First Methodist Church To Hold Annual Bazaar In New Church

Sparked by the excitement of having their annual Christmas Bazaar in the Fellowship Hall of their new Church, for the first time, the women of the First Methodist Church in Clarkston, are making plans for the biggest and best bazaar ever laid before the eyes of prospective buyers!

It is to be held on Saturday, November 4, from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. and is sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service, with each of the Circles contributing of their time and talents.

The Margaret Richards Circle, in addition to having a booth, will serve coffee and doughnuts from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. The Gertrude Atkins Circle is serving lunch from 11:30 to 1:30. That same Circle will then polish up the pots and pans, restock the pantry shelves, call in the reinforcements, and serve a Buffet Supper from 5:00 to 7:00.

Players To Hold Open Meeting

The Village Players, thriving new addition to the Clarkston cultural family, will combine business and pleasure next Monday night when they meet at 8 o'clock at the home of Pete and Janet Rose, 7902 Dixie Highway. Future plans will be discussed, slides and movies taken of the recent production, Light Up The Sky will be shown, and refreshments will be served.

Blood Bank Successful

The Clarkston Community Blood Bank collected 89 pints this year due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Ralph Kenyon, recruiting chairman, and her fellow members of the Clarkston Community Womens Club. This large turnout of donors was especially necessary as there have been many calls for blood during the past year.

Mrs. James Gennie and Mrs. Bruce Embrey served as co-chairmen for the day. Mrs. Max Fogg was in charge of refreshments served to the donors. Mrs. James Moore and Miss Alethe Rose served the dinner to the staff. These chairmen with their fellow workers successfully administered the bank with the help of the nurses and gray ladies of the area.

Blood in the Clarkston Blood Bank is available to anyone in this area by calling Mr. Merle Bennett at MA 5-1421 or Mrs. Arthur Rose MA 5-5551.

The Book Nook

LIBRARY HOURS
Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, 3:30 to 8:30 p.m.
Saturday, 10 A.M. to 2 P.M.

Have you ever, while reading to your children, found that you're either silently planning next week's menus, or thinking "When will this be finished?" Good books for children are rather scarce, but a weekly trip to your township library will give you home story hours a nice boost.

One suggestion for brightening an hour is a book by Edward Ormrodroyd called David and the Phoenix, which for this reviewer at least combines humor and fantasy to perfection.

David climbs a beautiful mountain, meets the Phoenix who is lovably pompous, and together they bumble through a series of adventures with all the people of other worlds from Sea Monsters to Banshees. The Banshee episode is particularly funny, for this lady is pictured as a mercenary crane selling her Walls tickets to the Walpurgis Night Ball, and poisons "on special today, only five shillings a vial."

Rarely can a book be enjoyed by both parent and child, but we honestly think this on an answer to the "read aloud" prayer."

Take a moment, too, on your weekly trip to the library to glance at Pilgrim Thanksgiving and Christmas on the Mayflower by Wilma Pitchford Hays, both of which you will want to borrow during the coming weeks.

Bring Fast Results

Highlights of the meal will consist of ham and turkey, potatoes, homemade bread, choices of vegetables, salads, relishes, desserts, and beverages.

The Susanna Wesley Circle cast about for an idea which would be appealing as well as profitable, and came up with the idea of Christmas cards, featuring the altar of the new church. Another circle will present hand-painted china. Another, decorated candel.

Little girls' pinafores will grace the tables of another booth, with the aroma of home baked goodies drawing many eager customers in their direction.

Always a lot of fun for both young and old is the "Fish Pond", so wouldn't you know that one of the Circles is turning the cloak-room into a fishpond!

For those with a sentimental turn of mind, there will be plates.

New Dime Store In Clarkston

The doors opened Monday morning on the new dime store which has been added to the Clarkston Shopping Center on the corner of M-15 and Dixie Hwy.

Mrs. Zetta Taylor, owner of Taylors 5 - 10c Store, designed the counters in the store, which are a new conception in merchandising. The counters are in a grey tone with multicolored sliding storage doors below, unlike the traditional beige of most dime stores. The arrangement of the counters is also a part of Mrs. Taylor's clever artistry, which makes you forget you are in a dime store.

The new store is self serve, which seems to be preferred by people today.

