

Waterford

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Norgrove, with their daughter, Sharron, and son Neal, are now living in their recently completed new home located at 7670 Parkwood Court, on Maceday Lake. The family formerly lived on Maiden Drive.

Robert Poorman of Warringham Drive is home from a short stay in Pontiac General Hospital and returned to his work at Pontiac Motors on Monday.

Mrs. CeCeal Olmstead, mother of Mrs. William Thomas of Thomas Lane, is very ill in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, where she underwent surgery over the week-end.

Last Thursday evening the Pioneer Girls held their "Pals and Gals" meeting at the Waterford Community Church with 47 present. Each girl was given a "pal", who is an older woman, for the year. Each of the women brought a box of refreshments to go along with cake and punch.

The club is divided into two age groups with Mrs. Robert Taylor leader of the younger ones and Mrs. Carl Kenyon has the older girls. Each girl had made a corsage for her "pal" and presented it to her. Miss Marilyn Mackey had charge of the program of group singing and a get-acquainted game and Mrs. Alton Goll brought a short Christmas message.

Mrs. Vica Lumby of Waterford Road is confined to her home with the flu.

Nine members of the O. D. O. group had their Christmas luncheon last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Clare Hillman on Island Park Drive. These few ladies have purchased four wheel chairs and a hospital bed for the Community House loan service and are now planning and looking for another bed suitable to buy. This equipment is loaned without charge to people in the vicinity who have need for such things.

Mrs. Louis Dorman Sr. entertained the Cheery Chums for their Christmas Party last Friday evening. Mrs. Wallace Brown was chairman for the supper and party and working with her were: Mrs. James Saylor, Mrs. E. Harrington, Mrs. Elmer Davis and Mrs. Henry Mehlberg. There was an exchange of gifts and Christmas remembrances were packed for the older and shut-in folks. March 11th was set as the date for the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Edwin DuBois. Mrs. Henri Buck heads the committee for the March party.

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved By Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at Christian Science services Sunday.

Matthew's account of Christ Jesus' stilling of the tempest (8:23-26) will be included in the Scriptural readings.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (134:26): "Jesus said: 'I knew that Thou hearest me always,' and he raised Lazarus from the dead, stilled the tempest, healed the sick, walked on the water. There is divine authority for believing in the superiority of spiritual power over material resistance."

The Golden Text is from Isaiah (45: 5, 12): "I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God beside me: . . . I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded."

"My burglar-proof store isn't secure against burglars after all. Forcible entry was made and about $2,000 in small goods stolen, evidently the work of amateurs. Professionals could have got away with merchandise worth $20,000 or more at wholesale. I'm now an excellent prospect for a Mercantile Burglary policy! Can this protection be added at low cost to my fire insurance policy or is a separate policy required."

ARE YOU READY FOR WINTER DRIVING?

"How Are You Fixed For Chains?" might be asked by your dealer, but in this instance it is the State Safety Commission. Increasing numbers of accident case reports carry the phrase, "Car went out of control, ran off the roadway, hit object, driver killed." Police, insurance companies and safety groups all warn that drivers and passengers alike should give themselves all the extra breaks they can get during the winter season.

Brakes should be in perfect working order, well balanced and effective. Snow Tires, both new and recaps are superior to conventional tires. Exhaustive tests on snow and ice give the highest stopping ability to chains applied over tires. Snow Tires come next.

The National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards reports that an automobile equipped with reinforced tire chains, requires 77 feet to stop on glare ice. Snow Tires require 174 feet, and Regular Tires, 195 feet. Also, automobiles equipped with reinforced tire chains, require 38 feet to stop on loosely packed snow. Snow Tires require 52 feet and Regular Tires 60 feet. These stopping distances are based on a speed of 20 miles per hour.

Stopping technique, even with the best tires or chains is still the key to control. Give yourself twice the room, make your decision farther ahead, don't drive at a speed beyond control, don't take chances. So much for the "don't's".

Do start ahead of time so you won't have to over-speed. When stopping on snow and ice, never slam on the brakes, pump them gently to a stop. If the rear wheels start to slip to the right, gently swing the front in the same direction. If your car slips off the edge of the road, run ahead with foot off the accelerator until you reach a level place where you can gently slip all four wheels back on the pavement.

