ROTARY SPONSORS COLOSSAL PARADE

Olliffe - Hamilton Rites Read

At a beautiful candlelight service in the First Methodist Church Saturday evening, August 26, Ann Louise Hamilton and Lawrence R. Olliffe were united in marriage. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hamilton of Hilldale Drive, Pontiac. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Marjorie Olliffe of 6227 Orion Road, Clarkston, and the late Mr. Burt Olliffe.

Reverend William Richards officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Sandra Sommerville of Sylvan Lake sang "I Love Thee" by Grieg. She was accompanied at the organ by Miss Linda Stickney of Pontiac.

The bride's gown was of Schiffler-embroidered nylon with a scalloped neckline, cap sleeves, and a chapel train. She wore matching embroidered gauntlets. The headpiece which held her illusion fingertip veil was trimmed with sequins and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and lilies-of-the-valley.

Maid-of-honor for her sister was Miss Kay Hamilton of Pontiac. She wore a sheath dress of lavender silk shantung with matching over-skirt, and carried a semi-cascade of American Beauty roses and pink roses.

Another sister of the bride, Mrs. Joseph F. Kosik of Rochester, and Miss Sophia Skinner of Pontiac were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were the same as the maid-of-honor's, but their bouquets were semi-cascades of pink roses and pink carnations.

Kathy Gormong of Pontiac was the flower girl; she was dressed in pink organza trimmed with white lace, and carried a nosegay of pink roses and pink carnations. Joey Kosik, a nephew of the bride was the ringbearer.

Mr. Lynn Carson of Pontiac attended Mr. Olliffe as best man. Mr. Ronald Olliffe of Clarkston, Mr. Thomas Smith of Kenmore, New York, and Mr. John Greene of Clarkston were the ushers.

Mrs. Hamilton chose a powder blue sheath of silk organza over taffeta with matching accessories, for her daughter's wedding. She wore a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Olliffe wore cocoa brown silk crepe with orange corsage and carried a orange corsage of yellow roses.

After the ceremony a reception for about two hundred guests was held in the church parlor.

When the newly-weds left for a trip to northern Michigan, Mrs. Olliffe wore a suit of Kelly green silk shantung with matching accessories. They will reside in Mt. Pleasant, Michigan, where both of them will resume their studies at Central Michigan University. Mrs. Olliffe is affiliated with Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority, Mr. Olliffe with Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity; both are entering their senior year at the University.

250 Mile New Care Race At State Fair September 10

The biggest and richest auto race of the year in Michigan will be the top sports attraction in the coming Michigan State Fair, September 1 through 10.

State Fair Manager Donald L. Swanson announces that Andy Barto again will promote a 250-mile MARC (Midwest Association for Race Cars) new car race at the State Fairgrounds mile track Sunday, September 10.

This is good news for Michigan speed fanatics, for Barto owns a well deserved reputation as one of the ablest auto racing promoters in the country. He staged the thrilling State Fair 250 miler last year in which Bill Cheesbourg, the Indianapolis 500 veteran from Tuscon, Arizona, outlasted Bob Duell, of Frewsburg, New York, to post one of the biggest victories of his career.

Clarkston Wolves Begin Practice

Coach Tom Taylor's Clarkston Wolves began practice Monday morning with fifty-five hopefuls reporting from grades ten through twelve. This number includes only nine varsity squad members from last year. Returning lettermen from last years squad include, M. Applegate, R. Applegate, W. Knox, D. Miller, R. Rolfe, R. Sheldon, G. Thomas, D. Williams, and R. Zumburn.

The team has been practicing daily from 9 to 11 a.m. and from 3 to 5 p.m. In addition, evening skull sessions have been held to supplement the daily practice periods. Wednesday the team was divided into 2 groups of approximately 26 men each which will compose the varsity and junior varsity. Freshmen will be reporting Wednesday, September 6.

Richard Gardner Rotary Speaker

The Rotary Club had as guest speaker last Monday evening, a local government official, Richard Gardner. He is with the Oakland County Planning Commission.