Although all departments aren't completely stocked yet, merchandise is arriving daily, and soon the store will be operating in full swing. Among the many departments of the store are: a Ladies Dept., Materials, a complete Toy Department, Childrens Clothing, and in the very near future an Infants Shoe Department will be added.

Mrs. Taylor also owns a dime store in downtown Clarkston, which will remain open.

Mrs. Richards To Attend Conference

Mrs. William J. Richards, Educational Assistant of First Methodist Church, Clarkston, was one of five leaders in religious education work on the Flint District of The Detroit Conference, selected by the Methodist Board of Education to attend The National Methodist Conference on Christian Education in Chicago, Illinois this week. She will be there along with various leaders in Methodist education work across the nation. Theme for the conference is "The Transforming Gospel and the Teaching Church." The conference is meeting in the Grand Ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel, where they will evaluate and explore the religious education program of The Methodist Church.

Through the national Board of Education of The Methodist Church in Nashville, Tennessee, the Church School of First Methodist Church was chosen as one of the new church schools in the state and nation to serve as a "pilot school" in the organization and administration of religious education in the local church. This was an honor bestowed on the church in recognition of the fine program which had been developed here under the leadership of Mrs. Richards. First Church's religious education program has on its staff, 93 officers and teachers meeting in three buildings every Sunday morning with over 600 children in its enrollment. Untrained teachers have been enrolled in Teacher Training Schools in both the Pontiac and Flint Areas.

In response to Mrs. Richards leadership The Education Commission of First Methodist Church, Mrs. Edgar Collick, Chairman, Messrs. William Kratt and Royce Hyatt, Superintendents, voted to send her to the national conference with all expenses paid. Mrs. Richards, besides serving the local church, serves the 101 churches of the Flint District as Director of Church School Administration.

Coming Soon Mr. Roberts

The Lakeland Players Inc. will present Mr. Roberts on Friday and Saturday, November 10 and 11 in the C.A.I. Bldg. in Waterford.

The play is a comedy by Thomas Heggen and Joshua Logan. This story, realistic saga of a group of American Sailors aboard a Navy Cargo vessel in the Pacific, shows the crew suffering from that deadly boredom which is a part of the routine of war. Mr. Roberts, a Lieutenant, shares the crews dislike for the captain. This is one reason for his popularity.

Clarkston "Wolves" Defeated By Northville "Mustangs"

By Mike Howey

Clarkston High went to Northville to face a real tough squad. On this Friday, October 27, the Northville team had a great incentive to win. Besides being a top team in the state and needing a victory to stay there, the Mustangs were playing at home for the last time this season. The huge sellout crowd wanted to see this squad really roll on to victory. Every prediction of the outcome went against the Wolves to conquer, and apparently their all star quarterback, and company, controlling the entire game. Dick Bathey carried for 188 of their 522 yards.

The school spirit for this game was the greatest presented for Clarkston High in many years. Even with their team behind 52-0, the Wolves' fans kept cheering the team on. By the end of most games with Clarkston behind by 52 points, the backers of most teams normally would be void of spirit.

Dick Sheldon started the game with a kickoff, but this was the last time that the Clarkston booter got his foot into the ball. Clarkston never got across the Northville goal line, even though they advanced deep into enemy territory many times. Most of the Clarkston play was between the 20 yard lines, while Northville was advancing into the endzone nearly every time they got their hands on the ball.

The first quarter was fairly evenly played, with each team making thrusts at the goal twice. Northville pushed in from the 19 on the second advance and Dick Bathey made the first score. They couldn't score the extra point and lead Clarkston at the end of this period, 6-0. Clarkston could not get together an offense on the next series of downs, coming immediately after Dick Gilbert's kickoff. Jerry Powell's punt from the 30 was caught on the 45 and returned to Clarkston's 42. Steve Juday really began to move on his club in this second quarter. He passed to the 5 from the 30, and then handed off to 33, who cut in for a touchdown. Don Miller blocked his attempt for an extra point.

Things started to look up for Clarkston as Ron Bray took in the kickoff on the 15, moved to the Mustang 35. The Clarkston blocking looked sharp on this play, and if it kept up they might go in. Mike Applegate flipped a pass to Jerry Powell on the 15, then Johnny Williams scooted around left end to the 11. An interference penalty put the ball on the six with a first down, but the Mustangs intercepted an Applegate pass on the one and moved to the 15. Northville then moved to the 2 on an 83 yard run by Bathey. Steve Juday ran over and Bathey made the extra point by running it in.

