Judith Wilson-John Marsh Speak Candlelight Vows

Mrs. John L. Marsh

Central Christian Church in Pontiac was the setting for a lovely candlelight ceremony, uniting Judith Ann Wilson and John L. Marsh in marriage. Reverend G. W. Gibson performed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Wilson of Clarkston. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wixom Marsh of Clarkston.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length gown of chantilly lace tulle design, with a square neckline, long tapered sleeves and a bouffant skirt. A headpiece of pearls and rhinestones held the finger-tip veil. She carried a bouquet of carnations and baby mums.

Mrs. John Ellett attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were: Virginia Wilmot, Dorothy Coulter, Barbara Marsh and Linda Wilson, all of Clarkston. The girls wore emerald green dresses of satin and velvet.

Serving as best man was John R. Ellett of Pontiac. The ushers were Carl Wilson, Jr. of Saline, and Paul Bennett of Waterford. Organ music was provided by Lenora Storm of Clarkston, and a solo was sang by Danny Alt-house.

A reception in Friendship Hall followed the ceremony. A second reception was held by Mr. and Mrs. Wixom Marsh at their home on Clintonville Road. The newlyweds then left on a honeymoon trip in Northern Michigan.

Out of town guests included the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Neese of Terre Haute, Ind., Mrs. Ella Wilson and Miss June Neese of Terre Haute, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. O. H. Wright of Cadillac, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Wright and Miss Mary Wright of Flint, and Donald Marsh of Ft. Gordon, Georgia.

Books In The News
Have you read James Michener's novel "Hawaii", yet? If you haven't, don't let its length stop you. Once you get beyond the introductory chapter, you are caught up in a story so enthralling, you never want it to end.
Hawaii, the melting pot of races, has had a turbulent and exciting history. Michener begins with Hawaii's violent birth as one of a string of volcanic islands in the middle of the north Pacific Ocean. He relates the incredible exploration, over a thousand years ago, of the Polynesians from the South Seas to this island paradise as its first settlers.
Into this Stone-Age society, in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, come the whalers and the missionaries, with their poles-apart ideas.
Succeeding waves of immigrants from China, Japan, Korea, and the Philippines arrive to help the work in the fields and remain

As The Year Nears Its End

By Lon Howey
During the later part of October, the green begins to drain out of the tree leaves and they soon turn crisp and flaky. As the cold north wind sweeps across our state, and in its swirling grasp steals the leaves from the trees, our thoughts turn from summer amusements to the thrills and chills of winter. Preparation tasks for the cold months are dutifully carried out by wise parents. The children begin to put away their fall clothes and take out their heavy, warm, winter attire.

The winter months with all the cold air biting at our noses, and the snow falling gently to the earth, can be filled with excitement and gaiety for all.

Just a short time after the spoons and goblets of October have passed, we get ready for another special day, Thanksgiving.

On this day the odor of roasted turkey carresses the air and the fragrance of hot pumpkin pie lingers amidst the other wonderful odors.

Mothers are scurrying about reading the traditional Thanksgiving Day dinner. On Thanksgiving Day Fathers take it easy, relaxing in their favorite easy chair while the children play with a favorite game. When those "oh so good" rolls are taken from the oven, that's a nation wide signal to take your seat at the table and give thanks.

All too soon, the enjoyment of Thanksgiving is gone and the cold days become more common and shorter.

As the time slips by, those hectic days of Christmas move in and soon the end of a wonderful year and the beginning of another comes upon us.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts, Troop II held their meeting on November 14. They talked about badges which they could earn, and also about first and second class ranks.

Troop I practiced a play which they will do next week called, "The Golden Door."

The girls have decided what they are going to make for Christmas, and plan to start on them soon.

TWIN MOTHERS' CLUB

The Twin Mothers' Club met November 9 at the 300 Bowl in Pontiac to hear Miss Ruth Williams, Junior and Senior High School Art Supervisor in Oxford, speak on, "Creative Art for the Young Child". Miss Williams emphasized that how the parents feel about art influences how the child will react to creative art. She suggested that children be given large pieces of blank paper and a crayon for their art work, and then the child should be encouraged to do more creative thinking by telling the parents about his drawing.