Mr. Gardner gave a very interesting and informative talk on Clarkston and the surrounding area and its benefits. Following is an excerpt for his speech. "Still another benefit, and one which is dear to my heart, is the community in which we are meeting. Here is a small nucleus which, at least, until recently has been the spiritual and functional center of the township. Here are located the township hall, the library, the high school, many of the older businesses and some fine old homes. Here are two most attractive lakes in close proximity to residential areas and here are quiet streets lined with magnificent trees. It seems to me that despite their many modern conveniences, new subdivisions on open land are hard put to match such an environment."

Births Announced

John and Jane Adams of North Holcome Street, announce the birth of their son Paul William, weighing 7 lbs. 8 oz. Paul was born the 23rd of August. He has three brothers at home: Timmy, Jerry, and Berry.

Juanita Bilyeu and James B. Lowe Wed

Candleabra's and white gladioli bouquets adorned the chancel of the First Methodist Church of Clarkston in a quiet but pretty 4 o'clock wedding where Reverend William Richards solemnized the double ring vows of Juanita (Wandy) Bilyeu to James B. Lowe.

The Vern Bilyeu of Ortonville are the parents of the bride and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lowe of Clarkston.

Entering the sanctuary on the arm of her father the bride was charming in a waltz length scalloped hemline gown of white brocade nylon and taffeta over taffita, her shoulder length veil was held in place by a seeded pearl tiara, the bride carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and streamers of ribbon and snapdragons.

Miss Veachel Bilyeu sister of the bride was her only attendant wearing pastel green chiffon over taffita with matching head piece, she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations circled by yellow rose buds.

The bridegroom had as his attendant Kent See of Clarkston. The brides mother was attired in a beige lace dress with green accessories, while the grooms mother wore a soft green silk dress, her hat and bag was a matched set of feathered like material, both wore shoulder corsages of mary-joe-rose buds. The grooms grand mother, Mrs. James Lowe of Calumet, Michigan, chose a pink dress and hat and wore white rose bud shoulder corsage.

For the newly weds a reception was held in the evening in the dining room of the Bald Eagle Lake Hotel in Ortonville where over 200 guests congratulated the couple and enjoyed a lovely buffet dinner centered by a four tier pillared wedding cake. They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts. After a short honeymoon the couple will reside in Clarkston at 32 Miller Road.

HELP !!!

Tragedy struck the grounds of the new Methodist Church on Waldon Road when the cloud-burst one week ago today washed away the men's seating and eroded the hillside with deep gullies. Under the leadership of Mr. Ed Spohn, Chairman, over fifty men had been diligently at work.

Last Sunday Reverend William J. Richards, the pastor, issued a call for all of the men of the church to support Mr. Spohn and help reseed and finish the lawn this coming Saturday morning from 9:00 a.m. to 12 Noon in order for the grounds to be completed by Consecration Sunday on September 17th.

Any men in the Clarkston Community wishing to come to the rescue of the men of the church are invited to bring a rake and a shovel at the above time. All help is sincerely appreciated.

A REMINDER

Annual Art Exhibit Show

Once again the banners proclaiming the Annual Art Exhibit will be flying in Clarkston. The artists, both members and non-members, of the Village Friends of Art will be matting, framing, and designing their individual exhibits in preparation for the art show on Labor Day.

Reservations are coming in from artists in Clarkston as well as the surrounding area. Some of the artists are professional, while others are non-professional but are none the less enthusiastic and are looking forward to the exhibit. Both professional and non-professional artists are most welcome. The only stipulation is that all work must be original.

The paved area of the Community Center presents a fine location for the show. Space will be designated by the Exhibits Committee as each artist registers on Labor Day morning. Exhibits must be set up by 9:00 A.M., therefore it is suggested that exhibitors register as early as possible. The Committee will be on the grounds at 8:00 A.M.

The parking lot at the corner of Main Street and Washington will be the scene of the art auction at 6:00 P.M. This added attraction has created much interest and should prove exciting and lots of fun.