Clarkston again couldn't move and was forced to punt. Powell's punt went from the 39 of his own to the Mustang 14. Steve Juday then called the same play that had gained 83 yards before, and this time it was good for an 88 yard touchdown. Biery ran the extra point across.

Clarkston could not get rolling again, although Applegate completed two passes, one to Darrel Williams, another to Don Miller good for 10 yards, and a first down. The Mustangs recovered a fumble on the 43. From the 34, Steve Juday scored on a run through center, making their fourth touchdown. This was the final scoring of the first half, with Northville fans going wild, their team leading by 32 points.

Halftime ceremonies were gala for the home crowd, with the Northville Marching Band Seniors being honored.

Second half play went strictly to the Mustangs. Clarkston could not move past the Northville 40 yard line and only getting that far once. Northville was only forced to punt once, scoring four times. The first tally in the second half came after Juday tossed a pass to Dan Brown who then flipped a lateral to Lewis. He moved into the endzone unmolested. They kicked the extra point to make it 39-0. The final quarter started with the Mustangs on the Clarkston 9. Their quarterback handed off to Dennis Gilbert who moved in for a touchdown. He then kicked the extra for the 46th Northville point.

A series of punts came after the kickoff with Northville getting the last of these three on the Clarkston 35. The Northville quarterback passed the ball to the 5 from where he sent Bill Elwell in. With 5:02 remaining this was the last scoring of the game. Clarkston seemed to get rolling on the next series of downs, going to the 42 of Northville on runs by Applegate and passes to Jack McGown and Jerry Powell.

This was the last time Clarkston had the ball, as the Mustangs took over no downs. The game ended with Northville on the 25 yard line.

Clarkston could have no excuses as to why they lost, except they played against the best team in the state. The stiff Mustang defense did a great job holding down the Wolves. The explosive offense with Steve Juday at the helm gave a great performance of ball playing.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

Oxford, Michigan

Sunday School 11:00 A. M. Sunday Service 11:00 A. M.

Today's need for spiritual discernment will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science church services.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Adam and Fallen Man" will include these words of St. Paul (I Cor. 2).

"Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual. But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned."

This citation will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 203: "Spiritual perception brings out the possibilities of being, destroys reliance on aught but God, and so makes man the image of his Maker in deed and in truth.")

Christianity is a religion of salvation, renewal, and hope. The Christian faith was not a problem for the early Christians, rather it was the solution to the deepest problems of men. God had broken into history for the salvation of men. He established His Church as the instrument through which news of this salvation and hope might be brought to men. Individual Christians working independently can do but a little to spread this Good News, but working together with like minded people in the Church, their can be increased well beyond what each of them could do, by themselves.

The Episcopal Church in Clarkston invites you to join in its worship of Almighty God in its Christian fellowship.

THE EDITOR OBSERVES

Last week, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson gave the Publications Staff the opportunity to see how the Clarkston News is Printed.

As we learned about the linotype machine and the printing press, I began thinking of the development of the newspaper industry.

Hand-written newsletters of Rome date back to 400 B.C. and prove to be the first step to our modern newspaper. However, it wasn't until the seventh century that any printed newspaper appeared. This first paper was the Ti Chau in China.

When Johann Gutenberg invented movable type in the 15th century, Europe picked up the idea of a printed newspaper, and from Europe it has carried to every corner of the world.

Today, with the coming of linotypes, rotary presses, and other modern machinery; the newspaper industry has made it possible to read news on local, state, and world levels just hours after it happens.

Realizing the importance of being well-informed, we of the Clarkston High School News are striving for a better newspaper to present to the student body. We would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Wilson for printing our news in their newspaper and helping us toward this goal we have set.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT MINUTES

President Ron Applegate called the meeting to order at 10:27 a.m. on October 18. The secretary report was read, corrected, and approved as corrected. Treasurer's report: There is $136.09 in the treasury.

OLD BUSINESS:

Homecoming: A committee consisting of Sandy Podger, Vicki Burley, and Barb Buzzell was appointed to criticize the Homecoming activities and make a list of these criticisms so that next year's Student Government will be able to profit from these mistakes.