Don't be gassed into an accident by an old muffler.

Expect the pavement on bridges to be icy, even when the rest of the road is not. Be especially alert where only patches of the road carry ice and snow. The abrupt changes in the friction coefficient of the pavement can upset the best equipped car. Melting and freezing in the early morning and early evening are a great source of accidents.

The low headlight beam seems to be the best when driving in a snowfall. Avoid eye or body fatigue, particularly in this season. Speed too fast for the headlights can be disastrous. Wear sun glasses to ease the eyes when driving distances in snowy country. Effective windshield cleaners are of vital importance.

Most important of all, don't pass the buck to the weather for your driving troubles. Every driver is essentially responsible for what he does while behind the wheel. If you have any doubts at all, or if you have had a drink within a couple of hours, don't drive.

AGR. CHEMIST SAYS MOST CRANBERRIES OK

Only seven samples of cranberries out of 153 samples analyzed in the Michigan Department of Agriculture's control laboratories have shown evidence of contamination from aminotriazole, the weed killing chemical that has caused thyroid cancer in tests on rats.

The Department's chief chemist, W. C. Geagley, told Director G. S. McIntyre recently that only 1.8 percent of the samples analyzed showed evidence of contamination from the chemical.

Samples of cranberries were submitted to the laboratory by the Department's foods and standards division following the pre-Thanksgiving scare that some lots of cranberries, mainly those from the west coast, contained the substance.

The samples under test included cranberries from various grocery outlets in the state. Some were fresh cranberries, others cranberry sauce, frozen berries, canned jellied cranberries, frozen cranberry-orange relish, and even canned cranberry juice cocktail.

Results were obtained on 378 samples, representing 68 different lots of packers' code numbers.

The chemical analysis for aminotriazole is an intricate one, and requires about 12 hours to complete one test, Mr. Geagley said.

Tests are being continued of some recently purchased samples of cranberries. All were from out-state sources since Michigan has no commercial cranberry industry.

REMINDERS FOR ICE FISHERMEN

For ice fishermen who plan to take advantage of Michigan's relaxed regulations on rainbow trout this winter the Conservation Department has some helpful reminders:

Rainbows under the ice forage a shoal edge in about 15 feet of water, taking occasional runs on the shoal. They travel well off bottom.

If the perch begin to bite, chances are you're in a good spot for rainbows because the two are frequently found in the same places. Bluegills and rainbows, however, seem to have little in common.

A four to five-foot limber ice fishing rod is considered ideal for rainbows. For large trout, a good spool or free-running reel instead of the usual line-winding cleat.

For bait — live minnows for the big ones; small spoon jigs and ice flies in combination with a corn borer or "mousie" grub for the small.

Lists of lakes and streams open to winter rainbow fishing may be obtained from the Conservation Department's Lansing office or any of its district field headquarters.

VISITORS FROM ALL CONTINENTS SEE CINERAMA IN DETROIT

Recently, in surveying the guest book at the Music Hall Theatre, the management discovered that they have played host to visitors from every continent during the first fifty-six weeks of "Cinerama — South Seas Adventure."

Patrons from 44 different states have been numbered among the first half-million viewers of this fifth Cinerama presentation. This number includes our two newest states, Alaska and Hawaii. Tourists from seven Canadian provinces including Ontario, Quebec, Saskatchewan, British Columbia, New Brunswick, Manitoba and Nova Scotia have included the Music Hall among their places to see and things to do in Detroit.

Probably the most amazing record of all is the list of foreign countries represented. People from 32 countries have registered in the guest book. New Zealand and Australia are well represented as are England and Ireland. From behind the Iron Curtain have come people from Russia, Poland and East Germany. South America was represented by Brazil, Argentina, Peru and Uruguay.

In addition to visitors from the many European countries, Cinerama fans came from Arabia, The Philippines, India, The Union of South Africa, Maracaibo and the island of Guam.

Among the many distinguished visitors were Secretary of the Army Wilbur M. Brucker and the Crown Prince and Princess of Ethiopia.

IT WAS NOONTIME. The lineman opened his lunch box and looked inside.

