Mme. Mittler was born in Poland and came to this country to study at the Juilliard School of Music. At the Juilliard she was awarded a scholarship for study under the eminent pianist and teacher, Sascha Gorodnitzki. Later studies were under the great French pianist, Robert Casadesu.

Geraline Snapp attended the Toronto Conservatory of Music. She has studied with such noted teachers as Marcus Kellermann, Henry Zimmer and Nathan Hubbard. Recently, Miss Snapp appeared in a program of art songs at the Detroit Institute of Arts. For many years she was soloist at the Episcopal Church of the Epiphany, Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Club To Present Special Speaker

The varied cultural resources available to our community will be the subject for the February 24 meeting of the Clarkston Community Women's Club at the Community Center at 8 P.M.

Mr. Roy R. Alexander, dean of students at our new Michigan State University Oakland, will speak on "MSUO and You." Because interest in our new University is exceeded only by curiosity about what is happening there and will happen, Mr. Alexander will spend the evening tracing the community needs which inspired the development of the University and the methods, many of them new and exploratory, of satisfying them.

Because MSUO means so much to parents of students in Oakland County and since the University offers so many courses for adults, the Community Women's Club invites the public to hear this fine speaker.

Mrs. Robert Irwin will be Social Committee chairman for the meeting, assisted by Mrs. Tull Lasswell, Mrs. Harry Fahrner, Mrs. William Lynn, Mrs. Robert Morse, Mrs. Richard Smith, and Mrs. Harold Sutherland.

Young People Give Illustrated Lecture

Recently returned from The United Nations Seminar for high school youth sponsored by the World Peace Commission of The Methodist Church in the United States are Miss Georgia Robinson and Mr. Clifford Irwin of The Clarkston Methodist Church. They were part of 70 young people from the State of Michigan selected by The Detroit Conference and were sponsored by The Women's Society of Christian Service and Clarkston Methodist Church.

Last week they addressed The Clarkston Methodist Woman's Society and this coming Sunday evening at 7:00 p.m., will show slides and speak to The Clarkston Methodist Youth Fellowship. While on the trip to the United Nations in New York they interviewed some of the leaders of representative nations and attended sessions of the U.N. Following this visit they were guests of Congressman William Broomfield in Washington, D.C. and other representatives in Congress. They discussed with them the possibilities of World Peace and the functions of The United States government in world affairs.

Their illustrated lecture is open to other community groups in Clarkston.

GIRL SCOUTS HELP CARE PROGRAM

The Girl Scouts in Clarkston have taken the CARE project to work on during the year. They feel that they would like to help the unfortunate people in other countries of the world.

On Tuesday Neighborhood Chairmen and Leaders met in the United Fund Building in Pontiac where they enjoyed an interesting program. Brownie Troop 376 of Wixom provided a color guard. They also presented a "Thinking Day Ceremony" the theme of which was "Because We Think, We Care."

Mr. Christopher Deane, Executive Director of The CARE project for the State of Michigan gave a talk and highlighted it with a film showing "The Story of the Lai Family." This was exceptionally interesting and those in attendance really became aware of what this CARE Project was doing for people in other lands.

The Wixom Brownie Troop presented a Money Tree to the Executive Director of CARE.

Mr. Deane presented CARE kits to Mrs. Fletcher, Council President for North Oakland and also to Troop 376. At the close of the meeting the material was distributed to Neighborhood Chairmen and Leaders for the use of their own troops.

FAMILY GET TOGETHER A JOYOUS OCCASION

When sons, daughters, sisters, brothers, cousins, uncles and great uncles got together on Sunday evening at the Reginald Bird home on Allen Road there was great joy that will long be remembered. The hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Bird, Mrs. George Perry and Mrs. Elsie Fangboner of Pontiac.

The guests had a good time visiting and especially reminiscing. They also enjoyed a delightful buffet supper from a table attractive with spring flowers. Spring flowers were also used in profusion throughout the house.

Guests were from Mt. Clemens, Grosse Pte. Farms, Coldwater, Cross Village, Highland, Fraser, Royal Oak, Pontiac, Albion, Clarkston and Gig Harbor, Washington.

Mr. Adolph Kath, his daughter, Mrs. McDonald and her daughter, Karen, left on Wednesday for their home in Washington.

Brighton and Clarkston, each contribute a favorite number to be sung. The selections this year are: To Thee We Sing; Russian Picnic; On The Lone Prairie; Down Low In The Valley; In The Still Of Night; The Battle Hymn Of The Republic; Ho-La-Li and Clarkston's selection, Onward Ye People.