Mr. William Sharp, well known to the residents of Clarkston, will be the auctioneer for this event.

All pieces of art to be auctioned will be on display during the entire day at the parking lot. This will give everyone ample opportunity to view the objects and decide which piece or pieces he wishes to bid on.

Parade To Highlight Labor Day Fun

Fun for all is promised by the Clarkston Rotary Club during their big Labor Day Parade. Some of the outstanding features will be floats, the Clarkston Band, beautiful horses, and antique cars, to name a few.

An abundance of prizes is promised by George Mantyla, for participants in the parade, while Jess Berg argues he'll have from 15 to 20 antique cars. How's that for goin' and gettin' 'em?

Earl Terry and Rudy Schwarze said there would be refreshments for all participants, so if you want to eat, you'd better enter!

Talking about entering, Bob Jones says if you have any questions regarding participating, just get in touch with him or any of the many committee men mentioned throughout this article.

In the floats category, Bill Kelly insists that the Rotary float will be a "humdinger", while Tink Ronk says the 5 subdivision floats are sure to beat all. Mack Oakley interrupted Bill and Tink and informed them that he had lined up 15 business and Industry floats, and he knew they all would win. Well now, Fred Yeager kept quiet just about as long as he could. Finally he told Bill, Mack and Tink his little secret. He had floats lined up from such organizations as 4-H, Pioneer Club, Churches, etc. As you may have guessed, this floored the other three fellows and now they are all on pins and needles. Now you and I know they can't all win, so you'd better be on Main Street Monday morning by 10:00, and see who does win.

John Ronk felt there should be some order (police) during the occasion, so he will be on hand in case Bill, Mack, Tink and Fred start arguing over the floats again.

Harold Goyette is going to see that the colors, or flags if you prefer, are properly displayed, while Charley Robinson and Louis Lessard are taking care of the publicity end of this job. Less Green has promised that the Clarkston High School Band will march in the parade, even if school hasn't started yet.

Various saddle clubs in the area have indicated that they will participate as usual with their beautiful horses. The Rotary Club is very happy to have them in the parade.

The parade committee has requested that all floats or large entries assemble on the south side of Miller Road to avoid confusion. It is requested that they proceed up Holcomb Street and approach Miller Road from the west.

The Rotary Club has worked hard on this parade, so let's all show our appreciation by attending. Don't forget — 10:00 a.m. Monday! See you at the parade!

Such Fun Meeting Old Classmates

The reunion held by the class of '56 of Clarkston High School turned out to be a very memorable occasion for all. The reunion was held at the American Legion Hall in Drayton Plains. Many members of the class, and their families or dates, attended, approximately sixty in all.

Although a few of the classmates played volleyball and horseshoes, the majority just talked about "old times".

A few of the towns represented were Clarkston (of course), Holton, Royal Oak, Oak Park, and Ypsilanti.

More Workers Needed

ATIP FROM THE AAA AND THIS NEWSPAPER

Thoughtful motorists always vary speed to meet the changing conditions of highway, traffic, weather and their own needs.

They realize that while a highway may be posted for maximum speed, that speed may not be safe in inclement weather if they are to "Bring 'Em Back Alive!"

Automobile Club of Michigan asks that you remember: Speed limits are, at best, general guides for the driver, and are based on ideal driving conditions — good weather, dry pavements and light traffic. They do not guarantee that such speeds are safe.

While it is usually safe to drive at the maximum posted speed of 65 miles an hour in the daytime on expressways and freeways (to be increased to 70 mph in September), it is not necessarily safe to drive at the same limit on other highways.

Eighty of Michigan's 83 counties, for example, have practically all of their roads posted for the same maximum speed as the freeways — 65 miles an hour in the daytime. Logic indicates and statistics prove that not all two-lane county roads are safe. Slow down on county roads.

POLICE PATROLES INCREASED FOR HOLIDAY WEEKEND

With hundreds of thousands of motorists taking final summer holiday trips, the Michigan State Police will operate increased traffic patrols over the Labor Day weekend from 12 noon Friday, September 1, to midnight Monday, September 4.