"Peanut butter sandwiches! Last week, yesterday, today; nothing but peanut butter sandwiches! I don't care if I ever see another peanut butter sandwich."

"Gee," said a friend. "Why don't you ask your wife to make you something different?"

"Wife?" answered the lineman. "Who's married? I made these myself."

YOUNG REPUBLICANS NAME OFFICERS

A tiny, vivacious brunette took over the reigns of the Oakland County Young Republican Club last night and pledged herself "to continue the club's tradition as a dynamic force in Oakland political affairs."

Miss Irene Giacobbi, career girl and active civic worker, was unanimously elected chairman of the club—first woman ever to hold that post. She succeeds outgoing chairman Joe Bianco of Pontiac.

Bill Powell of Waterford, 2-8 year-old Pontiac Motors engineer and former naval officer, was named vice-chairman of the group.

Other officers elected include Al Magnus, Bloomfield Hills,

Barbara Borgen, Pontiac, recording secretary; Shirley Thorpe, Southfield, corresponding secretary; Shirley Cousins, Birmingham, Art McWood, Detroit, Phil Seelinger, Birmingham, and Bill Whitfield, Birmingham, executive board; and Barbara Borgen and Irene Giacobbi, state board of control.

Outgoing Chairman Joe Bianco received a standing ovation for his leadership "in bringing the club to the strongest level in its history."

Art Elliott, Oakland County Republican chairman, told the members "Oakland County Young Republicans are blessed with tremendous talent at all levels of the political spectrum."

"I know you will express your-

WINTER DRIVING — READY OR NOT?

Here's some advice on how to ready your car for winter driving, care for it during the cold months ahead, and how to drive safely when streets are slippery and visibility is poor. These twelve tips come from George J. Cutler, director of service for the Plymouth-De Soto-Valiant Division of Chrysler Corporation.

1. When starting the car in the morning, depress the accelerator to half-open throttle to release the choke. IMPORTANT: Do not pump the foot accelerator.
2. After starting in the morning, DON'T let the car run at idle waiting for it to warm up. You're just wasting gas. Start gently and drive slowly until it warms up.
3. Keep your gas tank filled. Cold weather causes condensation and water will get into the gas line.
4. Have radiator flushed and fill with anti-freeze. Be sure that crankcase, transmission and rear axle lubricants are proper grades for cold weather. Have motor tuned and battery checked.
5. Keep windows clean. Be sure defroster operates properly, windshield wipers are in good condition. Put anti-freeze in windshield washer.
6. When planning a winter trip, allow plenty of time to get there. Storms slow traffic.
7. Drive with extra caution in the winter. Slippery streets and poor visibility double the possibilities of accidents.
8. Never drive a car when you have frost or ice on the windows. Take a little time and scrape it off.
9. Be sure you have plenty of ventilation in the passenger compartment. Engine fumes can have serious effects.
10. Have your car washed regularly. Salt on pavements causes rust and corrosion.
11. In "snow country" carry tire chains, a shovel, a tow rope, and a blanket.
12. Avoid excessive speed, even when the highway appears clear. There may be ice around the next curve.

CAUTION TO BE TAKEN FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY

In support of the December emergency state-wide traffic safety campaign to reduce deaths below the figure which is now threatening an increase in the 1959 toll over last year, State Police will intensify patrol activities during the holiday season. Using all available uniform officers and working 10-hour shifts, the holiday patrols will be carried on from Thursday noon December 24 to midnight Sunday, December 27, and again from Thursday noon December 31 to midnight Sunday, January 3.

Fifty National Guardsmen will assist as the second man in squad cars to free additional troopers for more patrols. Detectives will be given desk assignments to release uniform men for the same purpose.

Concentrated enforcement is scheduled for the heavier traffic periods, or from 3 p.m. until shortly after midnight on Christmas eve and from 3 p.m. until an hour after the closing time of liquor establishments New Year's eve.

Sheriff's departments will have 46 National Guardsmen.

Alarmed by the prospect that there will be from 50 to 75 more deaths than the 1,375 persons killed in 1958, the December safety drive was launched at a meeting of representatives of the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Broadcasters Association with Governor Williams, the state safety commissioner, and state, county and municipal enforcement agencies.

