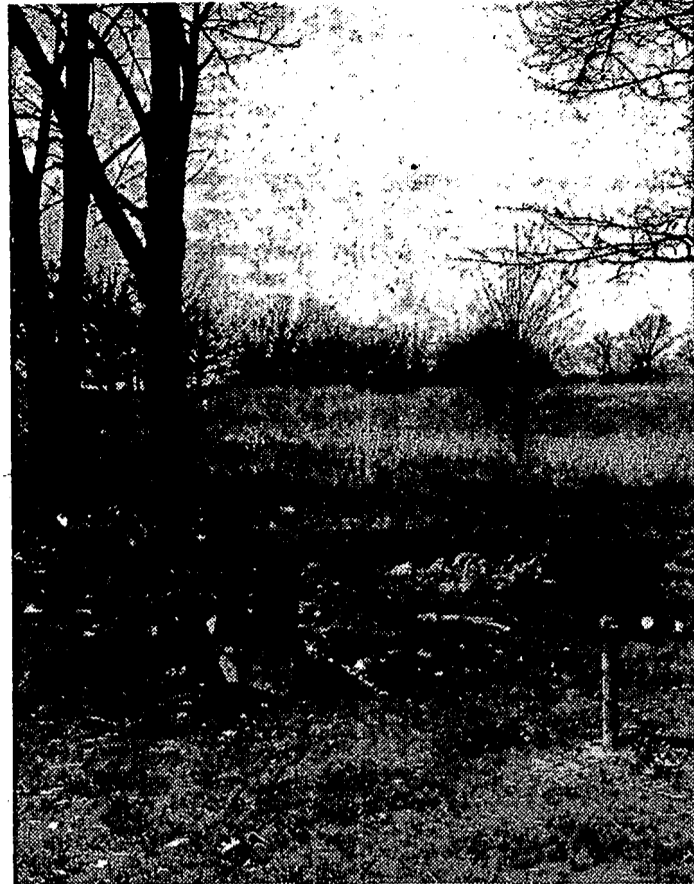

Although these flashes of light may be seen in the sky in any direction, the paths of the meteors of this shower, when traced back, seem to intersect in the northeast near the Cassiopeia-Perseus border, where the constellation Perseus rises about 10 P. M. This accounts for the name given the annual display.

The bits of iron and stone seem to radiate and fly in all directions from this region and it is not uncommon for a "falling star" to move upward instead of downward.

The best time to look for "shooting stars" is after midnight when they are not only brighter but also when we can see those that we meet head on as well as those that overtake the earth.

"Wreckreation" of Vandals

The Conservation Department's perennial problem of vandalism in state parks and recreation areas has begun again. A pile of charred rubble and ashes, above, is all that remains of a picnic table after teenagers threw it on a bonfire during a party in one of the state's southeastern recreation sites. Fines and probationary sentences were levied on four of the youths who pleaded guilty. Three others were summoned to appear in juvenile court. To the park ranger this type of "wreckreation" imposes constant patrol, repeated checking and many hours of repair work. Often the damaged facilities are beyond repair. In most cases, this means the public must go without the item because funds generally are not available for its replacement.

STATE FAIR ART SHOW DEADLINE AUGUST 27

Michigan artists who have won an award at a regional or gallery exhibition during the past year are invited to participate in the annual art exhibition of the Michigan State Fair, September 4 through 13.