The troopers will be assisted by 106 members of the National Guard, who will ride as second men on two-man patrols or serve on point control. The Guardsmen will assist from 1 p. m. to 11 p. m. on Friday, Saturday and Monday.

State Police patrol shifts will be lengthened to 10 hours from noon Friday to midnight Monday. Detectives will substitute for uniform men on desk assignments who will go on patrol.

"Michigan motorists and pedestrians demonstrated during the recent 102-hour July weekend, when accidents claimed 12 lives, that the road toll can be held down," said Commissioner Joseph A. Childs. "The Labor Day period can have a record just as good, or even better, if drivers and pedestrians pay strict attention to the rules for their safety."

Eighteen persons died in 16 fatal accidents during the Labor Day period in Michigan last year, an average of one death each four hours and 20 minutes. This was better than the average of one fatality every four hours and two minutes for that holiday in the 1954-60 period.

Paul's striking words to the Romans (8) are included in the Bible reading in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man": "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us."
A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (pp. 303,304): "Spiritual man is the image or idea of God, an idea which cannot be lost nor separated from its divine Principle. When the evidence before the material senses yielded to spiritual sense, the apostle declared that nothing could alienate him from God, from the sweet sense and presence of Life and Truth."

CASTOR BEANS NOT FOR KIDS, EXPERT WARNS

If you have castor beans in your yard or garden, the fruit should be picked and destroyed as soon as it appears, says a pediatrician at the University of Michigan Medical Center.
The beans, which begin to appear this time of year, can cause serious or even fatal poisoning if eaten by children.
Dr. George H. Lowrey, associate professor of Pediatrics and Director of the Hospital's Poison Control Center, declares that while no serious cases of castor bean poisoning have ever been treated at the center, the plant's bean-like seed can cause fatal poisoning if thoroughly chewed.
If swallowed whole, however, poisoning is unlikely because the hard seed coat prevents rapid absorption.
Symptoms of castor bean poisoning appear within one to three days after the bean is eaten and consist of vomiting, stomach pain, drowsiness and stupor. Death may occur within 12 days.
Many gardeners grow the castor bean plant because of its decorative appearance and large leaves. Because it is a quick growing plant, it is often used as a substitute for shrubs before more permanent bushes can be established around new homes.

WASHING ALL-WOOL BLANKETS

All-wool blankets can be washed successfully at home when you follow the "soak" method. Use your automatic washer if it lets you add the blanket after water is in the machine. Here's how to launder your wool blanket.
First fill the washer with warm water. Use a mild soap or detergent and let the machine action whip up a good suds. Then stop the machine. Add the blanket and soak it in the sudsy water for 15 to 20 minutes. Turn it over a few times by hand. Next, set the dial to remove the water and let the machine go into the spin cycle to squeeze excess water from the blanket.

After the spin, fill the tub with clear warm water and stop the machine again. Give the blanket a "soak" rinse for 5 or 10 minutes and turn it by hand during this period. Let the water spin out as before and repeat the steps for a second rinse.
The wool blanket can come out of the washer and go set in the dryer. Have the dryer set at "hot" and put in six to eight bath towels. When the towels are hot, add the blanket. Drying time will vary with the individual blanket, but 20 minutes is about average. The blanket should be removed while still slightly damp.
The wool tends to shrink when it is agitated while wet. The high temperature in the dryer cuts agitation time to a minimum and the towels act as buffers to soften the tumbling action.
Next is the "stretch" step. If you can find a friend to help you, stretch the blanket by pulling on opposite ends to reshape it. If you are alone, drape the blanket over a clothesline and pull on both ends. For a final touch, use a wire pet brush to smooth the entire surface and finish shaping it. Finally, drape the blanket over two parallel lines to complete drying. If you do not use a dryer, let the blanket partially dry on the line before stretching and brushing it.
Remember, these directions are for washing all-wool blankets. There are many synthetic fiber blankets on the market today and washing instructions provided by the manufacturers should be followed for these.