Pointing out that traffic violations committed in hazardous winter and holiday driving conditions lead many motorists and pedestrians into sudden death traps, State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said "our patrols will be doubly alert to take action to prevent accidents before they can happen."

Christmas has the worst holiday death record of any holiday period, with an average of one person having been killed about every three hours during the last eight years. The New Year's average is one every five hours.

When improper driving is looked upon a savage, it will cease to be popular. As long as it is regarded as wicked, it will continue to have its fascination.

SANTA IN CLARKSTON CHRISTMAS EVE

ST. LUKE, CHAPTER 2

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem.

To be taxed with Mary his wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the fields, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shown round them: and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which has come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

KEEPING CHRIST IN CHRISTMAS

Christmas! Christmas in Clarkston! Here again is the time when families gather about fireplaces and Christmas trees. Sing Carols. Go shopping. Worship in church. And, also once again we remember the forsaken, the lonely, and the poor, for this is "Keeping Christ in Christmas." It was to them He gave Himself. At Christmas time we remember them, too.

To remember others is to bring a deeper dimension to Christ's birthday. Besides being brightened by the singing of Carols the Holy season is made exciting by some of the finest stories written. One of my favorites is "The Stranger" written by Carol Norling which invites us to remember the one for whom Christmas is celebrated:

"There he stood in the midst of them, curiously alone. Unshapely shoes, threadbare coat, and a battered hat pulled low over sullen, impersonal eyes. That was Tod Warren. The lights were cold yellow pearls in the wintry dusk. The breath of many men painted fluttering gray puffs in the gloom, like children playing with bubble pipes. But play was a distant thing, and it was winter — and Christmas Eve! These men were in a soup line, and hunger made them stand in a wavering black column that moved slowly to the door.

As the line moved forward, Tod noticed suddenly the man in front of him. He walked slowly, and Tod saw the slender shoulders, straight, beneath an old coat; a coat that was different somehow of a material that was strangely home spun-looking and coarse. The man stood patiently, and as the line moved on, he turned, and his eyes met Tod's glance in a sudden warm smile. As if their hands had met, Tod smiled in return, and spoke. "Colder tonight," he said, not for words to say, but just to be friendly. The man in the odd coat seemed to recognize the spirit of the conversation, for when he turned to Tod again, it seemed as if he had known him for a long time.

"This food for the hungry is a beautiful thing", the stranger said. And at the sound of his voice Tod felt a quickening thrill, for it was a voice soft and deep, as if it had explained many things; each word was clear, like a teacher's voice.

"Been out of work long?" Tod asked. The man in the odd coat shook his head. He wore no hat, and the flickering lights shone on a head of dark brown hair wondrously lustrous. "I was an engineer," Tod ventured "until everything went smash."

"Everything?" subtly asked the stranger. And then he smiled. "Everything?" Why, you are young and strong; and here is food at your hand!"

"Charity!" exclaimed Tod. "It is bitter in my mouth!"

The stranger looked serious. "You mean, you do not like to accept that which is offered freely? A man has plenty and, having plenty, gives you of that plenty. Is it not a good offering?"

"You don't know what it is," Tod answered; "I've suffered!"

"Oh," rejoined the stranger, pausing; "suffered!"

Now they were inside at the dispenser's table. The stranger took the bowl that was steaming, thanked the bestower, and moved to a bench, where Tod soon joined him. For the first time Tod saw the man's face, and it seemed oddly familiar.

"Haven't I . . . do I know you?" Tod stammered, his face flushed. The stranger was busy with his soup, and apparently had not heard. The hand holding the spoon was brown and slender, and on the back of it was an ugly round scar. Tod sought to change the subject. "And you . . . what did you do, before you came to this?"

"I?" The stranger looked up with an enlightened expression. "I was a carpenter before, as you say 'everything went smash.' I was a teacher, also for awhile. Now I have other work. This country of yours (so he was not an American, thought Tod) this land where you live, is it not beautiful? I was for a time in other places, and they were fair also, but this is of a different beauty. Freedom, perhaps. That is its beauty. Russia — I was there for a while — and Yugoslavia. But that was long ago, and the things there that I taught are now forgotten."

Tod studied the strange man's face again. Dark eyes under a wide forehead — a forehead with a mark as if a tight band had pressed too long upon it; a chin that was strong, and lips as bewitching as his voice.

