Ministers doing this for the business men in our area were: Reverend and Mrs. Paul Johns, of the Calvary Lutheran Church, Reverend and Mrs. Alexander Stewart of the Episcopal Church, Reverend and Mrs. Cliff Haskins the United Presbyterian Church, Reverend and Mrs. David Dee of the First Baptist Church and Reverend and Mrs. William Richards, First Methodist Church, in whose home they all met.

The hosting of the business men and their wives by the ministers has become a sort of tradition in Clarkston, this being the third year that it has taken place.

GERTRUDE ATKINS CIRCLE MEET

The beautifully decorated home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Blackett looked like a Christmas card to the Gertrude Atkins Circle members, as they drove up the driveway through the snow. Santa Claus and his reindeer topped the roof of the house, and were brilliantly spotlighted from below, making the snowflakes sparkle Hipp and Mrs. Jack Jyleen, serand shine as they fell.

After the business meeting, called to order by the Chairman, Mrs. Russell Gustavson, the evening was spent in exchange of gifts, carol singing and sharing of special holiday cookies brought by the circle member. Punch was served by the hostess.

THE EDITOR OBSERVES

It is often said that in our country Christmas is a joyous time, a time for happiness and love. But I have also heard people say that we tend to commercialize Christmas, to these people I have this to say.

No, we don't commercialize Christmas because nothing we do or say will change it. I simply ask them to look at a sparkling tree shining out onto the fresh fallen snow of a clear winter night or look into the eyes of a child praying on Christmas Eve or at a single Christmas candle on the alter or simply into the faces of the people around them. This is Christmas, is this commercial?

Christmas is the time Jesus gave to us, a time to be joyous for God's eternal gift to humanity. And, we, as Americans, take meaningful advantage of our time of thankfulness to Him, we, as Americans, know and feel a true spirit in Christmas.

Snow is softly falling to the ground and out of the stillness of the night comes the sweet, mellow, strains of favorite Christmas carols. This is the setting of Christmas Eve, the night before Jesus was born, many, many, years ago. Let's remember the real meaning of Christmas. As we are opening gifts under the