SCHOOL BUS WARNING GIVEN

In 1960 Michigan school bus accidents which caused death or recorded injuries reached 86. Of these, 72 occurred on rural roads and 14 in urban areas.

With the new school year starting soon, James M. Hare, Chairman of the Michigan State Safety Commission, reminded motorists this week that the law requires drivers to come to a complete stop ten feet in either direction when the bus is halted to take on or leave off passengers, and that they must not resume movement until the bus gets underway or the driver signals approval to proceed.

"This law," Hare said, "does not apply to approaching traffic on a clearly designated divided highway."

"After driving several months with few school vehicles on the roads, motorists are likely to be forgetful when schools open in September," Hare said. "Our driver records in Lansing reflect this fact as increasing numbers of 3 point conviction records for this offense flow into the files of careless drivers. But more important than the technicality of violation records is the earnest desire of every citizen to eliminate crippling accidents and highway fatalities in Michigan. If we all work together we can reduce school bus accidents and save our school children a good deal of the pain and lost time many accidents cause."

A 25-year-old driver was arrested recently by Chicago police for reckless driving, failure to produce a driver's license, failure to display state license plates, failure to produce a city vehicle license, and other charges. They found 32 traffic tickets in his possession, and another 28 on file against him. His primary skill will be tested as he faces the court: he is a law student.

LEGAL TO TRAP OR HUNT YEAR-ROUND
ILLEGAL TO POSSESS, ALIVE, ONE TAKEN FROM WILD IN MICHIGAN

By and large, Br'er Skunk goes his own harmless way in the wild. He generally doesn't bother people and, if anything, does them a good turn by eating mice and pesky insects. Lately, however, he has been making a nuisance of himself in some parts of Michigan: damage complaints against him have nearly doubled since 1956. Also, rabies cases have been on the rise among him and his striped friends. To help curb these problems, skunks were recently placed open to year-round hunting and trapping throughout the state. Mainly because of the rabies factor, it is unlawful to possess live skunks taken from the wild in Michigan. Helpful as the new open season should be, there's no substitute for using an ounce of prevention to discourage problem skunks. Proper disposal of garbage is one good way to keep troubles from starting. Another is to close off open areas under barns and houses where these animals frequently seek lodging. Summer cottages seem particularly attractive to skunks, especially when their owners aren't around. Skunks are known to dig up lawns in looking for food. The solution? Kill grubs and bugs that tempt skunks by treating lawns with insecticides.

THE CANOE
Challenged by many breakthroughs in boating since its birth among prehistoric lake dwellers in Europe, the canoe has remained as a much-used means of travel on lakes and streams. Once indispensable to Michigan's early Indians, explorers, and fur traders, it is now riding the crest of popularity among thousands of recreationists who ply the state's waters each year. The canoe almost certainly made its way to our Western Hemisphere from Asia long before Columbus set foot in this country. Its shape and design are virtually the same as they were thousands of years ago. Today's popular metal canoe is modeled after the birch-bark hunting canoe used by the Great Lakes Chippewa Indians. It is light, rugged, and unsinkable and requires little upkeep. Mich. Dept. of Conservation

HOLIDAY TRAFFIC TO REACH ALL-TIME HIGH

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the busiest hours on Michigan's highways during the Labor Day holiday will be early Friday evening and late Monday afternoon.

Mackie said statewide travel during the four-day holiday will be about 60 per cent greater than non-holiday travel during a similar period. "If the weather is good, motorists are expected to drive 734 million miles, a new record for a holiday weekend in Michigan," he said. On Labor Day itself, south-bound traffic will move in a wave. Traffic will hit a peak in the northern third of the Lower Peninsula between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. An exception is a belt along the west coast between Manistee and Traverse City where the peak hours will be from 1 to 5 p. m.

Extremely heavy traffic is expected during the entire holiday period at the intersection of US-16 and US-23 east of Brighton. The Highway Department urged motorists to use the following routes if possible.

Motorists traveling between Detroit and Northern Michigan should consider US-10 and M-15 in preference to Interstate 96 (US-16 and US-23).