This season's first concert was given Tuesday evening, February 16th at Northville. The morning of their Clarkston concert they will sing at West Bloomfield. Their final program will be given Wednesday, February 24th at Clarenceville at 8:00 P.M.

E. & M. Jones Start Development In Florida

Edward L. Jones, son of Mrs. Blanche Jones of Clarkston, and his wife, Marjory, recently moved to Florida where they have formed a land development organization known as Zan-Mar Development Company.

Some time ago the Joneses purchased an established 353-acre, century-old plantation in the high rolling land in Central Florida, one mile south of Floral City on U.S. 41 in Citrus County. The property contains four clear spring private lakes with clear water 45 ft. deep. One, Mountain Lake, has 60 ft. sloping banks covered with dozens of varieties of flowering trees and shrubs. There are hundreds of huge live oak trees draped with Spanish moss which lend shade and beauty to the 1000 homesites in the development.

The Joneses have named the subdivision Zan-Mar Village in honor of their son and daughter, Zan & Marjory. Zan an Eagle Scout, represented the Blue Water Council at the International Jamboree of Scouts in France in 1947. After serving four years in the Navy as a sonar operator on a destroyer escort, he graduated in June of this year with a degree of Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering from Case Institute, Cleveland, Ohio. He is now enrolled in the Medical School at Western Reserve University in Cleveland where his wife is also studying to be a doctor.

Daughter Marjory taught school in Sandusky last year where she also was play director. She is a graduate of Alma College. She is now a housewife. Her husband, Bud Arquilla, teaches in the elementary school there.

Zan-Mar Village has as its slogan "A quiet Residential Community". Mr. Jones says that the price of lots in Zan-Mar is much below those in the more populated areas. However Mr. Jones has no doubt that in two or three years Zan-Mar prices will rise.

Zan-Mar is situated so that 85% of Florida's attractions are less than a two-hour drive away. Fresh water fishing is abundant at 17 mile long Lake Tsala Apoka, one mile away, with 8 free public boat ramps, and numerous fishing bridges. Less than 25 miles to the west is the Gulf of Mexico with fine salt water fishing. Churches and schools are just 1 mile away in Floral City and at Inverness, 7 miles north, is one of the finest high schools in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones are living in the 12-room plantation house and have ample room for company. They would like their friends to pay them a visit.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Crandall of Edgerton, Wisconsin, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lucille Lorraine, to David W. Valentine, son of Mrs. W. W. Valentine of Evanston, Illinois.

Miss Crandall, a graduate of Lawrence College, Appleton, Wisconsin, taught for three years in Lake Forest, Illinois, and is now teaching in the Clarkston Elementary School.

Mr. Valentine is a graduate of Albion College. He is with the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co., of Chicago. He is also attending Chicago Kent College of Law.

A July wedding is planned.

Dance Club Has Beatnik Ball

The Wednesday Night Dance Club literally let down their hair February 9th and costumed themselves appropriately for a Beatnik Ball. Neighbors barely recognized each other. Tights, turtle-necked sweaters, heavy eye makeup and long hair disguised the ladies and their husbands hid behind false beards, berets and shabby clothes. The Community Center dining room was decorated with paintings that were "way out." The tables would have delighted the Big Sur crowd, set with a loaf of bread, a raw onion and a candle, of course. The place mats were half sheets of newspaper and napkins were just a piece of kitchen toweling.

Beatnik poetry was read and Charles and Phyllis Robinson entertained with a "beat" version of Little Miss Muffet.

Mrs. Jerome S. Wilford and Mr. Earl Hawke won prizes for the best beatnick and beatnik.

LAKELAND PLAYERS TO BE SEEN IN SECOND PRODUCTION

If you're hungry for laughs join, "The Man Who Came to Dinner", a feast for the funny-bone and the comedy dessert of the year.

The Lakeland Players of Waterford Community Theater are ready to present their second production (The Man Who Came to Dinner) this Friday and Saturday at 8:00 p.m. at Pierce Junior High School, 5145 Hatchery Road, Drayton Plains.