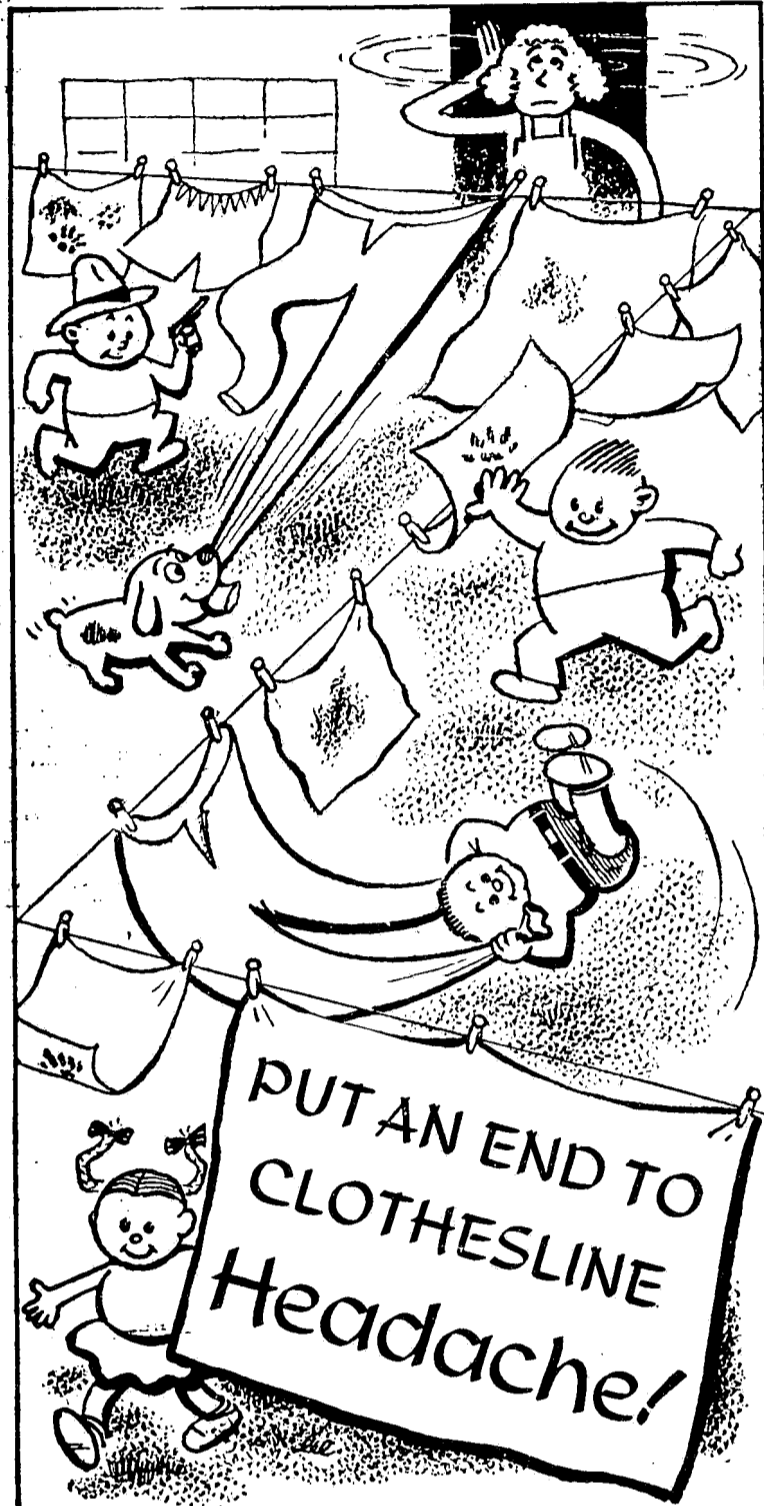

Artists must enter and ship paintings on or before August 27, according to Donald L. Swanson, State Fair general manager. One entry will be allowed from each eligible artist.

Prizes of $150, $125, $100 and $75 will be awarded in each of the oil painting and watercolor divisions.

As in the past, the jury will be composed of experts in the art world.

For further information, artists may write to the director of the exhibition, Polly Leurs, at the Michigan State Fair, Detroit 3, Michigan.

WHY DO WITHOUT A LITTLE LUXURY LIKE THIS... LET ALONE

Chevy's the only car of the leading low-priced three that gives you the convenience of crank-operated vent windows. No awkward latches to fumble with . . . your knuckles and fingernails will appreciate it.

THESE BIG CHEVY VIRTUES!

bigger brakes

Bigger, yes, and built with bonded linings for as much as 66% longer life. And how's this for proof that Chevy's a real stopper: in a NASCAR*-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds, Chevrolet outstopped both of the "other two" time after time.