"I know you!" Tod cried. The stranger looked at him

The Clarkston Rotary Club will again sponsor the traditional visit of Santa Claus to the children of the Clarkston area. Santa is scheduled to arrive at 7:00 p.m. Because and smiled. "Do you?" He spoke gently, and the brightness in his eyes perhaps was caused by a tear. He brushed it away with his other hand, and there too, upon its slender brownness was another scar!

The stranger stood up suddenly. His coat was so long it seemed like a robe as he drew it about him.

"I must go now," he said, "I was here before . . . at Christmas time. It gives me joy to see the hungry fed, and men helping one another. This gathering, it's almost like a birthday feast." He looked at Tod. "I'm glad you're here."

"Birthday?" Tod whispered.

"Yes," said the stranger, "today is my birthday."

He walked slowly to the door. Then he turned and looked back, raising one hand in silent, slow gesture. And as he stepped from the door, someone must have turned on all the lights, for a brightness like that of midday shone into the room.

Not only does this little story invite us to remember the one for whom Christmas is intended, but others who would have no Christmas if we were not willing to give. This makes for a deeper and more abiding Christmas.

Respectfully submitted,
William J. Richards, Pastor,
First Methodist Church

of the uncertainty of the weather it is not known just what type of transportation Santa will use to come to Clarkston but it is certain that he will arrive on schedule. Santa will station himself at the village parking lot to distribute Christmas candies to the children.

In this joyous and happy season of Christmas the Clarkston Rotary Club is happy and proud to be able to contribute a little bit toward increasing the joys of Christmas for the children of the area through its Christmas Eve visit of Santa and for the needy of the area through the giving of shoes. This would not be possible without the support of the people who purchase the Goodfellow Newspaper. The proceeds received from this sale are used for this purpose. Over 500 children are visited by Santa on Christmas Eve and over 130 pair of shoes are distributed to needy children in the Clarkston area.

Residents of the Clarkston area will have several opportunities to attend Christmas programs in addition to the religious services sponsored by the area churches.

The Clarkston Elementary school will present a program of Christmas music on Monday, Dec. 21, in the high school gym at 7:30 p.m.

The Clarkston High School vocal and instrumental music departments will present their annual Christmas concert on Tuesday, Dec. 22, in the high school gym at 8:00 P.M.

THANKYOU

Dear Goodfellow Purchaser:

Once again your kind and generous contribution is appreciated by the fellows who stand in the cold and snow to sell this paper. The money collected is put to the best possible use for the most deserving recipients. The Clarkston Rotary again will be providing shoes for the needy elementary and pre-school children of this area. This project has proven very successful and is heart-warming to see the faces of the children light up as they are handed their new shoes.

Three members of our Rotary Club have had the pleasing opportunity for many years of presenting the sick and shut-ins with a beautiful red rose to brighten the spirit of Christmas.

We are proud of the support we have given to the Oakland County Crippled Children. This is an outstanding institution with a new building located on Telegraph Road near the Oakland County Service Center.

The Rotary Anns had their annual Christmas party in the new building with dinner and the trimmings. Each one brought a present to be left for the children. The Labor Day Parade and Fourth of July events have been attracting larger crowds each year, due to the fine sponsorships of the Rotary Club and the Independence Twp. Fire Fighters. The Halloween party at the school, with the cider and doughnuts, is also a popular event each year.

We have given $500 to the Independence Twp. Fire Dept. Rescue Truck Fund, and recently put a new acoustic ceiling in one of the down stairs rooms of the Community Center.

While Rotary's primary purpose is to challenge men to assume their individual responsibilities and live up to the ideals they profess, it also takes the lead in initiating community and world-wide activities. These have usually centered around youth activities of a wide range, such as Boy Scouts, YMCA, Crippled Children, Mentally Retarded, Girl Scouts, Camp Programs, and Junior Achievements. These are only a few of the many movements which owe much of their success to the Rotarians and to your generous support.

Your Rotary Secretary,
Charles W. Robinson

Matthew's account of Christ Jesus' stilling of the tempest (8:23-26) will be included in the Scriptural readings.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (134:26): "Jesus said: 'I knew that Thou hearest me always,' and he raised Lazarus from the dead, stilled the tempest, healed the sick, walked on the water. There is divine authority for believing in the superiority of spiritual power over material resistance."

