At ten o'clock one of the larg- 1 est crowds ever to turn out for 2 a parade in Clarkston lined the 2 streets of the village to watch 4 a very good parade. Led by a 4 color-guard consisting of Floyd 6 Tower, Bart Mann, Clifford Wa- 7 terbury, Bill Cobb and Olin Betzer, and by the Clarkston High 7 School Band under the direction of Mr. Bart Connors, the parade Midgets: had many interesting entries.

A posse composed of ten members of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department made an imposing sight on their fine horses. Sheriff Irons and his wife were seen in the audience, but he was not in the parade. A float from Davisburg announced their coming 125th anniversary celebration in August.

The Independence Township Fire Fighters had seven pieces of equipment in the parade including the old Model T fire engine. The White Lake Township Fire Department were represented by an old fire truck which had been restored and by a tank-

There were several old cars. Dr. and Mrs. Emery drove a 1923 Ford roadster; the Roger Galligan family were riding in a 1914 Model T open touring car which has become a familiar sight on Clarkston streets.

The Dixie Saddle Club was well represented. The Clarkston Happy Helpers 4-H Club were riding on a float portraying some of the

There were two little league ball teams, many children in gay costumes and with brightly decorated bikes and many other good Schwetzer, Red Wings entries, too numerous to mention Discmore, Red Wings them all.

Near the end of the procession was the Rotary Club float Class F which portrayed the theme, "Rotary Covers the World". This was followed by one of the fire trucks pulling a boat in which rode the "Fire Hose Five" - Tim Jockwig, Richard Mansfield, Ron Jyleen, and Jim and Tom Kreger - making music as they went.

Immediately after the parade, the village parking lot was the scene of games and contests for young and old. For preschool children, there was a "penny scramble" which caused Schoff, Redlegs a great deal of excitement. The Walker, Dodgers 6 to 14 year old group had sack races, running races, a cracker eating race, a balloon-blowing contest, and last but not least, a pie-eating contest with 36 hungry contestants. Women took part in a nail-pounding contest; the men tried their skill at egg-throwing and their strength in a tug-of-war. Jack Hess and Standings Ed Bailey were in charge of pl this part of the day's activities. 1