The table is set for laughter, and you'll forget all about your manners when you start laughing at "The Man Who Came to Dinner." Sheridan Whiteside, having dined at the home of the Stanleys, slips on their doorstep, breaking his hip. A tumultuous 6 weeks of confinement follow. The Stanley living-room is monopolized by the irascible invalid, exconvicts are invited to meals and transatlantic calls bring a $784 phone bill. The arrival of strange gifts from his friends destroy domestic tranquility. It would take a stoical housewife to harbor penguins in her library, an octopus in her cellar, and 10,000 cockroaches in her kitchen. When Maggie, his secretary, falls in love with the reporter, Bert Jefferson, Whiteside summons a glamorous actress, Lorraine, to win the affections of the young man. Knowing the girl's charms, Maggie enlists the aid of a clever impersonator who, affecting the voice of Lord Bottomley, whom the actress hopes to marry, asks her by phone to return to him and be married. The ruse almost works, but Whiteside, becoming suspicious, finds that no calls have come through from London. In revenge, Lorraine suggests a three-week rewrite on a plan of Bert's in which she feigns great interest. Lake Placid is to furnish the quiet for his inspiration, and she is to be his collaborator. The unexpected arrival of a mummy case, just as the relenting Whiteside is frantically seeking to get rid of Lorraine, furnishes a malicious idea. Tricking her into stepping into the case, he shuts the lid and black-mails his host into having the case carried to the airport, preparatory to a round-the-world cruise. Whiteside departs from the Stanley's home triumphantly, but a second later a crash is heard — he has again slipped and fallen!

Tickets may be obtained at the door.

Man's God-given ability to think and act rightly will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science services.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mind" will include these verses from Proverbs (16:1,3): "The preparations of the heart in man, and the answer of the tongue, is from the Lord. . . . Commit thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be established."

Correlative citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "The human capacities are enlarged and perfected in proportion as humanity gains the true conception of man and God" (258:21).

The Golden Text is from Romans (12:2): "Be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

NEW COUNTY PLAT BOOK PUBLISHED SOON

Word reaches us from the Oakland County Extension Office that the office will sponsor a new and up to date plat book of Oakland County. The new book will be compiled and published in the next two months and will be available to the people of the county about May 15, 1960. Mr. Lyle Abel, Oakland County Extension Director, says the new books will contain maps of each township of the county, showing all pertinent natural and cultural features, including all farms, their size, shape and location, farm building, owners, etc. The publishers will make a complete and exhaustive search of the county records in the court house to determine the present farm status in the county. A complete alphabetical list or index of all the farm owners, whereby a farm owner may be located in a matter of seconds, will be a feature of the new book.

The 4-H group distributed the last book throughout the county in 1956. Many changes have taken place since the last edition. Farms have been subdivided or consolidated; ownerships, shapes and sizes of the farms have changed to such an extent that a new and up to date plat book is greatly needed.

The new books will be sold throughout the county by the Cooperative Extension Service including the agricultural, home economics and 4-H departments. It is one of the several community services rendered by the office. This is a commendable project and deserves the wholehearted support of the community.

SEE LIMBO DANCERS IN THE NEW CINERAMA

If you have never seen the weird and nearly incredible gyrations of Trinidad's Limbo Dancers, you owe it to yourself to do so. The best way to accomplish this is to pack up your bags and hop a plane for the British West Indies. However, if this is at all inconvenient, you will be able to see the Limbo Dancers doing their stuff in the new Cinerama, "Windjammer," opening at the Music Hall Theatre in Detroit on March 23.

The Limbo Dancers were photographed on the docks of Trinidad where they had come to entertain the members of the cast and crew of the Norwegian sailing schooner, Christian Radich. The story of "Windjammer" revolves about the exciting 17,500 mile voyage of the vessel, one of the few remaining ocean-going sailing ships. Louis de Rochemont produced the picture and his son Louis de Rochemont III directed.

Limbo dancers are strictly indigenous to the island of Trinidad and they have been performing their specialty there for hundreds of years. The Limbo Dance has never been performed off the islands.

The Limbo Dance starts off rather mildly to the beating of drums. A stick is placed some four feet off the ground in a horizontal position and two dancers, usually girls, dance under it with their backs in a semi-parallel position to the ground, their faces to the sky.

As the tempo of the drums increases, the stick is gradually lowered until it is only eight inches off the ground. Now a giant of a man, well over six feet tall, begins a rhythmic approach to the bar. He gradually bends over backward, his head going beneath the bar and presently, using only his legs, never touching the ground with his body or his hands, he dances under the eight inch high stick, back parallel to the ground, face toward the sky.