The Golden Text is from Isaiah (45: 5, 12): "I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God beside me: . . . I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded."

ARE YOU READY FOR WINTER DRIVING?

"How Are You Fixed For Chains?" might be asked by your dealer, but in this instance it is the State Safety Commission.

The shore thronged with a frantic crowd... the wreck, half smothered in foam and racing water...

Brakes should be in perfect working order, well balanced and effective. Snow Tires, both new and recaps are superior to conventional tires.

Stopping technique, even with the best tires or chains is still the key to control. Give yourself twice the room, make your decision farther ahead, don't drive at a speed beyond control, don't take chances.

Do start ahead of time so you won't have to over-speed. When stopping on snow and ice, never slam on the brakes, pump them gently to a stop.

Don't be gassed into an accident by an old muffler.

Expect the pavement on bridges to be icy, even when the rest of the road is not. Be especially alert where only patches of the road carry ice and snow.

The low headlight beam seems to be the best when driving in a snowfall. Avoid eye or body fatigue, particularly in this season. Speed too fast for the headlights can be disastrous.

Most important of all, don't pass the buck to the weather for your driving troubles. Every driver is essentially responsible for what he does while behind the wheel.

AGR. CHEMIST SAYS MOST CRANBERRIES OK

Only seven samples of cranberries out of 153 samples analyzed in the Michigan Department of Agriculture's control laboratories have shown evidence of contamination from aminotriazole.

The Department's chief chemist, W. C. Geagley, told Director G. S. McIntyre recently that only 1.8 percent of the samples analyzed showed evidence of contamination from the chemical.

Samples of cranberries were submitted to the laboratory by the Department's foods and standards division following the pre-Thanksgiving scare that some lots of cranberries, mainly those from the west coast, contained the substance.

The samples under test included cranberries from various grocery outlets in the state. Some were fresh cranberries, others cranberry sauce, frozen berries, canned jellied cranberries, frozen cranberry-orange relish, and even canned cranberry juice cocktail.

Results were obtained on 378 samples, representing 68 different lots of packers' code numbers.

The chemical analysis for aminotriazole is an intricate one, and requires about 12 hours to complete one test, Mr. Geagley said.

Tests are being continued of some recently purchased samples of cranberries. All were from out-state sources since Michigan has no commercial cranberry industry.

REMEMBERS FOR ICE FISHERMEN

For ice fishermen who plan to take advantage of Michigan's relaxed regulations on rainbow trout this winter the Conservation Department has some helpful reminders:

Rainbows under the ice forage a shoal edge in about 15 feet of water, taking occasional runs on the shoal. They travel well off bottom.

If the perch begin to bite, chances are you're in a good spot for rainbows because the two are frequently found in the same places. Bluegills and rainbows, however, seem to have little in common.

A four to five-foot limber ice fishing rod is considered ideal for rainbows. For large trout, a good spool or free-running reel instead of the usual line-winding cleat.

For bait - live minnows for the big ones; small spoon jigs and ice flies in combination with a corn borer or "mousie" grub for the small.

Lists of lakes and streams open to winter rainbow fishing may be obtained from the Conservation Department's Lansing office or any of its district field headquarters.

VISITORS FROM ALL CONTINENTS SEE CINERAMA IN DETROIT

Recently, in surveying the guest book at the Music Hall Theatre, the management discovered that they have played host to visitors from every continent during the first fifty-six weeks of "Cinerama - South Seas Adventure."

Patrons from 44 different states have been numbered among the first half-million viewers of this fifth Cinerama presentation. This number includes our two newest states, Alaska and Hawaii.

Probably the most amazing record of all is the list of foreign countries represented. People from 32 countries have registered in the guest book. New Zealand and Australia are well represented as are England and Ireland.

In addition to visitors from the many European countries, Cinerama fans came from Arabia, The Philippines, India, The Union of South Africa, Maracaibo and the island of Guam.