*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research.

award-winning engines

The NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award goes to Chevrolet! Chevy wins for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines . . . for the establishment of new levels of V8 compactness combined with outstanding smoothness." And you can choose among eight V8's and the Six that won the Mobilgas Economy Run for its class.

full coil ride

You're the expert on ride, so you'll want to try Chevy's easygoing smoothness for yourself. MOTOR TREND magazine can give you a hint of what you're in for: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." And Full Coil springs, of course, never squeak, never need grease.

fresh styling

POPULAR SCIENCE magazine gave Chevy's styling a thoughtful look, then said it this way: "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." You'll find your own happy way of saying that Chevy's the only unmistakably modern car in its class.

greater roominess

Automobile Manufacturers Association records carry the facts on this. In a Chevy sedan, for example, you've got more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars! And Chevy's front seat hip room spreads up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

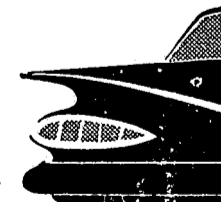

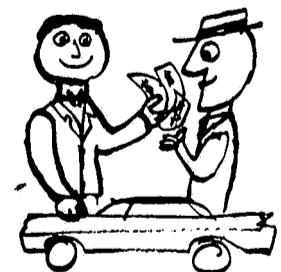

bigger savings

Here's solid proof that Chevrolet squeezes more miles out of a gallon: In the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, two Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide took the first two places in their class. Winning mileage: 22.38 m.p.g. And that, friends, took top honors for Chevy from every full-sized car!

higher trade-in

N.A.D.A.* Guide Books prove that your Chevrolet will keep its value. Chevy used car prices last year, for example, averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the other two cars in Chevrolet's field.

SOIL CONSERVATION STAMP TO BE ISSUED

The Oakland County soil conservation district is one of more than 2,800 such districts throughout the country being honored by issuance of a commemorative soil conservation stamp by the post office department, according to Robert McCrory, chairman of the Soil Conservation stamp promotion committee.

The stamp will be issued August 26 at Rapid City, S. D., at the annual meeting of the Soil Conservation Society of America, and will go on sale at local post offices the following day, Mr. McCrory said. The stamp, in 3 colors, depicts a modern conservation farm, and is of 4-cent denomination.

The Oakland County soil conservation district was organized by local farmers in 1945. The district now has 326 active cooperators, of whom 238 have basic conservation plans.

The district is governed by a board consisting of Harold Mitchell, Grand Blanc; Robert McCrory, South Lyon; Keith Middleton, Lake Orion; William Scramlin, Holly, and Stuart Hutchins, Rochester. Technical assistance is provided by the Soil Conservation Service. Merrill Ray is in charge. Other SCS men working with the district include Duane Magnuson, Soil Conservationist.

Here are some of the accomplishments in the district by its cooperators: 33 Basic Farm Plans, 842 acres Conservation Crop Rotation, 179 acres Pasture Planting, 139 acres Tree Planting, 2 miles of hedgerow planting, 4 miles of tile draining 173 acres, and 12 farm ponds.

The soil conservation stamp, McCrory said, is a salute to progress in our own district and other districts across the country.

WHITE LINING IS BEST FOR LAMP SHADES

If it's time to put a new lamp shade on the living-room lamp, take these guides with you when you shop, suggests Coral Morris, extension home management specialist at Michigan State University.

Unless the lamp is purely for decoration, the shade should have a white, or very light colored lining. Dark linings cheat you out of some light since they absorb light.

You'll find both opaque and translucent shades in the stores. Opaque shades allow no light to pass through. No matter what the outside color of the shade—even white, it appears dark when lighted. This type of shade is often used in rooms with dark colored walls, eliminating strong contrast between a bright shade and a dark background. A white lining is essential in an opaque shade.

With light colored walls, you may prefer a translucent shade through which some light passes. For decorative effects, a light colored shade may be used against a dark background or vice-versa. However, this combination is not recommended for lamps to be used for strenuous eye tasks, such as reading or sewing.

For simple care, Miss Morris says you might consider a shade of plastic, acetate, or a specially processed material that takes to cleaning or washing.

Be cautious of the shade that is too thin. You should not be able to see the lamp reflector or light source through the shade when the lamp is lighted.

Save those old shoe boxes for a rainy day. They make a fine train when young children must play indoors, says Emily Hobbs, instructor in child development at Michigan State University.

Miss Hobbs offers other rainy-day ideas designed to keep youngsters busy and interested. These require few materials and little clean-up. Once the child has an idea of how to use the materials he can carry on by himself.