The Michigan Premiere of "Windjammer" at the Music Hall on March 23 is for the benefit of the Detroit Memorial Hospital. Tickets for this performance and all regular performances of "Windjammer" will go on sale at the Music Hall box office or by mail on February 21.

GREAT BOOKS DISCUSSED AT MSUO

The office of Continuing Education, Michigan State University Oakland has announced the opening of a series of discussion classes on the great books. These classes are being offered in response to the interest shown by people in this area.

The series will be characterized by group discussion of the ageless classics in literature under the professional leadership and counsel of an unexperienced professor of philosophy. Each student will receive a copy of all books studied for his personal library.

The first series of ten sessions will be led by Dr. Richard J. Burke. Dr. Burke has received his experience leading discussion groups in the great Books Program offered at the University of Chicago, and in the well-known Basic Program of Liberal Education for Adults. At present he is teaching "Western Institutions and Social Ideas" at MSUO.

The first ten weeks will include selections from Homer, Plato, Aristotle, and Sophocles. The first meeting of this series will be held on Thursday evening, February 25. The course fee, including all books studied, is $25.00. Those interested in further information or in making a reservation for this program should call Director, Continuing Education, Michigan State University Oakland, Federal 8-4515, extension 2147.

HUNTER'S BREAKFAST

In 1958, the United States Department of Wild Life reported 20,177,605 fishing licenses and 14,764,124 hunting licenses were issued! Weigh the figures — the scale tips to almost one in every five American citizens who spend an estimated $3 billion a year with rod and gun. Being primarily cold weather activities, comfort is important; most essential is a good breakfast. Because of the rush to get out into the early dawn, consider getting off to a good start with a meal which can be cooked in a jiffy. Condensed tomato soup diluted with milk is an excellent beverage choice for the "hunter's breakfast"—its creamy warmth has comforting qualities that will last through the morning and it takes only 4 minutes to heat. Grated orange rind stirred into honey provides a tasty treat for toaster-baked waffles; 1/2-inch slivers of ham browned in butter and orange slices complete a nutritious and delicious menu, sure to keep you happy on the marsh, trail or stream.

you have a watery vegetable mends using a heavy utensil, a to serve. Mary Morr, of the foods little moisture and low heat for and nutrition department at Michigan State University, recom- mends using a heavy utensil, a little moisture and low heat for cooking squash on top of the stove.

INCREASE IN REVENUE GRANTED MICHIGAN BELL

The Michigan Public Service Commission has granted Michigan Bell Telephone Company an increase in revenues approximating $4 million.

After taxes, the increase will net the company less than $2 million.

"The order is disappointing and discouraging," said William M. Day, president of Michigan Bell.

Although the company had asked the MPSC to use its own discretion in determining the amount of additional revenue needed, the company contended its evidence supported an increase up to $25 million a year.

The increase will not become effective until specific rates are proposed by the company and approved by the Commission.

Explaining his disappointment over the low increase, Day said:

"Our big problem in the last decade of rising costs has been to operate the business at a satisfactory return on investment in a climate of regulation. The price adjustments we have been permitted to make have been too little and too late to resolve the problem. The price of our service will have gone up only about one-third since 1940, while the price of almost everything else has more than doubled."

Day said evidence demonstrated that the company needed up to $25 million additional revenue "to give the company the financial strength required to render the quality of service demanded and deserved by our customers."

Company plans for the future will have to be reviewed, the telephone company president said, especially its construction program for improvement and expansion of its service.

"All our operations exert a powerful influence on the economy of the state and we are reluctant to make any decision that might curtail that impact," Day said.

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD MEANS BUSINESS

Eleven-year-old Keith E. Carlson, a fifth grader from Harbert, Michigan, is a lad determined to get to the "top" of things.

It seems that some stumps have been cramping his sledding style on a slope in Warren Dunes state park. Undaunted by the "red tape" which might be involved, he felt President Eisenhower was the man who could do something about removing these obstacles.

The youngster's letter to the Chief Executive was acknowledged and has been sent through the National Park Service to the Conservation Department's park manager at Warren Dunes. The manager is studying the matter to see if something can't be done to help Keith and his sledding companions.

MSUO COLORS TO BE GOLD AND WHITE

Michigan State University Oakland's colors will be gold and white. Students at the new university chose them in balloting this week.

A student government exploratory committee conducted the voting. From an original slate of eighteen color combinations, five were chosen for the final voting. They included also red and white, blue and white — which tied for runner-up in the final tally — brown and gold, and black and white. Gary Wright of Avondale is chairman of the committee.