Among the many distinguished visitors were Secretary of the Army Wilbur M. Brucker and the Crown Prince and Princess of Ethiopia.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS
NAME OFFICERS

A tiny, vivacious brunette took over the reigns of the Oakland County Young Republican Club last night and pledged herself "to continue the club's tradition as a dynamic force in Oakland political affairs."

Miss Irene Giacobbi, career girl and active civic worker, was unanimously elected chairman of the club—first woman ever to hold that post. She succeeds outgoing chairman Joe Bianco of Pontiac.

Bill Powell of Waterford, 2-8 year-old Pontiac Motors engineer and former naval officer, was named vice-chairman of the group.

Other officers elected include Al Magnus, Bloomfield Hills.

Outgoing Chairman Joe Bianco received a standing ovation for his leadership "in bringing the club to the strongest level in its history."

Art Elliott, Oakland County Republican chairman, told the members "Oakland County Young Republicans are blessed with tremendous talent at all levels of the political spectrum."

"I know you will express your-selfes vocally and actively in the 1960 campaign," he added.

The club presented Elliott with a $60 check for the purchase of new chairs for Republican headquarters building and a $25 contribution to the county financial committee.

WINTER DRIVING—
READY OR NOT?

Here's some advice on how to ready your car for winter driving, care for it during the cold months ahead, and how to drive safely when streets are slippery and visibility is poor. These twelve tips come from George J. Cutler, director of service for the Plymouth-De Soto-Valiant Division of Chrysler Corporation.

1. When starting the car in the morning, depress the accelerator to half-open throttle to release the choke. IMPORTANT: Do not pump the foot accelerator.
2. After starting in the morning, DON'T let the car run at idle waiting for it to warm up. You're just wasting gas. Start gently and drive slowly until it warms up.
3. Keep your gas tank filled. Cold weather causes condensation and water will get into the gas line.
4. Have radiator flushed and fill with anti-freeze. Be sure that crankcase, transmission and rear axle lubricants are proper grades for cold weather. Have motor tuned and battery checked.
5. Keep windows clean. Be sure defroster operates properly, windshield wipers are in good condition. Put anti-freeze in windshield washer.
6. When planning a winter trip, allow plenty of time to get there. Storms slow traffic.
7. Drive with extra caution in the winter. Slippery streets and poor visibility double the possibilities of accidents.
8. Never drive a car when you have frost or ice on the windows. Take a little time and scrape it off.
9. Be sure you have plenty of ventilation in the passenger compartment. Engine fumes can have serious effects.
10. Have your car washed regularly. Salt on pavements causes rust and corrosion.
11. In "snow country" carry tire chains, a shovel, a tow rope, and a blanket.
12. Avoid excessive speed, even when the highway appears clear. There may be ice around the next curve.

CAUTION TO BE TAKEN FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY

In support of the December emergency state-wide traffic safety campaign to reduce deaths below the figure which is now threatening an increase in the 1959 toll over last year, State Police will intensify patrol activities during the holiday season. Using all available uniform officers and working 10-hour shifts, the holiday patrols will be carried on from Thursday noon December 24 to midnight Sunday, December 27, and again from Thursday noon December 31 to midnight Sunday, January 3.

Fifty National Guardsmen will assist as the second man in squad cars to free additional troopers for more patrols. Detectives will be given desk assignments to release uniform men for the same purpose. Concentrated enforcement is scheduled for the heavier traffic periods, or from 3 p.m. until shortly after midnight on Christmas eve and from 3 p.m. until an hour after the closing time of liquor establishments New Year's eve.

Sheriff's departments will have 46 National Guardsmen.

Alarmed by the prospect that there will be from 50 to 75 more deaths than the 1,375 persons killed in 1958, the December safety drive was launched at a meeting of representatives of the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Broadcasters Association with Governor Williams, the state safety commission, and state, county and municipal enforcement agencies.

Pointing out that traffic violations committed in hazardous winter and holiday driving conditions lead many motorists and pedestrians into sudden death traps, State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said "our patrols will be doubly alert to take action to prevent accidents before they can happen."

Christmas has the worst holiday death record of any holiday period, with an average of one person having been killed about every three hours during the last eight years. The New Year's average is one every five hours.

When improper driving is looked upon as a savage, it will cease to be popular. As long as it is regarded as wicked, it will continue to have its fascination.