The matter of sending thank-you letters to the fire department, police department, car dealers, and Mrs. Cooney and Mrs. Glennie and Mrs. Cooney was approved.

Homecoming court: On November 8, the League Workshop will take place. Our topic this year was assigned to be taken over by Jess Rogers. Mary Simonson was appointed to be a representative on another topic. All other representatives chosen to work on the other topics will be posted later.

Sweat Shirts: Jim Woodward read a letter from a sweat shirt company which quoted the prices of the sweat shirts and other details. A sample sweat shirt and emblem sketch is on the way.

Meeting Calendar: It was decided that copies of the meeting calendar would be distributed to the faculty as well as having a large copy in the study hall.

Rules: Jim Woodward stated that it would be cheaper to buy a filing cabinet for the school rules than to make one. George White was appointed to look into the prices of filing cabinets.

Assemblies: Jacquie Leonard stated that the assembly the Student Government is interested in would cost $20. Jacquie was asked to consult with Betty Cobb concerning the date it could be presented.

Bills: Shelia Goins made the motion that the treasurer of the Student Government be allowed to pay bills without first consulting the Student Government. Vicki Fife seconded the motion. A vote was taken and the motion was carried.

Respectfully submitted,
 Cathy De Lorge
 Secretary

WHO'S WHO

By Alicia Lawrence
 This week, we are beginning a Who's Who column, to help acquaint students with one another. Two Freshmen, Brenda Martin, and Kent Powell, are interviewed this week.

Brenda has gone to Clarkston schools since the fourth grade. Now 13, she lives in Clarkston on the Clarkston Orion Road. She is interested in all sports and her hobbies are dancing and collecting stuffed animals.

Brenda enjoys babysitting and receive a lot of practice since she has three brothers and two sisters, all younger than herself.

Kent, who is now 14, has gone to Clarkston all through his school years. He lives with his parents and two older sisters on Foster Road, in Springfield. Kent's favorite sport is football, and his favorite hobbies include collecting model cars and coins. He hopes to become a barber after high school.

CONTESTS GALORE

By Sharon Gotschall
 Are subjects under-emphasized in high school? The answer would generally be no, but the fact still remains that students who are doing well scholastically are not given enough chances to prove their abilities.

Clarkston High is doing all it can to give more students a chance to challenge their abilities. This year, the National High School Poetry Association is sponsoring three contests for those students interested in Essay writing, poetry, and art.

To submit Essay manuscripts for consideration for possible inclusion in the Anthology of High School Essays, the students must note the following general rules: 1. The student must be in grades 7-12; 2. The student may write on any subject he chooses; 3. Essays are limited to 150 words and must show a word count.

The closing date for submission of manuscripts is November 10.

To submit poetry manuscripts, the general rules are as follows: 1. The student must be in grades 7-12; 2. The student may write on any subject he chooses; 3. Manuscripts are limited to 20 lines or less; 4. The closing date for submission is December 5.

Students interested in Art also have a chance to submit drawings, illustration, sketches, cartoons, or designs to The National Poetry Association.

Rules for entry are: 1. Students must be in grades 7-12; 2. No mounting or matting of any kind may be used; 3. The size of the drawing must be 5x7 inches or smaller in black and white only. No drawings can be submitted after December 10.

All students are invited to enter, and there will be no charges or fees. For further information consult Marcie Fox.

THE THREE R'S

By Connie Papi
 Tonight, parents will once again be exposed to "readin', 'ritin', and 'rithmetic", as Clarkston High School sponsors its annual Back To School Night. All parents with children in the Senior High School are invited to attend.

The evening will begin with all parents meeting in the gymnasium for a short orientation ceremony. After this, the parents will attend each of their child's classes.

If anyone should happen to get lost, the Future Teacher's will have hall guides on hand to direct people back to the right track. The girls who have volunteered to act as hall guides are Diane De-Longchamps, Kay Federspiel, Susan Fulton, Carol Gill, Jean Powell, Marlene Smith, Susan Valentine, and Theresa Wooley.

The evening will come to an end with refreshments in the cafeteria.

GUIDEPOSTS FOR THE FUTURE

By Sue Munsee

As I gaze down the halls of education, I see a brilliant future for all; that is, for all who use the wonderful facilities and opportunities offered to them.