This committee is working on proposals for a student government to be submitted to the student body. When this is done, suggestions or design proposals for a college seal will be asked for.

MICHIGAN BELL

THREE THOUSAND YEARS ago the Olympic Games consisted of just one event—a foot race. To know the winner, all you had to do was stand at the finish line. This month, people all over the world will want to know the winners of the Winter Olympics, which begin this week at Squaw Valley, California. Because of this, the village of Squaw Valley (population 30) has about 1200 telephones . . . until the games are over. If they kept the phones after everyone left, that would average out to forty phones for every man, woman and child in town!

"ON MY HONOR, I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country." That's the Boy Scout Oath, and over the last fifty years thousands of boys have grown up to become better men because of it. This month, as the Boy Scouts of America celebrate their Golden Jubilee, we at the telephone company salute them. Many of the men and women of Michigan Bell are active scout leaders, and I'm sure that scouting is just as much fun for all of them as it is to the boys themselves! Happy Anniversary, Scouters!

SHHHHHHHHH-H-H-H . . . Approaching the outskirts of a small town, a motorist stopped to use an outdoor telephone booth. He was startled to read this sign on the door: "Please don't use this phone booth until the eggs are hatched!"

When he peered into the booth, our friend saw two tiny eggs sitting inside a ready-made hummingbird's nest—the coin return slot. With an understanding grin, he returned to his car and drove on to the next telephone booth.

Woodlot Mills Boost Timber Output

The recent emergence of time-saving portable mills like the one pictured, together with better management practices, stand to boost timber production on farm woodlots and small woodland tracts in Michigan, both now and for the future. An efficient portable mill, complete with trucking facilities, can deliver quality products directly from these smaller timberlands to wood-using industries. In the past, most of these small tracts have been virtually untapped from the standpoint of optimum production. State foresters consider them vital to meet increased needs for wood products.

INSECT INFESTED NOODLES FOUND

Detection of infested egg noodles offered for sale by a small southern Michigan retailer led to seizure in the hands of a supplier of 180 cases or approximately 13,000 pounds of the product containing insects.

Seizure was made by inspectors of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's foods and standards division. The egg noodles were those of a Milwaukee manufacturer. Inspectors determined that the insects in the package were of a type sometimes found in prepared food mixes. The product was ordered disposed of other than for human consumption.

The Michigan Department of Agriculture is the state agency responsible for the administration and enforcement of laws pertaining to food and food handling establishments. Inspectors are continually investigating contaminated or adulterated food unfit for human consumption either because of it being a product that is filthy, putrid, decomposed or from a diseased animal. "If evidence is found", said Foods and Standards Chief J. L. Littlefield, "whereby an inspector has cause to suspect a food product of being unfit for human consumption, action is taken to remove the product from sale until the inspector's suspicions are confirmed or the product is deemed acceptable."