The pin designed by Acheson's Jewelry Store in Oxford for the Oakland County Twin Mothers' Club has been accepted as the official pin of the National Organization of Twin Mothers' Clubs.

As a gift from Acheson Jewelers, Mrs. Kenneth Acheson presented Mrs. Robert Green of Lake Orion, National Pin Committee Chairman, with the first pin. The local club presented Mrs. Robert Chapman of Pontiac with a past president's pin.

Mrs. Alfred Willcox, Club president, appointed Mrs. Vern Russell librarian for the coming year.

The next meeting will be December 10 with husbands invited to a hayride and dinner at Hayride Lodge in Rochester from 7 to 11 p. m.

"BOBBINS" FROM BOB

by Robert Wilson
"Ma", "Pa", and "Sis" Wilson dropped by the Clarkston News Saturday afternoon to see how things were going. My folks own a newspaper in Concord, near Jackson, Michigan and thought they'd better stop by and see if we were eating or had applied for a CARE package. Dad made the mistake of bringing along his work clothes, and within ten minutes after they arrived, I had him on his hand and knees under the press. As you probably know, there's more than just one machine in the shop, so I couldn't let him stop with the press. As a result, the rest of the machinery got a work over too.

Mother, one of the best linotype operators in these parts, just couldn't resist sitting down to the lino and setting some type.

This left sister Linda with nothing to do. Well now, we couldn't have an unhappy situation like this, so we sent her home to watch our children, Melody and Mark.

All in all it was a very enjoyable week-end with the folks staying till Sunday evening.

Bye for now folks, have a happy Thanksgiving.

Merrilee Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weber of Windate Park, returned home Saturday from Pontiac General Hospital where she had an appendectomy about two weeks ago.

Among the many hunters from this area going North for the deer hunting were Bob Amos, Al Beebe, Robert Materna, Pat Wall and Mr. and Mrs. P. L. McLaughlin. Mr. and Mrs. Alton Goll were at their cabin near Luzerne and they were joined while there by Rev. Robert Winne and Philip VanPlew. Henry Mehlerberg and Lyman Girst with Rev. VanPlew and son David from Grand Rapids went north on Tuesday. Most of the men returned home by the week-end — no buck.

The O.D.O. Club will meet at the C.A.I. on Wednesday, November 29th, instead of on their regular date which would have been the day before Thanksgiving. The ladies will meet at 10:30 to do Cancer pad work, with a pot-luck luncheon at 12:30.

Plans were made for the December 15th Christmas Party to be held at the home of Mrs. Henry Mehlerberg and names were drawn for gift exchange.

Mrs. Fred Tuck of Rochester was co-hostess for the luncheon.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Clock Watcher

Nothing in the world is more discouraging than a guest who doesn't know when to go home — especially if you have to get up as early as Chub Jackson, our local milkman.

Last week, poor Chub and his missus were entertaining a distant cousin from Center City who just wouldn't call it a night. The later it got, the more he talked, and the more unhappy Chub got.

But Chub finally found a way to shut him up. Just as his cousin started another long tale with, "And that reminds me of the time..." Chub jumped right up and said, "Gosh, you're right! It is getting late!"

From where I sit people who have respect and consideration for other folks' feelings never outstay their welcome. One of my neighbors, for example, prefers other beverages to beer, yet when he drops over he never objects if I have a glass of beer while he enjoys his coffee. It's thoughtfulness like this that keeps friendships from "tiring out."

Calvary Lutheran Church takes this opportunity not only to wish you a "Happy Thanksgiving," but to encourage you to make it a meaningful Thanksgiving by prayerfully remembering the many ways in which God has blessed you. As Americans we live in the upper 1% of the World's Income Bracket. With but few exceptions we do not go to bed hungry as do 2 out of 5 of the world's people. We do not have to work 3 days for a couple pounds of meat as do the people in Northeast Brazil. We have been richly blessed physically, mentally, and spiritually.