For some unknown reasons, many students have been misusing these facilities. An example of this misuse is shown in our school books. Books are offered to us for our own benefit. Why ruin them by writing crazy and useless things on their covers and pages?

Desks are another example of mistreatment of facilities given to us by the school. Let's see that in the future, we take better care of our "guideposts for the future".

FHA ELECTS OFFICERS

By Kathy Poehlman
 On the Tuesday, October 24, the Future Homemakers Association elected their officers for this year. They were elected as follows: President, Edith McLard; Vice President, Joan Smith; Secretary, Jennifer Pike; Treasurer, Linda McLard; Parliamentarian and Historian, Margery McLard; Reporter, Kathy Poehlman.

A short report on the activities carried on at the meeting at West Bloomfield High School was given by Maureen O'Mara. Edith McLard was named Regional Treasurer of part of the Oakland County area, which is a great honor for her and our school.

It was decided that the Homemakers will prepare cookies for the Dad's Night which is coming up soon. More projects of this type may be participated in by those interested.

The Homemakers may sponsor bake sales in the next few weeks, and there is a possibility that they may help make costumes for the school plays.

The purpose of these functions is to give the girls practice in homemaking that will be useful to them in their future lives.

A WEEK OF KNOWLEDGE

By Connie Papi
 November 5 through 11 will be education week at Clarkston High School.

A week full of educational programs has been planned. Starting off the week, a program concerning the responsibilities of Clarkston education will be presented to the student body.

On Wednesday, Dr. Green will speak to the students on education in general. The school librarian, Mrs. Thayer, will present an educational display in the library. Mr. Thomas and Mrs. Wilkinson, school counselors, are setting up an exhibit on the colleges of Michigan; and Mrs. Campbell, head of the art department, is planning a display on the growth of education. Teachers and students in their classes are putting articles on their bulletin boards.

Education week should prove very enlightening and successful at Clarkston High.

LEAGUE PREPARATIONS

By Carol Gill
 This week, preparations for the annual League Concert began. Music was passed out to all members of the Senior Chorus who are planning on trying out for League Chorus.

Although the first rehearsal won't be held until the beginning of February, the students may practice on their own.

The League Chorus consists of 12 members from each school in the league district. Also four alternate members are chosen in case they are needed. The students are selected on the memory of eight required numbers determined by the judges the year before.

Each year the choir puts on two concerts and two assemblies. The main concert this year is to be held in Clarkston.

The A'Cappella Choir will be participating in the Specialty Group selection and will also take care of arrangements for the main concert held on February 14.

Last Wednesday A'Cappella Choir chose Mary Hinkley as social director and publicity manager.

By Carol Sage and Connie Papi
 For nine long weeks the freshmen cheerleaders have been working toward their first game, which finally comes December 3.

Under the capable management of Carolyn Ruggles, the girls have learned the techniques of cheering. Working with Carolyn were: Donna Ventimiglia, Nyla Locklar, Louise Sexton, Vickie Fife, Kerry Sanford, Carol Sage, and Connie Papi.

With hopes for many "cheerers" in the stands, the girls look forward to spirit and victories.

JUNIOR HIGH REPORT CARDS AND PARENTS NIGHT
 By Cindy Mosier
 Well it happened! Everybody took home report cards good or bad. Most of the students don't seem to be complaining. But what about parents? They got their change September 26 on "Back To School Night". Parents were to be at school 7:30 p.m. on the nose. They would go around the kid's room and see the teachers. Did your parents come? Can you sit down?

CAN YOU READ GREEK?

By April Hetherington
 The Journalism Club met in room three on October 26th. Most of the members wrote and handed in their news items. During the last fifteen minutes of the hour Joette Shultz showed the rest of the club members a newspaper her uncle had sent her from Greece. She also received a Christmas card. Mrs. Foster has it posted in her English Room 3.

There are at present favorite vocalists such as: Pat Boone, Dinah Shore, Bing Crosby, Harry Belafonte, and others. This is to help us get better acquainted with the people of the music world.

REPORTS IN MR. PEMBERTON'S CLASS

By Pat Cook
 In Mr. Pemberton's science classes he has been requiring a report pertaining to science every Thursday. From these reports we are learning and discovering new and different things.