At Kensington Park west of Detroit, a frequent holiday trouble spot, the Highway Department said the peak hours of travel from Detroit to the park will be from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. on Saturday, and between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. on both Sunday and Monday. Monday traffic will be extremely heavy.

On US-10 in the Clarkston area, the peak hours of travel will be 3:00 to 9:00 p. m. on Friday and Monday.

"All specifications are approved by the Office of Civil Defense, Department of Defense, Battle Creek, Michigan, but may be submitted through the Michigan office." The Federal office of Civil Defense approves but does not endorse various makes and types of shelters.

Among the requirements for acceptance of shelter designs are a minimum net floor area of 10 square feet per person and structural adequacy attested to by a registered Architect or Engineer.

The State Civil Defense Office is located at 119 W. Washtenaw Street, Lansing.

Two Thirds of Expressway Accidents Are Rear End Collisions

"Two thirds of all expressway accidents are rear end collisions, caused by following too close, 'tailgating' and failure to give warning of a stop because of faulty tail or stop lights", according to Secretary of State James M. Hare, in his current drive to have motorists stop in service stations throughout Michigan for a free tail and stop light inspection.

"During the holiday period", Hare continued, "Roads and highways will be so crowded that drivers will find it difficult, if not impossible, to keep from 'tailgating'. With this in mind, it is imperative that all cars have properly operating tail and stop lights". All major oil companies are participating in the campaign period, the week prior to Labor Day, all cars stopping for gas in any service station in Michigan will receive this free inspection.

The Old Timer

"There's nothing wrong with the younger generation that the older generation didn't outgrow."

He that is of a cheerful heart hath a continual feast. —(Prov. 15:15)

To the person with a negative, pessimistic outlook, even the important events and shining hours of life bring only the husks of happiness. But the cheerful heart feasts daily on the joy of living in God's world.

Under the Dryer

by Virginia Graham

Hi, there, I was waiting for my comb-out under the dryer and looking around at some of the other women. You know—you honestly can't tell which is the mother and which the daughter. But I'm wondering if that is good or bad. Isn't it a terrible thing for a young woman to have to compete with her mother? Or vice versa? And everybody is talking about trim-figures. Every fashion promotion says: It's not your age—it's the size you fit into. Well, I wonder if we're not fitting into a size that's going to be awfully hard to get out of!

If we have permanent lotions to temporary rinses. And for the mature woman who wants to keep the gray in her hair, there is a new product called Silk & Silver which glamorizes the gray hair by adding shimmering silvery beauty. It lasts a month or more, even through several shampoos. So now you "pays your money and takes your choice."

I think we ought to understand that we certainly shouldn't put ourselves on the shelf or fade into the background. It takes a great deal of understanding to be a modern mother, because women today with cosmetic aids, with less strenuous and physically depleting work, have maintained a youthful buoyancy. Take advantage of this buoyancy in giving your child the kind of companionship—yet direction and guidance—that only a mother should give. I think we will find out that when we are on this non-competitive level, our sons and daughters will take on new stature and become human beings more friendly.

There's no friend, of course, like your mother. But it is better to look up at someone that look across with envy. Bye now.

There's no friend, of course, like your mother. But it is better to look up at someone that look across with envy. Bye now.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Shorty Made No "Bones" About It
Folks thought it was a big joke when Shorty Johnson came back from Center City with a new St. Bernard for his kids. And the truth was, Shorty did look kind of funny. The pooch practically filled the whole back seat of Shorty's car, and when he let it out, it stood darn near as high as Shorty did!
But Shorty didn't mind the ribbing. As he explained, "I know I look pretty silly with a dog like this. But when you've got eight kids like I do, and you get 'em a dog, you get one big enough so they can all play with it at once!"
From where I sit, folks should "size up" a situation before jumping to conclusions. For example, because Shorty likes coffee, I used to feel he'd disapproved when I'd have a glass of beer. But after I got to know him, I realized he was a tolerant man—one who'd never think of challenging his neighbor's right to his own opinions. This attitude is typical of most of the folks in our town—one of the things that makes them so "dog-gone" wonderful!