People complain about the "high cost of living," but I realized the "high cost of driving" recently when a friend lost a traffic suit & was ordered to pay a judgement nearly double the amount of his auto liability insurance. Now he's forced to sell his house to meet the obligation. Isn't it true that increasing liability coverage to an adequate amount costs very little?

THE EDITOR OBSERVES

My thoughts have turned, as I imagine most of your have, to turkeys, pies, and meeting with old friends and relatives. These are the first thoughts that enter most minds when Thanksgiving is mentioned. Many times we forget that this day out of the three-hundred, sixty-five, is singled out for giving thanks to the Lord for all that has happened to us in the year. That was the original purpose, and that is the purpose that should be fulfilled now; but through commercialization, much of this thanks-giving has been lost.

It seems rather pity to thank Our Creator for all the wonderful things he has given us and done to us on only one day of the year; but it seems even worse when you stop to think that many people completely ignore the actual purpose and think only material things on Thanksgiving.

FROM THE ASSISTANT EDITOR'S DESK

Today it isn't too much of a problem getting into a jail or juvenile home, but getting out of one is another story.

Getting into college is like being released from prison; it's quite hard. If one is fortunate enough to get into college, he must work and work hard to stay in. With all of today's college applicants, there isn't any room for a person who can't pass his courses. Staying in college is very important, not only to the student but to the parents and college authorities. College drop-outs are becoming quite a concern of parents all over the country.

Colleges work hard trying to limit entrances in the fairest way possible. They know that the future of the applicants depends upon their decision, but the administration can't let someone enroll at a college where he can't do the work. This is depriving a person who is a good student the chance of getting a college education. You can see now why colleges have a hard time picking the applicants whom they wish to allow to enroll.

You may ask yourself, "how are the college choices made?" Most colleges choose their applicants in these three ways:

1. Excellence of grades the applicant received in high school.
2. The results of entrance exams given by colleges.
3. The results of a study of the individual factors which could affect the success of this person.

After reading the above statement, you may ask yourself another question, "If the colleges run tests to get the best students, then why do some poor students get into college?" There are 3 possible reasons for this. One of the reasons is that some students hadn't decided what they wanted to study; therefore, not being able to work very well at his chosen subject. Another reason is that some students don't really understand what they are studying.

This, as many of us have probably experienced, results in a failing grade. The third reason is that some students can't think through their courses and avoided chemistry, physics, and other thought-requiring subjects. When these students got to college, they weren't able to understand their subject.

If you are planning to go to college, now is the time to prepare yourself for it. Lay out your schedule to include such subjects as chemistry, physics, speech, mathematical courses, and social sciences. Don't be worried about taking hard courses; you'll need the education to go on to college.

Freshmen and Sophomores who are planning to go to college should act now and take subjects to prepare themselves for college.

I hope that all Juniors and Seniors going to college have taken courses which will ready them for the college of their choice.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT MINUTES

President Ron Applegate called the meeting to order at 9:24 a.m. on November 14. The secretary's report was read and approved. Treasurer's report: There is $208.88 in the treasury with three bills to be paid.

OLD BUSINESS
School Dance Rules: Shirley Bauer read the rules concerning student behavior and dress at school dances. The rules committee was requested to decide how to state the rules.

Bomb Shelter: George White stated that he had discussed the matter of a bomb shelter with Mr. Mason. He found that a shelter could not be built for the following reasons: (1) The shelter would cost too much money. If the shelter had been built when the school was being constructed, it would have added 10% to the price of the school. If it was built now, however, the cost would be much higher. (2) If the shelter were built under the ground, there would be a problem of water leakage.

Student Handbook: Sandy Podger stated that she is going to get some student handbooks from other schools from which to get ideas for our student handbook. The committee is considering the idea of making one handbook for students and another for parents.

Homecoming Evaluation: Barb Buzzell stated that the Homecoming evaluation is completed. Assemblies: Robyn Rutzen and Sandra Smalley suggested some assemblies that their classes had brought up. The fact was brought out that on January 12 an assembly will be presented.

Trophies: Barb Buzzell stated that permission was granted to move certain trophies from the display cases.