Cheryl Benedict who is in his first hour class, has always had a good report. She usually makes them on an animal or some part of the body. Last Thursday she made one on the kidney. It was very interesting. She explained how it worked and how the blood was filtered.

There are other good reports from the class also.

PICTURES FOR CHORUS

By Lynn Howey
 Miss Jetter's 7th grade chorus has planned to make a bulletin picture for each month of the school year.

She passed around a piece of paper to which each student signed his name the month he wanted to draw a picture of.

This month Shayla Smith and Brenda Woodworth made one picture and Neil Stalker made another.

They were put on the bulletin board in the music room.

BIRDS IN MATH

By April Hetherington
 On Thursday October 26, Mr. Shelton's first hour math class and Mrs. Anderson's first hour math class went up to the movie room.

All the people were expecting to see a movie on decimals. But when the two classes got there Mr. Wolvens sixth grade class was already seeing a movie on birds. So the math classes decided to stay anyway.

POTTERY IN ART

By Charlene Bachand
 Mrs. Thayer's art classes have been working on ceramics. Vases and bowls seem to be the main idea in all of her classes.

All of the students are using a coil method to make the pieces. After the pieces have been dried they are glazed, and pictures are painted on them. Then the pieces are going to be covered with plaster to make a mold.

The second piece of pottery are baked.

LIBRARY CORNER

By Carol Quattermous
 Attention all mystery lovers the library has a real thrill packed adventure for you. It is called The Secret of Turkeyfoot Mountain. I have read the book myself and loved it. It is a story about two young boys who plan to raise sheep during their summer vacation. In order to do this they need money. They live by a woods which is said to be haunted. Deep in the woods there is a certain type of herb, which is very valuable. They decide to gather these herbs and sell them. While doing this they run into a ghost. Then the fun starts.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

 The eighth grade Home Economics Club meeting was held on Tuesday October 24th, in room 112 from 3:05 p.m. to 4:05 p.m. There were twelve members attending.

They discussed what the club should be named. Three suggestions were discussed. They are "Cooking and Sewing Club," "Cookomatics," and "Stitchomatics."

The dance that they discussed on October 9, was brought up. They thought that they would have it on Saturday November 18. The theme will be a Thanksgiving dance.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, November the 7th.

HOW A SUBSTITUTE TEACHER FEELS

By Brenda Shaw
 As you all know, being a substitute teacher isn't easy. Because whenever your teacher feels bad or is sick in the hospital and you have a substitute teacher you all think that you can "get away with murder," which may be true in some cases. However, sometimes you have a substitute teacher that doesn't let you "get away with murder." Then you start calling her names and spreading rumors about her that aren't true. What you don't realize is that she is following instructions from the regular teacher.

I got my following information from Mrs. Bethune and what her opinion is on being a substitute teacher. Here is what Mrs. Bethune thinks about being a substitute teacher.

She has been a substitute teacher for five years and has had plenty of experience.

She chooses a leader from the class to know what is going on. A substitute teacher likes good behavior from the students. What the students may not realize is that the substitute teacher is following instructions from the regular teacher. Then if the students do not behave she has to discipline them.

So if you have a substitute teacher, try to make it easier for them by following the instructions and behaving like a young lady or gentleman. You might find out she isn't so bad after all.

SCIENCE NOTEBOOKS ARE DUE

By Cathy Richardson
 Mrs. Beach has given the warning word again Notebooks on Unit No. 2 will be due sometime this week or next.

It seems that hardly anyone ever starts working on his notebook before the warning is given. So during the week before notebooks are due, everyone is frantically hunting up pictures and information.

Everybody in Mrs. Beach's classes should start working on their notebooks or when that day comes to hand them in yours won't be among those stacked on Mrs. Beach's desk.

Just a little note to remind you that yearbooks will be on sale this week, again. So, bring $1.25 and put the deposit on your torch.

CERAMICS AND MOSAICS

By Joette Schultz

On Monday, October 23rd, Mrs. Turner's art classes began working on ceramics. The students used the coil method for making a vase or a pot. They designed and made a template (pattern) for a pot or a vase. When the students finished their first piece they made a second piece; they will make a mold.

After two weeks of working on ceramics the students will work on mosaics. They will make a mosaic out of crayon and colored rice. They will also make a metal plaque and will make a design from hammering metal.