For A Regal Repast

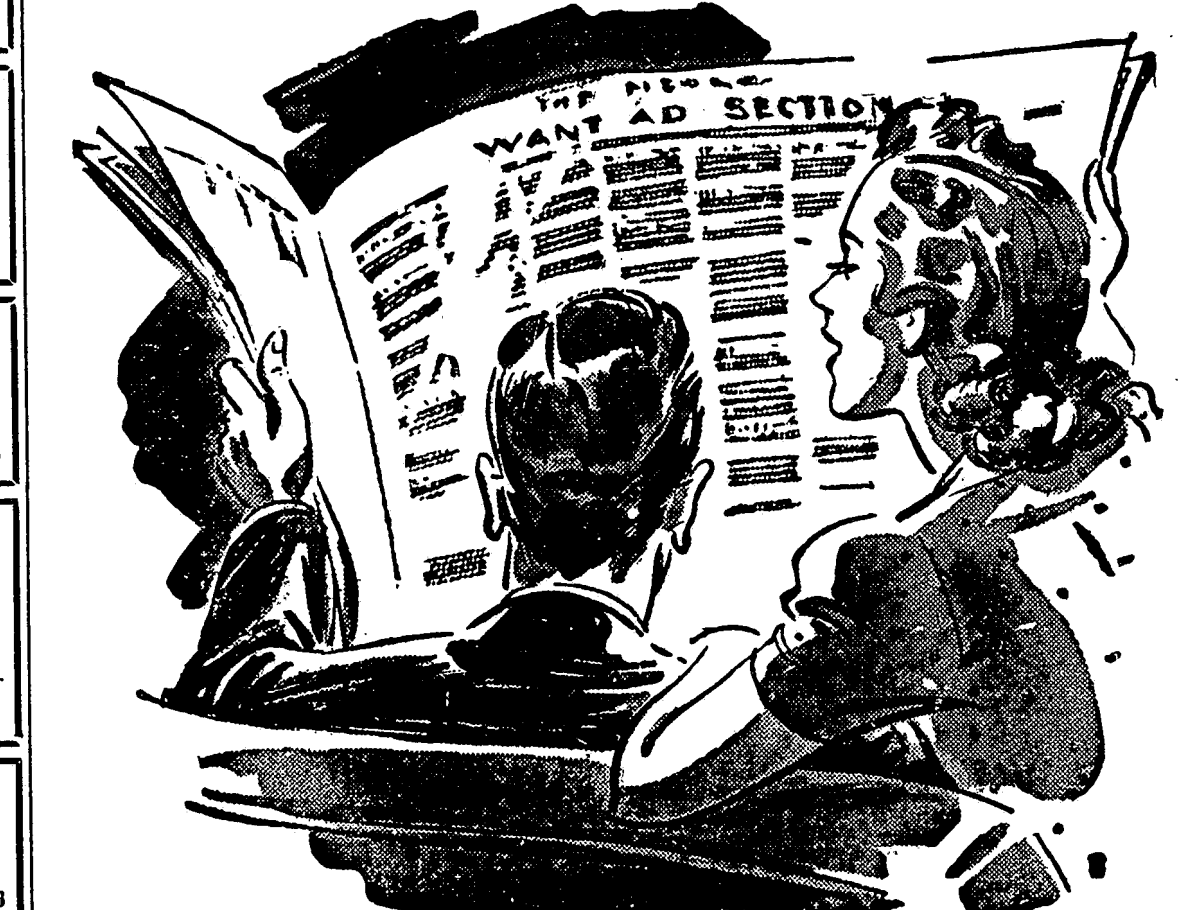

On days when fish is a must on the menu, consider the merits of the quick-frozen fish fillets which are pre-seasoned with a butter-paprika-lemon-parsley topping and packaged in regal-looking silvery foil envelopes. Because the seasonings are built-in, no further preparation or work is needed before the fillets are baked or broiled. And because the aluminum foil pouch acts as the cooking pan, there is no messy pan to scour after cooking.

If you decide to broil the fillets, why not plan to cook tomato halves and mushroom caps at the same time? You'll have a complete broiler meal that's fit for a king on the table with no trouble and in practically no time.

Birds Eye Filet Regale

To Broil: Preheat broiler. Tear off top of foil pouch. Place frozen fish in its own foil pan on rack about 4 inches from the heat. Broil about 10 minutes.

To Bake: Preheat oven to 425°F. (hot). Tear off top of foil pouch. Place frozen fish in its own foil pan on a cooky sheet and bake about 18 minutes.

PLANE CRASHES NEAR CLARKSTON

Around 6:30 a.m. Sunday, a Cessna airplane, enroute from Columbiaville, to Clearwater, Florida, was forced to make a landing and apparently the wheels caught on a fence at the Clark Morgan home on Allen Rd., killing the pilot, his father and mother and brother-in-law.

The local fire department was called as well as State Police and Sheriff's Department.

The pilot, a commercial pilot, had placed his wife and children on a commercial plain for Clearwater on Saturday. The wife was notified and returned Sunday night.

The cause of the accident has not been determined.

SECOND GRADERS TAKE TRAIN RIDE

While studying a unit on trains, Mrs. Jerry Austin learned that only one-third of her second graders had ever ridden on a train, so she organized a trip from Pontiac to Holly for her class.

Thursday afternoon, February 11th, five mothers, Mrs. Sam Vascassenno, Mrs. William Seymour, Mrs. Edward Thomson, Mrs. Cliff Waterbury and Mrs. H. W. Longair drove the children to Pontiac where they boarded a train pulled by a Diesel engine. During their trip the class was able to see a mail bag being thrown off of the train; a message being handed on a pole to an engineer and name every type of car that passed. At the Holly station the students were picked up by Mrs. Arthur Rose, Mrs. J. B. Lasswell, Mrs. Ray McClay, Mrs. Floyd Gordon and Mrs. Chester Adams. The experience thrilled all to no end.