NEW BUSINESS
Sign Maker: Barb Buzzell read an advertisement from a company offering a 10-day free trial for a set of stencils with which to make signs. A short discussion was held. SCHOLASTIC WRITING AWARDS

by Cathy Richardson
 Are you interested in entering a contest? Do you enjoy writing and do your teachers compliment you on it? If so, what are you looking for in the Scholastic Writing Awards.

Sixth, seventh, and eighth graders would enter the Junior Division. There are many different categories to write in, such as short stories, essay, poetry, and act plays.

Consult your English teacher for more information, or check the bulletin board near Room 3. Who knows, you may be a winner.

8TH GRADE HOME EC CLUB

By Star Bailey
 The 8th grade Home Ec Club had their fourth meeting November 14th.

They discussed a Christmas project. A visit to the Pontiac State Hospital was discussed. The girls would make or buy small gifts and distribute them among the participants.

Also, a name for the club was talked about. The girls decided to wait until the next meeting before they voted on a name.

OUR MR. SUN

By Margaret Keech
 The seventh and eighth grade science classes saw a movie on "Our Mr. Sun." They saw this movie on Wednesday, November 15th. It was all about two scientists and their facts about the Sun. Everyone enjoyed this movie very very much.

DOES YOUR FAMILY HAVE A FALLOUT SHELTER?

By Sue Powell
 Miss Bethune's English classes have been studying radioactivity. They have a display of articles on fallout shelters and world tensions. She has read a book about the people who lived through the A-bomb in Japan. Scientists think that if they dropped a 29 megaton bomb, about the size the U.S. and Russia have been testing, on Detroit most of us wouldn't live.

To protect your family from radioactivity you should have a fallout shelter. If you would be interested in learning more about fallout protection contact your local Civil Defense headquarters for details.

COIN AND STAMP CLUB

By Mike Waite
 The Clarkston Junior High Coin and Stamp Club was held last Friday.

Mr. Hathaway is the sponsor for this club. When the meeting came to order we discussed the things we wanted to do. There were the following suggestions:

1. Put on displays.
2. Start an auction.
3. Have a coin club at night, also.

Then we voted for secretary, president and vice-president. The following were elected:

John White, president; Paul Hoxie, vice-president; Michael Waite, secretary.
 The meetings will be held every Monday.

STUDY OF GREECE IN GEOGRAPHY

By Chris Woodward
 In Mrs. Parker's first hour class, we are studying Greece. George Lekas, one of the students, has many relatives from Greece. George brought a costume from Greece. It included a black sashy hat, a bright blue vest with gold braid, a large brown cummerbund, and high white boots. Tucked snugly in a pocket was a knife. The actual knife is much larger, sometimes reaching a length of two feet.

Tim Little volunteered to model the uniform. He also modeled it for Mr. Treas's class. George, also, brought a doll, dressed in authentic soldier's dress uniform.

DISAPPEARING LEAVES

By Linda McCracken
 There go the leaves, dancing and fluttering. All dressed in gowns of yellow and red. While the north wind is blowing Those little leaves go to bed. Soon the leaves will be covered With a soft blanket of snow And slippery, glassy icicles Hanging o'er them low.

LIBRARY BOOK REVIEW

By Kathy McCann
 The Sea Gulls Woke Me is a story by Mary Stolz a famed author of teen-age books. Jean was a pretty but shy and lonely girl. The only girl in school with real long hair. In Maine for the summer, Jean has her hair cut short though she knows her mother would never have consented. For the first time she is on her own, and one of the gang. It is a very interesting book.

ENGLISH

By Kathy McCann
 Mrs. Wiseman's English classes had a test Wednesday 15, 1961. The test was on stories and poems her class were to have read. It was a three page test. Now that it is over most of us are glad. For the most of us it was easy, but for those who didn't study it was pretty rough.

VOLLEYBALL

Mr. Vaara's gym classes have just finished their volley ball league. They have been playing for four weeks. 150 boys took part in the three gym classes. The competition was very keen; all three gym classes had good close leagues. The boys enjoyed playing volley ball, and they are looking forward to starting basketball skills tests.