Plain or colored toothpicks are fun if you arrange them in fancy designs on the table. Or they can be stuck into a dry sponge, scouring pad, potato, lemon or apple.

Pipe cleaners team with big macaroni and toothpicks for shaping figures. Cleaners alone twist into eyeglasses or dolls.

Colored chalk can be used on paper as well as the blackboard. To keep chalk from rubbing off on arms and elbows, be sure the paper is wet, or the chalk is first dipped into water. Use paper plates with chalk or crayons for something different.

Save a piece of burlap for fringing and paper sacks for making masks. Old sheets become flags when decorated and fastened to sticks. A magnet on the end of a string is a fishing pole to catch bobby pins or paper clips. Make-believe feathers can be cut from paper and stapled to a band of cardboard or fabric for an Indian headdress.

Modeling clay for poking and punching relieves boredom—but keep the clay in one place.

Miss Hobbs has found that most young children are interested in food and in things that transform in the making. They enjoy adding a bouillon cube to warm water to make soup, and adding milk to an instant mix for pudding. They like to help put drop cookies on the pan to bake, and to cut soft fruit for salads or gelatin desserts. They like to make toast and sandwiches.

For a special surprise, collect an assortment of fabric pieces, beads and other odds and ends in a box, add a magnifying glass and your child will have a treasure box to explore and examine on that inevitable rainy day.

WINNER TWELFTH NATIONAL SAFETY POSTER CONTEST

Shy Sandhill Crane

Sandhill cranes, formerly found throughout Michigan in plentiful numbers, have been drastically reduced by man's excessive hunting and drainage on their nesting grounds. A few cranes still nest in isolated marshes of southern Michigan. Swamps of the upper peninsula provide a greater degree of privacy and are, therefore, preferred nesting sites of these shy birds. Remaining wetlands must be preserved and restored to safeguard against the threatening disappearance of this migratory wild bird in Michigan.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

An Apparent Reason

A week ago, Red Roberts' wife gave birth to a baby boy. Naturally, we went to the hospital to see the new arrival. We found Red standing (and beaming) in front of the nursery window, saying things like "look—he's got my eyes," and "his chin is shaped exactly like the Missus," and "Yessir, that's my boy." Just then a nurse whispered, "That Johnson baby is cute, isn't he Mr. Roberts? We'll bring yours out in a minute."

From where I sit, once in a while we all jump to conclusions without knowing the facts. For instance, some people are like that about my favorite beverage—beer. They're quick to say that tea or coffee go best at dinnertime... when the fact of the matter is it's simply a question of choice. Intolerance breeds on ignorance—and we ought to know before we "deliver" an opinion on anything.

MILK VALUABLE PART OF DIET

Milk is a valuable part of the adult diet and gives a maximum return in good health for all those who use it daily, say dietitians at The University of Michigan Medical Center. No one food furnishes so many of the essential nutrients so economically and in such well-balanced proportions as does milk. It is an outstanding source of calcium and phosphorus which are essential to prevent bone fragility, a fairly common occurrence with increasing age. Milk also supplies high quality protein needed for the replacement of damaged and worn-out body tissues. This is often lacking in the older person's diet especially when milk is absent.

A man has to live with himself, and he should see to it that he always has good company. —Charles Evans Hughes

Do you like fresh green or wax beans served with crisp bacon or mushrooms? You will find good supplies of homegrown beans in the markets, states the MSU Marketing Agent. Not only are fresh beans fairly low in cost, but they are low in calories. They are an important source of iron and thiamine, two food nutrients seldom found in large amounts. Don't be hasty and throw away the liquid in which you cook fresh beans, reminds Josephine Lawyer. About one third of the iron, vitamin A and thiamine in the beans will be found in the liquid after cooking.

Iceberg or head lettuce is only one of many kinds of lettuce, states the MSU Marketing Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Give salads more interest by adding leaf lettuce or a bit of delicate Bibb lettuce. A sprinkling of the coarse tall leaves of Romaine lettuce will add extra flavor and texture. Some markets also have the large heads of Boston lettuce with leaves that feel buttery to touch.

Undertake something that is difficult; it will do you good. Unless you try to do something beyond what you have already mastered, you will not grow. —Ronald E. Osborn