Have you ever heard a man rave about his wife's lunch-box cooking? When he does, you know his fond thoughts probably follow her though away-from-home—and what greater compliment can any woman ask? Lunch box meals are singularly important to good family living. Because they are not eaten in the comfort of home, they require special care and interesting variety. The days of the paper sack are over. Today an attractive lunch-box with a vacuum bottle carries the elements of a well balanced meal with something hot. Not only can soup and sandwiches be made in a twinkling, the main ingredients for this favorite lunch-box combination—canned condensed soups and breads—are available at most markets in a fascinating variety that helps eliminate lunch-box monotony. Some of the favorite luncheon soups are tomato, chicken noodle, vegetable, chicken with rice, bean with bacon, chicken gumbo, minestrone, green pea, clam chowder and beef broth. These breads give variety to lunch-box sandwiches: white, rye, whole wheat, hois, corn-molasses, cinnamon-raisin, pumpernickel, protein, date-nut and oatmeal.

Frenched Ham Sandwiches

Frenched Ham Sandwiches are delicious round-the-clock sandwiches, to highlight the menu at breakfast, lunch or dinner. Attention, all you French toast fans! Here's a new French toast idea — Frenched Ham Sandwiches. In these handsome, golden brown sandwiches, ham and pineapple team up between the crisp bread slices for an unbeatable flavor combination. Frenched Ham Sandwiches are designed for any-day, any-meal eating. For breakfast, serve them with chilled cantaloupe and milk or coffee. To round out lunch or dinner meals with Frenched Ham Sandwiches, you need only a molded gelatin salad, beverage and sliced fresh peaches with cream for dessert. Sandwich preparation is simple. Sliced ham and crushed pineapple are arranged between bread slices, and then the whole sandwich is dipped in an egg-milk mixture. The sandwiches are then fried to a luscious golden brown on both sides. A sandwich meal featuring Frenched Ham Sandwiches is tops in nourishment. Enriched bread contains three essential E-vitamins, plus valuable food iron. The egg-milk coating on the sandwiches contributes further nutritional benefits. Tasty sandwich ideas such as this one will be plentiful during August, National Sandwich Month.

FRENCHED HAM SANDWICHES
 8 slices enriched bread
 Butter or margarine, softened
 4 slices baked or boiled ham
 1/2 cup drained crushed pineapple (9-ounce can)
 8 eggs, beaten
 3 tablespoons milk
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 cup butter or margarine

Spread bread with butter or margarine. Place ham on 4 slices of bread. Spread pineapple over ham. Cover with remaining 4 slices of bread. Combine egg, milk and salt in shallow dish. Dip sandwiches into egg mixture. Melt butter or margarine in skillet and heat gently until bubbly. Fry sandwiches on both sides until lightly browned. Serve hot. Makes 4 sandwiches.

AUGUST IS SANDWICH TIME

Wanted Transportation to downtown Pontiac by woman who works from 9:00 to 5:30. Call MA 5-3541.

"We're leaving for a three weeks' vacation soon, and while we're away our home will be locked up. I'm concerned about possible loss from fire or theft since there will be no one around to discover it until too late. Will you check our insurance and see if we need to add any coverage to be able to enjoy our vacation without this worry?"

FIRST RED CROSS DISASTER JOB

This sketch made at the scene of the great Michigan forest fire, September, 1951, from the files of the Saginaw News, shows Red Cross volunteers distributing needed clothing at Cass City, the town that was spared by the fire that raged through upper Michigan 60 years ago.
The spark that kindled this tragedy also sparked a program of organized disaster relief by the Red Cross through the contributions of the American people. In this first disaster operation the young agency, with the leadership of its founder Clara Barton, helped provide shelter, food, clothing and tools of the fire victims needed to rebuild their lives. Since that time the Red Cross, acting as the representative of the public, has conducted 7,800 disaster operations with a total disaster relief expenditure of $222,000,000 in its 60 years of disaster service.
